IS THE LAW DEFECTIVE?

HACKENSACK WHEELMEN CLAIM THAT THERE IS AN ERROR.

The Bicycle Law Contains No Clause by Which the Offender Can be Imprisoned—What Happens If no Fine is Paid?

Out of the little city of Hackensack, on the banks of the Passaic river, comes the startling intelligence that there is something radically wrong with the bicycle law that was recently passed by the State Legislature. The effect of the mistake, the Hackensack wheelmen claim, will be that anyone who is fined under the law can pay his fine or not, according to his own discretion, but there is no power that can compel him to do so if he is not so inclined.

Wheelmen who have visited some of the small Jersey towns just out of New York have complained that they have been dragged from their wheels by constables and brought before a justice of the peace for violating the bicycle law by some slight act, and that these officials have been growing rich on the fines thus collected.

This is particularly so in the case of the wheelmen who have visited Hackensack and the surrounding towns, and every Sunday scores of them have been taken before the justices of the peace and fined. This has been done to such an extent that many of the members of the L. A. W. have complained, and the law was looked over and many errors discovered. The effect of one, it is claimed, is that the wheelmen who do violate the ordinance and refuse to pay the fines imposed must be allowed to go free by the magistrate, as the ordinance does not contain any clause imposing imprisonment in the case where the wheelmen refuse to pay fines. The mistake was discovered by a wheelman.

The part of the law providing a penalty for violation of the bicycle ordinance is as follows:

Chapter 8, section 6, of the New Jersey State Laws of 1896, and approved March 3d, 1896.

1.—To provide that every violation of such ordinance shall render the offender subject to a fine not exceeding $5 for each offence, and by such ordinance it shall be provided that the justice of police, judge, recorder or other magistrate who may have jurisdiction over such offences in violation of such ordinance, may impose such fine in his discretion as he may think proper, not exceeding $5 for each offence.

No city, town borough, village, township or other municipality shall have any power to make any ordinance, by-law or regulation respecting the use of bicycles or tricycles, except as provided in this act; and except as provided in this act, no ordinance, by-law or regulation heretofore or after made by any city, town, borough, village, township or other municipality in respect to bicycles or tricyles shall have any force or effect.

All acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

This act shall take effect immediately.

The law, as above stated, it is claimed, shows that while it is an offence to break any of the ordinances which forbid riding without a bell, coasting, scorching and riding without a light after dark, and a fine can be imposed, if the rider refuses to pay the fine there is no alternative for the justice but to let him go free.

Justice of the Peace Harrison, for Bergen county, whose home is in Hackensack, when asked what course he would pursue in case a person was brought before him for breaking the ordinance and refused to pay the fine imposed, said that he would be unable to do anything beyond giving the offender a lecture and letting him go.

Previous to the new law the laws of New Jersey imposed a penalty of $10 for violating the ordinance, and where the fine was not paid a term of imprisonment could be made the alternative.

City Judge DeMeza, of this city, was interviewed by a Press reporter, yesterday afternoon, regarding the law and his action in case any wheelman refused to pay his fine.

The Judge said that he had already noted that there was no clause in which imprisonment could be meted out to the offender, but had not consulted the Corporation Counsel on the matter. Although he would not make any statement for publication, he said that he thought that the offender could be held until he paid his fine.

Will Not Countenance It.

In justice to the Mountain Park Land Improvement Company The Daily Press desires to state that they are not willing to countenance any underhand work in the building of the trolley to the Inn on the mountain. They would like to have the trolley run to the Inn but if there are any property owners who object along the five different routes surveyed they will abide by the consequences and let affairs remain as they are at present. They are not in control of the Plainfield Street Railway and therefore have no jurisdiction over their actions.

STRUCK BY A FAST TRAIN

A MECHANIC FROM ELIZABETHPORT KILLED NEAR WESTFIELD.

He Had Tried to Board a Passing Train and Stood on the Passenger Track—Instantly Killed by an Express Train.

James Harrison, a mechanic, of Elizabethport, was killed by an express train on the Central Railroad a short distance from the Westfield station, at 5:25 o'clock last evening.

Harrison was in this city yesterday in search of employment, and was returning to his home in Elizabethport.

He walked to Westfield and there attempted to board a coal train. The train was moving swiftly and Harrison failed in his attempt. He sprang back upon the passenger track and stood looking at the passing train.

While standing in this position he was struck by the eastbound Philadelphia & Reading flyer and instantly killed. The body was thrown high in the air and was badly mangled. The train stopped and the body was placed in the baggage car and taken to Elizabeth, where it remained in the morgue, awaiting the arrival of the County Physician.

PRIDEVILLE WEDDING.

MISS LIZZIE WALDRON AND CHARLES E. DRAKE UNITED IN MARRIAGE.

The Ceremony Took Place at the Bride's Home in Prideville Last Evening, and Was a Very Pretty Affair Every Way

A quiet but pretty wedding was celebrated last evening on Harrison street, Prideville, when Miss Lizzie Waldron and Charles E. Drake were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Cubberly, formerly pastor of the Baptist church, New Market. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Waldron, of Prideville, and the groom is a resident of this city.

The house was decorated prettily with wild flowers and the effect was charming. At the appointed hour the bridal party entered the parlor, where the ceremony was performed. The bride was gowned in white silk, trimmed with blue silk, and she carried a large shower bouquet of white roses. The bridemaid, Miss Mary Wilson, of Plainfield, wore a gown of white silk, trimmed with lace and ribbons. The best man was William Kennedy, of Prideville. After the ceremony the happy couple received the congratulations of their relatives and friends. This was followed by a pleasing wedding supper, at the conclusion of which the guests enjoyed dancing until an early hour this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Drake left early in the evening for Mt. Vernon, N. Y., where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return they will reside for the present at the home of the bride's mother, and in the fall they will go to housekeeping in this city, where the groom is employed by Bateman Thatcher, the contractor.

The collection of presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Drake were both costly and useful.

A Trustworthy Position.

J. H. Van Deventer, of Woodland avenue, Netherwood, was appointed yesterday, cashier of the Franklin National Bank, Greenwich street, New York. Mr. Van Deventer, who belongs to the Van Deventer family, of Plainfield, has only been employed in the bank three years, entering as discount clerk and acting as receiving teller and paying teller. He is now receiving the congratulations of a large circle of social and business friends.

Report of the Festival.

The members of the Queen Esther Band of Grace M. E. church held their last meeting for the season yesterday afternoon, when the committee having in charge the recent lawn festival reported that the profits amount to $63.43. This sum will be placed in the treasury until next fall when some disposition of it will probably be made in the cause of missions. At the meeting it was resolved that a vote of thanks be extended to all who so kindly assisted at the rainbow festival which proved such a grand success.

Middlesex Farmer Still Missing.

No trace has been found of Richard Williamson, the farmer of Franklin Park, who drove to New Brunswick last week and then mysteriously disappeared. Friends of the missing man fear that he has been a victim of foul play. They say he was a man of excellent habits, and no reason can be assigned for his prolonged absence.

—Van Sickle, the North avenue butcher, has a corner on a fine lot of young lambs, and he is selling them for only 12 cents a pound as long as the supply lasts.

DID SHE CALL HIM THIEF?

JUDGE ATWATER CALLED UPON TO DECIDE THE QUESTION.

Neal Claimed That She Started the Story That He Was The Burglar—Judge Reserved His Decision in the Matter.

The long-expected trial of the suit for slander brought by Edwin Neal against Mrs. Annie Sherman, was held today before Judge Atwater in the District Court at Elizabeth. There was much contradictory evidence and the Judge reserved his decision.

As was told in The Press several days ago, the suit was brought on account of certain rumors that were circulated some time ago, the substance of which was that Edwin Neal, of Lyman place, near Clinton avenue, was the man who broke into the house of Mrs. Annie Sherman, of the same street. A story was circulated that Mrs. Sherman saw the burglar and said that it was Mr. Neal. Neal accused her of being the author of the statements, which he declared to be utterly false. He then brought suit through his attorney, Fred C. Marsh, of Elizabeth, against Mrs. Sherman, for $300 for slander.

The case has come up several times, but was adjourned until this morning for various reasons.

There was a crowd of witnesses in court this morning for both sides. The plaintiff's lawyer had several witnesses who swore that they had heard Mrs. Sherman say that she had recognized Neal as the man she saw in the house the night of the burglary. There were other witnesses to say that they had heard others say that they had heard Mrs. Sherman make the same remark. City Judge DeMeza was the lawyer for the defence and his cross examination of the witnesses was lively indeed. There were constant quibbles between the lawyers.

The defence made was that Mrs. Sherman had said that the burglar had looked very much like Neal only he was a little taller, instead of the statements the plaintiff and his witnesses had reputed her to say. Evidence to that effect was offered while other witnesses were used to throw discredit on the testimony of the plaintiff. Judge DeMeza tried in his cross-examination to prove that Mrs. Sherman had only said that the burglar looked like Neal instead of saying that he was Neal.

SALE ON THE LAWN

Little Girls of the Borough Hold a Charming Affair.

A pleasant affair was held yesterday on the lawn adjoining the residence of Dr. D. C. Adams, of Grove street. It was a lawn sale of fancy articles, cake, ice cream, candies and lemonade, and the proceeds will be turned over to those in charge of the Children's Camp on the mountains for the purpose of locating a well.

The affair was arranged by Helen Adams, Helen Armstrong and Marguerite Lee, and they were assisted by the following persons, who served as waiters at the various tables: Emma Powers, Ursula Krewson, Helen Harned, Edward R. Honeyman, Chas. A. Lee, Jr., Dorrance Smith and Cory Adams.

From 3 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon a large number of friends of the young people gathered on the lawn and assisted them very much in collecting money for their worthy object.

The decorations about the grounds consisted of flags and bunting and they were so arranged as to attract the attention of all who passed that way. The young people were assisted by Mrs. Parse and Mrs. D. C. Adams in their undertaking and they will realize a goodly sum from the sale. Announcement will be made tomorrow of the profits.

Typhoid Fever in New Brunswick.

The Board of Health of New Brunswick has investigated the spread of typhoid fever in the vicinity of George street and Throop avenue, in that city, and after a careful analysis of the water from a well belonging to the city on the corner of the two streets, Dr. Williamson has decided that the water is unfit for use. The pump handle has, therefore, been removed, and in all probability the well will be filled in.

To Drain Surface Water.

The street committee of the Plainfield Common Council has ordered two wells to be dug on East Second street, between Washington and Richmond streets. The object of the wells is to drain off the surface water that always gathers there and leaves the street in such a muddy condition.

A Pitiful Sight.

Wm. Bukman, a cripple, who lost both legs in a railroad accident, was brought before City Judge DeMeza, this morning, on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. He had a pitiful tale to tell and the Judge suspended sentence on him.

SECURED RICH BOOTY.

BURGLARS ENTERED H. W. MARSHALL'S RESIDENCE LAST NIGHT.

They Gained Access to the House Through a Rear Window—Diamonds and Jewelry Valued at About $800 Gone—No Clue.

It was a very expensive bicycle trip that Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Marshall, of East Fifth street, enjoyed to Metuchen last evening, for when they awoke this morning at 6 o'clock they discovered that their home had been entered and goods to the amount of about $800 had been taken. This bold theft adds another to the long list now in the possession of the police, and is proof positive that it is not safe to leave one's house at any time of the day or night without leaving someone in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Mashall left their home about 8 o'clock in company with two friends, for the purpose of taking a bicycle ride to Metuchen and back. The friends were not used to riding and slow time was made both ways, the party arriving home by 11 o'clock. When Mr. and Mrs. Marshall entered home they did not notice that anything was wrong and in fact there was nothing to indicate that anyone had been in the house. Finding that everything was all right, as they supposed, they retired for the night.

This morning when they awoke Mr. Marshall asked his wife where his Knight Templar watch charm was. Mrs. Marshall replied that she did not know, whereupon her husband said that he had placed it with her watch in a cushion on the bureau. This aroused Mrs. Marshall's curiosity and she immediately went to the bureau in the bedroom to look for her watch. It was then that the robbery was discovered. Mrs. Marshall's gold watch, valued at $75, and four diamond rings, valued at $150 each, a diamond stick pin belonging to Mr. Marshall and his watch charm were missed. The pin is worth considerable and the charm is valued at $100. It was a gift to Mr. Marshall from his wife and he prizes it very highly, and of course the diamonds and watch were costly treasures.

An investigation revealed the fact that a back window in the dining room had been left open last night and when Mr. and Mrs. Marshall returned from their trip they had failed to notice that the window was open. When they went to the room this morning they discovered that the screen in the window was in an upward position and was held up with a match used as a wedge. The window was also found open.

The mysterious part of the robbery is that whoever entered the house must have been thoroughly posted as to where the things they wanted were kept. On the buffet in the dining room there is a large quantity of solid silverware which was not touched. On the entire first floor there are many valuable articles which were not disturbed, as was also the case on the second floor. The thieves seemed to pass by everything and go directly to Mr. and Mrs. Marshall's bedroom where they removed the articles mentioned. On the bureau were many things of value, both in silver and gold, but none of them were taken. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall feel confident that the theft was committed between the hours of 8 and 11 o'clock while they were away. They think that if the thieves had entered their room while they were asleep they surely would have heard them.

There is strong evidence that the thieves are well acquainted with the ground and knew just where to strike articles of value, and it must have been their purpose to take only such things as they could put in their pockets.

Mr. Marshal notified Chief of Police Grant as soon as he discovered the affair, and the latter made a search of the house for the purpose of securing information that will lead to the detection of the thieves. Mr. Marshall has offered a reward of $200 for the return of the stolen articles, and he will ask no questions if they are returned. His watch charm was set with eight diamonds and several other precious stones, and it would be of no use to anyone except Mr. Marshall. On it was inscribed the name of the commandery and chapter to which Mr. Marshall belongs; also his initials in a monogram.

Now Adjutant Parsons.

Ensign and Mrs. Parsons, of the Salvation Army, who have been taking a much needed rest at the Army's home of rest at Long Branch, arrived in Plainfield Tuesday evening and have taken command again. They both came back thoroughly rested and toned up, and hereafter will rank as Adjutant, that rank having been conferred on them for their successful work in Plainfield.

WESTFIELD BURGLARY.

INVADED AT NIGHT AND STOLE $56 IN CASH.

Two Men, Supposedly Professional Burglars, Entered the Residence of W. W. Moffett by the Cellar Door—Shot At.

A daring burglary was committed in Westfield early yesterday morning. The marauders entered the residence of W. W. Moffett, on Elmer street, by way of the cellar door. They then made their way to the upper part of the house.

Mrs. Moffett was awakened by a noise about 1:30 o'clock and was terrified to see her bedroom door come open and a man's head and shoulders appear. She screamed loudly and awakened her husband, who arose and chased the intruder down stairs and out of the front door. There were two of the men. Several shots were fired at them by Harry Sheldon and W. S. Smith, who live nearby and were awakened by the screams of Mrs. Moffett.

An investigation showed that the thief had taken two pocketbooks, one containing $40 and the other $16, besides a dozen silver knives and forks and a dozen silver spoons. No clue to the identity of the thieves has yet been obtained, beyond the fact that they were evidently professionals.

TWO COLORED MEN SETTLED A QUARREL THERE LAST NIGHT.

Patrolman Higgins Appeared on the Scene in Time to Capture One of the Offenders—The Others Found This Morning.

Patrolman Higgins has only two hands or else he might have had two prisoners instead of one, last evening. Higgins was patroling his beat on West Third street, as usual, late last evening, when the sounds of disturbance in Battle Row, near West Fourth street, reached his ears, and he hastened around to see what was the matter. He founds two shadowy forms struggling in the darkness and hurling all sorts of unpleasant epithets at each other.

Higgins jumped into the thick of the fray and grappled one of the dusky combatants by the woolly hair. There was a yell and the fighters separated. The officer had a grasp on both, but they kicked and squirmed so that he had to devote his energies to keeping one of them straight and loose his hold on the other. The latter offender departed without a farewell word.

John Bergen was the man that Higgins arrested and he was locked up to recover from the effects of an interview with "Jersey Lightning."

This morning Bergen was brought before City Judge DeMeza on the charge of being drunk and disorderly and fighting. Then, to the surprise of the court, the other man appeared in the court room. He was promptly arrested for resisting arrest and for being drunk and disorderly. A search showed that he had a razor in a handy place in his coat, which made Higgins carefully examine himself to see if he had felt the effects of it. The prisoner gave his name as William Nettle and said that he was not drunk. There was no evidence to prove that he was. He admitted that not wishing to spend the night in jail, he had resisted the officer.

The Judge decided that both men were guilty, and fined Nettle $10 and Bergen $5.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

G. Q. Dolliver Had a Narrow Escape From Death.

G. Q. Dolliver, of Manning avenue, who has charge of the carpenter department of the Central Railaoad, and whose office is in the Commnnipaw yard of the company, had a very narrow escape from death on Monday evening.

He was crossing one of the very numerous tracks in the yard and did not notice a rapidly incoming Newark train until it was right on him. He then made a lunge to get off of the track, but some part of the locomotive struck the calf of one of his legs, badly bruising the leg and tearing off the flesh. It was done so quickly that he hardly realized how it happened.

All he can remember is hearing the shriek of the locomotive and looking up saw it was very close to him. Then he sprang off of the track with the result stated. Mr. Dolliver is a little deaf and blames no one but himself for the accident. He says he was a little careless perhaps. He has not been able to go to business this week.

Lawyer A. H. Cornish, of Newark, formerly of this city, was in town today visiting Plainfield friends.

THE MEANINGS DIFFER.

KRINEY DID NOT UNDERSTAND THE DIFFERENCE.

So Justice Nash Ordered Him to Pay $18.75 and Costs in a Suit for Damages—The Case Will Probably Be Appealed Higher

Because he did not stop to reason out the difference between the words rest and storage, John Kriney was yesterday ordered by the verdict of Justice Nash to pay George Apgar $18.75 and the costs of the action.

Kriney is a machinest living at 30 Clinton avenue, and prior to March 20th, Apgar was his tenant, occupying the upper floor of the house.

On March 20th Apgar ceased to occupy the rooms for living purposes, but left his furniture there. He owed Kriney $35 for rent, and agreed to pay a reasonable amount for the privilege of leaving his furniture in the house.

The Apgars left the furniture uncalled for until June 10th, when they secured the refusal of a house in Bayonne. They then asked for the furniture, but were told by Kriney that he would hold it until the storage was paid. A short time afterwards he distrained the goods for the rent due.

Apgar then engaged the services of Clark & McNabb, and after some difficulty they induced Kriney to accept $9 for storage and surrender the goods. A damage suit was then bugun by Apgar for what he alleged was the unlawful retention of his goods for two weeks, which resulted in his giving up his house in Bayonne and incurring extra expense such as board for himself and wife.

The case was tried in Justice Nash's court yesterday afternoon.

Judge DeMeza appeared for Kriney and Clark & McNabb for Apgar.

The law in regard to a distress is that it must be levied within thirty days after the expiration of the lease. This was not done by Kriney, who thought that the storage due after March 20th was rent, and entitled him to distrain. In his evidence Kriney showed that his ideas as to the distinction between storage and rent were somewhat confused.

The case will probably be appealed.

WITHOUT A CENT.

George Allen and his wife, of Yonkers, N. Y., will long remember the generosity of the citizens of Plainfield. Mr. and Mrs. Allen, with their young child, came here some days ago en route for Atlantic City, where Allen has a situation at his trade of bicycle machinist.

They stopped at McVey's Hotel. Soon after their arrival here their money gave out and a remittance which Allen was expecting did not come. The couple now found themselves in a most unpleasant predicament. They were in a strange city with no money. At last, Allen in desperation applied for assistance to Chief of Police Grant. The Chief took up a collection among the New York commuters and presented Allen with tickets to Atlantic City and a neat sum of money besides. They left yesterday for Atlantic City.

A SORRY TRIAL TRIP.

A horse belonging to John Cose, the slater, of 223 Grant avenue, ran away yesterday afternoon just as its owner was getting into the wagon to drive off. The animal ran to West Sixth street, where it threw the wagon against an electric light pole, damaging it badly. The shafts and hames were broken and the horse, now free from the wagon, ran back along Grant avenue to the railroad. It then ran along the railroad tracks as far as Liberty street, where it turned and ran to South Second street. There it was caught and held until Mr. Cose arrived and claimed it.

The wagon which was damaged in the runaway was a new one, just received from the factory. Mr. Cose just took the vehicle out yesterday afternoon for a trial trip.

Graphophone at the Hospital.

A delightful change from the daily routine at Muhlenberg Hospital was enjoyed last evening, when the superintendent and nurses had the pleasure of listening to a graphophone entertainment which was given through the kindness of a friend of the hospital, living on Third place. There were about one hundred and fifty selections and every one was enjoyed by those present.

—An immense cherry tree on West Second street, one of the oldest landmarks of that vicinity, was cut down yesterday. It stood on the lawn of W. C. Ayres.

THE MYSTERY SOLVED

Headless Body Identified as That of William Guldensuppe.

A WOMAN IS UNDER SUSPICION.

Mrs. Nack, With Whom the Murdered Man Lived, Believed by Police Officers to Be Connected With the Startling Crime.

New York, July 1.—Gradually the mystery of the headless body, a portion of which was found in the East river, a portion at Kingsbridge and still another portion in the water near the Brooklyn navy yard, is being solved. These facts seem to be settled beyond question:

That the murdered man was William Guldensuppe.

That three sections of his mutilated body have been found.

One section was tied up in oilcloth, cheesecloth and brown paper, picked up in the East river at Eleventh street on Saturday last.

The second section, picked up at Undercliff avenue and One Hundred and Seventy-seventh street, near Kingsbridge, on Sunday.

The third section, the legs, picked up from the water at the Brooklyn navy yard yesterday afternoon.

That Guldensuppe was the sweetheart of Mrs. Augusta Nack, whose husband threatened revenge for his ruined home.

That Mrs. Nack is under police surveillance, though not yet definitely charged with complicity in the murder of Guldensuppe.

That she has been identified as being the woman who purchased the same kind of oilcloth in which the sections of the body were wrapped. The purchase was made in Astoria.

That her husband, Herman Nack, was also arrested and taken to police headquarters, but later discharged.

That two days before the first section of the mutilated body was found Guldensuppe quarreled with Mrs. Nack.

That Mrs. Nack was preparing to leave the country for Europe.

Identification of the Body.

The body was identified by the superintendent and employees of the Murray Hill baths, where Guldensuppe had formerly worked as a rubber.

The men who identified the mutilated fragments of humanity were Max Lorn, Adolf Sinker, William McFee, Adam Steubing, James Hand, Frank Gardner and Michael H. Scully, all of whom had worked with Guldensuppe and daily saw him in a state of nudity; James Flood, the elevator man, and Frank Schellenberg, the superintendent of the Murray Hill baths.

All these men state that there is not the smallest shadow of a doubt that the murdered man was their comrade, Guldensuppe.

They were familiar with every mark on his body and had noticed an unique deformity. The moment they saw the ghastly remains at the morgue, in spite of the efforts of the murderers to obliterate all distinctive marks, they unanimously and unhesitatingly declared that the body was that of Guldensuppe. They will not admit the smallest possibility of mistake.

To complete the work of identification, Dr. J. S. Cosby of 215 West Forty-fourth street, who three months ago operated upon the index finger of Guldensuppe's left hand and removed a felon, positively recognized the scar left by his work upon the finger of the corpse.

In further corroboration, all the attendants and many patrons of the Murray Hill baths were familiar with the figure of a woman which had been tattooed on Guldensuppe's breast in the days when he was a sailor. They found the patch of skin cut from the breast of the murdered man exactly to correspond with the place where this tattooing had been.

There was no known reason for his disappearance then, but from that moment no trace of him had been found.

The Woman In the Case.

Guldensuppe lived at 439 Ninth avenue, near Thirty-fourth street, with a Mrs. Augusta Nack, a midwife, who is separated from her husband. She has not seen him since Friday last, when he parted with her after a jealous quarrel.

According to Mrs. Nack's first statement, she had found Guldensuppe with another woman's card on Thursday night and quarreled with him about this. He then demanded $50, which she gave him, and he went away.

When the murdered man first boarded with Mrs. Nack, her husband lived with her. There was also another lodger, who, it is said, held a high place in the woman's affections. But the big masseur supplanted both.

The husband left, vowing vengeance against Guldensuppe, and it is said that the other man also fostered a passion for revenge. This man, in February last, drew a pistol on Guldensuppe and tried to kill him, but was overpowered after a hot struggle. The bath attendants noticed that Guldensuppe's body was badly bruised when he went to work the next day.

Guldensuppe's associates at the Turkish baths say that the big fellow was implicated in many feminine intrigues and often spoke of women he used to visit in the northern portion of the city, near to the spot where a portion of the body was found.

Mrs. Nack Under Suspicion.

Mrs. Nack has been identified as the woman who on Wednesday last purchased some oilcloth of the pattern in which the two parts of the mutilated body were wrapped.

The purchase was made in Astoria at the store of Max Riger, at Jackson avenue and Jane street. Mrs. Riger and a customer were in the store at the time, and Mrs. Riger says that a woman entered and asked hurriedly if she had any table oilcloth. She says that she showed the woman a small roll of the diamond B pattern and that the stranger took 4½ yards of this.

It is said that she then asked for some white ticking and that she bought six yards of stuff that looked very much like cheesecloth.

Mrs. Riger gave the information to the police, and when Mrs. Nack was taken to police headquarters Mrs. Riger was sent for immediately.

She came to this city in company with one customer who was in the store at the time of the purchase of the oilcloth and positively identified Mrs. Nack as the purchaser. It is known that Mrs Riger said.

Mrs. Nack was taken by Detectives Price and O'Donohue to Jefferson Market police court from central office and was remanded on the charge of suspicion by Magistrate Meade.

Mrs. Nack did not seem greatly perturbed. She evidently realized her serious position, but seemed to have remarkable control of herself. She wore a dark dress and a neat hat trimmed with green and white tulle. She was taken back to central office, where she will be held until the preliminary hearing.

Mrs. Nack denies absolutely any knowledge of the alleged murder of Guldensuppe. She declares that she has seen Guldensuppe after the mutilated remains were found in the river last Saturday.

TO CONSIDER A STRIKE.

A Meeting of Coal Miners to Be Held at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, July 1.—A delegate convention of coal miners of the Pittsburg district has been called for next Saturday by District President Dolan, at which the miners will decide whether or not a strike shall be inaugurated for a higher rate. The call says all miners, organized and unorganized, will be entitled to representation. President Dolan said:

"There will be no strike of miners at this time unless the convention decides in favor of such action. If a strike is inaugurated in the Pittsburg district, there is no doubt that the diggers in all other mining states will join in the movement."

It seems that a general strike order was to have been issued, contingent on certain circumstances. These circumstances had not developed, and the plans of the leaders were spoiled by the premature report that the order had been issued. There is a growing sentiment on the part of the miners to strike, and it is probable that but little coal will be dug in the Pittsburg district after Monday.

The True Remedy.
W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping-Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Miss Caroline Minturn Hall, daughter of David P. Hall, of Madison avenue, has gone to Boston to visit friends.

Free Pills.
Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guarranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Mix, a student at Cornell University, is spending the summer at the Plainfield Seminary on West Seventh street.

"Last summer one of our grandchildren was sick with a severe bowel trouble," says Mrs. E. G. Gregory, of Frederickstown, Mo. "Our doctor's remedy had failed, then we tried Chamberlains Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

Mr. Lee, a recent graduate of Lehigh University, is stopping at the home of Augustus VanDeventer, of Washington avenue.

Mr. C. L. Hasbrouck, a druggist at Mendon, Mich., says all of the good testimonials that have been published by the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy could be duplicated in that town. For sale By T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves.

Judson R. Giles and Edwark Petrie, both of East Sixth street, will go to Lake Hopatcong on their wheels Saturday to spend a few days.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.
1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.
The 25 and 50c sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jenkins, of Bethlehem, Pa., will be the guests tomorrow of Mr. Jenkins' mother, Mrs. J. N. Jenkins, of East Sixth street, at whose home they will spend a few days.

You may hunt the world over and you will not find another medicine equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. For sale by T. S. Armstrong. Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

FINAL VOTE IS NEAR.

Two More Important Tariff Provisions Are Completed.

HAWAII TREATY CLAUSE AGREED TO

A General Understanding That Saturday Is the Day Fixed For Taking the Vote—Senator Turpie Wants a Tax on Inheritances.

Washington, July 1.—As a result of rapid work on the tariff bill, the close of the long debate in the senate and the final vote on the bill is felt to be very near at hand.

Two of the most important provisions—those relating to the Hawaiian treaty of reciprocity and the duty on coal—have now been perfected, while another source of much conflict—the reciprocity section—was matured by the finance committee and presented to the senate.

Aside from these larger items, a great many minor ones which have caused more or less conflict, were disposed of.

The Hawaiian provision of the house bill was restored after brief debate and without the formality of a vote. This has the effect of leaving the Hawaiian treaty of reciprocity in full force and effect.

Mr. Turpie of Indiana spoke in support of the amendment for a 2 per cent tax on inheritances. His speech was notable for its picturesque metaphors and the virulence of his denunciation of the pending bill.

Senator Chandler has added a provision to his amendment to the tariff bil relating to railroad pools, a provision prohibiting the issuance of free passes as follows:

"The giving by one person as officer, agent or representative of any common carrier of any free pass or any free transportation not expressly authorized by section 22 of the interstate commerce act shall be deemed an unlawful discrimination and a misdemeanor and punished accordingly."

He has presented the amendment in its amended form.

Senators say rather confidently that a vote can be reached on the tariff bill Saturday. They say that nothing would be gained by having the final vote taken before that day, as the bill cannot be sent to the house before Monday and into conference before Wednesday.

Prominent Republican senators say that there is a general understanding, though not definite, that the bill will reach a final vote Saturday, but the Democrats have entered into no agreement, nor do they feel under any restrictions by any implied understanding. Occasion, they say, may arise which will induce them to debate some paragraphs longer than they now anticipate.

Some Confirmations.

The following nominations have been confirmed: John Russell Young of Pennsylvania to be librarian of congress; Bernard R. Green of the District of Columbia to be superintendent of the Library building and grounds; George A. Black of Fair Haven, Wash.; Thomas A. Davis of Malad, Ida., and William Ryan of Rathdrum, Ida., to be commissioners to examine and classify lands within the land grant limits of the Northern Pacific Railway company in the Cœur d'Alene land district in Idaho; John P. Bray of North Dakota to be consul general at Melbourne; Church Howe of Nebraska to be consul general at Apia and Nukualofa, Tonga; Hugo Donzelmann of Wyoming, consul at Prague, Bohemia; F. L. Denny, captain and assistant quartermaster United States marine corps, to be quartermaster of said corps with the rank of major; Charles L. McCawley to be assistant quartermaster in the marine corps with the rank of captain, also other minor promotions in the navy.

Minister Woodford Takes Oath.

Washington, July 1.—Stewart L. Woodford, the new minister to Spain, called at the state department yesterday and took the oath of office. Later, in company with Captain Bliss and Lieutenant Dyer, respectively military and naval attaches at the United States legation at Madrid, Mr. Woodford called upon the Spanish minister here and paid their respects, in accordance with the usual custom. Mr. Woodford expects to sail for his post about July 20.

To Surrender Mexican Prisoner.

Washington, July 1.—The state department has granted a warrant for the surrender to the Mexican authorities of Pecho Ramos, who is held under arrest at El Paso, Tex., for assault and attempted murder, committed in the attack on the custom house at Polomas last fall. A warrant for another prisoner, held at the same place for a like crime, was refused on the ground that the man is wanted in this country to answer a criminal charge.

A Convict Strangely Missing.

Auburn, N. Y., July 1.—John Marini, serving a term of 19 years, sentenced from Onondaga county last December for the crime of highway robbery, is missing from the prison here, and he is thought to be stowed away inside the walls. He was with the squad at noon when they reported for dinner, but could not be found an hour later. The officers are confident that the man has not got outside.

Banks Declare Dividends.

Keene, N. H., July 1.—The national banks in this city have declared the following semiannual dividends: Keene National, 5 per cent; Citizens', 3½ per cent; Cheshire, 3 per cent; Ashuelot, 3 per cent. The Keene Guaranty Savings bank will pay a dividend of 5 per cent to depositors on and after July 1, making the third dividend in liquidation, a total thus far of 40 per cent.

Physician Shoots Himself.

Batavia, N. Y., July 1.—When Dr. A. S. Rogers, a prominent physician of Pavilion, arose yesterday morning, he found that one arm was paralyzed. He had been in ill health for some time, and fearing insanity he retired to his office, where he shot and killed himself. He was 55 years old and had a large practice.

Factory Burned.

Silver Creek, N. Y., July 1.—The screen door and step ladder factory of Starring & Son has been burned. Loss $20,000; insurance, $11,000. Charles Smith, a printer, lost $500. About 50 men are thrown out of employment.

CHAPMAN NOMINATED

Ohio Democrats Make Him Their Candidate For Governor.

IT WAS A MOST MEMORABLE OCCASION

Regular Free Silver Convention Throughout—It Is Understood That John R. McLean Is to Be the Candidate For Senator.

Columbus, O., July 1.—The Democratic state convention here was one of the most memorable occasions in the history of Ohio. It was a convention of unanimity on principles and of differences on men, especially on those who were candidates for places on the state ticket. In the contests for favorites it was also a convention of endurance, as the delegates took no recess, but continued in session for nearly eight hours.

It was a free silver convention throughout. Every candidate whose name was presented was announced as orthodox in silver doctrines as the cardinal principle for his favorable consideration. While there were some differences of opinion about adopting the antitrust and the Cuban resolutions, there was not a dissenting voice in the convention to the declaration for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 without the co-operation of any other nation.

While there was no place on the state ticket accorded to either the silver Republicans or to the Populists, yet representatives of both those elements cooperated in the convention, and an informal fusion was perfected.

There were a dozen candidates for governor, those with the strongest following being H. T. Hough, Horace L. Chapman and Paul J. Sorg.

Chapman Wins on Second Ballot.

There was an agreement among many of the delegates on Chapman, which resulted in his nomination on the second ballot.

Hough's name was withdrawn before the balloting began, and the name of Sorg was withdrawn before the result of the first ballot was announced.

Although the McLean men had been in conference before the convention and had agreed to go to Chapman, they scattered their vote on the first ballot and did not concentrate on Chapman on the second ballot any more than necessary to nominate, so as to dissipate as much as possible the report that McLean was naming the state ticket.

It is conceded that the McLean men had an understanding with Mr. Chapman and his managers before the convention met, and the vote of the strong McLean counties for Chapman bears out the report.

In addition to the state ticket nominated there is an implied arrangement for John R. McLean for United States senator, with the state candidates as well as the party organization for him. Still it is reported that ex-Congressman Paul J. Sorg will also be in the field for senator.

The McLean men did not name their first favorite for governor or hold the resolutions as they had previously fixed them, but these concessions were made in the interest of harmony. They wanted nothing in the platform but the declaration for free silver as the paramount issue, but they would not vote against antitrust and Cuban resolutions when once presented.

When it became necessary for the McLean forces to rally to Chapman on the second ballot in order to end the contest, the solid vote of Highland county, the home of Hough, went with that of delegations from Cincinnati, Cleveland, Toledo and other cities that were strongly for whatever McLean wanted.

The following is the ticket as completed: Governor, Horace L. Chapman; lieutenant governor, Melville D. Shaw; supreme court judge, J. P. Spriggs; attorney general, W. H. Dore; state treasurer, James F. Wilson; board of public works, Peter H. Degnan; school commissioner, Byron H. Hurd.

Noted Judge a Hopeless Invalid.

Detroit, July 1.—A dispatch from Ann Arbor, Mich., to The News says that Judge Thomas M. Cooley, the noted authority on constitutional law, who served many years as justice of the supreme court and who was later the head of the interstate commerce commission, has become a helpless invalid. It is stated that his health, already impaired by age and overwork, was further broken down by excessive work on the interstate commerce commission. His memory is almost gone, and his loss of power has been followed by deep melancholy.

Republican Headquarters at Cleveland.

Cleveland, July 1.—The headquarters of the national Republican committee are to be located in Cleveland. They will be transferred from Washington to the famous Berry-Payne building in Cleveland, where Hanna conducted the national Republican campaign. The Washington headquarters will be kept open, but will be in charge of an attache of the national committee. Chairman Hanna and Secretary Dick expect to be at the Cleveland headquarters all summer.

Serious Riot In India.

Calcutta, July 1.—A serious riot has broken out at Chitpore, caused by the rumored profanation of a mosque. The police were compelled to call in the aid of the military in order to disperse the rioters. A number of Europeans have been seriously injured. The soldiery now patrols the disaffected district, but the excitement of the natives continues, and further disturbances are feared.

Jubilee Dinner For the Poor.

Windsor, Eng., July 1.—Yesterday the aged poor of the district had their jubilee dinner, and the queen, accompanied by the Empress Frederick and the Princess Henry of Prussia, drove unattended to visit them.

National Banks Authorized.

Washington, July 1.—The First National bank of Mammoth Springs, Ark., and the Mendota National bank of Mendota, Ills., have been authorized to begin business, each with a capital of $50,000.

Grounded Steamers Afloat Again.

Champlain, Que., July 1.—The steamer Turret Bay, which grounded owing to the inability to obtain a pilot on account of the strike, is afloat and proceeding on her way to Quebec.

MUSIC IN ELIZABETH.

Elizabeth is very particular about the music that is to be heard upon its streets. The Common Council of that city has just passed an ordinance taxing strolling musicians $1 a year for the privilege of entertaining the Elizabethans, with a fine of $5 for not procuring the license. The astute councilmen forgot about the organ grinders and did not put them in the ordinance. Mayor Rankin would not sign the ordinance as he said that the organ grinders ought to be included and that the fine was excessive. Perhaps it was; but the crowd of German brass bands that visit the county seat would have assured the city treasury a comfortable income from the licenses and fines.

WARM WEATHER HERE.

Today is the first day in the month of July, and with the advent of July comes the promise of some very warm weather. Nobcdy could complain, except the summer hotel proprietors, of the delightful weather we have been having, but now that warm weather is here at last all who can are rushing to the seashore and mountains to escape it.

RAHWAY'S FREE DELIVERY.

The citizens of Rahway are to be congratulated. A free delivery of mail is soon to be started in that city, and the people have their mail at their door hereafter instead of having to go to the postoffice after it. Rahway seems to be doing very well these days.

BEWARE OF THE HEAT.

The season is now here when many people are prostrated by the heat. Great care should be exercised by those who have to be out in the sun not to overdo for the results of sunstroke are often very serious. It is much easier to prevent it than to cure it.

RAHWAY'S SCHOOLS OUTGROWN.

Rahway's children have outgrown the present schools in that city and the Council of that city has authorized the loan of $35,000 to build and furnish two new buildings.

THE OWNER FOUND.

Will O. F. F. Please Send the Letter at Once.

Two young women, heavily veiled, entered the Press office last evening and inquired for the editor. The editor was not there but a reporter was and they stated to him their wish to secure the letter recently picked up on the mountain, a communication regarding the finding of which appeared in Tuesday's Press. The communication was signed "O. F. F., Plainfield P. O." They thought that it could be had by calling for that name at the Press office. The reporter, scenting a story from afar, tried to learn the names of the visitors and some of the circumstances of the loss of the letter. The young women were very reticent, however, and would only say that it was for a "friend."

Then they departed asking the reported to kindly state in today's Press that "H. W. B." would be greatly obliged if O. F. F. would mail the let-

LOOKING BACKWARDS.

"REPUBLICAN" COMMENTS ON "TAXPAYER'S" LETTER.

The Third of a Series of Interesting Communications on the Present Condition of Plainfield—The Martin Act Again.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—In a recent communication a "taxpayer" informs your readers that our present municipal expenditure is m re in a month than it was in a year a quarter of a century ago. This is a surprising statement. It means that, while our population has about doubled in that period, we are spending twelve times as much. Nothing else pertaining to the city, unless it may be the size of our heads, has increased in a like ratio.

He also says that "money has been thrown away upon our streets." Well, there hasn't been much wasted in that direction in recent years. In 1895 our finest macadamized streets were torn up to receive sewer pipes. To refill the excavations, in some of them, at least, macadam, sand, gravel and stones were dumped in promiscuously by a horse and scraper. Of course many of the largest stones remained on the surface and are still there, and no attempt having been made to restore the roadbed to its former condition. We have been obliged to curb and flag, but the streets remain paved with good intentions.

Again he tells us that former officials kept down expenses by keeping no books, but that "books have got to be kept." That is true. It is not safe to depend upon memorandum slips that may be lost or mislaid, although ours seem to have been miraculously preserved for the present emergency. It is intimated that this system was used because it made a friend of the taxpayer. That would seem absurd to this generation. Who is the taxpayer that we should try to please him? But if books are to be properly kept we must pay somebody to keep them. Some of us have objected to the advance in the salary of one official, but before this back tax business is finished he will have earned every dollar of it.

Finally we are cautioned against "looking backward." This is good advice, but it comes rather late. We have been looking backward most industriously for claims against property owners, which we propose to collect indiscriminately, albeit some of them are so old that if they were for honest business debts they would have been outlawed over and over again. Verily, it is our penchant for looking backward that has brought us into trouble, and if our expenses continue to increase six times as rapidly as our population, there will be but little satisfaction in looking forward.

The Legislature of Pennsylvania recently, by concurrent resolution, requested Gov. Hastings to suggest new subjects of taxation, in order that the deficiency in the treasury might be met. The Governor, in reply, gave them some advice that is of general application. In closing, he says: "Instead of searching through the crippled business interests of the State for new subjects to tax, or calling upon me to point them out, it will be much easier, and more in the line of duty as public servants, to exert our energies in finding where the burden of taxation may, in some measure, be lifted from the shoulders of our people;" and again, "Your prompt action upon, and speedy disposition of the work remaining before you, making an early adjournment possible will, I am confident, meet with the approval of the people of the Commonwealth."

And all the people said Amen.

WAR HORSES IN ARMOR TIMES.

They Bore Great Weight and Were Necessarily of Very Strong Breed.

The size of the English war horse reached its maximum in the reign of Henry VIII., when the relations of body armor to "hand guns" were analogous to those of the early ship armor and cannon before the "high velocities" were obtained at Elswick. There was good reason to believe, says The Spectator, that by adding a little to the thickness of the coat of steel the soft low-velocity bullet of the day could be kept out. So it was for a time. But the additional weight required a still larger horse to carry it. The charger had to be armored as well as his rider, and the collection in the Tower of London shows the actual weight which it carried. The panoply of Charles Brandon, Duke of Suffolk, the brother-in-law of Henry VIII, still exists. That of the horse covers the whole of the hindquarters, the back of the neck, forehead, muzzle, ears, shoulders and chest. It is exactly like a piece of boiler plating, and fastened by rivets.

The rider sat in a saddle in the front of which was a steel shield 10 inches high, covering the stomach and thighs as the "breastwork" on an iron-clad's deck covers the base of the turret. The total weight is 80 pounds 15 ounces. To this add the weight of the rider's armor, 90 pounds 9 ounces, and of the rider himself, say 16 stone (224 pounds) and the total is 28 stone 12 pounds 8 ounces, or 404 pounds 8 ounces. This bears out Holinshead's statement that in the days of Henry VIII. horses that were kept for burden would bear four hundred weight commonly.

Manjak.

Manjak is a new mineral substance found in the island of Barbadoes, which is used as an intensifier of the illuminating power of coal gas. Its importance to the electrician, however, lies in the fact that it possesses many of the properties of an ideal insulator for electric wires. It is of a black color, and has a high luster and a bright, conchoidal fracture, resembling in appearance newly broken pitch. It is found very near and sometimes upon the surface of the ground in seams varying from 1 foot to 2 feet in thickness, running usually at an angle of about 45 degrees, and in close proximity to rocks. It is supposed to have been formed by the drying up and consolidation of petroleum oil, which is found in abundance in the same localities, and is often seen oozing out of the ground or floating down the streams.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Du Maurier's Tall Women.

When Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett was first presented to Du Maurier, who was, in point of fact, rather an undersized man, she exclaimed:

"Oh, I am so glad that you are not six feet tall."

"But, why?" asked Du Maurier.

"Because for these many months," replied Mrs. Burnett, who is considerably below medium height, "you have simply denied us the right to live; you have made us feel that a woman who is not six feet tall has not the right to exist."

"Oh, that is only a trick of mine," laughed Du Maurier. "I have started again and again to make my heroine a little woman, but before I know it she has somehow grown way beyond my own recognition."

WESTFIELD

ELUDED THEIR FRIENDS

BRIDAL COUPLE WERE DRIVEN TO CRANFORD.

A Large Crowd Awaited Captain and Mrs. Benner at the Station, But Was Disappointed—Other Westfield Items.

Miss Julia Simpson and Captain George C. Benner were quietly married at the bride's house on Ross place at 8 o'clock last evening. The house was beautifully decorated with palms and potted plants. Rev. W. H. Ruth of the Methodist church performed the ceremony. The bridemaid was Miss Marie Simpson, a sister of the bride, and Albert B. Wade, of New York city, a cousin of the bride, acted as best man. The bride was attired in white silk trimmed with crepon lace. Miss Ada F. Ruth presided at the piano and played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bride entered upon the arm of her father, James Simpson. After the ceremony, which was witnessed only by relatives and intimate friends, the couple held a reception, and a wedding supper was served. A number of beautiful and costly presents were received. At 10 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Benner left amid a shower of rice and good wishes for a short wedding trip

It was their intention to take the 10:27 train from the Westfield station, but when the carriage reached the door it was said that there was a large crowd at the station awaiting the arrival of the couple. There was time enough to catch the train at the Cranford station. The groom whispered something in the driver's ear and the horses were headed for Cranford. The crowd at the station stood patiently waiting until the train came and went. It then dispersed speculating on what had become of the bride and groom. Upon returning from their wedding journey, Captain and Mrs. Benner will make their home in Westfield.

Insurance Agent Frightens Summer Boarders by His Antics.

Frank Russell, an insurance agent in Elizabeth, who with his wife was at the Johnson boarding house in White. house, went crazy from the excessive use of cigarettes.

He has been known to rush through the house and scare the occupants by yelling at the top of his voice. It required five men to keep him in his bed at times.

Mrs. Russell says he has been in the habit of smoking six or eight packages of cigarettes a day since he was a boy. He was taken to a private hospital in New York yesterday.

A SACRIFICE.

(By Martha Alberta Freeman.)

Margaret sat on the vine-clad porch smoothing the crumpled pages of the manuscript in her lap with a tender, caressing touch. Hamilton, coming slowly up the long walk, wished he had not pledged himself to show Margaret that Harold Fairfax was not the man she supposed him to be.

They talked of other things for a while; but at last he succeeded in bringing Harold's name into the conversation, and almost before he knew it he was unravelling the mystery of the manuscript.

Margaret looked at him with astonished eyes.

"How many times," she said tremulously, "I have passed him on the street and purposely didn't see him! Oh, if I had only known that Harold had gone into that burning house at the risk of his life to rescue my manuscript—why didn't somebody tell me, Mr. Hamilton?" And before Hamilton could answer, "Will he ever have the use of his arm again?"

"Oh, yes, in a few weeks, perhaps," Hamilton wished that it was his arm reposing in a sling instead of Harold's. "A lucky thing for Fairfax that it was the left one. He is working at the reviews again, and putting the finishing touches on his story. It is the best thing that he has ever done. He intends to enter the Times prize contest."

As Hamilton talked on he became so enthusiastic that Margaret saw Harold with his friend's eyes.

"I am going to write to Harold tonight," she said, "and tell him that I am sorry for our foolish quarrel. If I can, I will thank him for what he has done for me."

* * * * * *

John Hamilton sat by the window, smoking, sometimes looking down into the almost deserted street, sometimes letting his gaze fall upon Harold Fairfax, who was writing away at the table at the other end of the room.

"Isn't it almost dark enough to stop work, Fairfax?" he said.

Harold rose and brought his chair to the window, and Hamilton began to tell him of the visit to their old home at Fairville, and about Margaret, but he said nothing concerning the manuscript.

Just then a letter was brought to Harold. He held it close to the window to get light enough to read it. His face was bright when he finished.

"Hamilton," he said with a laugh, "I told you not to tell her I sent that manuscript, and I especially warned you against telling her about the wonderful arm."

"But you know you are glad that I did."

Twilight deepened into night. They talked of the literary prize contest, and of Harold's chances of success; they talked, too, of Margaret. Hamilton said her story was inferior to Harold's, upon which the latter began immediately to sum up the good points in her work.

"It's a fine story," agreed Hamilton, "but I think I can show you wherein yours is the better of the two."

Harold was silent after that, thinking of many things.

Hamilton puffed away, seeing nothing, thinking of nothing but the vision of Margaret in her white gown sitting among the green vines and the yellow roses, the sunlight tinting her red-brown hair as she bent over the manuscript in her lap. At last he came back from his paradise.

"By the way, Fairfax, as your story is ready, you had better send it in. The time is short now."

"I have decided not to send it at all," Harold said in a quiet voice.

"What do you mean? Why, you have talked of nothing else for weeks."

"I am convinced," Harold said, "that my story is better than Margaret's. I am going to keep it back that she may have one more chance to win, one less to lose the prize."

John Hamilton was staggered. He was stricken dumb for a second, then he broke into a torrent of expostulation, rebuke, persuasion, but to no purpose. Nothing could shake Harold's resolution.

* * * * * *

Margaret's story won the prize, and among the many letters of congratulation which she received, not one was more heartfelt and sincere than Harold's.

She was not at all puffed up by her success, and could not show her gratitude sufficiently to Harold for rescuing her manuscript from the fire; her distress that he still caried his arm in the sling was genuine; but Harold knew that her feeling for him was only gratitude, and Hamilton knew it, too.

Hamilton was between two fires at this time; torn and tortured by the conflicting voices of love and friendship.

As he sat opposite Margaret, one evening, he resolved to tell her of Harold's self-immolation. It was hard to do; he was loth to disturb the girl's rejoicing over her success, and he was more loth to make Harold a hero in her eyes. But he remembered a time when other friends had failed, and Harold Fairfax alone had stood by him, so he told his story at last, with all the eloquence of earnestness.

Margaret's face grew white.

"Now that I know what you have told me"—her voice was almost a whisper—"thinking of Harold, with his arm in a sling, and so pale and worn, I feel that I ought to love him as he loves me. But I can't!" she said after a little pause. "I can't!" And Margaret, the self-possessed, laid her head on the table and sobbed.

That was too much for Hamilton's resolution. Almost before he knew it he was imploring her to dry her tears saying he would make it all right—though he probably could not have told just what he meant by that—and telling her how much he longed to make all things right for her, and asking for her love for himself, as he had asked it for Harold, more earnestly, perhaps, more successfully, at least.

Harold came in unnoticed. He saw Margaret smiling through her tears at Hamilton, who was bending over her chair. He knew intuitively what had happened, and for the moment his heart was full of bitterness toward his friend. He had trusted him above all other men. He turned to go, murmuring something about not wishing to intrude. Margaret sprang to her feet and laid a detaining hand on his arm.

"Harold, forgive us both! You willingly gave up your chance of success for me. I would repay you with the love that you ask if I could, but it is impossible. I promised to try but if I were to try for a century it would be a hollow mockery. Will you take my friendship, my highest esteem?"

Harold clasped the proffered hand.

"Your friendship will always be my most valuable possession, Margaret," he said, and again turned to go, without looking at Hamilton, who stood perfectly silent.

"But won't you forgive John?" pleaded Margaret, looking from one to the other in dismay. "You were such close friends, and"—at a loss for something to say—"I am sure he couldn't help it."

"That's just it, Fairfax, I couldn't help it. I know what you are thinking—that I ought to have told you before; but there was nothing to tell. I had resolved never to speak to her of my love, feeling that you had the greater claim. I scarcely know how it came about. I was trying honestly to show you to Margaret in your true character—that of a hero. Before I was aware of it, I had spoken what I had resolved never to utter. I came here to tell her of the sacrifice of labor and sleep, and thought and time and hope, which you had made for her, and—"

"My dear fellow, you couldn't have done otherwise. With all my heart I congratulate you and wish you happiness."

He went out, and Hamilton, watching him as he disappeared down the moonlit street, murmured to himself,—

"He is a better man than I, but I would not change places with him"

A Punctual Judge.

Judge Maguire, one of the California members, is a good story teller, and when the Judge sits down in one of the cloak rooms to enjoy his cigar half a dozen of his colleagues will always gather around in the hope of getting him started on some of his Western reminiscences. Most of these have to do with matters that have occurred in some court or other on the Pacific slope.

"A certain well known judge in California," said Mr. Maguire, in one of his reminiscent moods, "is a great stickler for punctuality. He was worse when he first went on the bench than he is now, however. In those days I have known him to fine an attorney $10 for being late as many minutes, and read him a long lecture besides. No excuse was accepted for being late, and punctuality became quite the rule in that court.

"One morning the Judge himself failed to put in an appearance on time. Of course, all the attorneys were there promptly, and there was great hilarity during the ten minutes' wait that ensued. When the Judge appeared he was greeted with numerous sarcastic inquiries about his health. He paid no attention to these remarks, however, but, soberly taking his seat on the bench, he leaned forward and said:

"'This court, gentlemen, is no respector of persons. Mr. Clerk, you will enter up a fine of $10 against the court.' Then he took $10 out of his pocket and handed it to the clerk, adding, 'and please mark it paid.'"—Washington Post.

Story from Arizona.

A good story is told at the expense of Nestor Massart, the tenor. When the spreading rails brought the train, with many a bump and jar, to a sudden stop on the Arizona desert the other night, many of the ladies thought that a serious accident had befallen them, and that they were on the verge of death, or at least of an awful catastrophe. Massart, however, who had for weeks been posting himself on the West by reading wild stories of Arizona life, believed that the train had been attacked by Apache Indians, whom he supposed roamed over the territory in all their aboriginal ferocity. He warned all his fair friends to keep behind the curtains while he reconnoitered. Just as he cautiously poked his head out from his berth, the Pullman porter entered the car to allay the fears of the singers. In the dim light Massart mistook the dark visage of the porter for that of an Apache chief. Wrapping himself in many bedclothes to form a shield against the anticipated arrows of the red men, he leaped from his berth to the center of the car, and hurled his boot at the porter.

"You sall kill me before you molest zese ladies. I gif my heart blood for dem," he shouted, with tragic heroism, in his best English, not knowing that Arizona Indians understood French.

Then Massart fell forward, half dead with fright, the bedclothes carefully pulled over his head. It required repeated assurances to convince the opera singer that he had not been slain. A day later, at Banning, he saw a real Arizona Indian, by daylight. Since then it has not been safe to refer to the episode in Massart's presence.—San Francisco News Letter.

Championed by a Dog.

Several years ago in Wisconsin, before the Indian had retired from the neighborhood of the white man, a mother and her little girl were alone in their cottage on the edge of a great forest. Everyhing seemed peaceful, and there was no thought of danger. The mother sat inside the door sewing, while the child was in the bright sunshine playing; their large black dog Cuff was the only other member of the family. Suddenly half a dozen Indians fresh from a recent raid on whisky stood in the doorway and demanded more whiskey. The lady had no whiskey, but offered them food and drink. The Indians, however, were drunk, and before the mother could interfere the roughest seized the little girl and was making off with her, when the dog, which had wandered away a short distance, came bounding back. In an instant he had the savage by the throat and threw him to the ground; the others, having no firearms, beat a hasty retreat. The dog kept a tight grip on the Indian until they had all gone, then released him, and he also departed.—From Our Dumb Animals.

The Proofreader's Nemesis.

"What's the matter?" inquired the foreman, as he eintered the sanctum for copy and noted the editor's bleeding nose, swollen forehead, puffed, red eye, and tattered, dusty coat. "Fall down stairs?" "No—only that," replied the editor, pointing with his finger to a paragraph in the paper before him. "It's in our account of the Crapley-Smith wedding. It ought to read: 'Miss Smith's dimpled, shining face formed a strong contrast with Mr. Crapley's strong, bold physiognomy.' see how it was printed." And the foreman read: "Miss Smith's pimpled, skinny face formed a pleasing contrast with Mr. Crapley's stony, bald physiognomy." "Crapley was just in here," continued the editor, throwing one blood-streaked handkerchief in the waste basket and feeling in his pockets for a clean one, "and he—but just send that fool of a proofreader in here! There's a fight left in me yet!"—Typographical Journal.

Rather Awkward.

A teacher examining his class in Bible knowledge asked:

"What did Sampson slay the Philistines with?"

No answer.

Wishing to help them to remember it he tapped his jawbone with his finger, saying:

"What is this?"

Then they exclaimed with a mighty chorus:

"The jawbone of an ass."—Spare Moments.

An Interpretation.

"I wonder," said Mrs. Cumrox thoughtfully, "what that nice, old-fashioned lady means by putting 'P. P. C.' on her card."

"That means she is goinn away," replied her daughter.

"Oh, I see, and she wants me to know she is going to travel in a Pullman palace car."—Washington Star.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

Rather Remarkable.

A Half-Dozen Ideas Will Suggest Themselves to the Reader While Perusing This.

It is seldom that a passenger on board a train gives a thought to the man at the throttle, and rarer still that a man chosen above all others by the people does so. Of all the flowers placed on the Presidential train on its way through Pittsburg and Alleghany City on its way to Washington, there is one cluster of white carnations destined to be preserved for generations and handed down to children and grandchildren as long as the petals and stems will hold together. That was the handsome boquet presented by President McKinley to the locomotive engineer in charge of the train we have just spoken about. This graceful act of the President has nothing to do with locomotive engineer Frank McCleary, of 240½ Van Horn street, Jersey City, N. J., engineer on the D., L. & W. R. R. We merely introduce him in this way so that in a measure the reader may know whom we are talking about, and if afflicted in this way, the benefit of this valuable advice can be utilized. Read what he says:—"I know that Doan's Kidney Pills are a good remedy for the kidneys and they are becoming well known among railroad men, especially engineers and firemen as lame back and kidney ailments are quite common among railroad employes. I was troubled with backache and other symptoms of kidney disorder and hearing everyone who had used Doan's Kidney Pills speak well of them I got a box at a drug store. I had not used them long before I was entirely freed from backache and lameness across the shoulders and in the loins. I take pleasure in endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills as a splendid remedy."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

AT THE FIRE-PLACE STORE,

COMPLAINT DISMISSED.

Mr. Smith Did Not Receive Federal Funds For a Personal Debt.

Brooklyn, July 1.—United States Commissioner Morle has dismissed the complaint in the action of the government against Thomas C. Smith. Mr. Smith is the father-in-law of ex-Paymaster Corwine, U. S. N., and was accused by the government of receiving United States funds from his son-in-law in payment of a personal debt. The motion to dismiss was made by Edward M. Shepard, counsel for Mr. Smith, and in granting the motion the commissioner said:

"The evidence before me shows no unlawful intent, no guilty knowledge. There was lack of knowledge of its being government money. There being no knowledge, there can be no intent."

Mr. Young, who with Mr. Smith was on Corwine's bond for $25,000, was the only witness heard. He explained that he and Mr. Smith paid $12,500 in settlement of Corwine's defalcation. Mr. Smith not receiving any part of his share back, but that he, the witness, had received $7,500, practically giving the other $5,000 to Corwine. It was out of this payment of $7,500 to Young that the complaint against Smith arose, the government undertaking to show that Smith paid the money to Young out of public funds given him by Corwine.

BUILDING TRUST ASSIGNS.

Caused by a Decision of the State Appellate Court.

Louisville, July 1.—The Commercial Building trust, a corporation doing a building and loan business at 249 Fifth street, assigned at noon to the Columbia Finance and Trust company. The assets and liabilities are estimated at about $500,000 each. The assignment was caused directly by the recent decision of the appellate court, in which it was held that all interest charged or collected by any corporation or persons in Kentucky in excess of 6 per cent was usury.

The building and loan associations of the state were greatly injured by the decision, and at a meeting of the directors and stockholders of the Commercial trust, it was decided to go into liquidation rather than continue business under such disadvantages.

THE FRESHMEN'S RACE.

Won by Cornell With Ease Against Columbia and Pennsylvania.

Poughkeepsie, July 1.—The race of yesterday was won by the Cornell crew, who beat the Columbias and Pennsylvanias easily. The winner crossed the line three-quarters of a length in the lead; Columbia second by one-third of a length over Pennsylvania.

Reunion of Veterans.

Cooperstown, N. Y., July 1.—The third annual reunion of the Otsego and Delaware Veterans' association has been held here. The One Hundred and Seventy-first and One Hundred and Fifty-second New York Regimental associations also held their annual reunions. Over 1,000 veterans were in attendance, and the town was filled with visitors. The next reunion will be held at Sidney. The new president of the two county associations is Charles Herron of Sidney. It was the largest gathering of veterans in the county since the war. General John Palmer, secretary of state, and Colonel A. D. Shaw, department commander of the G. A. R., were the guests of honor.

New United States Commissioners.

Utica, N. Y., July 1.—The terms of United States commissioners expired yesterday. Judge A. C. Coxe has filed the following appointments for the northern district. The terms of the appointees begin today: Utica, Charles A. Miller, Earl Comstock; Rome, E. A. Rowland; Syracuse, A. Judd Northrup; Binghamton, Charles S. Hall; Cortland, John W. Hughitt; Glens Falls, Delcour S. Potter; Ithaca, Mynderse Van Cleef; Lowville, Charles S. Mareness; Malone, William P. Badger; Oswego, Lawrence W. Churchill; Rochester, William W. Gilbert, John M. Stull; Saratoga Springs, Charles M. Davidson; Schenevus, Charles H. Graham; Watertown, George H. Walker.

Revenue Collector's Alleged Crookedness.

Washington, July 1.—Secretary Gage has appointed Mr. B. M. Thomas acting collector of internal revenue for the San Francisco district. This action was taken upon receipt of a report from a special agent of the department stating that he had discovered wrongdoing on the part of Collector Welborn in connection with the administration of the collector's office and that Welborn had left the city to avoid arrest. The special agent, in his report, said that Welborn was guilty either of making a dummy appointment and pocketing the salary attached to the place or of making an appointment under an agreement to divide the salary, either of which would be illegal.

Another Building Company Fails.

Louisville, July 1.—Following fast on the heels of the failure of the Commercial Building trust, which did a building and loan business, the Columbia Building and Savings association has gone to the wall, with assets and liabilities of $160,000 each. As in the case of the Commercial, the cause of the failure is the recent decision of the court of appeals, in which the interest rate is attacked and declared illegal. The officers are General Basil W. Duke, president, and J. W. Jenkins, secretary. The Columbia Finance and Trust company was made assignee.

Want Claimant to Prove Her Case.

Providence, July 1.—Relatives of the late millionaire, William H. King of Newport, have appeared before Chief Justice Matteson in this city with a new motion. They want assistance from the court in compelling Mrs. E. A. Webster Ross to give her deposition and statements as to the identity, parentage and history of the uncle who, she says, died at Butler asylum, together with her own history.

Steamer Overdue.

Boston, July 1.—Considerable anxiety is being felt here regarding the Wilson line steamer Alecto, which left Hull, England, on June 12 and is now fully six days overdue. A steamer of the Alecto's horsepower should have cover-

CUBA SHOULD BE FREE.

Senor Romero Makes an Astounding Statement.

HE SAYS THAT WE PREVENTED IT.

Secretary Clay Said That We Preferred That Cuba Should Remain In the Possession of Spain—An Interesting Bit of History.

New York, July 1.—In a contribution to the July number of the North American Review, giving a historical explanation of the manner in which the Spanish-American colonies in the western hemisphere became independent of Spain, Senor Romero, the Mexican minister to the United States, makes the astounding statement that Cuba might have been freed from Spain long ago but for the action of the United States.

Senor Romero asserts that after Bolivar had accomplished in 1824 the independence of the northern half of South America he thought that his task would not be finished until the Spanish were driven from Cuba and Puerto Rico, since the possession of these islands would give Spain an important foothold on this continent, from which she could attack her revolting colonies at any time.

Acting on this theory, the governments of Mexico and Colombia outlined a plan of military operations for the purpose of accomplishing the independence of Cuba.

When the government of the United States heard of this scheme, Mr. Clay, secretary of state of the United States, addressed a letter to the Mexican and Colombian ministers at Washington, requesting that their governments should suspend the operations they had in view, since the United States would prefer that Cuba should remain in the possession of Spain rather than that the island should fall under the sovereignty of England or of France.

The question of the independence of Cuba was further considered in the congress of American nations which met at Panama in 1826, and which was attended by delegates from the United States government, and the idea of sending an armed expedition to liberate Cuba was abandoned on account of the opposition of the government of the United States.

Senor Romero's conclusion from a review of the whole facts is that the United States did not in any practical manner assist any of the American colonies of Spain to achieve their independence, and he insists that the United States did not recognize the independence of any of the colonies until several years after it had been fully accomplished.

Mother and Daughter Commit Suicide.

Owensboro, Ky., July 1.—Mrs. Pauline Weitmeier and her daughter, Miss Pauline Weitmeier, have committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. Both were dressed in handsome clothes when found by neighbors. On a table by the bedside were two glasses, which had contained carbolic acid and a note saying they desired to be buried just as found. They conducted a dyeing establishment, and were in comfortable circumstances. Mrs. Weitmeier has a brother, Dr. Hengler, who is a prominent physician in Paterson, N. J.

Good Business In Gun Making.

Troy, N. Y., July 1.—The gun factory at the Watervleit arsenal, which will be closed for repairs during July, has a remarkable record for the last year. During that time there have been completed 23 breechloading rifles of 8 inch caliber, 28 of 10 inch and 25 of 12 inch. The total weight of these guns is 2,500 pounds and value $2,500,000. It is believed that this output far exceeds the output of any other gun factory in the world.

Don't Like the Order.

Rome, N. Y., July 1.—The board of health of this city recently adopted a rule requiring all meat offered for sale here to be tagged first and second quality. At a meeting of farmers of Ridge Mills, a suburb of Rome, it was resolved to petition the health board to rescind the rule, otherwise the farmers would sell their meat and do their trading at other places than Rome.

Minister Found Dead.

Memphis, July 1.—Rev. E. M. Richardson, D. D., secretary of education of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, was found dead in his bed in this city. He was one of the best known divines in the south, his official duties calling him to almost every city of any size in the country. Deceased was 68 years of age. Heart failure was the cause.

Ship Freiburg Detained at Quarantine.

New York, July 1.—The German ship Freiburg, which has arrived from Manilla, was detained at quarantine owing to the vessel's captain failing to produce the usual bill of health from the United States consul at Manilla, as the regulations require all vessels to produce a bill of health from the port of departure.

Released Man Rearrested.

Toronto, July 1.—Charles Breitsprecher, who was arrested a few days ago on the charge of forging a check for $2,000 in Chicago and let go, as the authorities there did not want him, has been again arrested on receipt of a telegram from the Chicago police. He was remanded till Friday.

Murderer Respited.

Harrisburg, July 1.—Governor Hastings has granted a respite to Alfred S. Vonneida of Philadelphia from June 27 to Oct. 27, so that his case may be laid before the board of pardons at the September session. Vonneida was convicted of the murder of his wife.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

TEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

The recent race meet of the Kings County Wheelmen at Manhattan Beach netted the club a trifle over $3,000, which is the largest sum ever cleared by a club from a race meet at that track.

J. Frank Starbuck and Fred. J. Titus will race at Mahattan Beach on the afternoon of July 17th for a purse of $1,000 at 20 miles. Each rider will be limited to eighteen pacemakers to pull him through. A number of other events will be on the programme, including a pacemakers' handicap.

The wheelmen of the Y. M. C. A. will take a patriotic holiday run on Independence Day. The route will be from this city to Rahway, to Perth Amboy, by ferry to Tottenville, around Staten Island, Fort Wadsworth and Fort George to New York, through Central Park to Grant's Tomb, by ferry to Fort Lee, by Hudson County Boulevard to West Eighth street, by train to Elizabeth to Plainfield. The start will be made sharp at 8 o'clock a. m. All members of the association may enter free.

The four division century run of the Associated Cycling Clubs of New York city to the National meet of the League of American Wheelmen, at Philadelphia, on August 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th, with a return on August 8th in one division, promises to be the largest and most successful of its kind. The committee having the run in charge has decided upon the following itinerary: New York to Philadelphia—New York, (West Twenty-third, Desbrosses or Cortlandt streets,) Jersey City, (ferry,) Newark, Elizabeth, Roselle, Cranford, Westfield, Fanwood, Plainfield, Metuchen, New Brunswick, Franklin Park, Kingston, Princeton, Lawrenceville, Trenton, Morrisville, Pa., Tullytown, Bristol, Bridgewater, Eddington, Torresdale, Frankford, Philadelphia. The start will be made at 6:15 a m. from Jersey City, and Philadelphia reached by 6:45 p m. The combined run of all divisions on August 8th from Philadelphia will start at 6:30 a m. from Broad and Market streets, Philadelphia, and will be over the route taken on the outward journey.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

The all-round championship of the A. A. U. of the United States will be held on the grounds of the New Jersey Athletic Club on Monday, July 5th. Among the entries are George Proctor Smith, of this city, now an athletic member of the N. J. A. C. Smith has for two years won the all-round interscholastic championship of New Jersey and while he does not expect to win the National championship, this year, he hopes to make a good showing for the club and get some practice that may land him at the head of the list in years to come.

AROUND THE BASES.

The Bound Brooks, who come here to play the Crescents on Monday morning, are one of the strongest teams in this part of Jersey. Brampton, their pitcher, although only a lad, is considered a phenomenon by all who have seen him pitch. He is a great favorite with the Bound Brook audiences.

The New Brunswick Y. M. C. A. nine will come to this city for a game with the Crescents on Saturday afternoon. The Crescents opened the season against this team and defeated them by a score of 9 to 6. The New Brunswick contingent was then weakened by the loss of several players, and they think, with their regular team, they can defeat the Crescents. So another game was arranged for next Saturday.

The Crescents will only play one game on July 5th and that game will be played in the morning. The visiting club will be the strong aggregation from the Bound Brook Athletic Club, of which Louis Drake is the hustling manager. Manager Mumford, of the Crescents, had a game scheduled with the powerful Newark Athletic Club, one of the strongest semi-professional teams in this part of Jersey, but he has cancelled the game so as not to conflict with the race-meet of the Crescent Wheelmen in the afternoon.

There will be several changes in the Crescent team for Saturday's game Vroom, who caught so well last Saturday, has been made a fixture on the team and will captain the team hereafter. Bolsterli is suffering from a slight illness and he will not play at short. McVeth, a machinest, at the Potter Press Works, who came here from Ohio, will play in that position. While in Ohio he was shortstop on one of the teams in the Ohio State League, and has a reputation as a sterling good player. He played on the P. A. C. one game and distinguished himself by his excellent all-round playing. His batting was especially good. Ed Ericksen is going to leave town and his place in right field will be filled by Fred Winn. Winn is well known here as a pitcher, and in case McLarty should weaken, he will be used in that capacity.

FRIGHTENED AT FLYING PAPER.

A Horse Wrecked a Wagon and Nearly Ran Down Several People.

A horse belonging to Lorenzo Paoli, the North avenue fruit dealer, took a wild flight along East Front street, yesterday afternoon, causing consternation among pedestrians, wheelmen and drivers of vehicles, who happened to be on the street at the time. Some of these barely succeeded in scrambling out of the harm's way as the runaway swung past them.

The horse was tied to a post in front of Griffen's hardware store. Men who were working nearby noticed that it was in a restless state. About 4 o'clock some pieces of white paper blew across the street and the animal reared and broke the hitching strap It then started and ran down East Front street. Between Watchung avenue and Church street the runaway swerved to the left and the wagon struck an electric light pole, demolishing one wheel completely, and smashing the shafts and harness.

The horse freed from the wagon, then ran along the sidewalk to Richmond street then along Richmond to East Fourth street, where it turned and ran to Paoli's stables, without doing further damage. The wagon which was of the heavy platform variety, was badly damaged and the harness was destroyed.

BRAIDER THOUGHT QUICKLY.

And Landed the Party Safe Across the Tracks.

Four names came very near being recorded as those of victims of the Park avenue crossing over the Lehigh Valley Railroad, near Oak Tree, last evening. That they were not is only through the quickness of Clifford Braider, of Manning avenue.

Last evening Braider went out for a ride with three friends from the borough and they enjoyed a drive out Park avenue to Pumptown. It was dark when they returned and arrived at the Lehigh Valley crossing.

Braider was driving and pulled up the horse to a stop when a short distance from the crossing. He claims that he heard no whistle. The shrubbery is so dense that it is impossible to look down the track until the horse is almost on the rails.

Braider claims that the flagman was there, but made no effort to stop them or to lower the gates. He then started across.

When half-way across, the party was horrified to see a coal train almost upon them. Braider brought the whip down on the horse's back with force and the animal sprang forward taking the carriage out from in front of the locomotive. The members of the party were badly frightened by their narrow escape.

SAYS SHE WAS SWINDLED

WESTFIELD WOMAN MAKES CHARGES AGAINST AN AGENT.

Miss O'Neill Claims That a Plainfield Crayon Portrait Maker Refused to Return Her Change—Her Story Told.

Miss Harriet O'Neill, a young woman living in Westfield, had a rather unpleasant experience yesterday with an agent from this city by which she claims to have been defrauded of $3.50.

Miss O'Neill is a domestic in the home of Rev. N. W. Cadwell. pastor of the Westfield Presbyterian church. Several weeks ago, according to her story, a man who gave his name as M. Demlicer, and his address as 452 Orchard place, in this city, called upon her and solicited an order for a crayon portrait to be enlarged from a small picture.

If the portrait when completed was not satisfactory, the agent represented that it need not be paid for. This picture was completed and gave satisfaction, and Miss O'Neill gave an order for a second picture, to be made under the same conditions, and subject to her approval when finished.

Yesterday Demlicer called with the second picture. It did not suit Mrs. O'Neill, however, and she refused to accept it. She still owed $1.50 upon the first picture, and handed the agent a five-dollar bill, telling him she would pay the balance on the first picture.

Instead of returning the change, however, Demlicer, so Miss O'Neill says, put the five dollars in his pocket and departed. The girl called Mr. Cadwell, but by the time the pastor arrived to set matters straight, the agent had disappeared.

A Daily Press reporter today called at 452 Orchard place and endeavored to see Demlicer about the matter, but the woman who came to the door said he was not in the city, and she did not know when he would return. Demlicer only boards at the place.

He is a Hebrew, and goes from place to place taking orders for portraits.

Dangerous Play.

Two small boys were playing horse on Front street, in front of Music Hall yesterday afternoon. One boy was harnessed with a rope about his body and neck, while the other did the driving. The South Plainfield stage happened along at the time and the boy who was driving the other fellow jumped on the rear of the stage. The latter boy stumbled, fell, and was dragged by the rope which was cutting him about the body and neck.

The boy on the stage did not seem to have sense enough to let go the rope and someone called to the driver to stop the horses. The horses were stopped and the lad escaped serious injury although scratched and cut about the face and hands.

Racing at the Oval.

An accident occurred at the Crescent Oval early last evening in which six riders were piled up in a heap. All escaped serious injury. Charles Dodd was riding behind Harry Lister who was behind several more riders when the rider in front of Lister slowed up and Lister had to swerve to the right to avoid him. Charles Dodd ran into Lister's back wheel and was thrown. George Gould tumbled over him and several other wheelmen followed in a bunch. Several were very angry but nothing worse than tempers were hurt.

Fintin Hibbitts, of Liberty street, is seriously ill at his home.

"Mr. Henpeck," said the doctor, after examination, "I fear your wife's mind is gone."
"That doesn't surprise me," said the poor man. 'She has been giving me a piece of it every day for ten years."—Memphis Scimitar.

A Doubtful Compliment.

"Did you read my article in this morning's paper?"
"Yes, my boy; I read it through twice."
"That's a great compliment."
"I read it twice to try and understand what it was about."—New York Journal.

All Left.

"Was there any thing left of the estate after it got through the courts?"
"Oh, yes, the heirs."—Chicago Journal.

SUMMARY OF GAME LAWS

POINTERS FOR HUNTERS AND FISHERMEN IN NEW JERSEY.

When the Open Seasons Begin and End—Various Unlawful Deeds—General Points of Interest For Sportsmen in This State.

Of all the public documents ever printed by the State authorities of New Jersey, none have been more in demand than the synopsis of the game laws collated by order of the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners. It explains the intricacies of "close seasons" to sportsmen, and is full of general information.

It is stated that the open and close season for hare, rabbit and quail begins November 10th and ends December 31st; for woodcock, July, October, November to December 10th; for gray, English and Wilson snipe, March, April, September; for partridge, grouse and pheasant, European and domestic, October, November to December 10th; for reed bird, rail bird or marsh hen, September; for gray, black and fox squirrels, September, November 10th to December 10th; for grass or upland plover and dove, August and September; for deer, October 25th to November 5th; for geese, ducks and other web-footed wild fowl, January, February, March and April to May 1st, and September 30th to December 31st; brook trout, April, May, June to July 15th; black bass, May 30th up to November 30th; pickerel, January to February 20th, and from May 1st to the last day of December.

Appended are the things which it is always unlawful to do, as the official pocket card recites:

To take or attempt to take any game except by the use of guns held at arm's length. Fine, $50.

To take or attempt to take any fish in any manner excepting with hook and line, excepting spearing for eels, suckers and carp; taking minnows for bait with a seine not more than twenty-five feet long, and taking eels with pots or baskets or weirs between the 15th of September and the 1st of November, and excepting also, but only as to the tributaries of the Delaware above Trenton Falls and the streams flowing into such tributaries, the taking of catfish and eels with eel weirs and baskets and set lines between the 15th of August and the 1st of November. Fine, $50.

To have trapped game in possession. Fine, $20.

To hunt on Sunday or carry firearms in the fields or woods on Sunday. Fine, $20.

To pollute streams or use medicated bait or explosives of any kind for the taking of fish. Fine, $100 to $500.

To draw off waters to take fish. Fine, from $25 to $250.

To use set lines in waters inhabited by pickerel, bass, perch or trout. Fine, $25.

To permit the erection or maintenance of unlawful contrivances for taking game and fish; applies to lessees or tenants of lands. Fine, $25.

To capture, kill, injure or to have in possession any birds, excepting English sparrows, cranes, hawks, crows, ravens, crow blackbirds, kingfishers and red winged blackbirds. Fine, $20.

To hunt geese, ducks or any web-footed wild fowl, except between one hour before sunrise and one hour after sunset. Fine, $25.

To catch or keep trout less than six inches in length, or black bass less than nine inches in length. Fine, $20.

To hunt on posted land. Fine not less than $10.

Dealers have thirty days after the close of the season in which to dispose of game.

To the above may be added the following prohibitions, which, while not the subject of legal enactment, are recognized as binding laws of behavior by all reputable lovers of the pursuit of game and fish:

Never violate the letter or spirit of the game laws.

Never take more fish or game than you have convenient use for.

Never be insolent or impolite to a land-owner who orders you off his premises; for, although he may not own the game or fish you are after, he has the right to exclusive possession of his property.

Never fail to destroy a net or trap when you find one set.

Never shoot at a game bird except on wing.

Never forget that game laws are intended to improve and increase sport, and not to prevent or restrict it.

Dr. Ard's Substitute.

Dr. F. C. Ard will sail on Saturday for Europe to be absent until September 1st. During his absence, Dr. George W. Cocks, of New York, will occupy his residence on Park avenue and look after his patients. His office hours will be from 9 to 12 o'clock on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday mornings.

PARK CLUB'S FOURTH.

THE COMMITTEE HAS ANNOUNCED THE PROGRAMME FOR THE DAY.

Baseball in the Morning, Tennis and a Tea in the Afternoon, and Fireworks and Dancing in the Evening.

Independence Day is always a gala day at the Park Club. It is, in fact, the only time in the year when the club pretends to celebrate in good old fashion. Everybody in the club lends their aid for the occasion and, in consequence, everybody has a good time. It has been the custom of the club to have some attraction morning, afternoon and evening, and to invite their friends to enjoy it all with them. This year the committee has been equal to the occasion and planned out a very eventful day for Monday, July 5th. The wishes of the old and young have been remembered and the celebration this year promises to be fully up to the standard of excellence set by preceeding committees.

The committee has issued a programme of the day's events which is as follows:

THE PARK CLUB.

Y. M. C. A. BOARD MET.

The General Affairs For the Month Discussed.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. was held last evening with Vice-President E. L. Bonney in the chair.

Reports were received from the rooms and membership committees, also from the general and assistant secretaries and physical director.

The average attendance at the four men's meetings held during the month was 87. The average attendance at the Sunday morning Bible class was 10, including the teacher.

The reports show that six committee and board meetings have been held during the month. The only educational class conducted during June was the boys' singing class under the direction of E. A. Embury.

One of the means by which the association work has been advertised is by visits to the machine shops of the city During the month eleven have been made.

Two of the most important matters claiming attention during the month was the making up of committees and the advertising of the two Y. M. C. A. camps held at Northfield and Lake Champlain.

Reference was made to the employment, information and relief department of the work, as well as to the inquirers who were interested at the gospel meetings.

A crayon portrait of Hon. Alexander Gilbert, the first president of the association, was presented to the association by the artist, John Dalziel. The board directed that a vote of thanks be extended to Mr. Dalziel, and it was further ordered that the picture be formally received by the association at the next business meeting which will be held next fall.

Portrait of Former Mayor Gilbert.

The portrait of Hon. Alexander Gilbert, presented to the Y. M. C. A. last night by Mr. Dalziel, is on exhibition in Philip Swain's window.

FOR SCHOOL SUFFRAGE.

NEW JERSEY'S WOMAN SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION MET AT ORANGE.

Much Interest Was Shown in the Meeting—Addresses Were Made by Rev. Mr. Rudd and Mr. Van Reiper.

The New Jersey Woman's Suffrage Association held a meeting at Orange on Wednesday, June 30th, to alter its constitution in such a way as to admit local leagues to auxiliary membership, and to promote interest in the school suffrage amendment. Rev. Mr. Judd, of Orange, made an interesting address in which he said, among other things, that if a person could not see the advantage of giving women a vote in educational matters, such a person was like a man who could not see that a straight line was the shortest distance between two points, and not worth arguing with. Mr. VanReiper, of Nutley, also spoke, and Mrs. Church, of South Orange, read a report showing how the women of the township, after several unsuccessful attempts to procure a new school building had been made, came to the school meeting 500 strong and by their votes secured a new school house. Other reports were given, showing much interest in the pending amendment, among people of all sorts, in different parts of the State, the General Federation of Women's (Literary) Clubs, the ladies of the Grand Army, (in the convention at Atlantic City,) and many others, having endorsed it. Much interest was shown in the meeting at Orange, and a substantial collection was taken up. Mrs. Florence Howe Hall presided, and Mrs. Stephen R. Krom, of this city, was also present. Among those who are heartily in favor of the amendment is Hon. Charles Baxter, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. He has spoken in its behalf at school commencements this summer, at Cape May, Glassbury, North Plainfield and other places, and found the people were with him in this matter, receiving his remarks on the subject with applause.

THE CUT IN PRICES.

Other Manufacturers Have Something To Say.

The announcement of the reduction of the Pope Company's $100 make of bicycle to $75, has caused wide-spread comment among the riders. Various makers of $100 bicycles declare that the reduction of one firm in no sense indicates a general cut, and that $100 prices will still be maintained. Speaking of the recent cut in the price of bicycles, A. G. Spalding says:

"A cut in price on 1897 bicycles of standard make was not unexpected by us, as we realized that some of the manufacturers had overproduced this year, but we were rather surprised that it came from so big a firm, as its policy has always been to maintain the price throughout the current year. However, I presume they had some very good reason for doing it. As far as our 1897 model is concerned, we do not intend to change our price, as we see no reason for doing so. In 1896 we overproduced very largely ourselves, but maintained our price throughout the season of 1896, as we did not think it fair to the purchasers who had paid us full price in the early part of the season of 1896 to reduce our price during that year."

At the office of the Gormully & Jeffery Company, in New York, it was announced that this firm will maintain its present scale of prices. This company reduced the price of its wheels last fall from $100 to $80 to meet the demand early in the year and will made no further reductions.

The Trolley to Cross the Bridge

At a conference of the officials of the Brunswick Traction Company and the bridge committee of the Middlesex County Board of Freeholders, held in New Brunswick Wednesday, the proposed conditions for the franchise regulating the extension of the trolley line across the Albany street bridge were practically agreed upon. The matter will come up for final disposition at the July meeting of the Board of Freeholders. Edward Radel, Secretary of the Traction Company, said that if the desired permission is granted at once the new line to Bound Brook and Metuchen will be in operation by September 1st.

Summer Street Repairing.

During the summer months the steam roller will be used principally in doing repair work all about the city. In this way many bad spots in the streets will be fixed so that when the cooler weather arrives better work can be done in a systematic way. The force of men will be reduced and thus the expense to the city will be lighter during the warm weather.

JUMPED FROM THE CAR.

MRS. LONG SUSTAINED SERIOUS INJURIES AS A RESULT.

She Was Carried Past Her Destination and, In Her Hurry to Return, Jumped From Fast-Moving Trolley Car.

Mrs. James Long, a young colored woman, stepped from a swiftly-moving trolley car on Woodland avenue, Netherwood, last night, and was thrown 20 feet from the track, sustaining injuries of a serious nature.

Mrs. Long is employed as a domestic by Mrs. Ellis, of Ravine road, Netherwood. Last night she came to this city to shop, and about 10:30 o'clock boarded an open trolley car, in charge of Motorman Bowers and Conductor Williams, to return to Netherwood.

The woman asked to be let off at Ravine road, but the conductor forgot her and she was carried to the end of the line, which is a few blocks beyond Ravine road. When those in charge of the car discovered their mistake, they told Mrs. Long to remain in her seat and ride back to Ravine road.

The night was a dark one, and the woman evidently became nervous over her delay in reaching home. She said nothing, but betrayed her excitement in her manner.

The car started on its return trip. The streets in the darkness had an unfamiliar look to Mrs. Long. The car reached Park lane, the street next to Ravine road, when, without warning, Mrs. Long arose, ran to the side, and with a cry of terror made a leap into the darkness. The car was going at full speed when the leap was made, and the woman struck the road a considerable distance away and then rolled many feet.

The car was stopped and the motorman and conductor, when they returned to search for the woman, found her at least 20 feet from the track. Her head, shoulders and arms were badly cut and bruised and her clothing was torn.

Patrolman Totten came along and took charge of the injured woman. She begged not to be taken to the hospital. The patrolman had her removed to the home of Mrs. Ellis, where it is said she will be well cared for.

BLAME LAID TO FLAGMAN.

A Complaint is Likely to Be Made Against Him.

The narrow escape of Clifford Braider and party, Wednesday evening, took place at the South Plainfield crossing of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and not at the Park avenue crossing.

Mr. Braider says that the flagman there was at fault, as he made no effort to warn them until they were right across the rails. The train was hidden from the view of the party by a sharp turn close to the crossing, and the locomotive was within three feet of the carriage when the frightened horse responded to the cut of Braider's whip and carried the party out of daager's way.

The incident happened at about 8 o'clock when it was still light enough for the flagman to see the train approaching even if the headlight was not lighted. Mr. Braider claims that it was sheer negligence on the part of the flagman. There is some talk of a complaint being made against him for carelessness in allowing the carriage to cross when the train was so near.

Another Firm.

An error was made in the account of a Plainfield woman's unpleasant experience in a New York store last week, when her pocketbook and packages were taken by a pickpocket. The incident did not occur in the store of Ludwig, Bauman & Company, but in the Fourteenth street establishment of Ludwig Brothers. Neither was it the firm of Ludwig, Baumann & Co. that held the chattel mortgage on a portion of the household goods of Dr. J. D. Wood, of Crescent avenue. The mortgage was held by the firm of Samuel Baumann & Company, of New York, who foreclosed the mortgage.

Trolley to Metuchen.

The Committee of Raritan township, Middlesex county, met at Metuchen yesterday and passed at its final reading an ordinance granting to the Brunswick Traction Company a franchise for an electric railway from New Brunswick to Metuchen via Bonhamtown. The company will also build from New Brunswick to Bound Brook.

City Street Sprinkler Here.

The street sprinkler purchased by the city for use in macadamizing the streets of the city arrived in Plainfield last evening and will be put into service at once. It was made by Studebacker Bros., of South Bend, Indiana, and cost about $190. The wheels are fitted with exceptionally broad tires, which is a great feature.

CHRISTIAN BICYCLISTS.

SECOND OF THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION RUNS HELD.

The Destination Was Marconnier—The Clouds Threatened the Party With Rain, But They Broke Away at Last.

The Christian Endeavor bicycle squad attempted to visit one of the outlying societies last evening, whereupon the storm clouds came rolling up in the west and threatened rain every minute. Of course, the promised rain did not come, but the many Endeavorers were not anxious for a shower bath and most of them stayed home. The clouds broke away at last and some of the braver spirits started to be joined later by others until they numbered in all a few more than fifty. The run was a success after all, and all who did brave the clouds found the trip well worth taking.

The first run was nearly broken up by a threatened shower but it was held, despite the clouds, which broke away after a time and the first of the runs of the Endeavorers had a very successful conclusion. Last night was the time set for the second of the runs and the clouds began to gather as if in anticipation of spoiling the evening for the young people.

The destination of the run was Marconnier chapel, the Christian Endeaver Society of which had changed the night of the meeting to suit the Plainfield Endeavorers who wanted to visit them. The party was to gather in front of the Seventh-Day Baptist church at 7 o'clock. Miss Ernestine Smith, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the runs and acts as captain of them, decided to delay in starting to see the prospects of fair weather. At last twenty-eight young people gathered, all of whom were willing and anxious to go, and Miss Smith ordered the ride to begin.

Miss Smith has decided that an informal organization will succeed far better in the management of the runs than the appointment of regular officers to hold office during the season. Miss Mary Lewis and Robert Randolph acted as pacemakers, while Miss Smith took general command of the party. Miss Elizabeth Allis, the regular color bearer of the bicycle sqad, was out of town and therefore unable to go.

The evening was a delightful one and the roads were in excellent condition. New recruits joined the party at every turn until it assumed fair seized proportions by the time it reached the chapel.

The members of the Marconnier society gathered in front of their pretty little chapel to welcome their visitors on their arrival. Mrs. Schwenk, who has been a moving spirit in that society, came to the front and personally welcomed the officers. Then the wheels were checked in the basement of the chapel and the Endeavorers entered the building.

After a praise service, the meeting was opened and the visitors found that they had come to an energetic society indeed. Nobody waited for anybody else to speak, but prayer and testimony followed each other in rapid succession. After a very helpful meeting, a social time was held and then the visitors collected their wheels and started for home, reaching Plainfield at 10:30 o'clock.

Miss Smith has decided that the runs shall be continued, but the time and destinationof the next one has not yet been made known. Much credit should be given to the energetic young women who have so successfully conducted these two runs.

A Trolley Car Collision.

This forenoon, while S. Elliott and W. C. Williams, of this city, were attempting to cross the street railway tracks in front of Zeller & White's place on Somerset street, a trolley car came along and struck the wagon with sufficient force to break several spokes in a wheel and dislocate Mr. Williams' knee cap. The latter happened to be on the side of the wagon which was struck, and in consequence received the blow. The damage to the wagon was slight, and with a few repairs it will be ready to use again.

A Distinguished Guest.

A stage load of young people from this city and the borough went to Boytnon Beach this morning to spend the day. The party was gotten up by Miss Grace E. Overton, of Rockview avenue, and Miss Eleanor Williams, of West Seventh street. They met at the home of Miss Overton. Miss Florence Williams acted as chaperone of the party. Raymond A. McGee, one of the freshman crew of Yale University, was of the party and was expected to do all the rowing.

Death of Mrs. Huff.

Miss Annie Huff, aged seventeen years, eight months, and six days, died at her home, 111 New street, this morning, after several weeks' illness.

MANIAC IN THE WOODS.

SOMERSET COUNTY WILD MAN SEEN NEAR WARRENVILLE.

The Children Saw Him and Were Frightened Away—He Was Down on His Knees Praying for the Judgment Day.

There now seems to be no doubt that somewhere in the vicinity of this city a maniac is roaming at large in the woods.

Morris Ballentine, a butcher of this city, while returning in a carriage from Basking Ridge on June 21st, in company with his wife and mother-in-law, had an exciting encounter with the madman who sprang from the underbrush at the side of the road and pursued the carriage a long distance, making violent gestures and threatening to kill the occupants. After being twice shot at by Ballentine, the maniac plunged again into the woods, uttering cries and yelps like those of a wild animal enraged at the loss of its prey.

The place where this encounter occurred is a lonely spot on what is known as the Valley road, where it intersects with the road from Stirling. An account of the strange occurrence was given in The Daily Press at the time and called forth much interest.

News confirming the story of Mr. Ballentine now comes from Warrenville, a small hamlet about three miles distant from the spot where the madman was seen. Mrs. Wm. Newmiller, of 180 Somerset street, visited relatives in Warrenville, last week, and while there heard about a crazy man who had been seen in the woods.

Some school children while out picking berries and wild flowers in the woods saw a strange-looking creature, barefooted and bareheaded, and without coat or vest, kneeling in an open place and praying loudly for the day of judgment to arrive. He stopped praying after a time and fell upon the ground and rolled about as if in agony. The children were frightened at the man's antics and ran from the spot. Other inhabitants of Warrenville are said to have caught sight of the wild man.

If seen by daylight he flees into the woods. At night, he is bolder and does not hesitate to attack whoever he may encounter.

A GOOD WILL.

Will of the Late Kate Ettinger Offered For Probate.

The last will and testament of the late Kate Ettinger, who died recently in this city, was offered in the Union County Surrogate's office yesterday for probate. The husband of deceased, Michael Ettinger, and Michael J. Coyne, of this city, are named as executors of the will, and Assemblyman W. R. Codington, of this city, approved the will in the presence of the witnesses, J. P. D. Kirch, of North Plainfield, and Abram H. Cornish, of Gillette, N. J. The will is a very good one and makes ample provision for those who are left, namely the husband and two children. The rents income and profits of the property known as Nos. 407 and 409 Cottage place, is given to the husband during his natural life, or so longs as he remains a widower, and are to be used for the two children Sarah and Mary A.

The will provides that $400 of the insurance money to be received by the executors is to be applied to the payment of certain expenses and the balance is to be used for the education of the two children. The deceased requests that her children be allowed to attend the same school which they now attend. All of the household furniture except that required for the husband is bequeathed to the children.

The tuition and custody of the children during their minority is given to the husband and sister, Sarah Coyne, and Michael Ettinger and Michael Coyne are made executors without being required to give bonds.

The will was made December 12, 1896, and was drawn by Assemblymen W. R. Codington in the presence of the above witnesses.

Reckless Riding.

Another spill took place at the Crescent Oval, last evening, in which several of the local riders were piled up. Clarence Rittenhouse was in front of the bunch when they turned into the stretch. The rest started to spurt when he slowed up without warning and Sandford Robinson, who was behind, was thrown from his wheel. William Pierson ran into the others and several other riders followed. Robinson was badly cut and bruised about the elbows and knees. Pierson received sundry cuts and bruises. The other riders escaped injury.

Waiting In Jail.

Michael Heffren was found dead drunk on West Front street, this morning, by Patrolman Myers, and was locked up in the rookery to sober up before being brought before the judge.

NEW YORK'S MURDER

Progress of the Investigation of the Crime.

SUSPECTED WOMAN BREAKING DOWN

Story of a Little Girl Who Had Slept With Mrs. Nack—Finding of a Revolver, a Knife and Other Weapons.

New York, July 2.—These are the latest developments in the murder mystery:

The positive identification of the legs of Guldensuppe by three friends.

The practical collapse of Mrs. Augusta Nack, who is under arrest.

The arraignment of Mrs. Nack in Jefferson Market court.

The story of Amy Miller, the little girl who slept with Mrs. Nack last Saturday night.

The finding of a bloody knife and saw and a revolver in Mrs. Nack's rooms.

The identification of the mysterious Fred as Martin Thorn.

Mrs. Nack was forced to submit to a physical examination, and bruises were found on her body, showing a recent struggle.

Mrs. Nack held for examination, when a formal charge of murder will be made.

Mrs. Nack Breaking Down.

Mrs. Augusta Nack, who is held by the police, is rapidly breaking down as the result of the ordeal through which she is passing.

She is feverish and on the verge of hysterics, and in the opinion of the detective bureau she is likely to collapse at any moment.

It is asserted that certain marks have been found upon Mrs. Nack's body. What these marks are none of the persons present at a conference held at police headquarters will say.

Mrs. Nack was forced to undergo a physical examination in the police headquarters building.

It was said afterward that her body showed signs of a recent conflict, as there were a number of bruises.

What parts of the body contained these bruises would not be divulged by the physician or Captain O'Brien.

Neither would it be said whether or not they had got the woman to tell how she had received the bruises, but they are of recent origin.

Mrs. Nack was arraigned for the second time before Magistrate Flammer in the Jefferson Market court.

Mrs. Nack was pale and seemed much agitated, the pallor on her countenance being heightened by the somber black dress that she wore and the green hat with red trimmings.

She was taken from police headquarters by Detectives O'Donohue and Price, and at the court she found her lawyer, Emanuel Friend, ready to defend her.

Chief Conlin was on hand to look after the interests of the police department, while the district attorney's office was represented by Mr. Mitchell.

As soon as Mrs. Nack was brought to the bar the lawyers and police crowded up on the bridge, and from that moment she was shut out from the magistrate and was a mute figure in the subsequent proceedings.

The Legs Identified.

Adam Stubing, foreman of the rubbers at the Murray Hill baths, and Henry Heidelbach and Michael H. Skully, rubbers, have positively identified the legs found in the East river and taken to the morgue as those of William Guldensuppe, the missing rubber.

They had worked with him for five years, and they had seen him naked nearly every night during that time.

The identification of the legs and feet was absolute and positive, and each man said he was willing to make an affidavit that they were part of Guldensuppe's remains.

"I knew William's feet and legs as well as I knew his face," said Skully.

"I knew his knees as well as I knew any of his features," said Stubing.

"I could make no mistake in William's toes," said Heidelbach, "and I will make an affidavit that those on the feet at the morgue were William's."

Story of Little Amy Miller.

Little 10-year-old Amy Miller slept with Mrs. Nack last Saturday night and was with her until nearly noon on Sunday.

It was only a short time before that the police think, that Guldensuppe was killed, and it was at the request of Mrs. Nack that the child spent the night with her.

"My husband hasn't been home," said Mrs. Nack in explanation, "and I feel worried about him. I can't understand why he stays away."

By the child Guldensuppe was regarded as Mrs. Nack's husband and was usually addressed as Mr. Nack.

He was known by the same name at Buch's saloon and restaurant, at 744 Sixth avenue, and it is in the hotel connected with this place that Amy Miller lives with her mother, the housekeeper. There she first met Guldensuppe, and there she frequently saw Mrs. Nack.

The little girl spoke freely of her visit to Mrs. Nack's house on Saturday night, though, as she now says, the conversation she had with the suspected woman was of such an ordinary nature that she does not remember it in detail.

"It was between 9 and 10 o'clock," said Amy, "when mother and I went to Mrs. Nack's. We left the hotel about 8 o'clock, but mamma had some shopping to do, and it was after 9 before we got to the house.

"Mamma was tired and said she did not feel like being up late, so after we had been at the house for a few minutes she started to go home.

"Just as we were going Mrs. Nack said to me:

"'Amy, wouldn't you like to stay here with me tonight? Willie—that was Mr. Nack, you know—didn't come home last night and I feel worried about him. I don't know where he is, and I can't imagine why he doesn't send word.'

"I always liked Mrs. Nack, and I said I would stay if mamma didn't care. She said I could, and so she went back home.

"Mrs. Nack and I didn't talk much, because I was sleepy, and she said she was tired.

"She asked me about our shopping, and then she talked a little about my school and asked me how I was getting along and if I was having a good time in my vacation.

"Once she said, 'I wonder why Willie doesn't come.' She meant her husband, you know. She always called him Willie or my man.

"I asked her where he was and what was the matter. She said that was what worried her. She didn't know where he was and couldn't understand why he didn't come home.

"I was getting pretty sleepy then. It was almost 11 o'clock, and we went to bed. I went to sleep quick, and it was nearly 9 o'clock in the morning when I woke up.

"I know she wouldn't hurt Willie, because she thought so much of him and was worried when he did not come home.

"There was a man up here to see me and wanted me to go down to headquarters. My mamma wouldn't let me and said if headquarters wanted to see me he could come up here."

At Mrs. Nack's home they found a saw, just such an article as might have been used in the cutting up of Guldensuppe's body.

They found a heavy knife sharpened to a razorlike keenness, just such a knife as the physicians claimed was driven to the heart of the murdered man and which killed him instantly.

They found a revolver which might have been carried by the murderer for use in case the knife failed and a struggle threatened.

They also found a knife sharpener which, like the knife, bore marks of usage.

Upon the saw and the knife stains were found that may prove to be blood spots.

An attempt had undoubtedly been made to clean the steel of these stains, but it was a failure.

All the articles will be sent to a chemist for a microscopical examination as well as to test them by all methods known to science.

The True Remedy.
W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping-Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

They are guarranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

—Someone in the employ of the city burned a quanity of rubbish in front of the Babcock building yesterday afternoon, much to the annoyance of passers-by.

"Last summer one of our grandchildren was sick with a severe bowel trouble," says Mrs. E. G. Gregory, of Frederickstown, Mo. "Our doctor's remedy had failed, then we tried Chamberlains Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

Mr. and Mrs. Mowinkle, of East Third street, have issued invitations for the celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, which will take place Friday evening of next week.

Mr. C. L. Hasbrouck, a druggist at Mendon, Mich., says all of the good testimonials that have been published by the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy could be duplicated in that town. For sale By T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves.

Former Mayor B. A. Hegemen, Jr., and family, accompanied by Elston M. French, of the borough, left the city last evening for a trip west. They will go by the way of Buffalo. Mr. French will visit his brother, who is living in St. Paul, while His Honor and family will visit friends at Duluth, Minn.

1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

Ramsey Blair and family, of East Second street, are stopping at Belmar for the summer.

You may hunt the world over and you will not find another medicine equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. For sale by T. S. Armstrong. Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

CIVIL SERVICE RULES

They Are Approved by New York's Governor.

ARE TO TAKE EFFECT IMMEDIATELY.

Minimum Marking Fixed—Appointing Officers May Hold Examinations or Designate Commission to Do So. Some Positions Are Exempt.

Albany, July 2.—The rules to carry into effect the provisions of the new civil service law have been adopted by the civil service commission after a consultation with the governor, and the rules as revised by the commission in accordance with the ideas of the governor were formally approved by him, and they take effect immediately. The rules adopted are practically amendments to the existing rules, as the greater portion of the old rules remain the same. These additional rules provide for examinations for all positions in the state service every three months, when there are a sufficient number of applications on file, and whenever the heads of departments so request.

Every eligible candidate whose name appears upon a merit list in the office of the commission must notify the commission at least once every three months that he is willing to accept an appointment if tendered to him, and if he desires to have his name continued on such list, and if a candidate declines to accept an offer of appointment from any officer authorized to appoint from any list he shall waive his right to appointment, and his name shall be stricken from such list.

The minimum marking is fixed at 35 per cent for each, the merit and fitness examination.

The appointing officers may in their discretion hold their examination for fitness or designate the state civil service commission to conduct the examination both for merit and fitness.

Must Pass Competitive Examinations.

Unless the examination for fitness is conducted by the commission the appointing officer or board must certify to the commission that the ratings for fitness were determined by competitive examination, as provided by law.

Whenever the sex of the persons whose names are to be certified is fixed by law or is specified in the request for certification, the names only of those of the sex so fixed or specified shall be certified from the merit list, but in all other cases the certifications shall be made without regard to sex.

The following offices or positions were placed on the exempt list: Banking and insurance examiners, the disbursing agents of the section superintendents in the department of public works, the chief clerk of the tax department and the cashier of the insurance department and the stewards of the several state hospitals. Under these rules, if the head of a state department authorizes the commission to hold both merit and fitness examinations, only the first name on the eligible list so created by this examination can be certified for appointment. The present law allows the appointing officer to appoint from the first three on the list. The commission has also approved the new rules adopted by the civil service commission of Buffalo, Brooklyn and New York.

Distribution of the Holt Estate.

Washington, July 2.—By an order of the district supreme court, the one-half of the estate of the late Joseph Holt which was claimed by Lizzie Hynes under the alleged will will be distributed among the heirs at law. According to the decree, Washington D. Holt receives $15,500; William G. Sterrett and Margaret Brown each $7,762, and six children of Robert S. Holt each $2,584. The court found that Edmond Kidd, who claimed a share of the estate for his ward, James H. Holt, a grandnephew of the deceased, was not entitled to be a party to the distribution.

Receiver For Stone Mill Company.

Bedford, Ind., July 2.—Alva B. Tresslar has been appointed receiver for the Bedford Stone Mill company. The company owes a large amount of money, and the application for a receiver was made in behalf of the creditors. The complaint alleges that the company is about to become insolvent and that a large mortgage is about to be foreclosed, which will leave the general creditors unprovided for. The plant is a valuable one, and it is thought that it will again be in operation.

United States Monetary Commission.

Paris July 2.—The United States monetary commission, headed by Senator Edward O. Wolcott of Colorado, will start for London at the end of the week. The commissioners express themselves as being well satisfied with the results of their negotiations here and with the general outlook. There is a strong belief in this city that the commissioners have accomplished something tangible in France.

Boston's New Immigration Commissioner.

Boston, July 2.—Colonel George B. Billings has taken charge of the office of United States immigration commissioner. He called at the office of Hon. Winslow Warren in the custom house and was sworn in and later went to the immigration office, where Acting Commissioner Hurley introduced him to the members of the inspector's force.

Failed to Identify Prisoner.

Philadelphia, July 2.—Detective Whitcomb of this city has returned from Coney Island, where he had been sent to see if John Adams, in custody there on the charge of vagrancy, was the Adams wanted here for the murder of his aunt, Mrs. Rogers. Whitcomb stated that the Coney Island prisoner was not the man wanted.

Crushed to Death.

New York, July 2.—By the upsetting of his truck at Kingsbridge road and One Hundred and Ninety-second street, Peter Reilly, a driver in the employ of a contractor named Stephenson, was crushed to death beneath a stone weighing several tons. The truck was upset by one of the wheels sliding into a deep rut in the road.

Suicide With Paris Green.

Taunton, Mass., July 2.—Bradford Leonard, 70 years of age, took paris green with suicidal intent and died. He was despondent. He was 7 feet in height.

DEBATE'S PROGRESS.

Unexpected Amendments Cause Some Surprise.

THE TARIFF BILL NEARLY COMPLETED

Nothing More to Be Finished but the Reciprocity Section and Some Minor Paragraphs—Senator Teller's Bill on Mortgage Foreclosure.

Washington, July 2.—The finance committee suffered several unexpected reverses during the progress of the tariff bill, being defeated on three important votes. Cotton bagging was placed on the free list—30 to 25—and cotton ties also by a vote of 29 to 23. The duty on white pine lumber was reduced from $2 to $1 per thousand—32 to 31. The amendment on pine occasioned the greatest surprise and led to a general breaking up of party lines on both sides of the chamber. During the early stages of the debate the duty on lumber, including pine, was placed at $2 after a protracted contest. Mr. Teller has returned to the contest and moved to place white pine lumber on the free list. The amendment was defeated by the close vote of 32 to 33, four Republicans—Baker, Carter, Hansbrough and Quay—joining with the Democrats, Populists and silver Republicans in the affirmative, while three Democrats—Bacon, McEnery and Martin—voted with the Republicans in the negative. Following up this close vote, Mr. Mantle, silver Republican, moved to reduce the rate on white pine from $2 to $1, and this carried by a majority of 1. Two Republicans—Baker and Carter—voted with the Democrats in the affirmative and three Democrats—Bacon, McEnery and Martin—with the Republicans in the negative.

The bill is now completed, with the exception of the reciprocity section and some comparatively minor paragraphs. Much progress has been made in clearing up detached paragraphs heretofore passed over. Only three of these—coal tar, potash and tea—remain, so that these items, the reciprocity section and the brief internal revenue and administrative provisions are all that remain of the bill to be disposed of before the final vote is taken.

Senator Teller has introduced a bill providing "that a suit in equity for foreclosure of mortgage or for enforcing any lien upon or against a railroad or other line of transportation extending into or through two or more districts or circuits of the United States shall be brought only in that district where the greater part of the property subject to such mortgage or lien shall be. In estimating the quantum of property subject to such mortgage or lien the greater mileage, excluding leased lines, shall be taken to be the greater part."

The senate confirmed these nominations:

J. F. Gowey of Washington to be consul general at Yokohama, George N. West of the District of Columbia, consul at Sydney; W. J. Hoffman of the District of Columbia to be consul at Mannheim, Baden; C. L. Cole of Pennsylvania to be consul at Dresden, J. R. Thomas of Illinois to be United States judge of the courts of Indian Territory, Colonel Henry C. Merriam, Seventh infantry, to be brigadier general J. K. Richards of Ohio to be solicitor general, S. S. Lyon of New Jersey to be consul at Osaka and Hiogo, Japan; L. A. Dent of the District of Columbia to be consul at Kingston, Jamaica.

Bidwell For Collector.

Washington, July 2.—The president has sent the following nominations to the senate:

George C. Bidwell of New York to be collector of customs for the district of New York, Wilbur F. Wakeman of New York to be appraiser of merchandise in New York custom house, Emory P. Close of New York to be attorney of the United States for the northern district of New York, John F. Gowey of Washington, now consul at Kanagawa, to be consul general at Yokohama; George N. West of the District of Columbia, now consul at Pictou, to be consul at Sydney.

Cooks as International Issues.

Washington, July 2.—The secretary of state has written a letter to the governor of California, asking him to cause an investigation of the circumstances under which two Japanese subjects were driven away from the new town of Johannisburg, in that state. This action is taken because the Japanese minister has made complaint that the men, who were employed as cooks and came into conflict with a local labor movement, by being prevented from following their business were deprived of privileges guaranteed by treaty.

For Commutation of Corwine's Sentence.

Washington, July 2.—Secretary Long has added his recommendation to that of Judge Advocate General Lemly that the president commute the sentence imposed by court martial upon Paymaster Corwine of the navy so as to remit the confinement for two years, leaving it stand at dismissal from the service. The secretary's action in this case, as in that of the case of Commander Mullan, recommended for dismissal, must now receive the approval of the president before it becomes of effect.

John Russell Young Sworn In.

Washington, July 2.—Hon. John Russell Young has taken the oath of office as librarian of congress before Clerk McKenny of the supreme court of the United States. His first act was the appointment of Mr. A. R. Spofford as first assistant librarian, with whom he consulted on the work of his new office.

To Protect Game.

Washington, July 2.—Representative Lacey of Iowa today introduced in the house a bill to extend the powers and duties of the fish commission so as to include game birds and other wild birds useful to man.

Earthquake In New Hampshire.

Center Harbor, N. H., July 2.—A heavy earthquake shock was felt in this section about 4:20 o'clock yesterday morning. It was accompanied by a deep rumbling, like a heavy clap of thunder. Buildings were shaken, and many people were awakened and alarmed by the disturbance.

A PATERSON BREAKFAST.

Paterson is now suffering from the clouds of dust that fill her streets. Such a state of affairs has led the Paterson Press to remark: "We do not want macadam streets for breakfast." And so might the residents of West Front and Somerset streets along the line of the trolley say with equal truthfulness. Front street, beyond Grant avenue and much of Somerset street, is never watered except in a few places by the people themselves, and the dust from the road floats in at the open dining rooms as the trolley car goes sailing by. No wonder the residents grow thin and tired after such a stony diet.

It is not a question for the Common Council to settle, however, unless they should fall back on the old blue laws as the councilmen of Weehawken did, for the railway company has its charter and there is nothing in the original charter that says anything about street sprinkling. It all lies with the Plainfield Street Railway to do as they wish. If the company, in simple goodness of heart, sprinkles the streets, then the people who have heretofore been living on macadam three times a day will be able to enjoy a healthful diet; if not, then the cars will still continue to spread dust over the houses and lawns of the people along the line.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S TAX RATE.

New Brunswick is certainly not equal to Plainfield in many respects, but her tax rate is higher. Yesterday the finance committee of the New Brunswick Common Council announced that the tax rate would be $2.60 on each $100 of assessed valuation, the same as last year. It was expected that it would be higher on account of the increased expenditure for roads which New Brunswick badly needs. Last year Plainfield's tax rate was $2.30 It is hardly fair to compare the two, however, as the New Brunswickan pays his sewer assessment, pays for water and for the disposal of his garbage all in his taxes, which, of course, increases the tax rate.

THE BICYCLE LAW.

Regarding the defect which has been said to have been found in the Bicycle Act passed by the New Jersey Legislature, the New York Tribune says the following:

Some sharp legal light has discovered that there is no power in local authorities to enforce the payment of fines for violating bicycle ordinances. To see how that would work practically, let us suppose that a cyclist is hauled before Justice Potts, in Jersey City, tomorrow, for some flagrant defiance of the local regulation. Justice Potts would probably impose a fine, and in case of non-payment the offender would be committed to jail. He could be released on habeas corpus proceedings, of course, and the case would be taken into the Supreme Court for argument. Does anybody suppose for a moment that the Court would uphold any law prohibiting municipal governing bodies from enforcing the payment of fines intended to suppress scorching, etc.? Nonsense!

WELL DONE, ELIZABETH.

Elizabeth is to be congratulated. It looks very much like good government on the part of the Mayor and Common Council of that city when the city debt is reduced over $70,000, and the interest of the city looked after to the satisfaction of the majority of the residents. The new Council met last evening and organized.

The road hog is increasing in number. Cyclists should report every instance where they are wantonly kept out of their road rights by drivers. The publication of such facts, including the names of the "hogs," will have a great tendency to stop the practice, as law-breakers do not court publicity of their contemptible acts.—Elizabeth Journal.

Mrs. J. W. Reinhart, the Misses Reinhart, and Frank Reinhart, of Belvidere avenue, Netherwood, are sojourning at the White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia.

Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett and family, left the city today for Kennebunkport, Me., where they will spend a time at their cottage. Mr. Gavett will return in about a week, and later he will join his family for a vacation.

A Wheelwoman's Fall.

While a lady cyclist was picking her way along West Front street this morning about 10 o'clock she approached a trifle too near a carriage. The spokes of the carriage wheel cnught the handle bar of the bicycle and she was thrown from the saddle. Luckily neither the machine nor its rider was injured and the fair cyclist mounted and rode away before her name could be ascertained.

CITY FATHERS DESERVE PRAISE.

"A Taxpayer" Replies to "A Republican's" Communication.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Our venerable "Republican" friend, who again rushed into print in your issue yesterday, seems to have diminished his wrath against our faithful City Fathers and to quibble over certain statements I made in reply to his violent outbreak.

Comparing the population of a quarter of a century ago with today as having doubled he claims we are now "spending twelve times as much."

If our "venerable" Republican will call on our "venerable" tax collector and look at the taxbook of 1869, showing the valuation of that year he will see that they were estimated between one and two million dollars. This year he will see that the estimate is between four and five million dollars!

Surely a city showing such a splendid increase is entitled to expend yearly a sum sufficient to support it. Population has nothing to do with the question. Some cities may double its population and yet the tax valuation show no increase.

Our City Fathers deserve praise instead of censure. Most of them are prosperous business men looking to benefit their fellow-citizens rather than their pockets. Muttered threats, I am ashamed to say, have been uttered in recent months that next fall's election will see a change in the city government. Is a "Big Six" once more to take charge of affairs?

It may be that our City Fathers are "too honest" for some—but the people at large are not fools and will settle the verdict at the polls. There will be no looking and no going backward!

Our taxbook has got to be footed up and a balance struck to know just where the city stands. A court is provided under the Martin Act for citizens to air their grievances. There justice will be done to all and no man need fear that he will be inequally treated.

Don't criticize the City Fathers for doing right—they have reason to do their duty, and, as business men, have taken advantage of a splendid law. Then they leave the matter to be adjusted by honest and faithful judges.

Do not be afraid of laws, brother "Republican"—but of law-breakers!

Taxpayer.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE FOURTH.

A Change of Air and Scene Offered for Small Cost.

Next Monday you will celebrate in some way, in order to show your American spirit. Why not take the little ones to Mauch Chunk on the Jersey Central's low-rate excursion and give them a ride on the Switchback railroad and a ramble through Glen Onoko?

This will be a rational way to spend the day, and the fine outing and constant change of air and scene that is experienced with every turn of the car wheels. There could not be shown a more rational way of putting in the day than this, and the train will land you home in time to see the fireworks and eat the plate of cream and piece of cake that is part and parcel of every Independence Day.

The train, as usual, will have a lunch car attached, and will be equipped with coaches that are both clean and comfortable. The cost of adult tickets for this excursion are $1.75. Children's tickets, $1.31. A special train will leave Plainfield at 9:28 a. m.

Struck By a Central Express Train.

Patrick Mitchell, for several years employed as a track walker for the Jersey Central, was run down by an express train at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Chilton street, Elizabeth, and was instantly killed. Mitchell was trying to get out of the way of one train when struck by the other. He was about forty years old, unmarried, and boarded with Thomas Kelly, of 37 Crane street, Elizabeth. The body was taken to Mitchell's morgue.

The stereopticon lecture on Persia, by Eshoo Jacob, a native Persian, in the Baptist church last evening, was well received by a good-sized audience. The lecturer is a student in the College of Physicians and Surgeons, in New York city. He appeared in his native costume and sang a selection in Persian. His discourse was a good exposition of the social, political and religious customs of the people of Persia. The proceeds of the lecture were divided between the lecturer and the church.

A parish meeting of the members of St. Paul's Episcopal church was held in Etta Hall last evening to consider the advisability of securing Grace church for a place of worship. John B. Green acted as chairman and Geo. T. Noe as secretary. The attendance was large. After much discussion it was decided to purchase the property from the Mutual Life Insurance Company. The vestry was instructed to secure the consent of the Bishop and of the standing committee of the diocese to the proposed purchase before taking any definite action in the matter. It is thought that the property can be secured for the amount of the mortgage, which is $1,500.

Francesco Chivaro, an Italian living on Central avenue, was accosted just after leaving his house at 7 o'clock last evening, by three tramps, who demanded money from him to buy beer with. The Italian showed fight, and when the tramps made a show of violence, he drew a stilleto and a revolver and scared them off. After retreating a short distance they stopped and hurled stones. Chivaro then fired three shots and the tramps fled. They are said to be members of a large gang which has its headquarters in the

The Westfield Township Committee will meet this evening in the town rooms to receive bids on a $60,000 issue of sewer bonds. The amount of each bond will be $1,000 payable in gold. One-half of the entire issue will be in thirty-year bonds, dated from July 1, 1897; but redeemable at any time after twenty years at the option of the township, with three months' notice. Of the remaining $30,000, there will come due each year, on and after July 1, 1898, $4,000. The rate of interest has not yet been fixed, but will be determined by the amount bid for the bonds. It will be either 4 or 4½ per. cent. The bonds will bear certificates of legality by Counselor Frank Bergen, and will be printed by the American Bank Note Company, of New York.

The I. O. S. held a meeting at the residence of R. V. Hoffman last evening. The club will enter the following members in the Independence Day races: John D. Gluck, Jr., tub race; H. H. AN UP-TO-DATE SHOW.

The Great Wallace Shows Are to Be Here Soon.

Everything about the Great Wallace Show is brand-new this season, and when the acres of canvas are spread in Plainfield on Wednesday, July 14th, the fresh beauty of the elaborately decorated wagons, chariots, animal dens, tableaux cars, harnesses, costumes, etc., will appeal with irresistible force to every spectator. Cleanliness is the watchword with Col. B. E. Wallace, sole owner of this popular tented aggregation, and the term applies with the same force to the moral side of show life as to the material. Frequently a circus is used simply as a blind for all sorts of catch-penny gambling schemes to fleece the unwary, but the newspapers everywhere teem with the statements that absolutely nothing of this nature is tolerated about the Wallace Shows. Thorough courtesy on the part of every employe is also strictly demanded by the management so that ladies and children without escorts can visit the circus, secure in the knowledge that they will be given every attention that will serve to make their stay pleasant in all respects. Uniformed attendants are always ready to politely answer all questions regarding the rare collection of animals in the extensive menagerie and to direct visitors to the comfortable seats in the immense amphitheatre. Any infraction of the rules means instant dismissal, and patrons are especially requested to report any occurrences of this nature that may come under their observation.

Work on the Streets.

The councilmanic street committee has directed that the work of macadamizing be stopped on West Front street for the present, and that the work of macadamizing East Front street from Watchung avenue to Berckman street, be commenced. A little later in the season the work will be resumed on West Front street from Grant avenue to Compton avenue.

STRENGTH.

Strength for to-day is all we need,
As there will never be a to-morrow;
For to-morrow will prove but another to-day
With its measure of joy or sorrow,

Strength for to-day—in house and home,
To practise forbearance sweetly:
To scatter kind words and living deeds,
Still trusting in God completely.

Strength for to-day! What a precious boon
For the earnest souls who labor;
For the willing hands that minister
To the loving friend or neighbor!

HE HAD HIS CHOICE.

BY W. PETT RIDGE.

It was an eccentric gallery, with pictures painted by men who were young enough to know better, of sprawling ladies in green, scarlet landscapes, and blue angels. The frames formed in themselves a grim attraction to most of the visitors; the catalogue was usually preserved by suburban patrons for the purpose of frightening birds.

"It does one good," said Mr. James Marchant, "to come to a show like this. If I ever go out to the Cape again—"

"Which you won't," said the young lady.

"And I feel wistful—"

"Mal du pays," suggested the young lady.

"Exactly. Why, then, I shall think of this hideous collection of pictures, and I shall feel reconciled to my lot. The Cape is not all honey, but at any rate you do get nature there. And nature is always good."

"I suppose these artists think she can be improved by the introduction of a little novelty."

"I wouldn't," said Mr. James Marchant, waving his stick round the gallery, "give twopence halfpenny for the lot of them."

"I don't suppose they would care to sell them for less."

Mr. James Marchant laughed good-temperedly, and touched her hand, which happened to be resting on her knee. It was a very pretty hand and neatly gloved, and there was good excuse for him.

"But there is something," he said, lowering his voice, "in the gallery, Ella, that I would give every penny I have in the world to possess."

"Prettier than any picture?"

"Statuary?"

"Better shaped than any statuary."

"Not disposed of already?"

"I hope not. There is only one difficulty—I am not sure, if I were to make an offer now, that it would be accepted."

"How shall you find out?"

He rose and adjusted his frock-coat with the manner of a man to whom for some years frock-coats had not been familiar wear. He was a tall, brown-faced man, with a good deal of earnestness in his eyes.

"I shall ask Mr. Beckett."

"Oh!" she said. She gasped a little before she went on. "And you—you think my step-mother will be—will be able to advise you in the matter?"

"I think she will."

"It seems to me," she said, rolling up her catalogue very tightly, "rather an old-fashioned mode of procedure."

"There is this excuse in my case. Mrs. Beckett has an idea, I am afraid, that I have brought back from the Cape untold gold. I want to make her understand that, when I say I shall have to work for my living, I really mean it."

"I am glad," she said quietly.

"I know that you are, dear. But I suppose parents are different."

"My parent is."

"And if she objects, why," he looked down upon her affectionately, "I shall just pack you up, Ella, and run off with you."

"Now," she said delightedly, "that is more old-fashioned than ever.."

"I shall see you to-night?"

"I am sure," she said, with her little hand resting for a moment in his. "I think the invitation is for two only.'

"I have a great mind," said James Marchant, looking down at her affectionately, "to kiss you."

"That is no evidence of a great mind," she said reprovingly. "Beside, you are in London now."

"I am afraid," said James Marchant, apologetically, "that I have much to learn before I become re-civilized. The Cape makes one forget all one's manners."

"It has not made you forget your friends," she said.

"There was one," he said, as he assisted her into the hansom, "she was only a small girl—"

"Not old enough to count?"

"Of whom I thought every day of my life out there."

There were tears in her eyes that challenged the lightness of her good-by. The small gloved hand was pressed in the big fist of the man from the Cape for one moment, and then he gave the address to the driver.

It was with great dexterity that at dinner in Duke Street Mansions that night Mr. James Marchant contrived to get himself paired with the excellent Mrs. Beckett.

"I should have thought you would have insisted, sim—ply insisted on taking down my dear Madeleine."

Mrs. Beckett fluttered her fan at Mr. Marchant in a manner that had in the early seventies been pronounced bewitching.

"I want particularly to speak to you, Mrs. Beckett. I want to offer myself—"

"S-s-sh!" said Mrs. Beckett mysteriously. "Not a word. I know exactly what you are going to say. Madeleine, my dear," she called to a tall, bony damsel just in front of them, "you haven't shaken hands with dear Mr. Marchant. How very remiss of you! The dear girl is so thoughtless; do you know, Mr. Marchant, that I declare to goodness I believe she's really in love."

Miss Madeleine received this raillery with a grim smile, and shook hands with Mr. Marchant. Miss Madeleine explained that her half-sister Ella had remained at home because she had some writing to do.

"Poor Ella'" said Mrs. Beckett, with effusive sympathy, "poor dear girl. I'm really dreadfully fond of her. You must give me your advice, Mr. Marchant, concerning her at dinner. I feel already—forgive me for saying so—I feel already as though you were one of the family."

"I have noticed it all along, do you know, and I am so delighted. Quite enchanted, really. And my influence with the dear girl will make her like you. I dare say you may have thought her little—what shall I say, cold?—but, as a matter of fact, it has only been—oh, bless my soul, thick soup, please—what is the expression? It has only been—it has only been—"

"Maidenly reserve," suggested James Marchant.

"Pre—cisely! Pre—cisely what I was trying to say. How clever of you, dear Mr. Marchant!

"I want to speak to you about that, Mrs. Beckett. I'm afraid you don't realize what I mean when I say that I haven't brought much home with me."

"Now, my dear Mr. Marchant—"

"You must allow me, please, to tell you exactly my position. Unless I work and earn money we shan't have—"

"Mr. Marchant, this eleborate ruse is one that I have heard of before. A woman like myself doesn't live in this world for—well, a certain number of years for nothing."

"No," said Mr. Marchant, "it costs money, I know."

"That is not at all what I mean. But when you came back from the Cape a few weeks ago, and hinted that you had only a few hundreds, I could see through it at once. It was—this is a dreadfully slangy expression—too thin. But the dear girl, of course, didn't see through it, and consequently you may feel quite sure that she will love you for yourself alone. That's all you wanted, isn't it?"

"That, most certainly, is all that I wanted, but—"

"And, fortunately enough to confirm my suspicions, I came across a letter addressed to a friend of mine; she didn't know that I saw it, but I managed to do it, all the same—from your partner, Burchison."

"Really?"

James Marchant was suddenly interested.

"And Mr. Burchison said that you and he had made a pile—such an odd expression, isn't it?—of twenty thousand pounds. And he said that he thought you would both stay on for a few years, but, as we know, you sensibly enough came home."

Mrs. Beckett looked triumphantly across at her angular daughter opposite, who was bawling information about the weather to a deaf archdeacon, and then at Marchant. She shook her head waggishly at the man from the Cape.

"Can I see that letter?" he asked sharply.

"Luckily I have it in my pocket, but I really don't know whether I ought to show it to you. You see it is private."

"Is that why you took it, Mrs. Beckett?"

"Come, come, Mr. Marchant. Don't be too severe. One has to keep one's eyes open in this world."

She found the letter with some difficulty, for the pockets in ladies' dresses are remote and difficult to access, and, under ambush of his plate, Marchant read it.

"Mrs. Beckett," he said excitedly, "you have, without knowing it, done me a very great service. Burchison declared to me that he had invested our gains, and that all the money had been lost. It seems from this letter that he has behaved shamefully, and I shall make him disgorge every penny that belongs to me. I shall go back to the Cape by the next boat."

"This is very unsatisfactory," declared Mrs. Beckett, aggrievedly. "You can't very well get married before next Saturday."

"The dear girl will wait," he answered confidently.

"I am not so sure of that," said Mrs. Beckett sharply. "Dear Madeleine is not so young as she was."

"So I should judge. But what has she to do with the affair? Is she to be bridesmaid?"

"Madeleine has been bridesmaid quite often enough," said her mother. "This time, providing this money affair of yours comes out right, she will be the bride."

"Whose bride, Mrs. Beckett?"

"Why bless the man," cried Mrs. Beckett, "yours."

"I don't see how that can be managed with convenience. There's a law against bigamy, I believe. Besides, I only want to marry your stepdaughter."

"Ella?" exclaimed Mrs. Becket, in amazement.

"If you don't mind."

Mrs Becket laid down her knife and fork, and stared distractedly around the table at the other guests. Finally her eyes rested on Madeleine, and she frowned so much at that young lady that Madeleine asked across the table in an audible tone if she were ill.

"Ill?" echoed Mrs. Beckett, tartly; "I have uncommonly good cause to be. To think that I have taken all this trouble for the sake of poor Mr. Beckett's ridiculous little daughter by his first wife. Why, she isn't worth—

"Excuse me,', interrupted Marchant, promptly; "you will remember, please, that you are speaking of a lady who is to be my wife."

"Bah!" said Mrs. Beckett.—Chamber's Journal.

better worth following than any other will bring you direct to our store when you want anything in the line of paints. When a mistake is easily avoided it's scarcely worth while to run the risk of making one. Buying poor paint is a needless waste of money. It's paying for something you don't want, because it won't answer the purpose. Only paint that wears and is proof against the exposure of our climate is worth the cost of putting on. Ours are best and cheapest.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

NEWS FROM KOREA.

Advices Brought From the Island Tell of a Murder Plot.

Vancouver, B. C., July 2.—The steamship Empress of China, which has arrived from the Orient, had among her passengers Judge Mowat of Shanghai, who presided at the trial of Mrs. Carew, and who is now en route to England. The steamship brings the following advices:

Over 20 arrests have been made in Seoul, Korea, in connection with the discovery of an alleged plot to assassinate several prominent persons. Japanese papers allege that a Russian party was at the bottom of the plot and that they are now taking advantage of its discovery to induce the king to return to the Russian legation.

The Japanese government has imposed new taxes on land and on leaf tobacco in order to meet the increasing demands upon the treasury since the war.

Fresh efforts are being made to have the murderers of the queen of Korea punished, a petition having been presented to the king to that effect.

The West river was opened to foreign trade on June 4 without any friction with the Chinese.

The rebellion in the Philippines is not yet over. A short time ago an attack was made by the rebels upon the house of the colonial secretary of the Philippines, which is situated in the center of the town of Manilla. Fortunately for him he was absent at a dinner party; otherwise he would have been killed. His servants were locked up by the rebel visitors, and the house was carefully searched. No damage was done, and no property was stolen.

LYNCH LAW INVALID.

Decision In a Riot Law Case Rendered In Cleveland.

Cleveland, July 2.—Judge T. K. Dissette of the common pleas court has decided the Smith Lynch law invalid. The law, more properly speaking, is a riot law, permitting persons injured in riots to recover from the county. It went before the court in the form of a damage suit brought by J. W. Caldwell against the county to recover damage for injury received at the Brown Hoisting and Conveying Machine company's strike. The court did not hold the law making counties and municipalities liable for property destroyed by mobs unconstitutional. He held the legislature had the right to enact laws to protect both persons and property.

He held, however, that the conviction and punishment of the offenders should be a bar to the recovery of any damage. He thought it more logical to invest the commissioners with authority to prevent riots before passing a law making the county liable for injuries. However, the serious defect lies in the wording of the law, fixing damages absolutely at $500 for slight injuries and $1,000 for serious injuries inflicted by a mob. The court held that two or three persons may constitute a mob, and that the law opened up the way to innumerable damage suits against the county. Moreover, it placed the damages beyond the jurisdiction of a jury, and the amount of damages would likely be altogether out of proportion to the injuries inflicted. The law was therefore decreed invalid and unconstitutional.

HELD FOR MURDER.

Negro Caught at Haverstraw Who Is Charged With Killing an Italian.

Clinton, Mass., July 2.—The Clinton police have received a dispatch from Haverstraw, N. Y., stating that John Henderson, a negro, had been arrested there charged with manslaughter in causing the death of Giovanni Cavanaugh, an Italian laborer employed on the Metropolitan aqueduct at West Berlin.

Early last month the two men quarreled, and Henderson, it is charged, struck Cavanaugh with a shovel. The Italian never regained consciousness and died soon after. Henderson fled and could not be located until last week, when the police, following up a new, found that he was at Haverstraw. Henderson acknowledged that he is the man wanted.

POISONING SUSPECTED.

The Body of Horace M. Singer to Be Subjected to Analysis.

Chicago, July 2.—The body of the late Horace M. Singer, the millionaire who died at Pasadena, Cal., in December, has been exhumed at Lockport and the stomach sent to a Chicago chemist for examination. This action, which was taken by Mr. Singer's son, furnished another turn in a sensation which was first started several weeks ago, when rumors began to circulate to the effect that the younger Singer believed his father's death to have been due to poison.

H. M. Singer was a wealthy quarryman, with an estate of some $2,000,000. He resided in Chicago and was for years identified with all the great building enterprises of the city.

Vessel Out of the Navy.

Boston, July 2.—The Yantic is no longer a part of the navy of the United States. At exactly 2:02 yesterday the final orders of the navy department were carried out. The officers and crew assembled on deck, and Commander Miller read the order that made the vessel no longer a part of the navy. The flag was then hauled down and the crew dismissed. Many of the crew of the Yantic are now on the receiving ship Wabash, while some have been transferred to the Marblehead. The officers have not yet received their orders.

Another Loan Association Gives Up.

Louisville, July 2.—The Globe Building and Loan association went to the wall, finding itself unable to carry on business under the state law as construed by the appellate court. The assets and liabilities are estimated at $400,000 each. L. O. Cox is president. The managers of the other building and loan associations have issued cards calculated to restore confidence, claiming that the ruling of the court did not affect them. This makes the third corporation of this character that has gone under in two days.

Newark Man Found Dead.

Saratoga, July 2.—John R. Brown of Newark, N. J., an employee of the United States hotel, has been found dead in bed. Death resulted from heart trouble. He was 40 years old and a native of Philadelphia. He was a mail carrier in Newark for seven years. He leaves a wife. The remains were

DURRANT'S APPEAL.

Papers Received by the Supreme Court Clerk.

POINTS ON WHICH MOTION IS MADE.

Charges Irregularity and Illegality of Proceedings—Wants Publishers Punished For Printing Detrimental Stories—A Stay Until October.

Washington, July 2.—The papers in the appeal of W. H. T. Durrant, under sentence of death in San Francisco for the murder of Blanche Lamont, have been received by the clerk of the supreme court of the United States. The appeal is from the decision of the circuit court of the United States for the Ninth circuit in refusing to grant Durrant's motion for a writ of habeas corpus.

In his petition Durrant alleges the irregularity and illegality of the proceedings against him in the California state courts in that the trial was "conducted upon information not in accordance with the equal protection of the laws and not by due process of law," and that testimony was introduced and conviction secured without due process of law and without a trial by an impartial jury and without process of law.

Some Points Made.

Particularizing, he says that prosecution by information instead of indictment by grand jury is in conflict with the fifth and fourteenth amendments to the constitution, as is section 809 of the penal code of the state, under which his prosecution was conducted. Hence, he alleges that the courts in which his examination and trial were conducted were without jurisdiction. He contends that the refusal of the court to grant a change of venue amounted to refusing a fair trial.

He also complains of the refusal of the court to punish for contempt the publishers of San Francisco newspapers in publishing accounts detrimental to his —Durrant's—interests in having a fair trial, thereby interfering with the procedure of the court and prejudicing the jury against him.

As the supreme court will not sit again until Oct. 12 the appeal cannot be argued before that time.

A Message From Asia.

New York, July 1.—Mr. H. Dharmapala, representative of Asiatic Buddhists to the parliament of religions, has issued an address in which he announces that he brings a message of peace and love from his people to the American people. He contemplates establishing a school of practical ethics and psychology near New York to train young people for missionary work in the east and America. The students will, Mr. Dharmapala announces, lead strictly the higher religious life as taught by Buddha and Christ. He wishes all those who are in sympathy with the work to communicate with him at 509 Fifth avenue, New York.

Attempt to Burn Yale Building.

New Haven, July 2.—Police Superintendent Wrinn said that it has been reported to him that an attempt had been made to burn North college, one of the two remaining old dormitories. Whether by Yale men who were celebrating the receipt of their diplomas or by outsiders he has no idea. He has detailed six supernumaries to go to the campus. It is thought that the attempt was a lark, when some students tried to start a bonfire. For rioting on the campus A. R. Manice of New York, a senior, has been arrested. He will be charged with simply breach of the peace.

Beheaded by a Train.

Cooperstown, N. Y., July 2.—Frank Burnside, 38 years of age, was run over, beheaded and otherwise badly mangled by one of the excursion trains which left here after the soldiers' reunion. He had started to walk from Cooperstown Junction to Clintonville to begin work and had reached a point a little above Milford, eight miles below here. The accident was not known until several hours later, when a man crossed the track and found the headless body and the head some distance away down an embankment.

Steamer to Transfer Mails.

New York, July 2.—The harbor steamboat Peekskill, which will be employed in transferring mails from incoming steamers to the city, is a propeller. Her hull and upper works are painted white, and the craft presents a very natty appearance. The Peekskill flies a United States mail flag. The White Star liner Germanic, which was due yesterday afternoon from Liverpool, was the first steamer to transfer her mails under the new arrangement.

Steamer Romer Still Ashore.

Kingston, N. Y., July 2.—The steamer William F. Romer of the Kingston night line is still fast in the mud near Esopus light. Several futile attempts have been made to pull her off. Pontoons have arrived, and an attempt will be made to raise her at high tide. There is some doubt about floating the steamer, owing to her bad position. The Jacob H. Tremper of the Newburg and Albany line is taking the Romer's place.

Discovery of a Comet.

Cambridge, Mass., July 2.—A dispatch received at Harvard College observatory from the Lick observatory announces the discovery of D'Arrest's periodical comet by Perrine, an assistant at Lick. The discovery position is as follows: June 28, 97.37, Greenwich mean time; right ascension, 2 degrees 1 minute 34 seconds; declination north, 6 degrees 13 minutes 31 seconds.

Train Wrecker Insane.

Providence, July 2.—Fannie Taylor, the mulatto girl who has been charged with attempted train wrecking at Slocumville in this state, was adjudged insane by Judge Stiness of the supreme court. She will be taken to the state insane asylum. The girl was arrested this week while attempting to place obstructions on the track of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad.

Overcome by the Heat.

Syndey R. Titsworth, of West Fifth street, and J. Vincent Rittenhouse, of East Sixth street, went to Boynton Beach on their wheels this morning to spend the day.

Robert Loughlin, of East Front street, and Alvah Carey, of Prospect place, left yesterday afternoon on a two weeks' wheeling trip through New York State. They will take a roundabout way to Saratoga.

A. W. W. Evans, of New Brunswick, is expected back from Mexico during the latter part of the week and it is probable that he will enter the 25-mile road race to be held under the auspices of the Brunswick Club on July 5. A. A. Hanson and other crack riders of Perth Amboy may also be entered.

This week's L. A. W. Racing Board bulletin, issued by Chairman Albert Mott, contains an item that will interest all old timers in the sport. It states "that for conduct detrimental to the racing interests of the League, George Collister, of Cleveland, O., who was a member of the National Racing Board during Raymond's administration, is ruled off the L. A. W. tracks until July 30." It is said that he has pursued methods contrary to the ruling of the present board. Among the list of suspensions is the name of Earl Bovee, of Binghamton, N. Y., who holds the world's amateur record for two-thirds of a mile. B. T. Allen, of Bath Beach, is suspended until August 1 for assault and disturbing the peace at the race meet of the Atlanta Wheelmen on June 19. An extremely long list of sanctions portend some great racing before the season is over.

GOLF.

Owing to the reception to be held at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on Monday, July 5th, the usual Saturday afternoon tea will be omitted tomorrow. The report that the golf course is closed, owing to the scarlet fever epidemic, is incorrect; both the clubhouse and course having been open continuously.

WITH ROD AND GUN.

Henry Haurand, of East Front street, in company with a party of friends went hunting for woodcock and snipe yesterday. They report having had good luck.

Keep Off the Cars.

Patrolman Myers found a man trespassing on the coal cars, yesterday afternoon, and promptly locked him up. He was brought before the City Judge this morning, and was given four minutes and fifty-nine seconds to get out of Plainfield. He went.

The members of the Junior Epworth League of Grace M. E. and Monroe Avenue churches are spending the day in the mountains back of Plainfield. They are in charge of Miss Marguerite Schuck and Miss Della Voehl.

Grocers to Close Monday.

J. A. Smith, president of the Grocers' Protective Association, announces that all the groceries in the city will be closed Monday, all day, on account of Independence Day.

A Choir Picnic.

A number of the members of the Grace church choir enjoyed a picnic on the mountain, yesterday, under the chaperonage of Mrs. W. A. Freeman, of Sandford avenue.

Prof. A. D. Warde, of the North Plainfield Public High School, left the city yesterday, and he will spend his summer vacation at various points of interest.

Their advertisement tells of some of the good values they are offering but a visit to the great store will be to your interest.

CRESCENT WHEELMEN'S MEET.

It Will Be Held Monday Afternoon at the Crescent Oval.

The lovers of bicycle racing will find a treat indeed at the Crescent Oval, Monday afternoon, when the Crescent Wheelmen will hold their Independence Day meet. Owing to a muddy track and rainy weather, the Crescents did not hold a meet on Decoration Day as they expected. Instead, the meet was postponed until July 5th.

A large entry list has been secured, over a hundred different riders having entered to compete in the different events. The Oval is a mile from the depot and can be reached by stages which will start from North and Park avenues all that afternoon. Some of the fastest amateurs in Jersey have promised to compete and a series of good races are promised for the meet.

The track is now in good condition and fast time may be expected. Arrangements will be made so that there will not be the customary loafing in the open events. Special arrangements will be made for the care of the wheels of those who ride out to see the racing. It is hoped that the people of Plainfield will give a generous response to the invitation to attend and give the Crescent Wheelmen the support that they deserve from the town's people.

A Long Day's Ride.

J. P. Mosher and Stanley Mosher, of Division street, and LeRoy Bliss, of Central avenue, started at an early hour, this morning, to ride to Shiloh in southern Jersey. They will spend the Fourth with friends there. They were accompanied as far as Philadelphia by L. W. Niles, C. T. Coon and Harry Rogers. The latter three will return this evening.

Death of a Little Boy.

The death of Stephen Zeller, nine-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Zeller, of Chatham street, occurred last evening about 6 o'clock after a short illness. The funeral services will be held from the house tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and interment will be in the Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. J. L. Metler, of West Third street, will now reside at Lincoln.

ABOUT OUR STREETS.

"A Business Man" Does Not Think Them In Good Condition.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—A communication in The Press last week, concerning our public streets, hits the nail exactly on the head. I have been an observer of the condition of the streets of Plainfield for some years past and am chagrined every time I go out for a wheel ride, and, in fact, every time I walk home from my place of business to my residence, at the run down and tatterdemalion appearance of some of our highways.

We have, in places, about the worst looking streets in the State of New Jersey, as I know from actual observation. It is dangerous to go out after dark on a bicycle, and nobody seems to care, whenever a trench is dug across the street, or a cross-walk laid, how many stones are dug up from under the surface and left to roll on top. They get into the shoes of horses, and to my own knowledge one man broke his thigh through not seeing one, and being overturned on his bicycle. Not long ago a clergyman ran into a big piece of wood in the road and received severe injuries. The other day on Front street, opposite Richmond street, some round stones from the brook were piled in the center of the road and some of them are still a menace. And when stones are not large and round, they are sharp enough to cut the tires of bicycles, and I sometimes think there has been collusion between street commissioners and the tire repairers. And papers lie around loose, particularly on North avenue and often on Front street, as if it was a practice to unpack goods on the sidewalk and throw the papers in the gutter.

The wonder to me has been that the wheelmen, numbering, perhaps, over 2,000 in Plainfield, have taken no steps to get the stones kept off the roadbed. And I have wondered as much that the Town Improvement Association, which has attempted a great and good work, has not taken a little time from the subject of elm bugs and sterilized milk and the public park to discuss the subject of how to have good, clean, smooth public roads within the city limits. Outside of the city limits, they are very good; within they are often an abomination where any attempt has been made to repair them. I vote that something be done on the subject at once.

A Business Man.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Frank H. Smith, of Madison avenue, has gone to Westerdey, R. I., to remain over the Fourth.

William VanDeventer, of East Fifth street, has returned to his duties at the C. & C. Electric Company's Works at Garwood.

In order to escape the annoyance usually accompanying the celebration of Independence Day, S. O. Staats, of West Second street, has just sent his wife and children to Martinsville, Somerset county, for a two weeks' visit with relatives.

Patrolman Thomas McCue, of the Plainfield police force, started his ten days vacation today. He has gone to Delaware Water Gap. During his vacation, Patrolman Myers is covering the beat on Park avenue during the day.

Miss Harpranft, a nurse at Muhlenberg hospital, left this morning for Philadelphia to enjoy a vacation of one week. She will take the remaining week later in the season. Each nurse is entitled to two weeks, but not more than one nurse is allowed to be away at a time.

Epworth League Run.

The bicycle sociable of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church will be held this evening. The start will be made from in front of the church at 7:30 o'clock. The run will be to Springfield and return. A large attendance is expected.

—Willie A. Norwood, the three-months-old child, of Richard and Martha Norwood, died this morning at his parents' residence in Netherwood.

—Thomas B. Titsworth, son of the late Isaac D. Titsworth, of New Market, has purchased Alex. Titsworth's store on North avenue, opposite The Daily Press office, and will conduct the business hereafter.

HOW TO SPEND MONDAY.

VARIOUS ATTRACTIONS IN PLAINFIELD FOR INDEPENDENCE DAY.

While There Will Be No Public Celebration in Plainfield, There Will Be Plenty For All to Do That Day.

Monday is the day that the youthful American has been looking forward to ever since July 4th, 1896. Monday he will burn his several fingers and, perhaps, singe off his eyebrows, and think it great fun. Firecrackers will pop, cannons will boom, and there will be noise enough to satisfy the noisiest of them all. Like other good cities in the United States, Plainfield will offer all these attractions to the younger generation, and she also will offer some pleasure to those who have outgrown the days of firecrackers and toy cannon.

There will be no public celebration in Plainfield on Monday as was held here two years ago, or rather would have been held if the rain had not put a summary stop to the proceedings during the morning. Neighboring cities have arranged to unite in celebrating Independence Day, but the Plainfielders will do so individually.

Everybody knows that July Fourth will be celebrated on the Fifth, because the Fourth comes on Sunday. Chief Grant has announced that he does not want any preliminary celebrating on Sunday night, and intends to arrest anybody that tries it. The celebration is to begin at midnight, Sunday night. Of course, some of the church bells will ring, for bolts and bars have no terrors for the adventurous youths who annually scale the belfry or some other place and wake the night echoes with the wild peals of the bell.

Following its example of past years, the Park Club will celebrate all day for the benefit of its members and their friends. That will be the only attempt at united action and it promises to be very successful. The committee in charge has worked hard and a good time is assured.

On Monday morning baseball will be the principal attraction for those who remain in town. The Crescents will meet the crack team of the Bound Brook Atheletic Club on the grounds of the former team at the corner of LaGrande avenue and Richmond street. The game is called for 10:30 o'clock and is sure to be an exciting one. The Bound Brook players are a fine set. They are gentlemanly players but they know how to play, and a great contest is promised. Special arrangements will be made at the grounds, which may be reached by trolley, for the accommodation of ladies and their escorts.

The other baseball game is part of the Club celebration but is open to all. It is a game between the members of the Park Club and the Union County Country Club and will be played on the old Washington avenue grounds, beginning at 10 o'clock. While the game may not be a triumph of scientific playing, there is sure to be no end of fun and the sight of councilmen and former mayors running the circuit and sliding to bases will be well worth witnessing.

There will be also attractions at the grounds of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on Plainfield avenue, during the morning. A tennis tournament will be started and there will be a contest for the golf players to enjoy. Both tournaments will continue through the day and, in the afternoon, a tea will be held at the clubhouse.

The principal attraction of the afternoon will be the races of the Crescent Wheelmen at the Crescent Oval. A goodly entry list has been secured, including some of the fastest men in the amateur ranks in the State. The Wheelmen promise good sport for the afternoon and, if the rain does not come to spoil it, good racing will be given. The races will begin at 3 o'clock.

At the Park Club, the day will be continued with a tennis tournament for members and a tea to which the members are privileged to invite their friends without cards or invitation. The tennis tournament will include senior singles and doubles and junior singles and doubles in which suitable prizes will be awarded. At 5 o'clock an exhibition of day fireworks will be given on the grounds of the club.

Fireworks are always expected for the night of Independence Day. The Park Club will have a handsome exhibition for the benefit of the members and their invited friends. The fireworks there begin at 8:30 o'clock and will be followed by a dance in the clubhouse. There will be a number of private exhibitions of fireworks, some of greater and others of smaller magnitude, and they will be distributed around the city.

The bicycle will offer many attractions to the cyclists of Plainfield on Monday. The delightful roads of this

WILL NOT OWN HER CHILD

MRS. GEORGE SNYDER, HER NEIGHBORS ALLEGE, IS INSANE.

When Her Demented Spells Seize Her, She Declares That Her Husband and Children do Not Belong to Her.

A woman's piercing screams rang out once and again at midnight, last Tuesday, near the corner of West Fourth and Liberty srreets. People who were in the vicinity saw Mrs. George Snyder, of 447 West Fourth street, rush frantically from the house and down Fourth toward New street.

Policeman Higgins, who does night duty in that section of the city, saw the woman, and gave chase and captured her.

Her talk to the policeman soon convinced him that the woman was insane. The man, who was in their apartments and pretended to be her husband, was not her husband at all, she explained to the officer, but was someone masquerading as such. She also refused to take her ten-weeks-old babe, saying that it was not her child.

After considerable persuasion on the part of the policeman and a number of the neighbors, Mrs. Snyder consented to go into the house. Ten minutes afterward she again ran into the street screaming, but was at once taken back into the house and remained quiet during the rest of the night. The policeman did not think it necessary to make an arrest, and she was left in charge of her husband and some neighbors.

The case of Mrs. Snyder, as revealed to a Daily Press reporter by the neighbors, is a peculiar one. She is the wife of George Snyder, who plays a cornet in Guttman's band. Mr. and Mrs. Snyder live in humble circumstances in the basement of the house at 447 West Fourth street. They have three children, the youngest of which is only ten weeks old.

The woman is subject to sudden fits of insanity, which last sometimes for only an hour. When in this condition she denounces her husband as an impostor and declares that the children are not hers She has several times, when suffering from mania, declared herself to be the wife of a prominent Plainfield city official.

She is a pretty woman, about thirty years old, and when not under the influence of her strange malady, seems devoted to her husband and children. When her name is mentioned the neighbors shake their heads and remark solemnly,

"She's not right, poor thing."

A LONG SUIT.

It Has Just Been Decided in Favor of The Pangborn Estate.

Yesterday, the suit which was brought in the New Jersey Supreme Court a year ago by the heirs of the Isaac W. Pangborn estate against Oscar S. Teale, the architect, was brought to an end. The suit was brought to recover some $2,400 alleged to be still due on Teale's residence in Washington Park. The verdict gave the plaintiff $661 and costs.

Isaac W. Pangborn was a well known contractor in the borough. He had the contract for the building of Teale's residence in Washington Park and completed it in 1887. It was claimed that there was a balance on the account still due. A suit was brought a year ago by Senator Charles A. Reed, attorney for the Pangborn estate, to recover it The case was referred to County Stenographer Herbert W. Knight as referee, and testimony was taken.

The defence claimed that they were really the creditors in the matter and that they had overpaid the plaintiff. Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, of this city, was the lawyer for Mr. Teale.

Yesterday, a decision was given out by the court giving the plaintiff judgment to the amount of $661.

Summer Meeting at the Shore.

The Ocean Grove summer meetings under the auspices of the New Jersey W. C. T. U. will be held on July 8-9. County presidents will discuss "The Fields and Its Needs." Superintendents of departments will talk on "The Qualifications for Workers." The Beveridges will sing. There will be a Demarest Medal contest. There will be an "Hour with the Y's," with Mi s Mary E. Campbell, of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Cornelia B. Forbes, State president of Connecticut, Mrs. Anna M. Hosmer, of Pennsylvania, and Rev. A. B. Leodard, D. D., will speak.

A Vacancy Filled.

A business meeting of the Epworth League of the Grace M. E. church was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Winckler, of Westervelt avenue. The resignation of Mrs. Knowlton as first vice-president of the League was received and accepted, and in her place Andrew Wilson was chosen to fill the position.

MORE COUNTY ROADS.

UNION COUNTY FREEHOLDERS AUTHORIZED ONE NEAR RAHWAY.

The Plainfield Gas Company Asked for Permission to Put a Pipe Across the Watchung Avenue Bridge—Referred.

A meeting of the Board of Freeholders of Union county was held at Elizabeth, Thursday afternoon.

The board adopted the report of the committee of the whole recommending that a section of St. George avenue in Rahway, forming the connection with Middlesex county, be adopted as a county road, and macadamized; and expenditure to be taken from the unexpended appropriation for county roads.

The county engineer was directed to advertise the specifications.

A request from the Plainfield Gas Company for permission to put a pipe across the bridge on Watchung avenue was referred with power to the committee on Plainfield bridges.

County Road Inspector Fink reported the amount of work done this season, and stated the cost to have been $1,297.66.

The committee on repairs of the Monroe street bridge in Rahway reported that upon examination they found that new beams and planking were necessary. The report was adopted and the work ordered.

Freeholder Roll offered a resolution, which gives to South Orange permission to cross a county road between Springfield and Hilton with a sewer, which is to run to tide water. The resolution was adopted.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the committee on public grounds and buildings to advertise for sale the building formerly the Sheridan House, and to arrange for its removal.

GAVE "UNCLE DAN" A CANE.

It Was Given in Honor of His Golden Wedding.

A number of the friends of "Uncle" Dan Roberts, of North avenue, called at his home, last evening, and presented him with an elegant gold-headed cane in commemoration of the celebration of the golden wedding to be celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, tomorrow. The presentation was made by J. B. Coward. "Uncle" Dan responded in his usual happy vein and thanked the donors for their very kind remembrance. Mrs. Roberts also expressed her appreciation to the donors who included the following well-known Plainfield citizens: J. B. Coward, E. H. Bird, W. V. Mundy, George W. DeMeza, W. R. Codington, J. H. McVey, E. D. Moffett, W. J. Ford, D. W. Littell, H. W. Marshall, J. Hervey Doane, H. M. Estil, John H. Adleman, L. M. French, J. C. Pope, William N. Tier, A. D. Findlay, J. A. Hubbard, Woolston & Buckle, Geo. O. Stevens, Henry Liefke, T. O. Doane, J. T. MacMurray, E. M. Laing and Robert Love.

Today Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left the city for Tobyhanna, Pa., where they will spend several days as the guests of their son, William Roberts and wife.

Chiefs Raised Up.

Miantonomoh Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, held a meeting last night at which Deputy Grand Sachem Greisem of Perth Amboy and his staff were present and raised up the following chiefs: Prophet, David Morning; sachem, Robert Schlorer; senior sagamore, Joseph Johnson; junior sagamore, Robert Hanglighter; first sannap, Michael Leahy; first warrior, John R. Hartpence; guard of the wigwam, Frank Dowden; guard of the forest, N. C. Mague.

Resolutions of condolence upon the death of Mrs. William H. Newcorn were adopted as reported by the committee. Short talks were given by the deputy and his staff, by Past Sachems Ulrich and Kearney, of No. 193, and by the newly raised up chiefs. A collation followed.

Mr. VanEmburgh in Charge.

The plans and specifications for the improvements at Roselle, which includes the macadamizing and grading of Chestnut street, were submitted by the surveyor, H. C. VanEmburgh, of this city, last evening. They were accepted and bids will be advertised for in a few days. It is expected that the work will be started very soon. Mr. VanEmburgh will have the charge of the work.

A Successful Affair.

The lawn festival held Wednesday afternoon on the lawn adjoining the residence of Dr. Adams netted $15.70 as profit. This amount will be given to those in charge of the Children's Camp on the mountains for the purpose of locating a well. The children who arranged the affair desire to thank all who so generously assisted them in their efforts.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

DELIGHTFUL EVENT AT THE SUMMER HOME OF ROBERT CLARK JR.

The House and Grounds Were Charmingly Decorated For the Occasion—Guests Present From Newark and Plainfield.

On July 2nd, 1872, Robert Clark, Jr., and Miss Amanda Martin were married at Trinity church, Newark. Last evening, surrounded by about fifty of their neighbors and friends from Newark and Plainfield, they celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of that event at their beautiful home in the Washington Valley. Mr. and Mrs. Clark's reputation as hospitable entertainers was more than sustained and the delightfully informal manner in which everything was conducted made this silver wedding something long to be remembered by all who were present.

A party of their most intimate Newark friends came out last evening to attend the anniversary of their wedding, while one of Captain Hand's stages brought a party of fifteen friends from this city and the borough.

A wonderful sight burst on the view of the visitors as they approached Mr. Clark's home. Chinese lanterns were hung all about the large lawn, and around the house itself, while two strings of lanterns were hung from a Liberty pole that stood seventy feet into the air.

The shower that visited Plainfield in the afternoon did not reach Mr. Clark's home and so the festivities were held on the lawn, which was dotted with chairs and benches. So charming was the prospect, with the many lanterns illuminating the scene, that the visitors could not help singing, "We Won't Go Home Until Morning" as they drew up to the house.

On the lawn stood a large table, handsomely decorated with an immense bouquet of flowers, and a collation was served later in the evening, of which Mr. and Mrs. E. B Maynard were in charge. Another table was of equal interest. It bore the presents that the couple had received in honor of the anniversary. A handsome diamond ring was the gift of Mr. Clark to his wife. Then there were many other gifts of value. The crowning piece of all was a gift from the firm of Wharton & Co., the largest wholesale fur hat manufacturers in Newark, of which Mr. Clark is the junior partner. The other members of the firm could not be present, but they sent a handsome plush case which contained a complete set of solid silver knives, forks, tablespoons, dessert spoons and teaspoons.

After the guests had partaken of refreshments, two large rooms were thrown open to them and Guttman's orchestra struck up a familar strain. It was too much to resist, and soon nearly the entire party, young and old, were in the midst of a quadrille.

The celebration was to last from 7 to 11 o'clock, but it was after 12 o'clock when the guests who sang as they departed, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." It was a delightful evening for all and the memories of that evening will remain with the guests for many a day.

The Fourth in the Borough.

The firemen of the borough have made arrangements to be on duty from tomorrow night at 12 o'clock until Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock.

The first shift of men, Foreman B. F. Conover, W. T. Newman, G. B Stewart, F. M. Lunger, Thomas McGann, will go on at 12 o'clock and will remain on duty until 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. From the latter time until 5 o'clock Tuesday morning the following will be on duty: Foreman H. G. Adams, J. R. Newman, J. Sheppard, D C. Allen and Thomas McGann.

Somerset Council's Election.

The following officers were elected last evening at the meeting of Somerset Council, Jr. O. U. A. M.:—past councilor, Frank Howland; vice councilor, Bert Pangborn; conductor, J. E. Harned; recording secretary, W. C. Walker; assistant recording secretary, John Sheppard; financial secretary, George Allen; treasurer, Jesse Scull; warden, John Kitchen; inside sentinel, J. Conover; outside sentinel, F. Welch; trustee, C. A. Leland.

Big Auction Sale.

The entire stock of R. Frucht, one of the largest bicycle jobbers in New Jersey, will be sold at auction at the store, corner of Park avenue and West Second street, on Wednesday. There is a large stock of wheels of standard makes, all of them brand new, which will be sold to the highest bidder. A great variety of sundries will also be sold. Notice the ad in another column.

B. Herbert Pitcher, stenographer at the Scott Press Works, will spend Sunday and Monday with his parents at their home at Astoria, L. I.

THEY PLAYED FOR CASH.

SUCH IS THE CHARGE AGAINST FOUR MEN IN THE CITY COURT.

They Were Held for Trial, Saturday—A Suspicious Character With a Razor Went Down the Road—Keely Discharged.

Four offenders, who gave the names of Gilbert Sutphen, Adam Smith, James Smith and Arthur Jackson, were arraigned before Judge DeMeza in the city court this morning charged with poker playing. Night Roundsman Fredrickson was passing through East Second street at 3 o'clock this morning. He saw the four men enter the clubhouse there. The roundsman's suspicions were aroused and he directed Patrolmen Saffron and Vanderweg to make an investigation.

A light was seen at a second story window, and the officers secured a ladder, climbed up and took a look at what the men were doing. They claim that they saw the men gathered about a table, with playing cards and money circulating freely.

The players were surprised in the midst of their game, the officers say, and did not even have time to remove the "kitty" which was taken along as evidence by the policeman.

The prisoners were placed in the city jail until this morning.

Lawyer Walter L. Hetfield appeared for the men at their examination. They were placed under $100 bonds each to appear for trial on Saturday.

Michael Hefferan, who was drunk and disorderly on Watchung avenue, near the brook, on Thursday night, was fined $8, with the alternative of 20 days in jail. He could not pay and so went to jail.

Wm. Trust was arraigned upon the charge of being drunk and disorderly. and received a sentence of $10 fine or 20 days. He paid the fine. Michael Doran, charged with non-support by his wife, was placed under $200 bonds to support Mrs. Doran and her child.

John Keeley, charged with violating the hack ordinance, made a good defence and was discharged.

Timothy Walters, a colored man, arrested as a suspicious character, attempted to give an account of himself to his honor. He said that he had come from New York city, but told conflicting stories. A keen razor was found in his possession, and the Judge gave him 40 days in jail.

THE ICE POND CLEAN.

North Plainfield Board of Health Heard Important Reports.

An important meeting of the North Plainfiled Board of Health was held last evening at the home of the Rev. Mr. Honeyman, secretary of the board. The members considered first the report that the new ice pond at Washingtonville was not clean. Health Inspector William N. Pangborn was present and he made a report in which he stated that he had thoroughly inspected the pond and every stream running into it. He said that he found everything to be perfectly satisfactory and the water to be absolutely pure.

A communication from Mayor Fisk, of this city, was received which was sent to Mayor Wilson, of the borough. The substance of the letter was that the city asked the hearty co-operation of the borough particularly regarding the milk question. In response the borough members said that in all matters pertaining to public health they are willing to co-operate.

The fact was brought out at the meeting that a great amount of poor milk was being consumed by boroughites, and the members decided to take steps at once to put a stop to it. At present there are only eight cases of scarlet fever in the borough, and only one of these is a serious one. The others are all mild cases.

Justice Newcorn's Court.

The contract cases of Linke against Freeman, and Osmond against Smith and others, were tried by Justice Newcorn yesterday, and in each case judgment was rendered for plaintiff. In Linke against Freeman, an execution was issued against the goods of the defendant. The case of Osmund against Smith will be appealed. Summons were issued in the cases of French against Pickhardt, on contract, returnable on the 8th, and Campbell against O'Donnell, on contract, returnable on the 9th.

Executive Session.

The executive session of the Borough Council held last evening after the regular meeting was for the purpose of discussing the report presented in relation to the delinquent taxes now due the borough. Considerable time was spent in discussion but nothing definite was decided. Regarding the vacancy made by the resignation of Marshal Graeder it was decided to use for awhile the newly-appointed specials. In this way a suitable man can be selected to do regular duty.

BACK TAXES IN BOROUGH

BOROUGH COUNCILMEN HEARD INTERESTING STATISTICS.

Most of the Business at the Council Meeting Was of a Routine Nature—More Fire Companies Planned for Over the Brook

There was a great amount of routine business transacted at the regular meeting of the Borough Council held last evening, and notwithstanding the excessive warm weather every member of the council was present. After the reading of the minutes the first business taken up was the reception of the clerk's financial report, which was as follows: Borough, balance, $3,013.73; fire department, $178.23; roads, deficit, $130.57; light, balance, $1,646.09; poor, deficit, $121.73; total balance, $4,838.05; total deficit, $552.30; balance, $4,285.75; paid county and State, $3,262 54; total balance, $1,023,21. There was collected from fines, licenses, etc, $480.42.

Tax Collector Spencer reported the following collections for the years named; 1892—$13.85; 1893—$48.26; 1894—$23.49; 1895—$74.38; 1896—$274.23; total reported to date, $40,831.40.

The names of L. Bimble, C. W. Hummer, T. Gunning, H. Klinsman and G. Blimming, were reported as having been elected to membership in West End Hose Company, but there seemed to be some doubt on the part of the Council as to whether the above persons were the proper ones as to age to be members of the company, and the matter was laid over until next month.

A communication was received from J. B. Coward, in which it was stated that the street commissioner of the borough had notified certain property owners on the east side of Chatham street, from Thomas Rutledge's residence to the Elm street bridge, to lay stone walks and curb. Mr. Coward said that at present it would be a hardship for the owners to lay walks, and as there were several changes in the property expected before long, he asked the Council to be easy about enforcing the law. He also asked that the street commissioner be instructed to give the owners the proper grade lines so that the owners could go accordingly when they were able to lay walks and curbing. Mr. Coward communicated with the Council as attorney for the property owners, and the matter was referred to the proper committee.

Mr. Hotchkiss and others asked the Council to place two crosswalks on Rockview and Washington avenues, and Rockview and Sycamore avenues. The petition was referred but later in the evening it was decided that the people in that vicinity were well supplied with walks.

R. M. Fountain and others asked that the Council locate three electric lights on Johnston's drive in the limits of the borough. It was stated later that the North Plainfield Township Committee were willing to divide up the lighting providing the borough would do her share, and the proper committee was given the power to locate the necessary number of lights not to exceed three. It is probable that there will be only two lights erected as the entire distance is about two hundred feet.

At this time the resignation of Marshal Charles Greader was received and accepted. It seems that Mr. Graeder went on duty June 5th, and he wanted full pay for the entire month. Because he would not accept the amount due him, he decided to resign his position.

Mr. Woolston, chairman of the street committee, submitted his report for the month of June. It showed that the amount of $369.41 had been expended on the streets of the borough. Out of this amount the work of macadamizing Harmony street had been paid for. Mr. Woolston stated that Mayor Wilson's heart had been touched and he desired that the people living on the above street should have as good a thoroughfare as any in the borough. Mr. Spencer had raised $125 toward the work and the Mayor had said that if the Council would not approve of the work he would pay the balance himself. The total cost of the work amounted to about $215.68. Later in the evening the Council approved the work and the same was confired by them.

Mr. Schutt, of the auditing and finance committee, made a lengthy report concerning the amount of back taxes now due to the borough from all sources. The committee of which he is chairman had been requested sometime ago to make such a report to the Council. The report showed that from the year 1885 to 1894, inclusive, there is due to the borough $1,251.24, which 1 1 2 per cent of $85,114.69 valuation. In 1895 there is $3,023.31, 6 per cent of $44,340.96 valuation. In 1896, the amount due is

HELD FOR MURDER.

Mrs. Nack Has Been Charged With That Offense.

AFFIDAVIT MADE BY A DETECTIVE.

The Police Still Searching For Thorn, the Accomplice—Further Identification of the Remains—Relatives Will Also Inspect Them.

New York, July 3.—In the mysterious murder trial the prisoner, Mrs. Nack, was brought before Magistrate Flammer, who insisted that the police, if they wanted to detain her further, must make a charge against her.

A complaint was accordingly drawn up, after the presentation of which and after hearing an affidavit made by Central Office Detective Joseph Donohue, she was held.

A further examination will be had in her case on Tuesday.

Joseph Donohue of the central police office, being duly sworn, deposes and says that on or about the 26th day of June, 1897, in the city of New York, Augusta Nack, now here, and another person, not yet arrested, and that deponent has good reason to believe and does believe that said Augusta Nack and said unknown person, both or either of them, with force and arms did then and there willfully and feloniously and intentionally and did form a premeditated design to do unto death the said William Guldensuppe.

And did kill and slay the said William Guldensuppe.

Deponent further says that a human body has been found in the city and county of New York and was identified by Frank Gartner, 29 years old, shampooer and rubber, No. 108 Dupont street, Brooklyn, and others did identify the said body as that of the said William Guldensuppe.

The parts of the body found indicate very clearly that the deceased met his death in a violent and brutal manner, by the use of some deadly weapon.

Deponent further says, upon information and belief, that the defendant was the last person known to have been in the company of the said William Guldensuppe and that the portions of the body found were wrapped or enveloped in material which the accused bought about the time that the said William Guldensuppe disappeared.

That said information as to the purchase of the said material by the accused was given to the deponent by Pauline Riger of 395 Jackson avenue, Long Island City, and the information as to the identification was given to the deponent by Frank Gartner and others, as aforesaid.

Wherefore deponent, upon said information, which he verily believes to be true, charges the defendant, Augusta Nack, and said unknown person, not yet arrested, with the crime of killing the said William Guldensuppe and prays that the said Augusta Nack be held to answer, according to law.

JOSEPH DONOHUE.

Searching For Thorn.

The police are still hunting for Martin Thorn, the supposed accomplice of Mrs. Nack. They admit that with this man in their custody they will have advanced far toward the solution of the mystery which surrounds the murder of Guldensuppe.

Thorn, however, is not easy to find. He has disappeared as completely as if the earth had opened and swallowed him. His companions in the barber shop, Keehn and Vogel, the barbers for whom he used to work, say that Thorn used to live at Third avenue and Twenty-first street, but that they did not know at what address.

An investigation of the houses in that vicinity failed to show any trace of Thorn. One woman, a Mrs. Roberts, who has a furnished room house at 102 East Twenty-first street, said that last week she had a man whose name she thought was Thorn lodging with her. He was at the house only a few days. Unfortunately, however, he did not in any way resemble the description of Thorn. He left the house very suddenly, and she heard nothing more from him or of him.

A man who answers in every way the description of Thorn was employed as a waiter at Anderson's pavilion at North Beach. Anderson said that the man had come there about a week ago and asked for employment. He had been very surly and grumpy and would not talk about himself at all.

He left as suddenly as he came. Anderson does not remember what day he came to work or what day he departed. Neither does he know the fellow's name.

The Legs Positively Identified.

Frank Brewster, the assistant chiropodist at the Murray Hill baths, went to the morgue and made a more searching examination, after which he made the following report:

"Those are the legs of William Guldensuppe, I believe. The identification is as positive as it is possible to make under the circumstances. Guldensuppe had a short foot, chunky, and the outside was curved. He had a corn on the little toe of the right foot, on which I operated. The nail on his great toe had been operated on by me. All these marks are on the feet at the morgue. A layman might think that all feet look about alike, but a chiropodist can recognize his own work with a fair degree of certainty, and I believe I recognize in those feet at the morgue the feet of Guldensuppe."

Detective Donohue of police headquarters called at the morgue and took away all the oilcloth and other material that was wrapped around the various portions of the body of William Guldensuppe.

The detective said: "I do not know for what purpose these things are being removed, except that the police department deems it advisable to have them in its possession. If the things were left at the morgue, they might get lost. They will be needed in the future, and the chief of the department is taking only the necessary precaution in such cases to preserve the articles."

Relatives to Examine Remains.

Philadelphia, July 3.—August Peterson, who lives with his mother on Thirty-first street and who is a nephew of William Guldensuppe, said that he would probably go to New York at once to identify the fragments of his uncle's body at the morgue there.

He and his mother are the only relatives of Guldensuppe in this country.

Peterson knew his uncle very intimately, and he says he is familiar with marks on Guldensuppe's body by which he would positively know him. He said:

"Guldensuppe was a native of Schleswig-Holstein, a province formerly under the Danish government, but now under the German. He came to this city 13 years ago and made his home with me. I am therefore perfectly aware of the appearance of his body. After a time he secured employment in a bathhouse as a rubber, but did not remain constantly in this city. He went to Reading once and finally left the city about three or four years ago. He wrote to me, but not very frequently, the last letter from him having been about nine months ago. I saw him for the last time about a year ago. He was then boarding with Mrs. Nack, on One Hundred and Sixtieth or One Hundred and Sixty-sixth street, on the east side, New York city.

"We have in our possession several pictures of him, one of which was taken in this city, on North Second street, some nine years ago. The newspaper pictures bear a close resemblance to these pictures, and I have no doubt that the pictures said to be those of Guldensuppe are really him. I know of certain marks, of which I will positively not speak at this time, by which I can tell whether the body in New York is or is not that of Guldensuppe."

CORNELL WINS EASILY.

Columbia Nearly Twelve Boat Lengths Behind—Pennsylvania Did Not Finish.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 3.—In the second varsity race upon the four mile course the contestants were eight oared crews from Cornell, Columbia and Pennsylvania. The expectations were a breaking of records and a close and exciting contest. The result was a fizzle and a procession.

Cornell won. Columbia second, about 11½ lengths to the rear. Pennsylvania foundered just after passing the two mile mark.

The official time: Cornell, 20m. 47 4-5s.; Columbia, 21m. 20 2-5s. The time by miles for Cornell was: First mile, 5m. 4 2-5s.; second mile, 10m. 51s.; third mile, 15m. 46s.; fourth mile, 20 47 4-5s.

The True Remedy.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Patrolman Thomas McCue, of West Fourth street, started on his vacation of ten days yesterday. His place is being filled by Patrolman Myers.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guarranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss R. M. Verdon, of Shady Lawn, accompanied by Miss Larkin, left the city today for Sea Cliff, on the coast of Long Island, where they will spend several weeks.

"Last summer one of our grandchildren was sick with a severe bowel trouble," says Mrs. E. G. Gregory, of Frederickstown, Mo. "Our doctor's remedy had failed, then we tried Chamberlains Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

B. A Brown, who has been visiting his parents on East Fourth street, was suddenly called to his home at Bristol, Conn., a few days ago. He will return to Plainfield tomorrow and will spend July 4th in this city.

Mr. C. L. Hasbrouck, a druggist at Mendon, Mich., says all of the good testimonials that have been published by the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy could be duplicated in that town. For sale By T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves.

—The work of macadamizing Harmony street in the borough was completed yesterday. It is one of the best streets to be found in the borough, and that is saying a great deal.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.

1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

The 25 and 50c sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

—An elaborate programme is being prepared by the choir of the First Baptist church to be rendered tomorrow. The service will be a patriotic one. Other churches will observe the day in a similar manner.

You may hunt the world over and you will not find another medicine equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

SOME TARIFF PHASES

Reciprocity and Retaliation Held the Senate's Attention.

TEXT OF THE DIFFERENT CLAUSES.

Both Are to Be Regarded as Legitimate Measures of Self Preservation—Some Spirited Debate on Both Items. Proposed Amendments.

Washington, July 3.—Reciprocity and retaliation were the two phases of the tariff bill which occupied the attention of the senate to the exclusion of all other subjects. Both provisions were agreed to, although the debate on the reciprocity clause was protracted to 6 p. m. Shortly before adjournment Mr. Allison endeavored to secure an agreement on the time for a final vote, but Mr. Teller would not consent to fixing the time until all proposed amendments had been submitted to the senate. As Mr. Allison was not prepared to submit these amendments he withdrew his request, and the time for the final vote was left open.

The retaliatory clause provides that whenever any country bestows an export bounty on any article then upon the importation of such article into the United States there shall be levied in addition to the duties provided by the act an additional duty equal to the amount of the bounty. The debate on the section disclosed some difference of opinion on the Democratic side, Mr. Gray of Delaware and Mr. Lindsay of Kentucky opposing it, while Mr. Caffery of Louisiana supported it as a legitimate measure of self preservation. Mr. Gray dwelt upon the effect of the clause in evading our treaty obligations with Germany and Austria. The clause was agreed to—33 to 19—the two Democratic senators from Louisiana, Caffery and McEnery, voting with the Republicans in the affirmative.

The reciprocity clause empowers the president, with the advice and counsel of the senate, to make reciprocity treaties, giving 20 per cent reduction in duties on designated articles or placing articles on the free list. The amendment brought out much opposition. Senators Mills, Vest, Pettus, Teller and White arguing that it evaded the constitutional right of the house of representatives to participate in measures affecting revenue, while Senators Morgan, Gray and Chandler defended its legality and propriety. Later in the day the vote was taken, and the reciprocity clause was agreed to—30 to 18—two Democrats, Gray and Morgan, voting with the Republicans in the affirmative.

Early in the day Mr. Wellington (Rep.) of Maryland, rising to a question of personal privilege, vehemently upheld his senatorial prerogatives in the matter of federal appointments.

Senator Lodge has prepared a draft of an amendment to the tariff bill providing for a stamp tax on stocks and bonds in accordance with the action of the Republican senatorial caucus and submitted it to the finance committee. As prepared, the amendment provides for a tax of 5 cents a share of $100 or fraction of the face value of capital stock or of bonds on their issuance and 2 cents for each $100 or fraction on each transfer of stocks or bonds.

United States and state bonds are exempted, as are individual bonds to secure mortgages and also the stock and bonds of mutual benefit building associations. The amendment has been submitted to the Republican members of the judiciary committee and approved by them as to form.

Senator Lindsay of Kentucky has also proposed an amendment by which an inquiry will be made by the president into the exclusion of American tobacco from France and Spain under the Regie contracts.

Accident to a Monitor.

Washington, July 3.—The navy department has received a telegram from Commodore Bunce, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, stating that three of the furnace crowns of boiler E of the monitor Puritan have collapsed. He added that a board of investigation had been appointed by him to examine into the conditions, but made no mention of injury to any of the crew.

The Puritan at the time of the accident was undergoing a dock trial. She had been overhauled after her breakdown on the trip north from Charleston last fall and was just ready for sea again. The boilers which failed this time were made about 12 years ago, and they may have suffered from corrosion in that time to a degree which weakened them.

Charged With Forgery and Murder.

San Francisco, July 3.—Theodore A. Figel has been duly arraigned before Judge Campbell on the charges of forgery and embezzlement preferred against him by E. S. Rothschild and also upon the charge of murder preferred by Charles Hoffman. At the request of his attorneys the court, after the usual preliminaries, allowed all the cases to go over until July 8 next, the date set for the examination into the first charges preferred, bail being refused on the murder charge. Meanwhile Figel was remanded to the city prison.

Cloudburst In Kentucky.

Louisville, July 3.—H. C. Mordeau, general passenger agent of the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis railroad, reports that a cloudburst has occurred in the vicinity of Henderson, Ky., which did considerable damage. Mr. Mordeau says that his advices are that about a mile and a half of railroad track belonging to his company is washed away. No trains are able to proceed farther than Owensboro, and the regular St. Louis train, which was due to leave Louisville last night, had to be withdrawn.

Canoeists Drowned.

Richmond, Que., July 3.—R. J. Mackenzie and Miss Alice Cleveland, members of two of the most prominent families of this town, were running Jeffrey's shoot on the St. Francis river, two miles above Richmond, in a canoe when their frail craft was overturned. Both were drowned. Their bodies have been recovered.

Killed by Machinery.

Niagara Falls, July 3.—George Hall, employed at the Niagara Falls paper mill, was killed at this place. His arm caught in the machinery, and he was pulled head foremost into a reel. His head was terribly crushed.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.

Just one hundred and twenty-one years ago tomorrow, the old Liberty bell rang out to all the world that the Declaration of Independence had been signed and that the British colonies in North America had thrown off the yoke of allegiance to Great Britain. It was a memorable occasion, but many of us are inclined to forget the significance of the celebration of that event, which has proved to be such an important one in the history of the world during the last century and a quarter. The times have been hard of late and many have had to suffer, sometimes for the faults of others. It has been said that the patriotism of the citizens of this country has fallen to a very low ebb, but we are not inclined to think so. Even if the people do seem to forget that the one hundred and twenty-second year of their liberties has begun, let it be remembered what a great Nation this is and how it is growing greater every day, thanks to the efforts of its industrious citizens. Perhaps some of the efforts are misdirected, but we are not infallible, and we will learn better from the mistakes that are made. Let us therefore remember the day is at hand, and when in the midst of pleasure and enjoyment, make one vow to be better citizens and look well to the good of the country, for it's no disgrace to be faithful to the duties one owes to his country.

COLEMAN ON THE CUT.

Former President of Cycle Board of Trade Expects No Further Reductions.

The announcement recently made that some bicycle manufacturers had decided to cut their list price from $100 to $75, created very little surprise in trade circles. As is generally known, the demand this year has been for reliable goods listing at prices within the reach of the public, and it has been an open secret that the higher priced makers have endeavored to meet this demand by putting out a combination of a '96 and '97 model, with a '96 name-plate, or they have instructed their agents to meet competition by cutting prices.

R. Lindsay Coleman, ex-president of the National Cycle Board of Trade, and president of the Western Wheel Works, in speaking on this subject, says:

"In establishing our prices in 1892, we were fully cognizant of the trade conditions as then existing, and we determined to meet the popular demand for a high grade wheel at an honest and reasonable price.

"Our announcement that we had established our price at $75, was met by the statement of other manufacturers that a strictly high grade wheel could not be made and sold at so low a figure. We expressed the opinion at that time that within five years, other high grade makers would fully realize their error in endeavoring to maintain a fictitious value on their product, and that the prices that we had fixed would within that time become the standard price for other high grade wheels.

"If a bicyle is worth its list price in January, it is worth that same price in July; per contra, if a so-called $100 wheel is worth but $75 in July, it was certainly worth no more in January. Fictitious values can no more be upheld for any length of time in the case of bicycles than stocks and bonds. The old adage that 'water must seek its level' is peculiarly true of bicycle prices.

"I do not anticipate that a still further reduction in the price of wheels will be made next year."

First Presbyterian Church Music.

The following music will be rendered at the special patriotic services in the First Presbyterian church tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock:

Organ Prelude—National airs and variation
Anthem—"America Our Country".....Perkins
Anthem—"New Hail Columbia".....Chadwick
Offertory—"Tenting Tonight". Male Quartette
Hymn. 744—"America".....Carey
Postlude—Priests March from "Athalia," Mendelssohn

The hymns to be used at this service will be the same as will be used in Newark on Monday at the unveiling of the bust of Dr. Abraham Coles, who composed the words to the collection of National songs.

Sociable on Wheels.

The second of the bicycle sociables of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church was held last evening. The run was arranged by Miss Madeline Day. James A. Stafford was in command with Harlan Snodgrass as aide. Ray T. Snodgrass was bugler. The attendance was good considering the rain of the afternoon. The party went to Westfield and returned by Locust Grove. After the ride, the party went to the home of J. R. Joy, of Orchard avenue, where refreshments were served.

Died at the Hospital.

William Cunningham, aged forty years, a resident of Grant avenue, died at the hospital this morning after a short illness. Death was caused by kidney trouble. The deceased had only been at the hospital a few days, and for the most part of the time he lived with Michael Watson. So far as can be learned he has no relatives in this city and Mr. Watson will arrange for the burial.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

J. A. Haynes, of Plainfield, was in town yesterday on business.

Postmaster Staats was called to Bound Brook yesterday on business.

Mrs. John Logan, of the borough, is recovering from her serious illness.

Miss Dodwell, of the borough, is able to be out again after a severe illness.

Lawyer and Mrs. Isaac Runyon, of Plainfield, were in the borough yesterday calling on friends.

David Blackford, of New Market, expects to leave in a short time for the west, where he will visit friends.

Miss Mattie Barrett, of Greenbrook, has returned home after a pleasant visit with friends in Brooklyn.

Several matches are being arranged by the members of the Dunellen Lawn Tennis Association to take place next Monday.

Mrs. Frittz and her daughter, Miss Della Frittz, of the borough, are visiting friends at High Bridge for a few days.

Considering all things, there has been very little illness in the borough this summer. The general health of the borough was never better.

Rev. Mr. Peterson, pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church, is at present located in Chicago. He will probably return home next week.

Employes of the Central Railroad have been busy cleaning up and cutting the grass about the station park and it presents an attractive appearance.

It is expected that Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Griggs, of Newark, will spend July 4th in the borough with Mrs. Griggs' parents, Postmaster and Mrs. Staats.

Miss Ella Wheeler, of the borough, who is confined to her home with an attack of typhoid fever, is not much improved and her friends are much concerned about her condition.

The Dunellen and Somerville baseball teams are playing a game at Dunellen this afternoon. There is the greatest rivalry between these two clubs and a good game will no doubt be played.

The citizens of Dunellen are responding nobly to the appeal from the members of the Jr. O. U. A. M. for funds to celebrate July 4th. There is every indication that the event will be a notable one in the history of the borough.

It is quite likely that one month from yesterday the new postmaster for Dunellen will be appointed by President McKinley. The last appointment was made August 2, 1893, and the probabilities are that the same time will be chosen this year.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

Miss Ella Frentz is a happy possessor of a new Gold Standard bicycle.

Mrs. B. Brown, of Bristol, Conn., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Lynus Walpole.

Lynus Walpole has a large stock of fireworks, which he is selling off rapidly.

I. G. Walker will spend Independence Day with his family in Coxackie, N. Y.

Mrs. Frank Hossinger and her daughter, Mrs. E. L. Hand, spent yesterday in New York.

Miss Bertha Berry, of Brooklyn, will spend Independence Day with her grandfather, Robert Walpole.

The Scotch Plains Board of Health met on Thursday night according to law, but as there was no business to

WESTFIELD

BIG PRICES FOR BONDS

ISSUE OF $60,000 DISPOSED OF AT GOOD FIGURES.

Town Committee and Board of Health Met Last Evening and Transacted Important Business—Other News Items.

The Westfield Township Committee met last evening and received bids for the issue of $60,000 of sewer bonds. There were nine bidders, most of whom were New York bankers. The issue of $30,000 of 30-year bonds, payable after twenty years, at the option of the township, was secured by H. C. Sergeant, a resident of the town. They will bear four per cent. interest, and the price is 102 and accrued interest. The remaining $30,000, of which $3,000 falls due each year after July 1st, 1898, was secured by Farson, Leach & Co., of 2 Wall street, New York. They will bear 4½ per cent., and the price paid was 102.479. The township is fortunate in securing these prices for the bonds. The rate of interest is in reality only 3.95 per cent. Cranford recently sold its sewer bonds to the value of $100,000, for a figure that brings the interest up to 4.60 per cent. Representatives of all the banking firms bidding upon the issue, were present at last night's meeting. The question of the right of non-resident firemen to claim exemption from taxation, was revived by a letter from Counsel Frank Bergen, stating that in his opinion the right to exemption was forfeited by removal from the State. The case of Mr. Miller, which called forth Mr. Bergen's opinion, has already been explained in these columns. The committee instructed Superintendent of Sewers E. W. Chamberlain to furnish Mr. Dowd, superintendent of the Union Water Company, with a list of the flush tanks that are being supplied with water. A license was granted the Kickapoo Indian Company to give exhibitions in the town. Notes of the township to the amount of $32,060, falling due on the 6th, 7th and 8th were ordered renewed for one month, and bills to the amount of $706.40 were ordered paid.

The Westfield Board of Health met last evening. A Mr. Smith, whose son Charles Smith was badly bitten on Tuesday by a dog belonging to James Patterson, of Central avenue, complained of the owner's carelessness in not having the dog properly confined. As the dog was upon the owner's premises and was tied, when the wounds were inflicted, the board decided that it could take no action in the matter except to request Patterson to use care with the animal. The clerk of the board was instructed to order Messrs Neafie & Cook, of Park street, to abate a nuisance which exists upon their property. The contract for cleaning out the brook, between Walnut street and Westfield avenue, was awarded to Thomas Eustace for $55, and W. W. Connolly was instructed to supervise the work. Dr. J. B. Harrison reported the public school buildings to be in good sanitary condition. Fifty-two cases of measles were reported in the township during the past month.

Miss Mabel Welch and Miss Grace Crosby, are visiting Miss Mabel Darling, of Plainfield.

Miss Florence Cruttenden is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George T. Cruttenden, of Elm street.

Frank Deming underwent an operation for cancer at the Vanderbilt clinic in New York, today.

Several members of the I. O. S. and their friends will go on a straw-ride through the Oranges, this evening.

Miss Eliza Ransom, of Jersey City, has returned home after a visit in this place with her sister, Mrs. Newton Huffman.

The Ladies' Sewing Society of the Baptist church held an interesting meeting in the church parlor yesterday afternoon.

Miss Annie Hulse, a sister of Mrs. Samuel Packer, of Elm street, and William A. Heath were married at New Brunswick, Wednesday evening.

The funeral services of Manning Parse, who died in this place Wednesday evening, were held from the residence of L. E. Hart, on Broad street, yesterday at 2 o'clock. The Rev. N. W. Cadwell officiated. Interment was made at Scotch Plains. The deceased was 48 years of age, and was a son of the late Cooper Parse, of Scotch Plains.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church held a strawberry and ice cream festival on the church lawn yesterday afternoon and evening. There were ten tables, prettily decorated with cut flowers. The attendance was large and the proceeds went to the Children's Country Home and the Fresh Air Camp. The members who helped to make the festival a success were Florence Miller, Edith Mooney, Belle Godschalk, Mabel Tice, Edith Tice, Julia Fink, Bertha Fink, Harry Johnston, Frank Howe, Samuel Johnston, Jr., and Richard Tice. The lemonade stand was in charge of Mary Lee Cadwell. Mrs. William Edwards, Mrs. M. J. Gildersleeve and Miss Lucille Johnston were supervisors.

Thousands suffer from Catarrah or cold in head and have never tried the popular remedy. There is no longer any excuse, as a 10 cent trial size of Ely's Cream Balm can be had of your druggist or we mail it for 10 cents. Full size 50 cents. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N. Y. City. A friend advised me to try Ely's Cream Balm and after using it six weeks I believe myself cured of catarrah. It is a most valuable remedy.—Joseph Stewart, 624 Grand avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

—Rand's store will be open till mid night tonight and will open at midnight tomorrow night for the sale of fireworks.

—Special good values in men's outing shirts, summer underwear and hosiery for ladies, men and children, at White's tonight. The store will be closed all day Monday. Tuesday they commence their great clearing sale of summer goods of every description.

Edward Petrie and Judson R. Giles, of East Sixth street, left today for Lake Hopatcong to spend the Fourth.

held a meeting last night to install its newly elected officers. The ceremonies were in charge of Senior Past Councilor Charles Frentz.

Goodwill Lodge, No. 101, Knights of Pythias, was to have held installation services on Thursday night, but as there was no quorum present the meeting adjourned at once.

L. Walpole and Fred Vaulkman, of Brooklyn, took a hunting trip over the mountain Thursday and captured twelve woodcock. Benjamin Singer bagged four birds the same day.

No public celebration will be held in this place on Independence Day. The citizens are arranging a few private displays of fireworks, and many will attend the events to be held in Westfield.

POSTMISTRESS IN DANGER.

Miss Bornman, of Warrenville, Thought Rapidly and Extinguished the Flames.

Warrenville's postmistress had an exciting experience with fire, Thursday evening, that nearly resulted in the destruction of her home. Miss Maggie Bornman is the postmistress of that little town where she resides. Last Thursday evening she was striking a parlor match when the head of the match flew off and set fire to a rug at her feet. Fearing that her skirts might catch on fire from the blazing rug she hurried from the rug and returned with some blankets with which the flames were smothered.

The damage caused by the fire was slight, the rug and a portion of the carpet having been burned.

Mrs. William Chamberlain, of East Third street, has entirely recovered from her recent severe illness.

Cashier W. F. Arnold, of the City National Bank, and family, are stopping at Ocean Grove for a time.

AMERICAN FREEDOM.

THE STORY OF OUR VICTORY OVER ENGLAND.

She was Invincible in War and Flushed with Conquests when the Colonies Defied Her Authority, and Declared Independence — Another Such Revolution Will Never Be Known in History.

The Fourth of July 1897 witnesses Cuba striving for independence, Crete seeking autonomy and Ireland chafing under British yoke yet yearning to be free. The sympathies of all loyal Americans intuitively go out to these struggling provinces, who, were they permitted to follow their own inclinations, would adopt a form of self-government patterned after that of our own glorious Republic, shaking off as did we over a century ago the monarchial fetters that are so prejudical to the advancement of society and obnoxious to the freedom-loving individual.

When we shall have accepted Hawaii which comes to us voluntarily, into the sisterhood of States, and have restored peace in Cuba to the satisfaction of her inhabitants and the acceptance of Spain, then should we be content and grow great within ourselves.

The story of our early rebellion against the unjust requirements of England is ever of interest, and none can read of the bravery and daring, the fortitude and privations and final triumph of those pioneers of American greatness without being stirred to warmer blood and patriotic pride.

The year 1763 terminated a war, which was both advantageous and glorious to Great Britain. The treaty of Paris, besides ceding to her several island in the West Indies and establishing her power in the East, gave her the sovereignity of the vast continent of America, from Florida to the Arctic Seas.

The expenses of the previous war had, however, been immense. In order to meet them and liquidate to some degree the national debt, resolutions were adopted by the ministry to tax the American colonies on certain articles of importation. Their ability to pay these taxes was not doubted; and it was considered proper that those who enjoyed so many advantages should contribute their portion towards bearing the public burdens.

The colonists, however, were fully persuaded that whatever might be the necessities of the mother country, yet, exclusive of the restrictions laid during late years on their commerce, the sole enjoyment of their trade was a tax in itself more in proportion than all that were levied on the people of Great Britain. The right of taxing them without their being represented in the British Parliament, they denied as resolutely as their ancestors did the payment of ship money to Charles I.

THE MINUTE MEN.

Under orders of the Provincial Congress the inhabitants of the Colonies were enlisted as Minute Men, "to be in readiness at a minute's warning to appear in arms."

The ministry expressed astonishment at hearing such language from the colonists, charging them with ingratitude and disloyalty, and with being solicitous only to profit by the generosity of the mother country. The Americans repelled these unfounded charges with indignation. They gloried in calling Britain their mother country; they had never disgraced the title; they had ever obeyed her just and lawful commands; and they submitted, for her benefit, to heavy burdens and commercial restrictions.

In 1764 a bill was framed laying heavy duties (payable into the British treasury in specie) on all articles imported into the colonies from the French and other islands in the West Indies. This was followed by an act restraining the currency of paper money. In 1765, to complete the link so unjustly begun, was passed Greville's famous Stamp Act, the prelude to the most tremendous and destructive quarrel that had befallen Britain for several ages. It was styled "the folly of England and ruin of America."

Although some acts favorable to the commerce of the colonies were passed, the people became suspicious and placed no reliance on the good will of the British Government. They especially mistrusted the king. Resolutions were adopted to make no further importations from Great Britain; and so far was the encouragement of domestic manufactures persevered in that the use of all elegancies was laid aside and the eating of lamb suspended in order to encourage the raising of wool.

Ministers were chagrined and astonished to find that a great portion of the British nation espoused the cause of America. But, disregarding all opposition to Parliament, all remonstrances of the colonists as well as petitions from the United Kingdom the Government madly proceeded in the prosecution of its impracticable schemes. At this period the fame and grandeur of Great Britain were so great that no one imagined that the colonies would presume to dispute any measure dictated by the ministry. The splendid triumphs of the British nation in all parts of the world had excited the jealousy of Europe and the idea of the colonists risking a trial of prowess with the armies and fleets which had defeated the combined strength of France and Spain was considered presumptuous and visionary. It was, therefore, matter of astonishment to learn the extraordinary and resolute conduct of the Americans in opposing the restrictions on their commerce and the operation of the Stamp and Tea Acts. From the period of the Stamp Act in 1766 until the cargoes of the tea-ships were thrown overboard in December, 1773, included a period of seven years of solemn resistance.

The master of a packet conveying passengers to Providence (June 9), which was fired at and chased by the Gaspee for neglecting to pay the requisite tribute of respect, took advantage of the state of the tide (it being almost high water) to stand in so closely to the shore that the Gaspee in the pursuit might be exposed to run aground. The artifice succeeded; the Gaspee presently stuck fast and the packet proceeded in triumph to Providence where a strong sensation was excited by the tidings of the occurrence, and a project was hastily formed to improve the blow and destroy the obnoxious vessel. Brown, an eminent merchant, and Whipple, a shipmaster, took the lead in this bold adventure and easily collected a sufficient band of resolute and armed men with whom they embarked in whal boats to attack the British

CAPTURE OF MAJOR ANDRE.

—Incidents of American History 1835.

Major Andre, a British officer, connived with Benedict Arnold, U. S. Commander at West Point, for the transfer of that garrison. After a conference with Arnold he was captured, convicted as a spy and shot. Arnold escaped to the British lines and received the price for his treason—a generalship in the King's Army.

ship-of-war. At 2 o'clock the next morning (June 10) they boarded the Gaspee so suddenly and in such numbers that her crew were instantly overpowered, without hurt to any one except her commanding officer, who was wounded. The captors having despatched a part of their number to convey him, together with his private effects and his crew, ashore set fire to the Gaspee and destroyed her with all her stores.

The issue of this daring act of war against the naval force of the king was as remarkable as the enterprise itself. The British Government offered a reward of £500, together with a pardon if claimed by an accomplice, for the discovery and apprehension of any person concerned in the treasonable attack upon the Gaspee; and a commission under the great seal of England appointed Wanton, the Governor of Rhode Island; Peter Oliver, the new Chief Justice of Massachusetts; Auchmuty, the Judge-Admiral of America, and certain other persons, to preside upon the trial of the offenders.

But no trial took place. Nobody came forward to claim the proffered reward; some persons who were apprehended in the hope that they might be induced by threats and terror to become witnesses were enabled by popular assistance to escape before any information could be extracted from them, and in the commencement of the following year the commissioners reported to the British ministry their inability, notwithstanding the most diligent inquisition, to procure evidence or information against a single individual.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

Blood Vitality.

Dr. Campbell Succeeds in Restoring Iron to the Blood in its Natural Form thus Increasing the Supply of Oxygen and Curing Disease—A Marvelous Process.

Modern science teaches us that the blood is the vehicle by which the nutriment of the food is taken from the stomach and carried throughout the entire system.

While it is being carried by the blood, it becomes oxidized and is thus converted into a form that can be taken up by the tissues.

If this nutriment was not oxidized it would filter through the kidneys as really occurs in Bright's disease, and no benefit would be derived from it. Oxygen is absolutely essential to this process. Its existence in turn is dependent upon the iron or Hæmoglobin in the blood without which anæmia would result, and no benefit whatever would be derived from the food.

Physicians long ago recognized that to discover a method of renewing this Hæmoglobin would be to discover the true method of curing disease.

Little advance was made until Dr. Campbell, an eminent English physician, learned that the component parts of the blood of the bullock were identical with human blood and sought to extract from it the natural iron or Hæmoglobin.

Success crowned his efforts, and for the first time man has it in his power to renew at will the vital element in his own blood.

Dr. Campbell enclosed the fruit of his labor in small, pointed globes of pure gelatine called Capsuloids, with which the most remarkable results have been obtained in the hospitals of London and elsewhere in curing all diseases of the blood; rheumatism, paralysis, locomotor ataxia, nervous prostration and St. Vitus' dance.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from the office of The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York City.

GRAND JURY SCORED

Justice Gummere Talks Very Plainly to the Mercer County (N. J.) Members.

Trenton, July 3.—The Mercer county grand jury, after an investigation of about two weeks in connection with county affairs, which were investigated by a special commission, came into court yesterday and announced that they had no indictments. They handed up some papers, which indicated that they may have made a presentment to the court.

Justice Gummere severely scored the grand jury and said there were only two possible conclusions to be formed. One was that they had not made a complete investigation, and the other was that they had deliberately violated their obligations.

He instanced the case of Freeholder Cross, who had sold coal to the county in the name of a third person. He said this was a clear violation of the criminal law, and the jury could not escape finding a bill of indictment.

As to the county roads frauds, he said it was possible that the overpayment of thousands of dollars may have been the result of honest mistakes, but he found it hard to believe this and was inclined to the opinion that the grand jury had not made a sufficiently thorough investigation.

He therefore ordered them to retire for the purpose of further consideration.

CITY OFFICIALS INDICTED.

Prominent Men Charged With Malfeasance In Office.

Louisville, July 3.—The grand jury has returned indictments against the three members of the board of public safety, Colonel R. J. Tilford, Charles A. Wilson and Daniel E. O'Sullivan, and Chief of Police Thomas H. Taylor, charging them with malfeasance in office.

The indictments charge that the defendants, all of whom have control of the Louisville police force, have willfully and flagrantly violated and neglected the city in failing to close the three poolrooms in this city.

True bills were also returned against the Turf Exchange, the Newmarket and the Suburban poolrooms and against the private policemen who watch these resorts. It is the culmination of an effort started some time ago to close the poolrooms and stop all gambling.

STRANGE PHENOMENON.

Continuous Rise and Fall of the Sea Near Barcelona.

Barcelona, Spain, July 3.—There was a strange phenomenon here on Thursday. The sea rose and fell a yard every ten minutes for several hours. The moorings of the British warship Surprise were carried away, and she had to put to sea. The same phenomenon occurred at the time of the Krakatoa earthquake.

Krakatoa was a volcanic island in the strait of Sunda, the passage between the islands of Sumatra and Java from the Indian ocean into the sea of Java. The island, which had an area of 13 square miles, was destroyed by an earthquake and disappeared in 1883. It was situated in latitude 6 south and longitude 105 east.

Damage Verdict Set Aside.

Boston, July 3.—A verdict of $24,500 in favor of Lewis Olsen, who sued the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad for damages, has been set aside and a new trial granted by Judge Hopkins of the Suffolk superior court. Olsen, who lives in Cambridge, lost both legs by being run over while at work for the Boston Bridge works on April 13, 1896, building a drawbridge over Fort Point channel. The verdict was the largest returned in the superior court for Suffolk in a personal injury case for a year.

Large Miners' Strike Threatened.

St. Louis, July 3.—Coal operators are aroused over the announcement that the United Mine Workers have ordered a strike for July 4, and the presidents and general managers of several of the big companies having headquarters here have gone to their mines in Illinois and Missouri to look into the situation. The consensus of opinion among the operators is that the strike will be a long one and that as a result the price of coal will advance, though not at once.

Chauncey Depew's Niece to Marry.

London, July 3.—Miss Anna Hegeman, niece and ward of Mr. Chauncey M. Depew, will be married in Paris on July 8 to Baron de Brisson. The baron is an officer of the French army and son of the Count de Brisson, who was secretary of the French legation at Washington during Mr. Lincoln's first administration.

Electrotype Men Strike.

Pawtucket, R. I., July 3.—Thirty plate strippers employed at the works of the New England Electrotype Copper company at Central Falls have gone on strike. They claim that their time has been five hours a day and their pay $1.90 and that they have been notified that hereafter their time will be ten hours a day and their pay $1.50.

Held on the Charge of Murder.

Boston, July 2.—Thomas J. Haney, whose blow upon the jaw of James Cahill during a quarrel caused Cahill to fall and sustain injuries from which he died later, was arraigned in the municipal court on a charge of murder. He was without counsel and waived examination. He has been ordered held without bail for the grand jury.

Award of Salvage.

New York, July 3.—The Merritt Wrecking company has ben awarded $11,405.46 by Judge Brown of the United States district court as salvage on a part of the cargo taken from the steamship Leamington, which went ashore on the Long Island coast Feb. 4, 1896.

HOW TO SPEND MONDAY.

part of New Jersey will be too attractive to be withstood, and the thousands of wheelmen and wheelwomen will be out for the day or a portion of it. Many wheelmen have taken the advantage of the holidays coming together and will start Sunday for a two days' trip through Jersey or New York. The Y. M. C A. cyclers have arranged an all-day run for Monday, taking in Staten Island, New York and the Hudson county boulevard.

The lovers of horses will make their way to the Gentlemen's Driving Park in the afternoon and match their fast trotter with those of their friends. Other horsemen will spend part of the day speeding their fast horses and handsome turnouts over the smooth roads in the neighborhood.

At Dunellen the day will be observed in a most complete manner and the old style of celebrating the Fourth will be revived. In the morning about 11 o'clock the celebration will commence with games of all sorts, including cycle races, running races, high kicking, etc. The games will be continued in the afternoon and after the games preparations will be made for the evening's display of fireworks, which will be a grand one. The entire affair will be under the supervision of Wm. G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., and the committee in charge are making every arrangement for a glorious time. The event will be held at the end of the tr lley line and is very easy to reach.

IndependenceDay will be celebrated in old time fashion in Westfield under the auspices of Bucket and Engine Company No. 1. At 7:30 a. m., a bicycle parade will take place. At 9 a. m., all the races with the exception of the bicycle contests will take place. They will include three foot races, a sack race, a wheelbarrow race, and a tub race on Clark's Lake.

The Westfield club baseball team will play the Ben Hur team on the North Broad street grounds, the game commencing at 10:30 a. m. At noon, clam chowder will be served at Henry's Park on Elm street.

The bicyele races will commence at 2 o'clock. There will be six races: A one half mile scratch; one and two mile races and a five mile handicap. At 2:30 o'clock a greased pole climbing contest will take place on Broad street.

The Rhode Island clam bake at Henry's Park on Elm street will be held at 4 o'clock.

Rev. Henry Ketcham will deliver the oration of the day at this time and day fireworks and music by the Union county band will add to the attractions. At 2:30 o'clock a bandi cap tennis tournament will be held on the courts of the Westfield Club. The fireworks display will take place on the North Broad street baseball grounds beginning at 7:30 o'clock. In the evening a dance will be given at the Westfield Club house.

WHAT OTHER PEOPLE SAY.

Something of the Great Wallace Shows That Come to Plainfield Soon.

The Great Wallace Shows, which will exhibit in Plainfield, Wednesday, July 14th, are said to be this season among the largest in America. The press of the cities wherever the institution has visited are lavish in their praise of the enterprise and the management appears to be living up to their advertisements in every respect. The following is from the Clearfield (Pa.) Public Spirit:

The Great Wallace Shows arrived here yesterday morning from Punxsutewney and at once commenced the erection of their large tents on the Leitzinger lots on the west side. The work was rapidly done and in a short time the tents were up and everything was in readiness for the magnificent street parade advertised. There was a noticeable absence of profanity during the unloading process, everything being conducted in a quiet, orderly manner.

The street parade started from the show grounds at 10 o'clock and traversed the principal streets of the town. It was by far the best street exhibition ever given by any show in our town. The wagons and cages are newly painted, and the horses are the finest ever seen here.

A large crowd turned out to the performance in the afternoon and they were well repaid for their trouble. For two hours and a half they were treated to an exhibition the like of which has never been shown by any circus in this section of the State. Everything was first-class from beginning to end, and no fault could be found with a single act.

The show was brimful of new features, and is a decided and pleasing innovation in the circus line.

One of the best features of the show was the entire absence of everything in the "skin game" line, the management not allowing a fakir of any description to operate on or about the grounds. Everything about the shows is clean and new, and it is indeed a model circus.

Following the above report an opinion concerning the collection of the above according to the laws of the State was given by Borough Counsel Reed. It was annexed to the report of the committee. Mr. Reed quoted the law on the subject and said that the tax must be collected within two years, when it becomes outlawed. Taxes are delinquent six months after December 20th, and the collector should take proper steps to collect the tax at that time through the usual course provided by law. Regarding personal property, Mr. Reed said that the sale of this property is absolute and the purchaser is the final owner. It does not revert back to the original owner after the expiration of a certain length of time as in the case of real estate. The report and opinion was received and filed with the thanks of the Council to the committee for their excellent work.

The Mayor appointed Raymond G. Schenck, James Stewart, Geo. Weiss and F. B. Coddington as special marshals, and the same were confirmed by the Council.

The police ordinance and the ordinance regulating and creating the office of borough engineer were both passed on a third reading. An amendment was offered by Mr. Burtis to the ordinance regulating the fire department, which provides that an engine, hose and hook and ladder company be organized in the borough. The former shall not consist of more than forty members, and the hose company shall be limited to twenty-five members, while the membership of the latter company shall not be over twenty-five. All members shall respond to at least fifty per cent. of the alarms. This amendment was adopted and referred to the proper committee for examination.

Mr. MacLaughlin offered a resolution providing for the purchase of eight copies of the new borough laws. Another resolution by the same Councilman provided for the purchase of a record book for the fire department. The action of Collector Spencer in paying the monthly pay roll, amounting to $369 49, was confirmed by the Council.

Mr. Woolston offered a resolution that a warrant be drawn for $300 to pay the interest for six months due on the amount borrowed for the opening of Watchung avenue. Another resolution called for the borrowing of $1,500 the same to be charged to the road account, and Mr. Woolston submitted a third resolution which provided for the transfer of $51.70 from the fire department account to that of the road account, which amount was expended in grading about the West End Hose house.

There was some discussion regarding the repair of Brook avenue and the macadamizing of Sycamore avenue. About the latter it was said that just as soon as the property owners collect the pledged amount of 50 per cent. toward the work, the borough stands willing to go ahead with the work.

The last business transacted was the reception of a resolution offered by Mr. Burtis which provides that hereafter all business relative to any committee shall be transacted in committee meeting before it is introduced into the Council. This resolution was unanimously adopted and received the commendation of the Mayor. The Council then went into executive session upon the suggestion of Mr. MacLaughlin, presumably for the purpose of appointing a regular marshal in place of Mr. Graeder, who resigned.

RACED FAST ON CYCLES.

AMATEURS PEDALED TO WIN EVEN BY A TIRE'S WIDTH.

Crescent Wheelmen's Tenth Annual Meet Was a Success in Providing Exciting Contests, But the Crowd Was Not Large.

Numerous entries, fast racing and a pleasant day all combined to make the tenth annual race meet of the Crescent Wheelmen, held yesterday afternoon on the Crescent Oval, a great success as far as that part of the meet was concerned, but as far as the audience went, it was not. Barely 700 people were standing about the grounds or sitting on the stands. There is evidently something the matter with bicycle racing in Plainfield. While the meet was not advertised outside of Plainfield until a day or two before the meet, yet the strangers outnumbered the townsfolk that went to the races.

The races were good. There were no professional events on the programme and many of the crack a-jacks of the amateur ranks were elsewhere, but the entries were numerous and the riders were in for all there was in it and rode well and fast. The track was not in the best of condition, especially at the short turn to the right of the grand stand. The loose gravel there made the turn dangerous and many falls resulted. Falls at other places were quite frequent, but nobody was hurt beyond sundry scrapes and cuts and bruises.

A little wind made the riding rather hard on the long turn, but it was not sufficient to affect the time in any degree. It was very warm, however, and the 700 spectators took turns in yelling at the racers and mopping the perspiration from their brows.

A word of commendation should be said for the management in the manner in which the events were run off. There were no tiresome delays between the different events and everything passed off quickly and smoothly and to the satisfaction of the audience.

The novices made a good showing. They were numerous and rode hard and fast, furnishing many exciting finishes. Phillip Cregier delighted his club mates of the Cleveland Cyclers of this city by riding second to H. Potter, of Rahway, in the first heat. In the final heat, six riders sprawled ovor the track at the short turn and Potter was among them. Darby, of Brooklyn, won with Cregier a wheel behind. The second and third heats of that race were won by colored men, one of whom was accused of being the cause of the tumble in the final. W. A. Leek, of Morristown, took the first of a series of four tumbles and had to be carried into the dressing room.

William M. McCutchen did not appear for the one mile open and the Knickerbocker Athletic Club team, Owen and O'Connors, had everything their own way in the first heat and in the final. They made a pretty finish, Owen winning in each case by half a wheel. The second heat had to be run over, Harry Lister, of the Crescent Wheelmen, taking second.

They were four heats to the two-third mile handicap. R. R. Howard, of Yale University, team mate of McCutchen's, was the only scratch man to start. He had just caught the bunch on the first third when four riders went down ahead of him on the fatal turn and the Yale men rode over the prostrate form of one of them before he could stop. Tumbles occurred in every heat. The final was close.

The mile handicap was run in three fast heats. In the first, O'Connor was the virtual scratchman though starting from the thirty yard mark. He caught the bunch but was pocketed on the home stretch and had five spokes pulled out from his front wheel by the pedal of another rider. O'Conner was thrown but not injured.

Owen rode from scratch in the second heat but the effort was too much and he could not get better than the sixth. In the third heat, Lindley M. Hillman, of the Plainfield High School, had entered but the handicapper had forgotten to award a handicap. He was put at the thirty yard mark by Referee Gentle and fell out after catching the bunch on the last lap. Harry Lister won that heat. The final was not close and Lister finished third.

The two mile handicap was rather an easy thing for the men were well bunched at the start. The real race did not come until the last lap and then the race wound up with an exciting finish, inches separating the first bunch of riders.

The two mile tandem was ridden twice. A time limit of 4:45 was put on the race by Referee Gentle and the riders would not ride fast enough. Doyle and his partner were compelled to pace the entire distance but then finished third. The Knickerbocker team won easily. One tandem spilled its riders in the last lap. The time

SIZZ! BANG! THEN FIRE

PYROTECHNICS MAKE THE FIRE DEPARTMENT WORK.

Conflagrations That Threatened Various Buildings With Destruction Were Extinguished Before Getting Headway.

About 11 o'clock last night an alarm of fire was sounded in North Plainfield. The number sounded was 111, and as there is no such box number there is a sort of a mystery about the alarm. The Prideville fire department responded, but they had a run for nothing.

The efforts of somebody to celebrate the Fourth resulted in a small fire on the roof of the barn of Mrs. F. T. Ketcham, of East Fifth street, this morning at 10:45 o'clock. The crackle of the blazing wood attracted the attention of the inmates of the house. E. C. Mulford, of East Fifth street, was driving by at the time and sent in an alarm from box 23. The fire department responded promptly and the blaze was soon extinguished with the stream from the chemical engine. There was no hay in the barn and the damage was slight. It was fully covered by insurance. The lad who lives at the house was away at the time, but says that he saw another boy throw a firecracker on the roof some time before. The fire started from that or something that fell on the roof from last night's fireworks and smouldered until morning.

A fire broke out yesterday afternoon in the storage house of the Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company on West Front street near Grant avenue. The watchman at the Potter Press Works discovered the fire and pulled Box 45. While the department was responding the neighbors formed a bucket brigade and kept the fire under control until the firemen arrived. The fire started in a quantity of salt hay close to the house, caused by sparks from a locomotive. A line of hose stretched in by Alert's Company from a nearby hydrant soon extinguished the flames. The damage will be about $50. The insurance will cover the loss.

Yesterday at Dunellen the dry grass, in the field opposite Central Park, was set on fire by some boys who were shooting off fire crackers. The grass burned fiercely and it was finally agreed that the department should respond. When the firemen arrived the fire was out. The fire caused considerable excitement.

The projectoscope and all the outfit of Thomas Schaffer and Moses Terrill, including their clothes, was destroyed by fire at Boynton Beach, last night. They had established the instrument in the old bowling alley building and received their current from a trolley wire. It is supposed that the current was so strong that it set fire to the place. The building was saved but the apparatus was destroyed.

The Grant avenue railway station was found to be on fire at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening. The blaze was under the porch of the building and very hard to get at. Charles W. Barras, of 221 Stebbins avenue, removed a loose plank and extinguished the flames.

Gave Blows for Insults.

Wm. Parker, a colored waiter in the City Hotel, had some trouble with a party of boys on East Front street, early yesterday morning. He claims that they used insulting language to him. One of the boys, Arthur Jennings, says Parker struck him. Chas. Bogert is said to have come to Jennings' rescue and broken a board on Parker's head. A lad named Pope claims that Parker kicked him in the mouth and broke a tooth. The boys say Parker was drunk.

Fractured Several Small Bones.

While John Burke, of West End, was working in the sand pit near the Potter Press Works, last Saturday, he fractured several small bones in his leg. He was using a dirt scoop, when one of the chains broke allowing the heavy piece of iron to strike his leg with sufficient force to fracture a number of small bones. He was assisted to his home and medical aid was summoned. Mr. Burke will be confined to his house for some time as he is unable to use his leg.

Lights That Are Not of Service.

The committee on trees and lights of the Common Council made tours of the city on last Wednesday and Thursday nights to inspect the present system of street lightning. It was found that in many places the lights are obscured by the foliage of trees, so as to be of no service whatever. The committee is preparing its report to the Common Council upon the matter of substituting arc lights for incandescent lights upon the principal streets of the city.

HAIL TO THE WOMEN!

HER FREEDOM FROM BALLOT RESTRAINT DECLARED AT LINCOLN.

Housewives and Maidens Invited to Participate in the First Election and Two of the Fair Sex Were Chosen as Solons.

Hail to the women!

Mark the day of their emancipation from the ban of participation in public duties—July 5th! And on a day when the celebration of the declaration of independence of the United States was being observed with patriotic pyrotechnics, the freedom of the women of Lincoln from ballot restraint was declared with great gusto.

Lincoln is the new town that was established a year ago and yesterday, for the first time, its citizens gathered in the town hall to organize a local government. As might be expected, the men took the initiative in arranging the preliminaries. A caucus was called and Silas D. Drake, the founder of the place, made its chairman.

The men who attended the caucus had gone so far as to nominate Chairman Drake for Mayor, and to determine that there should be four members of the Common Council. Two of the latter had been decided on in the persons of Rev. J. B. Cleaver and R. P. Bache, when Mr. Drake arose and said that he had a new idea which he believed would not only be popular, but just. He proposed that women have a voice in the government by having the Council divided as to sex, and to also permit them to vote at the election. The suggestion was received with varying phases of emotion by the other men, but the persuasive words of Drake finally prevailed.

"This meeting stands adjourned for a half hour," yelled Drake, "and I appoint you Sam Johnson, George Godfrey and Abe Gulick a committee to bring the women here, or as many as will come."

The committee departed and were seen hustling around many back doors, and in the course of a half hour twenty-seven mature housewives and comely maidens had joined the men at the town hall. Drake explained his idea and it was received with satisfaction on the part of the fair sex. A canvass among the women developed the candidacy of Miss Emma Egel and Mrs. Oliva Hazard for Councilmanic honors. They proved acceptable to the men and then, with a few other nominations, the ticket was completed. The polls were opened immediately afterward with L. S. Cook and George Ramsey as tellers. Forty-nine votes were cast, of which twenty-seven were by the women, and the nominees were declared to be the officials of Lincoln.

Many of the women had come direct from their housework and gave a domestic touch to the political affair. The announcement of the election was followed with a great chattering of voices until Mayor Drake found his voice and called for order. Then the Mayor delivered a speech full of nice words for the women. He said that he believed the two women who were chosen as town solons would act to the credit of the community and prove that their sex was equal to the performance of the public functions now exclusively monopolized by the men.

Miss Egel is just past twenty-one years of age, handsome of face and figure. Her associate in the Council is thirty years of age and the thrifty housewife of George Hazard, an employe of the Quaker Oats Company.

When Mayor Drake was seen last night by a Press reporter he said that the idea of having women possess equal privileges with the men in the matter of municipal government in Lincoln was prompted by the efforts of the Woman's Town Improvement Association, of Plainfield, who have suggested to many city officials a fuller conception of their duties, and who have also inaugurated several admirable reforms on their own account.

The purposes of the municipal organization are to exercise more of a moral influence than a legal authority. As a matter of fact the community is not yet in a position to organize under the State borough act, but it is intended that in every detail the town's officials shall act as though their determinations were binding. Lincoln people are adhering to the theory that the organization among themselves will yield such moral influence that when matters directly effecting them come before the Piscataway township committee, in whose bailiwick they live, the latter will bow to their demands or requests as mirrored in the actions of the officials named yesterday.

—The coldest drink in town? Yes, sure, that is what you are seeking now. And where? Charles Hall, the Watchung avenue pharmacist, says that he has it, and he has. Drop in and try it. It is cooling.

A RIP ROARING TIME.

OLD FASHIONED CELEBRATION ENJOYED AT WESTFIELD.

Games of Excitement and Diversions of a Humorous Character Gave the Crowd Enough to Keep Their Attention All Day.

A large crowd of visitors was in Westfield yesterday to witness the old-fashioned Independence Day celebration, under the auspices of Bucket and Engine Company No. 1, which began at sunrise with the ringing of bells and the firing of the national salute from the old cannon, "Star of the East." The gun squad was in command of George W. Peek, Jr.

At 7:30 a. m., the bicycle parade, under the direction of Dr. Fred A. Kinch, started from the railway station park and took its line of march about the town. About 400 wheelmen participated in the parade, which consisted of a family division, under the command of E. J. Whitehead, C. E. Pearsall and J. D. Ritchie, a costume division in charge of C. H. Denman, M. H. Dewey and A. A. Smith, and an I. O. S. division led by L. S. Thompson, F. A. Taggart and R. H. Harden. R. I. Townley and J. A. Brunner acted as pace makers and L. Pearsall and B. A. Chamberlain were the buglers. Many unique costumes appeared in the parade.

At 9 a. m. the races and games were held, under the direction of J. M. C. Marsh and Isaac Seeley. In the 100 yard dash John Crooks won the first prize and Charles Michel the second. In the 220 yard dash Charles Michel was first and Smith, of Rahway, came in second. A sack race was next held, and in this the first prize went to A. L. Wragg and the second to Edward Bolden. In the potato race, James Macmahon took first prize and Joseph Denero second.

The crowds flocked to Clark's Lake at 10 o'clock to witness the tub race. Charles Embleton won first prize and John Pfeiffer second.

The baseball game between the Westfield club team and the Ben Hur A. A. team, of Brooklyn, was the next event on the programme. The game was a close one until the fifth and sixth innings, but some heavy batting by the visitors and the home team's weak fielding gave the Ben Hurs the game by the score of 21 to 16.

Immediately after the ball game clam chowder was served by the clambake committee in Henry's park, on Elm street.

The bicycle races, under the management of John F. Dorvall, began at 2 o'clock with the half mile scratch. Fred Slater, of Rahway, won the first prize, a silver medal, and C. K. Pennington came in second. In the next race, a one mile handicap, the first prize, a silver medal, was won by Howard Manning, Jr., and the second prize, a cyclometer, went to Arthur Hurst. The one mile fat men's handicap race was won by John Utsinger, whose prize was a silver medal; and the second prize, a bottle of bay rum, was captured by Charles Burtis. In the two-mile handicap N. Goltra finished first and H. Manning, second. The prizes were a silver medal and a year's subscription to a local newspaper. The one mile boys' handicap race was won by W. J. Bogert, Jr., and N. Goltra, second. The prizes were a Brown saddle and a 20th Century lamp. The 5-mile handicap was the last race. The first prize, a silver and gold medal, was won by C. K. Pennington, and the second prize, a pair of Chase tires, went to J. Brown. The award of the second prize was contested on the ground that Brown was coached.

A Rhode Island temperance clambake was held at Henry's Park, on Elm street, at 3 o'clock, under the direction of C. P. Wilcox and Chief William Dockerman, of Elizabeth. Rev. Henry Ketcham delivered a patriotic oration, and music and other attractions were incidental to the bake.

A grand display of fireworks took place at night on the North Broad street baseball grounds. Preceding the fireworks there was an exhibition of fancy bicycle riding, which was ended abruptly by an accident to one of the performers. The display was witnessed by about 2,500 people.

During the day a tennis tournament was played on the courts of the Westfield Club. Edward Payne won the tournament, with R. I. Townley second. During the afternoon a tennis tea was served and in the evening a dance took place in the club house.

The Union County band furnished music throughout the day and evening.

The committee in charge of the celebration consisted of Cyrus P. Wilcox, Elmer E. Love, Geo. B. Millmer, Charles H. Denman, C. F. W. Wittke, Charles Cox and Mat Miller.

NOISY PATRIOTS HURT.

MANY ACCIDENTS, THOUGH NONE SERIOUS, ARE RECORDED.

One Man Had His Nose Clipped by a Flying Bullet—John Kenney's Hands Burned—Asleep and Fell Into the Brook.

The Fourth of July and its succeeding days are always busy ones for the M. D.'s. The observance of the Declaration of Independence yesterday in noisy moods by patriots of 1897, young and otherwise, was accompanied by the expected number of accidents, but none proved serious in this section. Those reported are as follows:

Joseph Ingersoll, an employe of N. B. Smalley, of the borough, was thrown from a horse yesterday afternoon while racing on the track at the Gentlemen's Driving Park. When he fell he struck on the back of his head causing a severe bruise. He was picked up by friends and taken to the hospital where he was properly treated. His injuries are not serious and he will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

Among the peculiar accidents which happened yesterday afternoon was the one on West Front street, opposite Scheuer's grocery store. Three men were passing at that point when one of them discharged a pistol with a ball cartridge. The ball struck an iron trolley pole and rebounded to an upper story window which was occupied by Mr. Harkins, the owner of the fancy goods store on the first floor. The piece of lead struck Mr. Harkins on the nose, but fortunately with not sufficient force to do any serious damage. The men disapperred suddenly and their names were not secured.

A peculiar accident occurred Sunday night at the Rice barn on Duer street when a horse owned by Nathan Blackford, of Piscataway, became so frightened over the celebration of Fourth of July that he jumped from his stall and landed astride the manger. The noise made by the animal awoke the near-by neighbors who went to the rescue of the animal. Mr. Blackford, who is staying with his brother-in-law, John A. Thickstun, of Duer street, and J. Newton Honeyman succeed in getting the horse out of his perilous position through the use of a saw. The manger was removed and thus the horse was allowed to resume his normal position.

Rex, a pet setter dog, belonging to Milton C. Barkalew, of No. 85 Duer street, died during last night, from the effects of the heat and fright at exploding cannons, fire crackers, etc.

Last night while some boys were shooting sky-rockets on Front street, opposite Somerset street, the ball of fire from a rocket made its way through the window in the Stone Square Lodge rooms and completely smashed the glass. After entering the room it made a rapid dash across the hall and thoroughly frightened the members present. The damage was slight.

While Sheridan Jones, of this city, was sleeping on the bank of Green brook yesterday afternoon, he accidentally rolled off into the water. The sudden ducking brought Jones to his senses, but if it had not been for Matthew Coon, of Watchung avenue, Jones would probably have drowned. Mr. Coon saw the affair and rescued Jones quickly. The accident happened back of French's mill.

J. J. Kennev had his right hand badly burned last evening. He was holding a Roman candle in front of his residence on East Second street, when the candle burst in his hand, badly burning it.

Harry and Jennie Kramer, two trick bicycle riders, gave an exhibition of fancy riding on the baseball grounds in Westfield last evening, preceding the fireworks display. They were on an old-fashioned high wheel; the man was pedaling and the woman attempted to climb to his shoulders when she slipped and fell, striking upon her back. The woman lay upon the ground screaming with pain and unable to rise. She was taken in a wagon to her hotel. Dr. Fred A. Kinch attended the woman. It is thought that her spine was seriously injured.

Couldn't Prove the Charge.

John Thomas, a colored man, was arraigned before Justice Mosher, Saturday afernoon, on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Mrs. Mary Levine, of Cottage place. William G. DeMeza appeared as Thomas' counsel. After hearing the evidence, the Justice discharged Thomas.

Martin Act Commissioners to Meet.

On Thursday afternoon and evening of this week the Commissioners appointed to serve under the Martin Act, will convene in the City Council rooms to meet those interested in the enforcement of the act. The Council will also meet in the evening of the same day.

OVER AT THE PARK CLUB

HOW THE FOURTH WAS CELEBRATED AT THAT POPULAR RESORT.

Baseball, Tennis, a Tea and Reception and Finally Fireworks and a Dance Gave the Members a Very Busy Day.

Even before the first rays of the sun rested on the Park clubhouse, yesterday, the junior members were out celebrating with firecracker and cannon the arrival of Independence Day. For some time the Fourth of July committee had been planning a club celebration for the Fourth, or rather the Fifth, and yesterday was the culmination of their efforts. There was baseball, tennis, a tea and reception, and finally fireworks and a dance.

While the junior members began the celebration at an early hour, it was on their own account, and the programme of the club did not begin until 10 o'clock, when a game of baseball was played between the nines of the Park Club and the Union County Country Club. The game was played on the Washington avenue grounds, near the Park Club.

The batting order of the teams at the start was as follows:

Park Club.	Union County C. C.
Dupee, p.,	Townley, c.,
Hallock, rf.,	Bolsterli, p.,
Freeman, 2b.,	Runyon, 3b.,
McGee, 1b.,	Place, 2b.,
Sandford, ss.,	Murray, W. F., cf.,
Laing, cf.,	Cooley, ss.,
Taylor, lf.,	Holmes, lf
Thiers, c.,	Erickson, 1b.,
Ball, 3b.,	Murray, R. F., rf.,

The Country Club was unable to find a battery among its members, and so Bolsterli and Townley were imported for the occasion. Several other players were lacking and the young men of the city were used to fill them. The Parks had their team, battery and all.

The score by innings was as follows:

Country Club	3	0	0	6	0	—9

The tennis tournament began in the morning and continued through the afternoon. The junior matches were played and the preliminaries of the senior singles. In the junior singles, class A, Donald McGee won from Vaughn McGee and Howard Roome, and was awarded the prize, a gold pencil. In the junior doubles, same class, Edward Overton and Donald McGee defeated Vaughn McGee and Howard Roome for the prize, pearl cuff buttons. There were several matches in the junior singles, class B. William Townsend defeated Arthur Peck, Clarence Roome defeated Fred Overton, Clarence Roome defeated William Towsend, and William J. Roome, Jr., defeated Clarence Roome. He received the prize, a gold and aluminum watch chain. In the doubles, same class, William J. Roome, Jr., and Clarence S. Roome defeated William Townsend and Arthur Townsend. The prizes were compass watch charms.

In the senior singles, Carl Stedman Brown defeated Arthur Murphy, Percy Sandford defeated Allan Laing, Charles Dupee defeated William J. R. Thiers. F. O. Ball drew a bye. The semi-finals and finals will be played at a later date. The prize is a silver cup. The entries for the senior doubles are Charles Dupee and Carl Stedman Brown, and Percy Sandford and F. O. Ball. Silver mounted pipes will be awarded. After the prizes have been won, the other members will have the right to challenge for them.

An afternoon tea was held during the afternoon and was largely attended. The guests were received by Mrs. W. J. Roome and Mrs. James T. Scott, assisted by the Misses VanDeventer, Barlowe, Ball and Murphy. At 5 o'clock an exhibition of day fireworks was held.

In the evening came the regular exhibit of fireworks which was witnessed by several hundred members and guests and many others outside the grounds. The fireworks were good and all went off smoothly without accident to mar the occasion. Then the young people adjourned to the clubhouse and danced the remainder of the evening. The patronesses for the dance were Mrs. Charles A. Reed, Mrs. Benj. Day, Mrs. E. T. Douglas, Mrs. Samuel Townsend, Mrs. James T. Scott, Mrs. George D. Hallock, Mrs. W. J. Roome, Mrs. Walter M. McGee, Mrs. George P. Dupee and Mrs. F. H. Ball.

A Family Picnic.

A family picnic was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. L. J. Denton, of Prospect Hill. There were about twenty-eight relatives present, and the day was thoroughly enjoyed in a social manner. The affair was given in honor of B. A. Brown and family, of Bristol, Conn.

THE MINERS' STRIKE

Under the Direction of Officers of the United Mine Workers.

HAS NOT YET BECOME GENERAL.

It Is Nevertheless a Gigantic Movement and Will Be Farreaching In Its Effects—In Some Places the Men Have Refused to Join.

Pittsburg, July 6.—The great struggle of the coal miners was inaugurated throughout the Pittsburg district yesterday. It was a day of mass meetings. By a preconcerted arrangement of the district executive board of the United Mine Workers meetings were held in nearly every mining settlement that was represented at Saturday's convention in this city, and the miners were implored not to falter in the great struggle that has begun.

When it is learned just how many men refuse to go to work, then the magnitude of the strike will manifest itself. Much doubt is expressed as to the action of the Pittsburg and Chicago miners on the Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio; the M. A. Hanna & Co.'s miners on the Pan Handle, who are working under the 60 cent rate under an ironclad contract, and the New York and Cleveland miners at Turtle Creek, Plum Creek and Sandy Creek. The miners' officials claim these men will strike, and the operators say they will not. In speaking of the strike President Dolan said:

"The coming week will be a busy one. I have every reason to believe that with the exception of a very few mines the suspension will be general. Our men realize that this is the fight of their lives, and from the expressions of determination I hear on all sides I have every reason to believe the strike will be successful."

"How long will it last, you ask? That s a difficult question to answer. But of one thing you can rest assured. We are in good shape to stay out all summer. By good shape I mean that we have warm weather and a prospective big demand for lake trade coal in sight, which makes the time much more opportune than in winter.

"There is an erroneous impression that by reason of so many industries being shut down there will be little demand for coal. It is not generally known, but the supply of coal for the manufactories in the Pittsburg district is but a drop in the bucket when compared with the lake trade, which supplies the markets where coal mines are practically unknown."

The general suspension, to those in a position to know, present some very discouraging features. The past winter has been severe on the mining craft. Business has been very dull, and in addition the lowest rate ever paid in the district prevailed for the little work that was done. Women and children have been sufferers nigh unto starvation, and many of them have been wards of the county. With spring the conditions were a little improved, and during the past month many mines have been running continuously. What little has been earned will be used in paying debts contracted during the reign of semistarvation. It is expected at the meetings today to make an effort to convince the miners that by reason of the suspension being general victory is likely to follow. It will be argued that the public is in favor of the miners being paid a higher price, and that general support will be forthcoming.

Illinois Men Join.

Morris, Ills., July 6.—In compliance with the general order the miners of the Wilmington coalfields, including all Grundy county miners, have gone on strike. The Placeville miners decided to square up places, refusing, however, to load coal. Some Italians at Carbon Hill refused to strike, and in consequence a mine was partially operated today. Other mines have practically been on strike several days. The siege promises to be a long one.

Indorsed the Strike.

Brazil, Ind., July 6.—A mass meeting of miners has been held here. By a unanimous vote the meeting indorsed the action of the miners Saturday in declaring a suspension. The operators called a committee of the miners in session and argued with them against suspending, but it was of no avail.

Iowa Men Have Not Yet Struck.

Ottumwa, Ia., July 6.—All miners in this district are working. They are poorly organized. No strike is anticipated by the operators.

Still Working at Peoria.

Peoria, Ills., July 6.—None of the coal miners in this vicinity have quit work yet or have signified their intention of so doing.

Gloucester Miners Indorse the Strike.

Gloucester, O., July 6.—Miners here have indorsed the strike.

Death of Judge A. P. Smith.

Cortland, N. Y., July 6.—Abram P. Smith, county judge and surrogate of Cortland county from 1867 to 1883, died at his home in this place of heart trouble, aged 66 years. Judge Smith was the oldest legal practitioner in Cortland county, having been engaged in the active practice of his profession for over 40 years. He was a member of the Seventy-sixth New York volunteers and wrote a history of that regiment.

Accident to a Banker.

Saratoga, July 6.—Spencer Trask, the New York banker, had a narrow escape from death here. He was bicycling down Philadelphia street when his machine became uncontrollable. He was thrown under the feet of a horse, but fortunately escaped with a few bruises.

Arrival of Wounded Cubans.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 6.—Twelve Cubans have landed at Rio Nuewa after a terrible passage in an open boat. Among them were four wounded men. The officials have seized 80 letters addressed to persons living in the United States.

Killed by a Derrick.

Buffalo, July 6.—John Kazmerzak, employed on a coal scow was caught beneath a moving derrick used on the boat while at work and instantly killed. The body was frightfully mangled. Kazmerzak was 25 years old and married.

SHIP ON FIRE AT SEA

Thrilling Story Told by Sailors of the Belle of Bath.

WAS BURNED TO WATER'S EDGE

The Men Escaped In Small Boats and Sailed One Hundred and Fifty Miles to Effect a Landing—Seamen Were Accused of Starting the Fire.

New York, July 6.—On board the Prince line steamer Sardinian Prince, which has just arrived from South American ports via Barbados, were Chief Officer T. Cox, Second Officer George Harris and 15 seamen belonging to the ship Belle of Bath of Searsport, Mo., which left this port on June 2 bound for Hongkong with a cargo of case oil, and which took fire and was burned at sea on June 18.

The vessel quickly became a mass of flames, and the ship's crew were compelled to take to the boats and sailed a distance of 150 miles to Barbados, which port was reached on Sunday morning, the 20th. Captain Curtis, the Belle of Bath's master, remained at Barbados and expected to sail for home within a few days.

The following particulars of the loss of the vessel was learned from the crew at quarantine: The Belle of Bath left New York on June 2. All went well until the 9th, when the vessel was found to be leaking. The men were at once set to work at the pumps. They worked in gangs for nine days, until the 18th, when fire was discovered in the forecastle.

The captain, on being notified, ran forward and ordered the hatches battened down and the ship hove to. Dense volumes of black smoke rolled out of the forecastle, and it was evident that the ship was doomed.

The boats were provisioned and ordered to be lowered. Within half an hour after the alarm was given the ship was one mass of flames.

The crew got into the three boats and lay to to leeward of the vessel for about 15 minutes, when the flames suddenly burst out, and the vessel became a mass of flames.

The captain then gave orders to sail for Barbados, and the three boats reached Carlisle bay within 48 hours. The crew could give no reason as to the cause of the fire, although it was reported at Barbados that Captain Curtis accused the crew of setting fire to the ship in order to escape the work at the pumps.

Crew Denied Firing the Vessel.

This the crew indignantly denied. They stated that the vessel had fair weather until the afternoon of June 9 and that the pumps had been kept going to keep the vessel free. About 6 p. m. of this date the well was sounded and the vessel found to be making water rapidly.

The entire crew were at once ordered to the pumps, and they finally succeeded in getting her free. Shortly afterward, the leak still continuing, the men were put in gangs to pump the vessel day and night. The leak was kept under control, but after a week's constant labor the crew became exhausted.

They bore up bravely until the 17th, when a strong gale was encountered, and the leak increased faster than they could pump it out. They were encouraged in their labors by the captain, who had great hopes of reaching Barbados. On the 18th two of the seaman in going into the forecastle discovered a cloud of smoke coming up out of the forehold. They shouted to the second mate, who rushed forward, quickly followed by the captain.

A moment's inspection showed them the vessel's peril. Orders were at once given to heave the ship to. The yards were quickly backed and the three boats made ready to be lowered to the water.

The chief officer and eight seamen got into the first boat, the second mate and five men into the second, the last boat containing the captain and the remaining five men. The captain was the last man to leave the vessel.

The boats pulled to leeward and lay to until the masts were burned out of their vessel, and they then bore away for Barbados. Under light canvas they made 120 miles in 24 hours and finally reached Carlisle bay on the 20th.

The Belle of Bath registered 1,347 tons and was built at Bath, Me., in 1877. Captain Curtis was part owner of the vessel.

Big Fire In Jackson, Miss.

Jackson, Miss., July 6.—Fire was discovered in the store of the Chiles Catchings Furniture company, located in one of the best business blocks in the city, and a general alarm was turned in. On account of poor water pressure the fire was not got under control until it had consumed the furniture store, together with Harrington's drug store, the Lightning Cash store and Spickard's drug store. At one time the entire block, together with the Lawrence House, the leading hotel, was seriously threatened. Loss, about $50,000: insurance, $25,000.

THE HONEST SHAKERS HND THEIR CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA.

The shopkeeper who cheats us by lying with regard to the quality of his goods, and the grocer or butcher who gives us short weights, is a thief. However, their knavery touches nothing but our pocketbook. There is another widespread form of misrepresentation of a far more dangerous and villainous character.

We refer to the false statements and worthless guarantees that frequently accompany medicines. To guarantee a medicine to cure is to brand it as quack product. If we can guarantee to cure disease, then we can guarantee everlasting life, for in a large majority of cases people die of disease, the proportion of violent or accidental deaths being very small.

The Shakers have always been known as a most upright and honorable people and their success in the manufacture of medicines has also been well known. It is therefore not surprising to find them pursuing a very orignal and novel plan for the introduction of their remedy for dyspepsia.

These God fearing people, whose motto has always been "Try all things and hold fast that which is good," have put on the market ten cent sample bottles of their product, or sufficient to give it a trial.

The Shaker Digestive Cordial is so prompt in its action that for the trivial sum of ten cents, a person can usually determine as to whether or not it meets the requirements of his case. There are forms of dyspepsia which it won't help, but these are very rare. In most cases the first dose relieves all distress, and an increase of appetite at once follows.

All druggists have it, and the next time you are troubled with indigestion send out and try the popular and successful product. It represents nearly a hundred years of patient investigation and study.

Something to Depend On.
Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Miss Grace Thompson Brown has returned to her home on Mercer avenue, after a three weeks' visit with friends at Boston.

Old People.
Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic or alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel W. Serrell, of Crescent avenue, drove to Deal Beach yesterday, where they will spend the summer.

Mrs. A. M. Vanderbeek and son, Roy, have returned to their home on Duer street, after spending a week with relatives at North Branch.

"Last summer one of our grandchildren was sick with a severe bowel trouble," says Mrs. E. G. Gregory, of Fredericktown, Mo. "Our doctor's remedy had failed, then we tried Chamberlains Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

Mr. C. L. Hasbrouck, a druggist at Mendon, Mich., says all of the good testimonials that have been published by the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy could be duplicated in that town. For sale By T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves.

Councilman and Mrs. George T. Rogers, of Myrtle avenue, leave next week for Chatham, Mass., where they will remain for two weeks.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.
1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.
The 25 and 50c sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

Mrs. W H. W. Miller and children, of LaGrande avenue, are spending a few weeks at Woodmere Heights, in the Catskills.

You may hunt the world over and you will not find another medicine equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

TO FIX TIME FOR VOTE

Attempts Made to Have the Tariff Bill Reported.

SOME LITTLE PROGRESS WAS MADE.

Two Important Amendments Were Disposed of—New Amendments Made by Individual Senators Voted Upon. Some Promiscuous Balloting.

Washington, July 6.—Senator Allison, in charge of the tariff bill, announced shortly before the adjournment of the senate last night that as no agreement had been reached for a final vote on the tariff bill, he would ask the senate to remain in session tonight at least, until the bill was reported from committee of the whole to the senate. This promises a test of endurance unless the opposition to the bill gives way. Mr. Allison's statement was made after another futile effort to have a time fixed for the vote.

In some respects the senate made good progress, disposing of two important amendments, that placing a stamp tax being agreed to with little or no opposition and without the formality of a vote, while the Spooner amendment proposing a tariff investigation was withdrawn after a protracted struggle. The stamp amendment as agreed to fixes the following rates on bonds, etc.:

"Bonds, debentures or certificates of indebtedness issued after Sept. 15, 1897, by any association, company or corporation, on each $100 of face value or fraction thereof, 5 cents, and on each original issue, whether on organization or reorganization, of certificates of stock by any such association, company or corporation, on each $100 of face value or fraction thereof, 5 cents, and on all transfers of shares or certificates of stock in any association, company or corporation, on each $100 of face value or fraction thereof, 2 cents."

Exemptions from the stamp tax are made in the case of the state, county and municipal bonds and the stocks and bonds of co-operative building associations.

Later several new amendments from individual senators were voted on. One by Mr. Mantle of Montana, reducing the internal revenue tax on distilled spirits, was defeated—23 to 41.

An amendment by Mr. Mills of Texas proposing a tax of 5 per cent on manufactured products, the proceeds to go toward reducing the bonded debt, was rejected—19 to 38. Also an amendment by Mr. Mills granting 20 per cent reduction in duties to those countries admitting gold and silver to their mints at the ratio of 16 to 1—yeas, 26; nays, 31. On this vote one Republican, Mr. V. Carter, voted with the Democrats, Populists and silver Republicans in the affirmative, and two Democrats, Caffery and Bray, voted with the Republicans in the negative.

The following nominations were confirmed: George R. Bidwell to be collector of customs at New York, Wilbur F. Wakeman to be appraiser of merchandise for the district of New York, J. C. Higgins of Delaware to be consul at Dundee, Scotland, Ossian Bedell of New York to be consul at Fort Erie, Ont., R. Wildman of California to be consul at Hongkong, Emory P. Close of New York to be United States attorney for the Northern district of New York, C. S. Russell of Missouri to be receiver of public moneys at Ironton, Mo., L. Patrick to be agent of the Indians at the Sac and Fox agencies in Oklahoma, W. B. Culkin of Buffalo, Minn., to be register of land office at Duluth.

Bills In the House.

The following bills and resolutions have been introduced in the house:

By Mr. Callahan, a resolution for the consideration of the senate free home bill.

By Mr. Shafroth, a bill to regulate charges for berths on sleeping cars. It provides a maximum limitation of charges, as follows: Thirty cents per 100 miles for a lower berth and 25 cents per 100 miles for an upper berth, with a proviso that no charge is required to be less than $1.50 for a lower and $1.25 for an upper berth. The act applies to sleeping cars used in interstate commerce.

By Mr. Ridgely, a resolution directing the speaker to appoint the committee on invalid pensions. The resolution recites the fact that 2,000 general and special pension bills have been introduced at the session and gives the committee leave to sit during the summer vacation.

To Vote on Contested Nominations.

Washington, July 6.—The senate committee on commerce has postponed until tomorrow the vote upon the contested nominations before the committee. There are three of these, as follows: B. H. Warner, Jr., to be consul to Leipsic, John Goodnow to be consul general to Shanghai and F. D. Heustis to be collector of the port for the Puget Sound district in Washington. The Heustis nomination has been held up at the request of Senator Turner, but no charges have been filed. In the Goodnow case Senator Davis and Governor Hough appeared before the committee, urging confirmation on the ground that the opposition was entirely personal. The Warner case went over on account of the absence of Senator Gorman. The understanding is that there will be a vote in each case at the meeting.

Won't Admit Butterine.

Washington, July 6.—Under instructions of the state department United States Consul Dart, at Point-a-Petre, Guadalolupe, has been making an earnest effort to secure the reversal of a regulation in force there forbidding the importation of butterine, a considerable quantity of which was formerly brought from the United States. A cablegram just received from him announces the failure of his efforts, the authorities having returned a final refusal to his application.

Chicago's ex-Police Inspector Dead.

Chicago, July 6.—Ex-Police Inspector Edward D. Laughlin is dead of kidney trouble after nearly a year's illness. Laughlin's service in the Chicago police force extended over a period of 25 years, and he was the hero of many daring pieces of work. He was born in Ireland 54 years ago.

Death of an Old Express Man.

Chicago, July 6.—Anson Gorton, for 10 years western agent for the Wells-Fargo Express company and previously connected for 25 years with the Adams Express company, is dead.

A GREAT SCHEME.

An enormous consolidation scheme is back of this whole Westfield avenue trolley business. There's a road in Plainfield, one in Somerville, two trying to get possession of a line between New Brunswick and Bound Brook, one in Rahway, one in Elizabeth; others here, there and all through the State. The local companies are merely conveniences for handling local conditions. By and by the big company, in whose interests they are all working, will gobble them up.—Elizabeth Journal.

ELIZABETH'S TAX RATE.

The Elizabeth Council sat up all one night and fixed the tax rate for the financial year of the city which has just begun. The rate is $2 88 per $100, the same as last year. It will be noticed that the tax rate in Elizabeth is considerably higher than that in Plainfield or New Brunswick.

ROISTERS BROKE A BELL.

Westfield Presbyterians Exercised Over Antics of Exuberant Youths.

The trustees of the Westfield Presbyterian church have offered a reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of certain persons who on Saturday night broke into the church, broke the bell so that it could not be rung for church on Sunday morning, and wrought other damage in the building.

This year an effort was made to prevent the ringing of church and school bells at midnight, but on Saturday night entrance was forced into the Methodist and Presbyterian churches for the purpose of ringing the bells. The crowd was so large that the constables were unable to check it.

When it was seen what damage had been wrought, the church people were indignant and the Presbyterians resolved to discover and punish the guilty parties.

It is said that the young men implicated in the affair belong to well known families in the town.

PUSHED AND FELL HARD.

Two Hackmen Charged With Causing S. B. Thorn's Injuries.

S. B. Thorn, of East Third street, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon by a fall. The fall occurred in front of the North avenue station on the stones with which the street is paved at that point. Two hackmen are implicated in the case and will have to appear before City Judge DeMeza to answer for their alleged actions. The hackmen are John Kenneny and Moses Carey. The latter is a colored man.

It is alleged that they called something at Mr. Thorn as he was descending the steps and that he made a reply. Then, it is alleged, Carey pushed him and he fell from the sidewalk, cutting a deep gash in his head on the sharp stones. He was taken home in a hack by Sergeant Kiely and Roundsman Flynn. Kennedy was arrested and Carey will be. Kennedy was brought before Judge DeMeza, this morning, and held in $100 bail for trial on Saturday.

Hurt His Arm.

Mr. Johnson, night watchman at the car house of the street railway company, met with a painful accident a few days ago while at work in the house. The injury was to his hand while he was moving some very heavy material from one place to another. At first he thought very little of the accident but it was not long before his arm began to swell. He has suffered intense pain and is now under the care of a doctor. It is thought that blood-poisoning may set in.

Hurt Her Forehead.

Mary Wilson, five years old, daughter of W. W. Wilson, of West Third street, met with an accident Saturday afternoon while her father was assisting her from his grocery wagon near the stable. The little girl struck her head against a wheel on the wagon, inflicting a severe wound on the forehead. Dr. Boone was called and treated the injuries, and the girl is now doing nicely.

A Runaway.

As George P. Mellick, of LaGrande avenue, was getting out of the carriage, Friday afternoon, his horse ran away. He ran to Crescent avenue, turned around, and was stopped in front of Neuman's grocery store. Fortunately, Mr. Mellick was not injured.

SOME NOISY CELEBRANTS

FOLICE CAPTURED MANY FOURTH OF JULY OFFENDERS.

One Man's Defense of a Woman in the West End Got a Number of Persons in the Toils—Other Offenders Lined Up.

Mayor Fisk shared the honors of the bench in the city court with Judge DeMeza, this morning. The Judge passed sentence on a number of offenders while the Mayor listened with interest to the proceedings.

George Feller was arraigned on the charge of being drunk and disorderly on East Front street. The complaint was made by Patrolman Saffron. He said that Feller tried to raise a disturbance in Caspar's Hotel and Caspar asked that he be ejected. The officer said that he twice tried to get the man to go home and behave himself, but that he would not and was consequently locked up. Feller's story was rather incoherent and the Judge decided he was guilty and fined him $5.

Charles Ward and Edward Mead, colored, admitted that they had been shooting craps, yesterday, when arrested by Sergeant Kiely and Roundsman Flynn, yesterday afternoon. They were fined $3 each and warned not to celebrate in that manner again.

The trial of James Luing was adjourned until Monday. Patrolman Flanagan had an adventure with William Brown and now suffers from a dislocated thumb. A fight arose on West Third street, yesterday afternoon, between Brown and William Goff. Goff claims that Brown was fighting with a woman while Brown says that he was only fussing with her. Goff told him to stop. Words followed and then came blows in which Goff was laid out. Brown fled and Flanagan pursued. Brown tried to run past him and the officer grabbed his coat. Brown twisted about so that the officer's thumb was dislocated but he held his man. Brown and Goff were locked up. Goff resisted Sergeant Kiely when the latter went to arrest him and Edward Eskerson assisted in the resistance. Eskerson was also arrested. Those three men and Edmund Brown, a brother of William, were arraigned this morning and pleaded guilty. Eskerson was fined $5, Goff was fined $8, and Brown was fined $10 and sent to jail for ten days. There was no direct evidence against Edmund Brown and his trial was laid over until Saturday to allow time for investigation.

A TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Hillside Club Members Enjoyed a Pleasant Day's Sport.

There was not a very large attendance at the grounds of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club yesterday morning when the foursome were played. The game was an interesting one, however, and those who participated put up good scores. The match was run by Dr. Richards and C. F. Walz in 93 strokes. The other scores were as follows:—William Wadsworth and H. W. Beebe, 99; J. S. Anthony and J. P. Murray, 103: Lester Glenny and F. W. Walz, 111.

The afternoon was devoted to the tennis tournament, which was quite successful and attracted more people. The following scores were made:—Goddard beat Hunter, 6-1; Hunter beat Goddard, 6 4; 6 2; Ryder beat Abbott, 6-1, 6-4; Ryder beat Fish, 6 0, 6 4; Fish beat Richardson, 6-0, 7-5; Simmonds beat Hunter, 6 1, 4 6, 6 2.

The social feature of the affair, which was a tea in the pretty clubhouse, was well attended. Mrs. George Chapman presided and was assisted by several of the young women who frequently attend the teas. Those who attended the grounds passed a most profitable day and enjoyed themselves very much.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Miss Clark, of Plainfield, has been visiting friends in the borough.

Miss Helen Babcock, of Newark, is visiting Mrs. R. L. Fisher, of Prospect place.

Clarence Hillman, of Plainfield, has returned from a visit with friends in the borough.

Mr. Hyser and family, of Brooklyn, are guests of Mr. Warden and family, of the borough.

Miss Edna Huff, of the borough, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chesire, of Oyster Bay, L. I.

Councilman J. G. McLoughlin, of North Plainfield, spent a pleasant afternoon at New Market on the lake.

Thomas Titsworth, of New Market, has purchased the business conducted in Plainfield by Alex Titsworth, and has taken possession.

A large number of Plainfielders sought the cooling breezes to be found at New Market yesterday. Most all of the boats on the lake were in use.

Never has the streets of the borough been so dusty as of late. It is certainly the duty of the members of the borough council to see that some provision for street sprinkling is made. It could be done at a slight expence.

J. B. Conover, an employee of W. H. Cole, is confined to his house the result of injuries received last Saturday afternoon when one of Mr. Cole's horses kicked him in the side. The injuries are not serious but Mr. Conover will be detained from work for sometime.

Sunday evening in the M. E. church the members of the church together with the members of the Presbyterian church celebrated the regular communion service jointly. This is the first record of such service in this part of the country, and certainly speaks well for the harmony existing between the two churches.

An unfortunate accident occurred to Theodore Apgar, of the borough, last Saturday afternoon, while he was playing baseball with some friends. A hard thrown ball struck Mr. Apgar squarely on the nose, causing a fracture. The blow almost knocked him out but he succeeded in walking to Dr. Whitford's office where he had the injured member treated. The accident brought the game to a sudden ending.

SCOTCH PLAINS.

John Blimm has been on the sick list for a few days.

Freeholder John Robinson and family went to Westfield last night to witness the display of fireworks.

A valuable shepherd dog belonging to Judge Joseph Clark went mad on last Saturday and had to be shot.

Miss Lillian Todd gives a lawn party at her home on Madison avenue, Fanwood, this afternoon from 3 until 5:30 o'clock

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hand, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frentz and Miss Minnie Hosinger spent Independence Day at Boynton Beach.

Invitations will soon be out for a mammouth clam bake, to be given by W. S. Emery on the 15th inst. During the day a handsome seventy foot flag pole will be raised, and old glory flung to the breeze. George Thatcher and Ed. Marble will act as masters of ceremonies.

The Scotch Plains base ball team went to New Providence yesterday morning and defeated the team at that place by the score 32 to 10. In the afternoon a game was played here with a picked nine from Plainfield. The Scotch Plains team also won this game by the score 30 to 10. In both games the Scotch Plains battery was Richard Robinson and George Allen.

WESTFIELD

VARIOUS BITS OF NEWS.

WESTFIELD HAPPENINGS SERVED UP TERSELY FOR THE PRESS.

Many People Go and Come in the Pretty Suburban Town—Items Interesting Because of Their Brevity.

Charles Rice, of Newark, spent yesterday in town.

Miss Georgia McIntosh, of Duluth, Mich., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. A. Kinch.

The Westfield Club base ball team went to Stelton on Saturday, and defeated the team of that place by the score 12 to 2.

Miss Olive Russell, of Sound Beach, Conn., spent Sunday and yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Condit, of Elm street.

Appleton Morgan, president of the New York Shakespeare Society, who is spending the summer in this place, has an interesting article on "The Personality of Poe" in the current number of Munsey's.

A party of twenty members of the I. O. S. and their friends went upon a straw ride Saturday evening to Rahway, Wheatsheaf and Roselle. A stop was made for refreshments at Wheatsheaf, and the party enjoyed a dance before resuming its ride homeward.

Central Council, No. 131, Jr. O. U. A. M., installed officers on last Friday evening as follows: Councilor, F. W. Howarth; V. C., John Dingee; R. S., W. M. Stamets; A. R. S., G. A. Clark; F. S., J. C. Hall; T., W. H. Ward, Conductor, R. Edwards; W., F. Packer; I. S., F. T. Young; O. S., S. W. Knapp; trustee, E. W. Affleck; Jr. P. C., W. J. Kelley.

Yesterday was opening day at the Westfield Fresh Air Camp. The workers held a reception from 2 until 7 o'clock p. m., and showed visitors over the camp, which is now fully equipped and in running order. On last Saturday the first lot of mothers and children from the tenement districts of New York city reached the camp. The party numbers 84, and will remain at the camp ten days. In connection with the reception a lemonade and ice cream sale was also held.

PATRIOTIC SERVICES.

Stars and Stripes Presented to a Sunday-School.

At the First Baptist church Sunday morning services appropriate to July 4th were held. During the Sunday-school hour Superintendent R. K. Case presented the school with a large American flag. The flag was the work of Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, and it was originally intended for the Boys' Brigade of the church. The latter organization disbanded, however, and the flag was given to the Sunday-school. At the regular church service music of an appropriate nature was rendered by the choir and the pastor, Rev. Dr. Yeskes, delivered a very able discourse full of American ideas and suggestions.

At the Y. M. C. A. building Sunday afternoon a service was held especially for the G. A. R. and S. of V., of this city. The large hall was filled with a good-sized delegation from each organization, and in addition there was a large number of interested people present. On the platform was arranged a camp-fire scene while overhead was a heart made of flowers in the centre of which was the word "Welcome." The address of the afternoon was delivered by Rev. L. E. Livermore, a member of the G. A. R.

THE DAY AT DUNELLEN

FESTIVITIES ARRANGED BY WILLIAM G. HOLTON COUNCIL.

Bicycle and Running Races, With Other Features, Made the Day a Pleasureable One—Results of the Various Contests.

The borough of Dunellen presented a scene yesterday such as has not been witnessed in many a day. It was a genuine old fashioned Fourth of July, and it was held under the auspices of Wm. G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M. From the very start the members took hold of the affair with great zeal and energy, and at no time was failure thought of. The citizens of Dunellen were pleased with the prospects of seeing a big celebration and they were certainly satisfied with the results.

The festivities were held in the large field at the end of the trolley line, and a better spot could not have been selected. The committee in charge provided everything for the comfort of their guests and nothing was lacking to make the affair a complete success.

The races were held on North avenue, from the end of the trolley car tracks to Taylor's Hotel and back, and they were so arranged that the finish was near the grounds where the festivities were being held. The first race was for boys under fifteen years of age. The first prize was a gold watch, and this was won by Ernest Peters, while the second prize, a pocket camera, was awarded to Fred Vail, both of Dunellen. The bicycle race for the championship of New Market and Dunellen was won by Bert Taylor, of Dunellen. He was awarded a gold badge. The second prize, a pair of gold cuff buttons, was won by Alfred Osmun, of New Market.

The one-mile bicycle race, open, was won by Peter Simmons, colored, of Plainfield, and William Dodd, of Plainfield, second. The first was presented with a gold badge and the latter secured a gold penholder.

The last race, which was a 100 yards running contest, was won by Teddy Barron, of Dunellen, and he secured a diamond scarf pin. The second man was Dennis Kane, and a suitable prize was given him.

As an additional feature of the afternoon and evening there was dancing music, which was furnished by Guttman's orchestra. A large number availed themselves of this privilege. In the evening the very handsome display of fireworks attracted a very large crowd, and after the exhibition many remained to dance. This part of the programme was continued until an early hour this morning, and to accommodate the crowd the trolley cars were kept running until nearly 2 o'clock.

CAME AWHEEL TO WED.

HAPPY YOUNG PEOPLE FOUND HYMEN'S ALTAR IN THIS CITY.

They Were Friends of Mine Host McVey Who Piloted Them Through the Nuptial Channel to Everlasting Joy in Life.

A marriage with a tinge of romance was celebrated in this city Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock. Miss Caryl Alphretta Williams and Harold Alexander Frazee, both of Newark, rode their bicycles to this city and were united in marriage by Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church. The two have been close friends for a long time and recently decided to be joined in wedlock in Plainfield on a cycle trip.

The young couple are intimate friends of J. H. McVey, of North avenue, and they knew of no better person to call on to assist in their nuptial union than that genial personage. When they arrived here they made known their mission to Mr. McVey and he accompanied them to the home of the officiating clergyman where the ceremony was performed.

After congratulations the party returned to Mr. McVey's place where a wedding supper was served. Early in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Frazee returned to Newark on their wheels. The bride is an estimable young woman, while her husband is a valued employe of one of the newspaper offices in Newark.

A Case of Scarlet Fever.

Dr. Zeglio, of Somerset street, was called to the Manhattan Hotel yesterday to treat a young woman named Miss Annie Fitzgerald, a domestic at the hotel who is ill. As soon as the doctor made an examination he learned that the woman was ill with scarlet fever, and she was in a peeling condition. The doctor reported that case to the health authorities and they immediately quarantined the place. The proprietor of the hotel was much surprised that there was a case of scarlet fever and did not want the authorities to think that he was trying to conceal the fact.

Continued-That Liberal Offer

of last week with every parlor suit sold—no matter what its price—we'll include WITHOUT COST a handsome highly polished cherry table—its top 24 inches square—one you'd be glad to own—not a cheap, flimsy thing.

Not one cent added to old prices on parlor suits—they're reduced, if anything! Prices start at $15.00 a suit.

White Enameled Beds, Dressers to Match

—a "one-you-rarely-see" stock—so complete, so radically new in patterns—and priced where you can reach it—$2.95, $3.50, $4.50, $5.00 and so on. Dressers to match.

Oak Bedroom Suits—if bought during sale of odd patterns, $10.75 up.

Get an "Insurance" Gasoline Stove—but an 1897 model—we sell it exclusively—explosions impossible—call—we'll prove it.

Too Many Refrigerators

on hand—we MUST make sales while 'tis possible—season's backward. Buy NOW at "clearing-out" figures—they're COST:

No. 1 Hardwood, $4.15
No. 3 Hardwood, $5.20
No. 5 Hardwood, $8.60
Others, $2.85 up.

Mattings—$3.50
a roll of 40 yards—we know our line is good.

Baby Carriages
$3.50 to $35.00—and a host of prices in between.

'96 Bicycles, $29.00 Cash

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

Never Forget This.

Will Repay the Reader to Store the Information Away in the Corners of His Brain.

The readers of this newspaper since ever medicinal preparations were advertised have always been accustomed to see statement published in these columns from here, there, everywhere except from this part of Pennsylvania. Read what follows and make the difference between such evidence and that usually supplied, say from Woonsocket, R.I. Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed by Pennsylvania's best citizens. Read this case: Mr. Henry Bernhard, of Lyndhurst, nine miles from Hoboken, employed at the Consolidated Iron Works, of River street, boat machinery and repairs, engines, pumps, etc. He has been in their employ for thirty years and his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills is as follows: "My back became so lame that I could hardly get out of bed in the morning. It hurt me to lift or stoop over and was very painful as my work was mostly heavy and naturally hard on the back. I was also liable to catch cold while working and this always aggravated the trouble, still as a general reason I have had no reason to complain on account of poor health. Sometime ago I had a bad attack of backache and I got Doan's Kidney Pills at a drug store. I felt their medical effect before I had used a whole box. I am thorougly convinced that they are a genuine remedy for the kidneys and there are a number of men in our works who have as high an opinion of them as I have."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

CYCLONE IN MINNESOTA.

Followed by a Flood, It Destroys Bridges and Injures Several People.

St. Paul, July 6.—A telegram addressed to Governor Clough from Barnum, Minn., and signed by William Cain, village, president, stated that a portion of the village had been destroyed by cyclone and flood. The governor was asked for aid. Executive Clerk Angel wired to Barnum for further particulars. The reply was to the effect that the village was able to care for all its people, but needed aid for building sidewalks and bridges.

Specials state that a cyclone, followed by a cloudburst, passed south of Barnum on Saturday.

The Moose Horn river rose rapidly, and in five hours the water stood three feet deep in every house on the level ground, and a raging torrent ran through Main street. Several families had no time to remove their effects. Every bridge in town was washed away and the streets completely torn up. The houses of J. Murphy, William Nevers and Fred Maguire were blown away and Mr. and Mrs. Murphy badly injured, the former probably fatally. The St. Paul and Duluth railroad lost several bridges and several miles of track. A great many logs and ties were washed away. The water has subsided, but the town looks desolate.

SHOT BY MASKED MEN.

A Chicago Saloon Keeper and His Wife Mortally Wounded.

Chicago, July 6.—Patrick Grace, a saloon keeper at 1501 West Forty-seventh street, and his wife Mary have been shot and mortally wounded by three masked men who attempted to rob the saloon. Grace has a bullet in his right temple, and his wife was wounded in the forehead. The robbers escaped. The three men demanded the contents of the cash drawer and upon resistance from Grace fired upon him and his wife at close range.

The shooting attracted the attention of every one in the vicinity, and neighbors came running from all directions. The robbers disappeared in the stockyards. As they ran one of them dropped the handkerchief that was tied over his face. This is the only clew the police have.

Mr. and Mrs. Grace were unconscious, and the police could only get a meager description of the robbers.

Panic at a Celebration.

Macon, Mo., July 6.—There was a disastrous ending to the Fourth of July celebration at Ethel, in this county. A misdirected roman candle struck an immense package of explosives, which shot off in the midst of the big crowd attending the festivities. Horses reared and plunged and tore through the crowd, knocking people down right and left, and many women fainted. A number of people were struck by the flying fireworks, and wounds of various characters were inflicted. A Miss King was hit in the thigh by a skyrocket, which tore its way through her limb, inflicting a probably fatal wound.

Struck by a Train.

Stamford, Conn., July 6.—Herbert L. Miller, aged 40, of Danbury, spending the holidays here with friends, was badly injured while walking on the tracks of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad near here. Miller, in company with Albert Avery, was walking to Coscib. In avoiding a freight he stepped in front of a passenger train. His injuries are pronounced fatal.

Bicycle Firm to Close Out.

Toronto, July 6.—McLean & Ockley, one of the largest bicycle firms in Canada, have decided to close out their business, the reason given being that the breaking up of the pool on high grade United States wheels will prohibit their firm from continuing manufacturing at a profit. It is said that several other Canadian firms will follow their example.

Postoffice Robbery.

Newport News, Va., July 6.—The postoffice at Hampton was entered and about $1,000 in cash and stamps stolen. Dynamite was used to blow open the safe. The noise, which was distinctly heard by several persons, sounded scarcely louder than the explosion of firecrackers which were being sent off at the time. There is no clew to the robbers.

Church Struck by Lightning.

St. Jonquaire, Que., July 6.—The Catholic church here has been struck by lightning. There was a large congregation present at the time, and a panic ensued. One person was killed and several badly injured in the rush for the doors. The altar was overturned and the priest thrown to the ground. The church is badly wrecked.

A Peaceful Outlook.

Constantinople, July 6.—The sultan now shows signs of yielding on the question of the rectification of the Turkish frontier in the direction of Greece, and the embassadors expect negotiations for peace will be resumed immediately, when, it is hoped, everything will be settled in accordance with the views of Europe.

French President to Visit Russia.

Paris, July 6.—The Figaro says President Faure will embark at Calais for St. Petersburg and, in accordance with the wishes of the czar and Emperor William, will return from St. Petersburg by land, so as to obviate the difficulties which might arise from a meeting of the French and German fleets.

Steamer Romer Still Fast.

Kingston, N. Y., July 6.—The steamer William F. Romer, which ran aground in the fog on Tuesday night last near Esopus light, is still fast, defying every attempt to float her. There is small chance of saving her now. Her place on the Kingston and New York line was taken by the steamer Walter Brett.

Pleads Guilty to Embezzlement.

Toronto, July 6.—John G. Gibson, secretary and treasurer of the O'Keefe Brewing company and a well known clubman, pleaded guilty in a police court to the embezzlement of $5,000 of the company's money. He was sentenced to three years in Kingston penitentiary.

Died From Blood Poisoning.

Catskill, N. Y., July 6.—A week ago William J. Lane shaved himself and cut his face. On Sunday he died of blood poisoning.

AROUND THE BASES.

The people of Plainfield evidently do not appreciate baseball when a good article is given. Last Saturday afternoon a fine game was played between the Crescents, of this city, and the Y. M. C. A., of New Brunswick, and yet the attendance was small in comparison to what it should be. On Saturday the Plainfield team defeated the visitors by the score of 14 to 3. It was an interesting contest and many good plays were made. Those who played on the home team were as follows: McBeth, ss; Holester, lf: Lederer, 2b; Symons, rf; Corbin, 1b; Kohn, 3b; Mumford, cf; Vroom, c; McLarty, p. The line up of the visitors was as follows: Manley, c; Vesper, p; Allan, 3b; Hendricks, cf: Mattison, lf; Keith, 1b; Roberts, rf; McConlogne, ss; Daly, 2b.

Below is the score by innings:

New Brunswick	—0 0 1 0 0 2 0 0 3— 6

The Crescents met the Bound Brook baseball team in this city yesterday morning and defeated them by the score of 18 to 13. It was an interesting game and a goodly number of people were present to witness the exhibition. The home team batted and fielded exceedingly well, and were able to make runs whenever they liked. It was hoped that the visitors would prove stronger rivals, but they did not, and the spectators had the pleasure of seeing the home team win hands down. Below is the line-up and the score by innings:

GOLF.

Last Saturday afternoon the monthly handicap contest for the "Treasurer's Cup" was started on the golf links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club grounds. There were only twelve who entered, and of this number ten qualified. The other two failed to hand in their scores. The cup is offered by Josiah Brown, treasurer of the club, and is a beautiful piece of silverware. It will be presented to the player who makes the best average score net for the season. Each month the winner of the match will be presented with a handsome and suitable prize, and at the close the cup offered by Mr. Brown will be awarded. The following scores were made on Saturday:

	Gross.	Handicap.	Net.
W. R. Richards.....	92	scratch	92
Lester Glenny.....	97	scratch	97
W. Wadsworth.....	97	scratch	97
J. S. Anthony.....	102	6	96
F. W. Walz.....	106	6	100

W. L. C. Glenny.....	142	16	126
W. S. Tyler.....	65	24	41
F. K. Fish, Jr.....	78	24	64

Josiah Brown and Edward T. Wilson were the two players who failed to qualify and their scores do not count. The contest will run for five months, and one Saturday each month will be devoted to the play.

Valuables in the Bottom of a Well.

Mrs. F. I. Smith, of Netherwood, dropped her pocketbook containing $50 and some valuable papers down a a forty-foot well in fourteen feet of water Saturday afternoon. After unsuccessful attempts by others the McVoy brothers succeeded in lowering the water to three feet. Then by descending to the bottom in the icy eold water until chilled through, Percy McVoy found $40 of the money, but David Hand, a nearby resident, thought that $10 and the papers were too valuable to leave there he descended to the bottom and succeeded in finding the balance of the contents of the pocketbook.

Only Two Borough Offenders.

There were only two prisoners confined in the borough lockup from Saturday until this morning. Marshal Kliner arrested Hugh Laing near Greenbrook road yesterday for being drunk and disorderly, and otherwise abusive. As a result he will spend sixty days at Somerville. Last night William Wallace, of Mountain avenue, was arrested by Marshal Kleiner on Somerset street, and he, too, was drunk and disorderly. This morning he preferred a $10 fine to spending thirty days at Somerville.

Not Known Here.

Mayor Fi k received a telegram from Coroner McDowell of Pittsburgh, Pa., Sunday, saying that Harry Wolfshon, of Plainfield, had been killed there and asking the Mayor to notify the relatives and telegraph as to the disposition of the body. The Mayor and Seargent Kiely hunted over the town but could find no one who had ever heard of a man by that name. It is supposed that the man came from Plainfield in some other state.

Accused of Perjury.

Peter Boyd, who is employed as a butler in a Plainfield home, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Sergeant Kiely on a warrant issued by Justice Newcorn on complaint of Detective Burmingham of the Central office in New York. He was charged with being a fugitive from justice. He is accused of committing wilful perjury in a case in New York. He was released on $300 bail to appear before the Justice every day to report to allow the New York authorities to secure extradition papers.

Spent the Day in the Woods.

The members of the Independent Scheutzen Corps spent yesterday in Hyde's woods where a good time was enjoyed. There was excellent shooting and the social feature of the occasion was delightful. The committee in charge provided plenty of good things to eat and the programme was all to be desired. The attendance of the members and their friends was large and not a thing happened to mar the pleasures of the day.

Competed Against the Best.

George Proctor Smith, of the Plainfield High School, was one of the nine contestants for the all-round championship of the A. A. U. at the grounds of the N. J. A. C., yesterday afternoon. Smith was the youngest competitor and although he finished eighth, he made a good showing considering the circumstances and that he was competing against the best athletes in the county.

Miss Mamie Burke, of New York, has returned home after a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Buckley, of Watchung avenue.

Miss Lizzie Stafford, of Grandview avenue, gave a picnic to a number of friends yesterday. They went by stage to George Voehl's farm, a pleasant spot over the mountain, where a dainty lunch prepared by the young ladies was served.

A YOUNG GIRL DIPLOMATIST.

Conducts the Business of Russia at the Court of China.

Diplomatic circles of Europe are wondering at the great success of Count Cassini in the far East. He made his debut at Peking five years ago by insisting on presenting his credentials personally to the Son of Heaven, and he speedily threw the German Minister, then in the ascendant, and all the other foreign diplomatists quite into the shade. Owing to his prestige, the Count was allowed to travel across Chinese territory from Peking to Kiakhta by the route reserved for mandarins only, accomplishing the first stages of his long journey in a mule chair, and the rest in a tarantass.

The mystery is now explained. Count Cassini's niece, a girl of less than fifteen years of age, is his mascot. She has been of the utmost use to him in bringing negotiations with the Tsung-li Yamen to a head. Her mastery of Chinese is remarkable, and she has the familiarity possessed by most educated Russians with English, French and German, so that her uncle has no need of an interpreter in dealing with delicate matters of state. Russia has always offered a fine field for feminine diplomatists, and Mlle. Cassini, beginning thus early, ought to have a great future before her.

HALF A MILLION DOLLARS.

In a Collection of Stamps and Unused Railroad Tickets.

A short time ago an eccentric millionaire died at Vienna, who, during his lifetime, was a collector in the full sense of the word. He lived alone in a large dwelling, and when his heirs appeared they found nothing of value except his collections. In one trunk a magnificiently arranged stamp collection worth about $120,000 was found; three cabinets were full of unused railroad tickets from all parts of the globe, representing a face value of several hundred thousand dollars, arranged in geographical order. This collection is most interesting since it contains some specimens of the very first beginning of railroading, among other tickets a ride from Troy to Albany and from Albany to Newburg, issued during the first year's existence of the railroad between those points. The collection of coins found comprised more than 80,000 specimens, and was sold for $220,000. The stamp collection was bought by an English dealer for $75,000, but nobody has yet been found who wants to give anything at all for the collection of railroad tickets, which is considered unique, but which was rejected by the Austrian and German Governments, to which it was offered, because of the enormous price asked for it by the heirs. While he spent during his lifetime more than $450,000 on this collection, the heirs will be satisfied to realize less than a third of that sum for the sale of it.—London Mail.

A DEMOCRATIC MOSES.

SENATOR DALY ANXIOUS TO BECOME THE STATE LEADER.

He Thinks He Knows the Way Out of the Wilderness—Condition of Affairs in Several Democratic Counties.

Senator Daly seems to be now the active and recognized leader of the Democratic party of New Jersey. For several years he has held that position in the State Senate, and the Democratic rank and file now look up to him for advice as to the proper policy to pursue while preparing for the next campaign. On public occasions the Senator is called upon to fill the position of chief orator, and his admirers generally applaud him to the echo. At the recent "harmony gathering," at Elizabeth, the Senator made a long speech, telling his fellow-Democrats how to organize for future battles, and during which he made a caustic arraignment of Governor Griggs and the Republican Legislature for alleged breach of faith with the people and for unbridled partisanship.

With the Hudson Senator are former Congressman Cornish and Colonel Edward Livingston Price. Those men are in control of the machine now, and it does not seem plausible that they would relinquish it at the bidding of the old leaders, and more especially if there was any danger of the dethronement of Mr. Daly.

Should the Democrats elect three or four State Senators and a majority of the House of Assembly next November they would be greatly encouraged to make an earnest fight for victory next year. A triumph like that would go a long way toward the election of a Democratic Governor and a Legislature which would choose a Democratic successor to Senator Smith. With harmony in the ranks and good candidates this fall the Democrats should be able to elect Senators in the counties of Sussex, Hunterdon, Cape May and Middlesex. In olden times that was not considered a difficult feat for the Democracy. When former Secretary of State Kelsey was in harness he never let go his grip of his native heath, old Sussex. Senator Gould was the first Republican ever chosen for the higher branch of the Legislature in that county. His election was achieved owing to the indifference of Mr. Kelsey and the unpopularity of the Democratic candidate. Since then Sussex has given Republican majorities on the National and State tickets, and it looks as if the Democracy up there is much demoralized. However, with a good candidate for the Senate this fall and with an ordinary degree of harmony the Sussex Democrats ought to regain their lost prestige.

Miles Ross, one of the conspicuous leaders of the Democracy in days not so long past, is now summering at Spring Lake, and it is reported that he is fast regaining vigor. No more practical politician ever existed in New Jersey, not even former Senator McPherson himself excepted, than Miles Ross. In his day and generation he was always feared by the Republican leaders, who never could wrest Middlesex from his grip. Since the collapse of the coal combine legislation of a few years ago Mr. Ross does not seem to have taken much interest in politics. Anyhow, his health has been poor, and it is supposed that he thought it best to take a rest until such time as an opportunity presented itself for him to reassert his political prowess. The report is now that he will soon get ready for another battle, and if he really means business, the Republicans of Middlesex will find a rocky road to travel while trying to elect their candidate for senator.

Hunterdon county has been always Democratic, with but one exception, from the time of its creation. That exception was when Frederick A. Potts was elected Senator, nearly a quarter of a century ago, over the redoubtable James Watson Pidcock, who was then beginning his political career. Three years later Pidcock landed himself in the Senate, which was the opening of a record that made him conspicious in Democratic leadership. Lawyer Gebhart and Senator Kuhl are now contesting for the Democratic nomination, and while some bad blood may be spilled still it is believed that either is strong enough to carry his party to victory. The silver god is idolized by the Democrats of Hunterdon, and, of course, they will insist upon the election of a silver man as their Senator.

TORE THE COP'S UNIFORM

SECOND EDITION OF THE STORY OF A BATTLE ROYAL.

But for the Arrival of Sergeant Kiely Roundsman Flynn Would Have Had a Tough Time in Making the Arrests.

Last Monday Sergeant Kiely had his best trousers torn to shreds while Roundsman Flynn barely escaped with his life and would have had a hard time of it if the Sergeant had not opportunely appeared, for unlike the fabled policeman, the Plainfield officer has a frequent habit of showing up when he is needed.

Yesterday morning, William Goff came up for fighting and resisting an officer and part of the story was told. It was continued this morning when another very interesting chapter in the history of the fight was made public at the trial of Phillip Sheridan, who was accused of interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty.

It will be remembered that there was trouble between Goff and Wm. Brown, colored, as was told yesterday. After the scrap Goff went home and later Kiely and Flynn went after him. Goff begged to go in the house after his coat and hat, and when once there he seriously objected to going out again. He told Judge DeMeza he thought an officer had no right to go after him in his house.

Philip Sheridan (no relative of the famous cavalry commander in the Civil War), was there. So also was a man named Eskerson and Mrs. Goff. Flynn went after Goff and the crowd went for Flynn. Sheridan tried to persuade Eskerson to go home and keep out of trouble, but he wouldn't. Kiely went to the rescue of Flynn and had his clothing ripped and torn in the struggle. The officers did not wish to hurt the prisoner's wife, and so had a hard time of it, as, they claim, she objected most decidedly to her husband's arrest. Sheridan got in the way and, the officers claim, blocked up the door to prevent them from taking their prisoner out.

After hearing both sides the Judge found the prisoner guilty and fined him $5.

A LAWN FESTIVAL.

Delightful Summer Event Arranged by the Endeavorers.

A lawn festival was given to the members of the Christian Endeavor society of the Park Avenue Baptist church on the lawn of the home of Miss Emma V. Fish, of Franklin place, last evening. Chinese lanterns were hung about the lawn and on the piazza giving a charming effect to the place. The clouds of the afternoon promised a storm and some of the members stayed away on that account. About twenty-five were present, however, and a very enjoyable evening was passed.

A coversation party occupied the first part of the evening and the guests sat about on the chairs and benches that were placed on the lawn and chatted on topics of interest. Refreshments and games were the principal events of the remainder of the evening.

CHURCH 150 YEARS OLD.

SCOTCH PLAINS BAPTISTS TO HOLD SESQUI-CENTENNIAL SOON.

The Services to be Continued All Day, August 5th, in Which All the Living Pastors Will Take an Active Part.

The Scotch Plains Baptist church will celebrate its 150th anniversary with appropriate services on August 5th. The history of the church is a most interesting one. It was organized in 1747 from a membership dismissed from the Piscataway Baptist church. The first pastor was Rev. Benjamin Miller, whose name can now be deciphered on one of the moss-covered monuments in the old cemetery adjoining the church. In its long existence the church has had only twelve other pastors, of whom four are still living.

The present edifice is the third that has been erected by the congregation. It was constructed about twenty years ago at a cost of $30,000. Its style of architecture is gothic and the material is brick, with Ohio stone trimmings. The seating capacity is 500.

Five other churches have been constituted, or organized, from the Scotch Plains church during its existence, among them the First Baptist church of New York city. The churches are all active and prosperous at the present time.

The church will observe its sesquicentennial on August 5th by holding three meetings. At the morning session addresses will be delivered by the present pastor, and by James F. Brown, D. D., J. B. Buchanan, D. D., and Rev. J. H. Parks, D. D., and Rev. J. S. Braker, the four former pastors now living. The afternoon session will be devoted to the Sunday school, and addresses will be made by G. E. Hall, the present superintendent, and by the former superintendents now living. At the evening session of the pastors of the churches that have sprung from the Scotch Plains church will deliver addresses.

Under the supervision of the trustees, a competent committee has prepared an interesting historical sketch of the career and work of this venerable church. This work is now in preparation, and will be ready for delivery before the coming anniversary. The work of research in connection with this sketch has been mostly done by Rev. Dr. J. H. Parks, of Scotch Plains. A number of illustrations of historical value also appear in the work which will be of interest to students of local history as well as to members and friends of the church.

A Row May Result.

One of our contemporaries says that "there will be a big row on hand if Senator Reed insists upon the appointment of William Doyle as postmaster at Grand View." As we understand the case, Mr. Doyle lives next door to the school, a location much more convenient to the largest number of patrons of the office than the present location of the office, and that Mr. Doyle's petition has been signed by a large number of the residents of that vicinity. These country postoffices should be located so as to accommodate the greatest number, not according to politics.—Somerset Democrat.

Billing the Town.

The Great Wallace Shows No. 2 advertising car, C. A. Potter, manager, with sixteen men, arrived in the city this morning. All railroad towns are being heavily billed for the cheap excursion rates so all can come and see the Great Wallace Shows on July 14th. Among the things which can never lose their hold upon the public affection is the circus. It makes no difference how often one goes to it the novelty never decreases as the years go by, for one attends its each recurrence with an ever growing fervor.

Last Meeting of the Year.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the First Presbyterian church held their last meeting for the season yesterday afternoon in the Sunday-school room of the church. The superintendent, Miss Pruden, gave the members a pleasing talk on how to spend the summer in helping others and living the right kind of a life. After Miss Pruden's talk the balance of the afternoon was passed in a social manner. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

On to the Shore.

The annual excursion of the First Baptist church Sunday-school to Asbury Park will occur this year on Tuesday, July 27th. The Grace Episcopal and Washingtonville Sunday-schools will probably participate in the excursion. The Mt. Olive Sunday school has decided to participate in an excursion of their own planning and will not accompany the above schools. A large crowd and a fine day is predicted for the above excursion.

MAY BECOME THE JAIL.

OPTION SECURED ON THE ULRICH BUILDING ON SECOND STREET.

Judge DeMeza, Representing the City, Has Until August 1st to Secure the Building for a Consideration of $9,000.

The same building in which Senator Reed, former Judge Coddington, Dr. J. T. Fritts, Clarence Teel, Tom Keller and the other devotees of the Crescent League spent so many good times in the palmy days of that famous organization, may now be converted into a city jail and court house where the City Judge will hold forth and the Chief of Police make his headquarters.

Every since the city was notified that its jail had been condemned by the Plainfield Board of Health, the police board has been on the hunt for new quarters. The warm weather has made the unsanitary conditions of the present lockup more objectionable while the vermin have flourished and increased. The trouble has not been to find a suitable place, but to find one that the owners would sell or rent for that purpose. Nobody was particularly anxious to have all the city's offenders in their neighborhood, and where the owner of the property did not care, the neighbors made a decided kick.

For some time the police board has had its eye on the Ulrich club house, on East Second street, the first floor of which is now used as a public bowling alley and the rooms on the second floor as the club rooms for the Cleveland Cyclers. Located in the centre of the city, it would be just the place for a station house and jail. It was understood that the owner, Mrs. Anna Ulrich, was not in favor of the sale of the property for such a purpose. Neither was her son, Charles M. Ulrich, who has occupied the building and had charge of the alleys. Judge DeMeza has now secured option on the building until August 1st for the city. The consideration is to be $9,000. If the terms are satisfactory to the board, the matter will be brought to the attention of the Common Council.

The first floor, in the event of the purchase of the building by the city, would be devoted to a general headquarters in the front and the cells in the back. There is room for four tiers of ten or fifteen cells each, of the modern pattern, built of iron and steel and well ventilated. On the second floor would be the city court room, which could be made by the removal of some of the partitions, and also the office of the Chief of Police and the sergeant and a bedroom for the warden. It is estimated that the cost of equipping the building for service would be about $500.

LIBRARY DIRECTORS.

Nominated by the Mayor Last Night to Serve Until 1900.

The regular meeting of the Board of Library Directors was held last evening. It was moved that $1,000 be appropriated from the Babcock fund for the purchase of books for the Babcock Library. Recommendations were made as follows: That the bound volumes of the Popular Science Monthly, Scientific American, and Scientific American Supplement, be purchased from the general library out of the Babcock fund; that the price of catalogues be fixed at 25 cents for the paper copies and 50 cents for the leather bound copies; that the system of book delivery at the Irving School be put in the public schools, or other places in the city as the committee may deem best; that $500 be appropriated for the purchase of the books for the general library, and an additional sum of $100 be appropriated out of the general fund to be expended under the direction of the librarian, and a like sum out of the Babcock fund to be expended under her direction for scientific books; that bookplates be procured for the Babcock Scientific Library; that the experiment be made of Sunday opening during such hours as may be determined upon by the committee.

A case of wilful mutilation of one of the books of the library having been brought to the attention of the board, the matter of the prosecution of the offender under the statute, was referred to the library committee with power.

A communication was received from the Mayor, nominating the following as directors for the three years ending July 1st, 1900: Mason W. Tyler, J. Evarts Tracy, H. P. Talmadge. The secretary then cast the ballot in their favor, and they were declared duly elected.

New Fire Alarm Box.

Chief Doane has established a new fire alarm box in the Muhlenberg hospital. Its number is 85. No. 1 Hose Company, Alert Hose Company, chemical engine and the steamer will respond.

OUT TO SEE THE WORLD.

AN EMBRYO TRAMP ANXIOUS TO BECOME A JOLLY TAR.

Was Hauled in With a Number of Other "Coal Commuters." and When He Told His Story He Was Released.

Two young fellows from the shops near Bethlehem and three tramps tried their luck riding on coal trains, yesterday. They arrived as far as Plainfield in safety and then a quartette of Plainfield policemen raided the train and the five unlucky "coal commuters" were landed in the city jail.

The arrests were made by Patrolmen Cash, Saunders, Lunger and Fraleigh, and the crestfallen victims of the little raid spent the night in moralizing over the ill luck that has followed them from start to finish.

This morning the five were arraigned before City Judge DeMeza on the charge of trespassing on the property of the railroad. They gave their names as Joseph McDoodle, James Williamson, Harry Ruthford, Peter Mack and James McGinnis, but it was easy to see that these were not their real names, for on several occasions the individuals did not remember which was which.

The Judge sentenced all to go to jail for ten days if a fine of $3 was not forthcoming in each case. He afterwards called McDoodle back and heard his story in private. The prisoner wrs only a young fellow and he looked different from the rest. He said that he had been in the shops at South Bethlehem, but that they had shut down until next year. His father and mother were not able to support him, and finding no work there he had started for New York to enlist in the navy. He has always loved the water, he said, and thought that he could pass the examination. He did not mind hard work, he explained, he had worked hard all his life, but he wanted to get on one of the modern men-of-war and see the world. He had a dollar in his pocket and the Judge suspended sentence on him and told him to buy a ticket for New York and get out of town at once.

James McGinnis was a laborer in hard luck bound for Jersey City to get a job on the railroad where he had friends. He had $2, a portion of which he agreed to spend for a ticket if the Judge would let him go. The Judge suspended sentence in this case. The other three offenders were all in the art of coal train commuting and went down to Elizabeth for ten days.

THE DOCTORS DINED.

Medical Association's Quarterly Meeting and Dinner.

The quarterly meeting of the Plainfield Medical Association was held at the Mountain Park Inn, last evening. The members enjoyed a dinner first, and then adjournment to a cool spot upstairs where the business meeting took place. Dr. Murray read an interesting paper on "How contageous disease can be most successfully quarantined." A general discussion upon the subject followed. Those present were: Dr. Probasco, Dr. Tomlinson, Dr. Long, Dr. Fritz, Dr. Murray, Dr. Turner, Dr. Jenkins, Dr. Carman, Dr. Davis, Dr. Manning, Dr. Clawson, Dr. Hallock and Dr. Cox, who is taking Dr. Ard's place during the latter's absence.

Epworth League on Wheels.

The Epworth Leaguers of the Grace M. E. church joined the procession and held a bicycle sociable last evening. All the other Leagues in the city were invited to participate, but the clouds that rolled up from over the mountain predicted rain and most of the young people stayed at home. A dozen of the cyclists from the Grace M. E. church gathered together and started for a little spin under charge of Rev. H. K. Carroll, who acted as pacemaker. The run was to Pump town and return, and those who did go spent a very pleasant evening.

Fell From a Wheel and Hurt.

Harry Hartpence, of West Front street, is obliged to carry his right arm in a sling, as a result of an accident last Monday. He intended to ride his tamden wheel up town to meet a friend. Mr. Hartpence's little boy ran out in front of the wheel just as a trolley car was approaching, and being afraid of injuring his son and also of colliding with the car he attempted to escape both. In doing so he struck a stone which threw him from his wheel. He fell on his side and fractured his arm. He is now detained from work and will be for some time to come.

Death of Margaret E. Avent.

The death of Margaret E. Avent, aged sixty-three years, of 245 East Second street, occured this morning, after an illness of gastritis. The funeral services will be held Friday, July 9th, at 2:30 p. m.

THESE WARM JULY DAYS

NO PROSPECT OF RELIEF FROM THE HEAT AND HUMIDITY.

A Genuine Summer Hot Wave Arrived Yesterday and Chased the Mercury Far Up the Tube—Horses Have Succumbed.

It is as much as one's life is worth to mention the fact that it is warm today. There were some people who were not satisfied with the cool weather that continued through the greater part of June; it is probable that they are not satisfied now.

There was no need of fearing that the warm weather would not come. It is not the warm weather alone that makes life so unpleasant for everybody that has to move these days, but it is the humidity that is so high. Summer is here with a vengeance and the summer weather is in its full glory.

Monday, when Independence Day was celebrated, was not unpleasant. It was warm, of course, but the heat was bearable and a fresh breeze made things more comfortable. Yesterday morning, however, the mercury began to climb steadily up in the glass tube as if threatening to go out the top. The humidity increased and the prespiration began to stand out on the faces of the sweltering people. There was a general exodus in the direction of the soda water fountains and ice cream stands about the city that filled the hearts of the proprietors with joy.

At 3 o'clock, the mercury had risen to 97 degrees in the shade while in the sun it was some twenty degrees warmer. Men wandered about without their coats and vests while little streams of water trickled from their brows. The horses hung their heads in mute appeal and waited for a release from their troubles. Several horses were reported overcome by the heat in the country districts surrounding Plainfield. The poor dogs lay about panting and with tongues banging from their mouths.

While no prostrations from the heat have been reported as yet, the continuation of the hot wave will surely cause them. The clouds began to gather in the afternoon as if promising a shower as a possible relief to the sufferers, but the rain never came.

This morning showed no abatement of the hot wave. The thermometer registered 70 degrees at 7 o'clock, and two hours, rose six degrees.

The rise in the mercury continued all the morning and at noon the mercury was close to the ninety mark. Clouds gathered and made the heat seem the more oppressive while the actual temperature did not rise. Nobody feels like working and everybody looks warm and discontented, as they wander around in their shirt-sleeves and think of the little beads of perspiration that are constantly growing. Light clothing is to be seen on every side, but that offers but little relief.

Walter Daniels, a farmer, living two and one-half miles south of Bound Brook, bought a team of black horses at a sale in New Brunswick two weeks ago. They were western horses and both seven years old. While working in the rye field yesterday the heat was too much for the horses and they suffered a sunstroke and had to be shot. The thermometer registered yesterday 102 degrees.

VALUABLE DOGS POISONED.

The West End is Agitated Over the Danger to Its Canine Pets.

Inhabitants of the West End in the neighborhood of Stebbins place and West Third street, are considerably excited over the poisoning of the dogs which has been going on for the past three weeks. In that time about half a dozen canines in the neighborhood have died suddenly with symptoms of poisoning.

In some of the cases it is evident that the poison was thrown to the dogs while they were upon their owners' premises. Among the poisoned animals was a fine Scotch Collie dog, belonging to Chris Freis, No. 221 Stebbins place, and a St. Bernard dog, the property of Eugene G. Bans, of Lee place.

Efforts to discover who is doing the poisoning have so far failed.

Anxious to Leave the Hospital.

Joseph Ingersoll, who was taken to the hospital last Monday suffering with an injury to his head which was received while riding a horse at the trotting track, left the institution yesterday without giving due notice. The physician in charge was desirous that Ingersoll should remain a day or two longer, but he was anxious to go and left very unceremoniously.

UP TO THE FINAL VOTE

It Will Be Taken on the Tariff Before Adjournment Today.

ALL SPEECHES ARE TO BE VERY BRIEF

The Antitrust Question Was Debated at Length and Mr. Pettus' Amendment Beaten—Mr. Allen Asks For a Bounty on Beet Sugar.

Washington, July 7.—The final vote on the tariff bill will be taken in the senate before adjournment today, a definite agreement, assented to by all parties, having been reached at the close of the debate yesterday. The agreement is as follows:

"That the debate on the tariff bill shall proceed under the five minute rule after 1 p. m. tomorrow and that the final vote on the bill shall be taken before adjournment tomorrow."

Mr. Allison did not ask that the hour for the vote be set, being content with the positive agreement that it should be some time today. The limitation of speeches after 1 p. m. to five minutes will bring the debate within narrow limits.

The announcement by the vice president that the agreement was perfected led to a general exchange of congratulations among senators.

During the day the antitrust question was debated at length, and Mr. Pettus' amendment on the subject was defeated—33 to 36. Mr. Allen of Nebraska offered the amendment for a quarter cent bounty on beet sugar. It led to lively and somewhat personal speeches from the two Nebraska senators, after which the Allen amendment was tabled—57 to 9—the Populists and silver Republicans being the only ones recorded against the motion to table.

It is learned that Secretary Gage has written a letter to Senator Allen suggesting the advisability of putting a tax of 1 cent a pound on all refined sugar made from stock imported prior to the passage of the pending tariff bill. It is the opinion of the customs officials of the treasury that this duty would increase the government revenues by several millions and that the hardship would fall on those best able to bear it. What action the senate committee will take on the suggestion is not known.

Torpedo Boat Contracts.

Washington, July 7.—The board of naval bureau chiefs have almost come to a conclusion as to the award of contracts for building the three torpedo boats authorized by the last congress, and they had a conference with Secretary Long to report the progress they have made. The indications are said to be that the board will recommend the award to Harlan & Hollingsworth of the contract for a large 360 ton boat of the Thorneycroft type, to the Cramps of a contract for a medium size Yarrow type boat of 300 tons and to the Bath Iron works of a small 240 ton Normand type boat.

Payment For Condemned Property.

Washington, July 7.—Assistant Secretary Vanderlip has issued a warrant in favor of the Monongahela Navigation company for $3,601,615, being the amount of a final judgment of condemnation of all the property and appurtenances of that company. The property was condemned for the purpose of improving the Monongahela river in accordance with the river and harbor act of June 3, 1896.

Train Ditched by a Washout.

Louisville, July 7.—The south bound Louisville and Nashville passenger train which left Cincinnati was wrecked at Harris Station, near here. A waterspout had washed the track out at this point, and the train, which was making a low rate of speed, was ditched. The passengers escaped injury, but Engineer John Clark and Fireman Frank Hutter were seriously injured. Clark's face was scalded in a fearful manner. Hutter's head was torn and bruised. The men had to be dug from under the dirt and coal heaps. The attending physician thinks they may recover. Both are residents of Covington.

Prisoner Paroled.

Indianapolis, July 7.—Governor Mount has paroled Benjamin R. Musgrave, who was sentenced to state prison from Terre Haute for 10 years for swindling a life insurance company. The parole is issued upon the showing that the prisoner is dying of consumption. Musgrave had about 16 months to serve. Musgrave's crime was one of the sensations of the time and consisted of an attempt to collect $30,000 life insurance by placing a cadaver in his house and burning it for his own body.

A West Point Funeral.

West Point, July 7.—Sergeant Anthony J. Brechbeil, one of the victims of Sunday's drowning in Long pond, was buried last evening with military honors in the Post cemetery, and, owing to the young man's popularity with the officers and men, the funeral was an imposing event. All the various detachments turned out in full dress. Captain Lusk had charge of the funeral arrangements.

No Sunday Canal Traffic.

Toronto, July 7.—Hon. A. G. Blair, minister of railways and canals, has refused to sanction the opening of the canals to traffic on Sundays, except under extraordinary circumstances. An agitation to have the canals open Sundays has been on here for some time, but this gives it an effectual quietus.

Glass Workers Want Higher Wages.

Cleveland, July 7.—Glass workers have begun a conference here to agree on a demand for increased wages. Two years ago the workers accepted a cut owing to the reduction in the tariff. It is expected that the demand will be made to conform to the contemplated tariff increase.

Fell From the Crosstrees and Drowned.

Gloucester, Mass., July 7.—Augustus Nelson, a longshoreman, while working on the crosstrees of a schooner in the harbor, fell to the deck and was instantly killed.

London, July 7.—The Duke of York, eldest son of the Prince of Wales and heir presumptive to the throne, has been appointed a knight of the Order of St. Patrick.

RESISTS THE POWERS

Turkey Will Not Accept Their Plan of Settlement.

CAUSES MUCH DELAY IN THE MATTER.

The Sultan Claims That He Must Examine the Situation Before Any Further Progress Is Made—Salisbury on the Situation.

Constantinople, July 7.—The Ottoman cabinet, in accordance with the orders of the sultan, has issued a mezabata, a line of resistance. Tewfik Pasha, minister of foreign affairs, has informed the Austrian embassador, Baron Calice, that the sultan and his cabinet were unable to accept the frontier lines between Turkish and Greek territory proposed by the powers and added that the porte would re-examine the situation and then convoke a new peace conference.

An extraordinary session of the cabinet is now sitting at the porte.

Delay Attributed to the Porte.

London, July 7.—In the house of lords the Marquis of Salisbury, replying to Lord Connemara, said the delay in the settlement of the peace terms between Turkey and Greece was entirely the fault of the former.

There was no delay so far as the powers were concerned, but Turkey had carried deliberation and circumspection to such an excess that the delay was not without danger.

Though the danger was not immediate, they were at present no nearer to a solution of the question than before.

Having referred to the situation in 1878, pointing out that then a Russian army was at the gates of Constantinople, the Marquis of Salisbury remarked that as, in proportion to the circumstances, the year 1897 became analogous with the year 1878, so his hopes of a satisfactory result increase.

"If Prince Bismarck was presiding at the conference, as he did in 1878, the result would be different. A powerful Russian army was then within a stone's throw of Constantinople, and any suggestion from Prince Bismarck that a failure of the conference would result in the movement of that army undoubtedly produced that effect on Turkish deliberations which is desired now."

Situation Critical In Calcutta.

Calcutta, July 7.—All sections of the community are in a state of anxious expectancy as to the developments of the early future. It is rumored that all the mill hands up the Hoogly have struck work and that they are preparing to march 8,000 strong to re-enforce the rioters here. The government has ordered the military to intercept them. The Mohammedans at Garden Reach, a southern suburb of Calcutta and a fashionable place for Europeans, are showing signs of dangerous restlessness, and the government has stationed strong guards at all the bridges leading to that quarter.

Receiver For Insurance Company.

Boston, July 7.—Judge Barker in the Suffolk supreme court has appointed Henry A. Wyman receiver of the New England Mutual Fire Insurance company upon the application of the insurance commissioner. The company has reinsured most of its policies in another company, and the amount of its policies at present outstanding is said to be about $7,400. The officers desired the appointment of a receiver.

Found a Dead Body.

Highland Falls, N. Y., July 7.—The body of a man has been found in the Hudson river at Highland. The man was apparently about 25 years of age. He had a sandy mustache, sandy hair and a tattoo between the elbow and the wrist on right arm. He was about 5 feet 9 inches in height. He had nothing on but a gray woolen shirt and a pair of trousers. He had a strap around the waist and was barefooted.

Michigan Brewers to Sell to Englishmen.

Detroit, July 7.—Proprietors of the 26 breweries in Detroit are each planning to sell out to a syndicate composed chiefly of English capitalists. The terms are to be cash and stock and bonds of the new corporation. Nearly all the brewers have signed an agreement for the above purpose. A result of the consolidation will be a raise in the price of beer from $4 and $5 per barrel to $6.

Strange Death of a Cherry Picker.

New York, July 7.—Van Nest Talmage, 16 years of age, a son of David Talmage of Leonia, N. J., fell from a cherry tree in which he was picking cherries. His fall was interrupted by his clothing catching on a branch. He caught in such a manner that he hung head downward. He was suspended at least half an hour and was dead before the accident was discovered.

Damage by Floods In France.

Paris, July 7.—Further advices from the south of France add to the gravity of the disasters due to the floods there. The number of houses and farms destroyed are incalculable. The losses are estimated at 200,000,000 francs. Hardly a village has escaped damage, and the number of victims is quite 300.

Arrival of the Minneapolis.

Philadelphia, July 7.—The United States cruiser Minneapolis, Captain C. M. Chester, arrived at League island, direct from the Mediterranean, where she has been on the European station. She will be placed in reserve at League island under orders from the secretary of the navy.

If I Were a Girl.

A Young Graduate of Cambridge University Tells What He Would Do.

William Dickson, of Cambridge University, England, recently told a bevy of girls, that if he were one of them, he would always have rosy cheeks, red lips, bright eyes, and robust health. Six months ago he was a physical wreck from overstudy. A friend offered him Capsuloids. He thought he could not take them because they contained iron, but he discovered that this form of natural iron or Haemoglobin, contained no acid and caused no indigestion or constipation. Capsuloids, by their natural non-irritating iron, in eight weeks, gave him such health and color that he was enabled to make the statement to the girls as above.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct for the same price by The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to widen West-rvelt Avenue from the Northwesterly side line of East Front street to a point 108.66 feet Southeast of Orange Place," a copy of which is subjoined to this notice, has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Common Council to adopt such ordinance at the special meeting of the Common Council to be held in the Council Chamber, No. 109 Park Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, N. J., at eight o'clock p. m., on Thursday, the eighth day of July, A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-seven, at which time and place prior to the adoption of said ordinance, said ordinance will be considered by the Common Council, and all persons interested may be heard before the Common Council.

By order of the Common Council.
James T. MacMurray, City Clerk.
Dated, June 21, 1897. 6 22-23-30

AN ORDINANCE

to Widen Westervelt Avenue from the Northwesterly side line of East Front Street to a point 108.66 feet Southeast of Orange Place.

WHEREAS, The Common Council has judged and hereby judges that the public good requires the widening of Westervelt Avenue between the points named in the title of this ordinance, therefore,

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That Westervelt Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, from the northwesterly side line of East Front Street to a point one hundred and eight and 66-100 feet southeast of Orange Place, be widened and laid out so that said Westervelt Avenue shall be of the uniform width of twenty-five feet on each side of the center line thereof, which said center line is described as follows: Beginning at a point in the northwesterly side line of East Front Street, said point being distant three hundred twenty-four and 56-100 feet in a southwesterly direction along said northwesterly side line of East Front Street, from the centre line of Sandford Avenue, as now laid out and opened; and running from said point in a magnetic course of north forty-four degrees and fifty-six minutes west, a distance of three hundred sixty and 3-100 feet to the northwesterly line of property owned by William C. Kelly.

The land to be taken for the widening of said Westervelt Avenue includes that portion of the property of Antoinette De Baud, Mrs. Sarah Bird and William C. Kelly, which lies between the present Southwesterly side line of said Avenue as now laid out and opened and a line parallel with the center line of said Avenue and distant therefrom twenty-five (25) feet in a Southwesterly direction.

The land to be taken and the lines of Westervelt avenue, as the same is hereinabove ordered to be widened, are shown on a map on file with the City Clerk entitled: "Assessment Map for the widening of Westervelt Avenue from East Front Street to a point 108.66 feet Southeast of Orange Place, March, 1897," to which reference is hereby made for greater certainty.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Assemblyman W. R. Codington and family, of Sandford avenue, spent Sunday and Monday at his farm near Millington.

Mr. C. L. Hasbrouck, a druggist at Mendon, Mich., says all of the good testimonials that have been published by the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy could be duplicated in that town. For sale By T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves.

Mrs. William Smalley, son and daughter, of St. Paul, Minn., are visiting Mr. Smalley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Smalley, of East Front street.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.

1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

The 25 and 50c sizes for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

HELD FOR FORGERY.

A Young Man Charged With Forging a Senator's Name.

Washington, July 7.—S. P. Williams, a young man whose home is in Bismarck, but who formerly held a clerkship in the treasury department in this city, has been arrested on a charge of forging the name of Senator William E. Mason of Illinois to an application to the Pennsylvania Railroad company for two round trip passes from Washington to New York city. Williams protests his innocence.

The police say that they have been working on the case for several days and that they caught Williams by means of a decoy letter. Senator Mason was informed some days ago by the railroad company of the receipt of a letter bearing his signature asking for passes. He placed the matter in the hands of the police, and they arranged to watch the committee room in the Maltby building, where the senator's mail is delivered.

A letter to the senator, said to be a decoy, bearing the Pennsylvania Railroad company's stamp, was placed on the table in the committee room. It was picked up by Williams, and his arrest followed promptly. Williams is about 25 years old, claims that he has been getting his mail at the Maltby building since April, having directed it to be sent there.

The mail, he says, was usually put on a big table where every one had access to it. He picked up a letter, he says, and finding it not addressed to himself was about to put it down when the police grabbed him.

STATE SUES FOR FEES

New Jersey's Attorney General After Former Officers.

A SUBJECT OF SENATE DISCUSSION.

One of the Parties to Be Sued Claims That the Fees Properly Belonged to Him and Takes Refuge Under the Statutes.

Trenton, July 7.—Attorney General Grey, after consultation with Governor Griggs, has decided to institute suits on behalf of the state against Henry C. Kelsey, former secretary of state, and against the estate of the late George S. Duryee, formerly bank and insurance commissioner. These suits are to be brought in the supreme court to recover about $30,000 which these officials collected in fees and retained under their construction of the laws providing for the fees. The suit against Kelsey is for about $20,000 and that against the Duryee estate for about $10,000.

The retention of the fees in question by Secretary of State Kelsey was one of the subjects of the statehouse investigation of two years ago. William H. Corbin, the counsel for the investigation committee at that time, expressed the opinion that Mr. Kelsey had no right to the fees which he retained, and this view was sustained by the committee in its report to the legislature.

Mr. Kelsey collected and retained the fees for his own use under the act of April 18, 1891, which defined certain duties of the secretary of state and provided that for such duties he should be entitled to charge and receive fees. This act Mr. Kelsey held to mean that the fees belonged to him and that the act was amendatory of the act of 1881 giving him a salary of $6,000 in lieu of all fees. Mr. Kelsey claimed at the investigation that he was advised by counsel that he had a right to retain the fees.

The suit to be brought against him will be based on the contention of the senate investigating committee that the act of 1891, providing for the payment of the fees in dispute, should be construed to the effect that the secretary of state was to charge and receive the fees for the benefit of the state, and that the act did not and was not intended to increase his compensation as a state official.

The matter in dispute was the subject of a conference between Attorney General Grey and counsel for Mr. Kelsey, and the result of the conference was an agreement that suit should be started to the end that the courts may determine whether the fees were legally retained or not. The suit to be brought against the estate of the late Bank and Insurance Commissioner Duryee is exactly of the same nature as that to be brought against Mr. Kelsey.

For an International Railway.

Trenton, July 7.—Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state of the New York and Ottawa company, with an authorized capital of $3,000,000. The company is formed for the purpose of building and operating a railroad in New York, state and Canada and also to build tunnels, bridges, canals, piers, hotels, etc. There is only $1,000 of capital paid in. The incorporators are Howard K. Wood of East Orange, eight shares; John E. Walker of East Orange, one share; Alfred Tutman of Newark, one share. The fee which had to be paid for filing the articles of incorporation was $600.

The Ratcliffe Case.

Chicago, July 7.—Justice Martin has struck from the docket the charge of being a fugitive from justice pending against Edward J. Ratcliffe of New York, the actor, arrested for wife beating. Since the case was last called in the police court, Judge Goggin of the superior court admitted Ratcliffe to bail and fixed a hearing for habeas corpus proceedings on Thursday. This, Judge Martin has decided, took the matter out of his jurisdiction. Ratcliffe says that developments in the case bear out his original statement that the arrest was persecution on the part of his wife's relatives.

Death of a Miser.

Middletown, N. Y., July 7.—Charles McKee, a Newark miser, aged 85, who lived in squalor near here, was brought to the hospital here, the local town board of health having ordered his removal. He died yesterday. At the time of his death he was grumbling about being taken from his home and away from his money. C. H. McKee of Newark, a nephew of the miser, has arrived. A considerable amount of money has been found in the miser's bed at his home, and it is believed several thousand dollars in all will be secured.

Railroads Object to Tax Valuation.

Trenton, July 7.—B. C. Carskadden, representing the Pennsylvania Railroad company; R. C. St. John, representing the New Jersey Central, and James B. Vredenburgh for the West Shore railroad have entered with the state board of assessors preliminary protest against the valuation placed on their property by the board. These protests had to be filed yesterday under statutes and will be followed up later by a bill of particulars citing wherein the companies consider the assessments too high.

Tiffin (O.) Pottery Company's Inventory.

Trenton, July 7.—The receiver of the Brewer Pottery company of Tiffin, O., has filed in the United States circuit court in this city a sworn inventory of the assets and liabilities of the concern. The assets are given as $95,146.32 and the liabilities $71,447.31. In addition to the assets given there is also an item of $11,037 of accounts receivable which are either disputed or doubtful.

Mgr. Del Val's Farewell.

Montreal, July 7.—Mgr. Merry Del Val has issued an official farewell address to the Catholics of Canada through the archbishop of St. Boniface, in which, among other things, he exhorts them to abstain from agitation and to let all resentment and division be forgotten till the time when his holiness will announce his decision in the separate school case.

Struck by Lightning.

Olean, N. Y., July 7.—Eugene Thomas, a farmhand, was struck by lightning and instantly killed while sitting in the doorway of S. W. Hoag's farmhouse, near Ischua. He lived at Salamanca.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Furnished by Weather Observer Naegle.)

Fair Tonight and Thursday; Northeasterly Winds.

At 2 o'Clock the Thermometer at Leggett's Pharmacy Registered 86 Degrees.

Subscribers to The Daily Press who are leaving town for summer vacations can have the paper sent to their temporary address without extra expense by simply notifying the business office.

THE HOT WEATHER.

These are the days when everything that has life lolls and lags under a broiling hot sun. And it is well that such is the case, else the doctors, and possibly the undertakers, would be overworked and thus be defying the promptings of brain and brawn in these torrid dog days. The less work done on a day when the mercury in the thermometer hovers above the ninety degree mark the better it is for all mankind. Those whose vacations fall due just at this period of oppressive heat can consider themselves fortunate individuals, indeed The mortals whom necessity calls to duty must feel comfortable as best they can.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Sarah Schuyler, of LaGrande avenue, gave a picnic at Mrs. F. O. Herring's cottage, "Hilltop," on the mountain, Saturday afternoon, in honor of her guests, Miss Marion Hartley and Miss Anna Mellick, of New York. About thirty were present. Supper was served on the piazza and all enjoyed the cooling breezes until dark when the party adjourned to the Mountain Park Inn for an informal dance. The return was made at about 11 o'clock.

New Manufacturing Plant.

Charles R. Dey has sold a farm he owns near Plainsboro, Middlesex county, to a company which intends to establish a plant to make improved food for infants. The company will take possession of the farm, for which $11,000 was paid, on September 1. The site is considered desirable, as it will be about half way between the cities of New York and Philadelphia.

Made a Nuisance of Himself.

John Lassiter, of Richmond street, was found last evening on Somerset street by Marshal Campbell. Lassiter was thoroughly intoxicated and made a nuisance of himself. A little later he was arraigned before Recorder Thomas who imposed a fine of $5. The man paid the fine and was glad to be released.

Powder in His Face.

James Conklin, a young lad living on Clinton avenue, received a charge of powder in his face last Monday while playing with firecrackes. Yesterday he called on Dr. Clawson who removed the powder and the face is now healing nicely.

A New Ferry Service Planned.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey will on July 12th introduce an innovation into the system of railroad ferry service about the city, and one which will prove of value to its patrons. On that day will be established a route between the company's Jersey City terminal and the South Ferry station of the elevated railway road in that city. Half-hourly trips will be made between these points, allowing passengers over the Royal Blue Line and the New Jersey local trains who wish to get uptown in New York to be taken directly to the South Ferry terminal of all the elevated lines.

The family of B. J. Shreve, of Grove street, have returned from Spuyten Duyvil, where they have been spending a few days.

PURE SPRING WATER FLOWS.

Health Inspector Pangborn's Favorable Report on an Important Subject.

The following is the report of Borough Health Inspector William Pangborn on his investigations into the purity of the water to be used by the Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company in the making of ice on their pond at Washingtonville:

To the Board of Health of the Borough of North Plainfield:

Gentlemen—Pursuant to your instructions I have made a very careful examination of the source of the watershed of the proposed reservoir of the Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company, situate in the Washington Valley, west of Somerset street.

In tracing the little mountain stream, that passes through the lands of Edwin T. Phillips and others northerly through the valley and the second mountains near Union Village, in Warren township, I find its starting point to be a natural spring on or near the Rogers farm. The outlet of the flow of this spring and several others intersects another mountain stream on the John Wolfe farm, at Stiles Mill, in the said township. This is fed from a spring running through the late Dr. Brown farm, on a tract known as the Daniel Cory lot.

The distance of these streams cover a territory of about three miles from the proposed reservoir, and at this season of the year it is a very small output.

The other sources that are counted upon to supply the proposed reservoir flow from springs in the Washington Valley, on either side of the Warrenville road, the farthest one of which is located on the Michael Williams farm, about two miles from the proposed basin.

The outflow from this spring flows east and west and is fed in its eastern course by springs known as the mountain spring and the rock spring, situated on the westerly slope of the first mountain near Washington Rock.

On the westerly side of the Warrenville road a spring on the second mountain, in the rear of Pedeflous' hotel, which supplies that place with water, flows into the stream that winds its way eastward, as does also springs on the old Isaac Titus farm, now occupied by Messrs. Texier, Mundy and others. Another spring on the Ephraim Ackor farm intersects and is the last one that flows into this stream, being only a few hundred yards from the proposed plant.

There is absolutely nothing but pure spring water to be found in this watershed, and I am firmly convinced that with only ordinary care there can be no harmful effects from its use.

The streams and their tributaries are clean, and there is nothing objectionable alongside the banks of any of them, and the source of supply in this instance alone is very remarkable.

Respectfully yours,
Wm. N. Pangborn,
Health Inspector.

MILLET'S STRUGGLE.

HE AND HIS FAMILY WERE OFTEN ON THE BRINK OF STARVATION.

Suffering Shortened His Life, but Never Weakened His Enthusiasm. He Was the Son of a Farmer and Worked at the Plow Until Eighteen Years Old.

Jean Francoise Millet has for the the first time been put adequately before the reading public by Julia Cartwright, whose handsome octavo volume, "Jean Francoise Millet: His Life and Letters" (Macmillian), is a carefully written and appreciative review of his life and works.

For in Millet's case, as Miss Cartwright points out, the man and the artist were bound closely together.

His first masterpieces were rejected by the jury of the Salon. The pictures which now fetch their thousands were sold for a few pounds to buy bread for his children. Pitiful as the story is, it is none the less noble and inspiring. His sufferings saddened and shortened his life, but they did not crush his spirit or weaken the message which he hod to give.

It is a pretty story, that of the budding forth of the boy's genius. Always impressionable to the wonders of nature, the vague stirrings in his heart found expression at last through the sight of some old engravings in an illustrated Bible. Then he tried his hand at drawing the objects around the fields. While his father slumbered on a couch at his side, Francois would sketch the cows, the sheep, the trees. Often the father, waking from his sleep, would get up and take a peep at the drawing on which the boy was intently engaged, and return softly to his place without disturbing him, well pleased to see this new development of his son's powers.

But it set him to serious thinking. One Sunday when the lad was about eighteen years old, he spoke to him and asked him whether he wished to be a painter. Francois answered in the affirmative. Then with a kindness that the youth never forgot, the elder Millet said:

"My poor Francois, I see that this idea has taken hold of you. I should like to have sent you long ago to learn this trade of a painter, which people say is such a fine thing, but it was impossible. You were the eldest of four boys, and I could not do without you. But now that your brothers are growing up I will no longer hinder you from learning what you are so anxious to know. We will go to Cherbourg and see if you have really enough talent to be able to earn a living."

At Cherbourg they called upon an artist named Bon Dumoucel. The latter saw at a glance the originality and merit of the country lad's productions.

"You are laughing at me," he said roughly; "you don't mean to tell me that this young man made those drawings by himself!"

"Yes, certainly," said the father gravely, "I saw him make them myself."

"I don't believe it," returned Dumoucel. "I see that the method is awkward, but as for the composition, I repeat, it is impossible."

When at last the incredulous artist was convinced, he turned to the father and exclaimed:

"Well, then, all I can say is you will be damned for having kept him so long at the plow, for your boy has the making of a great painter in him."

And he agreed on the spot to take Francois as his pupil. Later came the 12 years' stay in Paris, the painful apprenticeship to art, the still more painful effort to obtain recognition. Time after time his pictures were rejected by the Salon. He was now a husband and a father. In his dire need he accepted whatever orders he could get, and painted signs and portraits for the smallest sums. Even then he had great difficulty to get paid, and often met with harsh and cruel treatment.

His wife died. He married again under a temporary but illusionary gleam of sunshine. Then darkness once more fell upon the little family. So late as 1848 a kind-hearted artist, learning of his plight, raised 100 francs for him from the minister of the interior, who was likewise the head of the administration of fine arts. At that time all Paris was talking of his pictures, but, alas! not buying them.

Some of his sketches now found a small sale. These were mostly of nude subjects. But one day he happened to overhear two youths speaking of a pastel he had already sold, representing two women in a bath.

"A man named Millet painted it," said one. "He does nothing but paint naked women."

The words were a shock to the unwilling eavesdropper. His friends had often admired his nude figures and praised his skill in flesh color. But never until that moment had he realized that upon them depended his chief reputation as an artist. His soul rose up in horror.—New York Herald.

His Vast Experience.

A New York school boy, in an essay on his favorite authors, says: "Should I be asked to select a library of my favorite books, I should name Scott's Dickens's, Cooper's, Irving's, Porter's Shakespeare's, Eliot's and Hawthorne's works." It is doubtful if that school boy is entirely frank in naming George Eliot and Shakespeare; they look like a concession to the teacher's "prejudices." But the following is perfectly honest, and is a gem: "As a rule boys are fond of works of adventure, and I am no exception to the rule. It is only natural that young people seeing so much of domestic life do not care to read about it."—Philadelphia Ledger.

CRANKS' COLUMN.

Suggestions that Emanate from Pens of Bicycle Riders.

A woman lecturing in Brooklyn avers that "bicycling develops only the legs, and the upper part of the body must have other exercise to equalize the effects." The idea! Bicycling develops a lot of things. It affects the muscles of nearly the entire physical system. It develops the arms because of their exercise in steering; it develops the lungs, because it causes deep breathing; it develops the vocal cords, because of their use in remonstrating with dogs, drivers and pedestrians who obstruct the cyclist's path; at the same time it develops the power of language through the situations it provides which require the faculty of high speech for adequate dealing with them. Cycling develops the stomach, by giving its devotees a hearty appetite; it develops the heart, by setting it beating; it develops the hands, as they hold the handle bar; and, in the case of scorchers, cycling also produces the "bicycle face" and the "ostrich neck." Cycling is great in its all-round effects, morally and physically.

The bicycle meets with little sympathy from those who make by-laws in the city of Montreal. The City Council has already decreed that each wheel ridden within its limits must pay an annual tax of $2, and must be provided with a lighted lamp at night and a bell at all times. The wheelmen, however, must pass all street corners at no faster speed that that at which a horse can walk. Now the Park and Ferries Committee has declared that wheels are debarred from St. Helen's Island, one of the most frequented parks and summer resorts of the city. St. Helen's Island is in the St. Lawrence river, just opposite the city, and the reason given for its being denied to bicyclists is that the latter would be a nuisance to the large number of women and children who frequent it on the hot days of summer.

The Turnpike Trust also have given notice of application to the Provincial Legislature for power to levy a tax on all bicyclists using any of the country roads leading out from the city.

"Up against it again!" gloomily remarked the man who pronounces "athletic" in four syllables.

"How's that?" asked the woman who wears white gloves with black stitching.

"Thought I had a sure thing the other day, and was thrown as usual. Was in a bicycle store when a fellow came in to buy a cyclometer. Said his had give out after he had ridden 560 miles. Was trying for a season's record, and hated to begin over again. Salesman said he could fix it. Took new cyclometer, fixed it on wheel, upended the thing in the store, and began to turn. Reeled off 560 miles in no time. Thought I saw my graft. Went to a guy I know, and bet him I could ride more miles in a week than he could. It was to be decided by cyclometers. Bought new cyclometer, went up in attic and began to turn. Struck a hot box at the 287th mile and stuck fast. Never happened to a cyclometer before. Just my luck."—Buffalo Express.

Ain't you 'fraid to ride that bicycle, ul?

Land no! When one can keep her perpendiculum over the center of aggravation the laws of contraction is someover, and it's easy—daid easy.

Had I wished to know the time at 8 o'clock this morning in Hyde Park I could have had it for the asking. Several gentlmen passed me, and with an ease which was wonderful took their watches out of their pockets to study the hour. It was pleasant to see the elegant manner in which they could perform the clever feat of steering with one hand. I really did not know it could be achieved so well. Last year cyclists a la mode used to wipe their sweating brows with perfumed handkerchiefs, and they would light their cigarettes while swinging their bodies gracefully; this season nous avons change tout cela. The correct thing is to look at your chronometer while indolently you hold the handle-bar in the center by means of the right hand. All ye new cyclists, take the hint.—London Wheeling.

Joe Grimes, the 500-pound representative of an American wheel, created a sensation in Ireland last week, especially when he cycled through the streets. When he wanted to ride on an Irish car, for variety, there was always a commotion. Many car men absolutely refused to allow the heavy American to board their machines. Those who took him appeared quite five to the risk, and regarded the trip with such a load as a high trial. Needless to say, with Grimes up, the cars went lopsided to a dangerous extent.

Cycle stands similar to cab stands are to be started in Berlin. It is proposed to put 250 wheels on hire in various parts of the city, and the fee for hiring will be the modest sum of 1 penny for twenty minutes during the day, and twice that sum at night.

FONTHILL CASTLE.

BUILT BY EDWIN FORREST, THE WELL KNOWN TRAGEDIAN.

His Wife did not Look Forward to Leading the Quiet Life that Her Husband Desired. The Beautiful Home Brought no Happiness with Its Completion.

A half-hour's sail up the river from New York brings the tourist in view of the battlemented keep and tower of Fonthill, rising above the treetops on the summit of Mount St. Vincent. The castle is built of stone in imitation of the Norman-Gothic structures of the Middle Ages, and lacks but the moat and the drawbridge to present a perfect picture of an old feudal stronghold. In all other respects it is the most complete reproduction of a mediaeval castle that can be found in this country.

Fonthill was erected by Edwin Forrest, the great tragedian, when he was in the zenith of his fame, and was intended for the happy retreat of his declining years. It was destined, however, to be intimately associated with the domestic tragedy that broke up his home and embittered the last days of his life. The story of his famous divorce suit is too well known to bear repetition, but it is not so well known that the incidents which led up to it were developed while he was engaged in laying out his extensive grounds and building his beautiful Norman castle at Fonthill. While absorbed in this work he occupied a handsome stone cottage that is still standing on the grounds, and was, to a certain extent, living apart from his wife.

It is said that she did not look with favor upon her husband's plans for the future. She was of a lively, social disposition, fond of entertaining the many friends she drew around her by her charms, while Mr. Forrest was quiet and reserved, caring little for home company outside of a few intimate friends and his own immediate household. The idea of spending her remaining days shut up within the stone walls of a feudal castle, with no other company than her husband, was altogether distasteful to Mrs. Forrest's imagination; so she passed the greater part of her time in New York, keeping open house, while Mr. Forrest staid at Fonthill, busy with landscape gardeners and architects.

At last the castle was finished, and preparations were completed for moving into it, when the discovery came that led to the ruin of their happiness. Defeated in his divorce suit, Mr. Forrest was too much chagrined to contemplate living a solitary life in a home around which his fancy had weaved so many dreams of domestic bliss. He determined to part with his estate, and the Sisters of Charity of the Roman Catholic faith having offered him $100,000 for it, he transferred the land, with all the buildings upon it, to their ownership. It is said that Mr. Forrest never passed a night in the home he had planned with so much solicitude and care. But the story does not end here; it has a tragic sequel.

George Jamieson, an actor, who was held by many to be responsible for the domestic infelicities of the Forrests, met with a horrible death many years afterward under the very walls of the castle that had been built by the man he is said to have wronged. He was walking down the tracks of the Hudson River Railroad one night to take a train at the Mt. St. Vincent station for New York, when he was struck by the engine of an express and instantly killed.

Fonthill Castle is at present occupied by an aged prelate of the Roman Catholic Church. The Right Rev. Mgr. Bernard O'Reilly, Prothonotary Apostolic of the Papal Court, the author of the Lives of Popes Pius IX. and Leo XIII., and of other scholarly works, is spending the evening of his days in this quiet, beautiful retreat.—Leslie's Weekly.

Reasons for the Senator's Bills.

Senator Forney, of the Kansas State Senate, has a young daughter who tells why her father introduced so many freak bills in the Senate. "Whenever pa ran up against anything he didn't like," she says, "he would come home and write a bill against it. There is one of his railroad bills, for instance. We drove to town to church one night, and there was a freight train on the crossing, and it kept us there for twenty minutes. It annoyed pa dreadfully, and he went home and wrote that bill to prohibit trains from obstructing crossings more than five minutes. Then, one night, somebody stole all our chickens. The next day pa wrote his chicken bill. But you will notice that the bill doesn't protect ducks. It says 'except ducks.' Pa don't like ducks. And he said if anybody wanted to steal them it was all right—the ducks was punishment enough. Whenever pa sat down to write a bill we always knew that something had happened to him."—New York Tribune.

Use of Burdock in Japan.

A Japanese correspondent of Garden and Forest says that the burdock, which the Japanese call "gobo," is a valuable food in Japan. The tender shoots are boiled with beans, the roots are put in soup, and the young leaves are eaten as greens. The plant has been cultivated for centuries, and the annual value of the crop is about $400,000. This will be very surprising to American farmers, who look on the burdock as a "pesky weed."—New York Tribune.

CURED
For several years I have been troubled with backache and those distressing bearing down pains so well known to women. In addition, I suffered from weakness of the kidneys and occasional pains in my sides. I could better explain my complaint if I was talking face to face with one of my own sex than to write it. Everthing I tried failed to help. I recently heard that your Sparagus Pills were curing such cases as mine, and I bought a box of Mr. Danforth, the druggist. After using them a few days my pains began to disappear, and now I am feeling very much stronger than before, and believe I never was healther than I am at present. I am glad I heard of your pills, and wish every woman suffering as I did could hear of how they helped me. Bours respectfully, MRS. MAGGIE FARMER, 812 W. Second St., Wilmington, Del.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

KILLED BY MACHINERY.

A Workman In Newark Crushed by an Electrical Table.

Newark, N. J., July 7.—Thomas Gallagher, 35 years of age, was killed while at work in the Bowery street stables of the Consolidated Traction company. He was employed repairing cars. Frederick Clarkson was similarly engaged.

Both wished to use the transfer table, which is a track set on a movable platform operated by electricity and is used for transferring disabled cars from one track to another. The men started on a run to get the table first. Clarkson was first to reach it and placed his hand on the controller.

Gallagher stumbled as he reached the table and fell. As he went down his head struck Clarkson's arm, and the blow caused the hand resting on the controller to jerk it open. Gallagher fell beneath the wheels of the table.

Clarkson shut off the power at once, but the table had traveled a couple of feet, and one of the wheels had crushed Gallagher's head. The injured man was taken out at once, but died in a few minutes.

Fatally Burned.

Springfield, Mass., July 7.—Mrs. Thomas Harrington of Holyoke has been fatally burned. Her clothes were set on fire at a stove, and she ran to the second floor of the house, where she fell in a swoon. An 18-year-old daughter attempted to render her assistance and was badly burned about the face. When help came, the woman's injuries were found to be such that nothing could be done for her. The house took fire, and a daughter who was sick on the second floor was removed by Dr. J. H. Coghlan, who carried her down a ladder.

To Be Minister of the German Treasury.

Springfield, Mass., July 7.—Baron von Thielmann, the imperial German embassador, who is stopping at his fine summer home in Lenox, has been seen and confirmed the report that he has been recalled to Germany to become the minister of the treasury in the new government now forming. Baron von Reichemeau, chancellor of the German legation, will be charge d'affairs until the new embassador arrives. Baron von Thielmann will give a farewell dinner to the Lenox cottagers next Tuesday evening.

Heavy Storm In Vermont.

Brattleboro, Vt., July 7.—One of the severest rainstorms in years swept through this section. It was accompanied by hail, which did great damage to tobacco, corn and other crops. The houses of E. E. Stockwell and F. E. Young were struck by lightning, but only slightly damaged. Several horses owned by Mr. Stockwell were knocked down, and four men near his house were affected by the shock. The electric railroad has been unable to run since the storm owing to a break in the circuit.

Report on Bubonic Plague.

Vienna, July 7.—The special commission sent to India to study the bubonic plague reports that in a majority of cases the bacilli enter the body through the skin, although they sometimes enter through the lungs or by the tonsils. The period of incubation is from four to five days. The rat appears to be the only animal spontaneously affected, and it is unlikely that the disease will enter Europe under the present methods of supervision, except perhaps through rats in ships.

Russian Women Starve Themselves.

London, July 7.—According to a dispatch to The Daily Mail from St. Petersburg, two women have been found in the forest of Zarevosantsch Urski, in the Taransk district, one dead and the other dying of starvation. They were members of a sect regarding suicide by starvation as the highest form of religious devotion. Other members of the sect had previously disappeared, and the police have instituted a thorough investigation.

Damage by Rains.

Managua, Nicaragua, July 7.—The recent heavy rains have excavated a deep canyon through the town of Muyagalpa, at the foot of the volcano Ometepe, destroying a number of houses. Ometepe is a volcanic island in Lake Nicaragua, toward its southwest side. Its length is 20 miles, breath from 7 to 8 miles. It consists of two granite mountains, on which are the two villages of Ometepe and Muyagalpa.

Don't Like to Hear Us Praised.

London, July 7.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Cape Town says that the Hon. W. P. Schreiner in a speech at the American banquet in celebration of Independence day extolled the United States as "the one spot on God's earth where freedom finds its highest realization." This has given great offense in some quarters because it seems to imply a slur upon Great Britain.

Murder Suspects Discharged.

Hingham, Mass., July 7.—Judge Kelly in the district court here has discharged Thomas McKane, William Stahlen and James S. Frolan, who were held on suspicion of being accessories after the fact of the murder of Joseph White, the Fort Warren artilleryman, whose dead body, bearing evidences of foul play, was taken from the harbor at Hull two weeks ago.

Nominations by Jersey's Governor.

Trenton, July 7.—Governor Griggs has completed the list of county election officers by nominating the Republican members for the Cumberland and Cape May counties. The Cumberland members are Henry O. Newcomb, Millville, and Morris Davis, Shiloh; the Cape May members are Alfred Cooper, Cape May Courthouse, and John W. Reeves, Cape May city.

Bank Examiner Appointed.

Albany, July 7.—Ezra White of Poughkeepsie has been appointed by Superintendent Kilburn as an examiner in the state banking department and has been assigned to duty in New York city with A. C. Judson. The position pays $12 a day, with railroad expenses. Mr. White is an uncle of Mrs. Timothy L. Woodruff, the wife of the lieutenant governor.

Fixed the Sheriff's Salary.

Whitehall, N. Y., July 7.—The board of supervisors of Washington county have met in a special session at Fort Edward and fixed the salary of the sheriff at $2,000 per annum for the next term.

STRIKE SITUATION.

Conflicting Claims as to the Extent of the Movement.

THE OPERATORS PREDICT A FAILURE.

The Miners' Officials Express Confidence of Success and Satisfaction With the Outlook—Figures From Pittsburg. Prospects In the Ohio Region.

Pittsburg, July 7.—The strike of coal miners is on in the Pittsburg districts, but reports as to its extent are so conflicting and meager that it is difficult to tell definitely how many responded to the strike order.

According to the estimates of the miners' officials, 62 railroad mines are idle and 26 are still in operation. They reported that in a number of cases they had heard no news from certain mines and take it for granted in many cases that they are in operation. The mines idle are: Anderson, Allen, Amyville, Summerhill, Beechmont, Nixon, Big Chief, Hackett, Federal, Bowerhill, Yough Gas, Forest Hill, Fidelity, Nottingham, Germania, Harrison Gas, Banksville, Cliff, Monteour, Fair Haven, Lake Shore, Webster, Star, Mansfield, No. 2; Moon Run, Cherry National, Eclipse, Brier Hill, Essen, Nos. 1, 2 and 3; Charters, Hickman, Laurel Hill, Nos. 1, 2 and 3; Bishop, Nickel Plate, Boyd, Grant, Osceola, Slope, Belle Vernon, Standard, Phenix, O. I. C., Stockdale, Sheppler, Pacific, Atlantic Ocean, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5; Guffey, Oakridge, Creedmoor, Panhandle and Man Own.

Those reported working are as follows: Boone, Yough, Slope, Harrison, Allison, Eureka, Banning, Oakhill, Blum Creek, Whitesett, Darr, Painter, Boreland, Gaslenville, Snowden, Port Royal, Jumbo, Champion, Glenshaw, First Pool, Will Grove, Washington, Nos. 1 and 2; Smithton, West Newton and Lockhaven.

The miners' officials say the operators will claim a mine to be in operation as long as there are but two men at work. The operators claim that the Panhandle mines, operated by M. A. Hanna, where the ironclad contract is in force, are working as usual. The miners, on the other hand, maintain that the entire Millers and Thoms run district, where these mines are located, is out on a strike. The operators themselves admit that there were not the usual number of men at work in the Snowden and Gastonville mines, operated by the Pittsburg and Chicago company, where the ironclad is also in force.

Conflicting Reports as to River Mines.

A fair estimate shows that there are about 10,000 of the 12,000 railroad miners now out. A list of the mines idle along the rivers cannot yet be obtained here, and reports concerning the river situation are conflicting. The operators assert that the river mines are nearly all running, while the miners' officials claim they are all idle. Specials from Monongahela City say that 6,000 out of the 8,000 river miners are on a strike.

W. P. Dearmitt, president of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company, was emphatic in his statements that the strike would be a failure. "We had more men at work yesterday," said he, "than any day for a number of years after a holiday. I attribute this to the fact that the men came to work because they did not care to be identified with this movement. More than 25 mines were working in the Pittsburg district yesterday."

At the miners' headquarters President Dolan was apparently in the best of humor. He had received reports from nearly every part of the district and seemed pleased with the prospects. "More miners will join the movement before the end of the week," said he, "and I am perfectly satisfied with the progress made. Yet there are some mines that I hoped would be idle, but they are still running."

A Statement From Ratchford.

Columbus, July 7.—Speaking of the strike situation in the Ohio district, President Ratchford says:

"In some disorganized districts the miners are holding back to satisfy themselves that the movement will be general before taking any part in it."

"On this point," said President Ratchford, "they need have no doubt. Nor should they manifest any weakness by urging others to take the initiative. The movement is for the benefit of the whole and will require the efforts of all to insure success. It is sincerely hoped that this spirit will not long continue to exist. Men never free themselves by inviting the other fellow to go foremost to the fight."

Speaking of the magnitude of the strike and the interest being taken in it, President Ratchford said:

"The enormity of this movement is attracting the attention of the country. Our national legislators and members of the national cabinet express some alarm at the outcome of the present conflict. This is the first time in the history of the mining trade that the regulation of our wages or our trade affairs has given high circles any particular concern. We are pleased to know that even now interest is being expressed in the peaceful solution of this and future difficulties.

"In summing up the whole situation I am well pleased and feel really confident of the outcome. Our miners have an opportunity at this time which they have never had before. They must take advantage of it. They may never have it again.

"The press, the pulpit and the people are almost united in their support. Offers of assistance have come from state and national unions. The Labor league of Pennsylvania, which is a strong and powerful organization, at a meeting held in Pittsburg on Sunday last resolved to sustain the miners and give them material aid if aid be required.

"With all of those influences and many others that might be enumerated the future of the mining industry will occupy a higher plane, and at least the necessaries of life will be insured to those dependent on that branch of industry."

Killed by Runaway Cars.

Pittsburg, July 7.—A car on the Forbes street line of the Consolidated Traction company, filled with passengers from Schenly Park, ran away on Soho hill late last night, causing a serious accident. At the foot of the hill the runaway car crashed into another, killing three persons and injuring 17 others.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

TEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

Edward White, of Myrtle avenue, has purchased a Cleveland tandem.

Mrs. H. B. Brooks, of Rockview avenue, has received a new transparent blue enamel Wolff American wheel.

Will Jeffres, of Grandview avenue, has decided to ride a Wolff American road racer, and has ordered his mount from A. M. Griffin.

The price of the Wolff American wheel will not be changed this season. So says A. M. Griffin, the agent for that wheel in Plainfield.

There is a movement among the cyclists of the city to join the L. A. W. A great majority of the riders in this city are not members, although they ought to be. Application blanks may be obtained at this office.

Cyclists going to Boynton Beach will find a good macadam road all the way except a half mile just outside of Rahway. The best route is by the way of Westfield, Rahway, and thence through St. George's avenue to Woodbridge and Boynton Beach.

Notwithstanding the hot weather, the bicycle run of the Y. M. C. A. on Independence Day was one of the most enjoyable ever held by the association. The number of riders was 21. After visiting Staten Island, the company dined in New York, and took a moderate pace homeward, reaching this city at 6 p. m.

Wheelmen will find it considerably to their advantage to have a little care where they leave their wheel these warm days. Repair men say that half of the supposed punctures that occur so inopportunely these warm days are really cases where the tire has exploded. The heat has caused the air in the tire to expand and finally burst the covering that holds it. Remember to always leave your wheel in the shade, and then you will not find it necessary to walk home when your journey is but half done.

AROUND THE BASES.

While lack of space did not permit the publication of the detailed scores of the Crescents' games on Saturday and Monday, the complete score of the remainder of the games will be published.

A neat little card containing the schedule of games of the Crescent Baseball Club has been printed by the Daily Press and copies of it can be obtained by calling at this office or on application to Manager Benjamin Mumford.

The Crescents will play their next game on Saturday afternoon in this city, on their grounds at the corner of Richmond street and LaGrande avenue. Their opponents will be the Stelton Athletic Club. The Stelton team is composed mainly of college boys who are home on their summer vacation and includes several members of the 'varsity nine at Rutgers. They play well and have a battery that is said to be all right. They were defeated by the Westfields but those who witnessed the game say that the umpire was a very important factor in the result.

Louis Drake, manager of the baseball team of the Bound Brook Athletic Club, is one of the nicest men in Bound Brook but, judging from Monday morning's game in this city, the same cannot be said of all the team. A trick was played by one of the Bound Brook men that deserved severe censure. He was running to first and, seeing that the ball was likely to beat him there, he deliberately threw his hat in the face of Corbin, the Crescents first baseman, as he attempted to catch the ball. Such actions should not be seen on any ball field and do much to injure the National game.

Young Brampton, the star pitcher for the Bound Brooks, is a good man, but the Crescent batters found him an easy thing Monday morning. He was badly handicapped in that his regular catcher, Newhouse, the man who has always caught him, could not be there. Field, who was put in his place, was not a success, and then he injured his finger in the first part of the game and had to withdraw. Moran, the catcher for the P. A. C. nine, filled the position and put up a good game. Bound Brook also lacked a first baseman and Winn, substitute for the Crescents, filled the place. The Bound Brooks could not complain of his playing, however.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Harry Krewson, of Newark, is visiting Plainfield friends today.

Mrs. Radin, of North avenue, has returned from a visit with friends at Rahway.

Fred Harrold, of East Fifth street, has returend from a visit with Brooklyn relatives.

Miss Edith Beach, of Massachusetts, is a guest of Miss Eva Benton, of the Babcock building.

Rev. Mr. Crampman, of the West End, has secured a position as motorman on the street railway.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Brooklyn, are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl.

Dr. Harrington, of the Steamship Obdam, Holland-America Line, was the guest of relatives in Plainfield yesterday.

C. E. Hepburn and family, of the borough, left the city yesterday for Canada, where they will remain for some time.

Miss Alberta Irwin, of Brooklyn, is spending a few days with her friend. Miss Eva DuB. Benton, of the Babcock building.

Miss Blanche Fish, who has been visiting relatives in this city, left yesterday for Narraganset Pier, where she will spend the summer.

Armstrong Mulford, of East Fifth street, spent Monday yachting with a party of friends. The water selected was just off from Red Bank.

Mrs. Rice, of Leavenworth, Kansas, expects to arrive in Plainfield his evening for tqe purpose of visiting her son, Charles Rice, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cox, of Liberty street, who have been stopping for a week past with friends at Orange, returned home last evening.

Joseph Moon, of the borough, has lost his beard, and when met by friends this morning who did not know him, he said that there had been a change in the "moon."

J. V. Farlee and family, of 56 Grandview avenue, left the city a few days ago for Siegfried, Pa., where Mrs. Farlee and her children will remain for a time. Mr. Farlee returned home last evening.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Work has been started on Putnam avenue laying a long stretch of stone walk, which will be greatly appreciated.

—The new iron door has been put in position at the borough lockup. J. P. Homan did the work, which is very satisfactory.

—There was a run on Leggett's soda fountain, last night, and it was all that those in attendance could do to supply the demand.

—A summons was issued today from Justice Moffett's court in the case on contract of M. Ballentine against Dickinson. The summons is returnable on the 12th.

—The regular monthly meeting of Warren Engine Company was held last evening. Aside from the ordering of a locker for the house there was nothing of importance done.

—A wheel on a two-seated wagon was dished this morning on East Front street, near Caspar's Hotel, while crossing the car tracks. There were four persons in the wagon but neither of them were injured. The wagon was taken to Homan's carriage factory for repairs.

The Drive to Be Lighted.

The recent action of North Plainfield Township and the borough council in deciding to light Johnston's Drive is a most excellent idea. Now that the authorities have agreed to light the drive the work should be done as soon as possible as traveling is dangerous in that locality.

CHINESE DRINKS.

Queer Beverages Used in the Celestial Kingdom.

There are no drunkards in China neither is there an excise law. And yet it is as easy to get intoxicated in China as elsewhere, and perhaps easier, for drinks are cheaper. Wine of all kinds has been known and drunk in the Celestial kingdom since the days of the Chau dynasty, some 2,000 years B. C. Everybody drank the fermented grape juice in those days, and a gold cure establishment would have coined money had it existed.

Things went from bad to worse, until one of the emperors of the Chau dynasty went upon a protracted spree. When he began to "see things" he stopped short and reformed, and demanded reformation on the part of all his subjects. He decreed the instant destruction of all wine cellars, distilleries and saloons. Since then wine made of the grape has been unfashionable in China, and scarcely any is made there or used.

Sherry, port and whiskey have become rather popular in China during the last half century, but they are considered as food, and only taken at and with meals. Among the native beverages is shoa-shing, a palish brown mixture, the taste of which suggests ripe hickory nuts. It is served at all state banquets and also at private dinners. When cold it is cloudy; when warm it grows clear, emitting a peculiarly pleasant odor.

What shoa-shing is to the upper classes, sam-shui is to the masses. It is made from rice and is its triple distillate. Old sam-shui is very expensive and tastes like old sherry.

Koa-ling is made from Mongolian millet, and bears a family resemblance to rye whiskey. It is drunk only in Northern China, but has a large use in the making of liqueurs. Of these latter, ung-kapeh, or wo-shia-pi is the best known. It is thick, oily and yellow, and is a cross between yellow Chartreuse and Benedictine. Its taste is sweetish and aromatic, and it has a great reputation as an appetizer. Other liqueurs made from koa-ling are moo-qua, made of kao-ling and melon; meu-kwai-loo, ying-toa, and hundreds of other drinks.

Then there is fun-chin, or raw alcohol, used for medicinal purposes. Fermented fruit juices and flower wine, made by steeping petals or leaves, are also common beverages. Geranium wine is a horrible concoction, while bayleaf wine is the equivalent of the bay rum used by our barbers. All told, there are some 2,000 distinct drinks in China, yet drunkards are almost unknown.—New York Journal.

PENNY MACHINES.

Earnings of Each Average About Three Dollars a Month.

According to the Chicago Record, there are in that town more than 500 one-cent weighing machines, 300 of which are owned by one firm, and the average earnings of each machine are $3 a month. Eighteen thousand dollars a year, all in pennies, are paid by the people for the satisfaction of knowing whether they have "fallen off" or gained, and how much since they were weighed last.

Once a month the collector goes to each machine and robs it of its last cent and last slug—for the weighing machine still has an appetite for a particular steel die that is a part of the waste around bicycle works. The collector tests and adjusts the machine, gives the owner of the location his percentage of the pennies, and goes on to the next. He often comes in from a circuit with fifty or sixty pounds of copper cents.

They Were All Twins.

The tramp who "lost everything in the Mississippi floods" is now abroad in the land. One of them approached a benevolent old gentleman in Atlanta Sunday. "And you say," said the old gentleman, "that your children were drowned in the flood?" "Yes, sir," replied the tramp, wiping his eyes with his coat sleeve; "seventeen of 'em, sir!" "God bless me!" exclaimed the old gentleman, "you are a young man, scarcely 30, and—" "I know it, sir," interrupted the weeping tramp, "but they wuz all twins."—Atlanta Constitution.

WHERE CLAY PIPES ARE MADE

Braseley, England, Where They Have Been Made for 297 Years

It is difficult to state with any degree of accuracy when tobacco was first introduced into Europe, but it is generally believed that Sir Walter Raleigh took it to England toward the end of the sixteenth century. With the introduction of tobacco came the need of tobacco pipes, as before tobacco smoking began the smoking of herbs and leaves even for medicinal purposes was not at all general. It is stated that at Braseley, in Shropshire, the first clay pipes were made; and although many are made in Glasgow and elsewhere, yet the Braseley clay pipes are the best known among old smokers the world over, and their manufacture is still continued by descendants of the original makers.

The clay for making the pipes is and always has been obtained from Devon and Cornwall, the absence of coal in these districts and the abundance of it in Brasely having offered sufficient inducement to the early manufacturers to settle there. Pipe making in the early days of its introduction was a very different matter from what it is now. Then the greater part of the manipulation was performed by the master, and twenty or twenty-four gross was the largest quantity ever burned in one kiln. This required about a ton of coal. Each pipe rested on its bowl, and the stem was supported by rings of pipe clay placed one upon the other as the kiln became filled; the result was that at least 20 per cent were warped or broken in the kiln.

At the present time the preliminary preparations of the clay are made by men, but the most delicate part is almost entirely intrusted to the hands of women. The pipes are placed in "saggers," to be burned after the Dutch mode, and from 350 to 400 gross in one kiln are not an uncommon quantity. The breakages amount to not more than 1 per cent. One collector has a splendid collection of old clay pipes, the oldest of them, from their trade marks, hailing from Braseley, and being dated as long ago as the year 1606. —New York Sun.

FEW PUNS LIKE THIS.

Webster's Charming Way of Appealing to the Chair.

While Mr. Webster was once addressing the Senate on the subject of internal improvements, and every Senator was listening with close attention, the Senate clock commenced striking, but instead of striking twice at 2 p. m., continued to strike without cessation more than forty times, says Current Literature. All eyes were turned to the clock, and Mr. Webster remained silent until the clock struck about twenty, when he thus appealed to the Chair: "Mr. President, the clock is out of order! I have the floor" To say that a long and loud laugh from every Senator and person in the august chamber was indulged in is a faint description of the merriment this exquisite pun produced.

Equal to the Occasion.

He was seven years old, and was sitting on the porch when the census taker came around. It was "Jack's" first experience in this line, and he willingly gave the names of several members of the household, winding up with Bridget McCarthy. "Bridget McCarthy" repeated the census taker; "is she a domestic?" It was a new word for "Jack," but he was equal to the occasion. "No, sir," he said; "she's from Ireland—Irish, and not domestic."—Philadelphia Times.

HOW CUPID HAS TO TALK

QUESTIONS ASKED UNDER THE MARRIAGE LICENSE LAW.

A Catechism That Will Make Loving Runaway Couples Embarrassed When Asking to Be Joined in Wedlock.

The State Board of Health has compiled a catechism to be furnished county clerks throughout the state in connection with the new marriage license law.

The catechism calls the attention of the county clerk to the fact that it is unlawful to issue a marriage license unless all the questions to the identifying witness are answered.

First of all, he is asked if he knows either or both of the applicants for the license, and how long he has known him or her, and if his knowledge has been intimate or that of a casual acquaintance. He is asked if he can tell what his or her occupation is or has been for the past five years. He is requested to tell the names of his or her parents or guardians and how long he has contemplated marriage with her or she with him. He is required to tell the names of his or her parents or guardians of the applicants have been aware of the fact that they wanted and intended to get married. Six questions have now been asked.

Coming down to the seventh question, the witness is asked if he has ever heard of any objection being made by any person or persons to the marriage of the applicant for license, and if he has he is asked to tell who made the objection and the nature of the grounds of the objection.

The eighth question requires the witness to tell whether or not he knows of any impediment to the marriage, and if he does, to state its character. After he has done this he is requested to tell whether either or both have been married, and, if so, when, where, to whom and by whom.

"If either of them was previously married," asks question No. 10, "how was the marriage state terminated, if at all; by death or by divorce?"

The list of interrogations to the identifying witnesses winds up with question No. 11, which requires, if the marriage state terminated by death, when and where did the deceased spouse die? If it was terminated by divorce, when and where was the divorce granted? Was it an absolute divorce from the bond of matrimony, a divorce from bed and board, or a mere separation? And then the witness is asked to produce a copy of the decree of divorce.

After being sworn to all this the identifying witness heaves a sigh of relief and is released.

The identifying witness having had his say, the applicants for the license now step forward and enter separately or in concert answer to the questions:

What is your name; when and where were you born?

What is the full name of your father?

What is the full name of your mother, and what was her maiden name?

What is your occupation, and how long have you been pursuing your present occupation?

Where do you reside and how long a time have you been there residing?

Have you been married before? If so, how often, when, by whom and to whom?

Are you married; if so, to whom, and when were you married?

Is your present husband or wife alive or dead; and, if dead, when and where did he or she die?

If you have been divorced or separated from your present husband or wife, when, where and how were you so divorced or separated? Produce the decree.

The applicants then swear to the truth of their answers, pay a dollar, receive a license and go out to hunt up a man who has the power to make them one.

Going to the Soldier's Home.

William Gratton, a veteran of the Civil War, who was formerly employed by the late John Simpson, of East Second street, and who has lately been a hostler in the employ of Ellis Campbell, of Avon Park, will leave this week for the Kearney Soldier's Home, near Newark. Gratton enlisted with Company G, 67th Penn. Vol., as a musician. He went with the company for the four years. He was shot in the leg, hit on the head with the butt of a musket and suffered other injuries. Of late, he has been suffering from the injuries he received while in service. Tuesday, Thomas Quinn, of the law offices of City Judge DeMeza, made out the necessary papers whereby Gratton can enter the Soldier's Home, which he will do this week.

CONEY ISLAND ROMANCE

ITS SEQUEL WAS HEARD IN POLICE COURT THIS MORNING.

Michael Gilroy Received More Smiles From a Soubrette Than Did Hugh McIlveny and There Was Trouble.

Hugh McIlveny is a groom employed by a resident on Plainfield avenue and Michael Gilroy is a coachman in the stable of the same employer. They enjoyed a trip to Coney Island, Monday, even if they did meet their fate. They also drank considerably. Yesterday afternoon, they had a taste of beer together and the memories of Monday came back to them. Then Hugh remembered that his friend, the coachman, had received more smiles from a fair soubrette than he had. The fumes of the beer went to his head and inspired thoughts of revenge.

Yesterday afternoon, a telephonic message was received by the police saying that a man, wild with drink, was threatening the life of another and was chasing him about with a razor.

Roundsman Flynn rode to the house on his wheel and found that Michael was in great pertubation lest Hugh should use his razor with deadly intent. Hugh, he claimed, was wild with drink and wanted to kill him. The trouble was over the girl they they met at the Island.

Flynn went to the barn where the victorious Hugh had held forth and promptly arrested him and took him to the lockup, where he spent the night meditating over the results of the eventful trip to the "Bowery" on Coney Island.

This morning, Hugh appeared before City Judge DeMeza and pleaded guilty. He was fined $5. His friend and comrade in the trip to Mr. Coney's isle still remains at large.

RAGGED, DIRTY AND YOUNG.

A Somerville Youth's Experience in Commuting on a Coal Train.

Ben Hegeman spent the night in jail. He heard the scorpions as they trotted over the wooden bench and tried to count the different varieties of insect life by the dim light, but he fell asleep ere half of them were noted. Ben had been riding on a coal train of the Jersey Central railroad; in fact, he had turned "coal commuter." Patrolman Saffron found him there and promptly put him in the city jail with its many-legged inhabitants.

Ben said that he was from Somerville when he was arraigned before the City Judge, but he had never heard of the former mayor of North Plainfield who bore the same name as he. He was ragged, dirty and young. He didn't know that it was wrong to ride on coal cars; it wasn't at Somerville, he knew, and he could not reason why Plainfield was so much better than Somerville.

Ben had never been in jail before. He was young; so the Judge suspended sentence on him and told him to go home and keep off the trains hereafter unless his way was paid. Then Ben left the court room without a word, and turning his face toward the Somerset county seat, he departed.

Bust of Dr. Coles Unveiled.

The unveiling of the colossal bronze statue of Dr. Abraham Coles, whose professional work was done in Newark and whose home was at Scotch Plains, took place July 5th at Washington Park, Newark, with appropriate ceremonies. The presentation to the city was made by his son, Dr. J. Ackerman Coles, of Scotch Plains. Mayor Seymour, in accepting the gift for the city, paid a high tribute to Dr. Coles, who was one of America's greatest scholars. He referred to his life of usefulness as a physician and surgeon, the penning of the beautiful hymn, "The Rock of Ages," his skill in the translation of dead languages and his rare literary works. The selection of music was from the works of Dr. Coles. The bust is the work of J. Q A. Ward. The pedestal is of selected stones from Palestine and the base is a bowlder weighing seven tons from Plymouth, Mass. In it is inserted part of a stone from the pyramid of Cheops in Egypt.

Important to Tax Payers.

They will also meet this evening at the same place. The City Council will also meet this evening in regular session.

Blew Out a Cylinder Head.

An engine drawing a coal train blew out its cylinder head on the Park avenue railroad bridge last evening about 9 o'clock. The noise frightened people who were near, and it was thought the engine would explode. Another engine was secured and the disabled one taken in tow.

A HORSE SHOE CURVE.

ROUTE OF THE MOUNTAIN TROLLEY ABOUT DECIDED UPON.

A Gang of Italians are at Work Clearing the Way For the Tracks to be Laid—The Work Prosecuted Very Quietly.

A surprise is being planned for somebody up in the woods on the side of the mountain, near the Mountain Park Inn. Tuesday, a gang of men quietly made their way through Jennings' lane from Somerset street and up in the woods. There was a surveyor with them and soon the silence was broken by the sound of the ax. Right up the side of the mountain a narrow lane is being made and the trees and underbrush removed.

It is evident that preparations are being made for a trolley line to the Mountain Park Inn and that the proposed line will not go by the way of Washingtonville. There have been all sorts of rumors regarding the extension of the street railway but it was not until Tuesday that the work began. Last week a gang of Italian laborers were brought to this city and quartered up in that neighborhood but nobody in authority would say that work was contemplated as yet. It is known that the objection to the running of the trolley up Jennings lane still continues and that the owners of the land there have not given permision, but it is also evident that the Plainfield Street Railway Company has some scheme in mind by which they hope to overcome the objectors and connect the Inn with Plainfield by a line of the trolley.

The company had hoped to run the line by the way of Washingtonville and connect that place with this city also, but the objectors stood their ground and while the great majority of the people from that district were very anxious to have the trolley come, there were certain property owners along the proposed line that absolutely refused to give their permision and so effectually blocked the plan

While it is much easier to reach the Inn from the Washingtonville side of the mountain, it is still possible to run a line up on this side of the mountain and that is what the company intends doing. The property owners along Jennings lane have been understood to be firm against the advent of the trolley, but from the fact that work has been begun it is evident that the company has strong hopes of winning.

It is quite wild up there on the side of the mountain for the weeds and underbrush have grown with but little hinderance and the birds sing and twitter unheeded. There are several houses just at the foot of the mountain but they are hidden behind the large trees that grow on every side. The evergreens are numerous, especially on the side of the mountain, but maples, hickories, and other trees are to be found there in numbers. There is little going on there as the farming is done down on the plain land.

A party of six Italians under the charge of a foreman quietly marched through the woods early Tuesday morning. There was no particular secrecy in their movements but the secluded place toward which they directed their steps effectually hid them from all but now and then a stray wanderer who should happen to come down the mountainside or follow the base of that huge ledge of trap rock, commonly known as the Plainfield mountain.

There is already a driveway or path that leads to the base of the mountain and through which the trolley will probably be laid at once on the side of the mountain; the trees are close together and necessitate the cutting of a path before anything can be done. The work that was begun on Tuesday was of cutting down the underbrush and trees and the removal of the stumps. A lane about fifteen feet was thus made diagonally up the side of the mountain. Engineer Smith went with the party and directed them as to the path to follow to conform with the plans already drawn up by him for the Street Railway Company.

The proposed line of the trolley is to leave Somerset street and follow a by-path to the base of the mountain. The land gradually slopes up to that point and then the ascent is much sharper. At the place where the base of the mountain-proper is reached by the proposed trolley line there is an open space in which it is proposed to have the trolley tracks make a horse shoe and start up the mountain side in the opposite direction from which it has already been taking. The grade by which it is proposed to climb the mountain is about seven feet to the hundred, not a very steep one for a trolley road. The line will climb the mountain side diagonally and fianlly run parallel with the road to the Inn. It will circle around the bluff on which the Inn stands and come up around the pumphouse and tennis courts to the right of the Inn.

BIKERS MUST RIDE RIGHT

RECKLESS CYCLISTS MAY BE DETERMINED DISORDERLY PERSONS.

Westfield Officials to Amend an Ordinance So That Imprisonment May Accompany a Violator of the Bicycle Regulations.

The Westfield Township Committee will pass a bicycle ordinance at its next meeting that will puzzle the wisest lawyer to evade. It was discovered some time ago that the law under which the township and city bicycle ordinance are framed is defective in that it provides no penalty for violators who refuse to pay the prescribed fines. The committee became aware of this while it was preparing to pass the ordinance, and hesitated to do so fearing that if passed it could not be enforced. Justice E. R. Collins took an interest in the matter and upon the advice of an eminent Newark lawyer, he caused a clause to be inserted in the ordinance which declares that any person violating its provisions shall be deemed a disorderly person, and shall be punishable as such. The committee has power to declare what shall constitute disorderly conduct, and hence is acting strictly within its province. Violators of the ordinance as it now stands can be punished by a fine or imprisonment or both. The rate of speed of bicycles and other vehicles is regulated to ten miles an hour. Riding on sidewalks is prohibited, and bells of a certain size and lamps after dark are required.

BOYD GAVE HIMSELF UP.

HE WAS CHARGED WITH COMMITTING WILFUL PERJURY.

The Attempt to Secure Extradition Papers For Him Failed and Then Boyd Agreed to Meet the Charge.

The extradition papers in the case of Peter Boyd, the colored butler in a Stelle avenue residence, who was arrested Saturday as a fugitive from justice, were not secured as was expected.

Boyd was held under bonds by Justice Newcorn to appear before him every day until the New York authorities should secure the necessary papers to take him out of the State. Yesterday Boyd's lawyer, Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, appeared before the Justice and gave affidavit that Boyd would go to New York and give himself up to the authorities there if allowed to go from this city. He was allowed to go and went to the Centre Street Court, New York, where he gave himself up to Magistrate Deuel on the charge of perjury.

Boyd was one of the witnesses in Blanchard case who swore he saw the late Col. W. L. Blanchard married, April 26th, 1896, to Fannie F. Belkeiser, the colored woman, who was appointed administratrix of the estate. When he arrived in court yesterday he said he desired to make a confession. He made a statement to Assistant District-Attorney Perkins, in which he acknowledged that he had never seen the alleged marriage performed and confessed that he had purjured himself at the instigation of Mrs. Belkeiser, who had drilled him in the story he was to tell on the witness stand. Boyd was held in $300 bail.

Carried Away a Clock.

Four men from this city came to the boarding-house of D. Van, at Stanley, on Sunday last and asked permission to put up their horse while they went to the Passaic river, a short distance below, to fish. They returned in the evening, having caught a mess of catfish and a three-pound pickerel. When they had left with their turnout for home, the stableman discovered that a valuable carriage clock belonging to a guest at the house, had been lifted from a surrey in the stable and unquestionably been carried off by the party. The owner has taken steps to learn the identity of the men and proposes to prosecute them.

Photographic Print Exhibition.

A photographic print exhibition will be held in this city, this fall. It will probably be made a state affair, open to the amateur photographers of New Jersey. There will be prizes and consequently a live competion. Arrangements for the exhibition will be made at the meeting of the Plainfield Camera Club, which will be held on Monday evening. A committee of ten members will be appointed to arrange for the affair. A number of applications for membership will be acted upon.

Snowballs in July.

A letter was received yesterday from one of the party that went from here on the Christian Endeavor excursion to San Francisco. The letter was written in Denver, Colo., and said that they had been to Pike's Peak, had a jolly snowball fight, and that it was hailing very hard as the letter was being written.

THE WILD MAN'S ANTICS.

A REIGN OF TERROR OVER BEYOND THE MOUNTAIN.

Made His Appearance in Coontown and Along the Road Skirted by the Woods—A Vigilance Committee Talked of Now.

The Somerset county wild man whose pursuit of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Ballentine and Mrs. Ballentine's mother, on the road from Basking Ridge, on the night of June 21st, has been described in The Press, has shown himself several times of late in the woods near Warrenville and Coontown.

On June 29, some school children were in the woods, near Warrenville, picking wild flowers and berries when they came across a strange looking man kneeling in an open place and praying for the day of judgment to arrive. After a time he began to roll about upon the ground, uttering strange cries. The frightened children did not wait to see any more, but took to their heels. The crazy man was seen by a number of people about that time in the woods near Warrenville.

On Monday morning about 11 o'clock the maniac appeared at Coontown, a small settlement a few miles from Warrenville. He rushed up to the house of a Mrs. Nantz upon the outskirts of the village and uttered a series of yells which startled the family so badly that they slammed all the doors and windows shut and locked them. After wandering about the yard for a time, uttering occasional yells, he departed into the woods, taking with him a hatchet belonging to the Nantz family.

A few minutes after his appearance at Mrs. Nantz's house the wild man jumped out from the underbrush at the side of the road a short distance away and attempted to hold up Edward Erhan, who was driving by in a carriage. He ran along about 100 feet ahead of the carriage, stopping occasionally to make threatening gestures with a club which he carried. Erhan did not rein up his horse, however, and after running ahead of the carriage for some time the man stopped, gave his club a final brandish, and disappeared in the trees and bushes at the roadside.

Percy Giddis and William Smith, two boys 15 years of age, were chased by the wild man on Tuesday night. The boys were passing along a lonely road about half a mile from Coontown at about 10 o'clock when they heard strange cries coming from the woods at the side of the road.

The cries came nearer, and presently a strange looking creature with long disheveled hair, bareheaded and barefooted, leaped into the road and ran at them. The boys fled, terror stricken, never looking behind them until safe in the village.

The wild man's howlings are frequently heard in the woods at night, and the people in the vicinity are so alarmed that they are loath to venture out after dark.

It is thought that a vigilance committee will soon be organized to go into the woods and capture the maniac.

Justice Newcorn's Court.

The cases of Hand against Lavell and Hand against Finch were adjourned in Justice Newcorn's court, yesterday, to July 12th. Summons were issued in the contract cases of Clawson against Snyder, Clawson against Hoagland and Clawson against Bowden, all returnable on the 13th, and Bicknell against Randolph, Coddington against Voorhees, Coddington against Huff and Stillman et als against Frazee, in tort, all returnable on the 14th.

Endeavorers in Charge.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church was in charge of the services in the Westfield Fresh Air Camp, last evening. Twelve of the members were present. Miss Florence G. Hawkins acted as leader of the meeting. Miss Emma V. Fish was the accompanist. Several selections were sung by a quartette composed of Miss Adelia Runyon, Mrs. W. S. Lowry, W. S. Lowry and Thomas A. Cuming.

Salvationists to Farewell.

Adjutant and Mrs. Parsons, of the Salvation Army, have received orders to farewell next Sunday and the closing service under their direction will be held at the hall next Sunday evening. They will go from Plainfield to Waterbury, Conn., from which place they came to this city. The new officers have not yet been announced.

A Musical Feature.

Next Sunday evening at the First Presbyterian church a special musical service will be presented by the choir under the direction of William E. MacClymont, organist. The choir will then disband for the summer months.

THE VALUE OF FOWLS.

DOG FANCIER WRIGHT WANTED TO SETTLE BY THE POUND.

But the Plaintiff, W. C. Williams, Wished to Secure the Damages for the Living Price of the Alleged Blooded Fowls.

The famous chicken case that once caused lots of excitement in Justice Mosher's court came up for trial in the Union County Court of Common Pleas yesterday. The argument on both sides was heard, and then Judge McCormick reserved his decision until next Wednesday.

Walter C. Williams lived on East Front street, near Netherwood, last winter, and kept a stock of chickens, some of which he claims were valuable blooded birds. February 12th was the eventful day on which the trouble occurred. Charles R. Wright lives on Leland avenue, not far away, and loves dogs as Williams loves chickens. Wright has large kennels in which he kept some valuable dogs. On February 12th both parties agree that the dogs broke loose and wandered over to Williams' chicken yard and put an end to the life of thirty-five innocent hens and roosters.

Williams swore to secure recompense for the loss of his favorites and sued Wright in Justice Mosher's court for $200, the alleged value of the stock which was destroyed. No defence was made and the Justice gave a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount. The case was appealed.

Yesterday, it came up for trial in Elizabeth. Wright's counsel, Craig A. Marsh, was unable to be present and Fred C. Marsh, of Elizabeth, took the case for him. Swackamer & William represented the plaintiff.

The defendant admitted that some chickens were killed, but claimed that the amount of damages was too large. The claim was made that fowls were worth only 12 cents a pound at that time. The plaintiff wished to secure damages on the living value of the birds instead of by dead-weight.

Lost Her Way and Then Cried.

The little daughter of James Bailey, driver of Chief Doane's wagon, wandered away from her home, on East Second street, yesterday afternoon. The girl was about four years old. She lost her way and was walking up West Front street. In front of Harry Werner's clothing store, the little girl burst out crying. Charles Campbell, who is employed there, took the tot into the store to see what was the matter. She finally dried her eyes and told who she was, so Campbell turned her over to Patrolman Myers who took the tot home.

A Trolley Party to School Friends

Miss Helen Brainard, of Central avenue, and Miss Constance Patton, of West Ffth street, gave a trolley party to a number of High School friends, last evening. The party gathered at the home of Miss Brainard and then walked to the line of the trolley and took an open car to Dunellen and then to Netherwood. After the ride, the party returned to Miss Brainard's home where refreshments were served and the guests enjoyed a dance,

Officers Installed.

At a meeting of Goodwill Lodge, Knights of Pythias, held last evening, District Deputy Grant Cannon installed the following officers: C. C., Wm. D. Johnson; V. C., James Groaves; Prelate, Wm. Downs; K. of R and S., Wm. A. Kline; M. F., Peter Robison; M. Ex., A. E. Butler; M. A., Frank DeHart; representative to grand lodge, Lewis C. Croom.

Paid His Fine.

James Williams, of this city, was arrested early this morning in the borough by Marshal Campbell. Williams was intoxicated and was otherwise violating the borough ordinance. When arraigned before Recorder Thomas this morning he was given his choice between $10 or thirty days. He paid the fine and was released.

Ambulance to be Touched Up.

In a few days the ambulance will be removed from its present location to French's carriage factory where it will undergo a thorough painting. The purchasers of the ambulance were in such a hurry for it that the makers did not have time to finish it as they desired, and they informed the Plainfied people that when they got ready they could have it painted and they would stand the expense for the work.

No One Missing Here.

A telegram was received by Sergeant Kiely this morning. It came from Navigat, Roselle. The telegram read, "Any Italian boy lost or killed there, name Elerander Monfree." The Sergant had heard of no Italian boy from here being lost or killed or of the death of any Italian boy in this city or its suburbs.

Mrs. William Randolph, of Newark, has returned home after a pleasant visit in this city.

THORN IS ARRESTED.

Capture of the Alleged Murderer of Guldensuppe.

WAS BETRAYED BY AN OLD FRIEND.

Confession Said to Have Been Made Detailing the Circumstances of the Horrible Tragedy—Remanded For a Hearing.

New York, July 8.—With the arrest of Martin Thorn, otherwise known as the mysterious Fred, the detectives of the central office believe that they have solved beyond all question the mystery of the Guldensuppe murder, which for the past ten days has been one of the chief topics of the metropolis. Thorn was arrested by Captain O'Brien, chief of the detective bureau, upon information furnished by John Gartha, a barber, who was an intimate friend and associate of the alleged murderer. Thorn was arraigned in Jefferson Market police court and formally charged with the crime. He was held for examination, which will occur tomorrow, at the same time set for the continuance of the examination of Mrs. Nack, who was arrested last week.

Thorn's Alleged Confession.

Captain O'Brien has given out the following official statement, which purports to be a confession made by Thorn to a third party, presumably to his friend Gartha, though Thorn now denies having had anything to do with Guldensuppe's death:

Guldensuppe was the victim of a conspiracy. Mrs. Nack had tired of his attentions and wanted to get rid of him at any cost. Thorn, who had supplanted Guldensuppe in her affections and who nursed a deadly hatred for the bath rubber, was ready to kill him at the first sign of encouragement from the woman. They talked the dreadful business over together and laid their plans in cold blood. Mrs. Nack was to exercise her fascination over Guldensuppe to lure him to a vacant house in Woodside which had been hired by the pair, and Thorn was to approach Guldensuppe from a place of concealment and administered the deathblow.

Lured to the House of Death.

The bath rubber was easily persuaded by the woman to accompany her to the house to look it over with a view to advising her about a purchase of it. They reached the place at 10 o'clock on the fateful Friday. The statements of neighbors that three persons came together, but that only two were seen to go away are therefore without foundation. Thorn was already in the house when Guldensuppe and Mrs. Nack arrived. The barber had been three hours waiting for his victim, and when the man and woman reached the doorstep Thorn hid himself between two closets on the second floor.

Mrs. Nack went back of the house in the yard with Guldensuppe. She told him she wanted him to look over the house. "Go up stairs," she said, "and I will join you presently." He demurred, wishing to wait for her, but she insisted, and Guldensuppe went up stairs to his death. According to Thorn's friend's story, the bath rubber even hummed a tune as he went.

Thorn, concealed behind the closet door, heard the man approach. The murderer took his revolver out of his pocket and cocked it. His shoes were off, and he crouched behind the door, ready, as his victim entered.

The Murderous Shot Fired.

On went Guldensuppe, stopping before the second closet, a few feet away. The door of the first closet opened noiselessly, and Thorn, creeping up behind the bath rubber, shot him in the neck once. Guldensuppe, without a sound, dropped to his knees and fell forward on his face. He was not dead, although Thorn thought he was.

Mrs. Nack, in the back yard, heard the shot, and a minute later the back door opened, and Thorn's face appeared. "It's done," he said in a low voice. "It's all right for you to go home now. Come back at 5 o'clock." She went, and Thorn went up stairs to dispose of the body.

Guldensuppe was unconscious and breathing heavily. Thorn feared to shoot him again. He lifted the prostrate man and slowly dragged him to the bathtub. At the edge of it Thorn removed his victim's clothes. Then he lifted the body and put it in the tub, which, as has been told, was unusually deep and broad.

Thorn had brought a razor with him, and a saw. He cut Guldensuppe's throat first and then, with razor and saw, accomplished the dismemberment of the body. It was cut into five pieces. As he looked at the trunk Thorn noticed the big tattoo mark on the bath rubber's chest. He cut this off with the razor to prevent any possibility of identification.

The murderer had brought with him two pounds of plaster of paris to aid in disposing of the head. The plaster was dampened, and the murderer filled eyes, ears and nose of the severed head with it. Then it was wrapped up in oilcloth to be dropped in the river. The plaster of paris was used to make the package sink.

Thorn regretted that he had not shaved off Guldensuppe's mustache, but decided that he would not open the package to do it.

Mrs. Nack returned at 5 o'clock with the surrey. Waiting for her was Thorn with four packages wrapped in oilcloth. The bathtub was washed out, the plaster of paris which remained was hidden in different parts of the cellar, and every trace of the murder, the two thought, was removed.

Disposing of the Remains.

They put the parcels into the vehicle and drove to the ferry. The head was dropped overboard from the ferryboat and sank immediately. Where it was Acting Inspector O'Brien said he knew, but would not tell. At the proper time, he said, it would be produced as evidence.

How the other parts of the body were disposed of Thorn did not tell his friend. He and Mrs. Nack, he said, each disposed of part of the body. They thought even if some of it should be found not enough would be discovered to furnish a clew.

The watchman of the Woodside house has identified Thorn.

Thorn was further identified by three or four persons, among them Mrs. Haskin of Woodside, who had seen him over there on the day of the murder. The two boys, Joseph Riley and John Hinchy, who carried Thorn's valise from Mrs. Nack's house on Saturday, failed to identify him, because he had his mustache shaved off.

Detectives went to Thorn's home, 235 East Twenty-fifth street, and got the valise. Besides clothing, it contained a full set of newspapers containing the story of the murder and the working up of the different clews.

The detectives later learned that Thorn had pawned Guldensuppe's watch and chain. Detectives were sent out to every pawnshop in the city for traces of the watch and chain. Acting Inspector O'Brien said that he thought that the pawnbroker who could testify as to the pawning of the watch by Thorn would be one of the most important witnesses the people could produce.

TO PROTECT AMERICANS.

Two War Vessels Sent to Marocco For That Purpose.

Washington, July 8.—The San Francisco and the Raleigh have been sent from Smyrna to Tangier for the purpose of lending support to the representations United States Consul General Burke has made to the sultan of Marocco, which representations so far have failed of effect.

For some years past American citizens living in Marocco have complained that they have been harassed in their business operations by the refusal of the authorities to permit them to employ and take under their protection the native help that they require.

The complaints have acquired force through the fact that in this refusal the Marocco authorities have discriminated against Americans and allow Germans, French and other European subjects the privilege that is denied our citizens.

The result has been much annoyance to Americans, and in some cases absolute violence has been practiced upon them in consequence of their insistence upon their rights.

The ordering of the warships to Tangier is taken to mean that the state department feels that the only manner in which the local authorities can be brought to a sense of their duty in the matter and due attention secured for the consul general's representations is by a show of force, but there is no idea that anything more than a mere demonstration of naval force will be required.

THE DAVIS ESTATE CASE.

After Years of Litigation It Is Now In Process of Settlement.

New York, July 8.—The contest for the estate of the late Andrew J. Davis of Butte, Mon., is in process of settlement after having been in the courts for nearly eight years.

The estate seven years ago was said to be worth $14,000,000, but this estimate former Judge Logan and Simon H. Stern of New York city declare to be much too high. A conservative estimate of the value of the estate is said to be $4,000,000. Over $1,000,000 have gone to lawyers and experts in handwriting and other witnesses.

Nearly all the claimants of the estate are aged. Edward Davis is over 64 years old, Mrs. Bowdoine is 63, Mrs Ward 80, Calvin H. Davis 72, and Dina Davis, a sister, 81.

When Davis died, owning nearly the whole of Butte, each of a score of women claimed to be his widow. The contest finally narrowed down to six claimants. Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll, ex-Surrogate Daniel G. Rollins and former Governor Robinson have appeared in the case. A basis of settlement has at last been reached, but certain signatures are yet necessary to the agreement.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Mr. Bellamy Storer, the new United States minister to Belgium, has arrived at Brussels.

Professor Weston, the aeronaut, and his helper, H. Tapascott, who were thrown from their balloon at Eureka, Cal., have died from their injuries.

The British steamer Floridian, Captain Bullock, from Galveston for Liverpool, passed Brow Head, having in tow the Cunard line steamer Cephalonia, from Boston, with her propeller damaged.

John Reynolds, for 30 years publisher of The Odd Fellows' Talisman and one of the best known Odd Fellows in the United States, is dead at his home in Indianapolis. Mr. Reynolds was 70 years of age.

An interurban electric car, bound for Saginaw from Bay City, Mich., crashed through the open draw of a high iron bridge, and seven passengers were carried down into the river. A woman and three children were drowned.

In order to carry on the fight for life the parents of Theodore Durrant of San Francisco will place his photos on sale. The photos will show Durrant in the prison garb taking his daily exercise within the walls of San Quentin.

Read what follows and make the difference between such evidence and that usually supplied, say from Woonsocket, R.I. Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed by Pennsylvania's best citizens. Read this case: Mr. Henry Bernhard, of Lyndhurst, nine miles from Hoboken, employed at the Consolidated Iron Works, of River street, boat machinery and repairs, engines, pumps, etc. He has been in their employ for thirty years and his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills is as follows: "My back became so lame that I could hardly get out of bed in the morning. It hurt me to lift or stoop over and was very painful as my work was mostly heavy and naturally hard on the back. I was also liable to catch cold while working and this always aggravated the trouble, still as a general reason I have had no reason to complain on account of poor health. Sometime ago I had a bad attack of backache and I got Doan's Kidney Pills at a drug store. I felt their medical effect before I had used a whole box. I am thoroughly convinced that they are a genuine remedy for the kidneys and there are a number of men in our works who have as high an opinion of them as I have."

Something to Depend On.
Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.
1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

THE STRIKE SPREADS

Many More Miners Quit Work In the Pittsburg District.

DOLAN GETS ENCOURAGING REPORTS.

The Workmen at M. A. Hanna's Mines Join In the Labor Movement—Operators Still Claim That the Strike Will Be a Failure.

Pittsburg, July 8.—Sixty-two hours after the inauguration of the coal miners' great strike a comparison of statements from both sides engaged in the contest shows favorable results for the diggers. There seems no question that the workmen have scored a decided advantage in this district, and it is believed that as the Pittsburg district goes so goes the country.

Conservative estimates place the number of miners now striking in this district from 16,000 to 18,000 men, an increase of about 5,000. This leaves but from 3,000 to 5,000 men still working.

The key to the entire situation from present appearances lies in the success or defeat of the strikers in securing the co-operation of the men now working for the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company. Without these men the strike can hardly succeed, because they will be able in a measure to supply the demand long enough to tide over the present embarrassment.

Patrick Dolan, president of the Pittsburg district miners, is confident that before the present week closes he will have succeeded in getting all these men to join the ranks of the strikers, and when this result is effected the battle will be practically won.

The operators are just as confident of success as the miners are and have issued a statement claiming a large accession of men in different parts of the district and a heavier shipping list than usual. One thing slightly in favor of the operators is the freeing of navigation on the Monongahela river, which went into effect yesterday. Ten million bushels of coal which have been stocked in the pools above here awaiting this event will be brought to this harbor at once and be available for the present demand.

Miners Have an Advantage.

Notwithstanding the advantages claimed for the operators, the consensus of opinion appears to be in favor of the miners, inasmuch as the operators can hope only for temporary relief with their present facilities, and the miners' officials seem to be in a fair way to effectually cripple even these by constantly adding to their number from the ranks of those remaining at work.

The officials at the miners' headquarters are in high glee over the result thus far accomplished.

"From all reports I have received," said President Dolan, "there are no more than 3,000 miners now at work in the Pittsburg district. From reliable lieutenants in the field reports received say that more than 85 per cent of the aggregate number of the men in the district have joined in the movement for higher wages.

"The best news received was that the men working under contract at the Panhandle mines of M. A. Hanna & Co. had quit work and also that Robbins' first pool mines were idle and no coal was loaded at the mines of the Pittsburg Gas Coal company at Snowden and Gastonville. The strike is a greater success than the one of 1894. All the men in the Monongahela valley, the Panhandle, the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio and out along the Wheeling division have quit work. The total number will approximate 18,000. If we can get the men at the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company out we can settle this fight within a week and I believe we can do it."

Leading operators in the district profess to take an entirely different view of the situation. They admit that the miners have succeeded in getting more men to strike than they expected, but say they are not worrying over the outlook and that the strike will not last a week. None of them is pressed for coal and have offers from operators whose miners have not joined in the movement to help them out. Ex-Senator Camden of West Virginia has plenty of coal and is now trying to lease cars to take it to the market. Pittsburg operators whose mines are idle have requests for their individual cars. One operator has sent 100 cars to West Virginia. The strike has already benefited the West Virginia operators, and if it continues for a few weeks they will be enabled to dispose of a large quantity of coal at good prices.

Steamer Spree Sighted.

New York, July 8.—The North German Lloyd Steamship company of this city has received a dispatch from Bremen stating that the steamer Roland which arrived at Bremen yesterday, reports that on June 30 at 11 o'clock in the morning in latitude 45.18 longitude 9.10 she sighted the North German Lloyd steamer Spree, from New York June 26 for Cherbourg and Bremen. The Spree at that time was all right.

Fell Under a Coal Train.

Whitneys Point, N. Y., July 8.—Jeremiah Horan, a young man living at Homer, Cortland county, fell from a coal train near this village, and both legs were mangled into a shapeless mass. The left leg was entirely severed from the body, and later the other leg was amputated below the knee by Dr. Pellett, to whose office the young man was conveyed. Horan died at Dr. Pellett's office shortly after.

Captain of a Brig Dies at Sea.

Boston, July 8.—The Boston brig Lucy W. Snow, which has arrived here from Addah and Accra, Gold Coast of Africa, with a cargo of palm oil, reports that on May 31 Captain Charles Fries died and was buried at sea. Dysentery was the cause of death. Second Mate Soderlund brought the vessel to this port. Captain Fries leaves a widow, who resides in East Boston.

Premiers as Privy Councilors.

London, July 8.—By special desire of the queen, all the colonial premiers, including Sir Wilfred Laurier, premier of Canada, visited Windsor castle today for the purpose of presenting to her majesty the jubilee addresses from their respective colonies. Subsequently the premiers were sworn in as privy councilors.

TARIFF BILL PASSED

Carried by a Vote of 38 Yeas Against 28 Nays.

CLOSING SCENE WITNESSED BY MANY

After a Continuous Debate of Over Six Weeks It Has at Last Been Finished — Analysis of the Final Vote.

Washington, July 8.—By the decisive vote of 38 to 28 the tariff bill has passed in the senate.

The culmination of the long and arduous struggle had excited the keenest interest, and the floor and galleries of the senate chamber were crowded by those anxious to witness the closing scene. Speaker Reed, Chairman Dingley and many of the members of the house of representatives were in the rear area, while every seat in the galleries, save those reserved for foreign representatives, was occupied. The main interest centered in the final vote, and aside from this there was little of a dramatic character in the closing debate.

The early part of the session was spent on amendments of comparatively minor importance, the debate branching into financial and antitrust channels. As the debate proceeded the senators began manifesting their impatience by calls of "Vote, vote!" Soon the last amendment was disposed of, and the roll call on the final vote began. There were many interruptions as pairs were arranged, and then the vice president arose and announced the passage of the bill—yeas, 38; nays, 28. There was no demonstration, but a few scattered handclaps were given as the crowds dispersed. The vote in detail follows:

Yeas.—Allison, Baker, Burrows, Carter, Clark, Cullom, Davis, Deboe, Elkins, Fairbanks, Foraker, Gallinger, Hale, Hanna, Hawley, Jones of Nevada, Lodge, McBride, McEnery, McMillan, Mantle, Mason, Morrill, Nelson, Penrose, Perkins, Platt of Connecticut, Platt of New York, Pritchard, Proctor, Quay, Sewell, Shoup, Spooner, Warren, Wellington, Wetmore and Wilson—38.

Nays.—Bacon, Bate, Berry, Caffery, Cannon, Chilton, Clay, Cockrell, Faulkner, Gray, Harris of Kansas, Jones of Arkansas, Kenney, Lindsay, Mallory, Martin, Mills, Mitchell, Morgan, Pasco, Pettus, Rawlins, Roach, Turner, Turpie, Vest, Walthall and White—28.

Analysis of the Vote.

An analysis of the final vote shows that the affirmative was cast by 35 Republicans, 2 silver Republicans, Jones of Nevada and Mantle, and 1 Democrat, McEnery; total, 38. The negative vote was cast by 25 Democrats, 2 Populists, Harris of Kansas and Turner, and 1 silver Republican, Cannon; total, 28. Eight Republicans were paired for the bill and 8 Democrats against it. The senators present and not voting were: Populists, 5—viz, Allen, Butler, Heitfeld, Kyle and Stewart; silver Republicans, 2—viz, Teller and Pettigrew.

Following the passing of the bill, a resolution was agreed to asking the house for a conference, and Senators Allison, Aldrich, Platt of Connecticut, Burrows, Jones of Nevada, Vest, Jones of Arkansas and White were named as conferees on the part of the senate.

The tariff debate began on May 25, on which day Mr. Aldrich, in behalf of the finance committee, made the opening statement on the bill. The actual consideration of the bill began the next day, May 26, when schedule A, relating to chemicals, was taken up.

The debate has been continuous since then, covering six weeks and one day. It has been notable in some respects, although it has lacked many of the dramatic and oratorical features marking past debates. From the outset the advocates of the bill refrained from set speeches, and the discussion was narrowed to a consideration of rates and schedules rather than general principles. Mr. Aldrich's illness took him from the chamber after the first day, and since then the bill has been in the immediate charge of Mr. Allison. The opposition has been directed in the main by Mr. Jones of Arkansas and Mr. Vest of Missouri, while Senators White, Caffery, Gray and Allen have frequently figured in the debate. The bill as it goes back to the house re-enacts the antitrust sections of the Wilson act, while the reciprocity and retaliatory provisions are substitutes for those of the house. One of the most important new provisions added by the senate is that placing a stamp tax on bonds, debentures and certificates of stock. Aside from these more important changes, the bill as it goes back to the house has 874 amendments of various degrees of importance, which must be reconciled between the two branches of congress.

Sentenced For Attempted Bribery.

Boston, July 8.—James C. Donovan, Edward R. Donovan and Bernard D. O'Connell, the men charged with attempting to bribe Councilman Lang at Lowell, have appeared again before Judge Bond in the Middlesex county superior court at East Cambridge for sentence. They were each given one year at hard labor in the House of Correction and each fined $500. This is the same sentence formerly given by Judge Bond, which he afterward revoked in order to allow the men to obtain sureties.

Found Guilty of Arson.

Plymouth, Mass., July 8.—A verdict of guilty against both defendants has been returned by the jury in the case of the State versus John J. Donovan and John J. Devlin, both of Abington, who were accused of setting fire to a house on the Nash property at Abington some time ago.

Celebrated French Painter Killed.

Honfleur, France, July 8.—Joseph Edouard Dantan, the well known French painter, has been killed by being thrown out of his carriage, owing to the bolting of the horse attached to it. The legs of Mme. Dantan, his wife, were broken through the same cause.

Prominent Democrat Dead.

Middletown, N. Y., July 8.—George W. Sayer of Warwick, one of the wealthiest distillers in the country, died at the State Homeopathetic hospital. He had a beautiful home at Warwick. He was prominent as a Democratic politician.

STATE LINES IN DISPUTE.

The old boundary suit between Delaware and New Jersey has been revived by the peremptory demand of the Supreme Court in Washington. The officials of both States have been notified that arguments must be made at the next term or the suit will be dismissed. The suit has been hanging fire since 1877. It was brought by New Jersey to secure and order prohibiting Delaware from exercising jurisdiction over the New Jersey shore of the Delaware River. The dispute arose in May, 1872, when twenty-two fishermen from New Jersey were arrested by Delaware officers for fishing near the New Jersey shore of the Delaware river without having secured Delaware licenses. Delaware had never claimed up to that time title beyond the middle of the river. The tax the authorities sought to collect from the New Jersey fishermen was greater than that asked in Delaware.

THEATRICAL.

Variations of temperature count for little at the Pleasure Palace, New York, where the ventilating and cooling appliances, and the refreshing Palm Garden annex, insure perfect comfort for the public under all circumstances. There is an inviting bill for the National holiday week, the comedy element predominating, and nothing threadbare or worn at the edges. John C. Fox (late of Conroy & Fox) appears with dainty Katie Allen, in a hilarious farce, "The Flat Next Door," and Jennie Yeamans introduces some new whimsical travesties for her farewell week in vaudeville. Difficult acrobatic feats, with a comedy coloring, are provided by the Kronemann Brothers, from the Winter garden, Berlin. The De Filippis present transformation dances of all nations, not omitting poor Cuba. Alma Earle is a chic little comedienne who starred last leason; the Sisters Gehrue have a lightning dancing act; and there are diverting specialties by Madden & Curren, Irish dolls; Nella Webb, late of "The Brownies;" and Lew H. Carroll, the comedian and parody composer.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Charles E. Vail and family, of Orchard place, have gone to Quakertown for a week.

H. R. Coleman, of Arlington avenue, left today for Providence, R. I., to visit his mother.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—There was a run on Leggett's soda fountain, last night, and it was all that those in attendance could do to supply the demand.

—A meeting of the Pond Tool Works Benefit Association will be held on Saturday evening, when business of great importance will be considered.

—The death of Louis Boorstein, aged nine months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Boorstein, of Manning avenue, occurred early this morning. Death was caused by an attack of cholera infantum. The funeral was held this afternoon from the house.

—Very little business was done in Justice Newcorn's court today. The contract case of French against Pickard was tried and judgment rendered for the plaintiff. Summons were issued in the contract case of Coddington against Totten, returnable on the 14th.

Unity Lodge Installs Officers.

Unity Lodge, No. 102, Knights of Pythias, met and installed the following officers last night: C. C., George Radford; V. C., R. H. Loughlin; Prelate, A. W. TenEyck; M. W., Frank Humpston; M. at A., Franklin Green; I. G., Wm. Johnson; O. G., Chas Sandburg. The installation services were conducted by Grand Chancellor J. W. A. Bauersachs.

PASSING COMMENT.

Ministers and justices of Camden who miss the fat envelopes the eloping couples from Pennsylvania used to bring them, are deeply interested in a test of the new marriage law which James H. Agnew, of Philadelphia, asserts he will bring. Agnew is the first Pennsylvanian to visit the Gretna Green since the law went into effect. He brought along Herr Schmidt, J. P., to help him get his license. But the questions which must be put under the law stumped them both, and County Clerk Barber refused to be moved by the tears of the lady in the case.

Two years ago it was thought very immodest for a young woman on a wheel to wear a short bicycle gown and not wear leggins or high bicycle boots. Now that the warm weather has arrived, a new custom has prevailed. The wheelman does not think it any more immodest to ride a wheel in short gown and low shoes without leggins than to go in bathing at the seashore in similar garb. A number of Plainfield young women have appeared on the city streets in that manner and even the most conservative can find nothing that is not perfectly modest and ladylike in the costume.

It is not generally known that the mailcarriers do not carry mail to all parts of the city, but such is the case. Councilman Leivers, of the West End, is obliged to have his mail sent to Dunellen where he calls for it. The reason for this seems to be that the carriers work just so many hours, and it makes no difference where they are on their route, if their time is up they stop and return to the office. With the present force of carriers it is impossible to cover the extreme parts of the city. It seems, however, that it would only be fair that people living in the city should have their mail delivered to them, even if its necessary to have more carriers.

It is now a rule on the open cars of the Plainfield Street Railway that smoking is allowed on the last three seats only. This was done to give the smokers a change to enjoy themselves and yet not disturb the other passengers, the women in particular. Women should remember this and therefore not sit on those last three seats unless there is no room on any of the others. Those who have occasion to ride on the cars will notice that the women often forget this and seat themselves on the rear seats when there is plenty of room forward. It will often happen that the men that want to smoke are unable to because the non smokers sit on the smokers' seats and leave no room for men who use tobacco.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Dr. Nelson, of New Market, was in Plainfield yesterday on business.

Howard Manning, of Plainfield, was a visitor in the borough yesterday.

Harry Todd, of Newark, is the guest of relatives in the borough for a few days.

William Jennings, of the borough, is working temorarily for W. H. Cole, the coal dealer.

Mr. and Mrs. Winges, of the borough, are entertaining company from out of town.

There will be bowling on the green at Schepflin's next Saturday afternoon by the members of the club.

Mrs. E. J. McLoughlin and children, of the borough, are visiting relatives in Connecticut for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxson Dunham, of the borough, have returned from a visit with relatives in Plainfield.

Mrs. R. H. Duncan and son, of Philadelphia, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thompson, of the borough.

Miss Dennick, of the borough, who has been entertaining company from out of town, regretted their departure very much yesterday.

J. B. Conover, who has been confined to his house as a result of injuries received recently, was able to be out a little while yesterday.

John D. Runyon and E. H. Holmes, of Plainfield, was in the borough on business yesterday. They also went to Bound Brook. Both were riding wheels.

The barn back of the Slape house has been torn down. It is expected that the house will be moved to the rear of the City Industrial Home at an early date.

There seems to be but little doubt but what Adam Dealaman will be appointed postmaster when the change is made. A majority concede the appointment to him.

Watson Emory's new house is rapidly nearing completion. It will be one of the finest residences in the borough when finished and its location is very desirable.

It is expected that before long the coal merchants in the borough will raise the price of coal. The price now asked is $5.20, but it is not known how much of a raise will be made.

A meeting of William G. Holton Council, No. 55, Jr. O. U. A. M., will be held next Tuesday evening at which time a detailed report of the recent festivities will be made by the committee.

The society of the Congregational church held its annual meeting in the church last evening. The treasurer, A. L. Russell, read the annual report, showing the church to be in a good financial condition. E. J. Whitehead was elected a trustee to succeed himself, and Thomas Foote to succeed W. G. Delamater.

Boys who went from this place to Echo Lake to take a swim yesterday, were warned by the proprietor of the lake not to venture into the water without tights. As the lake is a very secluded one, the boys have not taken the trouble heretofore to provide themselves with bathing apparel when visiting it. The owner of the lake says that hereafter tights must be worn by the bathers. Anyone ignoring this regulation will be punished to the full extent of the law.

Garwood is to have a public school. At the meeting of the Westfield Roard of Education held on Tuesday evening its special committee appointed to confer with the Cranford trustees reported an amicable settlement of this matter which has long vexed both townships. The agreement is that Garwood shall furnish the schoolhouse and that Westfield and Cranford shall pay the salary of a teacher, each contributing in proportion to the number of its pupils in the school. The salary of the teacher is estimated at $600 a year. Cranford will send 34 pupils to the schools and 11 will go from Westfield. This place will accordingly have to pay about one-fourth of the teacher's salary. The Westfield board has empowered the committee to make the arrangements suggested in its report.

YARNS OF ARMY LIFE.

FAITHFULNESS OF FORAGER BOSE TO HIS MASTER.

Queer Advent of a Baby in Camp — Its Place in the Hearts of the Men, and the Honors Paid It at the Departure of the Soldiers for the Kentucky Campaign.

Jack adopted the dog in our very first campaign, and before a month he was as important a member of the company as though he had been sworn into the service and carried a rifle. Jack was a great forager, and his dog Bose was the best catcher of chickens in Dixie. His expertness in this particular made him a great favorite, and as he always brought the captured fowls and laid them at Jack's feet, he made his master the dispenser of patronage.

We lost him at times in the marches through Kentucky and Tennessee, but after a skirmish he would come into camp as good as new.

No one knew just what became of him when a battle opened. The firing sent him skulking to the rear, or to some place remote from the noise, but on one occasion there was a night attack, and the men were pretty well scattered. When the roll was called in the morning Jack and Bose were missing. Every one thought that the dog had run away as usual, and that Jack had probably been killed. An hour later Bose came limping on three legs to where the arms were stacked, and the boys began to talk to him about Jack. Very much to their surprise he nosed around the camp until he found Jack's haversack, and, taking it up, made a break into the woods.

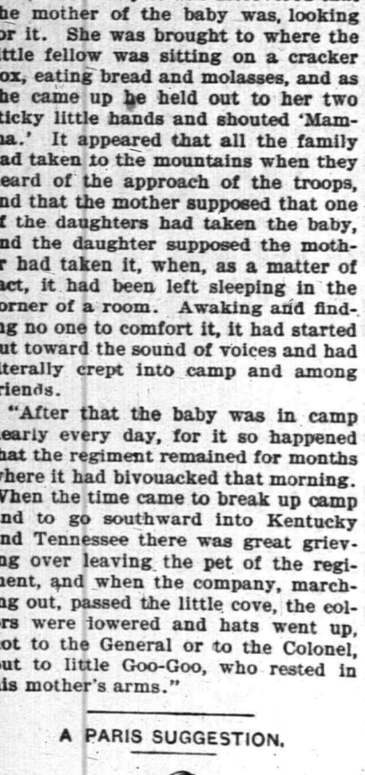
Two or three of the men started after him, and after a wild chase they found Jack, severely wounded, confidently waiting for Bose to return. He was carried into camp, Bost trotting along with an air of one who had performed a sacred duty, and was taken to the hospital. Bose remained at his bedside through a long siege, and came out more attached to him than ever. After that Bose was at Jack's heels in battle and out of battle, and kept up his reputation until Jack was discharged on account of his wounds, and dog and man went home together.

"One day there came down the road something creeping, making a great dust and stopping at odd times to take observations. As it came nearer the men saw that it was a bare-footed, curly-headed baby. They all started toward it, and some of the men who had left little ones at home took it up, brushed the dust from the little bare feet and cuddled it in their arms, passing it from one to the other. The baby was evidently greatly astonished, but was inclined to be sociable.

"The question was, where it came from. There was a little house in the cove, but it was deserted. The boys made the best of the situation; shook the dust from the clothes, washed the little hands and feet and face and had installed the baby at the head of their improvised dinner table, when a woman's scream down at the little house attracted attention. The baby showed as much interest in the scream as the men, and finally it was discovered that the mother of the baby was, looking for it. She was brought to where the little fellow was sitting on a cracker box, eating bread and molasses, and as she came up he held out to her two sticky little hands and shouted 'Mamma.' It appeared that all the family had taken to the mountains when they heard of the approach of the troops, and that the mother supposed that one of the daughters had taken the baby, and the daughter supposed the mother had taken it, when, as a matter of fact, it had been left sleeping in the corner of a room. Awaking and finding no one to comfort it, it had started out toward the sound of voices and had literally crept into camp and among friends.

"After that the baby was in camp nearly every day, for it so happened that the regiment remained for months where it had bivouacked that morning. When the time came to break up camp and to go southward into Kentucky and Tennessee there was great grieving over leaving the pet of the regiment, and when the company, marching out, passed the little cove, the colors were lowered and hats went up, not to the General or to the Colonel, but to little Goo-Goo, who rested in his mother's arms."

A PARIS SUGGESTION.



Powerful Persuasion.

A lady took her four-year-old girl to a photographer. The child couldn't be made to sit still. He of the camera was as suave as he could be, and worked every device of gentle persuasion to make the little wriggler keep still. Finally he said to the despairing mother: "Madam, if you leave the little dear alone with me a few minutes I think I can succeed." The mother had scarcely withdrawn when she was summoned back by the triumphant photographer, who exhibited a satisfactory negative. When they reached home the mother asked: "Nellie, what did the man say to you when I left you alone with him?" "He thaid,," lisped Nellie, "thit thtill, you little rathcall, or I'll thake you."—Boston Post.

The Horse was All Right.

It is told of an old Baptist parson famous in Virginia that he once visited a plantation where the colored servant who met him at the gate asked which barn he would have his horse put in. "Have you two barns?" asked the doctor. "Yes, sah," replied the servant; "dar's de ole barn and Mas'r Wales has jes' built a new one." Where do you usually put the horses of clergymen who come to see your master?" "Well, sah, if dey's Metbdist or Baptist we gen'ally puts 'em in de ole barn, but if dey's 'Piscopals we puts 'em in de new one." "Well, Bob, you can put my horse in the new barn; I'm a Baptist, but my horse is Episcopalian."

Hopeful.

The dry goods merchant was explaining the situation to the new drummer he had just employed.

"Your predecessor," he said, "has got his business all tangled up, and if you take his place you will have a difficult task getting order out of chaos."

"I don't know who Chaos is," cheerfully replied the drummer, "but I bet I'll sell him a bill of goods if I have to hang on him a week."—Dry Goods Chronicle.

AN ORDINANCE

concerning the Police Department of the Borough of North Plainfield.

Section 1. That the marshals of the borough shall constitute the Police Department thereof, and the following rules be and are hereby adopted for the regulation and government of such Department, and that it shall be the duty of every person, while a member of said department, to comply the e-with The term "station house" where used in this ordidance shall be held and construed to include and apply to the Borough lock-up.

Rule 1 Each and every regular marshal shall devote his whole time and attention to the business of the department. Although certain hours are alloted to the respective members for the performance of duty on ordinary occasions, yet at all times they must be prepared to act immediately on notice that their services are required.

Rule 2. Punctual attendance, prompt obedience to orders and conformity to the rules of the department must be rigidly enforced.

Rule 3. No member of the Department hereafter appointed shall be a member of any fire or military company.

Rule 4. Each and every member in his conduct and deportment must be quiet, civil and orderly; in the performance of his duty he must maintain decorum, be patient and discreet. He must at all times refrain from harsh, profane or insolent language, yet at the same time, when required, act with firmness.

Rule 5. No member of the department shall, in the Station House or elswhere, while on duty drink any kind of liquor, or smoke, or (except in the immediate performance of his duty) enter any place in which any kind of intoxicating drink may be sold or furnished No liquor or intoxicating drink shall, upon any pretext, be introduced into the Station House except advised by a physician; nor shall any smoking be allowed at any time in the public office of the Station House.

Rule 6. No member shall accept from any person while in custody, or after he shall have been discharged, nor from any of his friends, any gratuity, reward or gift, directly or indirectly, or any description of drink.

Rule 7. No member shall compound any offence committed against their persons or property, or withdraw any complaint unless permitted by the Mayor or Council.

Rule 8. No member shall communicate to any person any information which may enable persons to escape from arrest or punishment, or enable them to dispose of or secrete any goods or other valuable things stolen or embezzled.

Rule 9. No member shall communicate, except to such persons as directed by his superior in office, any information respecting orders he may have received

Rule 10. Each member shall, at all times enter the names of persons taken in charge by him, and such particulars in each case as will be important on the the trial of the cause, in a book at Station house.

Rule 11. All marshals when on duty shall wear the shield on the outside of the outermost garment over the left breast.

Rule 12. No member of the Police Department shall leave the borough, or be absent from duty, without the permission from the Mayor or Chief Marshal.

Rule 13. On occasion of fires, riots or emergencies, when the reserve force has been on active duty, the officer in charge, immediately on their return to the Station House, shall call the roll, to ascertain who, if any, have been absent.

Rule 14. Members of the Police force must be civil and respectful to each other on all occasions.

Rule 15. Every member of the department will be furnished with a copy of the rules and regulations, which they must keep in their possession in order to become perfectly familiar with their respective duties.

Rule 16. Marshals finding horses, cattle, goats or swine running at large, must drive or cause the same to be driven to the public pound, and must report such fact to the Mayor.

Rule 17. Members of the department, when suspended or resigning, must immediately surrender their book of rules and regulations, their shield and other insignia of office in their possession, to the Chief Marshal or Mayor.

Rule 18. The members of the Police Force are particularly enjoined to investigate the case of all persons found begging in the streets. If they find them to be proper subjects for relief, they are to take them to the Overseer of the Poor, and if proven to be imposters, or actual vagrants, then to take them before the Recorder to be dealt with according to the law.

Rule 19. Every officer when entering on duty must be neat in his person, his clothes and boots clean, and his dress in conformity with the regulations.

Rule 20. Chief of Marshals, The Chief Marshal (subordinate to the Mayor) shall be the chief executive of the Police Department. He shall repair to the scene of fires, riots and tumultuous assemblages, take charge of the police present, and use every exertion to save and protect property, disperse mobs and arrest such persons as he may find disturbing the peace, or who may aid or abet others in so doing, and he shall at all times be vigilant in suppressing all violations of the laws of the State and the ordinances of the borough. The Chief Marshal shall be a regular Marshal designated and appointed as chief by the Mayor in the same manner that other Borough officers are by law required to be nominated and appointed.

Rule 21. He shall promptly report to the Mayor, or Chairman of the Committee on License and Marshals, each and every case of dereliction of duty, coming in any way to his knowledge, and also all complaints made to him against members of the department.

Rule 22. He shall keep in his office a book, in which shall be entered the name of each Marshal and he shall therein state the hours of actual duty of the several members, and note the absentees and those present at each roll call.

Rule 23. He shall keep in his office a book, in which shall be entered the name in full, with the alias, of every person arrested and detained by him, or against whom criminal complaint shall be made, the time of arrest, the nature of the complaint, and what disposition was made of the accused; also, the name of the person who made the arrest, the name and residences of the witnesses, together with all the circumstances of interest in such cases.

Rule 24. He shall keep in his office a book, in which shall be entered an account (stating the time, place and circumstances) of all larcenies, burglaries and other offenses which shall come to his knowledge; of suspicious persons and places, of money and other articles of value, taken from prisoners and lodgers, all stolen property found, together with the disposition made of such money or other property.

Rule 25. He shall, by and with the advice of the Committee on Licenses and Marshals, designate the day and night posts and the policemen who are to patrol the same.

Rule 26. No person shall be permitted to remain in the Station House without express permission from the officer in charge, except members of the Department and persons on business.

Rule 27. Marshals — The prevention of crime being the most important object in view, the Marshals' exertions must be constantly used to accomplish that end. He must examine and make himself perfectly acquainted with every part of his beat, and vigilantly watch every description of person passing his way.

Rule 28. He must, to the utmost of his power, prevent the commission of assaults, breaches of the peace and all other crimes about to be committed.

Rule 29. He shall strictly watch the conduct of all persons of known bad character, and in such a manner that it will be evident to said person that they are watched, and that certain detection must follow the attempt to commit crime. He shall note the appearance of any person of known bad character on his beat, and the circumstances attending, and the premises that said person may enter, and report to the commanding officer.

Rule 30. Marshals shall report to the Chief or Mayor all policy-dealers, gamblers, receivers of stolen property or his suspicions that they are such.

Rule 31. When any person charges another with the commission of a crime, and insists that the person be taken into custody, the Marshal shall require the accuser, if unknown to him, to accompany him as a witness, along with the accused to the Station House or Recorder's office.

Rule 32. He shall carefully watch all disorderly houses, or houses of ill fame within his beat, and observe by whom they are frequented, and report his observation to the commanding officer.

Rule 33. He shall take particular notice of all hacks, cabs or other vehicles at night, which under any circumstances excite his suspicion.

Rule 34. He shall not leave his beat until regularly relieved, unless it be for the purpose of taking a prisoner to the Station House, or to answer a call for assistance by a police officer, or to make an arrest on view on the confines of his beat, or to follow an offender to an adjoining beat for the purpose of making an arrest.

Rule 35. He shall report to his commanding officer all lamps that may not be lighted at the proper time cleaned or in any way out of order.

Rule 36. He must not use his baton except in the most urgent cases of self-defence.

Rule 37. Marshals must not walk together or talk with each other or with any other person, when they meet on the confines, or any other part of their beats, unless it is to communicate information appertaining to the Department, or answer legitimate questions, such communication to be as brief as possible.

Rule 38. It will be deemed a neglect of duty on the part of a Marshal to lose his shield, emblem or other insignia of office, or when lost, to neglect to report the same immediately thereafter to the officer in command at the Station House.

Rule 39. He will pay particular attention to all public houses and drinking places in his beat, reporting those which remain open beyond hours allowed by law.

Rule 40. If he observe in the street anything likely to produce inconvenience, or anything which seems irregular and offensive to the public, he shall report the same immediately to the Mayor or Chief.

Rule 41. Umbrellas or walking canes are not to be carried by Marshals while on duty.

Rule 42. The Mayor, (subject always to the ultimate control of the Council), shall be the head of the Police Department. The committee on License and Marshals shall have charge of the management, equipment, regulation and control of the Department, and with the consent of the Mayor, shall have power to make and issue all orders to the department or any member thereof touching any matter concerning the department not inconsistent with these rules. All other members of the department shall be subordinate to the Chief Marshal. In consideration of orders to the department or any member thereof the Mayor shall be considered the highest authority. The Chairman or acting-Chairman of the Committee on License and Marshals shall rank next. The Chief Marshal next and in the absence of any superior officer the regular Marshals shall rank special Marshals.

Rule 43. No member of the Police Department shall be guilty of intoxication; wilful disobedience of orders of any superior; violent, coarse or insolent language to a superior or other person; receiving money or other valuable things contrary to the rules and regulations or the statutes of the State; inefficiency or neglect of duty; maltreating or using unnecessary force toward or upon any prisoner or citizen; absence without leave; immoral conduct or conduct unbecoming an officer; or of any crime, misdemeanor or legal offence.

Rule 44. Any member of the Department upon being ordered so to do by his superior shall deliver to such superior any badge, keys, baton, uniform, books papers or other like thing which he has possession of by virtue of his office as Marshal.

Sec. 2. For any violation of any of the foregoing rules any member of the Police Department may, after being given an opportunity to be heard before the Council, by resolution of the Council be reprimanded, suspended with or without pay, fined or expelled.

Sec. 3. This ordinance shall take effect on the 20th day of July, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven.

Approved July 2, 1897.

JOHN F. WILSON, Mayor.

Attest, JAMES K. ARNOLD, Borough Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE

relating to the appointment, term, duties and compensation of Borough Engineer.

The Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield do enact as follows:

Sec. 1. There shall be an officer of said borough who shall be known as the Borough Engineer. The person first appointed shall, unless sooner removed, hold office until the Monday following the next annual borough election. Thereafter the term of said officer shall be one year, but he may be sooner removed at the pleasure of the Council. The Borough Engineer shall receive such salary as the Council shall from time to time by resolution fix and determine and the same shall be in full for all services required of or performed by him as such Borough Engineer, but such salary shall not be reduced during the term for which any incumbent of said office was appointed. The Council may, however, make extra compensation to such Borough Engineer and the same shall not be considered as an increase of salary.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the Borough Engineer to give grades for any curbs or sidewalks about to be laid and to ascertain that such curbs and sidewalks have been properly laid. It shall also be his duty to ascertain and furnish all grades for macadamizing streets, give lines and grades for opening by the Borough of new streets, make plans and specifications for such work and improvements, make assessment maps when required in connection therewith, make surveys, maps, plans, specifications and estimates for any public work or improvement or required in connection therewith, which may be done in said borough, and to to make all reports, furnish all engineering services, information, supervision and attendance which shall from time to time be required of him by the Council, exclusive of engineering for any general system of sewers or drains.

Sec. 3. Any maps, plans, specifications, estimates or papers which he shall make at the direction of the Council shall be considered the property of the borough, and upon his retirement from office such Borough Engineer shall deliver to his successor in office, or if none has been appointed or qualified then to to the Borough Clerk, all property of the Borough in his possession, custody or control.

Sec. 4. This ordinance shall take effect on the 20th day of July, A. D. 1897.

Approved, JOHN F. WILSON, Mayor.

Attest, JAS. K. ARNOLD, Borough Clerk.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the origina. olor. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

A ROBBER CONFESSES.

Owns Up to Having Committed Several Crimes.

Kansas City, July 8.—Gus Hyatt, alias George Hall, who was arrested here Saturday and confessed to having been one of a gang of train robbers who held up the Louisville and Nashville passenger train near Calera, Ala., three months ago, was placed in the sweatbox and confessed to other crimes. Hyatt says that while resisting arrest at De Koven, Ky., April 15 last he shot and killed one Green, who had first shot him in the arm. Hyatt bears a wound on his arm.

He also says he helped rob the Southern Express company at Clarksville, Tenn., June 22, when he got $1,220, and that he was in the train robbery at Belleville about a year ago. In the latter robbery he claims to have received $800 as his part of the booty.

Hyatt says his home is in Sandoval, Ills., where he has worked in the coal mines. He will be taken to Memphis without requisition papers.

TRIAL OF A CASHIER.

Acquitted on Three Charges of Misappropriating Bank Funds.

Baltimore, July 8.—The jury in the United States court has acquitted Edward Hoffman on three indictments charging him with making false entries and with misappropriating the funds of the People's National bank of Hagerstown. On the fourth indictment, charging him with a false entry of a $12,000 check, the jury disagreed.

Hoffman will give bond to appear for trial on the remaining indictment, and the case will go over until the October term. The bail has been reduced to $5,000, and it is doubtful whether the case will ever come up again.

The amount of the alleged misappropriation was $16,000, all of which was lost in speculating in peaches. It was drawn from the bank last August and September in overdrafts, of which Mr. Hoffman claimed he was not aware at the time, and on notes.

Hoffman was assistant cashier in the bank.

MURDER SUSPECTED.

Two Bodies Found In a Lane Start Rumors of a Crime.

Marlboro, Mass., July 8.—The bodies of two men have been found in a lane off the Crane Meadow road about 1½ miles from this city. The bodies were identified as those of Martin Berry, a farmhand, 56 years old, and James O'Neil, another farmhand, 35 years of age.

The finding of the bodies gave circulation to several startling rumors, but there is thought to be little doubt that death in each case was caused by the extreme heat of the past two days, aggravated by the excessive use of liquor.

The police, however, are making an investigation, and four men have been held as witnesses to tell what they know of the case at an autopsy to be held by Medical Examiner Hoyt.

GUILTY OF CONSPIRACY.

Two Connecticut Real Estate Dealers Imprisoned and Fined.

Winsted, Conn., July 8.—Frank D. and Edward B. Thompson, local real estate dealers, who were found guilty in the superior court, criminal side, June 30 last of conspiracy to defraud Mr. and Mrs. William F. Byrd, also of this city, out of property in Brooklyn and Mount Vernon, N. Y., valued at $10,000, have been sentenced by Judge Samuel Prentice in the superior court.

F. D. Thompson was sentenced to five months in the county jail and Edward B. to three months, both being fined $500 in addition. They both appealed to the supreme court. The plaintiffs in the case alleged that through misrepresentations they transferred their property in the above named places for property that turned out to be worth only $1,000.

HURRICANE STRIKES VESSEL.

The Ship E. B. Sutton Loses One Seaman While Rounding Cape Horn.

Lewes, Del., July 8.—The ship E. B. Sutton, which has arrived at the Delaware breakwater from Honolulu, bound for Philadelphia, met with a severe hurricane on May 9, during which Harry McDonald, a seaman, was washed overboard and drowned. The vessel was rounding Cape Horn at the time.

A heavy west southwest blow sprang up, which soon developed into a hurricane. Heavy seas swept continuously over the decks, flooding the cabins and destroying the furniture and stores.

It was during the height of the blow that a particularly heavy sea carried McDonald away from the lifeline to his death. Oil was used on both sides of the ship and enabled the vessel to weather the storm without seriously damaging her.

SHOT HIS BROTHER.

In Order to Protect Their Father a Physician Resorts to Firearms.

St. Louis, July 8.—Herbert Cornwall was shot and killed by his brother, Dr. Richard Cornwall, at the place of business of their father, Dr. John C. Cornwall, 1109 North Broadway. It appears that Herbert Cornwall was a very dissolute young man, and his father chided him for persisting in his bad habits. This enraged Herbert, and he assaulted his father, who is old and feeble.

Dr. Richard Cornwall interfered, and a fight ensued between him and Herbert, in which the latter was shot five times and had his head and face badly mashed by being beaten with a heavy stone jug. He died in a very few minutes. Dr. Cornwall surrendered to the police and was locked up.

Death of a Benevolent Woman.

Middletown, N. Y., July 8.—Mrs. S. Maretta Thrall died here, aged 65 years. She was the donor of the Thrall park and Thrall hospital to this city. She leaves an estate of $500,000, the nearest heirs being four first cousins.

Train Reported Wrecked.

Sioux City, Ia., July 8.—A train from St. Paul for this place is reported wrecked by a cyclone in Minnesota. No details are obtainable.

Wainesburg, Pa., July 8.—Authority has been granted for organization of the People's National bank of this place. Capital stock, $50,000.

CURRENCY QUESTION

That Is the Next Topic For the Consideration of Congress.

A SPECIAL MESSAGE FROM M'KINLEY.

The President Submits Suggestions In Line With Recommendations In His Inaugural Message—His Monetary Plans Approved by Cabinet.

Washington, July 8.—The president has completed a message he will send to congress recommending the appointment of a monetary commission. It has been submitted to the cabinet and approved by the cabinet officers.

The message was framed by the president himself, and like his other special messages to congress states the necessity of the occasion tersely.

It recites the fact that the tariff bill has now passed both the house and the senate and hopes that it will soon be concurred in by both houses. With that acted upon, a subject of equal importance, he says, demands immediate attention, that of reform in our currency. The message quotes from the president's inaugural address in which he said: "Our financial system needs some revision. Our money is all good now, but its value must not be further threatened. It should all be put on an enduring basis, not subject to easy attack, nor its stability to doubt or dispute. Therefore I believe it necessary to devise a system which, without diminishing the circulating medium or offering a premium for its contraction, will put a remedy for these arrangements which, temporary in their nature, might well in the years of prosperity have been displaced by wiser provisions. With adequate revenue secured, but not until then, we can enter upon such changes in our fiscal laws as will, while insuring safety and volume to our money, no longer impose upon the government the necessity of maintaining so large a gold reserve, with its attendant and inevitable temptations to speculation."

Will Appoint a Commission.

It also cites the work and recommendations of the Indianapolis currency convention and says if the power is vested in the president, it is his purpose to appoint a commission, nonpartisan, consisting of prominent, well informed citizens, who will command public confidence.

The message closed with the hope that the congress will enact legislation at this session to authorize this commission, to be made up of representatives of both parties, so that the president may be prepared to report to congress when it reassembles in the first term of the next regular session. The president, while believing that congress will respond to his message, is not overconfident, and there is some difference of opinion among members of the cabinet as to the fate the recommendation would meet at this session.

The majority, however, believed the opportunity is at least a favorable one and that it is at any rate the duty of the administration to do what it can to hasten the reform.

Received a Medal For Bravery.

Baltimore, July 8.—Captain George A. Rines of the schooner Hilda has been presented at his home in this city with a gold medal and certificate of honor by Mr. Arthur Robson, the local agent of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique. The honor was conferred upon Captain Rines by the officials of the French line in recognition of his bravery in rescuing four of the shipwrecked crew of the Ville de St. Nazaire, which foundered off Cape Hatteras last winter. Captain Rines picked up from a lifeboat the captain, steward, doctor and one passenger of the ill fated steamer several days after the wreck occurred.

Freight Trains Collide.

West Falmouth, Me., July 8.—Two freight trains were wrecked on the Maine Central railroad half a mile west of this station. Traffic was suspended for several hours. The train hands escaped injury by jumping. A train which left Portland was delayed by the cylinder of the locomotive blowing out. A dense fog prevailed, and a freight train following crashed into the stalled train. The locomotive of the second train and three loaded cars were demolished.

Section Hand Killed by a Train.

Lyme, Conn., July 8.—Henry Monroe, aged 23, of this place, a section hand for the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, was struck and instantly killed by the express out of New London while at work on the road near Lyme. Monroe became confused and stepped directly in front of the train. He was thrown 100 feet, and his body was badly mangled.

Pittsburg's Trolley Accident.

Pittsburg, July 8.—W. A. Manley, one of the victims of the trolley accident on the Consolidated Traction lines, has died, and another, Michael Doyle, the motorman, is not expected to live. It is thought all of the 18 or 20 others injured will recover, although a number are still in a serious condition.

Seating Company Fails.

Grand Rapids, July 8.—The Grand Rapids Seating company has filed mortgages for $70,000. The Peninsular Trust company is named as trustee. The Old National bank is the heaviest creditor. The concern is a new one, making a specialty of seating for opera houses and churches.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

Washington, July 8.—The Yorktown, which has been on the China station several years, is under orders to sail for San Francisco on the 28th inst. Her place on the station will be taken by the Concord. The Cincinnati has arrived at Bermuda on her way to Norfolk.

Lightning Strikes Church Spire.

Worcester, Mass., July 8.—During a heavy shower in Fitchburg the Baptist church spire was struck and badly damaged. The rain gullied three streets, and they are impassable. The electric road tracks at West Fitchburg were buried with sand.

Ex-Minister Lothrop Sinking.

Detroit, July 8.—Hon. George V. N. Lothrop, ex-minister to Russia, who had partially recovered from an attack of heat prostration, has suffered a relapse.

AROUND THE BASES.

There will be one change in the team that will represent the Crescent Baseball Club on Saturday afternoon against the Stelton Athletic Club. Corbin, the tall first baseman, will be unable to play that game and his place will be filled by Frentz of Scotch Plains, who has the reputation of being a good fielder and a hard batter. The game will be played in this city.

JOE THE TURK.

He is Here Resplendent in Oriental Garb.

Ensign Joseph Garabed, better known as "Joe, the Turk," has arrived in this city and is stirring things up for the local Salvation Army corps He will be here eight days. The accompanying cut is a good likeness of this decidedly unique religious worker. Joe is a native of Armenia, 39 years old, and has been in this country sixteen years For thirteen years Joe has been very active in Salvation

"JOE, THE TURK."

Army work. He always appears resplendent in full Turkish garb, red fez with tassel, bright scarlet jacket vest and zouave trousers, trimmed with black and gold embroidery and spangles, black leggins embroidered with gold, and wide yellow sash, also embroidered. He plays on the clarionet, cornet and saxophone.

Joe leads the street parades and conducts the meetings of the army, and he confidently expects to reap a rich harvest of converts.

Steps in the Train's Path.

The locomotive of train No. 120 on the New Jersey Central Railroad, an east-bound local way train running between the West Eighth street, Bayonne and Jersey City stations, instantly killed an unidentified man yesterday afternoon just after it crossed the bridge over the Morris Canal. The man stepped out of the way of a westbound train and directly in front of the local without perceiving his peril. His body was removed to the Jersey City Morgue.

Rev. Father Miller, pastor of St. Joseph's church, North Plainfield, is in charge of the parish of Belmar and Spring Lake during the absence of Rev. Father Norris, the regular pastor, who is in Rome.

HEAT LEADS TO SUICIDE.

George H. Reed Found Hanging in the Woods Near Rahway.

George H.Reed, age fifty-two years, was found hanging to a tree in the woods of the Edgar farm near the new State reformatory, at Rahway, yesterday, by Henry Mentz.

Reed had suffered from severe pains in his head the result of an attack of grip. He had left his home Monday morning, presumably to call upon a physician, the excessive heat of the past few days having affected him considerably. Instead of going to the physician, Reed had gone to the woods, where he hanged himself.

He leaves a widow and eight children. He was formerly a citizen of Philadelphia and was a veteran of the war, being a member of Company G., Thirty-seventh Regt.

Shot on a Train.

On the 8 o'clock Plainfield express, Tuesday morning, G. L. Opdyke, of New Germantown, N. J., was shot in the hand. The train was passing through Elizabeth and Opdycke sat next the window in the smoker, his hand resting on the window sill. He felt something strike his hand and found he had been wounded. It was thought at first it had been caused by a stone, but on examination it was decided that some one had fired at the train. The injured man was taken to the medical department for examination.

Going North With Lieut. Peary.

J. Neilson Carpenter, Jr., of New Brunswick, a graduate of Rutgers College in the class of '97, and an all-around athlete, will be one of a party of students who will accompany Lieut. Peary on the expedition to Baffin's Bay, which will leave Boston on July 13th on the steam whaler Hope. He is a son of J. Neilson Carpenter, president of the Norfolk and New Brunswick Hosiery Company

CURRENT COMMENT.

France made the first appropriation for the Exposition in the Budget of 1896, so that our own Government is promptly responding, and by timely action will be worthily represented at an international display which promises to eclipse all former attempts of the kind. The French have a genius for the organization of great industrial exhibitions. France was the pioneer country in such enterprises and it has set the pace for them in all other countries. It held notable exhibitions in 1789 and 1801 and many before the first English Exposition was held under Royal patronage in 1828. The first industrial exhibition of the century was held in Paris, and it is eminently fitting that the last exposition of the century should be held in that city. Fifteen World's Fairs have been held in the French capital during the past hundred years.

Mr. Peary has secured another advance in his projected trip to discover the North Pole by securing from Secretary Long a leave of absence for five years. It is significant of the faith and interest which the Secretary of the Navy takes in the enterprise that the leave is said to have been granted in the face of considerable opposition. That Mr. Peary was given permission to make the journey will afford general satisfaction, because his achievements have established his standing as a distinguished explorer, and it may be confidently expected that, even though he may not discover the Pole in this venture, he will render a good account of himself and add materially to the world's scientific and geographical knowledge. The absence of Mr. Peary from his post as Engineer in the Navy, although perhaps causing some inconvenience to the authorities, may be looked upon, nevertheless, as a distinct advantage to the service, for although he carries on his explorations without any financial aid from the Government, the good results of his work reflect much credit thereto, through his official connection.

TACOMA'S EARLY MONEY.

Money that Passed as Well as Though Stamped with Uncle Sam's Fiat.

Tacoma once had a mint that coined all of the money in circulation where the City of Destiny now stands.

Back in the early seventies the Tacoma Mill Company, not being able to handily secure gold and silver for use in trading with and paying off the Indian laborers and early settlers, hit upon the novel plan of issuing their own currency, and to this end set their blacksmith to work to fashion for them, out of scraps of iron and brass, pieces of money, or rather tokens, which could be used as a circulating medium. The pieces consisted of 40 and 45 cent iron tokens and brass $1 pieces. The 40 cent pieces were about an inch in diameter, and the 45 cent pieces were about the size of the present silver half-dollar. The $1 pieces were oval in shape, about an inch and a quarter long, an inch wide and a sixteenth of an inch in thickness. These pieces were stamped with the figures showing their value, and readily passed current all over the country tributary to the mill.

Nearly all of this old "mill" coin has passed away.

The coins which are still preserved, are roughly made, just such as any blacksmith with ordinary tools might make, and as a matter of fact during the early years of the mill company's existence formed practically the local circulating medium of exchange. When the Indians who were employed in the mill were payed for their labor this coin sufficed, as all the trading they did was with the little store run in connection with the mill. The iron and brass pieces, were, of course, passed among the Indians in trading with each other, and as anything in the way of supplies was purchased by them at the mill store, the pieces were fully as good to them as if they had borne the stamp of the Government.—Tacoma Ledger.

LORD BYRON'S PROTEST.

He had no Wish to Deprive the Author of the Honor Due Him.

Lord Byron suffered from various annoyances to which all famous personages are subjected. In an effort to avoid one of them he wrote the following letter, which has recently been published for the first time. It was addressed to the editor of Galignani's Messenger, Paris, and was dated from Venice, Italy, April 27, 1819:

"Sir: In various numbers of your journal I have seen mentioned a work entitled 'The Vampire,' with the addition of my name as that of the author. I am not the author, and never heard of the work in question until now. In a more recent paper I perceive a formal annunciation of 'The Vampire,' with the addition of an account of my 'residence in the island of Mitylene'—an island which I have occasionally sailed by in the course of traveling some years ago through the Levant, and where I should have no objections to reside, but where I have never yet resided. Neither of these performances are mine, and I presume that it is neither unjust nor ungracious to request that you will favor me by contradicting the advertisement to which I allude. If the book is clever, it would be base to deprive the writer, whoever he may be, of his honor, and if stupid, I desire the responsibility of nobody's dullness but my own."

A Register Cheese.

In the "cheese regions" of Switzerland it is the custom to present to a newly wedded married couple a "register cheese." On this cheese the whole history of the family is carved, such as births, marriages, deaths and other incidents which it may be desired to make matters of record. Some of these old Swiss family cheese records are said to date back to the middle of the seventeenth century. At the agricultural fair annually held at Gressenay a great many cheese records have been exhibited which were known to be from 180 to 200 years old. The oldest that has yet been displayed belongs to a country 'squire living near Gressenay, who shows his family record carved on a cheese made in 1660.—New York Tribune.

Chewing Gum in Other Countries.

Chewing gum now forms an important article in commerce. It was first used in America, but the habit of chewing it has rapidly spread in European and Oriental countries, and a busy industry has been called into existence and rapidly developed till it has now attained astonishing dimensions. It is used by all classes and is equally in demand among athletes and sedentary workers and in hot or cold climates. It is chewed with avidity at the gold and diamond mines, and has found its way to the merchant's counting house, the clerk's desk and the office boy's pocket. Somewhere about thirty-five thousand people are engaged in the preparation, selling and advertising of this curious luxury.

ARC LIGHTS REFUSED.

COUNCIL DO NOT GRANT BUSINESS MEN'S PETITION.

Considerable Difference of Opinion and Caustic Criticism Expressed by the Solons Over the Petitioners' Proposition.

The city fathers evidenced a considerable amount of friction at their meeting last evening over the fact that some of the members desired to furnish the business portion of the city with several arc lights. It was expected that there would be a minority report of the committee in the affirmative, but Mr. Westphal of the same committee changed his mind and voted for the petition with Mr. Tolles, the chairman, who made a strong fight for the business men. Mr. Baker, the third member of the committee, was the only one of the committee who opposed the request and he voted against it. Mr. Tolles introduced the petition which had been referred to the committee and stated that more lights were needed in the business portion of the city, and as nearly all of the business men had asked for the arc lights he felt as though it was no more than right that they should have them He therefore moved that they be granted. He stated further that eleven lights were asked for and this would displace thirty-seven incandescent lights. The increase in expense would be about $500. A letter was read from the Plainfield Electric Light Company in which it was stated that they would operate eleven arc lights at a cost of $100 each.

Mr. Baker said that he differed with the committee on the question. He, together with other members, had made a tour of the city on two different evenings, and he was convinced that the business portion was sufficiently lighted. After the stores close he did not think that it made any difference about electric lights.

Mr. Frost agreed with Mr. Baker, and said that he thought his argument was good. In his opinion there was no great call for the arc lights. Mr. Tolles thought that it was a small matter the extra expense of $500 when nearly all of the business men were asking for the lights.

Mr. Barrows was of the opinion that the city generally should be lighted more than any one section, and being a bicyclist he was able to see where lights are needed. He said that the very men who had signed the petition for the arc lights were just the ones who complained of the way in which the Council conducted the city affairs. They were finding fault because there had been increased expense in the fire and police departments. He thought the complaining ones should come to the support of the Council. Plainfield, he considered, was a city of homes, and the homes should be lighted first.

Mr. Serrell thought that more incandescent lights should be erected and this would remedy the difficulty. Mr. Dumont said he doubted whether the Council had the right to exceed the appropriation made for lights under the present condition of affairs, and the extra amount would have to come out of the general fund if the change was made. This he thought would be out of order.

Mr. Westphal spoke in favor of the arc lights, and said the more progressive and enterprising the Council was, the more it would help the city. Homes, he said, do not entirely make a city.

Mr. Runyon said he would vote for the arc lights, for he considered the property in the business portion of the city more valuable than anywhere else. He thought that after the stores were closed at night the city assumed a woe-begone appearance. The arc lights would not only help the police, but would also be a great step in advance.

At this time a vote was taken on the question. Messrs. Dumont, Barrows, Frost, Baker, Serrell and Stebbins voted in the negative, while Messrs. Runyon, Newman, Leivers, Tolles and Westphal voted in the affirmative.

The motion to erect the arc lights being lost, Mr. Tolles immediately moved that two lights be placed on Netherwood avenue, between North avenue and George street; one on Liberty street, between Third and Fourth streets; one on Liberty street, between Seventh and Eighth streets; five on West Front street, beyond Grant avenue; one on Eighth street, west of Plainfield avenue. The Council granted all of the above lights.

At the opening of the meeting the rules were suspended to allow any person an opportunity to speak for or against the widening of Westervelt avenue. There being no one present to speak the regular order of business was taken up. Mr. Frost stated that it was necessary that an arrangement should be made to flush the sewer on

CYCLE LAW DEFECTIVE?

AN IMPORTANT VERSION GIVEN BY EX-JUDGE CODDINGTON.

He Says That if a Culprit Refuses to Pay His Fine the Only Way to Proceed is by a Civil Action in a Justice's Court.

There is evidently something the matter with the bicycle law, even if many authorities are inclined to turn up their noses at the alleged defect. In 1896, the New Jersey Legislature passed a law making it an offence to ride a bicycle without a light after dark, riding a wheel without a bell, and for scorching or coasting, and the law furthermore said that no ordinance or regulation should be passed by any local governing body in the State that should not agree with the State law. The law made the punishment a fine not exceeding $5, according to the discretion of the Judge. Not a word is said about imprisonment if the fine is not paid as is usually the case.

Last week, some Hackensack wheelmen called the attention of the legal lights of that vicinity to the law and asked what would be the effect if the fine was not paid. There was nothing in the law by which the judge could sentence the offender to jail if he did not pay the fine. A Hackensack justice said that the only thing that a judge could do in such a case was to release the wheelman.

A Daily Press reporter interviewed former Judge W. A Coddington, who was the predecessor of City Judge DeMeza, the present incumbent in office, regarding the law and its effect. After carefully looking over the law, the Judge said that, according to it, no judge could sentence an offender to imprisonment under the law and that the only way in which the fine could be secured was by the bringing of a civil suit in a justice's court against the offender and then securing an execution on his property.

The city ordinance is, of course, drawn up similarly to the State law and so, the Judge said, it is impossible to imprison any one here on that charge.

Tuesday, a young man appeared before the City Judge in this city and was given his choice between a fine of $3 or ten days in jail. He paid his fine.

The Westfield authorities have decided to get around the bicycle law by arresting offending wheelmen on the charge of disorderly conduct, the punishment for which, under the Westfield ordinance, can be made either fine or imprisonment or both.

SUING A TROLLEY COMPANY.

The Case of Edward C. Winter Heard in the County Court.

The damage suit of Edward C. Winter against the Plainfield Trolley Company was tried at Elizabeth, yesterday afternoon.

Winter is a carpenter living at Westfield. On April 14, while driving his horse attached to a light wagon along East Fifth street, Winter endeavored to turn the animal when it balked and backed, throwing the wagon in front of a passing trolley car.

The motorman stopped the car in its own length, but the wagon was struck and overturned, and Winter was thrown out. The witness at the trial included S. R. Hope, John Adleman and Motorman Welch.

Joe, the Turk, Here.

The first appearance of Joe, the Turk, in native costume on the street caused quite a stir. A large crowd gathered at the corner of Madison avenue and Front street where a meeting was conducted by the Turk. The street meeting was followed by a largely attended meeting in Washington Hall, East Second street, where Joe the Turk spoke and played alternately on the cornet and saxophone. To night Joe will speak on his twenty five days' imprisonment for Jesus and the conversion of the judge.

Fifth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Watts, of Chatham street, celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary Wednesday evening. A large number of guests were present and a very pleasant evening was spent during which Mr. F. A. Smith rendered several organ solos. At 11 o'clock supper. The house was handsomely decorated with green and red. Among other presents Mr. Watts received a handsome silver mounted cane.

A Plainfield Contractor.

The contract for the macadamizing of Chestnut street, Roselle, from First street to Fifth street, was awarded last evening. There were a number of bidders. David Bowden, of Grant avenue, this city, was the lowest bidder and was given the contract. The work will cost about $2,000. Mr. Bowden has just completed a large job at Hasbrouck Heights, Bergen county, which was very satisfactory.

WOMEN GOT A VOTE HERE

EXCITING SCHOOL MEETING OVER IN QUIET WASHINGTONVILLE.

The Opponents to the New School House Were Defeated by the Presence of the Wives of Several of the Favorable Ones.

It was the women who carried the day at the meeting in school district No. 33, last week. They had to fight for the right of suffrage but they got it and the purchase of a new schoolhouse and lot was authorized for that district in consequence.

School district No. 38 is in North Plainfield township and includes within its boundaries the schoolhouses of Washingtonville and Greenbrook. Now the Greenbrook schoolhouse is large enough to accommodate the children that attend there but the present schoolhouse at Washingtonville was made to accommodate forty-two, while there have been seventy pupils to attend school there. The Board of Trustees felt that more room was needed and so called a meeting of the leading voters of the district to act upon the appropriations of the necessary funds for building a new house.

There was some objection to the plan for some of the residents of that district thought that such expenditure was wrong and would raise the taxes too high. Consequently there was opposition to the plan.

The meeting was held in the old Washingtonville schoolhouse, one evening last week. About fifty were present, including the wives of five of the voters who were in favor of the new schoolhouse. The leader of the opposition was George Stewart, constable in North Plainfield township. He counted noses when the meeting began and saw that the men on his side outnumbered those in favor of the plan but he did not figure on the wives.

Mr. Duffy was elected chairman, and George Morris secretary. Pool Voorhees and Tho. Luersen were appointed tellers. The secretary read the notice of the meeting and then the polls were opened.

The voters crowded around the corner of the room in which the ballot box stood and handed in their ballots with "yes" or "no" written on them. The first vote was on the question of buying the two-acre lot in the rear of the Wilson Memorial chapel at a cost of about $1,000. The entire appropriation called for $3,000, the remainder to be spent for a new schoolhouse.

George Demler walked up to the ballot box to cast his ballot and by his side went his wife with her ballot all prepared. The opposition looked aghast. George Stewart was prompt to act.

"I challenge that vote," he drawled forth, and instantly there was a roar of voices for everybody was trying to talk at once. Had a woman a right to vote at a school meeting? was what everybody wanted to know. The opposition declared no while the promoters of the new schoolhouse plan said yes. A recess of ten minutes was taken while the secretary investigated. He reported that the school law said they could vote on appropriations, but not on the election of the trustees.

That settled it, and the four wives of the voters cast their ballots in favor of the schoolhouse. The result was a tie, 22 votes to 22 votes.

Then there was a rush to secure more voters. The young men of the schoolhouse side found a young man sitting on a piazza with two young women. He was captured and brought down to vote, another was dragged from the side of the brook, where he was fishing for eels. Three others were routed out from neighboring houses and all came to swell the ranks of the schoolhouse party. The opposition could not find a single recruit.

We're licked," said Constable Stewart as he saw the results of the foraging of the other side. Slowly the opposition gathered together. There was a whispered conference and then they solemnly departed homeward and left the triumphant party in all their glory.

The purchase of the lot was unanimously agreed to and so was the ordering of the $2,000 schoolhouse on the lot.

Another meeting will be held in a few days when the question of bonding the district will come up for a vote. The opposition say that the schoolhouse people won by bringing their wives but that this time every member of the opposition will bring his wife, or if he has not got one, his sweetheart and all his female relatives in the district. There promises to be a lively time at the meeting.

Interesting to Men.

Tomorrow evening (Saturday) from 7 to 8 o'clock at Van Emburgh's dry goods store; but in order to see the joke read their ad in tomorrow's paper.

REPAIRING THE SCHOOLS

BOARD OF EDUCATION PLANNED AND AUTHORIZED REPAIRS.

Some Changes Were Made to the Plans for the Stillman School Extension—Contracts for Other Work.

The necessary repairs to the school buildings of the city and the awarding of the contracts for the same were the principal items to be considered at the meeting of the Plainfield Board of Education, last evening. The connection with the sewers of the sanitary systems of several of the schools also necessitated extensions to two of the buildings and other changes.

All the members except Dr. Probasco, president of the board, were present at the opening of the meeting. Mr. Lovell acted as temporary chairman until the arrival of the president before the preliminary business of the meeting was over.

After the usual list of bills was ordered paid, notice was received from Superintendent Maxson that he had collected tuition for June amounting to $402, which had been deposited to the credit of the board.

The report of Collector Bird showed that taxes to the amount of $1,807.58 and interest amounting to $221.30, had been collected during June, making a total of $2,028.88 which had been deposited in the City National Bank to the credit of the board.

The report of the building committee was received. It contained a number of recommendations and suggestions that were acted upon separately. The committee reported that in the digging of the cellar for the extension on the Stillman building, the box that carried the steam pipes from the Franklin School to the Stillman School was unearthed and found to be in a very bad condition, the wood having rotted away. This should be replaced. The committee suggested that it would not now be necessary to have separate heating apparatus for the extension, but that connection could be made to the steam heating system for the rest of the buildings As long as the pipes had to be relaid it would be very easy to lay a separate pipe from the extension to carry away the condensed steam. This plan would do away with the erection of a chimney on the extension. For the additional work necessary to make the change, the committee reported that D. W. Littell, who had the contract, agreed to do it for $83 extra, while C W. Lines, the mason, would deduct $70 from his bill if it was not necessary to build a chimney and dig the cellar deeper, as was first planned. The board thought well of the proposition and authorized the committee to go ahead.

The next point in the report was regarding the proposed extension at the Washington school to contain the sanitary toilet rooms and regarding the placing of new furnaces in the building. The bids for the plumbing, heating and ventilating were read. They were D. W. Littell, $817; A. M. Griffin, $1038; and Galbrath & Walsh, $885. The bids for the carpenter and mason work were G. and C. W. Hummer, $718; John P. Emmons, $6.85; Mundy Brothers, $6.74; Jessup, $8.57. The contracts were awarded to Galbrath & Walsh and Mundy Brothers as the lowest bidders.

Regarding the painting of the fire escapes, the Board said that it was necessary and the building committee was given charge of the matter with power.

The introduction of the city water into the Irving School was considered necessary even if the Board had to guarantee $50 if nobody between the present ending of the water mains and the school should take it. It was decided to connect with the present tank system and leave the placing of drinking fountains until another year. Galbrath & Walsh agreed to connect the present system with the city water for $76 80, and to put in four hygenic drinking fountains for $275 extra.

An estimate from Smalley Brothers for the macadamizing of the yard of the Lincoln school. The estimate price of the work was $300, two inches of crushed stone to be laid and covered with yellow sand. The proposal was referred back to the building committee with instructions to get other bids.

Extra large furnaces are to be put in the old Seventh Day church edifice so as to heat the second floor when necessary. To prevent the overheating of the furnaces, the building committee recommended that two extra pipes be put in to connect with the second floor to allow the extra heat to escape. A. M. Griffin agreed to put in the necessary pipes for $59.62. The Board approved of the plan and it was adopted.

A communication was received from Jesse M. Scull, the present janitor of TOUGH, OF TOUGHVILLE.

HIS ENCOUNTER WITH LIQUOR CUT HIS LIBERTY SHORT.

Found Dead Drunk by a Policeman—His Dignity Was Very Much Hurt, Though He Was Dirty and Looked Dilapidated

A native of Toughville, Tough county, who was born and brought up on the banks of the Tough river, came to Plainfield yesterday. He stopped several well-known citizens on the street and asked for money. He must have succeeded for he went to several of the local saloons and loaded up on a quantity of "Jersey lightning" that proved to be more than he could carry comfortably. He staggered under the load and finally selected the lawn in front of Dr. Ard's residence as a resting place and proceeded to throw his cares to the winds and take a nap. There Patrolman Freleigh found him in a stupor, dead drunk some people might have called him.

The officer started him on his way to jail and the tough man, whose name for the time being is Thomas Cowen, protested feebly to such undignified treatment.

This morning, Friend Cowen was arraigned before the City Judge and drew up in all his wounded dignity to protest against such treatment. He assumed an air of injured innocence that did not seem to correspond with with the rest of his appearance. Dirty, dilapidated and ragged he told the Judge that he was a victim of circumstances and that but for that, he, too, might have been on the Judge's bench.

Despite his judicial chances, Cowen was found guilty by City Judge DeMeza and ordered to pay a fine of $10 or go to jail for thirty days. The prospect of free board and lodging for a month brightened the eye of the prisoner and he gladly went forth with the jailer pro tem, to await the time of starting for Elizabeth jail.

There was one other prisoner in the city court, this morning. James Ray had taken an overdose of "Jersey lightning," last night, and gone forth the world to conquer. He landed in Carl Kaerth's kitchen, on East Second street, and badly frightened Mrs. Kaerth. Patrolman Saffron was called and Ray was deposited in the city jail along with its many-legged inhabitants to spend the night. He dreamed that the army of water bugs that invaded the cell during the night were an army of policemen after him and the Judge suspended sentence on him this morning, thinking one night of it was sufficient punishment for the offender.

CONCUSSION OF THE BRAIN.

Little Archie Bailey Fell Twenty-five Feet Out of a Tree.

What may prove to be a fatal accident occurred yesterday afternoon on Race street about 4 o'clock, when Archie Bailey, aged ten years, fell from the top of a cherry tree, a distance of about twenty five feet, and sustained serious injuries. The lad fell on his head and he has been in an unconscious condition almost constantly since. In falling the boy struck his head on a wagon wheel near by, causing concussion of the brain.

Louis Wyckoff was passing and he carried the boy to his home on Manning avenue, after which Dr. Simpson was called. At times he can be aroused but soon passes again into unconsciousness. At present the doctor is unable to tell just how seriously the lad is injured.

Club May Be Reorganized.

There has been a movement among the members of the Plainfield Catholic Club to practically reorganize the club and put it on a firm basis. There has not been the interest of late among the club members that there should be and various plans have been discussed to enliven the interest and put the club in a position where it should be. A meeting is called for Sunday afternoon to discuss the matter at length and some action will probably be taken to promote the welfare of the club.

Florida Grove Raided.

A raid was made upon Florida Grove by the police last Sunday. The proprietor and attendants at the hotel were arrested charged with violating the Sunday laws. For some time beer has been sold openly at the Grove on Sundays. In the Middlesex county court the prisoner pleaded guilty and were fined $25 each. The Grove is a popular Sunday resort for people in this section.

To Pay a Fraternal Visit.

Clinton Commandery, Knights Templars, of Brooklyn, will hold their annual outing to Patchogue, L. I., tomorrow. The members of Trinity Commandery of this city have been invited to go as the guests of the Clinton Commandery and a party of them will accept the invitation.

TALES OF TAXPAYERS.

MARTIN ACT COMMISSIONERS HELD A PUBLIC MEETING.

Twenty-eight Persons Appeared and Protested Against Being Compelled to Pay Certain Taxes Against Their Land.

Frank Bergen and Comptroller Carleton, of Elizabeth, and J. F. Hubbard, of this city, the commissioners appointed by the court to serve under the Martin Act for the collection of back taxes for 1881 and prior, met in the City Council rooms, yesterday afternoon and evening, for the purpose of meeting persons who are affected by the act.

The Commissioners were in session in the afternoon from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock, and during that time a number of persons appeared before them and had their say. Everything connected with the meeting was harmonious and no great difference of opinion was evidenced. The Commissioners treated everyone with the fairness and attentively listened to their side of the case. Among those who appeared were William M. Stillman for Otto Arens; Henry V. Dunham, E. H. Holmes, Wm. R. Codington, F. C. Lounsbury, J. Fred MacDonald, Charles H. Hand, Asa F. Randolph, Mrs. T. J. Gillies, Thomas Minford, John N. Moore, J. B. Coward, Mrs. M. E. VanArsdale, Mrs. James Brand, Aaron M. Powell, Clarence L. Murphy, S. F. Dunn, Charles McGinley, Nelson Runyon, A. J. Bronson, P. J. Flanagan, Charles VanWinkle, Wm. P. Smith, and S. A. Ginna communicated with the Commissioners by letter.

Mrs. T. J. Gillies, Mrs. M. E. Van Arsdale stated that they held receipts showing that their taxes were paid, while A. J. Bronson said that he held a warranty deed for his property. P. J. Flanagan stated that he held a claim against the city and did not feel disposed to pay, but when he learned that his tax bill had been reduced he was now willing to settle. Mr. Arens was willing to pay his proportionate share with the other owners of the property for which he is taxed. W. R. Coddington presented a petition signed by several hundred names of people who are innocent holders of property. He made a strong plea in behalf of those whose names were attached to the petition. F. C. Lounsbury also made a few remarks regarding the same petition.

In the case of E. H. Holmes he said that the property for which he was taxed was sold in 1878 by the sheriff and the same year the tax was levied. Mr. MacDonald, who appeared for Mrs. S. A. MacDonald, stated that he held a sheriff's deed showing that the city is made a party to the suit for taxes. Mr. Hand said that the property, corner of Second street and Watchung avenue, for which he was taxed, was reported to him as being free and clear when he purchased it over a year ago. J. N. Moore claimed that he offered to settle with the city for $500 for taxes which amounted to about $550, but was informed that the matter had been turned over to the Commissioners and living in New York he had been unable to get to Plainfield any sooner.

Mrs. Brand said that her husband previous to his death always paid his taxes and she was sure that she owed no taxes. Aaron M. Powell said that he is an innocent holder of property. He had made a search some time ago and was informed that there was no tax on his property. He was willing, however, to pay any fair amount to settle, as was also S. F. Dunn, of Park avenue. The rest of those present all stated that they were innocent holders and were willing to settle for any reasonable amount.

The Commissioners informed everyone that they would treat each case with fairness and look carefully into every detail.

The Commissioners met last evening from 8 until 9:30 o'clock, but there were not many before them. They adjourned until July 15th, when they will meet from 4 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Frank Bergen was made chairman of the commission and Frank J. Hubbard was made clerk. George Wean was the stenographer.

A False Alarm.

An alarm was sent in from fire alarm box 21 at 1:46 o'clock, this afternoon. John Duly heard some one scream "fire" at the gas house and saw a puff of steam come out of the door. He sent in the alarm. There proved to be nothing the matter.

Chief Grant on Duty Again.

Chief Grant went on duty again today after a short vacation. Sergeant Kiely has been in charge during his absence.

Dr. Gaston, of West Fifth street, is stopping with his wife at Asbury Park for a few days. Mrs. Gaston's health is much improved.

THORN'S STATEMENT

Story Told by the Alleged Murderer to the Inspector.

HE DOES NOT ADMIT THE KILLING.

Says He Has Not Seen Guldensuppe Since Early In June—Gives an Account of His Movements Since the Crime Was Committed.

New York, July 9.—Chief of Detectives O'Brien has given out for publication a lengthy statement alleged to have been made by Martin Thorn, alias Torzewski, shortly after his capture in Harlem on Monday night.

The prisoner, who gave his age as 35 years and Posen, Germany, as his birthplace, said that he had not seen William Guldensuppe from the time of the assault at Mr. Nack's rooms on Ninth avenue in February last. Thorn admitted drawing a revolver on that occasion, and during this scrimmage he claims the weapon was accidentally discharged. Guldensuppe, he says, then took the gun away from him and beat him so badly with it about the head that he had to go to Bellevue hospital for surgical treatment. Several days later Thorn says he sent John Gartha to Mrs. Nack for his clothes. When the messenger returned, he said that he had met Guldensuppe at the flat, and the latter had said that he was sorry he had not killed Thorn, but that if he ever met him again, even if he had a dozen men with him, he would go for him.

Hadn't Seen Guldensuppe Since the Fight.

About three weeks after the fight with Guldensuppe, Thorn says he wrote to Mrs. Nack, which she answered in person. From that time up to her arrest Thorn says he met the woman regularly and by appointment in different parts of the city, but on none of these occasions did he go with her to the Ninth avenue house. He says that he sent for her at Buck's restaurant on Tuesday evening, June 29, and after the meeting they went up to Central park, where they remained until 11 p. m. While in conversation there Thorn says he told the woman about the finding of the part of the body of a man in the East river on June 26 and the suspicion that Guldensuppe had been killed and his body boiled. Mrs. Nack said that she did not believe Guldensuppe was dead, but that she had not seen him since Friday morning and did not know where he was. Next day Thorn says he read in the newspapers that Mrs. Nack had been arrested.

Going back to the days preceding Guldensuppe's disappearance, Thorn said:

"On Thursday, June 24, I was stopping at Maloney's hotel, corner of Second avenue and Thirty-fifth street. I got up at 9 o'clock that morning and remained about the barroom for a couple of hours. Then I went to a saloon at Eleventh avenue and Thirty-fourth street, and meeting a barber named Carl we played penuchle there until 7 p. m. I met Mrs. Nack after that at Eighth avenue and Thirty-fourth street, and we went to Central park.

Proposition to Buy a Barber Shop.

"There Mrs. Nack spoke to me about leaving Guldensuppe and about buying me a barber shop in the country. I spoke to her about a place for sale at Oyster Bay, L. I. Mrs. Nack had given me money off and on in sums of about $5 and $6 at a time, and on one occasion as much as $20. She told me that Guldensuppe had been using her badly the last six months and that he wanted her to open a house of prostitution, and I then advised her to leave him and live with me. We left the park about 10 o'clock that night. I parted from her at Eighth avenue and Thirty-fourth street and going to Maloney's hotel went to bed.

"On Friday morning, June 25, I arose about 9 a. m. and went to the same saloon on Eleventh avenue where I had been the previous day. There I played penuchle with Carl and others. I refuse to say anything further about that day, except that I went to Maloney's about 10 o'clock at night and retired 45 minutes later.

"I got up Saturday morning, June 26 and went out. I know Gordon, the newsboy, met me going over the Thirty-fourth street ferry with a woman, but I cannot remember what morning it was.

The Talk About Guldensuppe's Murder.

"I met Mrs. Nack on Sunday evening, June 27, at the corner of Thirty-fifth street and Eighth avenue about 6 o'clock. We took an Eighth avenue car and went to Central park and sat on a bench.

"I spoke of Guldensuppe again. She told me how she had been to Buck's, and how Mrs. Miller asked her if she had heard from Willie yet, and she (Mrs. Nack) said, 'No.' She also told me how she had sent Mr. Buck over to the baths to find out if Willie had shown up.

"About 10 o'clock p. m. we left the park and went to Eighth avenue and Fifty-ninth street and took an Eighth avenue horse car to Thirty-fourth street and Eighth avenue. I left her on this corner and went home to sleep in Maloney's on Sunday night.

"I got out of bed on Monday morning, June 28, at about 9 o'clock. I refuse to say anything further of my whereabouts that day."

Question by Captain O'Brien:

"Do you deny that you were in Fry's saloon on East Thirty-fourth street on Tuesday morning, Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday night, playing cards with Peanut and Federer?"

"I do not exactly deny it."

"Do you remember being in Fry's saloon on Tuesday, June 29, when Federer was reading the newspapers in regard to the reward of $1,000 and how Federer said to you, 'I guess that's you, barber,' and you said, 'Yes, that's right?'"

"Yes."

"Do you remember being in the saloon on Tuesday, June 29, and going out and coming back with a woman and having a glass of beer each in his saloon?"

"Yes."

"Do you remember being in Fry's saloon on the night of Tuesday, June 29, and telling Federer that you were going to meet a woman and it was a case of life and death and exhibiting to them a pistol?"

"I cannot say I remember that. I had been drinking a good deal that day."

"Do you remember going back to Fry's saloon about 11 o'clock that same night and playing penuchle with Federer and Gordon until nearly 1 o'clock in the morning?"

"Yes."

"Do you remember saying to them that 'by tomorrow night this time I will be on the ocean?'"

"I do not remember saying that 'at this time tomorrow I will be on the ocean.'"

The grand jury has returned an indictment against Martin Thorn and Mrs. Augusta Nack for the murder of William Guldensuppe after a session of nearly three hours.

EX-SENATOR GROESBECK DEAD.

Was Counsel For President Johnson on His Impeachment Trial.

Cincinnati, July 9.—William Slocum Groesbeck, aged 81 years, died at his suburban home, known as Elmhurst, near this city. He was elected to congress in 1857 and held many public positions after that time. He was counsel for President Johnson in the impeachment trial of 1868. He was a member of the Ohio constitutional convention in 1851 and of the commission in 1852 to codify the Ohio laws.

In 1861 he was a member of the peace congress and in 1862 of the Ohio senate. In 1866 he was a delegate to the national union convention and in 1872 the presidential candidate of the Liberal Republicans against Horace Greeley. In 1878 he was a delegate to the international monetary congress in Paris.

Something to Depend On.
Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Old People.
Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic or alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

—The windmill on North avenue that has caused residents so many sleepless nights has been oiled, and the neighbors are pleased.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.
1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

—A meeting of the councilmanic street committee will be held next Tuesday evening when some important matters will be considered.

"Last summer one of our grandchildren was sick with a severe bowel trouble," says Mrs. E. G. Gregory, of Frederickstown, Mo. "Our doctor's remedy had failed, then we tried Chamberlains Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief." For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

A bicycle party, gotten up by Miss Eleanor Williams, of West Seventh street, and Miss Clara Long, of Park avenue, went to Boynton Beach, yesterday to spend the day. Mrs. E. P. Williams chaperoned the party.

You may hunt the world over and you will not find another medicine equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

—The new street sprinkling wagon recently purchased by the city is now being used on the streets. It does good work.

Mr. C. L. Hasbrouck, a druggist at Mendon, Mich., says all of the good testimonials that have been published by the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy could be duplicated in that town. For sale By T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves.

DEATH OF A SENATOR

Isham G. Harris of Tennessee Passes Away.

WAS A VERY PROMINENT MEMBER.

So Man More Identified With the History of the Country—Had Received All Possible Honors—Known as a Southern War Governor.

Washington, July 9.—Senator Isham G. Harris of Tennessee died at his residence here a few minutes before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. There were present at his bedside when death came his son, Mr. Edward K. Harris and the latter's wife, Representative Benton McMillin of Tennessee, Miss Polk, a friend from his native state, where the senator has lived for some time.

Probably no man in public life had been identified with more of the history of this country than had Senator Harris. He had almost completed his seventy-ninth year, having been born in February, 1818, and first became a member of congress in 1849. His congressional career thus began earlier than that of any member of either house, antedating Senators Morrill and Sherman by seven years and Hon. Charlusha A. Grow, now a member of the house from Pennsylvania, by one year. Mr. Harris had, when he was elected to the national house of representatives, already become a man of state reputation in Tennessee, having the year previously served as a presidential elector on the Democratic ticket and two years before been elected a member of the legislature of the state.

Mr. Harris represented the Ninth Tennessee district in congress for two terms ending in 1853, when he declined a renomination. He then moved to Memphis, where he has since resided. Here he was engaged in the practice of law until 1857, with the interruption necessary to allow him to become a presidential elector in 1856. He was three times in succession before the war, beginning in 1857, elected governor of his state and was serving in that capacity when the war broke out. He took a pronounced stand for the southern Confederacy and was known as one of the southern war governors.

He was elected to the United States senate, defeating Hon. L. L. Hawkins (Rep.). He has remained a member of the senate ever since and would have completed his twentieth consecutive year in that body on March 4 next if he had lived to that date. He had been four times elected to the senate, the last time in 1895, and his term would not have expired until 1901.

Senator Harris had received almost all the honors that the senate could bestow. He was the president pro tempore during the Fifty-third congress a leading member of the committees on finance and on rules and also of the Democratic advisory or steering committee. He has long been awarded by common consent the front place on both sides of the chamber in parliamentary questions, and in recent years he had been more frequently heard in expounding these questions than in the elucidation of other subjects. He was possessed of a very positive manner and never failed to throw into his statements concerning parliamentary practice the full set force of which he was capable. His language on these and other occasions was generally so uncompromising that he was regarded by those who knew him not as a man of little feeling. That, however, this was not true, and that the contrary was true none are now so willing to testify as his opponents in the senate, who unite in attributing to him a warm heart as well as a just spirit and brilliant mind.

Bequests to Charities.

New York, July 9.—The will of Joseph Sarter, filed for probate in Brooklyn, contains a bequest of $5,000 to the Old Ladies' home at Springfield, Mass., to establish a fund for the benefit of the inmates. The Springfield City hospital is also a beneficiary to the extent of $5,000. Mrs. Henrietta Rouriere, 113 South Second street, Brooklyn, is made executrix and receives personal property. The estate is estimated at $100,000.

Steamer Romer Moved.

Kingston, N. Y., July 9.—The steamer William F. Romer of the Kingston and New York night line, which ran ground at Esopus light in a fog, has been moved 16 feet by the Baxter Wrecking company, who expect to float the vessel without injury in a day or two. Their contract calls for the removal of the vessel July 16. She lies in four feet of water at high tide and draws seven feet normally.

Trusts In Tennessee.

Nashville, July 9.—Judge Anderson of the criminal court has charged the grand jury to investigate the alleged formation of a millers and wheat buyers' trust. The millers deny that they have formed a trust, but admit they have a purchasing agent who acts for all of them, but buys through grain merchants who deal directly with the growers.

A Match Monopoly.

Washington, July 9.—The government of Colombia has offered the monopoly of the production and sale of matches for a period of 25 years to public competition. The person securing the contract must establish factories in certain departments, reduce the present price of matches from 10 to 20 per cent and pay for his monopoly 640,000 francs per annum.

Sing Sing's Famous Camp Meeting.

Sing Sing, N. Y., July 9.—The sixty-sixth annual ten days' camp meeting, which will be held as usual in the old historic grove near here, will open on Thursday, Aug. 5, and will be in charge of Rev. A. C. Morehouse and Rev. Thomas Harrison. Bishops J. P. Newman and E. G. Andrews, Mrs. Maggie N. Van Cott and others are to preach.

Stole Express Packages.

Middletown, N. Y., July 9.—Burglars broke into the Ontario and Western depot at Ferndale last night and removed a trunk and a number of express packages. The same burglars are believed to have effected an entrance to a store and four houses at Stevensville, a few miles distant, but they secured nothing valuable.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS

The Deficiency Appropriation Occupies the Time.

IT WAS A VERY UNEVENTFUL SESSION

Mr. Berry Wants to Demand the Release of Ona Melton, One of the Competitor Prisoners—Doings of the House.

Washington, July 9.—The session of the senate was uneventful, the deficiency appropriation being considered throughout the day. Among its provisions is one accepting the invitation of France to participate in the Paris exposition of 1900.

The bill was not completed up to the time of adjournment.

During the day Mr. Berry of Arkansas offered a resolution requesting the president to demand of Spain the release of Ona Melton, one of the Competitor prisoners. The resolution was referred to the committee on foreign relations.

The house has sent the tariff bill to conference. Chairman Dingley, Payne of New York, Dalzell of Pennsylvania, Hopkins of Illinois and Grosvenor of Ohio, Republicans, and Bailey of Texas, McMillin of Tennessee and Wheeler of Alabama, Democrats, were appointed conferees. The proceedings were in nowise sensational.

This action was taken by means of a special order brought in from the committee on rules. The minority made no objection to it, but protested because the majority refused in advance to enter into an agreement as to the length of time to be allowed for debate when the bill is reported by the conferees.

They also attempted to make some political capital out of the refusal of the majority to permit action on the Cuban belligerency resolution and the bankruptcy bill. The remainder of the day after the tariff bill had been sent to a conference was occupied by the house in paying tribute to the memory of the late William S. Holman, the old watchdog of the treasury.

The senate has confirmed the following nominations: Hiram C. Truesdale of Arizona to be chief justice and the following named to be associate justices of the supreme court of Arizona: G. R. Davis, F. M. Doan and R. E. Sloan; Asa W. Tenney of New York to be United States district judge for the eastern district of New York, Francis B. Loomis of Ohio to be minister to Venezuela, W. W. Rockhill of the District of Columbia to be minister to Greece, C. V. Herdliska, District of Columbia, to be secretary of the American legation at Vienna.

The Case of Commander Mullan.

Washington, July 9.—The president has disposed of the case of Commander Dennis Mullan of the navy, lately in command of the Pensacola navy yard, who had been found guilty by court-martial for drunkenness on duty and recommended for dismissal from the navy. The president in his indorsement says:

"The sentence of the court martial in the foregoing case of Commander Dennis Mullan is approved but is mitigated as follows: To be reduced in rank so that his name shall be placed at the foot of the list of commanders in the navy and to be suspended from rank and duty on one-half of sea pay for the period of five years, during which time he shall retain his present place at the foot of the said list."

The practical effect of this sentence probably will be to prevent the officer from ever becoming a captain, a place which he otherwise would have attained in a day or two by the retirement of Captain Bartlett, and also to make it improbable that he will again hold a sea command before retiring.

The Ruiz Claim.

Washington, July 9.—The state department officials after weeks of hard work have completed the preparation of our case in the prosecution of the Ruiz claim, and after receiving the approval of the president it will be turned over to Minister Woodford for presentation to the Madrid foreign office. He sails from New York on the 28th inst.

In the preparation of this case Mr. Calhoun, the United States special commissioner, has contributed the principal part, but the law officers of the state department have done much to present the facts collected by him in the strongest light and establish a good basis for the claim of indemnity, originally fixed at $150,000, which is to be urged against the Spanish government.

For a Chinese Railroad.

Washington, July 9.—Minister Denby has reported to the state department from Peking that a Belgian syndicate has closed a contract to build a railroad from Hankow to Pastingfu. The American syndicate could not accept the terms offered.

Troops Pursue African King.

Lagos, British West Africa, July 9.—A body of troops in the employ of the British Niger company reports having discovered and pursued the fugitive king of Benin. During the pursuit three towns were captured by the troops with severe loss to the natives, but the king succeeded in escaping. The troops lost Lieutenant Fitzgerald and two men killed.

Judgments Against Syracuse Woman.

Syracuse, July 9.—Judgments aggregating $14,000 have been filed in the county clerk's office against Elizabeth Cohen, who has a wholesale jewelry store and a wholesale tobacco store in this city. They are for $2,903.65 and $11,679.77, both in favor of the New York State Banking company.

Canada's Fast Ocean Line.

Ottawa, July 9.—R. R. Dobell has received a letter from Peterson, Tate & Co., contractors for the fast Canadian Atlantic service, stating that the capital stock of $10,000,000 for the enterprise has all been subscribed. Sir Blundell Mapel has subscribed $2,500,000 of the whole amount.

Made Insane by Heat.

Middletown, N. Y., July 9.—Walter H. Mapes of Monticello, aged 40 years, was overcome by the heat in this city and became violently insane. He thought some one was trying to throw him under a train. It required four officers to get him to the hospital.

MOSQUITO BITE AN ACCIDENT.

Jerseymen and accident insurance companies will be interested in the recent decision of a Kentucky court which has an especial pertinency at this season of the year. The Court of Appeals held that death resulting from the sting of an insect was accomplished by "external, violent and accidental" means, in the sense that those words are understood in an accident insurance policy. The court held, moreover, that the sting of the insect is the proximate cause of death, which results from blood poisoning caused by the sting, and that death from such a cause in not the result of "poison in any form or manner" or of "contact with poisonous substances," as those terms are regarded in accident insurance.

WOMAN'S DAWNING DAY.

In the parlance of the day, the women of this particularly-favored section of New Jersey are strictly "in it" when it comes to hovering around the ballot-box as influential factors. Following close upon the decision of Lincoln's citizens that the fair sex shall possess equal rights with the men in the municipal government comes the story from over the Watchung mountain, at Washingtonville, that the wives of several of the progressive men of the school district won the day for them in a hotly-contested proposition to build a new and modern schoolhouse. Woman's day is certainly dawning.

SHOCKING.

We have received the following anonymous letter from Plainfield. N. J.:

To the Editor of The Evening Sun—Sir: The young men in this part of the country have taken to leaving the padding out of their golf stockings during the hot weather.

Can this be true?—Evening Sun.

ONE EXPLANATION.

Inability of Plainfield to have her trolley company sprinkle the streets may be attributed to a pronounced leaning which the principal trolley owners have for the Baptist creed.—New York Press.

DOG KILLING CHICKENS.

Twenty Fowls of Wm. Smith Slain By a Canine.

It is quite likely that when the North Plainfield Township Committee holds its next meeting they will receive a bill from Wm. Smith, of Washingtonville, for the loss of twenty-two chickens that were killed last evening by dogs. Mr. Smith has neighbors who saw the visitation of the dogs and know his chickens were killed in that way. The hens were valuable ones, of imported stock, and the loss will aggregate quite an amount. When Mr. Smith went to his barn this morning he found dead chickens scattered all about the place. Mr. Smith has an idea who owns the dogs but he is not able to prove it.

This is the second time that dogs have visited the locality and killed a number of chickens. The first time was at the home of Wm. Demler, where twenty chickens were killed Soon after the act was committed Mr. Demler prepared himself for the return of the dog. When the canine came back Mr. Demler had his gun ready and he killed the dog on the spot. Since then he has not been troubled.

Music at Mt. Zion's.

A successful vocal and instrumental concert was given at the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church last evening by the Christmas family, a number of talented musicians from Rahway. After the concert refreshments were served in the basement of the church. The proceeds will go into the church treasury.

Interesting to Ladies.

WOMEN IN THE COUNCIL.

Mrs. Hazard and Miss Egel Will Formally Enter Upon Their Duites Tomorrow.

The first meeting of the new Common Council of Lincoln, six miles from this city, which is divided as to the sex of members, will be held tomorrow afternoon, when the council will be called to order by Mayor Silas D. Drake, as presiding officer.

A great deal of interest has been aroused as to just how much influence the two women members, Miss Emma Egel and Mrs. Oliva Hazard, will exercise in the proceedings of the body. Both are women noted in the community for their resoluteness in carrying to a successful issue anything that they undertake.

It has been suggested that the position of president of the Council, which will be really an honorary office—the Mayor being the officer presiding over the sessions—be accorded to one of the women, and it has found popular favor among the people of the community.

Never Asked For a Franchise.

The clerk of the North Plainfield Township Committee informed a Daily Press reporter this morning that the Plainfield Street Railway Company has never asked the committee for a franchise to operate a trolley road through the township. In his opinion he thought that the committee would be willing to grant the franchise for the reason that they had widened the road for the benefit of the street railway company. He said that they cannot now lay any tracks through the township unless they first secure a franchise from the committee.

Drink Was the Cause.

Hugh McIlveny and Michael Gilroy called at The Press office this morning. They stated that there was no truth in the report that they had trouble over a girl yesterday but that it was drink that had caused Hugh to attack his friend. They said that no razor had been drawn but that fists were the only weapons. McIlveny said that he was to blame for all the trouble as he had been crazy with drink when he attacked Gilroy.

A Bicycle Party.

Mrs. J. R Joy, of Orchard avenue, gave a bicycle party to a few friends and relatives last evening. The party enjoyed a run to Westfield. On the return trip the front wheel of Raymond A. PASSING COMMENT.

It is said that many of the fashionable New York and Brooklyn ladies who summer in this city are attracted hither by the fame of the Union county roads, which offer ideal opportunities for driving and bicycle riding.

A wheelman of Plainfield caused some amusement to the inhabitants of Scotch Plains on Tuesday by attempting to inflate the tires of his bicycle with water. The apparatus, which he found lying at the door of Emery's hotel, was a water pump. This the wheelman attached to the valve of his bicycle tire and was forcing water into it when some one called his attention to the error. The crowd took ginger ale at the Plainfielder's expense.

A respectable colored man complains that he and his fellow citizens of the same color are not receiving fair treatment. He says that the other evening he went to the establishment of a Plainfield dealer who sells ice cream at his place and sat down at one of the tables and ordered cream. He was informed that neither he nor any of his color could obtain ice cream there. He thinks that if such is the case, then something ought to be done, and that such dealers who are supposed to keep public resorts keep them or else put up due notice to that effect. There are several dealers, in different lines, that refuse to cater to the colored trade, as they claim that it injures their business with other people.

* * * *

In the year 1850, Plainfield celebrated the Fourth of July in a grand and glorious fashion. The other day, as Samuel Hedden, of Duer street, was looking through some old papers, he found one of the old posters advertising that event. The poster is a remarkable one. "Grand Disconfuddlement of the 4th of July At the Recently Incorporated City of Tow-Pond Town" is the remarkable title given on the poster to the celebration. Those who know something of the ancient history of Plainfield will remember that New Market pond was once called Tow-Town Pond, Tow-Pond Town, referred to in the poster, is probably a joke at the expense of Plainfield. The poster then goes on to enumerate the events of the day, describing, in most wonderful fashion, the route of the parade in the morning and then the fireworks in the evening. All the jokes that are used have a local meaning.

TICE SCORES A POINT.

TOWNSHIP WILL RELAY HIS SEWER CONNECTION.

Epworth League Entertainment Tonight—An Interesting Baseball Game Tomorrow—Other Items That May Be of Interest.

The writer has it upon good authority that the township has been worsted in the attempt to prevent George W. Tice, a property owner, from running surface water from his premises into the sewer. Some time ago Tice applied to the Township Committee for permission to connect a cistern upon his premises with the sewer main. The application was denied by the committee, and Tice made a test case of it by at once laying pipes for the connection. As soon as the work was finished E. W. Chamberlain, superinteudent of sewers, appeared with a force of men and ripped up the pipes Tice then applied to the court for a mandamus compelling the township to relay the pipes. This mandamus has not been granted, but it is said that Frank Bergen, counsel for the township, and Mr. Tice's counsel have been in consultation, and that Mr. Bergen has written the township committee a letter advising them to relay the pipes. If this is done it will place the township in an awkward predicament, as other property owners will want to run surface water into the sewer, which was not constructed to receive the surface water, and is not capable of carrying it.

An entertainment will be given in the Methodist church this evening under the direction of the literary and social committee of the Epworth League. Admission will be free and a collection will be taken at the close.

Corporation Notice.

Public notice is hereby given that at a special meeting of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, held on Thursday, the eighth day of July instant, an ordinance of which the following is a true copy, to wit:

AN ORDINANCE

to Provide for the Construction of an Addition to the System of Sewerage Already Constructed in the City of Plainfield.

WHEREAS, At an adjourned regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, held on the 21st day of May, in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four, a petition signed by the owners of at least three fifths in value of the real estate in said City as shown by the Assessor's books, was presented to the said Common Council, praying them to provide for and cause to be constructed a system of sewerage in the said City in the manner provided in and by a certain act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, entitled "An Act to provide for drainage and sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890:

AND WHEREAS, On said 21st day of May, A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-four, the said petition was by a unanimous vote of the said Common Council referred to the Committee on Finance for verification:

AND WHEREAS, On the fourth day of June, eighteen hundred and ninety-four, said committee reported that they had duly investigated and ascertained that said petition contained the requisite number of signatures as aforesaid, which report was then and there duly accepted by the Common Council and ordered together with the said petition spread upon the minutes of the said Common Council:

AND WHEREAS, It has appeared and does appear to the said Common Council and the said Common Council has found and determined and doth hereby find, ascertain and determine that the owners of at least three-fifths in value of the real estate in the said City as shown by the Assessor's books have petitioned said Common Council to provide for and cause to be constructed a system of sewerage for said City in the manner provided by said act:

AND WHEREAS, In the opinion of the said Common Council the public good required that a system of sewerage should be constructed in and for said city under the provisions of said act, and the said Common Council so determined and adopted "An Ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 25, 1894, and and "A further ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved June 21, 1895:

AND WHEREAS, In the opinion of the Common Council the public good requires that an addition, as hereinafter described, to the system of sewerage already constructed under said ordinances should be constructed in and for said City under the provisions of said act and the Common Council has so determined and does hereby so determine; therefore,

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Common Council doth hereby direct and order that an addition to the system of sewerage already constructed under said act be constructed in and for said City under the provisions of the act of the Legislature aforesaid with all the appurtenances necessary to complete the same, and of such dimensions and meterial and according to such plan as the said Common Council may hereafter direct in and the following described streets, avenues, property, land, and rights of way, described, mentioned and referred to in this ordinance, to wit:

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Scarcely had the fever of excitement over Sir Julian Pauncefote's place in the Grant parade began to subside, and the pulse of the great capital to temporarily keep time, before polite society was thrown into violent hysterics over the McCook-Logan squabble. The fuss originated a little over a year ago at Moscow on the occasion of the Czar's coronation, and, like the Sir Julian episode, involves a question of diplomacy. It appears that at the coronation festivities there was a great multitude, which no man could number, from this side of the sea, and all of them were determined to witness the coronation of the Czar or die in the attempt.

Gen. Alexander McDowell McCook represented the United States army at the coronation, and Commodore Selfridge the navy. Col. John J. McCook was there also as his brother's aid, a kind of official alter ego, as it were. Mrs. John A. Logan was there chaperoning a string of American heiresses, and John A. Logan, Jr., who would have been a great warrior but for these weak, piping times of peace, was there also. Young Logan inherits a warlike spirit from both sides of the house. It has frequently been said of Mrs. Logan, "She was born to command."

Now at Moscow Mrs. Logan had formed the high resolution that she and her son John should be received as the most distinguished Americans present at the coronation, and with Mrs. Logan to resolve was to act. Her son, to be sure, had never seen active service, but her son's father had been a soldier, and her son would have been if he had had the chance.

The highest military rank to which John, Jr., was entitled on his own account was that of Captain on the staff of Gov. Bushnell of Ohio. He had done his state and country gallant service in that capacity, and then, too, when to his own achievements were added those of his father, which were his by inheritance, there were not many in the country that could outrank him.

A wonderfully handsome and commanding figure was Mrs. Logan, as she swept into the ante-room, where the American guests had assembled in order to arrange the order of their entrance into the main hall of the Czar's palace. The American Minister, Mr. Breckinridge, and Mrs. Breckinridge were to lead the procession, followed by Commodore Selfredge, Gen. and Mrs. Alexander McD. McCook, Col. John J. McCook and daughter, and then the various secretaries and attaches of the American Legation. Following them were to come the unofficial guests, but to the amazement of all the assembled Americans, before the line had been arranged, Mrs. Logan advanced to the front, and taking the arm of her handsome son led the way into the reception room. They were followed by an imposing array of American heiresses in magnificent costumes, splendid jewels and gorgeous trains. Others, who did not know exactly what to do, but presumed it would be right to follow Mrs. Logan, filed in and found seats. As the Logans advanced they were greeted on all sides with great cordiality, and the gorgeous Captain's uniform, with its multitudinous decorations, was the conspicuous feature of the distinguished assembly.

In the meantime poor Mr. Breckinridge, the American Minister, stood in his knickerbockers dumb with amazement and chagrin. Gen. McCook was bursting with indignation. Rumor hath it that Gen. McCook was so enraged at the proceedings of the Logans that he swore that he would have young John arrested and put into a strait-jacket. Mrs. Potter Palmer was there, along with the rest, and she told Mrs. Logan that the McCooks were saying dreadful things about her and her son, and Mrs. Logan retorted that Gen. McCook was only mad because her son John was a better figure than his brother John. Finally there was a meeting between the two belligerent houses, and after a good deal of crimination and recrimination they agreed to drop the whole matter.

But the cat came back, and found its way into President McKinley's official chamber as he sat wrestling with the claimants for a foreign portfolio, and mewed out the whole story. The cat says that you could have knocked the President down with a feather when he heard it, he was so taken aback, and that he said he would never appoint a coxcomb Minister to Austria.

Of course, I don't know whether the cat told the truth or not, but certain it is that John A. Logan, Jr., heard about it, and he forthwith put a chip on his shoulder and dared any of the McCooks to knock it off. Mrs. Logan also took up the cudgels for her son, got herself interviewed in all the papers and, according to many people, said a number of things. And it is said here in Washington that there were certainly charges and counter-charges on file at the War Department.

NEW YORK LETTER.

The appearance of A Oakey Hall as counsel for Commander Booth-Tucker, of the Salvation Army, naturally recalls the time when Mr. Hall was a prominent figure in the New York courts. Before he became Mayor in 1869 he served for a number of years as District Attorney, and was considered one of the best public prosecutors the city ever had. He appeared in many famous trials. Of his career as Mayor nothing need be said here. It ended Mr. Hall's public career, and since 1873 he has led a varied existence, sometimes practising law, at other times actively engaged in newspaper work, once attempting but failing in the theatrical profession, for a long time living in London, but now again in his old home and former business, although still engaged more or less in journalism and writing short stories for evening newspapers. His career, at one time, promised the greatest brilliancy. He is, I believe, with one exception, the oldest living ex-Mayor.

The Chicago Dude's Advent.

J. Waldere Kirk's descent on New York with an assortment of trunks filled with "pants" and "vests" and other Chicago-made clothes suggests the almost unnoticed death of the word "dude," which has been revived for Mr. Kirk's special benefit and as a mark of appreciation for his sartorial display. The word came into the English language at about the time that some of the disciples of aestheticism in England were carrying out their theories in their clothes, and in a few months every New York man who dressed well according to the fashions of the day was a "dude." These fashions were extreme. They dictated trousers that were uncomfortably tight and shoes that faded away to a sharp point. Even men who wanted to dress well and were known to be able to dress as they chose strove for eccentricities. Had Mr. Kirk arrived in New York eight or nine years ago he might not have been conspicuous. He came out of the West just that number of years too late if he is really honest in his expressed purpose of showing New Yorkers how they should dress. The "dude" now is a thing of the stage, the past or the West, so far as New York is concerned. The best dressed men in town are those whose clothes are the least conspicuous, and Mr. Kirk will find little sympathy with his eccentricities in "pants" and "vests." As an agitator of public interest, however, he has bravely downed the man who invented milk baths for actresses, and it would be manifestly unfair to rank him with the balloonists of yellow journalism.

The Old Tombs.

The destruction of the old Tombs building, will remove a building that has been pronounced to be one of New York's best examples of consistent architecture, so far as its exterior is concerned. The general effect of the building has been spoiled in recent years by the additions that were made necessary to provide more cells.

"You have just three examples of architecture in this city that I admire immensely," said a well-known artist several years ago. "They are the City Hall, the Tombs prison, and the old reservoir at Forty-second street, and Fifth avenue. Each is perfect in its way."

There is no prison in the United States, not even excepting Sing Sing, that is better known than the old Tombs. It has figured for many years in New York history and in American fiction. The prison yard was the scene of many executions, and not a few sensational escapes were made made from the prison itself.

Politicians Caricatured.

If the politicians were so sensitive to the newspaper cartoons as to propose seriously to pass a bill to prohibit them what must be their sensations when they are caricatured by actors on the stage? In "A Round of Pleasure" Walter Jones, in a clever make-up, appears as Senator Platt in the role of Iago, and it is ludicrous, indeed, to see this representation of the celebrated boss dancing a jig on the stage. Another comedian caricatures Mark Hanna. Still another intentionally or unconsciously makes up like Secretary Cornelius N. Bliss, and as in one of his scenes he appears in a state of mild intoxication, the incongruous, though humorous, effect may be easily imagined. The names of Grover Cleveland, Chauncey M. Depew and other prominent men are freely used in puns and jokes. This is the price these men have to pay for the fame they enjoy.

Down In a Coal Mine

good qualities are easily determined from the poor. The solid chunks that are free from slate is the coal that brings the biggest prices. Crumbling coal is the kind that makes the dust and it's the kind you get when you are not careful where you buy. We sell the honest, solid coal for the price you've paid for the other sort, of last week with every parlor suit sold—no matter what its price—we'll include WITHOUT COST a handsome highly polished cherry table—its top 24 inches square—one you'd be glad to own—not a cheap, flimsy thing.

White Enameled Beds, Dressers to Match

—a "one-you-rarely-see" stock—so complete, so radically new in patterns—and priced where you can reach it—$2.95, $3.50, $4.50, $5.00 and so on. Dressers to match.

Oak Bedroom Suits—if bought during sale of odd patterns, $10.75 up.

Too Many Refrigerators

on hand—we MUST make sales while 'tis possible—season's backward. Buy NOW at "clearing-out" figures—they're COST:

No. 1 Hardwood, $4.15
No. 3 Hardwood, $5.20
No. 5 Hardwood, $8.60
Others, $2.85 up.

Mattings—$3.50

a roll of 40 yards—we know our line is good.

Baby Carriages

$3.50 to $35.00—and a host of prices in between.

'96 Bicycles, $29.00 Cash

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

THE JAPANESE SITUATION.

No Misunderstanding Between the Two Countries In Spite of Rumors.

Washington, July 9.—Minister Hoshi of Japan has received late advices from both Hawaii and Japan which show that negotiations on the differences between the two governments on the immigration question are going forward peaceably and that there is nothing in the progress of the negotiations to justify sensational reports that there is a probability of serious trouble between the two governments.

The minister's advices show that there is nothing new in the situation and no cause whatever for apprehension.

With respect to the editorial statement of the Japan Herald that Japan has designs on the Hawaiian islands and was making preparations to supplant the Hawaiian with the Japanese flag, the minister authorizes the most direct and positive denial of them, having not even a basis of fact.

The Japan Herald, he said, is an English newspaper published at Yokohama in the English interest and is entirely discredited by the government of Japan, to which it has been hostile for 25 years.

It is entirely without information from the government, and its utterances has no sanction from Japan or the Japanese people.

The government never gave it any information or news of any kind, and its statements as to Japan having designs on Hawaii the minister characterized as unwarranted and untrue.

Two Drowned While Bathing.

Kingston, N. Y., July 9.—Benson Everett, son of ex-Assembly James H. Everett and a student of Yale, class of '99, and James Treadwell, son of Joseph H. Treadwell, partner with Captain Everett in the wholesale flour and feed business here, were drowned in the Esopus creek near the Ulster and Delaware railway bridge at this city while bathing. Neither could swim. The body of young Treadwell has been recovered. Everett was an only son, and his parents are distracted with grief.

The Mississippi Rising.

Minneapolis, July 9.—The Mississippi river at this point is within six inches of the highest mark reached in the unprecedented floods of April last. Between 4,000 and 5,000 men are out of employment as a result of the necessary closing down of the sawmills, and there will be heavy losses on logs if the rise continues. The new power dam has been damaged again, repairs resulting from the spring freshets being in progress and the work being unprepared for this unexpected flood.

To End the Immuring Trial.

St. Petersburg, July 9.—The Russian government has decided not to proceed with the trial of Feodore Kovaleff, the chief actor in the dreadful immuring tragedy near Tiraspol, southern Russia, where the police discovered some weeks ago the bodies of six persons, members of the fanatical sect known as the Raskolniki, who had been walled up alive by Kovaleff that they might secure salvation by self immolation. Kovaleff will be interned in a remote convent.

Training Ship Enterprise.

Boston, July 9.—A cablegram has been received by the commissioners of the Massachusetts Nautical Training school announcing the arrival of the Enterprise at Southampton on Wednesday, July 7, after a passage of 21 days from Boston. As this is seven days ahead of her schedule time, the training ship must have had a very favorable passage. All are well on board.

The Decrease In England's Exports.

London, July 9.—The papers comment upon the most striking feature of the board of trade returns, which show a reduction of £1,470,000 in the export account, and attribute this principally to the contraction of the shipments of cotton goods to India, China, Japan, Central and South America despite the increase of the shipment of wool and worsteds to the United States.

Killed by Lightning.

Shamokin, Pa., July 9.—A gang of workmen, while driving to their homes in Midvalley and Natalie, were overtaken by the heaviest electrical storm ever known in this section, and one of their number, Daniel Rhodes, aged 70 years, was instantly killed by a bolt of lightning. One of the horses was also killed outright. The remaining workmen and horses were shocked.

Gifts For Middletown.

Middletown, N. Y., July 9.—Mrs. S. Maretta Thrall, who died in this city, left a will in which she endowed the Thrall hospital with $20,000. The hospital and city park were previous gifts from her. She also left $30,000 for a public library building to be erected on the city's own lot on one of the prominent streets. Mrs. Thrall's gifts in all to the city amount to $80,000.

American Cruisers at Tangier.

Tangier, Marocco, July 9.—The United States cruiser San Francisco has arrived here, and the United States cruiser Raleigh is expected here tomorrow. The San Francisco and Raleigh have been sent to Tangier to support the protest of the United States consul general (Burke) against the discrimination of the authorities of Marocco against Americans.

Sues the State For Prison Water.

Albany, July 9.—The city of New York has filed a claim against the state for $21,000 for furnishing Sing Sing prison with water during the past five years from the Croton water supply. The claim was filed pursuant to an enabling act of the last legislature. It was brought to the city yesterday by Assistant Corporation Counsel Beatty.

Died From His Injuries.

Colorado Springs, July 9.—Fred W. Everson of Abington, Mass., who was thrown from a coach while going through the Garden of the Gods, about four miles west of here, last Friday, is dead. In the overturning of the coach a dozen passengers were injured. Everson received internal injuries, from which he died at Manitou.

Torpedo Boat Bids.

Washington, July 9.—Secretary Long has agreed to give a hearing to several of the bidders for constructing torpedo boats whose proposals are still held up. Consequently he has reserved his decision upon the awards of contracts.

THE MINERS' STRIKE

The Present Outlook of the Situation Bright For the Men.

A GENERAL SUSPENSION OF WORK.

Nearly All the Large Mines Are Joining. No Sign of Lawlessness on the Part of the Men Who Belong to the Union.

Pittsburg, July 9.—The close of the third day of the miners' strike finds the diggers gaining strength rapidly in the Pittsburg district, elating the officials and men correspondingly.

The net result of the struggle up to date, as gleaned from unbiased as well as from partisan sources, is about as follows:

Nineteen thousand men idle; an almost total suspension of work in the mines along the Monongahela river; suspension practically total on the Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, only about 50 men working there; all of the railroad mines closed down with the exception of the M. A. Hanna & Co. mines along the Panhandle, the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company and a few individual mines, which can have but little effect on the situation.

The Hanna mines have about one-third of their usual number of men at work, and this slight increase appears to be the only advantage the operators have gained.

The coming out of the men along the Baltimore and Ohio is a decided victory for the miners, because these men were working under an ironclad agreement, and by their loyalty to their brethren forfeit $8,000 in wages which the company holds out.

Still Coal In Plenty.

The situation as to the supply of coal cannot be called serious as yet, because there are from 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels of the black diamonds in stock at the various pools along the river which can be placed in this city at short notice, and if need be a portion of it could be shipped to the lakes.

Up to the present time no sign of unlawfulness has developed among the strikers and no evidence whatever that there will be. Today promises to be a day of decided action on the part of the miners. It is reported that a meeting has been scheduled between President Ratchford of the Mine Workers' association and President Gompers of the Federation of Labor in this city, and the miners' officials announce that a systematic movement will be started to bring out the diggers now at work for the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company.

The meeting between Ratchford and Gompers will be important, as plans for carrying on the strike are to be discussed. It is claimed that one of the principal topics will be a scheme to raise funds from which it is proposed to pay all the miners that are now working full time in order to induce them to make the tieup complete. It is said that President Gompers will offer to raise a fund of $60,000 per week to assist the strikers in their struggle.

Warehouse Destroyed by Fire.

Baltimore, July 9.—The warehouse 23 and 25 South Howard street belonging to J. Appleton Wilson and occupied by Hanline Bros., dealers in paints, oils and glass, has been completely gutted by fire. The damage to the building and stock is estimated to be about $30,000 and is fully covered by insurance. While fighting the flames six firemen were overcome by the effects of heat and smoke. The warehouse had been closed for the day when the flames were discovered, and the inflammable nature of the contents of the building gives rise to the theory that the fire was due to spontaneous combustion.

Trouble With Germans at the Cape.

London, July 9.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Cape Town says that Captain Burr of the schooner Seabird, belonging to the Cape government and engaged in trade with the Guano islands, reports that he had trouble with the Germans on account of the restrictions placed upon obtaining labor supplies for the islands from Damaraland. The captain, on arriving at Angra Pequena, a bay on the west coast of Africa, was detained for several days, and then, as his boat was about leaving, she was fired on by German soldiers.

Shot His Wife and Her Friend.

Elmira, N. Y., July 9.—George A. C. Orme, an Englishman, 65 years of age, shot and fatally injured James Punzo, an Italian, and Mrs. Maria Orme, wife of the assailant. Mr. and Mrs. Orme had not been living together, and Punzo had been living at Mrs. Orme's home. Orme tried to persuade his wife to leave the Italian, but it is said he drove him from the house. He went to the house and shot Punzo, who was pumping water, and then shot his wife as she entered the kitchen. Orme was arrested and is confined in the county jail.

Strike of Lumbermen.

Calais, Me., July 9.—Between 50 and 60 men employed at James Murchie & Son's sawmill at Milltown have struck on account of a reduction in wages. Murchie's is the only mill at which lumbering operations are continued during this season. It is feared that the mill will be shut down, although there are so many lumbermen out of work that it is thought Mr. Murchie would have little difficulty in finding men to take the strikers' places.

Packing Company Assigns.

Boston, July 9.—The Public Market and Packing company of this city has made an assignment to Frank J. Flemings, S. P. Pike, James F. Bunting and Burnett B. Hart. The firm has branches in Lawrence, Lowell, Worcester and Manchester, N. H. By the last report the company owes about $100,000. The company is incorporated under the Maine laws, and its Boston places of business are 880 to 894 Washington street and 1210 Tremont street.

Bridegroom Commits Suicide.

Springfield, Mass., July 9.—Joseph Bedour, aged 27, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. He was employed by Remi Gauvin as a driver and was married to Emma La Valley of Agawam last Saturday. He has a father and stepmother living in North Williston, Vt. Despondency, caused by illness, led Bedour to take his life.

AROUND THE BASES.

Cooney, who is now playing third base for the Cresents, has become a great favorite with the adherents of the game, especially the small boys. He has the reputation of never exerting any more energy than is absolutely necessary to accomplish his work, but yet he can move as quick as any man on the team, and there is never a ball too hot for him to handle and field to first base in time to beat the runner.

The game that the Crescents have scheduled for tomorrow afternoon is with the Stelton Athletic Club, to be played on the Crescents grounds at the corner of LaGrande avenue and Richmond street. The game begins at 3:30 o'clock. McLarty and Kelly will be the battery for the Crescents as usual. Manager Mumford has made it a special rule that there is to be no smoking on the ladies grandstand, which is covered with an awning to protect the fair spectators and their escorts from the sun.

George Bolsterli did not appear on the field for the Crescents last Saturday or Monday. It was not because George is not a good ball player, but because there does not appear to be any place for him. His real position is third base, but when he was put behind the bat, Cooney went to third and has remained there a fixture. Then Kelly came from Staten Island and his experience and skill made him a regular player. George was talked of as shortstop, but a good man appeared for that position, and now George is on the bench waiting for a vacancy to occur.

There are several changes that have been made in the Crescents team since they opened the season and the changes have seemed to be for the best. Plainfield certainly lacked strong batters at the first part of the season. The team has been greatly improved in that respect of late, but one or two more good reliable hitters would add much strength to the nine. Then coachers have been very few. Speaking of coachers, men who lend a little excitement to the game by keeping up a rattle of instructions to the men on the bases are meant. Cox was a good man for that, but his pitching more than overbalanced any amount of coaching and he was dropped from the roll of the club.

The Crescents, of this city, will play a return game with the Somersets, of Somerville, on Saturday afternoon, July 17th. The game will be played on the grounds of the Somersets, in Somerville. There have been several changes in the Crescents team since the first game with the Somersets in which the latter were victorious by a score of 13 to 8, and Manager Mumford hopes to turn the tables on the Somerville team on their own grounds. It will be remembered that the Somersets defeated the Bound Brooks by one run in their first game some time ago while the Crescents found the Bound Brooks an easy thing in the game last Monday morning. While the Bound Brooks were not at their best against the Plainfields, yet the local players had no trouble in hitting Brampton, the star pitcher of the Bound Brooks, who proved a puzzle to the Somerville batters. When the Somersets played the Crescents, Cox pitched for the Crescents until too late to save the game and then McLarty was put in the box. McLarty was a mystery to the strangers from down the road and they found him hard to hit safely.

CYCLING COMMENT.

Mrs. George H. Frost, of Watchung avenue, is learning to ride the bicycle.

Officers Installed.

At the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41. Jr. O U. A. M., held last evening the following three officers, who were not present last week, were installed:—Councillor, Arthur Adame; treasurer, Peter Bogert; trustee, Harry M. Cooke. Past councilor badges were presented to Harry M. Cooke and Theodore Kurzhals. The other business transacted was of a routine nature.

ARC LIGHTS REFUSED.

West Eighth street, and on the motion of Mr. Barrows the Fire and Building Committee was authorized to have the main extended and a hydrant located on that street for the above purpose.

The petition of I. N. Field for an electric light at the corner of Randolph road and Field avenue was granted. The petition for three crosswalks at Grant avenue and Eighth street was granted and another petition from residents of Central avenue, between Randolph road and Elizabeth street, who asked the city to give them the proper grade so that they could confirm to it in making improvements, was referred. A communication was received from the Plainfield Electric Light Company in which it was stated that three lights had been erected as directed by the council at a recent meeting.

At the request of the managers of the Crescent Baseball Club Aaron Mattox was appointed special policeman to do duty at the grounds when a game is being played there. The appointment was confirmed as were also those of John Watson and Florence McCarthy from the special list to the regular. The Mayor stated that the last of two named men had been doing duty as specials but were now entitled to be placed on the regular list owing to their efficiency. The reports of the Building Inspector and Street Commissioner were received and filed. City Judge DeMeza reported that during the past month 188 prisoners had appeared before him, 91 of whom had been fined, 27 committed, 8 discharged and on 59 sentence was suspended. He reported having turned over to the city treasurer $460.

The $2,166.78 received by Collector Bird from taxes for 1881 and prior thereto was turned over to the city treasurer to be held in special account.

Mr. Stebbins, for the fire and building committee, made a report concerning the complaint made by John L. Blackford against L. M. Dunavan, of the Fire Department, and the committee moved that the complaint be dismissed. They held that that if Mr. Dunavan did strike Mr. Blackford, it was, in their judgment, for the reason that the latter interferred with the former in the performance of his duty.

Mr. Stebbins moved that an amount not to exceed $200 be appropriated for the purpose of putting necessary improvements in the West Second street firehouse.

Mr. Barrows stated that a great many petitions would probably be received from property owners asking for crosswalks. This, he said, would be due to the fact that the city had promised to grant the walks as soon as a sidewalk was laid in front of the property. The committee had been holding back money to do that work and as fast as possible the crosswalks would be laid.

The ordinance providing for the extension of the sewer system was placed on its first reading and was ordered engrossed and advertised, and August 2d was set as the time for giving all a hearing. Messers Runyon and Westphal voted in the negative on the above ordinance. Another ordinance regarding the new methods of paying bills as introduced by the city was adopted on its third reading, as was also the Westervelt avenue ordinance.

At this time the question of arc lights came up again. Mr. Barrows made a motion that the trees and light committee be authorized to locate one arc light at the corner of Park avenue and Front street. He said that he was too progressive to stop an improvement and desired to assist all that was possible. Mr. Tolles was not sure that the Electric Light Company would be willing to erect one light, as it was very expensive. Mr. Westphal and Mr. Newman were of the same opinion. The motion prevailed, however, and the committee will locate an arc light at the point stated should the appropriation allow it. Following this action the Councilmen all enjoyed a good laugh.

Mr. Baker offered two resolutions. One was that the city purchase two new city directories at an expense of $4, and the other was that the sum of $2,000 be borrowed for the general fund and $1,000 for the fire fund in anticipation of taxes.

Mr. Dumont stated that it would be necessary for the Council to meet on the third Tuesday in August to approve the tax levy, and after instructing the clerk to that effect the Council adjourned.

THE HONEST SHAKERS AND THEIR CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA.

The shopkeeper who cheats us by lying with regard to the quality of his goods, and the grocer or butcher who gives us short weights, is a thief. However, their knavery touches nothing but our pocketbook. There is another widespread form of misrepresentation of a far more dangerous and villainous character.

We refer to the false statements and worthless guarantees that frequently accompany medicines. To guarantee a medicine to cure is to brand it as quack product. If we can guarantee to cure disease, then we can guarantee everlasting life, for in a large majority of cases people die of disease, the proportion of violent or accidental deaths being very small

The Shakers have always been known as a most upright and honorable people and their success in the manufacture of medicines has also been well known. It is therefore not surprising to find them pursuing a very orignal and novel plan for the introduction of their remedy for dyspepsia.

These God fearing people, whose motto has always been "Try all things and hold fast that which is good," have put on the market ten cent sample bottles of their product, or sufficient to give it a trial.

The Shaker Digestive Cordial is so prompt in its action that for the trivial sum of ten cents, a person can usually determine as to whether or not it meets the requirements of his case. There are forms of dyspepsia which it won't help, but these are very rare. In most cases the first dose relieves all distress, and an increase of appetite at once follows.

All druggists have it, and the next time you are troubled with indigestion send out and try the popular and successful product. It represents nearly a hundred years of patient investigation and study.

FIRE IN PLINY FISK'S HOME.

Dining Room Burned Out and Decorations Destoyed.

Considerable damage was done to the home of Pliny Fisk at 24 East Thirty-eighth street, New York, by a fire which broke out there early yesterday morning. The fire was caused by an electric wire, and it burned out the dining room, spreading to third floor before the firemen extinguished it. Several rugs, a lot of bric-a-brac, and other valuable decorations were destroyed.

Union avenue in Bound Brook is the extension of West Front street, in this city. It is now being macadamized for some distance toward Dunellen.

—The regular meeting of the Women's Relief Corps will be held this evening. Important business will come before the meeting.

—The contract case of White against Smalley was tried before Justice Mosher this morning, and judgment in full was rendered for the plaintiff William G. DeMeza represented the plaintiff.

Court Stenographer Herbert W. Knight, of Elizabeth, is in town today.

Miss Josie VanNatta and Miss Mildred Tyrrell, of this city, are spending the day with Somerville friends.

Governor Black, of New York, has signed the bill providing for a bonus of $25,000 a year to manufacturers of beet sugar, and the experiment of State aid to business enterprises will be made under conditions which it is hoped, will insure for it a fair and thorough trial. On the face of it there seems to be no good reason why the individual States should not encourage manufacturers and producers by offering cash bonuses and in other ways, instead of depending on the National Government for everything of the kind. There is likely to be little antagonism to such a measure in any State, where all the citizens can see at least some degree of interest in the enterprise, than in the whole country where one section often feels that it is being neglected while another is favored. If the State of New Jersey can add a profitable beet sugar production to her other businesses it will be worth a great deal more than $25,000 a year to her, and will encourage other States to try similar experiments, to the end that the enormous amount of money now paid annually to foreign countries for sugar may be kept at home and distributed among our own people.

MAY HAVE TWO ROADS.

AN INTERESTING AND NEW PHASE OF THE TROLLEY MATTER.

It is Proposed That if the Railway Capitalists Use Westfield Avenue They Macadamize Third or South Avenue.

There is unquestionably a strong sentiment in favor of a trolley line between Elizabeth and Westfield, says the Elizabeth Journal. No one is opposed to such an improvement. The Journal has made a household expression of the words "Don't give up Westfield avenue," but the Journal is now and has ever been in favor of a line of electric cars between this city and Plainfield.

It has never, however, been in favor of giving up Westfield avenue to any company or corporation, unless a fair equivalent was given to the taxpayers who bonded themselves in the sum of $120,000 to build the magnificent stone road that now stretches from this city almost to the extreme boundary of Union county.

We have held that such a course would be unjust to the taxpayers and an unwarranted bonus to a wealthy corporation. More than that, we have contended, and we believe our contention will yet be completely vindicated, that a trolley line will inevitably be built between this city and Westfield, and the taxpayers need not yield a foot of Westfield avenue for that purpose. We contend, and believe our contention right, that the Consolidated Traction Company will of necessity build on some other avenue to connect their present and prospective lines, if Westfield avenue is refused them.

But the people are manifestly so desirous of having a trolley line that a new and extremely interesting phase of the trolley question has arisen. It is this: The traction company to be given the right of way over Westfield avenue, in consideration of paving Third avenue (or South avenue) with telford pavement, on the south side of the Cenural Railroad tracks, from Jersey avenue in this city to connect with the Rahway road in Westfield.

This would be a distance of a little less than seven miles. The work would, of necessity, have to be done under the supervision and direction of the board of chosen freeholders, and the road made a county road. It would then fill the break in the county road system made by taking away Westfield avenue.

This would be in some measure an equivalent for Westfield avenue. It would not cost anything like as much money to build the new road as it cost to build the Westfield avenue road, but if the roadbed were made as wide and as permanent and as good in every respect, it would do a great extent accommodate the travel that now utilizes Westfield avenue.

There is reason to believe that the trolley people could be made to look with much favor upon such a demand on the part of the people, if the demand were made the ultimate condition of a franchise on Westfield avenue, and then we would have both trolley and county road instead of having only the one.

The Journal still insists that the trolley company must connect Elizabeth and Westfield, and must go on some other avenue if the people refuse to give up Westfield avenue; but if there is any danger that this fine avenue is to be yielded at last to the trolleys, then, in justice to the taxpayers, get South avenue paved as a partial compensation and convenience.

Gash in One of His Feet.

A party of boys from Dunellen and New Market went swimming in New Market pond, near the railroad bridge, yesterday afternoon. One of the boys was standing in shallow water when he stepped on the jagged edge of a broken glass bottle that lay on the bottom and cut a deep gash in his foot. He became very frightened at the accident but finally reached the shore where his comrades assisted him to bandage it up with handkerchiefs until he could reach home.

Will be a Day of Pleasure

An excellent chance to enjoy a day at the seashore is furnished by the excursion of the Sunday-schools of the First Presbyterian, Park Avenue Baptist and Congregational churches and the Church of the Redeemer. The destination of the excursion is Asbury Park and it will go on Thursday of next week. The train leaves the North Avenue station at 8 o'clock in the morning, returning from the Park at 6 o'clock.

Must Extend Their Wire.

The Plainfield Electric Light Company will now be obliged to extend their wires to the city line on West Front street to provide the electric lights ordered by the City Council last Thursday evening. It is also the intention of the council to have the City Industrial Home lighted by electricity.

PYROTECHNIC INVASION.

WILLIAM STEIN THREATENS A SUIT AGAINST THE PARK CLUB.

He Alleges That a Sky Rocket From Their Fireworks Exhibition Went Through His Roof and Ruined a Lamp.

A peculiar accident occurred last Monday night, which may result in a law suit. It happened while the members of the Park Club were celebrating with fireworks, and little did they think that any damage resulted from their festivities.

William Stein, of West Front street, is the complaining one. At the time of the Park Club pyrotechnic exhibition he was home with his family. While they were seated on the porch Mr. Stein heard a strange noise as though someone was upstairs and had upset something. He thought it well to investigate. On the second floor he found that everything was all right, but he decided to go to the attic. There he discovered a large hanging lamp completely wrecked. Further investigation proved that a hard substance from a sky-rocket had struck the roof and made a hole, and in the descent had struck the lamp with disastrous results.

Mr. Stein is positive that the damage was caused by the exhibition at the Park Club as there were no other displays in the neighborhood. He lives quite a distance from the Park Club grounds, but not so far but what the accident could happen.

A few days ago Mr. Stein notified the officers of the club of the damage and told them that he will look to them to settle. It is said that the officers say that it was not their fault. On the other hand Mr. Stein says that if they do not settle he will bring suit against them. It is said that he has already consulted a lawyer regarding the matter.

THE BROOK COMPARATIVELY CLEAN.

There Is But Little Reason for Complaint This Summer.

At the request of a number of citizens of this city and the borough, a Press reporter yesterday made an inspection of Greenbrook, to discover its condition from a sanitary point of view. The water in the brook was found to be very low, and much green vegetable matter is present, which in places forms like a scum upon the surface of the water. The water of the brook appears clear and in excellent condition, bearing out apparently the statement of Secretary Honeyman, of the North Plainfield Board of Health, that the brook is now in better condition than at any time within the past eight years. It was discovered by the authorities a short time ago that someone was still running sewage into the brook through the North avenue sewer, and an investigation will shortly be made to discover who the guilty parties are. There were also one or two instances where water not strictly pure was being run into the brook. Notices to abate were served and the nuisance will be stopped in each case.

The green matter is a purely vegetable growth and is not at all objectionable, except to the eye.

The brook is regularly inspected, and the utmost care is exercised to keep it in healthful condition.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mowinkel Married for Twenty-Five Years.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mowinkel celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at their home 312 East Third street, last evening. About forty guests were present. At 9 o'clock the Rev. George Hauser performed the ceremony, and the wedding ring was placed upon Mrs. Mowinkel's finger. Mr. Hauser then baptized Clarence, William and Ethel May, children of Mr. and Mrs. George Cheshire and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Mowinkle. After this ceremony the party adjourned to the lawn where refreshments were served.

A Mischievous and Dangerous Deed.

Yesterday afternoon while Morris Brokaw, of West Front street, was returning along that street on his wheel, a colored boy named Harris appeared on the street with a large fence rail. The boy threw the piece of timber in front of Brokaw's wheel, with the result of pitching him over the handle bars of the wheel. When he recovered from his fright he found that he was slightly bruised and scratched. Before he could think what to do the Harris boy had made his escape and has not been seen since. The wheel was not damaged, but young Brokaw might have been seriously injured. No cause is given for the mischievous deed.

NO SLANDERING TALK.

HEALTH INSPECTOR ADDIS TIRED OF SARCASTIC COMMENTS.

James Laing Suggested That the City Official Be Thrown Into the Sewer—A Garbage Collector Proceeded Against.

Charged with ordering that a prominent city official be thrown in the sewer, James Laing was ordered to appear before the City Judge, this morning. Health Inspector Addis alleges that the man in question instructed Frank Boorman to throw him, the Inspector of the Board of Health, into the sewer, and so made a complaint against him.

Addis is called upon through his duties to visit all the stores in town to inspect their sanitary condition. Laing is employed in one of the local butcher shops on West Front street. Addis visited there and, it is claimed, Laing did not like the inspection and made the remark already mentioned.

Laing was told to appear last week, but he did not show up. Then he was ordered to appear this morning and finally came half an hour late. The Judge commented on his dilatoriness and wanted to know if such was his usual custom. Laing smiled and entered a plea of not guilty.

Inspector Addis had been in court on time, but his duties had called him away and so the Judge adjourned the trial for a week.

Inspector Addis was present as complainant in another case. It was against John Scott, colored, for dumping garbage and other objectionable refuse on the Manning flats. The Inspector said that Scott was one of the worst offenders and that he had two boys who shadowed the Inspector everywhere he went. The alleged offence for which he was arrested is said to have occurred last Thursday. The Judge heard the testimony and decided that it was not strong enough to hold Scott and so he was discharged. The gambling case supposed to come up today was adjourned for two weeks.

The investigation into the trouble at the North avenue station in which the hackmen, John Kennedy and Moses Carey, were said to be implicated, was adjourned for a week.

Chapter No. 3 in the story of the Goff Brown fracas last week was heard in the court. John Perkins, colored, was charged by Patrolman Flanagan with interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty. Flanagan said that Perkins grabbed his club when he drew it in defence of his own person. Perkins told a straightforward story and impressed the court that his claim that it was a case of mistaken identity was nearly correct. The Judge reserved his decision, however.

Chapter No. 3 was continued by the trial of Edmund Brown. Christopher Columbus, colored, was the principal witness agust him. It was alleged that Brown went to the assistance of his brother and assaulted Goff. The trial will be continued next Saturday morning.

NEWSPAPER MAN DEAD.

Nathan J. Laing Succumbed to the Ravages of Consumption.

Nathan J. Laing, one of the best-known newspaper men in this city, died yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at his home, 417 Central avenue, after an illness of two months with consumption.

Mr. Laing was born in this city on December 21st, 1859, and was therefore thirty seven years old. He was unmarried and was a reporter and compositor on various newspapers for the last fifteen years. At the time of his last sickness he was a member of The Daily Press staff.

During his illness he showed an interest in his soul's welfare, and friends who visited and talked with about Spiritual matters were convinced that he passed out of this life a Christian.

He had an extremely large circle of friends, and was liked everywhere for his kind ways and willingness to help others in any way possible.

The funeral services will be held from his late home tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church, will officiate. The interment, which will be private, will take place in Evergreen cemetery.

The Way To Do It.

The attention of Councilman Frost was called to the wretched condition of the north side of North avenue this morning, and in less than two hours afterward the Councilman had men at work to make repairs. The merchants of the thoroughfare appreciated the prompt action.

A CLEW TO THE MANIAC.

HE MAY MAVE ESCAPED FROM THE MORRIS PLAINS ASYLUM.

An Inmate Escaped From the Institution Three Weeks Ago and He May Be the Somerset County Wild Man.

The wild man of Somerset county still continues to haunt the woods near Warrenville and Coontown to the general consternation of the people living in that vicinity. While it is not known that he has visited the homes of any one in the past day or two he has been seen and heard in the woods. The children are in a state bordering on panic and flee for their homes at the first sight or sound out of the ordinary.

There is no doubt but that the man is insane and all facts known about him would point to the supposition that he is the maniac that escaped from the New Jersey State Hospital at Morris Plains about three weeks ago. The man was quite violent when brought there but gradually calmed down until the doctors thought he was recovering from his violent spell. At last he was allowed to walk about the grounds under the charge of two keepers. He was walking along quietly enough when he suddenly stooped, and, picking up a stone, struck one of the keepers full in the face with it. A blow from the maniac's fist staggared the other keeper who had not been expecting any assault and the man ran at full speed and disappeared in the woods. He lost his hat in his flight but was otherwise well equipped with clothing.

It is supposed, however, that the life in the woods soon made him the strange looking creature that he is and the tramp over the rocks cut his shoes to pieces. As described by those who have seen him lately, the wild man is bareheaded and barefooted, while his hair is matted about his eyes, giving him a ferocious appearance. He is said to be of middle height and of powerful build, with broad shoulders. His clothing is in rags.

There has been much talk regarding the way in which he lives, but it is declared that he suffers no danger of starving, as there are edible roots and herbs in the woods that he can find or else he can visit the farmers' fields or even their hen roosts. Numerous springs in the woods furnish him with water.

ROW OVER THE OLD FLAG

STARS AND STRIPES TO SCARE OFF CROWS IN A CORNFIELD.

Boyle's Neighbors Up in Arms—Such Use of the Stars and Stripes an Offence to Their Ideas of Patriotism and Loyalty.

The farmers who live near New Market are in a state of patriotic heat over the conduct of Thomas Boyle, whom they claim is using the Stars and Stripes for a scandalous purpose.

From the top of a long pole planted in the centre of Boyd's cornfield, in plain sight of the hundreds of people who traverse the macadamized county road, waves an American flag whenever a breeze blows over Piscataway Township, through the valley that winds around from the Watchung Mountains, two miles away.

Some of the people who live in that neighborhood say the fact that Boyle having a flag in such a position, surrounded by straw men who are expected to scare off crows that now and then have designs on Farmer Boyle's cornfield, is a rank insult to the country which protects his life and helps to provide him a living.

The flag floating in such a manner to frighten off the crows has rankled in the neighbors' minds to such a degree that Michael Boyle, who lives near by—but is not a relative—was selected to appear before Mayor Brakeley, of Dunellen, and asked him to take some action that would compel the offender to lower the flag.

Accordingly, Boyle had an audience with the Mayor and related his tale of offended patriotism. He asked the Mayor to request his namesake to remove the flag, and if he did not comply, to prosecute him.

The Mayor could not see that he had any jurisdiction in an official way, but as a good and loyal citizen he advised the complainant to attempt moral suasion and see if that would not have the desired effect. The neighbors say that Boyle is not a fit subject for moral suasion. In the mean time he remains deaf to the appeals that have reached his ears.

Boyle says he is just as patriotic as any of his neighbors, and that he put the flag there last flag day so the people could see it flying on the most prominent point of his farm.

AT THE MERCY OF ALMS

PITIABLE CASE OF WANT AND DESTITUTION IN WESTFIELD.

The Horrigans Live in a Barn, With the Husband Too Sick to Work, and Must Subsist on $1 a Week as Paupers.

The people of Westfield are wealthy enough to support numerous charitable schemes, including a fresh air camp and a children's country home, but they seem unable to discover that John Horrigan and his wife Mary are living in a barn in the township, with no furniture worth telling as such, and in circumstances of poverty and misery. Horrigan is a stone mason by trade. He came with his wife from Brooklyn about four years ago. Work became scarce, and he secured a position as coachman with Adolph Ganzel, of Oakland. Sickness now came to the man, and he was forced to stop work altogether. He and his wife were now unable to pay rent promptly and were evicted from the little house which they were occuping on Spring street. What household goods the Horrigans had were placed in the street, and there the unfortunate couple camped, with an improvised tent made of bed clothing as their sole protection from the sun and rain. Horrigan was sick at this time but his faithful wife stayed by and did what she could to relieve his sufferings. At length their destitution became so marked that the township authorities were appealed to by charitable people and permission was secured to remove them to a barn on the Laqueer place, which was purchased by the town for delinquent taxes some time ago. The house on the property is burned down. In this barn the Horrigans are still living. It is a small, roughly-built structure, with chinks in the walls and roof. In summer the place is unbearably hot and when it rains the water pours through the roof upon the miserable inmates. The overseer of the poor allowed the Horrigans $2 a week to live on. The nearest house was about a quarter of a mile away, and to this Mrs. Horrigan had to go for water. There was a good well upon the place, and Overseer F. Decker had a pump placed there at a cost of $6. When this bill was presented to the Township Committee the members protested against the expenditure and instructed Overseer Decker to cut down the Horrigans' allowance to one dollar a week.

In their more properons days the Horrigans owned a cow and a pig and these they have managed to keep through their misfortunes. Often times the milk from the cow is the only food they have had, yet the township authorities point to these animals as an evidence of opulence, and have ordered them sold and the money placed in the township treasury.

Mrs. Horrigan refuses to part with either of the animals. She is a skilled houseworker and could go out to work if she did not have to care for her husband. She declares that she will not leave him in his present weak condition, as he needs constant care.

People who know the circumstances of this remarkable case are commenting upon the failure of the authorities to give some substantial relief to the sufferers.

TRINITY'S ALTERATIONS.

Objection to Thirteen Outside Steps Has Been Done Away With.

The committee on subscription for building a new Sunday-school room under Trinity Reformed church, met last evening for a further conference on the subject and also to ascertain how much had been pledged for the object. There were not as many of the committee present as had been hoped for but the amount pledged thus far is very gratifying.

Another meeting of the committee will be held on Monday evening next and the Consistory of the church will meet on Tuesday evening to hear the report of the committee and take such steps as are necessary to commence the raising of the church edifice by August 1st. The outside steps, thirteen in number, leading up into the church, as first suggested by the architect, have been done away with. In the new set of plans just finished only three steps are on the outside of the building, the remaining nine steps being placed inside a large and well lighted hall which will be attached to the present front of the church building. It now looks as though the contemplated improvement is assured, and the committee and Consistory of the church feel that when it is completed not a single person will be found who is not heartily in accord with the changes made.

ASSAULTED ON A WHEEL

WM. J. KIELY ATTACKED BY A HIGHWAYMAN NEAR ELIZABETH.

He Was Riding Homeward on the County Road When a Stranger Stepped In His Path—Robbery Attempted—He Escaped.

A shadowy form, a stunning blow, a terrible fall on the hard macadam surface of the county road, a vicious pull at his watch chain and then the sound of foot steps fast retreating are all that William J. Kiely, of Steiner place, remembers of the cruel assault that was made near Elizabeth, last evening.

It was nearly midnight when Kiely was riding along the county road on his wheel, bound for home. He was just on the boundry line of the city of Elizabeth when a young man stepped directly in his path. By the dim night, Kiely saw the face of a tough character. The assailant swung something over his shoulder and brought it down on Kiely's head as he sped past. There was a crash and Kiely and wheel were rolling in the dust. The blow was powerful enough to partially stun the rider but not render him unconscious. Kiely thinks the blow was struck with a wooden club. He struck on his face when he fell from the wheel and his face was badly cut and scraped. He bled freely from his wounds.

The highwayman grabbed at Kiely's watch fob as he lay there on the ground and wrenched it away. The ring gave way and left the watch in his pocket. Then he fled. Kiely crawled to a patrol box near by and found a policeman who gave chase to the stranger, who was not caught.

Kiely's wheel was not hurt and he managed to reach the Jersey Central station in Elizabeth, where he dressed his wounds as well as possible and spent the night, returning to Plainfield by train this morning. He is now confined to his home on Steiner place.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE.

A Small Building on Mrs. Peter Hines Property Made a Blaze.

A mysterious fire broke out this morning at 3:10 in a small barn on the property occupied by Mrs. Peter Hines on Liberty street, between Sixth and Seventh streets. About 3 o'clock Night Watchman Joseph Cooney was in that neighborhood and saw flames shoot forth from the barn. He ran to the place and released the chickens and dogs. Then he went to the corner of Fifth and Liberty streets where he pulled box 34. The apparatus arrived at the scene of the fire one minute after. The structure was quickly consumed. The firemen prevented damage to Dr. Boone's property. The loss is about $75, fully insured.

Chief Doane is not inclined to think that it was incendiary, but he is unable to account for the origin. He intends making a very thorough investigation today.

Entertaining on the Mountain Top.

Mrs. Frank Martin, of Hillside avenue, and Miss Kate Martine, of Cedarbrook farm, are entertaining a party of friends on the mountain top today, occupying Mrs. F. O. Herring's "Hilltop House." Every appointment at this popular house is perfect and frequently Mrs. Herring extends the privileges of the house to her friends. A book of registry is kept in the house and every visitor is expected to write their name, also some original thought or verse.

Out of Frying Pan Into the Fire.

Just as Edmund Brown, colored, prepared to depart from the city court this morning, Constable Rockafellow stepped up and arrested him. A warrant had been sworn out before Justice Moffett on the charge of assault and battery, brought by Wm. Goff. Brown was brought before the Justice and held in $100 bail for a hearing on Monday morning. Spencer Conway furnished the bail.

Jumped Astride the Horse.

August Fink, of Bound Brook, was in town selling produce this morning. His horse became frightened on West Second street and ran away. Fink was in the wagon and jumped from it to the horse's back, landing astride of it. He succeeded in stopping the frightened animal.

Not Yet Out of Danger.

The condition of Archie Bailey, of Manning avenue, who was injured seriously by a fall from a cherry tree, is about the same, and he is not yet out of danger. He remains in a semi-conscious condition and can only be aroused by the greatest effort.

CIVIL SERVICE RULES

The President and the Commission Consult as to Their Revision.

TO MAKE SOME CHANGES IN THEM.

Important Places May Be Placed on the Excepted List—Action Will No Doubt Be Soon Taken In the Matter.

Washington, July 10.—The president and the members of the civil service commission have had a number of conferences recently on the question of a revision of the civil service rules so as to exempt certain important places which were included in Mr. Cleveland's last extension order. A final determination, however, has not been reached, but it is altogether probable that about 300 places will be taken out of the classified service.

These will include deputy collectors of customs who are in charge of substations and deputy collectors of internal revenue who have charge of the distribution of revenue stamps. There are approximately 150 of these places in each class. It is not proposed, however, to exempt the places from examination.

Contrary to the usual course, tentative appointments will be made as needed, and the appointee will then be ordered before the civil service commission for examination to test his fitness. In case of failure to pass a perfectly satisfactory examination his name must be withdrawn and another appointment made.

It is argued that the positions which it is proposed to restore to the excepted list are of great importance and that as the stations of these officers are often far removed from that of their chief, who alone is responsible for their acts, he should have some voice in their selection.

The bonds furnished the government by collectors of customs and collectors of internal revenue cover all funds passing through the hands of agents and deputies, and it is contended that it is unjust to hold a collector responsible for the honesty of a man of whom he knows nothing. It is probable that the president will take action in the matter within the next few days.

Consul Lee's Accounting.

Washington, July 10.—United States Consul General Lee has been rendering some account to the government of his expenditures from the fund appropriated by congress for the relief of destitute American citizens in Cuba. His figures have been presented to the cabinet, and the showing was remarkable, for it appeared that of the total of $50,000 at the disposal of the consul general he had expended only $6,000, and yet had given substantial relief to every distressed American whom he could find ready to receive aid, and besides had shipped some of them back to the United States.

Locked the Watchman In a Car.

Providence, July 10.—Trainmen at work in the yard of the Narragansett Milling company at East Providence heard cries of a man coming from a box car, and on opening the door they found E. A. Sweet, the watchman for the milling company, bound hand and foot. On being released Mr. Sweet said that four masked men overpowered him and after binding him threw him into the freight car and closed the door. An examination of the company's office showed that the robbers had blown open the safe and secured $75 in money and some stamps. There is no clew to the desperadoes.

Mysterious Disease Explained.

Boston, July 10.—The mysterious disease which has recently afflicted residents of Somerville and which baffled the physicians has been explained. The victims seemed to have been afflicted by ivy poisoning, the hands and arms reddening and swelling, but as a rule they could prove they had not touched ivy. The employees of the Gypsy Moth commission say that the whole trouble comes from touching the brown tail moth, the new pest recently discovered in that vicinity. The commission is fighting the moth, and employees are killing them at the rate of 100,000 a day.

Held on Suspicion.

Lockhaven, Pa., July 10.—John Cushen, one of the men who found the body of 6-year-old Edna Crider of Haneyville, who was feloniously assaulted and then murdered, and Paul Kratzel, son of a Williamsport physician, have been placed in jail on suspicion of having murdered the child. The officers claim to have strong circumstantial evidence against the accused.

Electric Car Hits Hose Cart.

Chicago, July 10.—An electric car on the Ogden avenue line crashed into the hose cart of Company 31, causing a smash up in which four firemen and seven passengers were injured, though not fatally.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The North German Lloyd steamer Spree, which sailed from New York on June 26 and which should have arrived at Bremen July 4, reached Queenstown in tow of the British steamer Maine.

The schooner Annie L. Russell of Wilmington, Del., and the barge Schuylkill, in tow of the tug Tamaqua, were in collision off Fort Delaware. A seaman named Joseph Crampfield was drowned.

The governor of California has stated that he had decided not to take action in the matter of extending the reprieve of Theodore Durrant, whose appeal is pending before the United States supreme court.

The main storehouse of the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, located at Packerton, Pa., was destroyed by fire. The loss will be about $60,000; nearly covered by insurance. All the supplies stored in the building were practically destroyed.

During the severe storm the residence of S. E. North, four miles east of Larimore, S. D., was struck by lightning, and Mr. North, his wife and 3-year-old child were killed. The only member of the family who escaped was a 15-month-old child.

Edmund Davis, a well known lawyer doing business in Boston, committed suicide by shooting himself. He was under arrest on a charge of embezzlement and was in custody of Deputy Sheriff Samuel Capen at his home at Hyde Park, Mass.

A TALE OF SUFFERING

Fever Breaks Out on Board a Brig Soon After Leaving Port.

PILOT REFUSED TO COME ON BOARD.

Forbidden to Land on Rodriguez Island and Assistance Refused — Physician Would Not Treat the Sufferers. The Vessel Finally Wrecked.

Liverpool, July 10.—In an interview with Mrs. Andrew Christie, widow of Captain Christie of the wrecked British ship Traveler, which went on the reefs off the island of Rodrigues, in the Indian ocean, 330 miles northeast of Mauritius, on Feb. 4 last, Mrs. Christie tells a terrible story of the sufferings of the survivors.

Almost immediately after the Traveler left Java for the Delaware breakwater, the Java river fever broke out and spread rapidly. Everybody on board was more or less affected, including the Christie baby, which died and was buried at sea. Another victim leaped overboard and was drowned. On Dec. 14 the chief officer died and on Dec. 28 Captain Christie, leaving only ten men to work the ship.

Second Mate Ritch then decided to steer for Mauritius, and when the Traveler finally approached Rodrigues island only he and two seamen were able to work.

A pilot who put out from the island, on learning the state of affairs, refused to go on board and returned to the shore, where he spread the report that everybody on the Traveler had the yellow fever.

Hours passed, and no assistance came. The second mate, fearing that the Traveler would go ashore, launched a boat and took the sick survivors with him with a view of landing them.

Forbidden to Land.

The governor and inhabitants rushed down to the shore and threatened to shoot them if they landed. Mr. Ritch appealed to them, imploring them if they were Christians not to behave inhumanly. He said that his men were too weak to pull back and that if they succeeded in getting there they would probably be drowned. He asked for assistance to take the Traveler out of her dangerous position and begged for medicine.

His appeals were roughly ignored, and he was obliged to put about and go back to the vessel, which they finally reached, almost dead from exhaustion and despair. The last man had scarcely quitted the rowboat when it was swept away and lost.

No assistance came, and that night the Traveler was carried upon the reefs and wrecked.

The next morning the islanders sent a pilot and brought off Mrs. Christie, her surviving child and others, and then, with the assistance of blacks from the island, the survivors were taken to a desolate sand island in the vicinity, where they were kept for 22 days, living in huts made of leaves and with nothing but leaves to lie upon.

Physician Refused to Go on Board.

So fearful were the islanders of contact that the food for the survivors was transferred from boat to boat before it was finally left upon the beach of the sand island. Blacks were sent to cook it, but no physician came for a fortnight, and even when he did come, according to Mrs. Christie, he did not land, but examined the sick through a glass from his boat.

Meanwhile two had died, and the second mate was the only man strong enough to dig their graves. On the twenty-second day, realizing that the monsoon would soon submerge the sand island, the inhabitants moved the unfortunates to Rodrigues, where they remained two months and were well treated.

From that point they were carried to Mauritius and then proceeded homeward.

Mrs. Christie says that the behavior of the islanders is all the more inexplicable in view of the fact that they allowed a large part of the cargo of the Traveler to be saved.

Jumped From the Bridge on a Wager.

Troy, N. Y., July 10.—On a wager of $50, William Rainey of this city jumped from the toolhouse in the center of the Congress street bridge, a distance of 100 feet, into the Hudson river. Mr. Rainey said that he sustained no inconvenience from his experience other than a slight lameness in his back. He says he may decide to jump from the Brooklyn bridge shortly. Mr. Rainey weighs 200 pounds.

Died From Her Injuries.

Boston, July 10.—Mrs. Sarah Cushing, who was injured by the falling of an elevator at 3 Louisburg square, has died at the Massachusetts General hospital. The accident was caused by the breaking of a cogwheel in the elevator shaft. Mrs. John D. McCoy, who was also injured, will, it is believed, recover.

A Doctor's Discovery.

Realizing the Necessity of Iron in the Blood, He Prescribes Capsuloids in a Stubborn Case With Marked Success.

A newspaper man while talking to a local physician casually asked his opinion of Capsuloids, the new medicine, the use of which introduces an entirely new and original method of restoring natural iron or Hæmoglobin to the blood. The doctor replied: "I believe it is the true method of curing disease. Iron has ever been a strong factor in my practice. Previous to the discovery of Capsuloids the best form of iron physicians had at their command failed of its purpose because of its insoluble nature. On the other hand it discolored and ruined the teeth, rasped the stomach, and not infrequently did more harm than good. I recently had a case that illustrates this point.

"Nearly eight months ago I was called to see two girls, twins, aged fourteen, suffering with anæmia or pale blood. Their mother told me that they had been very pale for nearly two years and no medicine seemed to do any good. I tried iron medicines but all to no purpose. I read of Capsuloids and learned that they contained dissolved Hæmoglobin or natural iron extracted from the blood of healthy bullocks. This seemed to me an ideal form of iron medicine and I prescribed Capsuloids for these two girls. In one week I could see the change, in two weeks the mother was delighted, and to-day these girls are as rosy cheeked, bright-eyed and merry as any two girls in the country."

Since their discovery Capsuloids have gained world wide fame for the marvelous manner in which they have cured diseases of the most stubborn nature.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, or six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from the office of The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York City.

BLADDER TROUBLES
are inconvenient during the day and destroy rest at night. They make life a misery instead of a blessing. They affect many persons after they reach the age of 40, and are usually accompanied by a decay of vital power.
They can be
For five years I have suffered the most intense agony in my kidneys and bladder, caused by an aggravated case of gravel or stone in the bladder. The pains have been so severe that I could get no satisfying rest or sleep at night and I have often felt that it would be a great relief to die. Some time ago a friend gave me a box of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills and asked me to try them for my affliction. Before I had taken all the pills in the box, the gravel was dissolved and passed from me in fine brick dust like particles, and I am now better in health than I have been for years. In fact I am entirely cured. Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills did for me what the doctors failed to do, and not only feel very grateful to Dr. Hobbs for his remedy, but shall always recommend these wonderful pills to anyone who is afflicted with kidney or bladder trouble. Something to Depend On.
Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says, that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Old People.
Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic or alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Overseer of the Poor George Marx left yesterday for a short vacation in New England. During his absence the Industrial Home will be in charge of the matron, and the outside affairs of the department will be managed by the chairman of the city aims committee.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.

1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

STRIKE MOVEMENTS.

The Officers Are Preparing For a Sensational Move.

IT MAY BE EXPECTED VERY SOON.

Encouraging Reports Are Pouring Into the Strikers From All Points—Threats Made to Compel the Men to Return to Work.

Pittsburg, July 10.—The lines are tightening in all sections of the Pittsburg mining district, with the exception of a few localities.

The diggers in the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company are still working, but President Dolan and Secretary Warner are preparing for a move of a sensational order on that point. It was looked for yesterday, but will be made some time Saturday or Sunday. President Dolan has been at Wickhaven, strengthening his cause there, and will visit several of the river mines before he returns.

Telegrams and letters of an encouraging nature from the different pits in this district are pouring into the miners' office. One of these, written by a miner on the Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio complains that operators are influencing the boarding house keepers to issue attachments against the single men for the small amounts they owe and are also threatening the men having families with landlords' warrants and ejection if they do not return to work.

Preacher Green, the miner who was chairman of the meeting at the Forty foot cut, Snowden, Thursday, was again in the field yesterday and presided at a meeting of the Gastonville diggers at that place. Several fiery speeches were made, resulting eventually in a unanimous vote favoring the strike. In a letter to Secretary Warner, Green stated that the whistle for the men to go to work at Gastonville blew yesterday morning as usual, but not a miner from his home entered the pit. Only a few were in Thursday.

Another miner wrote Secretary Warner from the Jumbo mines, saying that only seven men were at work at that pit yesterday. From the same sources it was learned that everything was quiet and idle on Millers run. The Jumbo mine was reported to be working, and it is pretty certain that nearly one-third of the Panhandle miners of Hanna & Co. were at work yesterday. The miners' officials had no definite information from there, but claimed the pit was practically deserted.

From an operator it was learned the mines of the Washington Coal and Coke company in Stickles hollow are working full and on Thursday loaded 100 cars of coal, which went to Cleveland. This mine is on the line of the Pittsburg, McKeesport and Youghiogheny railroad and has not heretofore been considered in the Pittsburg district.

The Strike Nearly Complete.

The best information puts the present state of the strike in this district as about complete, with the exception of the pits of the New York and Cleveland company, four or five small mines and several others in the fourth pool. It seems that the officials are having more trouble in getting the miners of the Upper river section out than in any other portion of the territory. Strong efforts will be made this week by President Dolan to get all the river diggers into the movement. By his efforts the miners at Whittsett and West Newton are out.

Some of the reports from the Monongahela river district indicate that many of the miners of that section are weakening, and that some have already returned to work, with prospects of more following the same example before long. The Chamonni mine of the Tidal Coal company, the mines of the Charles Jutte company, the Samuel O'Neill mines at Fayette and the Jones mines at Monongahela were at work today. This condition of affairs is causing much excitement in the valley. A special from Fayette City says:

"Crowds of idle miners are gathering, and unless the miners of these places lay down their tools at once, it is said a march of miners, beginning at Fayette City, with a brass band leading, will be made, and every man persuaded to quit work. The miners when spoken to here in deadly earnest and will not rest until every digger comes out and joins in the strike. The serious condition of affairs in the valley has been made known to the miners' officials, and President Dolan will probably arrange for a mass meeting at Lucyville or Monongahela within the next 48 hours.

The operators claim these mines were either running full or partially yesterday: Pittsburg and Chicago Gas Coal company's mines at Gastonville and Snowden, Jumbo mine of the Pittsburg Consolidated Coal company and Columbia Gas Coal company's mines near West Newton, New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company's mines at Turtle Creek, Oakhill and Plum Creek, J. B. Corey's Duquesne mine in the Pennsylvania railroad district, Dickson's Hampton mine in the same district, Whitney & Stephenson's Manor shaft, Westmoreland Coal company's mines at Irwin Berwynd, White company's mines in the Pennsylvania railroad district and the Keystone Coal company's mines at West Greensburg. The most of these mines are reported in full operation, and the operators say the Pennsylvania railroad company alone handled 1,000 cars of coal on Thursday. The most of it, they say, went to the western market.

At the Boone mine, Cannonsburg Coal company, 75 men; 100 men at Allison mine of J. W. Cook & Son, 1,200 men at the mines of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company, a few men at Painter's Buffalo and Cincinnati mines, and the men of the O. I. C. mines of W. J. Steen, working for 60 cents. But he was sure that the Wickhaven miners would be out in the morning. He also asserted that there are not 500 of the 8,000 river miners at work.

A Crucial Time In the Strike.

The officials of the United Mine Workers, both local and national, realize that this is a crucial time in the strike movement, with the greatest interest centered in the Pittsburg district, where every effort will be made to get the men out. Much depends on their success, and in fact, it will likely be the turning point in the movement. Up to the present time not a man has quit at the mines of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company, and none are expected to join the strikers. President W. P. De Armitt says the men are perfectly satisfied with the price and the conditions.

A number of the miners who have been spoken to say they will not join in the movement, as they are satisfied with the pay they are receiving. The miners' leaders are determined, however, to bring them out and claim they will succeed.

Trouble is expected on the Wheeling division today, as it will be payday. It is estimated that fully $40,000 will be paid out in cash. An effort will be made by some of the operators and railroad officials to have the licensed saloons at Finleyville closed today, claiming that there will be rioting if the men who have money patronize these places. There are many foreigners employed at the mines, and they are considered dangerous when under the influence of liquor.

An unusual quantity of coal came in from the Fairmount region of West Virginia over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and is crowded in the Glenwood yards. Most of it will go to the lakes. The mines on the Pennsylvania railroad are running to their fullest capacity, and operators in need of coal are making heavy purchases. One operator purchased 150 carloads on Thursday from the Keystone Coal and Coke company.

The shortage of coal is severely felt by the railroads. Wholesale confiscations are the rule on all lines shipping west. Beadling Bros. say the railroad took eight loaded cars shipped by them Thursday, but by making a vigorous protest the firm got three of them back.

The movement among the operators to get a conference with the miners' leaders has not yet assumed any definite form. Colonel Rend, the Chicago operators and several others are working hard to this end. The colonel believes the controversy can be arbitrated, but the majority of the operators will not hear of the proposition.

KILLED BY DYNAMITE.

A Workman Accidentally Strikes a Cartridge With Awful Effects.

Louisville, July 10.—A special from Lexington, Ky., says: While a gang of workmen were excavating on the line of the street railway one of them struck what appeared to be a piece of pipe, but which proved to be a 64 pound dynamite cartridge. A fearful explosion followed, and five of the six negroes in the gang were blown to atoms. The other was so badly injured that he cannot recover. The dead are Joe Collins, John Washington, Sam Truby, George Rose and Will Thomas.

The police are inclined to think the dynamite was placed there by some one who had a grudge against the street car company, and others think it was left there by workmen on the Cincinnati Southern railway some years ago, when they were making excavations for that road in the same neighborhood.

Windows in the neighborhood were broken, and several buildings were slightly damaged.

A RUSSIAN EMBEZZLER.

To Be Surrendered to the Authorities of His Own Country.

Washington, July 10.—The state department has just issued a warrant for the surrender of the Russian embezzler whose doings at the New Jersey summer resorts and sensational pursuit and escape from the police aroused much interest last spring. His name is Gustav Frederick Virpi, and he was a mail carrier on the route between Ulenburg and Ostermeyra, in Finland. He made away with 3,500 marks and came to this country.

Arrested in New Jersey upon the evidence of his abused mistress, he was allowed to go free by a commissioner who erroneously held that our treaty with Russia required formal notice of the fact that the man was wanted on certain charges, to be presented through the consuls. The police undertook to arrest him again, and he led them a long chase before they secured him. Commissioner Semple in New York committed him for return to Russia.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Troy, N. Y., July 10.—George Horan, a painter, died at the Troy hospital Tuesday, and Charles A. Pixley, an inmate, charged that he had been murdered by Philip Crossen, the night watchman in the institution. The body had been interred. It was exhumed Thursday, and an autopsy was held by four leading physicians.

At the coroner's inquest several witnesses testified that Crossen, the night watchman, had strapped Horan to a cot and beaten him in the face with a strap, after which he left him there until he died Tuesday night. The inquest has been concluded, and the jury found that Horan came to his death possibly from alcoholism and that it was hastened by blows struck on the face of the deceased by Philip Crossen.

NOT A GOOD POLICY.

It was rather a strange and incredible doctrine of public policy in a presumably progressive and uptodate city like Plainfield for Councilman Barrows to give expression to the utterance that "Plainfield is a city of homes and the homes should be lighted first," referring to the granting of a petition which solely concerned the business men. Viewed in the concrete, that sentiment was an antagonistic thrust at the growth of Plainfield in a real commercial way. It has long been suspected and intimated, sometimes openly charged, that too many of the city officials have an inclination to make the city nothing but a simoupure residential city—a sleeping reservation for New York business men. That utterance of Councilman Barrows gives credence to the idea. Perhaps to those whose business affairs are centered in the great metropolis the theory may not be unpopular, but to the great mass of all the-time Plainfielders, whose energies are the real backbone of the town, it is decidedly the reverse. The Councilmen who voted for the arc lights in the business center of the city, as the merchants almost to a man urgently asked for, acted in a commendable spirit.

RUNYON'S ACUMEN.

We once more congratulate Editor Runyon for his journalistic acumen and recognition of good work of The Press reporters by sending, with but slight changes, to the New York Herald the story of the participation of women in the Washingtonville school election exclusively printed in this paper yesterday.

WESTFIELD

THE TOWNSHIP BUSINESS

WESTFILD MATTERS CONSIDERED AND DISPOSED OF.

A Lively Passage at Arms Between Mr. Harden and the Township Treasurer—Complaint Made of Kickapoos.

H. C. VanEmburgh appeared before the Westfield Township Committee at its meeting last evening and submitted drawings and specifications for the establishment of a uniform curb line on Broad street, between Elm and Prospect streets. Mr. VanEmburgh also presented a written agreement signed by all but three of the property owners, in which they agreed to make their curbs conform with the lines established by the drawings. The drawings were accepted by the committee, and an effort will be made to secure the signatures of the other three property owners, after which the work of regrading and paving the street will proceed. E. R. Collins complained to the committee that no cellar drain had been constructed to his property on Park street, although he had ordered the engineer to build the drain when the sewer was in course of construction. The superintendent of sewers was ordered to construct the drain at once. In reply to a communication from the committee asking for the sewer bench marks, Engineer Dunham sent a letter stating that the marks had been furnished the township once, but that he retained a copy of them, of which he would furnish duplicates if desired. Committeeman Harden called up Township Treasurer Morehouse to explain why he had not paid over $200 to the fire department as the committee had ordered at its meeting two weeks ago. The treasurer explained that he was waiting until the treasurer of the fire dement had furnished his bonds as required by law. Some hot words from Mr. Harden followed, and the treasurer was informed that it was his duty to obey the orders of the Township Committee in such matters. Mr. Harden's ire is said to have arisen from the fact that the money in question was needed to relieve a fireman who is ill with cancer in a New York hospital, and its being withheld has caused suffering to the sick man and his family. The Committee ordered that the money be paid over to the fire department at once. A communication was received complaining that the Kickapoo Indian Company continued its entertainments unduly late, and thereby annoyed invalids nearby. The township clerk was directed to notify the managers to conclude their performance at 10 o'clock every night. The financial report of District Clerk J. J. Coger for the year ending June 30, 1897, was received and placed on file. Formal resolutions providing for the issue of the township's sewer bonds were adopted. A communication was received from Frank Bergen concerning the rate agreed upon between the township and the Union Water Company for the water used in the sewer flush tanks. The Committee was of the opinion that the Water Company's agreement was to flush all the sewers, and as this has not yet been done, the company is not entitled to claim payment for the water already furnished. Bills to the amount of $57.50 were ordered paid, and the Committee adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening.

Mrs. J. R. Ferris is seriously ill at her home on Broad street.

Fred S. Slater, of Rahway, spent yesterday with friends in town.

Mrs. J. F. Cowperthwaite and family are summering at West Mystic, Conn.

PASSING COMMENT.

Founder Bradley is making arrangements for his pet event of the season, the annual baby parade at Asbury Park. For the last half dozen summers the exploitation of the youngsters has been the most novel happening at the seashore. Senator Bradley never lets an opportunity pass to entertain or show off Young America. This year's parade will take place early in August. Miss Ross will again assist in arranging the show.

* * * *

The seriousness of the business depression in this State is shown by the fact that it has struck the distillers of Jersey applejack, a product for which the State is famous. The revenue receipts for applejack last year were $225,000, while this year they show a decrease of $37,000. The deficit is not due to any unpopularity of the applejack, whose praises are sung everywhere, but its cause is the hard times. As a consequence the distillers have been compelled to bond their goods.

* * * *

Two drummers came to town yesterday, and attracted by the crowd that ran to the fire in the afternoon, they strolled in that direction also. While returning from the place where the fire was supposed to be, the drummers began to relate experiences of their own relating to fires. One of the commercial travellers had spent considerable time in the west and related a little story of a fire that once occurred in a Kansas town. There had not been a fire in the town for some time, and when a big fire did come, the apparatus was found to be out of order. In consequence an entire block of stores was destroyed. The loss had been a severe one and the Common Council of that place felt called upon to take some action in the matter. So a resolution was passed appointing a committee of firemen to inspect the apparatus three hours before every fire.

The Political Fight Between the "Townies" and "Roosters" Bubbles.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Editor Runyon in last night's News complains of the unreasonableness of the Common Council in not appropriating money to illuminate the business portion of the city. His scathing reference to their big donation to the Library Building Fund was most inappropriate. As the matter at that time was "turned down" until Editor Runyon appeared on the scene and his "influence" felt in the lobby during recess. Nothing was said in his paper the following day of the distressing business depression!

If the "busy" editor had only been present at Thursday night's meeting he might have scored another victory.

It is rather too early to speak disrespectfully of the Common Council. Next fall will be time enough for him to begin a campaign of extermination. The charge then will doubtless be that a more extravagant set of fellows never filled the Council chamber, and his war cry will certainly be by all appearances "turn the rascals out!"

PROPOSAL.

Office of the Board of Education

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Board of Education of the city of Plainfield, N. J., at a meeting held July 8th, 1897, notice is hereby given that the Board of Education will meet on July 22d next at the Board room, in the High School, corner of West Fifth street and Arlington avenue, in the city of Plainfield, at 8 o'clock at which time and place said Board of Education will receive sealed proposals for furnishing 500 tons, more or less, of the best coal suitable for steam and hot air heating in pea, No. 1 chestnut, stove and egg sizes, all coal to be thoroughly screened, trimmed and placed in the bins within the public school buildings, without any extra expense to the Board for such handling and to be delivered at such time as the Board may direct. Bids to specify the quality of the coal and whether long or short tons. Payment for all coal contracted for to be made after September 1st next. All proposals to be endorsed proposals for coal.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Board will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided such parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Board. By the order of Board.

CONFEDERATE MONUMENT NORTH

There was no sound of discord at the dedication at Mount Hope Cemetery near New York, of the beautiful monument to the memory of the dead soldiers of the South, which was presented to the Confederate Veteran Camp by Charles Broadway Rouss. Neither was there any sign of enmity at the reception at Lenox Lyceum. The Union and Confederate Veterans dwelt together in unity, and the friendship between the old soldiers of the South and the Grand Army men was welded in speech and prayer.

The Confederate Veteran Camp had issued invitations to several Grand Army posts, which had invited its members to camp fires, to attend the dedication. Members of U. S. Grant and Alexander Hamilton posts, the Farragut Association of Naval Veterans, the Elizabeth, N. J., Veteran Zouaves and the Judson Kilpatrick Post and the Old Guard were present at the cemetery in a body. The monument is on a beautiful site of the cemetery, and the dedication was witnessed by a large gathering, which included many members of Southern families.

The reception at the Lenox Lyceum was the main feature of the occasion. There was an elaborate display of American flags in the audience hall. Around the galleries were bunched the standards of the nation and the coat of arms of every state. Over the platform was the shield of the United States, suspended between American flags. There were roses, hydrangeas and palms on the platform.

Colonel A. G. Dickinson, commander of the Confederate Veteran Camp, welcomed the Union soldiers in a brief speech, and invited the commanders of the posts and associations to come upon the platform. The scene that followed brought tears to many eyes in the hall. There were references to the old battles and the recounting of brave deeds by veterans of both sides.—New York Herald.

SHE DISPLAYED TRUE TACT

A touching little story full of realism is told of Miss Eleanor Calhoun, who, by the way, is a direct descendant of the great John Calhoun, is a most high-bred, cultivated young woman, and, like all thoroughly refined natures, instinctively appeals to the finer qualities of every one with whom she comes in contact.

At times of great political disturbances in Paris, when revolution is in the air, a mob of wretched, fiendish creatures, who scarcely seem human at all, rise to the surface like some horrible scum, from nobody knows where, and after the agitation is over as suddenly disappear.

During one of these political upheavals Miss Calhoun was one day walking with an older lady near the Bois de Boulogne, when she was suddenly confronted by one of those wolfish demons, who demanded her money.

Miss Calhoun instantly grasped the situation, and realized that something altogether unusual must be done.

"Yes, I see that you have need of money," she said, quite gently, "but, as you see, my hands are filled with parcels. If you will just put your hand into my pocket you will find my purse."

"But, madame—madame—" replied the poor wretch, with a profound bow.

"Oh, you can find it quite easily," said Miss Calhoun; "it is just at my side. I would be glad to help you were it not for these bundles. Please take my purse and help yourself."

With another deep bow and again a muttered "Madame" the desperado reluctantly edged toward her, put his hand in her pocket, withdrew the purse, opened it, and took from it the smallest coin that it contained; then replacing the purse in her pocket, with a gesture of the most profound respect and gratitude, he shuffled away.

Corporation Notice.

Public notice is hereby given that at a special meeting of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, held on Thursday, the eighth day of July instant, an ordinance of which the following is a true copy, to wit:

AN ORDINANCE

to Provide for the Construction of an Addition to the System of Sewerage Already Constructed in the City of Plainfield.

WHEREAS, At an adjourned regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, held on the 21st day of May, in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four, a petition signed by the owners of at least three fifths in value of the real estate in said City as shown by the Assessor's books, was presented to the said Common Council, praying them to provide for and cause to be constructed a system of sewerage in the said City in the manner provided in and by a certain act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, entitled "An Act to provide for drainage and sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890:

AND WHEREAS, On said 21st day of May, A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-four, the said petition was by a unanimous vote of the said Common Council referred to the Committee on Finance for verification:

AND WHEREAS, On the fourth day of June, eighteen hundred and ninety-four, said committee reported that they had duly investigated and ascertained that said petition contained the requisite number of signatures as aforesaid, which report was then and there duly accepted by the Common Council and ordered together with the said petition spread upon the minutes of the said Common Council:

AND WHEREAS, It has appeared and does appear to the said Common Council and the said Common Council has found and determined and doth hereby find, ascertain and determine that the owners of at least three-fifths in value of the real estate in the said City as shown by the Assessor's books have petitioned said Common Council to provide for and cause to be constructed a system of sewerage for said City in the manner provided by said act:

AND WHEREAS, In the opinion of the said Common Council the public good required that a system of sewerage should be constructed in and for said city under the provisions of said act, and the said Common Council so determined and adopted "An Ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 25, 1894, and an ordinance entitled "A further ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved June 21, 1895:

AND WHEREAS, In the opinion of the Common Council the public good requires that an addition, as hereinafter described, to the system of sewerage already constructed under said ordinances should be constructed in and for said City under the provisions of said act and the Common Council has so determined and does hereby so determine; therefore,

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Common Council doth hereby direct and order that an addition to the system of sewerage already constructed under said act be constructed in and for said City under the provisions of the act of the Legislature aforesaid with all the appurtenances necessary to complete the same, and of such dimensions and meterial and according to such plan as the said Common Council may hereafter direct in and through the following described streets, avenues, property, land, and rights of way, described, mentioned and referred to in this ordinance, to wit:

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

A Tendency to Improvement Is Noticed In Most Manufacturing Branches.

New York, July 10.—Dun's Review in looking over the situation says: The analysis of failures for the half year, 6,937 in number, with liabilities amounting to $109,162,194, shows that commercial failures were smaller than last year by nearly $6,000,000, although failures of brokers and agents were larger by $1,100,000, and manufacturing failures by $2,800,000. But the manufacturing return would have been much the smallest for four years but for a few cotton failures at New Bedford, and decrease appears in most other branches. The trading failures are smaller than in the first half of the three previous years. The average of liabilities is lower in trading, and would be lower in manufacturing but for the few cotton failures, than in the first half of either previous year. In spite of a few failures attributed in court proceedings to misconduct, the tendency in most branches is toward improvement.

The strike of bituminous coal miners has taken 75,000 men or more from work, and threatens to restrict supplies of fuel in some quarters, though the West Virginia and some other mines which declined to take part claim to be able to meet the eastern demand for some months. At the west the strike is by no means unitedly sustained, and the impression prevails that it will not last long. The tin plate works have settled the wage question and are again busy and show a production of 4,500,000 boxes yearly, with a capacity of 6,250,000 boxes. The bar mills have more trouble, but a general settlement of iron and steel wages is expected without much delay.

While the most cautious estimates of wheat yield have been advanced to 575,000,000 bushels prices have been lifted nearly 3¼ cents here, although Atlantic exports, flour included, were for the week 1,503,953 bushels, against 1,418,336 last year. Western receipts are small, only 1,394,632 bushels, against 2,973,409 last year, and the disposition of farmers to hold for higher figures is strengthened by many foreign reports. It seems to be a fact that crops in other countries are less promising than usual, and the demand for American wheat is supplemented even at this season by exports of 2,605,594 bushels corn against 530,610 bushels for the same week last year. Each week raises the estimate of wheat yield, however, and if the weather continues favorable the crop may prove a most important factor in the future of national and international business. The prospect as to corn is growing more cheerful with each week, and an immense crop is now anticipated.

While imports of foreign merchandise at New York last week showed an increase of 37 per cent, against a decline in exports, these conditions are evidently temporary. Imports will shrink materially as soon as the tariff bill which was passed by the senate on Wednesday goes into effect, while exports will increase with the more liberal movement of new crops. The amount of payments through clearing houses is 9.2 per cent larger than last year and for July thus far 2 per cent larger than in 1892. Failures for the week have been 206 in the United States against 215 last year, and 30 in Canada against 39 last year.

TROY HOSPITAL SCANDAL.

Two Nurses Accused of Having Caused the Death of a Patient.

Troy, N. Y., July 10.—Serious charges against the Troy hospital are being investigated by a coroner's jury. Charles H. Pixley, who has been an inmate of the Troy hospital, complained to the coroner that George Horan had been murdered in the hospital.

Mr. Pixley said that Mr. Horan occupied a cot next to him in the hospital. During the night he became delirious, and Cornelius Finnegan, the night nurse at the hospital, and the day nurse, called Phil, had strapped Horan to the bed. They left him, and later Horan succeeded in loosening the straps and arose from his bed.

When the nurses again came into the ward, they found Horan sitting upon the edge of another cot. Finnegan, Mr. Pixley says, grabbed Horan by the throat and choked him. The day nurse then came up and brutally beat the delirious patient.

They then dragged him back to his cot, strapped his hands and feet together and bound him to the bed. They then tied a sheet over his head and left him. Horan remained in this condition until the following night at 8 o'clock, when the nurses removed the sheet and straps and found their patient dead. He was carried immediately to the deadhouse and buried on the following day.

Coroner Meredith had the body exhumed and an autopsy performed by Drs. Finder, Farse and Wheeler. They found the eyes discolored, the face badly bruised and several severe bruises about the body. The coroner then empaneled a jury, and an inquest is now in progress.

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

A Waverly Man, Whose Wife Had Left Him, Shoots Her and Himself.

Elmira, N. Y., July 10.—A special from Waverly, N. Y., says: A tragedy has occurred in this village, as a result of which H. Masterson, a resident of this village is dead and his wife is not expected to live. Masterson and his wife lived on Chemung street and have had frequent quarrels of late.

Tuesday night Mrs. Masterson became afraid of her husband and notified the police. They responded and took a revolver away from him. Since then Mrs. Masterson has kept away from her husband, being in fear of her life. Yesterday afternoon Masterson called to see her. He had been drinking. She refused to see him, but he insisted, stating that he wanted to kiss her.

At his request she opened the door of the house, whereupon Masterson drew a revolver and fired three shots, which took effect in her side, shoulder and breast. Masterson then turned the weapon upon himself and fired the remaining shots into his shoulder, breast and arm.

Illness of Playwright Gillette.

London, July 10.—Mr. William Gillette, the American playwright and actor, has been dangerously ill for more than a week and been confined to his bed most of the time. He will be compelled to retire from the stage for the present and to relinquish play writing indefinitely. As soon as he is able to be moved he will return to the United States. His health is very much broken.

COERCION TO BE TRIED

The Embassadors May Send a Fleet to Turkish Waters.

THE SULTAN APPEALS TO AUSTRIA.

He Is Advised to Submit to the Will of the European Powers—The German Emperor Also Advises Him.

London, July 10.—A dispatch from Constantinople says that the embassadors of the powers are considering the question of making a further demand upon the porte for an explicit reply to their proposals in regard to the establishment of the Greco-Turkish frontier, and it is probable that they will recommend that their respective governments recall them and organize a naval demonstration in the Bosporus. In political circles in Constantinople it is believed that unless some demonstration is made to compel the porte to yield no progress can be made in the direction of the conclusion of peace.

The Turkish squadron in the Dardanelles has been ordered to get in readiness to sail for Crete with three months' provisions.

Francis Joseph Advises the Sultan.

Vienna, July 10.—The Turkish embassador, Mahmoud Nedim Bey, having made representations to Emperor Francis Joseph in favor of the annexation of northern Thessaly to Turkey, the sultan telegraphed to the emperor appealing to the emperor for his friendship. To this message from the sultan the emperor sent the folowing reply:

"As a friend I must advise you in your own interest and that of Turkey to conclude peace forthwith upon the basis which has been unanimously proposed by the embassadors of the European powers."

Emperor William Advises Acceptance.

Berlin, July 10.—The Frankfort Zeitung has published a dispatch from Constantinople saying that Emperor William, through the German embassador there, Baron Baurma von Jeltsch, has expressed the hope that the sultan will not resist the desire of the powers for the evacuation of Thessaly by the Turkish troops.

Foul Play Suspected.

Salem, Mass., July 10.—District Attorney White has ordered an autopsy on the body of D. W. Shay, who was found dead under peculiar circumstances in the barn of L. E. Miller in the rear of the Woodbine saloon at Peabody on Wednesday night. It is learned that Shay came to Salem Wednesday morning in company with a friend and that he told several people that the purpose of his visit was to have his property transferred to his friend. His body was found in the barn that night, and no traces of the so called friend can be found, although the property was transferred Wednesday afternoon.

A Strange Conflagration.

Cleveland, July 10.—A spectacle unique for a city was furnished when a strip of land a quarter of a mile in breadth took fire and the flames hurried on to the lake. It looked exactly like a prairie fire. A tangled mass of underbrush extending along the Gordon estate from St. Clair street to the lake took fire and jeopardized the existence of an entire street of 20 houses. The fire department had to fight the flames as prairie fires are fought, by digging trenches and banking up the dirt as a protecting wall. Thousands went out to see the peculiar sight.

Afraid of Lynching.

Highland Falls, N. Y., July 10.—Edward Jones, colored, has pleaded guilty to criminally assaulting Miss Anna Terwilliger of Walden, N. Y., and has been held without bail for the grand jury. The court was held in a vacant house in an isolated part of this town. It was feared that the freely expressed threats of lynching might be carried into effect if it were known that Jones could be got at. Jones was brought here from the Newburg jail, where he has been since Wednesday. The assault was committed last Tuesday at a picnic here.

Train Breaks Apart.

Millbury, Mass., July 10.—A south bound extra freight train, No. 838, broke apart while running through the gravel pit at Saundersville, on the Consolidated road. The two divisions of the train came together with a tremendous crash on a down grade, derailing seven cars. One loaded box car was demolished. The other cars were only slightly damaged. Brakeman Bartlett of Providence was pitched from the top of a car and considerably shaken up and bruised.

Old Lady Murderously Assaulted.

Bridgeton, N. J., July 10.—Mrs. Abbie Myers, aged 70 years, was murderously assaulted by Joseph Morrison. She says he knocked her down at her home at Turkey Point, then drew a revolver and fired. She struck the weapon with her arm, thus changing the course of the bullet and saving her life. Morrison was captured and placed in jail. Mrs. Myers made affidavit that Morrison was hired to shoot her by relatives who want to get possession of her farm.

Smuggled Tobacco Seized.

New York, July 10.—Customs inspectors have seized two lots of smuggled tobacco worth altogether about $2,000. The first seizure was made at a hotel, corner of Dey and West streets, where several bales of Sumatra tobacco were found. Later 100 small packages of choice leaf tobacco were discovered hidden aboard the Red Star liner Southwark. It is believed that the tobacco was smuggled into this country by members of the crew of the steamer.

Fire Caused by Gasoline.

Portland, Me., July 10.—The house and stable of Herbert A. Harmon, at Woodfords, has been burned to the ground. The fire caught from the gasoline stove. All the furniture and the clothing of the family were destroyed, and Mr. Harmon estimates the total loss at $12,000. The property was partially insured.

Arrested on a Charge of Murder.

Bracebridge, Ont., July 10.—Frederick Stayner is under arrest here on a charge of murder, committed in Rochester. Stayner has been about Allandale and this place for about a week.

GOSSIP OF THE CYCLERS.

TEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

John Blackford, of East Fifth street, has purchased a Fowler wheel.

Harry Green, of Watchung avenue, has received a Wolff-American road racer.

Miss Lyda VanHerwerden, of South avenue, has just received a new Spalding wheel.

Miss Louise Egan and Berry Egan, of West Seventh street, have just received new Cleveland wheels.

Councilman Elliott T. Barrows, of West Eighth street, has joined the League of American Wheelmen.

Harry Lister, of the Crescent Wheelmen, will go to the Linden track, this afternoon, to ride in the races there.

George A. Horne, of Willow avenue, has decided that the Wolff American wheel is the best on the market and has ordered one as his mount for '97.

Israel Jones and E. B. Maynard rode to Princeton and back on their bicycles Thursday. Near New Market Maynard ran over a chicken and killed it.

Miss Bessie Randolph, of Park avenue, Miss Eva Benton, of West Front street, and her guest, Miss Alberta Irwin, of Brooklyn, enjoyed a wheeling trip to Boynton Beach, yesterday. They spent the day there.

If a cycler happens to be a member of the L. A. W. and he is run down by a road-hog, the L. A. W. will bring suit against the road-hog without the slightest cost to the rider. That's one of the advantages of being an L. A. W. member.

The rear tire to E. S. Peck's bicycle exploded, yesterday, at the corner of Park avenue and Second street. The noise of the explosion was quite loud and a crowd was attracted to the spot, thinking that a revolver had been fired.

Those who are thinking of spending a part of their summer in a wheeling trip will find that an L. A. W. membership is a valuable thing to have. Reduced rates at all the leading hotels throughout the country and correct road maps and books are among the advantages offered. Application blanks can be obtained at this office.

Mrs Young and Mrs. Green, accompanied by their brother. David Demarest, of Englewood, stopped at the home of their cousin, Mrs. W. W. Warnock, of North avenue, yesterday morning, on their way home from a two weeks' bicycle trip to Philadelphia, Atlantic City and other points. They made a total of over four hundred miles.

STRANDED THESPIANS.

Manager Burke Flew the Coop and Left His Performers Without Money.

R. D. Burke, who came here last week with a tent vaudeville show, is non est, and ten comedians, soubrettes and musicians are consequently left high and dry on the shoals of hard luck.

Thursday, the theatrical manager left for New York and his performers waited for his return with doleful faces. This morning H. K. Vail, of East Fourth street, received word by telegraph from Burke to store the tent, for he would be unable to come back to Plainfield. Vail had been sort of a backer for the absent Burke, and so, in company with the stranded thespians, he appeared before Justice Nash this morning and had a joint-attachment issued against the tent and paraphernalia of Burke.

Robert Mattox will assume the management of the show and next week will present two sensational melo-dramas, with Bertha Clum, of this city, in the stellar roles. Tonight the stranded performers will give a show on their own account, the profits to be divided pro rata among themselves.

—The tribe of Miantonomoh Tribe of Red Men held a regular meeting last evening and initiated one candidate.

FIGHTING FISH OF SIAM.

They Afford the Natives, Who are Inveterate Gamblers, Much Amusement.

Fighting fish are a novelty found only in Siam. The residents of that country are inveterate gamblers. They will wager their last coin on any proposition that offers a chance of winning. They will bet on wrestlers, jugglers, fighting cocks or fighting fish. These fish are found in the rivers of Siam, and when two or more of them are put in a bowl of water they begin fighting, and the conflict continues until all but one of the fish have been killed.

These fights occur on the streets in midday, and often a crowd of twenty or thirty natives surround a bowl chattering and gesticulating and making bets on the success of their favorite fish.

A writer in St. Paul's describes a fight that he witnessed at Bangkok. The fish were in a bowl partially filled with water, which was churned into a foam by their rapid movements. The water was red with blood, and as the fight progressed the tinge became deeper. Occasionally a fish would turn over several times, blood oozing from wounds all over its body, and would then turn on its back, dead. Its victorious adversary would immediately engage in a fight with another fish.

WHITTIER'S PET DOG.

He Thought the Song, Robin Adair, was a Tribute to Himself.

Many good men have not disdained to lavish their attentions upon domestic pets. The gentle cat has had many admirers. Cowper has left a circumstantial account of his hares. The ancient hermits were great lovers of animals, and the fawn of St. Giles and the robin that built in the head of St. Kariief have been remembered in their legends. Even practical Benjamin Franklin did not disdain to write an epitaph for the pet squirrel of his friend, and the instances of famous men who have loved pet dogs are well nigh countless. Whittier was one of these. On a certain occasion he was entertaining a celebrated singer. After dinner she sang the beautiful ballad of "Robin Adair." She had hardly begun before Mr. Whittier's pet dog came into the room, and, seating himself by his side, watched her as if fascinated. When she finished, he came and put his paw very gravely into her hand and licked her cheek. "Robin takes that as a tribute to himself," said Mr. Whittier, "he is also Robin Adair!" It was true. That was the dog's name, and he evidently thought he was the hero of the song. From that time he was the singer's devoted friend.

VOORHEES AND THE BLIND WOMAN.

Gave Her All His Money Because Her Voice was Full Pathos.

Senator Dan Voorhees, who died in Washington City the other day, was the most improvident and prodigal man I ever saw," said H. L. Allen of Terre Haute. Though his income was large for fifty years, yet if he had not had the most faithful friends, who watched him in the use of money as parents do a child playing with fire, I don't believe he ever would have had cash enough in his pockets or in bank to pay for a new suit of clothes when it became necessary to buy one.

"Several years ago I was delegated to accompany him on one of his famous campaign tours in Indiana. Somebody always had to go along with him to see that he didn't throw all his money away at the first stopping place. I got on very well with him until we reached Newcastle. When we got to the hotel I counted his money. He had a $50 bill, a $5 bill, and $3 in silver. A blind woman with two children was singing for alms in front of the hotel. There was wonderful pathos in her voice, that stirred the great heart of Voorhees to its depths. Our room was on the first floor, and she stationed herself squarely in front of our window. Before she had finished her first song Veerhees raised the window and dropped his $3 in silver in the outstretched hands of one of her children. I had to go to the postoffice for our mail. My absence wrecked us financially. I was gone about ten minutes. When I got back to the room Voorhees was in tears and his money was all gone. He had given both the $5 and the $50 bill to the woman, and she was singing for more—though, of course, she didn't know how much he had given her.

"I dared not take it from her, though we were strapped, except for a few dollars I had.

"'Allen,' the Senator said to me, wiping the tears away. 'God robbed that woman of her eyesight, but he gave her the sweetest and tenderest voice that ever thrilled me.'

"When I asked him what we were going to do for money his only reply was:

"'Oh, tut!'"—St. Louis Republic.

A war with the United States might be for Spain the precise way to avoid bankruptcy. She would let her whole lot of Cuban bonds drop with a dull thud, and would tell the bondholders to apply to the United States. With Cuban revenues denied her, how could she be expected to pay Cuban bonds? At one swoop Spain would thus get rid of debts amounting to from $300,000,000 to $400,000,000. There is the visible tempting reward hung up before the Spanish statesman who can induce the United States to go to war

DEFEAT FOR CRESCENTS.

EXPENSIVE ERRORS AT THE START LOST THE GAME FOR PLAINFIELD.

An Imported Scotch Plains Player Muffed too Many Balls and the Rest of the Team Seemed to Lose All Their Courage.

The boys who played base ball Saturday afternoon earned their money, for the day was a record breaker as far as the heat was concerned. Some very expensive errors at the start, aided by the rather wild pitching of McLarty, gave the visitors from the Stelton Athletic Club a lead that the Plainfield Crescents could not overcome, and although a good up-hill game was played the visitors won by a score of 11 to 7. The game was played on the grounds of the Crescents, at the corner of Richmond street and LaGrande avenue.

Aside from the first two innings, it was one of the best games that has been seen in Plainfield this season. The trouble began at first base. Corbin, the regular first baseman, was away for the day, and Frentz, of Scotch Plains, had been secured to take his place. Now, Frentz came with a big reputation, but either he can't play ball up to the standard or else he was out of practice, for he dropped balls with the greatest ease and allowed them to slide through his hands and into the crowd while the Stelton base runners chased each other around the diamond and run after run was scored. Now Frentz was not to blame for all the runs by any means, but his poor playing disheartened his team mates and they began dropping the ball also. McLarty was wild at the start, and when he did get the balls over the plate they were batted out. Symons came in from right field and occupied his old place at first, while the Scotch Plains man went into the field where he afterwards redeemed himself by making a pretty catch.

When McLarty got his usual control of the ball and the rest of the team calmed down, the score stood 9 to 0 in favor of the visitors. The Steltons played a great fielding game and their infield was particularly good. They stopped the balls and threw well while their first baseman was a tower of strength.

It was clear, good batting that enabled the Crescents to score in the last of the fourth inning. Two singles, two doubles, and a three bagger by Vroom, aided by a dropped fly by Simmens, enabled five men to across the plate amid the howls of the spectators. More good batting added a single run in the sixth and seventh innings and then the Crescents stopped their run getting. They made several attempts and would have probably scored several had not Umpire Brown called a beautiful two-base hit by Cooney a foul. The ball passed a foot inside of the third bag but the umpire did not see it and Cooney had to come back.

In the last inning a pretty double play by Vroom and Symons prevented the Steltons from scoring several more than they did. The visitors were a nice set of fellows. They coached well, ran bases well, and had several rattling batters among their number. Most of them were Rutgers' boys or from Metuchen.

The detailed score was as follows:

Off for His Vacation.

Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, preached his farewell sermon last evening, before going on his summer vacation. It was a helpful discourse and drew forth many thoughts for the congregation to remember while they went on their summer outings. He went to Stamford, Conn., where he will spend the rest of this month and August.

James Penny, of Easton, who has been visiting relatives on North avenue, returned home this morning.

A LACK OF WELL WATER

EFFECT OF THE DEMANDS MADE AT THE PUMPING STATION.

Scotch Plains People Again Conscious That Their Natural Supply is Limited—Chain on the Town Pump.

The people of Scotch Plains and Fanwood are growing anxious over the water famine that is staring them in the face. During the past two weeks water in the wells has been lowering at an alarming rate, and a number of wells are already reported dry. The old township well at Emery's hotel, which is said to have furnished water for the horses upon King George's mail coaches, has heretofore been considered an inexhaustible supply, but this, too, is showing signs of giving out, so that the hotel proprietor has ordered the handle to be chained at night to save the supply.

Until recent years such a thing as a water famine was undreamed of in the town, and its position near the mountain and the formation of geological strata beneath the soil are favorable to an unlimited water supply under ordinary conditions. Within the scope of a few years, however, some mysterious falling off in the supply has taken place.

Many wells were sunk lower in the hope of catching more water, but this device was only partially successful. There appeared to be some mysterious sapping of the underground streams by which the wells are fed. For a long time no explanation of the cause was offered by anyone, but the belief is now general that the injury to the water supply is caused by the building of the Plainfield Water Supply Company's pumping station at Netherwood. The pumps at this station take from the earth an average of 3,000,000 gallons of water per day. It supplies this city and towns along the Central railroad to Elizabeth. The general opinion is that the constant drain at the pumping station has caused a lowering of the water stratum underneath the surrounding section. A resident of Scotch Plains claims that he can tell when the pumps are started working at the Netherwood station by watching the water in his well, which, he says, will lower as much as three feet in half an hour after the pumping begins.

TWENTY-FIFTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OF MR. AND MRS. FULLER.

Celebrated by the Attendance of a Large Number of Congratulating Friends—House and Grounds Beautifully Arranged

A charming event of last Saturday evening was the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fuller, of Arlington avenue. The decorations were superb and the prevailing colors were blue and white. Potted plants were tastefully arranged about the rooms, especially attractive being the table in the dining room with the bride's cake in the center. At this table sat Mrs. George W. Rockfellow, who poured the coffee, and Mrs. L. A. Hummer, who poured tea. Mr. and Mrs. Fuller received in the parlor, where they were showered with congratulations. The beautiful and costly gifts received from friends was evidence of their highest regard and personal esteem. Music was furnished by J. R. Hewitt and D. J. Sisk. The young people enjoyed themselves in games and dancing on the lawn which was beautifully illuminated for the occasion. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Weisman, Mis Mary Seeds, Joseph Robison, Mrs. Robison, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Rockfellow, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lutkins, R. E. Coriell, Mr and Mrs. L. A. Hummer, Mr. and Mrs. E. Messersmith, Miss Hattie Messersmith, Miss E. Bainbridge, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gardner, Miss Ella Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Millard, J. H. Died in Raritan.

Miss Eliza Hyland, aged sixty years, a resident of Raritan, died at that place last Saturday. She was a sister of Mr. Hyland, of this city. The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at Raritan, and the interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery, this city, on the arrival of the 10:04 train tomorrow morning.

THE SIMPLEST OF FOOD

MENU PROVIDED FOR THE CITY INDUSTRIAL HOME.

Not a Very Great Variety But Enough to Sustain Life in Those Who Have Fallen Below Their Own Independent Efforts.

Now that the City Industrial Home has been placed in condition to accommodate the poor of the city, the Common Council has found it necessary to formulate rules and regulations for the government of the same. The City Industrial Home, or alms house, is located on the city farm, near the sewer beds. There are only two of the city poor living there now but the rest will be moved there within the next few months. In some cases now the city is paying the rent of rooms for the accommodation of people who have been compelled by the force of circumstances to the fall back on the city for support. The places will be given up and all the city poor will take possession of the house on the city farm.

While some people are not adverse to allowing the city to pay their rent in the city, they are not in favor of spending the rest of their days at the farm. The result may be a beneficient one for the city.

The whole establishment is under the immediate direction of an Overseer of the Poor and a Matron, who are responsible to the alms committee of the Common Council, and ultimately to the Council itself.

The rules of the Home state that no person, male or female, under fourteen years of age, shall be admitted as a beneficiary. Nobody is allowed to bring ardent spirits upon the premises or to use tobacco in any form there. None of the inmates are allowed to leave the place oftener than once a month and then only by permission. Friends can visit once a month on Wednesday afternoons for one hour, except in case of sickness or emergency. The Overseer and the Matron are expected to see that the occupants of the house do not lead an idle life and be given suitable labor. The care of the crops will be given to them when they are sufficient in numbers to do it.

The rules state very positively regarding the food for the inmates of the home. The portions to each person is as follows:—Bread, 5 oz.; oat meal porridge, 1 pint; meat, 5 oz.; fish, 5 oz.; beans, 5 oz.; vegetables, 12 oz.; soup, 1 ½ pints; milk, ¼ quart; suet pudding, 12 oz.; eggs, 1; butter, ½ oz.

The bill of fare as selected by the Council is as follows:

Sunday—Breakfast: Coffee, sugar, milk, bread and fried pork or ham. Dinner: Baked beans, brown bread. Supper: Tea, sugar, milk, bread, butter, pie, or ginger bread.

Monday—Breakfast: Coffee, sugar, milk, bread and baked beans. Dinner: Soup and bread, or fresh meat and potatoes. Supper: Indian hasty pudding, or bread and milk, or crackers and milk.

Tuesday—Breakfast: Coffee, sugar, milk, porridge, bread. Dinner: Boiled beef, vegetables, bread. Supper: Tea, sugar, milk, bread, butter.

Wednesday—Breakfast: Coffee, sugar, milk, fried pork, and bread. Dinner: Fresh or salt fish, or eggs, vegetables, and bread. Supper: Indian hasty pudding, or bread and milk, or crackers and milk.

Thursday—Breakfast: Coffee, sugar, milk, bread, porridge. Dinner: Boiled beef, or pork, potatoes, bread. Supper: Tea, sugar, milk, bread, butter.

Friday—Breakfast: Coffee, sugar, milk, bread, porridge. Dinner: Eggs, or salt fish, potatoes, bread. Supper: Chocolate or tea, with milk and sugar bread.

HIS BIG TOE CRUSHED.

Wheel of a Watering Cart Passed Over a Pedal Extremity.

John Keiderling, of East Fifth street, had his big toe crushed by the heavy wheel of a watering cart, Friday afternoon. Keiderling is employed as the driver of one of Pope's watering carts. He had just filled the cart from the hydrant at the corner of East Ninth street and Third place and stepped on the wheel to reach his seat. The horses started and Keiderling slipped to the ground. His foot landed in the path of the wheel, which passed over his big toe, crushing it.

Keiderling went to Dr. B. Van D. Hedges, who found it necessary to amputate the injured member at the first joint. He returned to his work Saturday, but had to have an assistant to look after the filling of the tank.

Sprained His Wrist.

Saturday afternoon while M. D. Brown, of East Fourth street, was crossing Park avenue in front of J. Hervey Doane's jewelry store, he tripped and fell on the sidewalk, spraining his wrist severely. He was assisted to his feet by a policeman after which he was able to walk home. It will be some time before he will have the use of his only hand.

WOMAN'S VOTE COUNTS

FAIR SEX HAVE A VOICE IN THE LINCOLN COMMON COUNCIL.

The Municipal Solons Formally Organized by the Appointment of Committees—Mayor's Complimentary Words.

The determination of the citizens of Lincoln to allow women an equal voice in the government of that municipality received a new impetus Saturday afternoon when the Common Council, in which two of the fair sex share the honors with men, was formally organized by the appointment of committees.

The most interesting portion of the meeting was to be the attendance of the Councilwomen, but Mrs. Oliva Hazard, the matronly member of the body, was unable to be present on account of a sudden attack of illness. She wrote a letter to Mayor Drake pledging her interest in the new movement for women's equality. Miss Emma Egel, the other member whose youth has attracted considerable attention, drove through a boiling-hot sun and a half mile of Jersey dust to be present in her official capacity. Miss Egel said that she felt somewhat out of place on account of the novelty of her position, and during the subsequent proceedings her countenance betokened that she was reasoning just why she was there. Still, Miss Egel performed the functions of her office in a becoming manner.

Mayor Drake called the meeting to order at 4 o'clock with the words that "the Common Council of Lincoln will come to order." The Mayor then proceeded to address the members and in the course of his remarks referred to the innovation of women members. He said that Lincoln, being a small place, could afford to test woman's capacity in an office-holding way where a large city could not. He was confident, however, that they would be a credit to themselves and all womankind by demonstrating their ability to successfully fill their positions.

The Mayor then proceeded to appoint the committees, in the fulfilment of which he gave his fair associates full sway on the license and marshals' committee. He remarked, as he announced this committee, that "here woman can come in and have all the say she wants to." Miss Egel smiled in a satisfied way at this remark.

After this work was finished the Mayor nominated H. C. Suydam, of this city and Bound Brook for corporation counsel. In the vote for confirmation Miss Egel's "aye" was inaudable. The Mayor seemed to consider her vote important and asked her a second time how she voted. Miss Egel responded in the affirmative and this seemed to be satisfactory, for he said, "All right, Mr. Suydam is counsel."

This completed the business of the Council and after the regular meeting day was set for the second Saturday of each month, adjournment was made.

The Mayor then "set up" ice cream and lemonade to the solons and the audience.

FUNERAL OF NATHAN J. LAING.

Final Obsequies Held Yesterday—Many Floral Tributes.

The funeral services of Nathan J. Laing were held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from his late home on Central avenue. Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, officiated. He read a number of comforting Scripture selections after which he spoke briefly concerning the uncertainty of life. His words to the bereaved ones were full of inspiration and help. During the service several vocal selections were rendered by Miss Nancy Randolph, alto, and Miss Swain, soprano.

The floral offerings were beautiful, and consisted of several set pieces, among them being one from the employes of The Daily Press and another from the Courier-News.

The attendance of relatives and friends at the service was large, including many who had known the departed for years. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery.

Increase in Church Membership.

Owing to the illness of Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, pastor of Hope chapel, the regular communion service was not held yesterday morning, but last evening instead. Rev. W. R. Richards, pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, officiated. At the service nine new members were received, six on confession and three by letter.

Joe, the Turk, Told of His Life.

Joe, the Turk, gave an interesting address at the Salvation Army meeting last night on his life and conversion and how he closed up the hole in the wall. There will be another special meeting tonight. The farewell of Adjutant and Mrs. Parsons was postponed until Tuesday night.

SAID TO BE DISORDERLY

TWO VERY FLY YOUNG WOMEN FINED IN POLICE COURT.

John Stewart Charged That Their Talk and Conduct Was Not at All Proper—Raided by Police Saturday

Police raids are not frequent events in the life of Plainfield. One was made Saturday evening by Chief Grant, Sergeant Kiely and Roundsman Flynn to arrest two young women who were complained of by one of the neighbors as acting in a disorderly manner.

There has been trouble in the vicinity of South Second street and Muhlenberg place for some time, and the police have kept an eye on the resort, ready to make arrests at the first sign of any disorderly proceedings. John Stewart lives across Second street from the house in question. Nearly a year ago he and his family had trouble with Miss Kate Bergen, one of the young women who frequent the place. Kate Bergen was arrested and the Judge suspended sentence.

Wednesday evening, just as the men were coming out of the Potter Press Works, Stewart alleges that Kate Bergen and her friend called to him from across the street but he refused to pay any attention. Then they came over and tried to call him to account for statements he was said to have made about the character of the house. He told them he would have nothing to do with them. He made a complaint against them for their language and for the character of the resort. The two young women were locked up and remained in jail until yesterday, when they were given a hearing by City Judge DeMeza.

Annie Nelson pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $5. Kate Bergen pleaded not guilty and her trial was held this morning. Although she vigorously declared that she was innocent, the Judge declared her guilty and fined her $8. He also told her to leave that house at once.

The other offender in city court was Gus Haven, from the Pennsylvania mining districts. He has been ill with a fever and went to sleep in an empty freight car where Patrolman Watson found him. The Judge gave him four minutes and fifty-nine seconds to leave town. He hustled.

A SOCIETY'S NEW LIFE.

THE CATHOLIC CLUB HOLDS AN ENTHUSIASTIC REORGANIZATION.

After Six Months of Inaction the Members Decide That They Need the Club's Advantages—Over One Hundred Members.

The Catholic Club of this city held a reorganization meeting in its hall, corner of Liberty and West Sixth streets, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. About six months ago the club practically disbanded on account of a lack interest among its members. Of late, however, the interest has revived and the former members have begun to feel the need of such advantages as the club offers. The meeting last night was the result of this feeling.

The attendance was large. George J. Tobin, as former president of the club, occupied the chair. After the preliminaries were gone through, the club elected the following officers: President, George J. Tobin; vice-president, Patrick Traynor; treasurer, Rev. Father Smyth; financial secretary, James M. Hillman; recording secretary, Morris Owens; board of governors, Andrew McCardle, B. Brady, Dr. William C. Boone, John J. Kenney for two years; John Traynor, M. J. Mack, Daniel Carthy and Patrick Kiely for one year.

After the election speeches were made by Rev. Father Murphy, M. Hillman, George J. Tobin, Andrew McCardle and others. Over 100 members paid their initiation fees and dues. The fine clubhouse will at once be put in thorough repair and many conveniences will be added for the comfort of members.

At the close of the business the club adjourned to meet again on the 19th.

A Bicycle for Best Menu.

The offer of a lady's Columbia, '97 model, free, made through Edward White, the enterprising West Front merchant, for the American Queen, the monthly magazine which is circulated in Plainfield in his interests, brought out a lively competition. The offer of a wheel was for the best menu for a family of five for a week at a cost of $10. A number of Plainfield women took part in it and sent in a copy of the menu suggested. The decision was rendered by Miss L. Brisland, editor of the American Queen. The prize of the new Columbia wheel was awarded to Mrs. Jos. A. Haynes, wife of Station Agent Haynes, of the Jersey Central Railroad, whose menu was considered the best.

DEVOUT STUDY OF BIBLE

CHRISTIANS WHO DO NOT BELIEVE IN DENOMINATIONS.

Commonly Known as Plymouth Brethern, But They Eschew the Title—Talented Speakers Talk on the Holy Scriptures.

The annual conference of Christians from all parts of the United States is now being held at the residence of Paul J. Loizeaux, on Brook avenue. Large tents are pitched on the lawn to accommodate the people in attendance. This outdoor arrangement is chiefly for the purpose of having a suitable place to hold the meeting, while one of the tents is used as a dining room.

The session opened last Thursday and will continue until next Wednesday night. The gathering assembled at the same place last year.

A portion of each day is devoted to a study of the Gospel of St. John, while lectures are given every evening, principally for Christians. The morning is devoted to Gospel talks by various members present. Yesterday afternoon William Buchanan, of Detroit, Mich., preached in the evening, while the discourse was by Paul J. Loizeaux.

The principal speakers during the week are F. W. Grant, of Plainfield, and Samuel Ridout, of Baltimore, who are specially gifted in explaining the Word. E. S. Lyman, of Montreal, Canada, and Mr. Gall, of Smith's Falls, Canada, are among the other prominent speakers. The study of the Bible is a continued one and extends through the Scriptures from the beginning to the end.

There are delegates present from New Foundland, Canada, St. Paul, Minn., Milwaukee, Philadelphia, Boston, New York and Trenton. Yesterday there were about three hundred persons present. These people who are sometimes called Plymouth Brethren. They do not count on numbers for success, but more especially on the amount of good to be derived from the study of God's Word. They deny any distinctive name and prefer to be known simply as Christians. They do not believe in denominations, yet they assert that members of churches are just as much their brothers and sisters as those of their own membership. They have a ministry, but they are not set off into bishops, laity, deacons, etc. There is a government of equality and those who are especially gifted in teaching or preaching are selected for that purpose. However, all have a part in the government of the services which are held from time to time.

Mr. Loizeaux, in speaking to a Daily Press reporter, said that the delegates present were his guests, and the meetings were not held for the purpose of attracting a large crowd, but for a devout study of the Bible.

STRICKEN IN THE PULPIT.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck Suffered an Acute Attack of Pain.

The congregation that assembled in Trinity Reformed church last night to attend the service conducted by the pastor, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., were subjected to the startling sight of seeing their Scriptural mentor suddenly stricken ill in the pulpit just as he was about to commence his evening's discourse. The ailment was serious enough to prevent the pastor from officiating any further at the service and it was necessary to dismiss the congregation.

The heat was very oppressive in the auditorium of the edifice, but Rev. Mr. Schenck did not seem to be affected particularly by the condition of the atmosphere. His ailment was an excruciating pain in his right side, from which he nearly fainted. Several of the attendants at the service hurried to the pulpit platform and aided their afflicted pastor as best they could. He was removed to his home and Dr. Long, his faithful wife and several friends and neighbors worked over him till 3 o'clock this morning before relief came.

This morning he was free from pain, but quite weak. His family physician, Dr. Probasco, pronounces the trouble as an acute attack of neuralgia of the kidneys, probably induced while sitting in a draught of air yesterday afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Schenck will be able to resume his pastoral duties tomorrow when he will meet with the consistory of the church in this city.

Taken Ill on the Train.

Mrs. Charles Frey, of 671 South Second street, was taken ill while returning on the 12 o'clock train from New York today. Dr. Tomlinson was telegraphed to, and he met the train and conveyed Mrs. Frey home in a carriage.

SOME SENATE ITEMS

The General Deficiency Bill Will Probably Be Passed.

SOME PORTIONS OF IT TO BE DEBATED

Particular Attention to Be Given to the Armor Plate Purchase Provision. Senator Harris and His Pacific Reorganization Bill.

Washington, July 12.—Beyond the fact that the general deficiency appropriation bill probably will be passed and that the senate will stand ready to take up the tariff bill at any time that a report may be brought in by the conference committee little can be predicted of the course of events in the senate during the present week. The disposition is to do little in the way of general legislation, and there is a proposition under consideration by the leaders of the two sides of the chamber to adopt the plan now in vogue in the house for sitting only every third day after the deficiency bill shall have been disposed of.

This suggestion has been made in view of the possibility of pressure to take up the matter of the appointment of a currency commission. The general impression about the senate is that the house will pass such a bill on this subject as the president may recommend, but there is no probability that the senate will take the matter up seriously. The desire is to make this intention clear by infrequent meetings.

There are, however, some matters on the executive calendar demanding attention, and there may be an effort to clear this calendar off during the week. If such should prove to be the case, there would be more or less discussion in executive session over the McCord, Warner and Goodnow nominations. The friends of the Hawaiian annexation treaty on the foreign relations committee also hope to be authorized to report a ratification resolution at their meeting next Wednesday, but it is by no means certain that the committee will be able to reach an agreement so soon.

In the general deficiency bill particular attention is being given to the provision for the purchase of armor plate at $425 per ton. This portion of the bill will be seriously antagonized and quite fiercely debated. Senator Harris of Kansas will endeavor to get up his resolution regarding the reorganization of the Union Pacific railroad during the week, but in this he will be opposed, and it is not likely to succeed.

The tariff conferees confidently expect to bring in the tariff bill by Thursday. The length of the debate on the report will depend upon how well the senate conferees may have succeeded in maintaining the integrity of the senate bill.

The Democrats and other opponents of the bill make no secret of their intention to oppose the adoption of the report if it appears that the amendments which they were instrumental in securing, putting cotton bagging, cotton ties, burlaps, paris green, etc., on the free list, have been receded from.

The senate will insist upon final adjournment as soon as the tariff is disposed of.

The house has adjourned until Thursday. Its course thereafter will depend on the condition of the tariff bill.

Senate Conferees' Session.

Washington, July 12.—The conferees on the tariff bill held a four hours' session yesterday. The anxiety to reach a complete agreement as early as possible induced them to meet on the Sabbath, and last night both the house and senate conferees appeared satisfied with the progress that had been made. Several hundred of the minor amendments have been agreed upon, many of them mere changes of phraseology, and on a large majority of these the house conferees naturally have yielded.

None of the real important problems in the bill, however, have as yet been solved. All of them have received more or less consideration, and there has been a free exchange of opinions. The temper and disposition of the senate and house conferees on these important matters have in this way been ascertained.

In several cases the conferees are very close to an agreement. Both sides, so one of the conferees said, show a commendable spirit of conciliation, and while in several instances each side seems to be holding out strongly for its contention as to rates he said there had not yet appeared on the horizon anything which portended such difficulty as would not in time be surmounted.

There is the best of reason for believing that several of the main points of contention will be compromised. This is especially believed to be true of lumber, hides and wool and possibly sugar, though on the latter the house conferees are standing particularly firm for their schedule.

On the subject of reciprocity the drift of opinion seems to be in the direction of the senate substitute, but with certain of the house provisions—that is, that the list of articles which can be used as a basis for reciprocity treaties will be broadened, but that the senate provision requiring the ratification of the treaties will be discarded.

Several of the eminent lawyers in both branches of congress question the constitutionality of the power conferred upon the president by the senate reciprocity provision. The stamp tax on bonds and stocks provided for in one of the senate amendments has not yet been accepted. The revenue afforded by it furnishes a strong argument for its acceptance in view of the heavy anticipatory importations, and there is talk of widening its scope so as not only to include a tax on actual transfers, but on all recorded sales.

This necessity of revenue also furnishes a strong argument for the restoration of the house rates on imported tobacco. It is impossible to estimate yet when a final agreement will be reached, and although various dates are given as to the length of time the bill will remain in conference, ranging from Tuesday to a week from today, one of the most influential of the conferees said last night that all estimates were necessarily pure guesswork.

He said that the decisions on the matters of transcendent importance in the bill were so interdependent that an ultimate decision on one might involve a complete agreement on others and that this final agreement might come at any time after the rest of the matters of secondary importance were out of the way.

It is likely that more than one day will be allowed for debate. The anxiety to get the bill on the statute books and the great loss of revenue involved in each 24 hours' delay, it is argued, justifies the Republican managers in declining to give more than a single day for discussion.

HORRIBLE WIFE MURDER.

A Rochester Man Kills His Wife, Who Refused to Live With Him.

Rochester, July 12.—William H. Gates has been arrested at his home in the town of Gates by Detective Lynch and Lieutenant Stetson. He was brought to this city charged with the murder of his wife, Carrie Gates, which occurred in a room in the flat at 219 North Clinton street.

When found, the man was unconscious and seemed to be under the influence of some deadly drug. Police Surgeon Cartwright was summoned to treat the man. He will recover.

Mrs. Gates roomed in the block with a woman friend. She and Gates have not lived together for several months and have not been on friendly terms.

About half an hour before the time the crime is supposed to have been committed some one was heard on the stairs, and shortly after there was a knock at the door. The woman asked who it was, and Gates replied that it was he and that he wanted to speak to his wife. Mrs. Gates opened the door and her husband pushed his way into the room and asked the woman if she would come and live with him again which she declined to do.

Gates drew a revolver and fired a shot at the woman as she turned from him. The shot struck the woman in the back opposite her heart, and death was instantaneous. Gates fired a second shot, but it did not take effect. He then replaced the revolver in his pocket and fled from the building. Susie McLaughlin, the woman in whose room the Gates woman was at the time of the murder, was in bed in the room and witnessed the whole affair.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.
1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

A MYSTERIOUS CASE

A Massachusetts Man Found Dead by the Roadside.

HIS FRIEND HELD ON SUSPICION.

They Were Said to Have Quarreled About the Wife of the Suspected Man. Who She Had Formerly Been the Other's Housekeeper.

Fall River, Mass., July 12.—Holder Alonzo Tripp, a farmer of Westport, was found dead on the New Bedford road, and Jerry Manchester, another Westport farmer, is under arrest in this city charged with his murder. Tripp lived on Fishers road, Westport, and for some time past until a week ago had as his housekeeper Sarah Reagan who was also known as Sarah Smith. About a week ago Manchester, who was infatuated with the woman, married her and took her from Tripp's house to his own, on Sanfords road.

The marriage and the removal of the woman have caused much jealousy and bad feeling between the two men, but what passed between them was known only to themselves and Mrs. Manchester. Manchester and his wife drove into Fall River, and Tripp also came to the city with his own team. The two men were drinking together in a saloon in Flint village, but nothing is known of their movements after leaving the saloon, except by the statements made by Manchester after his arrest.

About 11:30 p. m. the last car on the New Bedford and Fall River electric line, when one mile out of the city, came across Tripp's body in the road. Mrs. Manchester was sitting in the road holding the injured man's head in her lap, while her husband was standing over them. Tripp's head was covered with blood, and he was fearfully bruised. He was then dying and expired before a physician could be summoned.

The passengers on the car, while not laying hands upon Manchester, managed to detain him until Fall River officers could be notified, when he was taken into custody and brought to the city, where he was locked up.

Story of the Suspected Man.

He protested his innocence and told his story of the affair, as follows:

He said that he started first from Fall River for his home in Westport with his wife in their wagon. They stopped at a watering trough on Eastern avenue, just on the outskirts of the city, to water their horse and while there Tripp drove by alone in his wagon, also on his way home. After their horse had finished drinking they followed on after.

When they reached the point in the road where Tripp's body was found later, their horse shied, but he thought little about it and kept on to the Sanfords road, where they overtook Tripp's team, but the driver of the latter was not in sight. Manchester says he then associated the shying of his horse with the fact that Tripp was missing, and knowing the latter had been drinking and fearing that some accident had befallen the latter he got into Tripp's wagon, turned the horse around and, telling his wife to follow in his own wagon drove back to the place where he found Tripp lying in the middle of the road bruised and bleeding.

An autopsy held by Medical Examiner Dolan and other physicians revealed the fact that death was caused by fractures of the skull. There were several fractures and many cuts and bruises, indicating that some blunt instrument had been used upon him. It is believed by the police that the men met and quarreled about the woman and that Tripp was kicked to death.

The woman made but few statements, among them one to the effect that "both these men were crazy about me, but I had no hand in this."

She was covered with blood, there were blood stains on the prisoner's clothes, and traces of blood were found in both wagons.

Won't Be Minister to Bolivia.

Denver, July 12.—Major Z. K. Pangborn, the veteran newspaper editor of Jersey City, who is in Denver en route home after a visit of several months on the Pacific coast, has received a telegram from the administration at Washington proffering him the position of minister to Bolivia. Although the major will not discuss his intentions, it is understood he will decline the appointment. His friends say he might accept a position of equal importance in one of the European countries, but at the age of 65 he is not contemplating long journeys to countries in South America.

Lithographers Meet.

Cincinnati, July 12.—The National Lithographers' association are here in their fourth biennial session, which will continue five days. Forty delegates will be present, representing Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Rochester Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukee St. Louis, Denver, San Francisco, Louisville and Cincinnati. Next Thursday night will be devoted to a reception and banquet.

Run Over by an Electric Car.

Hartford, July 12.—H. Lewis Cowles of East Hartford was run over by an electric car of the Farmington line a Electric park, six miles from here. He was asleep, with one foot on the track and the car passing over it, cut off the foot. He was brought to the hospital in this city and the limb amputated. His condition is critical.

To Subdue Egypt.

London, July 12.—It is announced that the Anglo-Egyptian expedition is to be increased by 10,000 men. The column will capture Omdurman and reoccupy Darfur, Kordofan, Sennaar, Bahr el Ghazal and other places. A portion of the forces will advance along the Khartum side of the Nile.

Japan Won't Adopt Offensive Measures.

London, July 12.—The Berlin correspondent of The Daily Mail says, "The Japanese minister here assures me that the idea of the adoption by Japan of offensive measures against the American annexation of Hawaii is absurd."

Steamer Crushed by Ice.

Victoria, B. C., July 12.—A. E. Carr of Seattle, who has arrived from Alaska, reports the wreck of the Alaska Commercial company's steamer Arctic, crushed by ice.

THE WAGE STRUGGLE

Beginning of the Second Week of the Great Strike.

THOUSANDS OF MINERS ARE IDLE.

There Are, However, a Large Number at Work In the West Virginia Fields. Strong Efforts to Be Made to Have Them Join.

Pittsburg, July 12.—Today marks the beginning of the second week of the coal miners' strike, and already it gives promise of being one of the greatest wage struggles in the history of this country. Nine days ago the coal operators in this district and the miners themselves little dreamed that within one short week such an area of general suspension could be wrought as now exists in the bituminous mining industry. Then the mouths of the coal tipples that dot the Monongahela, Youghiogheny, Alleghany and Peter's Creek valleys and the valleys of Tom's and Miller's run were open and turning out thousands and thousands of tons of the best coal that enters into the competitive markets of the world. Now all is changed. The vast caverns are like so many graveyards. On the hillsides, basking in the shade, there is an army of 18,000 unemployed, who are anxiously waiting for more to join the troops of idlers. On nearly every railroad track leading to the mines there stand empty cars, apparently anxious to be loaded that their burdens may be carried to the ports along the lakes.

The success that has attended the movement has greatly elated the miners, and during the next few days every effort will be made to bring out the men in the few mines that are still working. This will be a difficult task, but they express confidence in their ability to make the suspension complete before the week is 48 hours old.

Operators In No Hurry to Settle.

From the best information obtainable the Pittsburg operators are in no hurry to have the difficulty adjusted, because many of them had stock on railroad sidings which they held for an advance. Much of this was disposed of Saturday at a good profit. One prominent operator said that it would take another week to determine the exact state of the market, and by that time a general cleaning up will have taken place. All interested will be ready to begin business on a new basis and probably at a higher price.

"This whole thing will result in a compromise," said another prominent operator. "The operators are in a position to stand it for some time, and I believe the miners are in about the same condition. It looks as if business will brighten up, and in that event the operators will be able to get better prices, and the condition of business and the condition of the miner will be simultaneously improved."

Just now the greatest obstacle in the way of success of the miner is the activity of the diggers in the West Virginia fields. They are working night and day and are getting ready to supply all the coal that is needed. They are repeating what they did three years ago, when a general suspension was declared. At that time there were a number of operators in the mountain state that were on the verge of bankruptcy. The general suspension was declared, and there came a great demand for coal at prices that insured a big profit. The operators rallied around them a large number of men, whose friendship and support they have encouraged ever since.

The operators profited by thousands and thousands of dollars. When the season had finished and the strike was declared a failure, they balanced their books and found things on the proper side of their ledgers. They realized that they owed much of their profit to their miners and rewarded them for it. On every succeeding payday the faithful miners were paid bonuses in the shape of goldpieces, and naturally the best of feeling prevailed among the employees.

Organizers to Go to West Virginia.

This is the condition of affairs the organizers that will go into the West Virginia district this week will have to encounter. It is argued by the miners that there are more men out in that section than there were three years ago, and they express the greatest confidence in bringing them out if they can get their ears. This failing, the railroad organizations will be appealed to. This plan of campaign has been outlined by the national officers, and the developments of the week will be watched with interest.

The miners' officials say that the success of the movement depends on the action of the West Virginia miners. They argue that many men in the Pittsburg district who are not affiliated with their organization sacrificed thousands of dollars and joined it. They will tell the Mountain State diggers of the success in this district and make every effort to have them join. There are a number of operators in the Pittsburg district who have expressed a willingness to pay the price demanded. But the miners have said nay. They will insist that a majority of the operators in the district pay the 69 cent rate or none. This is the ultimatum of the national officials, from which there is no appeal. It is known that some of the miners' officials would be glad to let all the operators paying the 69 cent rate operate their mines, but cannot, owing to the decision of the national officials, who desire to have all the surplus coal taken from the market.

Destitution Among Tennessee Miners.

Chattanooga, July 12.—A special to The Times from Jellico says there is great destitution among the miners in that region, many of them having large families and not knowing where the next meal is coming from. Some of the miners have gardens, and they have been able to make the truck raised on these do them for the absolute necessities of life. Relief committees recently sent abroad to get help have returned and reported that they had met with poor success.

Committees are to be sent to the east Tennessee districts in the hope that aid may be obtained there. The miners and operators have had no meetings since May, and there does not seem to be the slightest prospect for an amicable adjustment of the wage question.

The men at these mines have had little work for nearly two years, and as a consequence they have nothing laid up for a rainy day.

DEMOCRATIC CONFERENCE.

Col. Price and the Democratic State Committee will meet at Asbury Park during the present month and map out a plan of campaign for the coming election. A strong effort is to be made to elect a majority of the members of the lower branch of the Legislature. Should they be successful in this, and also elect three or four Senators, the outlook for the Gubernatorial election in the following November would be rather encouraging.

A DELICATE QUESTION.

Under New Jersey's new marriage license law, a non-resident applicant for matrimonial honors is required to swear that he knows his prospective partner. Some folks are married for years before they can answer that question truthfully in the affirmative. —Tribune.

PASSING COMMENT.

Now that the hot season is here, the water company is much annoyed by what it terms the reckless waste of water by consumers. It is a fact that the machinery at the Netherwood pumping station was taxed to its utmost last week to keep up the supply. Some idea of the great strain placed upon the pumps can be formed when it is considered that the amount of water forced into the standpipipe every twenty four hours has been something over 3,000,000 gallons. The greatest waste of water is caused by the use of lawn sprinklers, which are generally kept in operation from sunrise till sunset on very hot days, although the company's rules permit their use only from six until nine o'clock in the morning and from four until seven in the evening.

* * * *

The idea of a policeman in short pants would quite startle the sober individuals of a decade ago when the members of that branch of the city machinery were supposed to wear very uncomfortable uniforms because their predecessors had to do so. As the bicycle has revolutionized the wearing apparel of the modern business man, so has it changed the uniform of the policeman. A mounted policeman, that is, mounted on horseback, is not very new, but the "bicycle cop" who can run down the fastest of scorchers is an up-to-date institution. It has been the custom to have the "bicycle cop" wear his regular uniform and brown canvas leggins, but last Saturday Roundsmen Frederickson and Flynn appeared in a uniform that was very neat in appearance and just the thing for wheeling. They wore short bicycle pants of the regulation blue cloth and their regular sack uniform coat. In place of the leggins were black stockings. They wore the regular helmets. A light cap of blue, similar to that worn by the Chief or Sergeant, would have made the rig complete. Frederickson is no easy thing to loose on the road as several riders have found out. He has lots of strength and any quantity of endurance and has several times pursued offenders and brought them to justice by the speedy use of his wheel. Flynn has not figured in as many pursuits as the other Roundsman but his excellent physique gives the promise of a speedy "bicycle cop."

The Wallace Circus.

Everything about the Great Wallace Shows is absolutely new this season. The broad acres of swelling canvas from cook tent and stables to big top are white as the driven snow, the wagons, animal dens, chariots and tableau cars are glowing examples of the decorator's art, while the trappings of the horses and the rich costumes of the performers fairly scintilate in the rays of sunshine or in the brilliantly lighted arena at night. This condition of affairs naturally greatly enhances the effectiveness of the show and unbounded admiration of the superb equipment is heard wherever seen. The huge trains upon which this big aggregation travels are also first-class in every particular, and it is claimed that no other circus in America is so completely fitted out as the Great Wallace Shows which will exhibit at Plainfield, Wednesday, July 14th.

THE EX-QUEEN OF HAWAII.

She Possesses a Gracious Manner and a Very Musical Voice.

The person entering Liliuokalani's presence with any preconceived idea of a swarthy and savage island queen finds himself tremendously mistaken. There rises to greet him, with a slow and singular grace which is itself majesty, a woman of medium height, the outlines of whose figure are only suggested under the gown, which is frequently the adaptation of the flowing island robe to our "princesse" form. This gown is perhaps of black velvet with vertical lines of jet, a long scarf of fine black thread lace crossing the shoulders and tied loosely half way to the knees, the only ornament a Masonic jewel once conferred upon her. On another day the dress will be all of white, and equally beautiful. The straight black hair is dressed fashionably, crowned with a small gold comb. She uses a quaint fan made of the wings of some island bird. The Queen offers you her hand, which is very small, beautifully shaped, the brown tint contrasting with the diamonds that glitter on it, and in a voice like music, low and clear, but penetrating, the sweetest voice I ever heard from a woman, she asks you to be seated. The face that looks at you with a calm, confident air, is very pleasing, dark, with irregular features, its expression eminently sweet, the smile most lovely, and the large, liquid eyes, at once soft and brilliant, are very beautiful. She addresses you in perfect English, and her conversation is interesting and entertaining, but it does not touch upon personal matters nor upon affairs of state.

If Victoria, with her lesser stature, is always the Queen, Liliuokalani, much taller, with an exceedingly stately carriage of the head, is never less than the Queen, while her manner is most gracious and gentle. If one saw her in royal robes, or in a long, white cymar, with a golden circlet on her head, she would hardly seem more queenly than she does in her simple Paris gown. "Who is that very royal-looking lady?" asked a stranger on the train in which she came to Washington. And indeed there are few, if any, women on thrones today who are as entirely royal in descent as Liliuokalani is; she has in her veins no other blood than the blood of kings.—Harriet Prescott Spofford.

Piano Prices.

Other things being equal, the price is the clinching argument in buying a Piano. When you are satisfied as to the equal quality of any two pianos, the question of cost becomes paramount.

Our prices are lower than anybody's else in the State; we sell Pianos at Twenty-five to One Hundred Dollars cheaper than our competitors. We are able to do this because we sell five times as many as any one of them. It's easy to satisfy yourself; make comparisons. Don't come to buy until you're quite sure that what we say is true.

ROBBED THE CLUBHOUSE

BURGLARS THEN VISITED THE RESIDENCE OF S. W. REESE.

Nine Dollars Was Taken From the Club House Last Friday—Westfield Scores Another Victory at Baseball Game.

The burglars who caused a reign of terror in Westfield some time ago have again commenced operations in the town. The Westfield Club House was broken into on Friday night and $9 in cash was taken from a drawer in the cashier's desk. Early yesterday morning the burglars attempted to enter the residence of Samuel W. Reese, corner of Elm street and Kimball avenue. A member of the family was awakened about 1:30 o'clock by the noise of someone attempting to open a kitchen window. Mr. Reese, one of his sons and William Kelly, whose wife is employed as a domestic in the house, went out of the front door, and around the house in the hope of capturing the burglars by a flank movement. The fellows heard their approach, however, and escaped over the fence at the rear of the lot. An investigation showed that the burglars had tampered with the lock of the kitchen door and had then removed the putty from two panes of glass in one of the windows, with the intention of lifting them out and raising the sash. The family of Mr. Cook, opposite, were awakened and caught sight the thieves as they made off. George H. Embree who lives nearby also saw the two men run down Kimball avenue past his house. No clue to their identity has been discovered.

The Foresters will hold a meeting tonight.

Charles D. Reese is spending a week at Asbury Park.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Simpson are summering in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Alpers, of Kimball avenue, are spending the summer in Mystic, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. David Davis, of Mountain avenue, entertained a number of friends from New York city yesterday.

An interesting praise service, led by Rev. Vinton Salter, of Maplewood, was held at the fresh air camp, yesterday afternoon.

D. D. G. M. Stamets and staff will go to Whitehouse this evening to install officers of Whitehouse Lodge, No. 207, I. O. O. F.

Repairs are to be made at once upon Grace church, and it is expected that the congregation of St. Paul's will be able to hold services in the building on August 1st.

Thomas Jefferson, colored, drank heavily, beat his wife and acted in a generally disorderly manner on Saturday night. He was arrested and this morning Justice Collins fined him $5 with the alternative of spending ten days in jail. Jefferson paid his fine and was released.

John Todd, the 15-year-old son of Fred Todd, of North Broad street, climbed into a tall tree to get a good view of the Kiekapoo Indian show on Saturday night. The branch upon which he was perched suddenly gave way and the boy fell twenty feet to the ground, breaking his right arm. He was taken home and a physician set the fractured bone. No other injuries were sustained.

The Westfield Club baseball team won a game from the Manhattan Field Club, on the North Broad street grounds Saturday afternoon. The score was 13 to 10. The visitors were in fine form and played an excellent game, keeping the large crowd of spectators guessing as to the final result. All of Westfield's runs were made in two innings—seven in the third, and six in the eighth. The Manhattans played a strong, even game, but they were no match for the home team. Nine of their men were struck out by Higgins, Westfield's pitcher.

The township officials have passed an ordinance regulating the riding of bicycles. It is modeled after the State law, and is therefore similar to the regulations of other places.

A man whose name could not be learned came from Plainfield last evening in a light road wagon to which he had a donkey tied. Somewhere on the road the animal got loose and disappeared, and the owner did not discover his loss until reaching Scotch Plains. He spent some time searching for the animal, but no trace of its whereabouts could be found. An examination of the rope showed that it had been severed with a knife. The anima was either stolen or its owner is the victim of a practical joke.

ESTABLISHED 1891.

to regulate the use of bicycles, tricycles and similar vehicles and other road vehicles in the public roads, streets and highways of the Township of Fanwood.

The Inhabitants of the Township of Fanwood by their Township Committee do enact as follows:

Section 1. That all bicycles, tricycles and similar vehicles when in use on the public highways, streets or roads within the Township of Fanwood are hereafter required to have a lamp of such illuminating power as to be plainly seen one hundred yards, attached thereto, and kept lighted between one hour after sunset and sunrise.

Section 2. That all bicycles tricycles and similar vehicles sha l carry a suitable bell attached to the handle bar of the machine which when rung may be heard 100 feet distant. That such bell shall be sounded as an alarm by the rider of such vehicle upon approaching another vehicle from the rear, or upon approaching pedestrians crossing the street, or upon the approach of another vehicle on the same street or on a street intersecting the street, road or highway ridden upon.

Section 3. That no person shall ride upon any bicycle, tricycle or similar machine upon any sidewalk within the limits of the township of Fanwood, providing that the term sidewalk as used in this ordinance shall be construed to mean such sidewalk only concerning which the inhabitants of the township of Fanwood have power to pass ordinances under and by virtue of paragraph V, section 1 of chapter 8 of the Public Laws of 1896, and provided, further that this section shall not apply to the riding of any bicycle, tricycle, or similar machine upon any sidewalk when necessary to ri de upon said sidewalk in passing to or from private premises to or from the roadbed of any street, road or highway.

Section 4. That no person shall ride upon any bicycle, tricycle or similiar vehicle or other road vehicle in any public road, street or highway of the township of Fanwood at a greater speed than the rate of twelve miles per hour.

Section 5. That every violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall render the offender subject to a fine not exceeding the sum of five dollars for each offence, and that the justice of the peace or other magistrate who may have jurisdiction over such offences in violation of this ordinance may impose such fine in his discretion as he may think proper not exceeding the sum of five dollars for each offence.

UNIVERSITY IS POOR.

CHICAGO'S EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION NEEDS MORE MONEY.

John D. Rockefeller, the Founder, Will Have to Put Up Ten Millions or So More —Now Running Behind at the Rate of $250,000 a Year.

The University of Chicago, founded by John Rockefeller, needs money, and has been running behind at the rate of $250,000 a year in the matter of expenses.

This discouraged President William R. Harper, and he threatened to resign, for he found he could not fully establish the University on the lines laid down. This threatened resignation promises to have lasting effects on Western educational methods and scope, and, incidentally, to make the University of Chicago one of the richest institutions in the world. Millions will be poured into its coffers by the man who has already given $8,000,000 to the institutnon.

Dr. Harper has frequently asserted that he would not be satisfied with less than a $20,000,000 endowment, and with that idea in mind he proceeded to lay the foundations for the university. After a struggle of more than five years President Harper is ready to admit that he has failed in running an institution on $500,000 a year that was originally planned for a budget of $1,200,000.

He made most earnest appeals for a larger endowment at every convocation of the university, but the friends of the university took the matter lightly. Nobody took the Doctor seriously when he asserted that the institution was hampered for funds, and that its progress was being retarded. The President made frequent trips to the East, and rumor had it that he paid a visit to Mr. Rockefeller each time. He also paid visits to George M. Pullman, Marshall Field and Potter Palmer, in Chicago, but no increased endowment list of the university was noticed.

Then an order came for retrenchment at the university, and this part of the programme was carried out. Even this did not suffice. Times became harder, and students were unable to pay their tuition fees, and this alone made a deficit of $43,000 last year. Investment proved unprofitable, and the general hard times made matters worse. The budget called for nearly $700,000, and the income for the last year was a little more than $400,000. This disgusted Dr. Harper, and he gave notice that it would be futile for him to try to conduct the university on the lines originally laid down. The announcement came as a thunderbolt to his friends, and they lost no time in communicating the fact to Mr. Rockefeller. Then F. T. Gates, Mr. Rockefeller's private secretary appeared, and the visit brought sunshine to the institution. The message was simple and to the point, a characteristic of the millionaire. In substance, it was that if Dr. Harper would reconsider his determination the University of Chicago would not in the future be hampered for funds.

The institution that now starts out on a new era is already one of the largest endowed universities in the world. John D. Rockefeller has given it about $8,000,000, and other gifts make the total about $18,000,000. In spite of the large sums of money donated to the university, it has been unable to respond to the continued demands. The ambition of President Harper is boundless, and he has deemed nothing impossible for consummation.

Some of the endowments are nonproductive, owing to conditions imposed by the donors, and the university actually pays five per cent interest on the cost of a building that serves for one of the undergraduate dormitories. To make good the promise of Mr. Rockefeller to carry out the ideas of President Harper, the millionaire of Tarrytown virtually pledges himself to further contribute not less than $10,000,000.

Thought Himself to Death.

The peculiar case of a man thinking himself to death came under the notice of a Coroner's jury recently. A Dr. Richardson sustained injuries by a fall from his bicycle a short time ago, but none of a serious nature, so far as could be determined. Under the care of a brother physician he was progressing favorably, and seemed on the way to a speedy recovery. But a few days later he said to the doctor: "I know I am going to die of tetanus next Sunday" (just a week after). As there was no indication of that disease there was no attempt to disabuse his mind of the idea, but he insisted on being treated with antitoxin. On the following Thursday tetanus had developed, and on Sunday Dr. Richardson died from the effects of this terrible disease. Probably there never was a clearer instance of the disease-producing power of imagination than this.—Chicago Times-Herald.

THE NIGHTINGALE.

The Bird is Not Shy, and Its Song is Not Chiefly Reserved for the Night.

The nightinggale does not sing everywhere, yet it is as great a mistake to consider the bird shy as to imagine its song is chiefly reserved for the night. He will sing continually from one of the oaks bordering the wayside while the village folks pass and repass. The village couples may rest upon the footstile or linger to listen beneath the very tree on which the bird is stationed. Still the full burden of melody goes on unchecked, without pause or intermission. And what a glorious outburst it is! What a perfect cascade of trills and shakes and semi-quavers. Suddenly it is pierced by a single note that shivers in the ear with the sharpness of a fife.. Immediately after comes the wondrous water bubble, to be followed by a delicious warble, long drawn out and soft as could be breathed from the richest flute. Another prolonged trill, and then a far-off sound that almost seems to come from another songster half a mile away, serves to throw into relief the passionate tremulo issuing from the same tiny throat; and all the time the wings are quivering with excitement, and the whole coppice seems to vibrate. The song is, indeed, a whole orchestra of bird music. Expressive if every shade of ecstacy, we are at times startled by a succession of deep, plaintive tones that thrill like sobs. No wonder the nightingale's singing season is brief—six weeks only of the entire year. Nay, it is doubtful whether any individual bird sings for so long a period. The redwing, another fine singer, is a similar instance of the limited period of song. Its voice in this country is confined to two notes, and these by no means musical. Yet the redwing is the nightingale of Norway, to which land he returns for breeding purposes each succeeding April. So with our nightingale. From the day the eggs are hatched he becomes gradually silent, until of the marvellous voice that stirred a mile of woodland, naught is heard save a dismal croak, hardly to be distinguished from the coarse cry of the bullfrog.—St. James Gazette.

LIKE THE SIAMESE TWINS.

Two Little Girls That are Bound by a Similar Tie.

A new pair of twins rivalling the Siamese twins which Barnum made famous a generation ago, has been discovered. They are known as the Orissa twins, and are joined to each other in a manner resembling the ties uniting Chang and Eng.

As objects of popular interest they are infinitely more attractive than the Siamese twins ever were. Chang and Eng were males, ugly enough to stop clocks, rather sullen in temper, and generally looking an unspoken kick against the created order of things. But these charming little girls seem to find existence all a summer day, full of delight. They were born in the most poverty-stricken, down-trodden and hopelessly miserable class of India—the pariahs. Orthodox Brahmins affect to prove out of the Vedas that neither women nor pariahs have souls, and that it is unlawful for this wretched caste—whose touch is contamination—to even listen to the reading of the sacred law.

They were born on September 19, 1889, in the hamlet of No-ah-parra, in the province of Orissa, British India. Their father was an ignorant man, who knew nothing of the market value of the freaks, and so superstitious that he saw a manifestation of the evil one in everything out of the common run of his experiences, in which he was by no means unique, some very good people, even in more enlightened lands, being of that way of thinking. He began cutting the infants apart, as a scar upon their ligament still evidences, but was stayed by his neighbors, and the little ones became a source of revenue to the priests of the Brahminical Temple of Jagernath, at Poree, who made an exhibition of them.—Chicago Times Herald.

A LIVING KITE.

Experiment to Determine the Effect of Wind Upon a Soaring Machine.

In France a living kite has been seen in which a man formed a part. It was in the course of a series of experiments to determine the effect of wind upon a soaring machine. A gigantic kite had been made, on the face of which a man stood, his feet wide apart, and resting upon braces for the purpose, while with his hands he clasped two straps. The kite was twenty feet high and made of cloth. The first attempt to fly it was made on an exposed section of the coast, where the wind blew in over a lake. A large parachute was attached to the frame of the kite, to which the man was supposed to cling in case of a fall. Everything being ready, the kite was braced against the wind the man took his place, and fifty men ran against the wind with the rope, many more holding the tail. The wind caught the enormous surface, and amid loud cheers from the spectators, the man rose ten feet from the surface and there remained, held by the men at the tail. Slowly the latter released the rope, and gradually the kite rose, proving beyond question that a man could ascend in this fashion. It was such a hazardous and uncertain experiment that a very high flight was not attempted.—New York Sun.

Her Modesty.

Bosworth—Mrs. Darnley is a woman who seems to have good sense. At that affair the other night she and I were talking about the women who wore low-necked dresses. She said she thought it was one of the most immodest fads that had ever been taken up.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

INDIAN DANCES.

Teachers on New Mexican Reservation Insulted During Their Progress.

Washington, July 12.—The army officer in charge of the Pueblo and Jicarilla Indian agency in New Mexico has submitted a very vigorous report on the dances carried on by the tribe and has asked for instructions looking to giving the teachers on the reservation security from insults from the Indians in the future.

He says he has just finished an inspection of the day schools about the agency and found many teachers complaining that on account of the dance in the Pueblo they were either locked in the rooms and compelled to remain there until the festivities were over or were driven out of the village entirely and not allowed to come back until the expiration of a given period of time.

The teacher at San Felipe was evicted and driven across the Rio Grande, and numerous other complaints were investigated. During the feast weeks, the report says, the state of affairs complained of existed for days, all occupations of every description giving place to it.

All the outrages committed, it is asserted, originated in the dance. "This whole question, in all its damnable ramifications," the agent insists, "will have to be settled sooner or later. The government cannot go on appropriating millions of dollars annually for the civilization of the Indians when these plague spots exist and thrive on its bounty."

ACCIDENTAL DEATHS.

Two From Drowning and One by Poison Taken by Mistake.

Trenton, July 12.—Trenton had three deaths as a result of three different accidents. Two of the deaths were from drowning and one was from an overdose of laudanum. Francis Collins, aged 5, was found drowned in the Delaware and Raritan canal. He had been missing from home for several days and is supposed to have fallen in the water.

Andrew Doothar, aged 9, was also drowned in the Delaware and Raritan canal. He was sitting on the bank watching some boys swimming when he slipped and sank to the bottom. It was nearly an hour before his body was recovered.

The third death was that of Benjamin Godshalk, aged 50. Godshalk was a printer, who worked nights, and on account of the heat was unable to sleep. He took a dose of laudanum to induce sleep and took too much. The doctors labored with him for several hours, but were unable to resuscitate him.

For a Great Inland Harbor.

Chicago, July 12.—Chicago and New York capitalists have organized to construct a great inland harbor in the heart of the Calumet region, 12 miles south of Chicago. The expenditure of private capital will be $6,000,000. The harbor will be adapted to the deepest draft navigation. The enterprise will give employment to 2,000 men. Under the present plans work will be formally begun in October. Completion is expected within two or three years. It is intended to deepen Wolf river, Wolf lake, Lake George and the Calumet river and connect them by a system of canals.

National Hay Association.

Canajoharie, N. Y., July 12.—A call for the fourth annual meeting of the National Hay association at the Monongahela House, Pittsburg, on Aug. 10, has been announced. The crop in the states being much larger, with probable lighter imports during the past few years, gives new impetus to the trade. Delegates will be present from all parts of the United States, and business pertaining to the hay trade will be fully discussed during the three days' session.

Prominent Railroad Man Dead.

Pittsburg, July 12.—John E. Davidson, third vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, controlling and operating the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, died at the Hotel Lincoln in this city from the effects of an operation performed last Thursday for appendicitis. The deceased was 59 years of age and had been connected with the Pennsylvania system for more than 30 years. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Customs Inspector Dies Suddenly.

New York, July 12.—United States Customs Inspector Charles Diamond of 136 Third avenue, while at breakfast in Stewart's restaurant on Third avenue, fell unconscious from his chair. He was hurried in an ambulance to Bellevue hospital, where he died in the reception room. Apoplexy was probably the cause of death. The dead man's brother is a sergeant on the police force here.

Accident to Emperor William.

Odde, Norway, July 12.—Emperor William, while walking upon the deck of his yacht at this place yesterday as one of the masts was being lowered, was struck a violent blow on the left eye by a rope, causing an extravasation of blood on the eyeball. A bandage was immediately placed over the injured eye, and the pain ceased almost at once.

Large Mills Burned.

Berlin, N. H., July 12.—A fire which originated from a hot box completely destroyed the large saw and grist mills and their contents, connected with the immense plant of the Berlin Mills company early this morning, entailing a loss of fully $100,000. The mills will be rebuilt. Five hundred men are thrown out of employment.

Severe Hailstorm In Ohio.

Massillon, O., July 12.—A severe storm visited this section Saturday evening. Hail as large as walnuts fell, and in some places the ground was covered to a depth of eight inches. Corn and vegetables were almost ruined. After the storm farmers brought buckets full of hail to town for exhibition.

JESSE HOYT'S ESTATE

A Decree Signed In the Case Settles a Legal Point.

THE LITIGATION LONG AND COSTLY.

Has Been In the Courts Since 1882 and Has Cost the Litigants Almost $1,000,000 - Brilliant Talent Engaged on Both Sides.

New York, July 12.—A decree has just been signed as to the estate of Jesse Hoyt which establishes the law as to whether premiums paid on the purchase of bonds or securities by the trustees of an estate are to be charged to the income produced by such investments and therefore borne by the person entitled to the income or whether the persons entitled to the remainder of such investments, upon the death of the person receiving the income, are to accept what will be left if the securities grow less in value than the original fund used in such investment.

Jesse Hoyt died Aug. 14, 1882, leaving an estate estimated to be worth about $10,000,000. He left a widow, Helen Maria Hoyt, and a daughter, Mary Irene Hoyt. He appointed as his executors Alfred N. Hoyt and Samuel M. Hoyt, his brothers, and James W. Jackson. He left various bequests to his widow and daughter and then created two separate trusts of $1,250,000 each for their benefit. That for his daughter was directed to be invested in United States government bonds and the income to be paid to her for life. What remained upon her death was to be divided among his relatives.

The Daughter Files Objections.

Miss Hoyt, on account of various repugnant clauses in the will, objected to its probate, and one of the greatest litigations in this state followed. Miss Hoyt had as counsel at various times Senator Roscoe Conkling, General Benjamin F. Butler, former Judge William Fullerton, Judge Roger A. Pryor and former Judge Shipman, while the executors were represented by former Senator William M. Evarts, Joseph H. Choate, Elihu Root and a host of others. A great deal of personal feeling was manifested between Miss Hoyt and her uncles, who sought to probate the will. It was alleged by her during the trial that certain provisions of the will had been inserted by her father a short time prior to his death while he was under the influence of drugs and in a totally irresponsible condition and that immediately before his death the executors and those interested in these provisions had conspired to have her placed in restraint so as to prevent her from contesting the probate of the will. She also declared that one of her uncles, a beneficiary under the will, had used personal violence to her during her father's last illness.

The contest was begun in November, 1882, before Surrogate Rollins and continued for months. It is estimated that it cost both sides almost $1,000,000. Surrogate Rollins sustained the validity of the will, holding that Mr. Hoyt was perfectly competent to make it. The case was carried to the court of appeals, where the probate of the will was finally established.

The Trustees Act.

This left the three executors and trustees, Alfred N. Hoyt, Samuel M. Hoyt and James W. Jackson, to administer the trust fund of $1,250,000, which they proceeded to do by investing in government bonds, paying therefor a premium of about 25 per cent, purchasing bonds of the value of about $1,000,000.

Regular accountings were had by the trustees of their dealings with the trust fund, by which it appeared that various sums yielded as income from the investment in the $1,000,000 government bonds had been laid aside to cover the $250,000 which had been paid as premiums in their purchase, the trustees claiming that it was the intention of Jesse Hoyt that the sum of $1,252,000, constituting the trust fund, should go unimpaired to those who were to take the same on the death of Miss Hoyt and that as the investments had been made at a premium and would only finally yield when the bonds were paid by the government the sum of $1,000,000, they were required by the will to deduct from the income a sufficient sum each year to make up the deficiency of the $250,000 at the time when the bonds would mature and be paid.

She Finally Wins.

On the regular accounting, about three years ago, the trustees, in accordance with their custom, deducted and laid aside a sum as part contribution to cover the premiums paid for the bonds, and Miss Hoyt promptly filed objections with the surrogate. Robert E. Deyo, as referee, reported that a proper construction of Mr. Hoyt's will required the trustees to deduct such amount annually. Miss Hoyt still insisted upon her objections, and the matter was contested again in the surrogate's court.

Surrogate Fitzgerald refused to confirm the referee's report, holding that it was evidently not the purpose of Mr. Hoyt to permit any sum whatever to be deducted from the income of the investments which he directed to be made for the benefit of his daughter, and a decree has just been entered in accordance with the opinion of the surrogate, reversing the decision of the referee.

The trustees were represented by former Chief Justice C. P. Daly and Miss Hoyt by Civil Justice William F. Moore, and as the legal question involved has never been finally and fully determined by the courts of this state it will undoubtedly be carried to the court of appeals for final adjudication.

In Justice Moffett's Court.

Edward Brown, colored, came up for examination in Justice Moffett's court this morning, upon a charge of assault and battery preferred by William Goff. There was some misunderstanding on the part of the witnesses, many of whom did not appear, and at the request of William G. DeMeza, Brown's counsel, the case was adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The case of Ballentine against Dickson, on contract, also comes up in Justice Moffett's court tomorrow at the same hour.

Pastor Installed.

Rev. Edward F. Moldunke, D. D., of New York, was present at the German Lutheran church yesterday morning and installed Rev. Herman Eyme as pastor of the church. In the evening Miss Freda Volkman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Volkman, and Miss Martha Hopping were confirmed by the newly installed pastor. The congregation took communion at the confirmation. There was a large attendance at both the morning and evening service.

Urged Christian Activity.

William D. Murray gave an interesting talk on the Northfield Conference at the Y. M. C. A. meeting yesterday afternoon. He gave an outline of the daily programme at the the conference, and especially urged Christian workers to be up and doing. Don't wait until you learn more before you go to work, but go to work now with whatever knowledge you have. Work and learn how to work at the same time.

Lost His Damage Suit.

A verdict for the Plainfield Street Railway was brought in the damage suit started against the Street Railway by E. C. Winter for alleged damages done to his wagon, which was said to have been run down by a trolley car on East Fifth street The court held that he had backed his wagon on the track and gave a verdict in favor of the defendant in the case. The case was tried in the Union county court at Elizabeth.

Hurt in a Runaway.

Yesterday afternoon at about 5 o'clock, Asa Willis, of Johnston's Drive, in company with a young lady, stopped in front of the Manhattan Hotel on Somerset street to water a horse. The horse got away and threw the young lady out of the wagon, injuring her arm severely. Mr. Willis caught the horse after considerable trouble, and the two returned home about 6 o'clock.

—The union Bible class will meet in the Y. M. C. A. this evening. The class will be conducted by Rev. Arthur Crane.

—The midweek prayer meeting of the Congregational church will be held on Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock instead of at 8 o'clock as heretofore.

—The first of the big church excursions to Asbury Park will start on Thursday morning. It is given by the combined Sunday-schools of the Congregational, First Presbyterian and Park Avenue Baptist churches and the Church of the Redeemer. The train leaves at 8 o'clock.

CHEAP DRIVES FOR INVALIDS.

A Young Woman's Clever Scheme for Turning an Honest Penny.

These are the days when everyone is twisting and contriving to earn money outside of the regular sources of income. Women have frequently shown themselves even better at this sort of contriving than men. One clever little woman, who, in better times, used to drive about with her own horse and surrey managed to pay for the keep of the horse, which was a family pet, by taking out invalids for a drive. The sick people, too, were bent upon economy, and only too thankful for the opportunity of getting a drive for the small sum she charged. Her plan was this:

She had a regular scale of prices. Thirty-five cents took one passenger to the nearest park and back, 50 cents for a longer trip, and so on. She planned her trips in advance and took three with her at a time. The invalids soon found that the companionship was as pleasant as the drive, and no one, seeing the bright hostess chatting merrily with the paralyzed old gentleman on the front seat, while a pale young woman and an older one listened on the back seat, guessed that it was anything else than an attractive family party. A purse hung over the back of the driver's seat, and some time during the drive each passenger deposited therein the amount of his fare.—Chicago Times-Herald.

GIVING AWAY HIS SECRET.

In Order to Pacify Mrs. Corntossel Her Husband Speaks Out.

The Washington Post has this to say about the Corntossels:

"Talk about the way a woman changes her mind!" exclaimed Mrs. Corntossel, as she put breakfast on the table. "I'd liketer see one thet could beat you at it."

"Whut d'ye mean?"

"I hev reference ter yer politics. 'Fore 'lection ye wus hollerin' fur free silver like yer heart 'ud break ef ye didn't git it right away. An' now ye wake up in the dead o' night sayin' 'hooray fur McKinley' in yer sleep."

"Well, Mandy, a feller can't help bein' sorter influenced by hes personal friendships. I never told ye 'bout that little eppysody me an' McKinley was concerned into while we were in Washington, did I?"

"No."

"Well, he showed hissef a gentleman an' I ain't never goin' back on him. I wouldn't have told this in Washington, even ter you, 'cause its astonishin' how things leak out, an' to this day I don't believe they's anybody knows a thing about it exceptin' me an' McKinley. He was standin' up shakin' hands an' I waited in line tell my turn come. It wus all over before I knowed whut had happened an' I didn't realize I'd shook hands weth the President any more'n nothin'. I got to wishin' I hed gone at it more deliberate an' slow, so's ter git the good of it; an' then the temptation come an' I yielded. I snuk around ter the end o' the line an' waited my turn all over agin, lookin' around innocent-like so's ter make folks think I was a total stranger. When I got whethin a few feet o' the President, I comprehended what risks I was a-runnin', but it was too late ter turn back. There was plenty of men standin' around, an' all McKinley would of had to do ter git me throwed out was to say three words an' expose the swindle. But he onderstood the situation at a glance. He never give no sign thet he'd ever seen me before, but looked me in the eye and grabbed my hand ez if nothin' had happened. From now on, my vote's his'n, fur I never saw anythin' done more gentlemanly in my hull life!"

A Loyal Servant.

In spite of the inherent capacity for treachery and deceit we are accustomed to associate with the natives of India, one comes across wonderful and touching evidences of loyalty and devotion. Witness the devotion and faithfulness of our Goorha regiments during the terrible mutiny, and the thrilling stories of wonderful escapes entirely due to the loyalty of personal servants.

The following true incident happened lately in Madras: An Indian Colonel had a "boy" for eighteen years. Having to go home on furlough, he pensioned him and let him return to his family, to do nothing for the rest of his life. Returning to Madras, he was informed by a brother officer that his "boy" was as fit as ever, and only too anxious to return to duty. Almost before it seemed that a letter could have had time to reach him, the "boy" was back in his accustomed place.

For two years he waited on his master as of yore, though his hair was silvered and his back bent. One day the colonel returned from parade and had his wants supplied as usual. His servant, on leaving him, salaamed low, remarking, "Should the sahib want anything more and call, his faithful slave will hear. He berry tired—sleep." When the "sahib" called there was no answer. They found him curled on his mat. He had lain down—"tired." He would never be "tired" again. Uncomplainingly he had followed his sahib. Long marches, want of food, sickness and privation had never aroused a complaint. When death came he lay down without a murmur.—From the Gentlewoman.

Sapphires Not All Blue.

It is commonly believed that the sapphire is known only as a gem of a rich velvety blue in color. As a matter of fact the sapphire occurs in various hues. In Ceylon, where the finest specimens of this gem are found, it ranges from the soft, velvety blue to the peacock blue, graduated in the latter to an almost faultless white. It also occurs in whites, greens and yellows, the latter shade being known as the Oriental topaz and the green the Oriental emerald. The white sapphires are often found clouded or streaked with blue, so that many specimens are cut which are white when looked at transversely, but having a bit of fine blue tint on the under point. Then there is the red sapphire or Ceylon ruby. It is valued as highly as the finest Burmese rubies. Those most highly prized are of a rich pigeon blood, or rose red color.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Alabama produces in almost inexhaustible quantities six of the seven great raw materials, namely, coal, iron, corn, cotton, timber and clay. A resident of that state made the statement recently in Washington that Alabama was destined to be the greatest manufacturing State in the Union. "Settle the tariff," said he, "on any basis and assure us that it will not be disturbed for ten or twenty years, and we will show you such a development of natural resources as no section of the world has ever seen. We manufacture iron now at a lower cost than it can be produced in any other portion of the globe, and we are now perfecting methods to convert our iron into steel, which, when accomplished, will leave us without a rival in that business. Recent discoveries of immense beds of kaolin and pottery clays have been made in close proximity to practically inexhaustible deposits of pure silica. These being the two greatest raw materials used in the manufacture of pottery, will enable us to manufacture all classes of this ware at as proportionately low cost as we now produce iron. The vast importance of this industry to our State can hardly be exaggerated, especially when we consider the new schedule in the Tariff bill on crockery and china."

MUST NOT WASTE WATER

SUPPLY COMPANY SAY THAT MANY PEOPLE ARE VERY WASTEFUL.

Lawn Sprinklers and Hand Hose Must Be Used Only in Certain Hours, Else the Supply Will Be Discontinued.

The Plainfield Water Supply Company are becoming aggressive in enforcing the rules governing the use of lawn sprinklers and hand hose, and as a result there is likelihood of many spats ensuing between the corporation and its patrons, who may consider their inclination to do as they please, supreme to the company's requests.

At this time of the year more than any other the company's capacity for furnishing water is tested, as nearly a million gallons more a day are used now than at any other period. This is caused by the sprinkling of lawns and various other uses to which water is put in the hot weather season.

Officials of the company say that many of their patrons use no judgment in taking advantage of the service, where a little discrimination on the part of each subscriber would relieve the company of much trouble and anxiety to provide a flow that will not be impaired. Consequently the company has issued the following circular to its patrons, and inspectors are to be detailed to see that the regulations are lived up to, or else the supply will be cut off without previous notice:

Lawn sprinklers and hand hose must be used only between the hours of 6 and 9 a. m., and 4 and 7 p. m., from the 1st of April to the 15th of October, and if found out of order or leaking, or if converted into jets, or if used for the benefit of any person other than the one obtaining the permit, or suffered to run when not used, or if used at a time not stated above, the supply will be cut off without previous notice.

All persons using a hose, either in front or rear of premises, from a hydrant or faucet connection, must first obtain a permit for use only at hours permitted by the rules and regulations. Permit to use lawn sprinklers does not include the use of water for street sprinkling.

Several patrons of the company whose attention, probably, has not been called to the above regulations, are in the habit of using lawn sprinklers and hand hose at times not permitted.

NEW LEGAL FIRM.

Francis J. Blatz and Clarence L. Murphy Form a Partnership.

A new legal firm has been formed in this city by two well-known young men of the profession, Clarence L. Murphy and Francis J. Blatz. The firm has secured a suite of rooms on the second floor of the Dunlap building, corner of Somerset and East Front streets. The suite consists of three good-sized rooms in the front of the building. They have been thoroughly renovated and repaired while handsome new furniture has been placed there.

Both young men studied law in the offices of former Mayor John H. Van Winkle, whose profound knowledge of his profession is well known, and Mr. Blatz also received the degree of L.L. B. at the New York University Law School. Both young attorneys are residents of the borough and are well known there and in this city. Both graduated from the North Plainfield public school.

Careful painstaking work promises to place the firm in the front rank before many years pass by.

MARRIED AT HIGH NOON

A Pretty Home Wedding Celebrated at Washingtonville.

Yesterday was the occasion of a pretty home wedding, celebrated at high noon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Koch, of Washingtonville, when Miss Freda A. Vierda was united in marriage to Gustav Eymer, of Long Island. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Herman Eymer, pastor of the German Lutheran church, a brother of the groom. The bride was gowned in white silk.

Following the reception a wedding breakfast was served. The decorations consisted of stately palms and choice cut flowers, arranged in an attractive manner.

Some of the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Koch, Mrs. Eymer, mother of the groom, Rev. Herman Eymer, Mr. and Mrs. Leithauser and Miss Volkman, of Plainfield. There were also guests from New York, Brooklyn and Long Island. The bride and groom will reside on Long Island, where the latter is in business.

THE ENDEAVOR RUNS OFF

BICYCLING CHRISTIANS TO TAKE A HOT WEATHER VACATION.

The Oppressive Heat, and Many of the Enthusiasts Out of Town, Has Caused Capt. Ernestine Smith to Postpone Their Run.

The success of the Christian Endeavor bicycle squad, which was inaugerated in this city last spring, has been apparent. Two runs have been held, and, although on both occasions, storms threatened and kept many of the would-be wheeling Endeavorers at home, the attendance was very good considering the circumstances. Everybody was delighted with the success of the scheme of visiting the neighboring societies awheel.

The arrangement of the runs has been left in the hands of Miss Ernestine Smith, with the privilege of selecting such assistance as she may find necessary. Miss Smith has shown her talent in arranging and commanding the first two efforts of the cycle squad. While it was first thought advisable to hold the runs throughout the summer, Miss Smith has decided to postpone the next one until late in the fall. All the Endeavor societies are rather broken up at the present time by the departure of so many of the members on their summer vacations. Such will be the case through the summer months and Miss Smith has decided that it would not be advisable to attempt another run until the summer vacation time is over.

The destination of the next run is still a matter of doubt. A very earnest invitation has been extended by the society connected with the Seventh-Day Baptist church in New Market to have the cycle squad pay them a visit and it will be accepted for one of the fall runs. Another urgent invitation comes from the Endeavorers of the Wilson Memorial chapel at Washingtonville. Miss Smith and a party of friends visited the place the other day to learn the condition of the roads for wheeling and they found that the cycling Endeavorers will have no trouble in reaching the chapel in good weather.

While the Christian Endeavor Society at the Willow Grove chapel is not a member of the Local Union, the members are quite anxious that the Plainfield Endeavorers should come there awheel. Willow Grove is a small settlement back of Westfield, between that place and the Springfield road. There is a flourishing Endeavor Society there. Miss Smith hopes to be able to accept that invitation also and pay the Willow Groveites a visit this fall.

ENDEAVORER STATE CONVENTION.

"Father Endeavorer" Clark is to Be One of the Speakers.

The programme committee have issued the provisional programme for the convention to be held at Paterson, Oct. 6th to 8th. It is an interesting one and bids fair to be as profitable as any in the history of the Union. Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., of Philadelphia, is to take the place Mr. Moody occupied in the last convention. Meetings are to be held in three buildings, each holding 1,000 persons. Entertainment will be furnished at $1.00 per day. For information and application blanks, delegates should apply to Mrs. Louis Fox, 665 East Twenty third street, Paterson, N. J. Arrangements have been made with the various railways for special rates.

Among the more prominent members are the following: Rev. Merrill E. Gates, LL.D., President of Amherst College, formally of this city, who will have for his subject "Christian Citizenship," Rev. D. J. Burrell, D.D, who will give an address upon "Sabbath Observance," Revs Maltbie D. Babcock, of Baltimore, and Wayland Hoyt, D.D., of Philadelphia, who will preach the convention sermons, Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D.D., the Convention Evangelist, appears several times on the programme. Rev. F. J. Stanley, D. D., will speak upon "Foreign Missions." Another feature will be an address by "Father Endeavor," Rev. Francis E. Clark, D.D. Mrs. Ballington Booth is also announced as a speaker in the closing session. President French will give his annual address on Thursday afternoon.

A new feature of the Convention is to be a reception by the State officers on Thursday evening, after the manner of the receptions at the international conventions.

Judgment for Plaintiff.

Justice Newcorn rendered judgment for the plaintiff, yesterday afternoon, in the case of Lawson against Bowden, on contract. Summons were also issued in the cases of Pope against Randolph, landlord and tenant, returnable on the 19th, and Reed, et als, against Carthorn, on contract, returnable on the 21st.

DESECRATION OF GRAVES

A DISGRACEFUL STATE OF AFFAIRS AT EVERGREEN CEMETERY.

The Floral Tributes Left on the Last Resting Place of Departed Friends Are Stolen by the Young Children in That Vicinity.

A state of affairs exists at Evergreen cemetery, and has existed in fact for many years, that is a disgrace ta the city. Circumstances are such that it is now impossible to leave flowers on a newly made grave or to plant others on any of the graves in the cemetery. Of course, the flowers may be left there, but the moment that the back of the one who leaves them is turned, a small army of children invade the cemetery from all the surrounding neighborhood, and the flowers fast disappear before their ready fingers. Whether the most beautiful floral tribute, or some simple little bouquet, they are all treated alike.

This grave desecration has gone on for years. Evergreen cemetery, which is located on Plainfield avenue, between West Seventh and West Fourth streets, is really two distinct cemeteries, located side by side. One is owned and cared for by the trustees of the First Baptist church and the other by the trustees of the First M. E. church. The cemetery is almost a century old.

It has long been the custom among the relatives and friends of the deceased to have the floral tributes left on the top of the grave. Such was the custom at the Evergreen cemetery as in the others. As that portion of the city in the vicinity of the cemetery began to get thickly settled, there was a crowd that gathered about there. They ranged in age from six to twelve. Some more venturesome youngster once climb the fence and picked a flower from one of the graves before the admiring eyes of his friends; others followed until the bush was left bare of blossoms. Then the children grew in the habit of gathering in the cemetery to watch the interment. When the sexton and mourners departed, leaving the floral offerings arranged upon the grave, there was a scramble among the youngsters to secure the prettiest blossoms. They did not realize that the desecration of graves was anything wrong and besides it gave them some excitement.

This wholesale robbery has at last caused most of the local undertakers to take steps to prevent it. The floral tributes are arranged on top of the coffin and then the earth is covered over them. Of course, many attempts are made to plant flowers on the tops of graves and in some cases they have remained for some time. More often, however, the blossoms are picked off as fast as they bloom and in some cases the plants themselves are dug up and removed from the cemetery.

Last year, some children removed a plant from the Tier plot, where it had been placed by members of the family. A complaint was made and the offenders were brought to justice. The desecrators were small children, who knew no better, and they were allowed to go with a severe reprimand. It in no way frightened the rest, however, and the children have continued to despoil the flowers in the cemetery with great regularity.

It is usually impossible to locate the offender and the local undertakers, who have charge of the interments there, find that the matter has gotten beyond their control and that they are simply powerless in the matter. In conversation with a Press reporter, yesterday afternoon, one of them said that the only method to stop this desecration of the graves would be to place a watchman there constantly day and night and, he asked, who is going to put the watchman there?

SOCIETY AWEEEL.

Pleasant Events Taken By Cycle Trips to the Country.

Miss Mabel Maxson, of West Fourth street, entertained fourteen of her friends on Saturday evening with a bicycle party. They met at her home and rode out Park avenue to Metuchen, returning the same way. They returned to her home where refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

A bicycle party was given by Mrs. G. E. Stillman to her friends Sunday evening. They assembled early in the evening at her home on West Seventh street and rode to Springfield where a supper was enjoyed. Then the party returned to Plainfield by the light of the moon. The party numbered eighteen.

The Misses VanBoskerck, of West Seventh street, gave a bicycle party to a number of their friends on Saturday evening.

The Circus Grounds.

The Wallace circus will show in the field at the corner of North avenue and Berkman street.

GUNS FOR A TALL LOOTER

RESIDENTS IN AND ABOUT SOMERVILLE WAITING FOR A BURGLAR.

He is a Tall Man, With a Short Pal, Who Has Terrorized the Community—The County Solons Offer a $100 Reward.

The citizens of Somerville are spending restless nights, apprehensive of a visit from a pair of burglars who have been breaking into houses thereabouts recently. The burglars are described as a six-footer, built in proportion, and a short, burly fellow. They succeeded in getting into several houses, and the residents became so scared finally that the Somerset county Board of Freeholders offered a reward of $100 for the capture of the marauders.

The Somerville Town Council equipped the police force with bicycles and dark lanterns to get around at night after the burglars. Despite these precautions the tall and short burglars have continued their work. At 1 o'clock yesterday morning Wesley Bacon, a produce dealer who lives on South Bridge street, was awakened by a noise made by somebody tinkering with his kitchen windows.

Mr. Bacon slipped quietly downstairs and waited for the intruder with an uplifted chair. When the visitor got the shutter open and started to climb in the window, Mr. Bacon saw it was the six-foot burglar. Mr. Bacon dropped the chair and grabbed the big burglar by the collar. Then he pulled him into the kitchen head first The thief shook the house when he fell, but he was as agile as a cat. He jumped to his feet and grappled with Mr. Bacon. He got a grip on his captor's throat and was rapidly choking him into insensibility when Mrs. Bacon's cries caused him to desist and jump out of the window. The short burglar was in the yard, and the pair got over the fence and disappeared in the darkness. Mr. Bacon was exhausted after his struggle with the big burglar. He has a shotgun ready in case of another visit from burglars. So has almost every other resident of the county.

THEY MEAN BUSINESS.

NEW JERSEY WOMEN SUFFRAGISTS BEGIN A STRONG CAMPAIGN

They Have Enlisted Strong Aid Right and Left and Will Keep Things Moving—A Letter Sent to Supporters.

The campaign of the New Jersey Woman Suffragist Association has been begun by a general appeal through circulars to every woman in the State to do her duty in securing a vote or two for the constitutional amendment now before the people giving the women of the State limited suffrage on the school question.

The Woman Suffragists understand that they must make an independent fight for their amendment, and not rely on the Citizens' League for support in connection with their fight for the anti-gambling amendment. It was stated that a few weeks ago that they expected to receive aid from the clubs in the State Federation of Clubs. They now intend to press into service all the women's secret societies, particularly those which claim patriotic motives, and the two women's organizations of the Grand Army of the Republic, as well as the Woman's Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans. This will give them a chain of woman's organizations reaching through the State.

The women, of course, cannot vote, but they are expected to see that the men vote right.

CIRCUS TOMORROW.

The Small Boy Will Be in His Delight All Day.

Advanced reports of the performance offered by the Great Wallace Shows which come to Plainfield tomorrow are of the most flattering nature so that all intending patrons may feel secure in anticipating a rare treat when the big exhibition pitches its tents in this city. The press notices declare that from the opening of the gorgeous grand entry to the last one of the exciting hippodrome races there is not a single moment of the two hours and a half in which interest is permitted to flag for an instant. Prominent among the numerous features are the world famous Nelson family, whose wonderful acrobatic revolutions are of a nature indescribably in cold type. Another very popular feature with the Wallace Shows is the spectacular ballet of nations danced by twenty charming maidens, pretty of face and blessed with graceful forms, headed by Mlle. Maccarri, the famous Italian premier danseuse. It is a distinctly new departure to introduce a ballet, complete in every detail, in a circus performance, but this is what is done in the Wallace Shows.

GOOD WOMEN CLEARED.

NO SUSPICION RESTS AGAINST MRS. WADSWORTH OR MISS WOODHOUSE.

The Course of the Daily Press in Refusing to Publish the Unfounded Accusations Against them Applauded by Good Citizens

A sensational case, involving the good name of a prominent physician of this city and the good name of two women, has been before the Chancery Court at Newark for the last three weeks.

Sensational newspapers have gloated over the details and published indecent matter over offensive head lines. The Press has pursued a course which has received emphatic and universal approval of the moral classes of this community. The details were not printed, because they were not fit to print. Plainfielders knew Mrs. Wadsworth and Miss Woodhouse to be true women. Mrs. Wadsworth is a loving wife whose whole life has been noble, whether in refined society, of which she was an honored member, in the numerous charitable or literary associations with which she was connected, in the church or in the home.

Those who knew them have never doubted that they would in the end receive complete vindication from the court. That vindication was pronounced from the bench by the Vice Chancellor last night.

When Craig A. Marsh, counsel for Dr. Endicott, announced that he rested his case, Vice Chancellor Stevens said that Mrs. Endicott had entirely failed to make out a case against Mrs. Wadsworth or Miss Woodhouse. He had felt that when she had rested her case, and now that the evidence for the defense was in, there did not rest a suspicion that either Mrs. Wadsworth or Miss Woodhouse were guilty of any of the charges made against them. He said he made this statement so that Mr. McCarter, the counsel of Mrs. Endicott, might, if he saw fit, after learning the mind of the court, shorten the case by confining the further evidence to the cases of the other persons charged. After conferring with his client, Mr. McCarter stated that in view of what the court had said, he would drop the charges against Mrs. Wadsworth and they would no longer figure in the case.

Every good man and woman in Plainfield will rejoice at this prompt and complete vindication of Mrs. Wadsworth by the court and the concurrence therein of even the lawyer who had been trying to find evidence against her.

THE MILL OF JUSTICE.

Justice Nash Finds Plenty of Things to Adjudicate.

There have been a number of cases tried in Justice Nash's court during the last few days. Judgment was rendered yesterday in the case of Ivins et als. against Wood, on contract, for $17.14 and costs. Judgment was rendered in the case of Baker against Wood, on contract, for $9.16 and costs. McNabb & Clark were the attorneys for the plaintiffs in both cases. Brady, assignee, against Keely, on contract, was tried, and a verdict for $28.33 and costs rendered in favor of the plaintiff. George W. Bird was the attorney for the plaintiff.

A writ of attachment has been issued in the case of Garbey against Burke. This is another attachment against the proprietor of the pavilion show that made its appearance here several days ago. The proceedings were started by Mrs. Garbey, who keeps a boarding house on Richmond street. Several of the actresses went there to board and no remuneration was forthcoming.

Summons were issued in the cases of Ballentine against Harger and Wilkison et als. against Heckman et als.

A NEW INDUSTRY HERE.

Huntington Shirt Company Opens a Factory in This City.

The Huntington Shirt Company, a newly organized concern for the manufacture of men's shirts, has leased the second floor of the Schepflin building on Front street, and this morning the manufacture of stock was commenced by a force of twenty girls.

The factory is to be in charge of William E Collis, who is secretary-treasurer and manager of the company. Men's shirts of every description will be manufactured by contract. Twenty-five sewing machines operated by steam power have been placed in position for the use of the hands. The present force was all secured in this city. Its number will probably soon be increased.

Crushed One Finger.

Charles Skillman, a brakeman on a Central Railroad freight train, had one finger crushed yesterday afternoon while coupling cars in this city. He went to the hospital where Dr. Long dressed the wound, after which the man returned to work.

NO SPIES FOR KLINER.

A BOROUGH MARSHAL RESIGNED RATHER THAN BE WATCHED.

Gave His Badge and Club to Councilman Carey This Morning—The Matter to be Reported at the Next Meeting.

T. J. Carey, chairman of the license and marshal committee, of the Borough Council, was somewhat surprised this morning when Marshal Jacob Kliner called at his house at 6 o'clock and informed him that he desired to resign his position and turn over his effects to the borough authorities. It had been rumored that Mr. Kliner was going to resign his position, but the story was not believed by his most intimate friends. Mr. Carey informed the officer that he would accept his badge and club and report the matter to the Council. Mr. Kliner gave as a partial reason for his action that he did not like the idea of being watched to see whether he was doing his duty, and he felt as though he was being watched.

Mr. Kliner was one of the new men selected this year, and it was thought that he would make a good officer. However, he has, at times given his superior officers occasion to think that he was not satisfied with things in general. He tried very hard to get the position, and it was thought that he would make every effort to hold it. His son still holds a position on the force as a regular.

It is the intention of the above committee to try from time to time the specials and thus select suitable men to do regular duty, and they are determined that the borough shall have an efficient police department.

HELD FOR AN ASSAULT,

Exciting Preliminary Examination in Justice Moffett's Court.

Edward Brown, colored, was examined in Justice Moffett's court this morning on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by William Goff, of West Third street.

The charge was a result of the big row that occurred on West Third street on July 5th, when Goff tried to separate William Brown and Cora Morris, while they were fighting. Edward Brown went to his brother's aid. The case has been in the courts a number of times already and William Brown is now serving a sentence of ten days in jail.

Goff was fined $8 for resisting arrest, and he then preferred a charge against both William and Edward Brown for assault and battery. A large number of witnesses were called on both sides. Christopher Columbus and Arthur Venable testified that they saw the defendant, Edward Brown, kick Goff.

Mrs. Brown, the mother of the accused man, grew excited while the next witness, Frank Jackson, was testifying. She interrupted the hearing by calling out that Jacksen had been paid 50 cents to testify against her son. William Goff's version was that he merely stepped in to protect the girl, Cora Morris, and that he had been struck upon the head and rendered senseless.

The father of Edward Brown testified that his wife and Edward had gone after William to bring him home because Cora Morris had said to them that she intended to "raise the devil" with William when she saw him.

After hearing the evidence, Justice Moffett held Brown in $200 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

BIRTHDAYS CAME TOGETHER.

A Matron and a Maid Entertained the Fair Sex Pleasantly.

A pleasant afternoon was spent yesterday at the home of Mrs. George Schlereth and Miss Carrie Mehl, of West Second street, when they celebrated the anniversary of their birthdays. It so happened that the anniversary fell on the same day of the month and it was planned to celebrate together by having a few friends and relatives gather and pass the time in a social manner. The affair was arranged for the fair sex only. Congratulations were extend to Mrs. Schlereth and her sister, Miss Mehl.

Those who were present included Mrs. George Kesselring, Mrs. Doeringer, Mrs. Charles Debele, Mrs. William Debele, Miss Schaefer, Miss Minnie Zeisz, Miss Lizzie Laing, Miss Katy Cortwright, Miss Louise Kohler, Miss Anna Searing, Miss Sadie Searing, Miss Stiliger, Mrs. Stiliger, Miss Minnie Winkelman, Miss Lizzie Ficke, Miss Laura Scheeleid.

Rev. Mr. Schenck Improved.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., of Trinity Reformed church, is much improved from his sudden attack of illness in the pulpit Sunday morning, and will soon be able to be out again attending to his duties.

—The third degree was worked on three candidates at the meeting of Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A M., last evening.

COAL CARRYING CASE

Railroad Presidents Need Not Appear Before a Referee.

JUDGE CHESTER GIVES A DECISION.

He Vacates Orders Granted by Himself In Proceedings Under the New Antitrust Laws—An Appeal Taken.

Albany, July 13.—Justice Alden Chester has vacated the orders granted by him upon the application of the attorney general in June last compelling the presidents of the various coal road companies to appear before a referee as witnesses in a procedure under the new antitrust laws, to determine as to whether there is an alleged illegal contract arrangement or combination in violation of chapters 383 and 384 of the laws of 1897, and in which they or their roads are participants.

The motion upon which the decision was given was argued before Judge Chester on June 8, some two weeks after he had granted a motion of the attorney general for the appointment of a referee and also after the service upon the presidents of the various roads of orders for them to appear before such referee, Walter E. Ward of Albany. The motion was on behalf of the various roads—the Delaware and Hudson, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, the New York, Ontario and Western and the Jersey Central—for a vacation of the orders so granted on the ground that the acts were unconstitutional; that the legislature exceeded its powers, and that the powers given to the supreme court judge exceeded the judicial functions allowed by the constitution. Eminent counsel argued the case for the roads. Judge Chester granted the first orders under the new law upon request and without reference to the merits of the application.

An appeal will be taken at once from the decision to the appellate division of the supreme court, but as that division does not sit until Sept. 7 and as an appeal will be taken even to the highest court there can be no final conclusion much before the last month of the year.

Judge Chester's Opinion.

In his decision Judge Chester says:

This is a motion to vacate an order granted by me on the 12th day of May, on the ex parte application of the attorney general, requiring Samuel Sloane and five other persons named in the order to appear before a referee therein named to answer such relevant or material questions as may be put to them concerning any alleged illegal contract, arrangement or combination in violation of chapter 383 of the laws of 1897, or of chapter 384 of the laws of 1897.

The petition of the attorney general under which he procured the order sought to be vacated was presented under the provisions of chapter 383 of the laws of 1897, which is entitled "An act to prevent monopolies in articles or commodities of common use and to prohibit restraints of trade and commerce, providing penalties for violations of the provisions of this act and procedure to enable the attorney general to secure testimony in relation thereto," which act became a law May 7 and took effect immediately.

The substantive provisions of the act are contained in the first two sections, which are as follows:

"Section 1. Every contract, agreement, arrangement or combination whereby a monopoly in the manufacture, production or sale in this state of any article or commodity of common use is or may be created, established or maintained, or whereby competition in this state in the supply or price of any such article or commodity is or may be restrained or prevented, or whereby for the purpose of creating, establishing or maintaining a monopoly within this state of the manufacture, production or sale of any such article or commodity, the free pursuit in this state of a lawful business, trade or occupation is or may be restricted or prevented, is hereby declared to be against public policy, illegal and void.

"Sec. 2. Every person or corporation or any officer or agent thereof who shall make or attempt to make or enter into any such contract, agreement, arrangement or combination, or who within this state shall do any act pursuant thereto, or in, toward or for the consummation thereof, wherever the same may be made, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall, if a natural person, be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment for not longer than one year or by both such fine and imprisonment, and if a corporation by a fine of not exceeding $5,000."

The balance of the act, except the repealing clause and the statement of the time when it is to take effect, relates wholly to procedure.

Section 3 authorizes the attorney general to bring an action in the name of the people to restrain the doing in this state of any act herein declared to be illegal or any act for the making or consummation of the prohibited property; was doing something which he not only had a right to do, but was commendable and so was acting in the line of duty. The adoption of this policy will affect many claims. The case is held to be practically similar to that of a soldier hurt by the enemy firing on him while he was off duty in his tent, in pursuance of any employment at which he had a right to be employed.

Body Found In a Barrel.

Atlanta, July 13.—A special from Quitman, Brooks county, reports the finding there of a woman's body hacked to pieces and packed in a barrel, which had been buried in a swamp. The discovery was made by a farmer named Jacob Wooten, on Mule creek. The body was tumbled into the barrel and dirt packed around it, but it was still in a remarkable state of preservation, the flesh retaining almost its natural coloring. No one has been missed from the community, and it is the general opinion that the body was either buried there several years ago or else was brought there from a distance.

Sailor Died on Board.

St. Johns, N. F., July 13.—The American fishing schooner Proyson has arrived here with the dead body of Edward Carrigan, one of her crew, who died from heart disease while attending his trawls on the banks.

SOME CAPITAL GOSSIP

The Senate Discusses Union Pacific Railroad.

AN IMPORTANT PENSION DECISION.

Report Received From the Minister of Costa Rica States That the Boundary Question May Soon Be Settled.

Washington, July 13.—Information received by Senor Calvo, the minister of Costa Rica at this capital, reports that everything is quiet in his country and also indicates the probable early determination of the boundary question between Costa Rica and Nicaragua. The minister's telegram is as follows:

"The boundary commission is now preparing the argument and the translation of the same into English to be submitted to the engineer appointed by the president of the United States. The decree of free imports does not injure Nicaragua in any way. All is quiet."

The question of the accurate delimitation of the boundary line between the two countries has been one of long standing, and it was finally agreed to submit the mooted points to a civil engineer appointed by the president of the United States.

This engineer was appointed by President Cleveland some time before his term expired, and the former has been for several months engaged with the commission that is working on the matter.

Very recently Costa Rica issued a decree permitting admission free of duty imports into her territory bordering on the San Juan and Colorado rivers and including a part of the harbor of Greytown.

Dispatches from Managua, Nicaragua, received at the time indicated that the latter country was displeased with this action of Costa Rica, and the possibilities of war on that account were discussed.

The suggestion of trouble, however, was discredited by Minister Calvo at the time, and the telegram just received, showing that the decree does not injure Nicaragua in any way, is gratifying to him in the highest degree.

The Senate's Session.

Washington, July 13.—A discussion of Union Pacific railroad affairs occupied the attention of the senate. The deficiency appropriation bill was taken up early in the day, and Mr. Morgan proposed an amendment designed to prevent the consummation of an agreement made some time since for the settlement of the government's claims against the road.

Mr. Morgan spoke throughout the day, severely arraigning the Pacific railroad managers. Later the entire subject was disposed of by the withdrawal of the paragraph to which Mr. Morgan had offered his amendment. The deficiency appropriation bill was not completed up to the time of adjournment.

The senate has confirmed the following: Arthur A. Hardy of New Hampshire to be minister and consul general to Persia, Stirling A. Campbell of California to be collector of customs at Humboldt, Cal.; William G. Cubberly to be postmaster at Custer, S. D., and Moses Emery to be postmaster at Caledonia, Minn.

To Start on a Scientific Tour.

Washington, July 13.—Two scientists of this city, Messrs. C. D. W. White and Charles Schuchert, acting under orders from the National museum, have left for Boston, where they will join the Peary expedition, which starts for the arctic region on Thursday. The two scientists will disembark at Disco island, off the western coast of Greenland, at about the seventieth parallel. Recent discoveries in this region have brought to lights fossils which, it is said, tend to prove that Greenland was once a country of tropical climate. Disco island and the adjacent mainland of Greenland is especially rich in interesting fossils and formations. Until about the latter part of September the two men will pursue their investigations, when they will look for the return of the Peary ship.

Important Pension Decision.

Washington, July 13.—An important decision, construing the rights of pension claimants in line of duty cases, was rendered by Assistant Secretary of the Interior Webster Davis. The issue is made in the case of Henry Miller, private in company K, One Hundred and First Ohio infantry. After being relieved from guard duty one day Miller voluntarily assisted a teamster in watering mules, and while so occupied was fired upon and injured. The department has heretofore rejected such cases, as not in the line of duty. Assistant Secretary Davis, however, reverses the pension bureau action, holds that the claimant was not disobeying orders, nor violating army regulations, but was aiding a comrade in protecting government

Nervous

People often wonder why their nerves are so weak; why they get tired so easily; why they start at every slight but sudden sound; why they do not sleep naturally; why they have frequent headaches, indigestion and nervous

Dyspepsia

The explanation is simple. It is found in that impure blood which is continually feeding the nerves upon refuse instead of the elements of strength and vigor. In such condition opiate and nerve compounds simply deaden and do not cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla feeds the nerves pure, rich, red blood; gives natural sleep, perfect digestion, is the true remedy for all nervous troubles.

A GOOD RIDDANCE.

Night-Watchman A. B. Henry at the Standard Flint Paper Co., of Newark, N. J., Ejects an Undesirable Tenant.

There is a great deal of truth in the tales told about evictions in Ireland and in the North of Scotland during the early and middle part of the Century. It is a hardship for any family to be summarily dumped on a roadside, without friends or wealth, half famished and half clad, but such ejections or evictions are not by any means confined to the British Isles. Scarcely a day passes in free America without similar cases being recorded, and often in place of extending gratitious sympathy across the Atlantic we could find abundant opportunities to lavish it at home. Night watchman A. B. Henry of 43 William street, Newark, N. J., became involved in an eviction a short time ago. Some time the reader may be forced to adopt the same measures. Knowing how Mr. Henry proceeded will save a heap of trouble and many a dollar. He says: "It may or may not have been kidney disease that I had, but I know the pain was located in the left kidney and was very troublesome and annoying, to say nothing of the suffering it at times caused me. I learned about Doane's Kidney pills and procured them from a drug store. I had to be very careful in stooping or lifting in order to avoid the sharp pains which were sure to follow if I made any careless movement and any strain on the back caused a sharp twinge to pass through my loins. I used Doane's Kidney Pills and was completely cured and am now entirely free from it. My back is as strong as ever, and during the long hours I am on my feet it does not bother me or get tired and painful as it did formerly."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.
1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

One Guardsman Killed and Several Injured at the New York State Camp.

Peekskill, N. Y., July 13.—Consternation reigned at the state camp late yesterday afternoon when a terrific bolt of lightning, followed by a crash of thunder which seemed to shake every crag of the Highlands to its foundation, struck the Y. M. C. A. tent. Corporal McDonnell of company A, Twenty-second regiment, was killed instantly. Eleven other guardsmen were knocked unconscious. Some of them may not recover. The greatest excitement prevailed in the camp, but all the injured were removed at once to the hospital.

Colonel Franklin Bartlett arrived promptly at the tent with the hospital corps and personally superintended the removal of the stricken men. He was almost overcome with grief.

It is said that Corporal McDonnell was writing to his sweetheart, whom he intended to marry upon his return to New York, when the bolt killed him.

Many nervous men in the camp were prostrated by the calamity. The state camp was never so shattered before.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Forty persons were killed and 60 injured in a railway collision in Denmark.

Oct. 12 has been fixed upon as New York city day at the Tennessee centennial, Oct. 11 as Brooklyn day and Oct. 12 as New York state day.

The queen at Windsor castle received Senator Wolcott, ex-Vice President Stevenson and General Paine, the members of the United States bimetallic commission.

Louis W. Hall, attorney for the Pennsylvania road and a member of the board of visitors to the United States military academy at West Point, died suddenly at Harrisburg of heart disease.

Reports from Sancti Spiritus, Cuba confirm the rumor that General Quintin Bandera, who commanded the insurgents in the engagement on the 5th at Papaya heights, was killed during the fight.

Edwin J. Betts and wife, who reside on a farm five miles from Delhi, N. Y., were killed by lightning. They had been to a neighbor's and were on their way home, when a shower forced them to take refuge under a tree.

Weyler Arrives at Trinidad.

Havana, July 13.—Captain General Weyler has arrived at Trinidad and was given an enthusiastic reception. He received the municipal authorities and told them he saw they were disposed to comply with his orders. He also visited the hospitals, and, acting upon a petition of the authorities, ordered that Mariano Yznaga, a prominent resident, and others be set at liberty.

Street Duel In Buenos Ayres.

Buenos Ayres, July 13.—Senhor Julio Costa, formerly governor of the province of Buenos Ayres, and Senhor Mariano Paunero, a member of the house of deputies, between whom there exists an old feud, met upon the street and, drawing revolvers, began firing at each other. Both of the combatants were seriously wounded.

To Take Peary Expedition on Board.

St. Johns, N. F., July 13.—The steam whaler Hope, Captain John Bartlett, sailed hence at midnight Saturday night for Boston, where she will take on board the Peary polar expedition.

DOINGS OF STRIKERS.

The Lines Strengthening In All Directions.

ARBITRATION MAY BE THE NEXT MOVE

If Something Is Not Decided Upon Soon, the Men May Break Out and Thus Complicate Affairs Greatly—They Are Becoming Restive.

Pittsburg, July 13.—Beyond strengthening the miners' lines along the rivers there was little change in the strike situation. The ironclad contracts which were in force at several mines in the Monongahela valley were swept out of existence, and the strike was made general in the fourth pool. The Chamouni, Apollo, Jack Jones and O'Neil's Fayette City mines, which had been running with a light force of men and under ironclads, are idle. The men at the Chamouni mine were the last to lay down their tools. The miners along the river are rejoicing over this victory.

The only mine reported in operation in the region is the Equitable at Webster. It is a stock company, comprising about 75 stockholders, and they are mining their own coal. The Blyth Coal company has offered the 69 cent rate to their men at the Red Bird mine, but the officials will not allow them to go to work at present. A mass meeting was held at Fayette City and plans made to look after the strikers' interests and see that no mines resume.

The men in the Stickel Hollow mines of the Washington Coal company have also come out, making the suspension complete in this district, except at the mines of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company, where about 1,200 men are working. No effort has yet been made to get these diggers out, and the miners at other pits who have laid down their tools are grumbling at the slowness of Dearmitt's men in joining the movement.

The hotheads are advising drastic measures. They have been kept in check so far, but there is no telling when the fever will break out and a concerted move on Sandy and Plum creeks made.

An Arbitration Scheme.

The greatest interest is now manifested in the scheme to arbitrate the strike question. Labor commissioners and official arbitrators of the several states affected are mobilizing in this city. The state of Ohio is the only one which has a regularly appointed board of arbitration. It exists for just such emergencies as this and is naturally eminently well prepared for the work. Most of the others interested are labor commissioners and industrial statisticians, who are also well able to act in the capacity of arbitrators from the nature of their work in keeping in touch with the working classes generally.

The Ohio board is composed of S. N. Owen, chairman, of Columbus, who was formerly chief justice of the supreme court of Ohio: ex-Attorney General John Little of Xenia and Joseph Bishop of Columbus, formerly president of the Amalgamated association. The Indiana labor commissioners here are L. P. McCormick, ex-president of the State Typographical union, and B. F. Schmid of Indianapolis. James M. Clark, industrial statistician of Pennsylvania, has arrived from Harrisburg. The same officials of the state of West Virginia are expected to get here shortly.

The Illinois commissioners, J. D. Keefe, J. B. Gill and H. S. Colif, are on their way to Pittsburg, and will meet the other commissioners in this city tomorrow. Thus all the states, with the exception of Kentucky and Tennessee, where the strike is on will be represented in the conferences which are to be held here during the next few days.

Invitations have been sent to the coal operators of the Pittsburg district to meet the arbitrators informally and talk over the matter of settling the strike.

James Young, representing the M. A. Hanna mining interests, has arrived from Cleveland and was in consultation with the peacemakers at the Seventh Avenue hotel. One or two of the smaller operators dropped in to look over the situation, but no important conference has yet been held.

It is expected by the arbitrators that a representative number of the local operators will be got together within the next 12 hours. However, persons who are well acquainted with the warring factions that exist among the coal operators here, say they will be hard to get together in this move, although the extreme gravity of the outlook may have the desired effect.

Revelations by a Prisoner.

Paris, July 13.—Emile Arton, who was convicted of bribery in connection with the Panama canal scandals, before the Panama canal commission has made sensational revelations regarding the way in which successive governments had connived at his escape and silence. He said the Boulangists offered him 1,000,000 francs for a document, the making public of which would have resulted in the overthrow of the Loubet ministry. M. Loubet, he said, had also tried to obtain certain documents from him.

Accidentally Shoots His Friend.

Trenton, July 13.—William Schindle of this city was shot in the breast by Charles F. Mink of Philadelphia and is not expected to live. The men were in a boat gunning, when Mink, who was handling his gun, touched the trigger, and the charge exploded. Schindle was taken to St. Francis' hospital, and Mink was placed in custody. Both men say the shooting was accidental.

Lithographers Meet.

Cincinnati, July 13.—The fourth biennial convention of the Lithographers' International Protective and Beneficial association opened here with 40 delegates present. Joseph R. Keogh of New York is president, August Zimmerman of Boston, vice president, and John B. Muir of New York, secretary and treasurer. The convention will be in secret session all week.

Distinguished California Lawyer Dead.

Sacremento, July 13.—Judge N. Green Curtis, one of California's oldest and most distinguished lawyers, is dead. He served three terms in the state senate. Deceased was a native of North Carolina, aged 71 years.

A POWER OF INFLUENCE.

As a popular thoroughfare for the great army of bicyclists the county macadamized road between this city and Elizabeth stands pre-eminent, and now that it is threatened with usurpation for trolley purposes the wheelmen have taken an interest in the preservation of its present condition. Including all classes and conditions of people, the enthusiasts of the silent steed compose a worthy auxiliary to the men of sound judgement who are opposing the granting of right of way to the trolley capitalists without some compensation equal to the privileges which such an act would carry with it. At the meeting of the Elizabeth Council Thursday night when action will be taken on the application for a trolley franchise on Westfield avenue, a portion of the county road!—Ex-Consul Gentle, of the L. A. W., will appear and protest in the nameof the wheelmen against the tracks being laid on the road.

REPUBLICAN TIPS.

"Freeholder," in the New York Press, has the following two tips on Union county Republican possibilities to offer this morning:

But it will not be easy for the three Republican Assemblymen in Union to capture renominations. Clauss, Codington and Roll have each had two terms, and there are others. Still these men have been winners, and if they promise to be good they may (with the accent on the may) be returned to the lower House.

George T. Parrot seems to be the early Republican bird for the Surrogate worm in Union county. Mr. Parrot has been in the official cage ten years and still has plenty of feathers to fly with.

LIBERAL ADVERTISING.

The New York Press lately expressed the conviction that the advertiser who gets his money back with interest is he who takes advantage of a large circulation to reach all classes. In other words, it is with advertising as with farming—it doesn't pay to do things in a small or illiberal way. Sowing plentifully and keeping everlastingly at it are what brings the big harvest.

TRACTION COMPANY TROUBLES.

Work of Construction Stopped Near Bound Brook.

The New York and Philadelphia Traction Company excavated over a mile of roadbed between Finderne and Bound Brook last week. A large force of men began work early in the week and were stopped by Deputy Sheriff Theodore Barcalow, who commanded the Traction Company to stop all work and to remove from the public highway all tracks, etc., that had been laid prior to July 3, 1897. The Supervisor has since learned that the order does not necessarily mean all that it says.

The Township Committee, by the advice of its counsel, is under the impression that the Traction Company has forfeited its franchise, and is now constructing its road without legal right.

The franchise was granted over two years ago, under condition that the trolley road should be built within a year.

The validity of the old franchise is still a mooted question, with the law somewhat in favor of the Traction Company.

It is stated that the Township Committee and representatives of the Traction Company will meet and adjust matters so that work will be resumed on the line by the first of next week.

It is the intention of the Traction Company to put the road between Somerville and Bound Brook in operation as soon as it is completed.

Passengers will be carried from East Somerville to the Bound Brook borough line until the company succeeds in getting its tracks through the towns.

Enjoyed Mountain Breezes.

A party of young people from the residence of Mason W. Tyler, of West Seventh street, went to Mrs. F. O. Herring's cottage, "Hilltop," on the mountain, yesterday afternoon, for an outing. The party was gotten up by Miss Schroder, a niece of Mr. Tyler's and three friends that she is entertaining and by Boardman Tyler and three friends from Amherst College, who are now visiting him.

Mrs. Isaac Brokaw, of West Fourth street, is improved from a recent illness.

—The county road between Cranford and Plainfield is fast becoming anything but one of the good roads we brag of. No repairs have been made since last year. The horses' shoes have begun to dig up the pavement, and small stones are scattered broadcast over the hard surface, destroying bicycle tires and making driving anything but the pleasure it should be.—Westfield Standard.

PASSING COMMENT.

The latest thing in summer hats for men seems to be the crash hats. They are cool and light, two important attributes for summer wear, and then they have found favor with the people which counts for everything. They are now getting quite common and all the dealers report a large demand for them.

The architects of this city say that business has picked up wonderfully the past spring and is good now. Quite a number of new houses are being erected about the city despite the report that there were already too many. The growth seems to be in the outlying portions of the city which the people are finding more preferable than a more central location.

Since Central avenue has been made one of the best thoroughfares in the city it has been the custom of commuters who have carriages, and who live in North Plainfield or the western part of the city, to drive from the station through West Second street to Central avenue and across Front street. At certain hours in the morning and evening a great many carriages pass at the corner of Front street and Central avenue, and a great number of complaints have been made concerning the speed of the trolley cars at the above point. It would pay the motormen to be a trifle careful and thus a serious accident may be averted.

A fin de siecle errand boy of this city has hit upon a way to escape censure at headquarters for being slow upon his journeyings. He was seen the other day to unscrew the valve and let the air out of the front tire of his bicycle. "I ought to have been back in the office an hour ago," he said in explanation, "and when I get there the boss will want to know what happened to me, and I'll show him the tire and tell him I got a puncture and had to walk back." By that time the tire was limp and flat, and the youth screwed up the valve and started for the office, around the corner, with a look of studied

Alex. Frazee, a freight handler, at the Central Railroad freighthouse, is a man of wonderful vitality—one who today carries around in his right arm between thirty and thirty five No. 4 buck shot, after having an even 100 of these missles removed from the side of his body. It will be remembered that Frazee was the victim of a murderous assault of an Italian with a shot gun at Scotch Plains last summer. He was taken to the hospital and the doctors said he was as good as dead. But Frazee had grit and nerve and he is a pretty good dead man just at present. To the surprise of his friends and physicians he left the hospital in two week and commenced work. He gradually regained his strength, and though he now carries the buck shot in his arm, just above the elbow, he handles as much freight as any of his associates. Frazee bared his arm in the presence of a Press reporter last night, and the shot could be seen standing out in little bunches all over the arm. Physicians are anxious to remove the shot, but Frazee says he if not quite ready for the operation. When he has them removed he says he will undergo the surgery without taking anything in the way of anasthetic. The Italian who tried to kill him escaped and has never been found.

Trolley Extension.

Edward Radel, secretary of the Brunswick Traction Company, has decided not to open bids for the construction of the line to Metuehen and Bound Brook until after the Middlesex County Board of Freeholders passes the franchise permitting the company to cross the Albany street bridge. It is expected that this will be done at the meeting of the board on July 23.

Dr. Gaston, of West Fifth street, has returned from a short sojourn at Asbury Park. Mrs. Gaston will remain at the Park for some time.

Rev. Dr. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church, will leave town during August to spend his vacation at Saratoga, his favorite resort in the summer.

The people in New Market are somewhat aroused over the fact that water pipes are to be laid from South Plainfield to Metuchen. The water supply at New Market is not very plentiful, and the residents think that should pipes be laid and water sent to Metuchen it will very naturally affect the supply at New Market. As yet no action has been taken regarding the matter.

Last Saturday the Piscataway Township Committee granted a franchise to the Brunswick Traction Company to operate a trolley in the township. The line will run from Metuchen to Bound Brook by the way of New Market. It is expected that the work of building the line will be commenced very soon. As yet the contract has not been given out but will be in a very few days. The residents of New Market are highly elated over the prospects of having a trolley run through their place for it will give them an opportunity to go to New Brunswick or Bound Brook where they can make purchases.

WESTFIELD

CAPTURED THE ROBBER.

GEORGE SIMMONS ARRESTED FOR ENTERING A CLUB HOUSE.

Culprit Stole Nine Dollars—Made a Confession When Locked Up—Township Bicycle Ordinance Not Yet Passed.

George Simmons, colored, was arrested and placed in jail by Constable Marsh yesterday afternoon for breaking into and robbing the Westfield Club House on last Friday night. Soon after his arrest, Simmons confessed to having committed the robbery. He was employed as one of the stewards in the club house until July 3d, when he received notice that his services would no longer be required. At the time of his discharge Simmons was suspected of taking small sums from the cash register, but no evidence could be secured to fasten the guilt upon him. After his discharge, when he could no longer gain entrance to the club house legitimately, he managed to unscrew the hinges on one of the cellar doors, and by this way he entered the building every night during the following week and extracted small sums from the register. Simmons was planning to go to Newark for a good time on Saturday, so on Friday night he took all the money that was in the register, something over $9. The following day Albert Williams, the other steward at the club house, happened to be in Newark on business, and he saw Simmons in company with "a lady," spending money lavishly. Yesterday he returned to Westfield, and went to the club house, where he was arrested. At first Simmons tried to assume an innocent air, but he soon weakened when questioned, and finally made a clean breast of the whole. It is thought that Simmons is not implicated in any of the burglaries that have been occurring in the town. He has borne a good character during his stay in the place. He came here from the south about one year ago.

Citizens are asking why the Township Committee did not consider the bicycle ordinance at its meeting last Friday night. Considerable care has been taken in the wording of the ordinance and those who have taken an interest in the matter believe that it will puzzle the keenest lawyer to evade the ordinance as it now stands, with the disorderly conduct clause. The committee seems to fear that it will be unable to enforce the ordinance after it is passed, but if this were so it would not render the committee in any way ridiculous because the number of townships that have passed similar laws is very large. Westfield's law may stand while the others fall. In any event, it will be as good as hundreds of other similar ordinances, the validity of which will probably be established in the courts before long.

Down In a Coal Mine

good qualities are easily determined from the poor. The solid chunks that are free from slate is the coal that brings the biggest prices. Crumbling coal is the kind that makes the dust and it's the kind you get when you are not careful where you buy. We sell the honest, solid coal for the price you've paid for the other sort,

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

ATTACKED BY THE POLICE.

A Party of Germans Roughly Handled While Returning From a Meeting.

Vienna, July 13.—At about midnight Sunday night, when a party of Germans who had been taking part in a demonstration at Waldsassen, in Bavaria, against the decree making the Czech language the official tongue in Bohemia, were returning in procession to Eger, they were met by the entire population, singing German songs, throwing flowers and in other ways giving them a warm welcome.

Suddenly the police and a frontier guard batallion of infantry, with fixed bayonets, marched up and ordered the people to disperse. Upon the slightest resistance being made, the police used their swords and the soldiers the butts of their rifles. Many persons were injured.

DR. TINKER ARRESTED.

Held Under Heavy Bail For Alienating a Wife's Affections.

New York, July 13.—Dr. Charles A. Tinker, was arrested and gave bail in the sum of $101.308, the bond being furnished by the City Trust and Safe Deposit company of Philadelphia.

The doctor was arrested on a judgment obtained against him for $50,653 by Frederick C. Colwell, a broker, for alienating the affections of Mrs. Colwell.

More than a year ago Colwell obtained a divorce, which was set aside on appeal. Colwell then sued Tinker for $50,000 for alienating the affections of Mrs. Colwell, and a jury gave a verdict for the full amount, with costs.

Death of a Prominent Troy Citizen.

Troy, N. Y., July 13.—James Barclay Jermain, the millionaire philanthropist and the wealthiest man in Albany county, passed away at his residence, Hedge Lawn, formerly the home of General Worth, on the Albany road. He was a graduate of Amherst, class of '31, and in 1883 endowed Williams college with a $50,000 professorship. It was through his liberality that the following were erected: The Jermain Memorial church, Watervliet, at a cost of $120,000; the magnificent building of the Albany Y. M. C. A., and the home for aged men on the Albany road. He is survived by three daughters.

Plague of Caterpillars.

Kingston, N. Y., July 13.—Forests and orchards of Delaware county are being denuded of foliage with frightful rapidity by the tree tent caterpillar, which closely resembles the gypsy moth. The maple forests near Arkville were first attacked about three weeks ago, and now hundreds of acres of maple and other forests are barren of leaves and dying. Cocoons are found in countless numbers in the infested section. Green fruit is dropping from the trees. The caterpillars move in battalions like the army worm and the ordinary arsenical insecticides have so far failed to stop them.

Commander Tucker Calls on President.

Washington, July 13.—Commander Booth Tucker, the head of the Salvation Army in the United States, called at the White House with a note of introduction from Vice President Hobart, with whom he had had a pleasant interview. President McKinley received Commander Booth Tucker cordially, expressing pleasure at meeting a man of whom he had heard so much and praising the work of the Salvation Army, in which he has long taken a friendly interest. Commander Booth Tucker presented the friendly greetings of the many thousands of Salvationists in the United States.

Establishing a Signal Line.

Gloucester, Mass., July 13.—A detachment of 25 men from the naval brigade, under charge of Lieutenant James P. Parker, signal officer, and Lieutenant G. R. H. Buffinton of the Sixth division of Fall River, are here to establish a line of signal stations along the north shore from the Merrimac river to Boston, by which in time of war a message could be sent through the line of stations or from each station or group of stations by telegraph or telephone to the statehouse, which would be the base of operations for this part of the coast in case of actual hostilities.

Trouble For New Haven Line.

New York, July 13.—Surveyor of the Port Maguire assigned Inspector C. A. Du Moulin, Jr., to count the passengers on board the steamboat Richard Peck of the New Haven line on Sunday. Du Moulin has reported that he was unable to carry out his instructions, because he had been ordered off the boat by Superintendent Geraty and afterward forcibly hustled ashore by one of the crew, who had the words "Ticket Seller" on his cap. If Du Moulin's complaint is correct, it is likely that the New Haven Steamboat company will be fined $500.

Drowned In the Canal.

Trenton, July 13.—John Bidlangmaier, aged 12 years, was drowned in the Delaware and Raritan canal. He was swimming with some other boys, when he suddenly sank. When he came to the surface again, he seized William Anderson, a companion, and nearly succeeded in drowning him. One of Anderson's friends, however, managed to break Bidlangmaier's hold, but could not save him. The boy's body has not been recovered.

New Club Incorporated.

Albany, July 13.—The Police and Fire club of New York city has been incorporated with the secretary of state. The directors are James M. Kelley, J. L. Bridgeford, Walter G. Phillips, Francis J. P. Smith and William N. Search. The club is organized for the purpose of uniting fraternally all male citizens of good moral character and acceptable for membership under its constitution and for social and benevolent purposes.

Animals For ex-Secretary Whitney.

Albany, July 13.—A shipment of 13 head of buffalo, 20 black tail deer and 20 antelope passed through this city. They are from the Moose Head ranch in Jackson Hole country of Wyoming, owned by A. B. Adams, and are en route to the stock farm of ex-Secretary William C. Whitney at Lenoxdale, Mass. Mr. Whitney now has the largest number of buffaloes owned in the east.

ARMENIAN REPORT.

The Turks Are Still Perpetrating Outrages.

VARIOUS FORMS OF PERSECUTION.

Women Dragged Through the Streets In Chains and Kept For Days Without Food—Other Diabolical Methods of Torture Inflicted.

Paris, July 13.—Pere Charmetant, the director general of the French mission in the Levant, has received by way of the Caucasus and Tiflis a report prepared by a number of Armenian notables and Gregorian bishops on the situation in Armenia.

It took the messenger who had the document in charge nearly three months to get through the difficulties and dangers along the Turkish frontier, which was carefully guarded against all Armenians or Armenian sympathizers.

The report, which fills 39 printed pages, is very carefully prepared and goes fully into the situation.

According to its authors, the Turks in Armenia, fearing European intervention, have abandoned the old practices of wholesale massacre, but during the last year there have been clandestine exterminations and most terrible persecutions, especially in the more remote provinces.

The Turks openly boast that they have sworn to wipe out the whole Armenian race slowly, but surely.

Various Forms of Persecution.

The document recites in detail various forms of persecution. It appears that the tax collectors seize the inhabitants if they do not pay everything demanded. "Women are taken through the streets with chains around their necks and kept for days without food. In some cases they are fastened to pillars, head downward. Freezing water is thrown over them, or they are beaten until the blood runs. In other cases their hands are tied behind their backs, and then cats, first made furious, are thrown into their bosoms. Often they are burned in various parts of their bodies with red hot irons.

"All the highways are guarded so as to prevent emigration. Not a single day passes without our hearing of or witnessing somewhere within our unfortunate provinces some fiendish cruelty. The Turks and Kurds enter the houses of Armenians in gangs, bind the men and then outrage their wives, sisters and daughters before their eyes."

The document concludes with the despairing cry, "Our hope is dying out. God help us. May Europe have pity upon us."

Incendiary Fire In Paris.

Paris, July 13.—A fire has occurred in the autocar and ordinary carriage works in this city, and before the flames were extinguished 20 autocars and 50 ordinary carriages were destroyed, besides all the co-operative workmen's tools, causing a loss of 300,000 francs. Two men, one of them an employee at the works, have been arrested on suspicion of having set the works on fire. They declare, however, that the fire was due to an accident, and their statement is probably true, as they gave the alarm as soon as the flames were discovered. There is no reason to believe that the Paris cabmen are responsible for or in any way connected with the fire.

Death of a Former Mill President.

Boston, July 13.—Samuel R. Payson, a retired business man and at one time a Manchester (N. H.) mill president, died at his residence in Belmont, aged 85 years. He had been in failing health for a year past. He was formerly a woolen commission merchant of Boston, when a young man. The firm went out of business in the fall of 1873, and in the following year he bought the Manchester mills and organized a new company, which, under his administration, had a most prosperous career.

Rain Saves the Corn Crop.

Lincoln, Neb., July 13.—The corn crop as a whole is safe. Reports have been received at the office of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad from all points in the territory adjacent to the company's lines in Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri show a general rainfall since Saturday sufficient to practically insure the success of the crop. Although some anxiety was felt on account of the very high temperature, no damage from hot winds has occurred.

Coal Train Wrecked.

New Straitsville, O., July 13.—Eight cars of coal standing on the siding at mine No. 3 were let loose by unknown persons and ran half a mile down grade through a switch, making a complete wreck. The Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron company, which owns the mine, offers a reward of $5,000 for the arrest of the guilty parties. This was the first overt act of violence in connection with the great coal strike.

Struck by Lightning and Burned.

Morristown, N. J., July 13.—The dwelling house of Henry Benbrook on Mount Komble avenue has been struck by lightning and burned. Benbrook and his wife were knocked insensible. Neighbors dragged them from the building, or they would have been burned alive. Both were resuscitated.

Sale of a Race Course.

Lexington, Ky., July 13.—The Kentucky association course, the oldest race track in the country, has been sold at court sale to Charles Green, agent for St. Louis bondholders for $23,325. The property was assessed ten years ago at $90,000. The Kentucky association will try to have the sale set aside.

Death of an Episcopal Clergyman.

Saratoga, July 13.—Rev. Dr. James Mulcahey, S. T. D., in the seventy-fifth year of his age, a retired Episcopal clergyman, of 94 Decatur street, Brooklyn, died of œdema of the lungs here. He arrived here two weeks ago and was ill only three days. The remains were taken to Brooklyn.

Drowned at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, July 13.—The first drowning of the season occurred when J. Barry of Philadelphia lost his life in the surf at the foot of St. Charles ave-

AROUND THE BASES.

A baseball team from the West End played a picked nine at Prideville, Sunday afternoon. The score was 13 to 12 in favor of the West End team.

The Stelton Athletic Club, which defeated the Crescents, Saturday, will go to Bound Brook, next Saturday, to play Drake's team there. The Stelton boys will have their hands full if the Bound Brooks are in condition.

Another change has been made in the schedule of the Crescent Baseball Club. The Plainfield Athletic Club team has practically disbanded and will not be able to play against the Crescents on August 21 as was scheduled. Instead a game will be played with the nine of the Seventh Regiment of New York. They will have a 'varsity battery.

George Bolsterli has severed his connection with the Plainfield Crescents and played his first game with the Westfield Athletic Club on Saturday afternoon. Chauncey Smith was ill and Bolsterli took his place at second base where he put up a good game. At batting, Bolsterli especially distinguished himself making two singles and a home run in four times at bat. George has been under the doctor's care for some time, but he has recovered sufficiently to be able to go on the field again.

Hollister played at short for the Crescents, Saturday, and put up a good game. McBeth started that game in that position, but he was changed after the first inning, going out to left field where he played an excellent game, catching everything that came anywhere near him. Hollister made several fumbles at short, but they proved inexpensive errors. He made one catch that brought him lots of applause. Daly, the Stelton second baseman, hit a hot liner right at Hollister who never had to move. He was ready for the ball, however, and caught it before the audience realized where the ball had gone.

The Crescents will play their first game out of town on Saturday afternoon of this week when the nine will go to Somerville to play a return game with the Somersets of that city. The game is to begin at 3:30 o'clock and the Plainfield team will go down in a stage. A number of rooters will accompany the team and many Plainfield enthusiasts are planning to ride to Somerville that day and witness the game. Manager Mumford is going to spare no effort to win the game and will have the best team possible to represent the Crescents on the diamond. McLarty will pitch with Winn as substitute and the Somersets found Mack a mystery when they met him before that they could not solve. There is going to be lots of fun anyhow, whoever wins and the game will be a lively one from start to finish.

After the last game with the Bound Brook Athletic Club, Manager Mumford, of the Plainfield Crescents, has decided that he does not care to have any more dealings with that aggregation of baseball players. It is not the manager but some of the players who made a very unfavorable impression in the city on July 5th when they played here. They were to come here again for the last game of the season on September 18th, but Manager Mumford has decided that he does not want a repetition of the other game and so has cancelled the game. Instead a game has been scheduled with the Riverdale Field Club, of Riverdale, New York, for that date. The Riverdales come with the best of reputations and are said to be a strong team. The nine is composed exclusively of brokers, who reside near Riverdale and like to spend their Saturday afternoons in playing ball. For their battery they have two old college men who made a great reputation for themselves while in college and are now trying to do likewise in the Stock Exchange. As far as rooting is concerned the Riverdales are bound to be a howling success.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Harry Thompson, of Belvidere avenue, is ill with the scarlet fever.

Mr. Watson, of New York, was the guest of Plainfield friends today.

F. H. Harder, of Madison avenue, left the city today for an extensive business trip.

Chief T. O. Doane, of the fire department, is in Newark and Brooklyn today on business.

Former City Judge W. A. Coddington drove over to New Brunswick on business this morning.

Herbert Crane, of Orange, visited Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Adams, of Netherwood, last Sunday.

Frank Frazee will leave for Canada, August 1, where he will take a position at the trade of electrician.

Miss Ethel Titsworth, of West Seventh street, is confined to her home with a mild attack of scarlet fever.

Miss Elizabeth Allis, of West Fifth street, has returned home after a visit at the home of her brother in Montclair.

Miss Alberta Irwin and Miss Edith Beach have returned to Brooklyn after a visit with their friend, Miss Eva DuB. Benton, of the Babcock building.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—City Judge DeMeza has purchased the stable outfit of the late Samuel P. Mulford, of New York.

—For the past few days the town clock has been off on a vacation, and it needs a little attention to return it to duty.

—Miss Julia Wyckoff, manager of the Woman's Exchange on Park avenue, will close the exchange at noon during the warm weather.

—The young people of the Seventh Day Baptist church had an outing planned for this evening, which will probably have to be given up on account of the wet.

—Plainfield Lodge, No 44, I.O O.F., held a meeting last evening and appointed a committee to receive District Deputy Stamets and staff, who will be present Monday next to install officers.

May Have Revival Meetings.

There will be a special meeting of the members of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, Friday evening, after the regular Friday evening service, to discuss the advisability of holding a series of revival meetings in connection with the annual meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist churches of New Jersey and New York city, which is to be held in this city in November. The plan, as proposed, is to have a special evangelist here for the time and conduct revival meetings while the annual meeting is in session and then continue them for some time afterwards. The meetings will be especially for those who are accustomed to attend that church, but all will be invited.

Jerusalem Lodge Conferred Degrees.

Notwithstanding the heavy rain, Jerusalem Lodge, F. and A. M., had a good attendance at its meeting last night. The Master Mason's degree was conferred upon three candidates, and the members then adjourned to the banquet hall, where a collation was served.

A PEOPLE OF FEW WORDS.

"Let your speech be yea, yea, and nay, nay," says the Good Book, "for whosoever is more than these cometh of evil." The Shakers abide by the spirit of this rule. Their words are few, simple, sincere and direct. They waste no energy in idle talk; they use it in thinking and doing. And whatever they do they do with their might. They are content with nothing short of the essence and principle of the things they investigate. They take pains and are patient. And thus the doors of many strange truths open to them. In this way they discovered what may almost be called the unity of disease. A venerable Shaker says of it: "It is said that one man's meat is another man's poison. That is but half the truth. Any man's meat is any man's poison, under certain conditions. If the grain never got further than the hopper we should never have bread; and if bread never got further than the stomach we should never have strength. When the stomach is torpid, helpless and inflamed the food lies in it and rots. This fermetnation produces poisons which may, and often do, disorder every other organ and function of the body. This is indigestion or dyspepsia, with many symptoms and disguises. Cure it and you cure nine-tenths of your complaints." These words were uttered many years ago. Since then they have found a remedy, now known as Shaker Digestive Cordial. It is made from medicinal plants cultivated by them. It is a food and digests other foods. Taken while eating it rests the stomach and nourishes the system. The pain and distresses of dyspepsia disappear before it. It prevents fermentation and soon restores full power to the digestion. It succeeds in the worst cases. It is worthy the name of the people whose name it bears. Any druggist will sell you a trial bottle for ten cents.

to regulate the use of bicycles, tricycles and similar vehicles and other road vehicles in the public roads, streets and highways of the Township of Fanwood.

The Inhabitants of the Township of Fanwood by their Township Committee do enact as follows:

Section 1. That all bicycles, tricycles and similar vehicles when in use on the public highways, streets or roads within the Township of Fanwood are hereafter required to have a lamp of such illuminating power as to be plainly seen one hundred yards, attached thereto, and kept lighted between one hour after sunset and sunrise.

Section 2. That all bicycles, tricycles and similar vehicles shall carry a suitable bell attached to the handle bar of the machine which when rung may be heard 100 feet distant. That such bell shall be sounded as an alarm by the rider of such vehicle upon approaching another vehicle from the rear, or upon approaching pedestrians crossing the street, or upon the approach of another vehicle on the same street or on a street intersecting the street, road or highway ridden upon.

Section 3. That no person shall ride upon any bicycle, tricycle or similar machine upon any sidewalk within the limits of the township of Fanwood, providing that the term sidewalk as used in this ordinance shall be construed to mean such sidewalk only concerning which the inhabitants of the township of Fanwood have power to pass ordinances under and by virtue of paragraph V section 1 of chapter 8 of the Public Laws of 1896, and provided, further that this section shall not apply to the riding of any bicycle, tricycle, or similar machine upon any sidewalk when necessary to ride upon said sidewalk in passing to or from private premises to or from the roadbed of any street, road or highway.

Section 4. That no person shall ride upon any bicycle, tricycle or similiar vehicle or other road vehicle in any public road, street or highway of the township of Fanwood at a greater speed than the rate of twelve miles per hour.

Section 5. That every violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall render the offender subject to a fine not exceeding the sum of five dollars for each offence, and that the justice of the peace or other magistrate who may have jurisdiction over such offences in violation of this ordinance may impose such fine in his discretion as he may think proper not exceeding the sum of five dollars for each offence.

PROPOSAL.

Office of the Board of Education.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Board of Education of the city of Plainfield, N. J., at a meeting held July 8th, 1897, notice is hereby given that the Board of Education will meet on July 22d next at the Board room, in the High School, corner of West Fifth street and Arlington avenue, in the city of Plainfield, at 8 o'clock at which time and place said Board of Education will receive sealed proposals for furnishing 500 tons, more or less, of the best coal suitable for steam and hot air heating in pea, No. 1 chestnut, stove and egg sizes, all coal to be thoroughly screened, trimmed and placed in the bins within the public school buildings, without any extra expense to the Board for such handling and to be delivered at such time as the Board may direct. Bids to specify the quality of the coal and whether long or short tons. Payment for all coal contracted for to be made after September 1st next. All proposals to be endorsed proposals for coal.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Board will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided such parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Board. By the order of Board.

A NEW TROLLEY SCHEME.

PROPOSITION THAT UNION COUNTY GO INTO RAILROADING.

Lawyer Frank Bergen Advances an Idea That is Rather Startling and Novel—He Makes a Strong Argument For the Idea.

Frank Bergen, Esq., presented the following plan to the Elizabeth council at the hearing on July 7, as a complete solution of the question of a trolley line between that city and Plainfield:

"There is probably no territory in the vicinity of Greater New York, now unoccupied by a street railroad, that offers a more desirable opportunity for a street railroad company than the territory between Elizabeth and Plainfield. There are six villages along the proposed line, viz.: Lorraine, Roselle, Cranford, Garwood, Westfield and Fanwood, not to speak of the intermediate localities, where more or less building is going on.

"I think a double track street railroad should be built from here to Plainfield in the middle of the county road; but it should be built by the county and leased for short periods—say, five or ten years—to the person or corporation that will furnish the rolling stock and agree to terms most favorable to the public, so that by increasing the rent from time to time the public will get the benefit of the increase in the value of the railroad that is certain to accure. Besides fixing the amount of rent, the lease should contain other provisions that will secure satisfactory public service.

"I think the county road should be widened to at least 80 feet, and, better still, to a hundred feet, all the way to Plainfield. Sensible men could do it at a moderate expense, except possibly through the villages of Cranford and Westfield for a distance of about 2,500 feet; but this difficulty could be overcome by building the westbound track on one street and the eastbound track on another through the villages, so as not to crowd or interfere with other vehicles.

"There has been more or less talk about building a street railroad from here to Westfield on the south side of the Central Railroad, and on the north side from Westfield to Plainfield, or on an independent right of way. I do not think the public would get much benefit from a road so constructed, and the company that should build it would soon be in the hands of a receiver. The place for a street railroad is through a thickly settled locality, that is, on streets where people live and move and have their business. They cannot elsewhere render the service for which they were designed. I would as soon think of building a street railroad 50 feet up the air, or in a tunnel 50 feet under the ground, as to build it through the backwoods or through a swamp.

"I am convinced that a study of this subject will satisfy any one that sound public policy requires the construction of a street railroad from here to Plainfield by the county. Some one may ask: Is the county able to construct the road? This question can be answered easily. By the assessment made last year we had in Union county taxable property to the amount of $37,672,468, and the debt of the county is less than half a million, nearly all bearing interest at 4 per cent. The county could build a double track street railroad from here to Plainfield for less than one and one half per cent. of the assessed value of the property within its limits; that is, for less than 1 per cent. of the real value of the property. Indeed, the county can build the road on better terms than any street railroad corporation. The county can borrow the money at 4 per cent., and sell its bonds at a premium. A corporation could not borrow the money at a less rate than 5 per cent, and the bond-buyers would probably expect a liberal bonus in the form of stock.

"It is true there is no law in force at present that would permit the county to widen the county road and build a street railraod upon it; but I have already drawn a bill, and I have it here—a supplement to the county road act—which gives to the county ample power, under all necessary safeguards, to make this great improvement.

"No doubt the telford road extending from here to Plainfield is a good thing. It has already been of great benefit to the county; but a trolley road over the same route would be a better thing, and much more beneficial. The freeholders built the telford road, and did it admirably. There is no reason to think they cannot successfully improve the county road from here to Plainfield by making it wider and laying rails in the middle. If the present opportunity is neglected it will be perpetual misfortune."

—The members of the chorus choir of the Grace P. E. church will end their duties on the last Sunday in July to resume them in September.

CALLED HIM A HAYSEED.

A SARCASTIC WORD ADDS TO SOMERSET TROLLEY TROUBLE.

Cross-State Line Loses Some of Its Supporters in Bridgewater Because of an Uncalledfor Remark to Chairman Gulick.

The Brunswick Traction Company has filed an application before the Bridgewater Township Committee for a franchise to build its line to Somerville on the public highway now occupied by the tracks of the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company. It was believed the Bridgewater township committee would patch up differences with the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company and allow it to continue its line to Bound Brook. Instead the committee refused to take action and will give the matter no further consideration until the franchise for the Brunswick Traction Company receives attention, two weeks hence.

It is said that the manager of the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company called Chairman Gulick, of the committee, a hayseed. The committee, it is said, is inclined to resent this.

If the motion of the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company to have a writ to set aside be granted by Judge Magee it will practically bring the trolley war to an end, as such a decision would declare valid the franchises that give the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company the right of way from Raritan to New Brunswick, it is claimed. The case was heard yesterday in Elizabeth.

A BATTLE ROYAL.

Mothers Take the Part of Quarreling Children and Get Into a Fight.

A battle royal took place between Mrs. Mary Gleason and Mrs. Salema Vintilla, on West Fourth street near Plainfield avenue, about 9 o'clock this morning. The Gleasons and the Vintillas are next door neighbors, and the children of the two families play together.

This morning the youngsters quarrelled and came to blows. Mrs Vintilla and Mrs. Gleason both rushed in to protect their offspring, and Mrs. Vintilla received an ugly blow upon the eye. The wound bled freely and the skin was badly discolored.

Mrs. Vintilla claims that her neighbor struck her with a broomstick. She went before Justice Mosher and swore out a warrant for Mrs. Gleason's arrest, the charge being assault and battery.

The hearing was held at 2 o'clock and the justice dismissed the charge.

FLAG RAISING AND CLAMBAKE.

A Great Feast at "Bill" Emery's Hotel Thursday Afternoon.

The flag-raising and clam-bake at Wm. Emery's hotel at Scotch Plains tomorrow afternoon, promises to be a grand affair, and a large number of friends from this city expect to attend.

George Thatcher, the minstrel, and "Ed" Marble, the famous author, will act as masters of ceremonies, and the gentlemen will make things pleasant for the guests, while a genuine clambaker from Providence, R. I., will prepare the tempting feast.

The bake will be served at 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Lecture to be Repeated.

A trip by lime light views through Europe, Italy, Greece, Egypt and the Holy Land, was the subject of the lecture which was to have been given at the Y. M. C. A. last evening by Rev. Ira McConaughy, who made the trip on a wheel. The severe storm kept a great many people away. The speaker exhibited a number of excellent views and gave a short talk regarding his trip. Mr. McConaughy is a highly interesting speaker and those who were present thoroughly enjoyed his short sketch. The lecture will be given in its entirety on Friday evening at the same place.

Damage to Catch Basins.

The heavy rainfall Monday evening made considerable trouble for the city at the two new catch basins that are being put in on East Second street, between Richmond and Washington streets. One of the catch basins was just completed. The water caused the earth around it to settle quite rapidly and the stones that were laid at the top sank far below the surface of the road and an ugly hole was left. The other basin was not ready for use, but the water ran in and filled it up so that it had to be pumped out this morning. The other basin was also repaired.

THE SHERIDAN'S PASSING

ELIZABETH'S FAMOUS HOSTLERY DOOMED TO SPEEDY DEMOLITION.

Varied Career of the Old House—Politicians Cooked Up Many Schemes in the Rooms Now Empty and About Deserted.

The Sheridan House, Elizabeth's most famous hostelry, is soon to be demolished. The county of Union has purchased the hotel site for $25,000 to erect a new court-house. The old hotel building will be sold at public auction.

There was an old fort, it is said, during the Revolution on the spot where the hotel now stands. Here many men who afterwards became prominent in Union County received part of their education.

The first proprietor of the Sheridan House was A. L. Snowhill, who was succeeded by Capt. William Gill, of the United States Army, and who was afterwards commandant at the Arsenal in Philadelphia. He ran the hotel several years until Col. George Miller bought it from him.

The next proprietor was George Mills, then came John A. Staats, Mr. Saunders, Charles Smalley, Mrs. Ramsay and Mrs. Haines, and John A. Staats, again.

The old Sheridan House has had an eventful career. In the little sitting-rooms off the bar many political and business schemes have been arranged.

The hotel was the favorite haunt for years of such men as the late Gov. Green, Gen. J. Augustus Fay, Contractor Michael Doyle, ex-Speaker John Eagan, Postmaster Sheridan, County Clerk Gerber, Reuben J. Ryan, president of the Board of Education; James Fisher, Col. Calhoun, Capt. Tubbs, Capt. John H. Whelan and Deputy-Surrogate Smith, all of whom have passed away.

Col. Miller, one of its proprietors, who for years conducted Laing's Hotel and the City Hotel in this city, always wore a high silk hat and drank nothing but "ponies" of brandy.

The noted court house ring had their headquarters in the hotel. Such well-known, old-time political lights as Chief of Police Johnson Yates, George Potter, Dick Feore, Senator Wiley, George Ropes, Alderman Schenck, who was the right-hand man of Anthony Dimock, then the young Napoleon of Wall street, frequented the hotel during the years from 1869 to 1873.

Among the memorable scenes at the hotel was the reconciliation between Congressman John T. Dunn and President Jacob Smith, of the City Council, who for years had been bitter political enemies.

The County Collector always gave his annual dinner to the county and city officials at the Sheridan House.

Several suicides have occurred at the hotel and thrilling stories have been written about alleged attempted murders there.

A great night at the hotel was when the New Jersey Jockey Club closed its last meeting at the Elizabeth track. Champagne flowed like water and nearly $300 worth of wine was consumed, but Proprietor Staats is still waiting for this money and expects to keep on doing so.

Ex-Marshal Kliner's Statement.

Former Marshal Jacob Kliner called at the Daily Press office this morning and stated that he wished to deny the statement that he tried hard to get the appointment of marshal in North Plainfield. He says that he only talked with T. J. Carey, chairman of the License and Marshal Committee, regarding the appointment. He also says that he defies anyone to say that he did not perform his duty satisfactorily. He says that he thinks the new rules adopted by the council are too severe and strict.

A Veteran Suddenly Taken Ill.

Last evening previous to the meeting of the G. A. R. Post, Commander I. L. McVoy was taken seriously ill with cramps. He had to be taken to his home, on East Front street, where medical aid was summoned. His condition throughout the night was serious, but this morning he is reported as being slightly improved.

To be a Costly House.

Pearson & Gayle, contractors, commenced the remodelling of Mrs. George H. Burgess' house on Central avenue, which when completed, will compare favorably with any in Plainfield. About $15,000 is being expended in the completion. Charles H. Smith, of Grove street, is the architect.

Yellow Sign of Contagion.

A contagious disease card has been placed on the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Thorn, of West Front street. A gentleman who is stopping there has been ill for some time and it was only recently that it was determined that he had scarlet fever. The patient is now almost well.

SMALL BOY'S TIME OF JOY

HE WAS UP BEFORE DAWN TO SEE THE CIRCUS ARRIVE.

Watched With Pleasure and Curiosity the Work of Putting Up the Tented City, Wherein are Many Wonders.

Fourth of July and the day that the circus comes to town are rival candidates for the all-important episodes in the eyes of the American small boy. In the mind of the Plainfield small boy, today, the circus day has probably assumed the supreme place for the present.

This morning twenty-seven passenger, freight and flat cars arrived at the freight house yards, bringing the horses, equipment and personel of the great Wallace shows, which are to make a one-day stand in this city and exhibit both afternoon and evening in their tents at the corner of Berckman street and North avenue.

Yesterday was a rather trying day for the mother of the small boy. The rain came down with pitiless force, with never a sign of clear weather for circus day. If the small boy asked her once, he asked her fifty times if it was going to rain tomorrow. He also plagued the life out of his older sister with the same question, and finally upset the new vase her young man had brought her, in his efforts to look out of the window and find a rift in the clouds.

When he woke up at 3 o'clock, it was still cludy but there was no rain falling and so, with two hundred and ninety-nine other small boys, he waded through the mud and mire to the freight station.

Three hundred little hearts gave a decided sigh of relief when they saw that the circus had not come yet. Then they lined up along the bank and waited. They watched the sun rise, or rather watched the light increase for the sun was hidden behind the clouds. An hour passed. Neither sun nor circus appeared. Another hour passed and the clouds began to break and soon the glorious sun burst forth through a rift in the clouds and circus day promised to be fine after all. The little army of watchers stood patiently at their post while hunger gnawed within them in vain.

After three hours and thirty minutes of waiting, the small boys were rewarded. At 7:30 o'clock the first section of the train bearing the circus paraphernalia arrived and the small boy was happy. What though his feet were wet and muddy, what though he had stood all through the weary wait without any breakfast, his heart's desire was satisfied, he had seen the circus train arrive and the horses unloaded.

There were twenty seven cars in all and the work of unloading them began at once. The circus men said that the facilities for unloading in Plainfield were the best that they had met with on their travels.

The tents, that were snowy-white once, perhaps, were soon in position and a canvas city sprang up by magic. Everything was done systematically and as this paper goes to press the the show is going on.

JUST AS DOMESTIC AS EVER.

Lincoln's Councilwomen are Pursuing the Even Tenor of Their Way.

Miss Emma Egel and Mrs. Oliva Hazard, who have suddenly become famous by being elected as members of the new Common Council of Lincoln, are attending to their domestic duties as faithfully and regulary as before they acquired the honor of becoming municipal solons. Though Miss Egel is a little more distinguished of the two fair members of the Council, on account of her youth and selection to the honorary position of president of the Common Council, she is still a great helpmeet to her mother in caring for the large farmhouse that is her home. In her spare moments she studies parliamentary rules and meditates on the important functions of her position.

Mrs. Hazard also lives on a farm, a short distance from the townhall where she will be called to officiate the second Saturday of each month. In her husband she has a companion in whom she can confide her Councilmanic troubles and receive the advice that comes from a more extensive experience with worldly affairs.

Mayor Drake feels highly elated over the apparent success of inducing Lincoln's men to allow women an equal voice in the affairs of the municipality.

Water Supply for Metuchen.

The Middlesex Water Company is pushing forward the work of laying pipes for a water supply for Metuchen. The water to be furnished is of excellent quality and the supply is practically unlimited.

Miss Ridout, of Baltimore, is the guest of Miss Annie Jennings, of Rockview avenue.

HEAVY DAMAGE ACTION.

METROPOLITAN TRACTION COMPANY ASKED TO PAY $10,000.

Mrs. Northup Sustained Serious Injuries by Being Thrown From a Car, Owing, it is Alleged, to Conductor's Negligence.

A delay of perhaps a few seconds by one of the conductors of the Metropolitan Traction Company, of New York, may have saved that corporation considerable money. The conductor was in a hurry and pulled the bell rope, Mrs. Northup claims, before she had a chance to board the car, and she was thrown to the hard pavement of the street and received injuries that have proved very serious. Now comes a suit far $10,000. The preliminary papers have been filed in the Supreme Court of the State of New York and the suit has begun.

It was on Monday, June 21st, that the accident happened. Mrs. Northrup was coming to this city to remain with her daughter, Mrs. Albert Demarest, of West Front street. She had been visiting with friends in Providence, R. I. Her home is in Plainfield.

Mrs. Northrup came on a train on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad and was landed at the Grand Central station. She went out from the station to Forty-second street and started to board a car going down town. The car stopped and Mrs. Northrup attempted to step on board. Her claim is that the conductor started up before she had a chance to gain the platform and that she was thrown violently backward by the sudden starting of the car. She was thrown to the ground and struck the hard block pavement on her left side and back.

She arrived in this city about 8 o'clock that evening and was conveyed from the North avenue station to the home of her daughter in the ambulence.

Mrs. Northrup was attended by Dr. Probasco who also looked after her removal from the train to the home of her daughter. Her injuries were quite serious and she has been confined with them ever since the accident.

Her legal advisor is City Judge DeMeza who in conjunction with Campbell, Ford and Hance, the well-known New York lawyers, has brought the suit.

REPUBLICANS RESPONSIBLE

But the G. O. P. Came Up to Time and Settled in Full.

One night last November the excitement in the Republican headquarters on East Front street reach such a pitch that someone turned on the faucet to the city water and forgot to turn it off. As the night passed, the water trickled down from the abode of the politicians of the G. O. P. and on the goods of Miss L. B. Adams, the East Front street milliner. The goods were damaged to a considerable extent.

A lawsuit promised to result and Miss Adams retained Francis J. Blatz as her attorney. Now the Republican Association has settled in full to the demands.

BIG FLOOD DISASTER.

Everything in the Path of the Torrent Swept Away.

Newburgh, N. Y., July 14—Melzingah reservoir in the Fishkill Mountains, near Matteawan, burst at a little before 3 o'clock this morning, owing to the heavy rains. The water ran into the creek, and two miles below, near Dutchess Junction, washed away some brickyard buildings, including a boarding house occupied by the laborers. It is reported here that nine of them were drowned and that a number of others are missing.

Threw the Driver Out.

One of P. M. Demarest's horses attached to a delivery wagon ran away yesterday afternoon. The boy in charge was just getting into the wagon on LaGrande avenue when the horse became frightened and ran away, throwing the boy out. He ran after the horse and finally managed to climb in the back of the wagon when the tail-board gave way and he was again thrown out. The horse ran to Park avenue and down that thoroughfare to Front street. The horse was finally stopped by a collision with a hitching post. One wheel was wrecked.

Looking After Street Work

The Councilmanic street committee met last evening and made further arrangements for looking after the streets of the city. It was decided that after the work of macadamizing West Front street is completed to take the steam roller off of the streets until cooler weather. Four gangs will be employed after next month to do general repair work all over the city, both on macadam and dirt roads.

A JOKE ON SOUBRETTES.

TWO FAIR DAMSELS DROVE FARMER BAKER'S HORSE TOO FAST.

Won the Heart of the Farmer's Son and Borrowed the Pet Horse—Chased by the Irate Farmer Who Took It From Them.

Miss Sarah Peck and Miss Lucy Alsock, two charming young New York soubrettes, who are summering with a family on the outskirts of the city, were led into an amusing situation on Monday afternoon by indulging in what they thought would be a delightful piece of frolic at the expense of one of their friends, Alexander Baker, the son of Farmer Judson Baker, of Piscataway. Young Baker's father is an admirer of fine horse flesh, and possesses a handsome and valuable road horse in which he takes great pride. The son drove to this city with the pet horse on Monday and met the two young ladies.

"Oh, go on, Alec," pleaded the young girls as they cast admiring glances at the horse, "let us take him for a little while and drive around town while you're doing your errands. We won't harm him."

The fact that the horse was comparatively gentle in disposition and the persuasive manner of the fair acquaintances influenced young Baker to let the girls take the horse for a drive.

The girls determined to have a little fun all by themselves, and as soon as they got of out of sight of Baker they started out West Front street at a lively gait. Out through Dunellen they drove like jockeys, while the townspeople gazed with wondering eyes at the reckless manner of their driving. It happens that Baker lived on one of the main roads to Bound Brook, and unfortunately for the youug ladies they took that direction. They drove by the farmer's place at a killing pace and attracted the attention of Baker. He immediately recognized his horse and rig and ran out in the road yelling at the top of his voice:

"Hey, there, gals wait a minute."

The girls only waved a defiant adieu and disappeared down the road, and in a few minutes drove up in front of a hotel just this side of Bound Brook. Following them soon after came Farmer Baker. He asked the girls where they got the rig and they frankly told him—unconscious of his identity—where they got it and what a joke they were having on his son. Baker acted promptly.

"Well, now that's a howdedo, I must say," angrily replied the farmer, "now you girls just get out of that wagon. You've been abusing that horse."

The girls realized that they had been too rash. Discomfited, they complied with Baker's order. Baker drove back home leading one horse from behind the rig he occupied. The girls were puzzled as to how they were going to get back to Plainfield, but they finally prevailed on a sympathetic neighbor to bring them back home for $1.

Farmer Baker's son no longer has the use of the pet road horse.

HIS FOOT WAS CRUSHED.

Thomas McGrath's Expensive Leap From a Coal Train.

Thomas McGrath, a tinsmith, was stealing a ride from Easton to Jersey City on a Central coal train, yesterday. As the train was passing through this city, McGrath caught sight of C. W. Barras, a friend whom he had not seen for over a year. He leaped from the train, but slipped, and his right foot was caught beneath a wheel. The toes were badly crushed. Barrows wished to call an ambulance and send McGrath to the Muhlenberg Hospital, but the injured man would not consent to this. The injured foot was bound up and McGrath started for Somerville, where he has friends.

Almost Lost One of His Feet.

George Service, of East Third street, had a narrow escape from losing his foot a few days ago. He was in his yard cutting wood with an axe when he missed his aim and instead of striking the wood the axe came in contact with his foot. As a result his foot was almost cut in half. The fact that he had on a new pair of shoes no doubt protected his foot a great deal. He succeeded in reaching his house when medical aid was summoned and the injured foot was attended to. Mr. Service is able to get about a little but it will be a long time before he will again have the use of his foot.

To Fix the County Tax Rate.

The annual meeting of the Union County Board of Assessors will be held Monday at the Court House, Elizabeth. The tax valuations of the different cities and townships will be fixed and the county tax rate determined.

TARIFF CONFERENCE.

Representatives of Both Houses Have Another Meeting.

SUGAR AND WOOL THE MAIN TOPICS.

A Final Agreement Has Not Yet Been Reached Upon Either Article Compromises May Be Agreed to In Order to Settle the Questions.

Washington, July 14.—The representatives of the two houses of congress have had another extended conference on the tariff bill. There were occasional consultations with other senators or members of the house upon points at issue, but these were brief, so that comparatively little information as to the progress made found its way to outsiders.

It is known that almost the entire time was devoted to the sugar and wool schedules, and the best information obtainable is that a final agreement was not reached upon either.

Senator Platt of New York, who has been absent most of the time since the bill went into conference, returned and was in close conference much of the time with Senator Quay.

At one time the senate and house conferees separated, the house men repairing to the ways and means committee's room. It was generally believed that this action on the part of the house men was for the purpose of deciding upon a line of policy on sugar, but they declined to give out any information.

Contrary to published reports, it is positively asserted that the sugar schedule has not been agreed upon, and, in fact, that all the big questions before the conference, which have seemingly been settled, are only tentatively agreed to, one side or the other insisting that they shall be held open. Nothing will be finally closed so far as the matters of importance are concerned until all have been decided upon and the conferees are ready to come to a complete agreement.

Wool Schedule May Be Settled.

It is believed that the wool schedule, which has occupied the attention of the conferees more or less, can now be settled whenever other matters have reached a stage for final adjustment.

The senate conferees are ready to compromise the differences on first and second class wools by making them both dutiable at 11 cents, and a compromise on third class wools has been suggested by house members of the conference, concerning which they express the hope that it will be satisfactory to both the woolgrowers and the carpet manufacturers, but this is not assured.

This compromise proposition looks to fixing a rate of 2 cents a pound on all wool of a value less than 10 cents a pound, of 5 cents on wool valued at more than 10 cents and less than 13 cents a pound and of 8 cents on that above 13 cents a pound in value.

This proposition was submitted to the representatives in the senate of both the woolgrowers and the carpet manufacturers, and both sides took the matter under advisement. Senator Penrose, representing the carpet men, telegraphed for some of them to come to Washington for conference. The attempt of some of the house conferees to secure an increased rate on skirted wools has failed. The question of jute, jute bagging, burlaps, cotton bagging and cotton ties, which the senate placed on the free list, is causing much trouble. The house conferees insist that these items shall go back on the dutiable list, and the senate conferees plead that if they are put back delay must be the result in the senate.

Debate In the Senate.

Washington, July 14.—The price to be paid for armor plate for the three new battleships now in course of construction was the theme of extended and at times lively debate in the senate, following which an amendment to the deficiency appropriation bill was agreed to restricting the price of armor plate to $300 per ton, or $125 less than the amendment reported by the committee and recommended by the navy department as the minimum rate acceptable to the armor contractors.

Another amendment inserted in the bill directs the secretary of the navy to investigate as to the establishment of a government armor factory and to report to the next session of congress.

During the debate Mr. Hale urged that the failure to equip the battleships with armor would humiliate the United States in the eyes of the world and would lessen our naval power at a time of possible foreign complication. After inserting the armor amendments the deficiency appropriation bill, the last of the great supply measures, was passed.

Senator Butler introduced a bill providing for the establishment of a system of postal savings banks under the supervision of the postmaster general and the secretary of the treasury. It creates every postoffice a savings bank, permitting the opening of accounts on not less than 50 cents and permitting no deposits of less than 10 cents.

The senate has confirmed Louis Lange, Jr., of Illinois to be consul at Bremen.

Tried to Jump From the Eiffel Tower.

Paris, July 14.—A man giving his name as Richard Cartwright and his address as 2136 Walnut street, Philadelphia, attempted to commit suicide by jumping from the second story of the Eiffel tower. He was prevented from carrying out his intention by tower officials, who seized him as he was climbing over the handrail surrounding the tower. Cartwright was released by the officials upon declaring that he had lost his head owing to the excessive heat.

Damage by Flood.

Cloquet, Minn., July 14.—The river situation is very grave. Bridges above and below town are out. The Duluth and Western tracks are three feet under water, and Grand Rapids is cut off from all communication. Nearly 100,000,000 feet of logs are in the boom above Cloquet, and if they go, as is feared, they will take out five large sawmills and all the buildings on Dunlaps island.

Injured by a Falling Tank.

Buffalo, July 14.—A water tank on top of the five-story tannery of Schoelkopf & Co. crashed through the roof and finally collapsed at the second floor, where it struck a beam. Five men, Frank Dobresu, his son John, Gustavus Flears, John Richter and Frank Fisher were injured, but none of them fatally.

REPUBLICAN LEAGUE

Opening of the Convention at Detroit.

A FAIR ATTENDANCE WAS PRESENT.

Address of Welcome Made by Governor Pingree — In the Election For the Presidency the Candidates Express Confidence of Success.

Detroit, July 14.—The National Republican league convention opened with a fair attendance of delegates for an off year in politics. Nearly all the states are represented, although the quotas of delegates are small in several instances. The absence of party leaders who are prominently identified with the administrative and legislative departments of the national and state governments is a conspicuous feature.

The radical partisanship of the league men was illustrated in the fact that Mayor Maybury, a Democrat, was not invited to offer a welcome to the delegates, Colonel H. M. Duffield having been selected instead by the local committee. In his address of welcome Governor Pingree voiced his well known opposition to favored corporations, while Colonel Duffield, who followed, took occasion to remind the governor, who had said that the hope of the country was in the people, that "the hope of the people is in the Republican party" and that while it was easy to arouse a handclap against corporations the country could not live without them.

The addresses of President Woodmansee and of President Dingley of the Michigan league, son of the chairman of the ways and means committee, were enthusiastically received, and the convention adjourned early after the usual routine business.

Last night's mass meeting in the convention hall was entertained for the most part by extemporaneous speeches. Senators Hanna and Thurston and some of the others scheduled to appear not being present.

The contest for the league presidency, which will be settled by today's election, goes merrily on. Crawford of Kentucky and Fleitz of Pennsylvania each professes confidence in his election, while Pollasky of Chicago asserts that he is still in the race, notwithstanding the Illinois delegation is not giving him united support.

Today is held the convention of the Republican College league. The attendance is light, as the sentiment of the college men is that their gathering should hereafter be held in April, during the school year, when their members can better be assembled.

New Hampshire Hotel Burned.

Exeter, N. H., July 14.—Fire broke out on the roof of the Swampscott House, the largest hotel in this town. Before the fire department could get in effective work the building was destroyed, entailing a loss of $25,000. The high wind which prevailed prevented the local apparatus from doing effective work, and assistance was summoned from Haverhill, Dover and other points. The augmented forces by great effort confined the flames to the hotel. The hotel employees occupied the upper story. They will lose everything. There were a number of guests in the house, but all escaped with their belongings. There was an insurance of $15,000 on the property.

Plot to Escape Frustrated.

Providence, July 14.—Spike Murphy, who is serving a life sentence in the state prison for murder, has been detected in another effort to hatch a plot to escape. Murphy's plan was doubtless the same as those which he has contrived before, to overpower the guard, secure his weapons and fight his way out of jail. The plan was nipped in the bud, but the officials say that this is the line on which his former attempts have run. Murphy is now at work with a 50 pound ball attached to his leg. He has made about 20 attempts to break jail since coming to the prison.

New Trial Denied.

Harrisburg, July 14.—Judge Simonton has overruled the motion for a new trial in the case of Dr. S. C. Swallow, convicted of libeling Captain John C. Delancy, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, in the Pennsylvania Methodist, of which he is the editor. Swallow was convicted some time ago. The court thinks the reasons for a new trial were insufficient and not weighty enough. The motion for an arrest of judgment was also overruled. The case will be taken to the superior court.

Play Ends With a Real Tragedy.

Atlanta, July 14.—In a play presented by colored amateurs in Pittsburg, a suburb of this city, John Singleton acted a part in which he was supposed to be shot dead by his rival, impersonated by Gary Brown. The scene was carried out faithfully and aroused loud applause, which was turned into lamentation when it was discovered that Singleton was really dead. The pistol Brown used, which was supposed to be loaded with blank cartridges, carried a real bullet instead.

Verdict of Drunkenness Not Sustained.

Boston, July 14.—Special Treasury Agent Convers J. Smith, who recently investigated charges of drunkenness against Colonel A. A. Rivers, deputy surveyor of the port, has reported to Washington that the charges were not sustained. An additional charge to the effect that Colonel Rivers had been guilty of favoritism in the assignment of the men of his force to duty, was substantiated, and the evidence has been forwarded to Washington.

Her Face Was Her Fortune.

A Brooklyn Girl Marries Through Taking Capsuloids.

A marriage occurred in Brooklyn last week which possessed many interesting features. The bride says that she does not believe she would have been married had it not been for Capsuloids. She had been ailing and weakly and had used every effort to secure color and health. She heard that Capsuloids filled the veins with rich, red blood, toned the nerves, imparted strength to the limbs, and so she determined to try them. The result was all that she had expected, and she is now a rosy, happy, healthy bride, all because Capsuloids filled her blood with natural iron or Hæmoglobin.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York.

DIZZINESS
is only one of the danger signals that nature uses to tell us that our kidneys are not acting right, and that we are in danger of Bright's Disease, and other kidney troubles. When the kidneys are not doing their duty as filters of the blood, the poison which should be filtered out through the urine, remains in the system and disease results. This condition can be CURED
I called at J. H. Williamson & Co's drug store and got some samples of Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills. I took the samples as directed, and afterwards bought a full box. I had been troubled for months with hot flashes, dizziness and a general bad feeling due to the change of life. I never had anything do me so much good as they did. I am feeling better. My appetite is good, the hot flashes occur very seldom now, and my general health is decidedly better, all I think due to Dr. Hobbs Pills. You may use this as you wish. Mrs. Mary Kamm, 1013 N. Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.
1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

ARREST OF A CASHIER.

He Had Absconded With the Bank's Funds In May Last.

Bethlehem, Pa., July 14.—John B. Meixell, the cashier of the South Bethlehem National bank, who on May 25 absconded, taking with him $10,000 in cash, has been arrested at Hot Springs, Ark., through the efforts of County Detective Johnson of Easton. Meixell and Willie Hoch, the teller, had been stealing for a long time, and when the bank examiner turned up in May, they decided to leave at once. Meixell went to the vault and took $10,000. He drove to Catasauqua and took a train for the west.

Hoch was to have taken the same train and stole $5,000 in cash. He missed the train and then broke down and confessed. Meixell was traced to Chicago and to St. Louis and thence to Hot Springs. Meixell was also secretary and treasurer of the Lehigh Valley Cold Storage company, and his accounts there are also short. Altogether Meixell has, it is said, defaulted to the amount of some $30,000. Detective Johnson will leave here in the morning to bring the fugitive east.

A LULL IN THE STRIKE

Nearly Every Mine In the Pittsburg District Idle.

THE MEN RESOLVE TO STAND FIRM.

Meetings Are Being Constantly Held In Different Sections—The Miners Fear Evictions From Their Homes by the Company.

Pittsburg, July 14.—There is a lull in the miners' strike in this district, attributable to the fact that nearly every mine in the district is idle. To keep up the enthusiasm and prevent the strikers from becoming lukewarm in the cause, however, the officials have arranged for a series of meetings in different sections every day. Meetings have been held at Banning, Fayette City and West Newton, and at each place resolutions were adopted not to return to work until the officials gave the order.

A large meeting has also been held at Snowden, on the Wheeling division, and the men were unanimous in their determination to stand firm for the 69 cent rate. The miners on this division fear that the company will soon begin evictions from their houses and intimate that if this is attempted there will be no trouble.

The meeting was addressed by President Garland of the Amalgamated association, Thomas Grundy of the United Teamsters, M. P. Carrick of the Painters and Decorators, and John Kelley of the United Labor league.

News has reached the miners' headquarters that the diggers in the Cannel, Warner and Morgan mines, Beaver county, have thrown down their picks and joined the general strike. The three pits employ about 300 men. The strike has also spread to Mercer county. Five mines are idle in that region. They are Hallville, Spear, Ridge and Diamond mines Nos. 1 and 2. The men struck for an advance of 10 cents per ton.

An effort has been made to resume work at the Eagle mine at Monongahela City. It is a co-operative concern, but the sentiment of a majority of the stockholders was against resumption, and it was decided to keep the pit closed until the strike was settled. A delegation from Brownsville says the Knob, Beaumont, Umpire and Albany mines have closed down, and the miners have joined in the general strike, with a determination to remain out until the question of wages is satisfactorily settled.

To Meet the Strikers.

National President M. D. Ratchford of the United Mine Workers is expected in Pittsburg and will meet the commissioners. District President Patrick Dolan came from his home in Cecil, where he has been sick for several days. He said the strike, as far as the miners are concerned, is progressing in good shape. When asked about arbitration, he said, "If arbitration brings a satisfactory settlement, then arbitration is the proper course."

President Dolan said a movement would shortly be made on the mines above the Pennsylvania railroad that are still in operation, and a strong effort will be made to bring the men out. No plans have yet been arranged to bring out the men at the three mines of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company, but Mr. Dolan says they will receive attention later in the week.

Governor Atkineon of West Virginia, accompanied by his wife and a number of state officials, stopped over in Pittsburg en route to Canada, where they will attend the convention of the Epworth League. Concerning the miners' strike, he said:

"The coal strike is not affecting West Virginia very much, and I do not believe the main body of our miners will go out. I do not anticipate any trouble whatsoever from the strike in our state and believe the trouble all over the country will be speedily settled by arbitration."

Killed by a Bursting Pipe.

Shamokin, Pa., July 14.—George Fetterolf and Harry Andrews, carpenters at Reliance mine, sustained fatal injuries by being blown into a strong oak mine car by the bursting of a compressed air pipe. The air from the escaping pipe followed them and tossed them around like tops until their bodies were horribly lacerated and bruised and they were unconscious. The compressed air plant was just completed and was to have been tried as soon as the men had succeeded in calking a leak, but the 950 pound pressure burst the column directly in front of them.

Pardons Refused.

Trenton, July 14.—The New Jersey board of pardons at its meeting at Sea Girt has acted adversely on the application for pardon of Barckley Peak, who is serving 20 years for killing Katie Anderson. The petitions of Barney O'Neill, who is serving 18 years for burglary and assault with intent to kill at Atlantic City, and that of John W. Murphy of Burlington, sentenced for embezzlement, were also dismissed.

Attempt to Blow Up a Tunnel.

Huntingdon, Pa., July 14.—Word has reached here of the discovery of a dastardly attempt to blow up the Rays Mill tunnel, on the East Broad Top railroad, with dynamite. The tunnel was badly damaged, but traffic was but temporarily impeded. A reward of $500 is offered by Superintendent Greenwood for the apprehension of the guilty parties.

Express Company's Sale.

Fall River, Mass., July 14.—The New England Express company, organized this year, has sold out to the Adams Express company, and its offices in Fall River, Newport, Boston, Providence, Hartford and Springfield and Woonsocket have been closed. The terms of the sale have not been made known.

For an Issue of Stock.

Boston, July 14.—The Boston Elevated Railway company has filed a petition with the railroad commissioners for the approval of an issue of $15,000,000 in stock. A hearing on the petition will be held next Wednesday.

VOTES ARE VOTES.

The New York Evening Sun had the following to say yesterday concerning the participation of women in the recent Washingtonville school meeting:

When it comes to the point, votes are votes, no matter whether they be dropped into the ballot box by men or by women. Out in Jersey the other day they held a school election. According to the laws of that State this is the one sort of election in which women, provided they are property holders, may participate. As a rule, however, the women have not been very tenacious of the privilege, while on the part of the male citizens there has been much prejudice against it. But at this election the other day there was a difference of opinion. Numerically the sides were pretty well matched, too, and it looked as if it were going to be a close struggle. Suddenly one side bethought of the vast number of votes, hitherto unused, to which it was entitled—those of the women. All former scruples and objections faded away. But one thing was thought of, and that was to get more women's votes than the other side. The effort was successful; thanks to a careful scouring of every vale, dell and hillside. The women voted on that side, and the day was theirs. All minor considerations, such as the ballot destroying the bloom of the fair sex and so forth, were lost sight of. You didn't hear a word about brawn instead of brain being the dominant thing in politics. Nobody so much as hinted that voting was, after all merely a matter of muscle. The women voted and they voted all right, and the men were only too glad to have them do so. Strange, isn't it, how a little thing like wanting to w n will change the point of view.

HARMONY IN THE AIR.

Harmony seems to be in the air in the Democratic camps of New Jersey. Now Somerset county members of the party are talking of smoking the pipe of peace in a public way, and a "A Tilden Democrat," a frequent and pungent contributor of things politi cal to the Bound Brook Democrat, has this to suggest in that line:

There's an ideal spot near Watchung lake, at Sebring's mills, where the foliage from large ancient elms hide away the sun's hot rays, that can be had for the proposed clambake and jollification of the Democrats of this county. With each township represented there would be at least two hundred present and the affair could be pulled off for about $2 per head.

INTEREST IN CITY AFFAIRS.

We are in receipt of several highly interesting communications anent the government of this city, which will be given publication at an early date. The letters are written by men standing high in the community and are one of the many instances of the healthy and active interest that substantial citizens take in municipal affairs—a condition that bides well for Plainfield.

EARLY INTELLIGENCF.

—The centre pier for the new Watchung avenue bridge was started yesterday by Contractor Ferrier.

—If the people interested in the opening and extension of Sycamore avenue do not hustle a little the new bridge will be erected before the street is in condition.

—The sidewalk on East Second street, near Watchung avenue, is being relaid to conform to the proper grade. The work of curbing on the above street is progressing fast.

—In the case of Ballentine against Dickinson, tried in Justice Moffett's court yesterday, judgment was given in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount and costs. Pope & Runyon were counsel for the plaintiff.

—The street committee of the City Council has held at least one meeting every week during the present year. The immense amount of work to be looked after by this committee makes it obligatory for the members to meet often.

—Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., met last evening and made arrangements for their trip to Buffalo in August. It was decided not to hold another meeting until August 10th, when a special meeting will be held to complete all arrangements. At that time it is hoped that every member of the post will be present.

Hoboken, N. J., June 20, 1897.—I was laid up with the grip and bronchitis, and I took Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier and strengthener with the best possible results. I have also given it to my children with good effect. C. Ritcher, 39 Third St.

PASSING COMMENT.

The Plainfield Sanitary company have on exhibition in the plumbing store of George H. Tobin, on North avenue, photographs of the ash carts that are to be used in the service of the company when their garbage crematory is put in operation. The carts have covered boxes so as to obviate the disagreeable condition of affairs that now exist with the rickety old ash wagons, whose boxes are veritable selves, in scattering refuse all along the streets that they traverse. They are mechanically arranged so as to be easy to dump, and their appearance on the streets will add another metropolitan phase to Plainfield life and activity.

William England, who was known in this city, and was the owner of the property at 229 233 West Front street, died in Brooklyn last Tuesday, since which time his widow, from whom he had been separated for twenty years, and his housekeeper, who has shared his big white house with him for over seventeen years, have been fighting fiercely over the disposition of his body. Already there have been one or two scenes between the women that have shocked the neighborhood. The housekeeper triumphed at last and had the body conveyed to the cemetery and interred while three constables stood guard to prevent an interference from the wife. Mrs. Edwards and her children now threaten to apply to the courts for permission to disinter the body. The dead man's fortune is estimated at about $60.000, and his will has not yet been filed.

The three men met by chance at a local soda water fountain, one evening last week, and while they enjoyed the cooling beverages they chatted on current topics of interest.

"Where's the band concerts?" asked the poor but respectable machinist. "I thought they were to be held this summer as they were last."

"No," was the reply of the commuter, "Councilman Frost was behind the movement, last year, and raised the money himself. It was no easy job and no one cared to help him, although they liked the concerts. It's a chance for you fellows," he said, turning to the local business man, "To start a subscription and raise the money for the concerts this summer."

"That's just the way with you people," retorted the business man from Plainfield. "You expect us to start every movement and support it just because we are in Plainfield all day, and so you say we have more time. We got up the Fourth of July celebration several years ago. Last year, we got up the bicycle parade and raised most of the money for it. We are willing to bear our share of the burden but why don't you who go down in the club car every day, start the subscription and give the people of Plainfield something to do on these warm summer nights"

"I tell you, we miss those concerts," said the machinist, "for to many of us, it was the only thing of the kind we heard all summer. In these hard times there are but few of us who can afford to go to a concert every week, or every month for that matter. I tell you it's a great thing for us and for you, too," addressing the business man. "It draws the people out on the streets and that means trade for you. Everybody comes, rich and poor, and you can't count the value of them in mere dollars."

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Mr. Churchill has entirely recovered from his recent severe illness.

George Billyeau, of Plainfield, was in the borough on business yesterday.

Maxson Dunham, of the borough, has been visiting Plainfield relatives.

Sydney Titsworth, of Plainfield, called on friends in the borough yesterday.

A meeting of the Building and Loan Association will be held next Monday evening.

Walter Smalley, of Elizabeth, was the guest of friends in the borough yesterday.

Miss Viola Tinsman, of the borough, is visiting her father, Franklin Tinsman, at Port Murray.

Miss May Apgar, of Front street, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Sherman Cooley, of Flemington.

Master Percy Abbott is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Abbott, of Somerville.

Miss Della Van Der Hoff, of Roselle, is the guest of Mrs. W. H. Terry, of the borough, for a few days.

Mrs. Sarah Terry, of Camden, is enjoying a pleasant visit with her son, W. H. Terry, of the borough.

The farmers hereabout appreciate exceedingly the present rain. It has helped their crops very much.

Miss Anna Hetfield, of the borough, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Theodore Miller, at Newburg-on-the-Hudson.

The condition of Charles Beekman, who has been confined to his home critically ill, is reported as being worse.

Presiding Elder G. W. Smith, of Plainfield, officiated last evening at the quarterly conference held in the M. E. church.

Rev. F. E. Peterson, pastor of the New Market Seventh-day Baptist church, has returned from an extended absence through the west.

Miss Anna Dickson has returned to her home in New Brunswick, Canada, after a long visit with her brother, S. Z. Dickson, of the borough.

Samuel Merrill has returned from Ringoes, this State, where he moved the furniture of a Plainfield family who will reside at the above place.

The appointment of the new postmaster is looked for almost every day. There appears to be a "dark" horse in the race, and no one has been able to find out who it is.

During the absence of Rev. A. I. Martine, of the Presbyterian church, the Sunday evening services at the church will be in charge of the Christion Endeavor Society and different speakers will be secured.

The borough council will meet Monday evening, July 26th. for the purpose of approving the two ordinances relating to the payment of borough officers and the one relating to riding bicycles on the sidewalk.

SCOTCH PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Arthur G. Drake, of Bound Brook, was in town yesterday.

Mrs. Mary Drake has returned from a visit with her sister-in-law in Elizabeth.

Fanwood Council, No. 744, Royal Arcanum, held an interesting meeting last evening.

James Collins, of Chicago, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. John Blimm, went to New York city yesterday to spend a week with J. W. McGloin, after which he will go to Plainfield to accept a position.

Samuel Dawson, of Rahway, drove to this place Sunday evening with a donkey tethered to the back of his carriage. On reaching here he found that the rope had been cut and the animal was missing. After a long search Dawson found the donkey browsing in the vicinity of Hand's brickyard, last evening. It is thought whoever cut the rope and released the animal did it as a practical joke upon Dawson.

Preparations are progressing for the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Scotch Plains Baptist church, which will take place Aug. 5th. In connection with the celebration dinner and supper will be served on the church lawn to invited guests. Members and friends of the church who wish to have invitations to dinner and supper sent to out-of-town friends have been invited to hand the names to Rev. Dr. J. H. Parks, who has charge of the issuing of the invitations.

A valuable black and white English setter dog belonging to J. A. Woodward was shot and killed on North Broad steet, last Saturday afternoon.

The annual excursion of the Congregational, Methodist, Episcopal, Locust Grove and Bethlehem Sunday-schools will go to Ocean Grove, tomorrow.

Central Council, No. 131, Jr. O. U. A. M., will celebrate its fifth anniversary on September 2d. The committee in charge of the arrangements held its first meeting last night at the residence of J. C. Hall, on Central avenue.

George Simmons, colored, who was arrested on Monday for breaking into the Westfield Club House and stealing $9 from the cash register, was arraigned before Justice Hart on Monday night. The prisoner waived examination and in default of bail was committed to the county jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. He was taken to Elizabeth by a constable yesterday morning.

The Westfield Township Committee held a meeting last night. H. C. Van Emburg was present and presented specifications for alterations of the curb line and repairs of the macadam pavement on Broad street. The specifications were accepted and Mr. Van Emburg was authorized to advertise for bids on the work. Communications were received from two property owners stating that they wished to pay their sewer assessments in annual instalments. The tax assessor was present with his books and the committee commenced their work of examining the assessment books. Meetings will be held nightly hereafter until this work is finished. No other businesss was transacted.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Westfield Presbyterian church held a unique social called "A trip to California" in the lecture room last evening. The room was arranged to represent a parlor car, and those present were taken by means of stereoptican views on an imaginary journey to the internatianal Christian Endeavor Convention in San Francisco. The views about fifty in number, were shown by Rev. N. W. Cadwell, pastor of the church. When the last view was thrown upon the canvas the pastor was surprised to find it a portrait of himself. When the applause had subsided he explained that the presence of this picture was a surprise to him. After the end of the imaginary journey was reached, the lights were turned on and refreshments were served. The room was prettily decorated with red, white and blue bunting and American flags, and each Endeavorer present wore a badge inscriped "To California, '97." The attendance was quite large in spite of the rain, and a very enjoyable time was spent. The stereopticon and the views were kindly furnished by Alvah Reed, of Clark street.

M. WEINBERGER.

COLORED PEOPLE IN EUROPE.

Treated with More Consideration There Than in This Country.

"One of the objections raised against the proposed admission of a colored cadet to the Naval Academy has amused me," said a New Yorker who passes every summer abroad. "It has been said that a colored officer in the navy would subject his fellow officers to humiliation in foreign ports. As a matter of fact, the color line is not drawn in England and in France as it is here. At the English inn where I stayed for a month last summer a colored man, really a black fellow, was seated beside me at the table. When the cut of beef was served it was offered to this colored man first, and then it was served to me. Now, I am a Southerner by birth, and I went to the proprietor of the hotel and objected. He told me if I didn't like it I might go. He said that he made no distinction in color. I changed my seat and remained, for the hotel was really a good one. Later in Paris I went to the opera one night and saw in a box two well-dressed white women accompanied by three negroes. It was a respectable party, and during the evening several of the other occupants of boxes dropped in to shake hands with the colored men. Such a spectacle in New York would interrupt the opera. As a matter of fact, these colored men were men of means and good social standing in Paris. I am not saying that colored men should be admitted to the Naval Academy, but I do say that if they become officers they will meet with more consideration in England and France than they will in this country."—New York Sun.

Forgot to Wear Trousers.

A certain noble lord, who shall be nameless, during his journey north on a political mission, changed his costume for a full Highland "rig-out," intending it as a delicate compliment to the land of the kilt. But when he looked at himself in the glass he found that the tailor had cut his kilt too short; so he made up his mind to put on evening dress.

He changed his upper garments and then sat down for a few moments to study his speech. This set him to sleep. He awoke with a start, only to find himself running into the station. Forgetting what happened, he thrust on his hat, and appeared at the window bowing, and this was how he was dressed:

He had a full Highland costume as far as his waist; above were a white shirt and swallow-tailed coat, and the entire edifice was crowned with a chimney-pot hat, upon which he sat down without noticing it. His lordship's horror when he stepped upon the platform and felt the keen wind cutting his bare legs changed to absolute agony when his valet appeared, scrambling out of the carriage with a pair of trousers in his hands, waving them wildly and exclaiming: "My lord, my lord, you've forgotten these."—London Telegraph.

A Methodical Maid.

The anecdote of the woman whose husband asked her to hide the latch-key under the door-mat, so that he might find it on his return at night, and who, to make things doubly sure, stuck a card back of the bell plate, on which was written so that it could be easily seen in the lamplight, "The latch-key is under the mat," was probably a mere fabrication.

Nevertheless, a lady told a story of her maid at dinner the other evening, very much like one. The mistress was stopping at a hotel, and expecting to be out late, told the maid not to wait, but to leave the key of her trunk and jewel box in the pocket of one of her gowns hanging up in the closet (deeming that a safe place), and that she would put away her things herself. On her return she found a placard pinned on her cushion on which was written:

"I have left the keys of the trunk and jewel box in the pocket of your green walking dress, which is hanging up in the closet."

The Privilege of Peers.

There is a curious case in Fortescue's Reports relating to the privileges of peers, in which the bailiff who arrested a lord was forced by the court to kneel down and ask his pardon, though he alleged that he had acted by mistake; for that his lordship had a dirty shirt, a worn-out suit of clothes and only sixpence in his pocket, so that he could not believe that he was a peer, and arrested him through inadvertance.—Green Bag.

Electricity in Mines.

Electrical signaling has been adopted in many mines for maintaining communication between the top and bottom of the shaft. The battery is placed in the engine house, which, in addition, generates in some cases enough power for the haulage signaling under ground. Single strokes of the bell are used, as they are more distinct than the trembling bell.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Called no Names.

Officer: "How is this, Murphy? The sergeant complains that you called him names."

Private Murphy: "Plaze, sir, I never called him ony names at all. All I said was, 'Sergeant,' says I, 'some of us ought to be in a menagerie.'"

A Gallery Indorsement.

"I always like to see that senator get up to make a speech," said the drowsy looking man.

"He isn't very interesting."

"No. When he is on his feet I'm always sure that my nap will not be disturbed by an outburst of applause."—Washington Star.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

[OFFICIAL.]

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union held on Thursday, July 1, 1897, at 2:30 p. m.

Roll call showed all members present.

The minutes of the previous meeting, reading of bills being omitted, were on motion approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS, PETITIONS, ETC.

From Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Co., as follows:

To Union County Freeholders:

Gentlemen: The undersigned would respectfully ask permission to hang a ten-inch wrought iron pipe on bridge about to be erected across Green brook, on Watchung avenue, at Plainfield, N. J.

Very respectfully yours,

Plainfield Gas and Electric Lt. Co.

Freeholder Farrell moved that the communication be received and referred to the committee on Plainfield bridges, with power, which motion was adopted without dissent.

From J. W. Fink, County Road Inspector, as follows, viz:

Westfield, N. J, June 30, 1897.

To the Honorable the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County, N J.:

Gentlemen: — The undersigned would respectfully submit to your Honorable Body the following report of repairs on county roads to the present date:

1 1-6 miles have b en repaired with 1 ½ inch stone.

4,136 feet top dressed with fine stone.

12 ½ miles top dressed with clay.

2 miles of gutters cleaned.

The total cost of this work is $1, 297.66.

Very respectfully,

James W. Fink, Inspector.

On motion of Freeholder Roll received and placed on file.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Elizabeth, N. J., July 1, 1897.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county, N. J.:

The committee of the whole of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county, N. J., Mr. Roll in the chair, report and recommend that the avenue known as St. George's avenue, from Grand street to the Middlesex county line, Rahway, N. J., be and the same is hereby adopted as a county rode.

Your committee also recommend that the said street, St. George's avenue, from Lake avenue to the Pennsylvania Railroad (or as near there as the moneys will allow) be paved in the centre thereof, twelve feet wide and six inches deep, with trap rock macadam stone, and that the unexpended balance of the county road funds be used for such purpose.

Signed, Respectfully submitted.

The Committee of the Whole of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Freeholder Krouse moved that the report be received and its recommendations adopted, which motion on roll call was unanimously adopted.

Elizabeth, July 1, 1897.

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: The committee on repairs, etc., to the Monroe street bridge at Rahway would respectfully report that they have carefully and thoroughly examined said bridge.

It is the judgment of the committee, and they so recommend, that repairs be made by using new beams and plank wherever needed, which would be sufficient to carry the said bridge for some time to come. Signed, Chr. Ehrlich, John Farrell, Benjamin King, W. H. Hulskamper, Jacob Bruchlacher, Committee.

Freeholder Clark moved the adoption of the report, and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

NEW BUSINESS—RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Roll:

Resolved, That the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union hereby grants permission to the village of South Orange, its successors or assigns, to lay and maintain a sewer pipe or pipes under and across Springfield avenue, and to erect the necessary manholes thereon (said manholes to be placed at grade with the avenue) at a point shown on map filed in the office of the clerk of said board July 1st, 1897, upon the conditions and under the following restrictions:

That the village of South Orange does hereby agree to place each and every portion of the street entered upon in as good condition as when found, and to keep it so for a period of one year; that during the time the work is being done on the street lanterns shall be kept lighted from dusk till daylight; that barriers shall be placed around the trench to insure public safety, and that no unnecessary delay shall be allowed in the prosecution of the work.

That the village of South Orange doth hereby agree to hold the county of Union free from any damages to person or property that may in any way rise from the permission herein granted.

Freeholder Farrell moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll call it was adopted unanimously.

By Freeholder Roll:

Resolved, That the committeee on public buildings be and they are hereby authorized to advertise for proposals for the purchase of the building now standing upon the property receently purchased by the county from the executors of the estate of Patrick Sheridan, and to sell the same to the highest bidder giving sufficient security for the purchase price, and the proper removal of said buildings from said property.

On motion of Freeholder Bruchlacher the resolution was adopted without dissent.

By Freeholder Farrell:

Resolved, That the road, St. George's avenue, heretofore adopted as a county road, leading from Grand street, Rahway, to the Middlesex county line, Rahway, N. J., be subgraded and paved with macadam pavement, as may be set out in the specifications hereinafter to be drawn up, for a width of twelve (12) feet between Lake avenue, Rahway, and the Pennsylvania Railroad, and for a width of twelve (12) feet from the Pennsylvania Railroad to the bridge at the county line in the centre thereof.

Freeholder Roll moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That a notice specifying the work and materials and inviting bids and propositions to perform and furnish the same, for regulating, grading and paving with macadam pavement St. George's avenue, from Lake avenue to the Middlesex county line, Rahway, N. J., be published for three weeks, at least, once in each week, in the Elizabeth Daily Journal, New Jersey Advocate, and the Engineering News, of New York city, to discretion of the county engineer.

On motion of Freeholder Roll the resolution was adopted without dissent.

AN ORDINANCE

to regulate the use of bicycles, tricycles and similar vehicles and other road vehicles in the public roads, streets and highways of the Township of Fanwood.

The Inhabitants of the Township of Fanwood by their Township Committee do enact as follows:

Section 1. That all bicycles, tricycles and similar vehicles when in use on the public highways, streets or roads within the Township of Fanwood are hereafter required to have a lamp of such illuminating power as to be plainly seen one hundred yards, attached thereto, and kept lighted between one hour after sunset and sunrise.

Section 2. That all bicycles, tricycles and similar vehicles shall carry a suitable bell attached to the handle bar of the machine which when rung may be heard 100 feet distant. That such bell shall be sounded as an alarm by the rider of such vehicle upon approaching another vehicle from the rear, or upon approaching pedestrians crossing the street, or upon the approach of another vehicle on the same street or on a street intersecting the street, road or highway ridden upon.

Section 3. That no person shall ride upon any bicycle, tricycle or similar machine upon any sidewalk within the limits of the township of Fanwood, providing that the term sidewalk as used in this ordinance shall be construed to mean such sidewalk only concerning which the inhabitants of the township of Fanwood have power to pass ordinances under and by virtue of paragraph V, section 1 of chapter 8 of the Public Laws of 1896, and provided, further that this section shall not apply to the riding of any bicycle, tricycle, or similar machine upon any sidewalk when necessary to ride upon said sidewalk in passing to or from private premises to or from the roadbed of any street, road or highway.

Section 4. That no person shall ride upon any bicycle, tricycle or similiar vehicle or other road vehicle in any public road, street or highway of the township of Fanwood at a greater speed than the rate of twelve miles per hour.

Section 5. That every violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall render the offender subject to a fine not exceeding the sum of five dollars for each offence, and that the justice of the peace or other magistrate who may have jurisdiction over such offences in violation of this ordinance may impose such fine in his discretion as he may think proper not exceeding the sum of five dollars for each offence.

Adopted July 8, 1897.

EDWARD L. HAND,
Township Clerk.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

A NEW BRIDGE.

The Steel Structure Connecting Superior and Duluth Thrown Open.

West Superior, Wis., July 14.—The big steel bridge uniting Superior and Duluth has been opened for traffic with appropriate ceremonies. Mayor Truelsen of Duluth and Mayor Starkweather of Superior, with prominent citizens from either city, met upon the great draw span and in the presence of thousands of spectators, with appropriate speeches, the whistle of vessels and blare of brass bands, formally opened the great highway.

Agitation for the construction of the bridge between the cities was begun about six years ago. The center draw is 491 feet long and weighs 2,200 tons; total length of bridge is 1,094 feet between approaches. A clear waterway of 200 feet is opened on either side of the draw pier when the span is swung. Tugs and small vessels pass under without swinging the span, which makes the turn in 20 seconds.

The structure is 58 feet wide, arranged for two railway tracks besides street railway, wagon and foot passenger ways and cost about $1,000,000.

BOGUS COIN SALE.

A Gentlemanly Stranger Succeeds In Disposing of It at a Premium.

Middletown, N. Y., July 14.—A handsome middle aged man appeared at a bank here on Monday with a silver dollar dated 1804. This coin is very rare, only eight having been issued. Six are now in the possession of coin collectors, one is at Washington, and one is reported missing. The man said his name was Bennett and had received the coin from a farmer at Little Britain, in this county, in change.

The bank found that coin collectors offer $600 for a dollar of that date, but declined to purchase Bennett's coin for $50. August Plaff, the proprietor of the hotel here, bought it for that amount. Jewelers examined the dollar and pronounced it genuine. Later the figure 4 on the coin turned black, and Plaff now believes he was bunkoed.

Railway men say a coin of the same description was sold in Paterson on Saturday and another in Port Jervis yesterday. It was learned tonight that Bennett has been frequenting the poker joints along the Erie.

SERIOUS CONFLICT.

British Soldiers and Bashi Bazouks Meet at Candia.

London, July 14.—The Times' Athens correspondent says official dispatches have been received announcing that a serious conflict has taken place at Candia between a force of British troops and a party of bashi bazouks, arising from the British intervening in a skirmish between the bashi bazouks and Christians.

Sixteen of the British force and a number of the bashi bazouks were killed. The admirals of the foreign fleets have sent five warships to Candia to suppress any further Mohammedan movement.

No further details of the conflict have been received, but passengers who have just arrived from Candia state that on account of excesses by bashi bazouks 300 British marines have been landed at Candia to replace the Italian garrison stationed there.

The bashi bazouks have been summoned by declaration to surrender their arms within four days. They have held a meeting and adressed a petition to the sultan.

Governor Black Visits Camp.

New York, July 14.—Governor Black has paid his first visit to the state camp at Peekskill. The governor, accompanied by Secretary Treadwell, arrived and was met by General Tillinghast and the post officers and was then driven to headquarters. The troops were drawn up in line on the top of the hill and presented arms as the governor and his escort entered camp. At the same time the detachment of the Third battery in camp fired a salute of 19 guns. The governor reviewed the troops after luncheon and later held a reception at headquarters. The governor also witnessed the evening parade and took supper with the headquarters officers.

Guard Attacked by a Prisoner.

Huntingdon, Pa., July 14.—Charles Berwick, an inmate of the Huntingdon reformatory from Philadelphia, made a murderous attack on Guard H. S. Smith, inflicting a knife wound in the latter's right cheek which required 20 stitches to close. The prisoner had received a demerit mark from Smith, and when being taken to the warden's office Berwick drew a sharpened table knife, which he had secreted on his person, and plunged it through the guard's cheek. The wounded man's condition is reported very serious. Berwick had only four more months to serve on a three years' sentence.

Attacked by Strikers.

Cleveland, July 14.—Trouble has broken out in the neighborhood of the Crescent tin plate mill. Six nonunion men entered a crowd of union men with their hands in their pockets as if to draw revolvers. This excited the ire of the union men, who seized and searched them, but found no revolvers. The nonunionists fled, but were pursued by a gang of loiterers. John Vanek, one of the nonunion men, was badly beaten. A hooting crowd of men, women and children, numbering thousands, gathered when the patrol wagon was summoned. The police charged the rioters and dispersed them.

Damage by Heavy Seas.

Hull, Mass., July 14.—The gale raised a heavy sea in Hull bay and caused considerable damage among yachts at anchor and to the buildings near the shore. The high wind drove the water well up over the beaches and seawalls, and the streets were flooded. A number of cottages along the shore were seriously undermined and a large amount of damage done.

Callao Flooded.

Lima, Peru, July 14.—A very heavy sea has been running, and a part of Callao was flooded. The fire engines of the town have been engaged in pumping water from the cellars of some of the houses. No serious damage has resulted from the inundation.

Sues the City For Flood Damages.

Albany, July 14.—John Haggerty of Amsterdam, has filed a claim against the state for $477.50 for damages to and and provisions in the cellar of his house by an overflow of the canal.

A TALE OF SUFFERING

Arrival of a Band of Cuban Insurgents at Rio Nuevo

ALL WERE IN TERRIBLE CONDITION.

Were In an Open Boat For Over Seventy Hours and Often on the Verge of Destruction — Complain of British Officials.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 14.—As already stated in a cable dispatch from this place, 12 Cubans, the last survivors of an insurgent camp in the province of Camagua, reached Rio Nuevo, a little port on the north side of the island, a few days before in an open boat.

They were in a terrible condition of exhaustion, as they had been 70 hours in making the passage. The little craft, which had been constructed in the camp just before their departure, was found to leak in several places, and, owing to the high winds and the heavy seas, they were compelled to take turns at baling her in order to keep from being swamped.

Again and again they were on the very verge of destruction, the waves washing over the boat and filling her to the very thwarts. After three days of constant anxiety and struggling they managed to put in at Rio Nuevo in a pitiable condition.

The names of the crew are as follows: Commanders Miquel A. Varona and Felix V. Preval, Captains Arthur R. Joice and Luis K. Miranda, Lieutenants Carlos Bordelois and Carlos Morena, Sublieutenants Juan Veneter, Adolphus Casonovas, Alberto Diaz, Juan Calbdevin and Lorenzo Vicente. It is suspected by the authorities here that some of these names are not genuine and that among the party are several important revolutionary leaders, who have business in New York and who are traveling incognito.

It will be remembered that last year Carlos Roloff, the leader of many expeditions to Cuba, arrived in Jamaica under the nom de guerre of Charles Roberts and described himself as an American journalist. It was not until after his departure for Cuba that the Spanish consul in Kingston became aware of his real character. Whether the suspicions of the government is well founded or not, it is hard to say at present, but in a few days the real facts will probably become known.

Four Invalids In the Party.

Of the 12 men composing the party 4 are invalids. Dr. Vieta is now lying in Kingston, tenderly cared for by the local Cubans, suffering from a sickness induced by months of trials and privations. Another has a bullet wound in the thigh, a third a bayonet wound in the shoulder, and a fourth is not expected to recover from an internal complaint, aggravated by the severe effects of the voyage.

But their spirits are not daunted. Gleefully they talk of the successes of the rebels and of the defeats of the Spaniards. Their privations and sufferings are, they say, as nothing compared with what the Spanish troops are undergoing, and the fire of patriotism burns in their bosoms with the same unquenchable ardor as it did nearly three years ago.

They complain bitterly of the actions of the British officials, for the visiting health officer had arbitrarily seized a number of important letters and dispatches designed for the Cuban junta in New York. They had protested against this action, but the officials replied that a breach of the postal regulation act had been committed and that the letters must be forfeited as a penalty.

Nearly 80 letters were taken from Dr. Vieta alone, and there is no prospect of any of them ever reaching their destination. All the men now hope for is that the British government will see its way clear to allow the dispatches to pass and will not in any event turn them over to the Spanish consul for perusal.

Spanish Soldiers Deserting.

"The revolution," said Carlos Morena, one of the party, "is principally confined at the present moment to the Orient and Camagua provinces. The Spaniards are in possession of one or two small places, but they suffer very severely from the want of food and ammunition. Their camps are decimated by sickness, and numbers are deserting every day to join the ranks of the insurgents. They are afraid to venture far, as their forces are so small, and it is only when a passing column re-enforces them that they make a sally in search of supplies."

From other members of the party it was learned that a battle was fought at Camagua, in which the rebels were completely successful. They received word that convoys of food were being sent from Bayamo to Jiguama and gathered to the number of 3,000, under the command of General Garcia. On the scouts reporting that the convoy was in sight they made a sortie, and a fierce contest of some hours' duration ensued.

The Spanish troops outnumbered their adversaries in the proportion of two to one, but in spite of their fierce defense the Spaniards were utterly routed, leaving a large number of dead and wounded upon the field. The Cubans also suffered considerable loss, but to nothing like the same extent as the Spaniards, whose dead were numbered by hundreds. The Cubans captured the supplies and secured also a large number of rifles and several cases of ammunition.

The town of Iguana was also the scene of a terrible conflict, but General Garcia and his troops were again victorious. After driving out the Spaniards with a great loss of life they took possession of the town.

Dr. Vieta says that the Cuban troops are in good health and have a good supply of food and ammunition. All are well armed, and the principal difficulty is to keep them in clothes.

New Tariff Will Affect Mexico.

El Paso, Tex., July 14.—The duty imposed by the new tariff on imported cattle will have a prohibitory effect as far as Mexico is concerned. During the last 24 months in the neighborhood of 500,000 head of cattle have been imported into this country from Mexico, paying to this government about $750,000. The duty on Mexican cattle under the new tariff will range from $4 to $ per head, while the old duty averaged $1.50 per head.

The N. J. Road Book has undoubtedly been received by all entitled to it. These members can secure many new applications by showing it to their cycling friends, who are not members of the league, and calling attention to the many benefits derived from the L. A. W. Application blanks at this office.

AROUND THE BASES.

The Stelton Athletic Club will play here again on Sept. 4th. They may run against a little surprise party when they come again.

Corbin will be back on first base for the Crescents Saturday. If he had been there last week the game with the Steltons might have had a different ending. It is too late to think about that now.

Tall Bill Sneeden made a great reputation for himself as a pitcher in Plainfield in the years gone by. Some of his old team mates are now in the National League, playing great ball, but Bill has given up the business, and is now the driver of an ice wagon on Staten Island.

There is one thing in which the Crescents are lacking and that is good coaching. Through injudicious coaching Vroom was twice put out on Saturday, while the glowing superlatives that floated forth from the Stelton men who were on the lines was in striking contrast to the almost silent coaching of the Crescents.

There used to be no more enthusiastic rooter on the field than Whit Frazee, the package expressman. Whit is out again this year and is rooting for the Crescents as in the days of old. He had an an able assistant last week in "Corky" Goodwin, whose long drawn groans were enough to dishearten a more enthusiastic aggregation than the Steltons. It was too bad that they did not begin at the start of the game.

Do you remember the days of the famous West Ends of Somerville, when John Harkins used to smile at the old Crescent batters as then came before him, one after another? Harkins was, perhaps the most popular and yet in a way the most disliked of all the out-of-town players that ever came to Plainfield. Moorehead, the wonderful shortstop, was another of the same kind. Every baseball crank in the city would walk five miles to see John play, and when they got there they would root and yell at him like a pack of wild Indians. Every game between the Crescents and the West Ends was almost sure to have a fight to end with. The excitement sometimes ran so high that the crowd wanted to have a hand in the game. Next Saturday a real representative team from Plainfield will make its first appearance in Somerville since those days when the West Ends was the leading club in the Somerset county seat. Next Saturday afternoon the Crescents from this city will meet the Somersets from Somerville on the grounds of the latter team. Somerville is now giving her support to the Somersets as her leading team, and her citizens turn out to the games in full force.

TENNIS.

The finals in the tennis tournament of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club were completed, last Saturday afternoon. When the tournament stopped on July 5th, Albert Price Simmonds was ahead in the finals, having won two sets and lost one. His opponent was Henry V. Ryder. The match was completed Saturday when Ryder won the first two sets, winning the tournament. The scores for the last two games were 9-7 and 6-3. The first prize was a pair of silver mounted hair brushes. The prize for the runner-up was a pair of gold cuff buttons.

DECLINES TO BE A SUBORDINATE.

Former Deputy Marshal Yard Out of Office.

The office of United States Marshal for the District of New Jersey has been without a regularly appointed office deputy for the past week because of the refusal of Emory N. Yard, who has held the position for the past eight years, to continue in the office with the title of clerk and surrendering the title of office deputy to Marshal Alcott's son. The Marshal resides in Mount Holly, where he is engaged in business, and, in order to keep in touch with the office without frequent visits to Trenton, he expressed to Mr. Yard his desire to make his son, Howard, office deputy, but said that he would pay his son out of his own pocket and devote the office deputy's salary to the payment of clerical assistance. He wanted Mr. Yard to remain and serve in a clerical capacity, and sought to arrange the terms.

Mr. Yard refused to make any terms, and at the close of the day's business on Thursday last left the office and has not since returned.

A CORNER IN ONYX.

New Jersey's Congressman Has a Shrewd Eye to Business.

A special dispatch to a western paper, from Phœnix, Arizona, says: "The eastern company, headed by Congressman Charles N. Fowler, of New Jersey, that lately purchased the famous O'Neil onyx mine, eighty miles north of Phœnix, has had a large force of men at work rushing operations in anticipation of added demand through the operation of the new tariff law, which places a prohibitory duty on Mexican onyx. Within the week a discovery has been made of a depth never before attained of a broad stratum of onyx, of exceptional beauty, and of the highest value. The owners are conferring with the Sante Fe Railway for a branch road from Prescott."

There is no finer onyx in the world than that found in Arizona, but the Mexican article has been generally used because it is quarried with Mexican cheap labor, and consequently could be delivered even in the western cities at a less cost than the home product.

Youngest Notary Public.

Lexington, Ky., can lay claim to the world's youngest notary public in Garfield A. Berlinsky, aged 15.

On the recommendation of a number of Lexington's leading lawyers, Governor Bradley commissioned Berlinsky a notary public, and he is now a full-fledged officer under the State Government. The first man he swore was a gray-haired farmer four times his age.—New York World.

Good Guesser.

A Wilkinsburg family was discussing music yesterday, when one member strove to recall the name of a certain composer.

"I can't remember it to save my life," she said, "although it is on my tongue's end. As near as I can come to it his name is Doorknob."

"Doorknob!" repeated one of the others. "There is no composer whose name sounds anything like that. I'll go over a few names: Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Wagner, Haydn, Handel—"

"That's it," interrupted the forgetful one. "It's Handel. I knew it was something you seized with your hands."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

AN ORDINANCE

to Widen Westervelt Avenue from the Northwesterly side line of East Front Street to a point 108.66 feet Southeast of Orange Place.

WHEREAS, The Common Council has judged and hereby judges that the public good requires the widening of Westervelt Avenue between the points named in the title of this ordinance, therefore,

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That Westervelt Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, from the northwesterly side line of East Front Street to a point one hundred and eight and 66-100 feet southeast of Orange Place, be widened and laid out so that said Westervelt Avenue shall be of the uniform width of twenty-five feet on each side of the center line thereof, which said center line is described as follows: Beginning at a point in the northwesterly side line of East Front Street, said point being distant three hundred twenty-four and 56 100 feet in a southwesterly direction along said northwesterly side line of East Front Street, from the centre line of Sandford Avenue, as now laid out and opened; and running from said point in a magnetic course of north forty-four degrees and fifty-six minutes west, a distance of three hundred sixty and 3-100 feet to the northwesterly line of property owned by William C. Kelly.

The land to be taken for the widening of said Westervelt Avenue includes that portion of the property of Antoinette De Baud, Mrs. Sarah Bird and William C. Kelly, which lies between the present Southwesterly side line of said Avenue as now laid out and opened and a line parallel with the center line of said Avenue and distant therefrom tweny-five (25) feet in a Southwesterly direction.

The land to be taken and the lines of Westervelt avenue, as the same is hereinabove ordered to be widened, are shown on a map on file with the City Clerk entitled: "Assessment Map for the widening of Westervelt Avenue from East Front Street to a point 108.66 feet Southeast of Orange Place, March, 1897," to which reference is hereby made for greater certainty.

Adopted by the Common Council July 8, 1897; approved by the Mayor July 12, 1897.

MAY HAVE MILK LICENSE.

SUPPLY OF LACTEAL FLUID MUST BE AKIN TO CLEANLINESS.

State Dairy Inspector Inspected the Headquarters and Supply of Many Dealers and Found Unclean Conditions in Some Cases.

Will the sixty milk dealers in this vicinity be subjected to the form and regulations of procuring a license to do business, for which the Board of Healths of both city and borough shall exact a nominal fee for issuing?

The question is an interesting and important one and is agitating the very depths of the health officials on both sides of the brook. The recent epidemic of light scarlet fever cases, and the part some of the local milk dealers played in the charge of spreading the contagion, has developed a condition of affairs that proves to be quite startling. Soon after one dealer was compelled to quarantine his family and destroy several hundred quarts of milk, the Borough Board of Health immediately decided to become active in investigating the cleanliness and condition of the milk delivered to the people whose health they are authorized to preserve in all ways.

State Dairy Commisioner Maguire and an assistant responded to the request of the Board and came to this city where they immediately commenced a thorough investigation of the milk supply. Their efforts were not confined to the borough alone, for they visited nearly all the milk supply headquarters in this vicinity. In several places they found that the places where the cans were filled and the delivery wagons started out were in a deplorable condition as far as cleanliness went. In every case where neglect was observed the offender was ordered to clean up under penalty of the State law for noncompliance.

Besides the visits to the headquarters of all the dealers the assistant inspector, in company with Health Inspector Pangborn, has been stopping wagons on their rounds about the city, and testing the condition of the milk as it is delivered to the customers. Out of forty such tests only one dealer had his milk at the proper temperature—60 degrees. One dealer's supply was 90 degrees in temperature. Such a temperature, it is said, conveys with it much tuxoine poison.

Last night a meeting of the joint committees of the city and borough boards was held and attended by Messrs. Newhall and Murray for the city and Messrs. Love and Honeyman for the borough. The work and findings of the inspectors were considered by these officials in a thorough manner. It was finally determined to have their respective counsels look into the matter of whether or not the boards had a right to impose regulations for the control of the milk dealers by issuing a license with a fee attached. If this is found to be legal, steps towards such an action will be taken immediately. In that event only such dealers as comply with the regulations, which will be quite stringent as to sanitary conditions, will be permitted to peddle milk in either city or borough. It will be some time, however, before the matter will be definitely settled.

WIFE ELOPED; HUBBY WANTS TO WED

An Instance of How Marital Vows Are Lightly Considered by Some.

The wife of Tony Guiseppo, an Italian living on Central avenue in Westfield, eloped on Tuesday with a fellow countryman of Westfield known as "Big Tom." They left a note informing Guiseppo that they were bound for Italy. It is said that "Big Tom" and the women were lovers in Italy before her marriage with Guiseppo, and that he came to America in search of her.

The deserted husband called upon Justice of the Peace Collins, yesterday, and asked permission to marry again.

The Justice cautioned him against such a hasty procedure, and the son of Italy went away disappointed at his failure to gain the coveted permission.

A Site For the City Jail.

Morgan C. Bird, of Park avenue, has offered to the city the present building used as a lockup, that is if the city desires to buy. Mr. Bird thinks that it could be arranged suitably for the needs of the city, and is willing to sell it at a low figure. It is not likely, however, that the city will buy it.

Old Sheridan House Sold.

The old Sheridan House, at Elizabeth, was sold at auction yesterday afternoon in the Freeholders room at the Court House. It was bought by H. H. Isham for $505. The hotel sheds brought $25. It is to be removed within sixty days.

—Justice Moffett today issued a summons in the case of Rushmore against Addis & Son, on contract, returnable on the 22d.

PARKS NOW THE GOAL.

BREATHING PLACES TO BE ESTABLISHED BY THE WOMEN.

The City Park is Now Under Process of Improvement and Will Be in Fine Condition For Next Summer at Least.

The sight of a half-dozen well-kept public parks within the city limits would be enough to startle the most imaginative Plainfielder, but to establish them is the present intention of the members of the Town Improvement Association. And judging from their record in the past of carrying out their intentions, it is likely that the day is not far off when a real city park, a credit to the city, will be a realization and not a dream of the future.

The Fete Champetre was very successful, and as a result $1,500 was added to the treasury of the Town Improvement Association. When the affair was given, it was understood that the money thus raised was to go toward the expense of putting the city park in a presentable condition. The net receipts proved to be more than sufficient to put the present park in a condition that will make it something for the citizens to be proud of, and so the members of the Association have determined to establish other parks about the city. Whether they are to ask the co-operation of the Common Council in this, they have not announced.

It is the purpose of the Association to have other public parks in the city beside the present one. It is the wish of the members to have several in the thickly settled parts of the town, particularly in the West End, so that the rich and poor alike can enjoy the pleasures of a stroll amid the charms of nature, the green lawns and the broad shading trees. Flowers and shrubbery are to form parts of the new parks.

The improvements at the present city park have been going on steadily all summer. They began, in fact, in the spring, when the park was plowed up and buckwheat sowed. The buckwheat was allowed to grow to a certain height, when it was then plowed into the ground to enrich the soil. The surface has been leveled off and the trees trimmed up. They will be left as they are at present, but shrubbery and flowers will be added. Grass will be sown in the fall and then the park will be ready for occupancy next spring and summer. Benches will be arranged about the park and the public will then be invited to stroll there whenever they care to and find a place that may really be called a park and can be shown to visitors with pride.

THE SKIN PEELED OFF.

A RAILROAD FIREMAN TERRIRLY SCALDED AT WESTFIELD.

James Rosenberg's Body Enveloped in Steam Escaping From a Broken Tube in the Boiler—Taken to Hospital.

A terrible accident occurred on the Central Railroad near the Westfield station, last night, when a fireman of a P. and R. freight engine was enveloped in a cloud of escaping steam and scalded into insensibility.

Freight engine No. 665 is due at Westfield on her eastern trip at about 9:15 p. m. Just before it reached the Westfield station last night, a stray bolt flew out and the fireman, James Rosenberg, received the flood of steam that rushed from the boiler. The unfortunate man was rendered insensible by the pain which he suffered. He lives at Norristown, Pa.

The crew of the train went to his rescue, and pulled him from the cab of the engine, which had come to a standstill. He was found to be so badly scalded that when an effort was made to remove his clothing, large pieces of flesh came off with it.

When the 9:28 eastbound passenger train came along it was flagged, and the injured man was placed in the baggage car upon an improvised cot and taken to Elizabeth.

His sufferings upon the way were so terrible as to be almost indescribable. When the train reached Elizabeth an ambulance was sent for and Rosenburg was taken to the Elizabeth General Hospital.

Hospital Ward Being Cleaned.

At present there are only six patients at the hospital and those in charge have taken advantage of the situation and are having the men's ward thoroughly overhauled and cleaned. Both wards are now supplied with iron tables with a glass top which are placed by the side of each bed. These tables are a necessity and the members of the Auxiliary Board have succeded in securing them for the hospital.

—Rev. J. A. Cubberly, of South Plainfield, will lead the meeting this evening at the East Third Street Mission.

HACKMEN GET INTO A QUARREL AND LEGAL COMPLICATIONS.

John Keeley Sued Willman Callahan for $3,000 Damages, But the Suit May be Discussed Because of an Error—Argued.

The hackmen that cluster around the North avenue station do not make up a happy family, far from it.

A damage suit for $3,000 has grown out of a dispute between two of the hackmen, John Keeley and William Callahan, and today a motion is being argued before Judge Magie in Elizabeth to quash the writ on account of a defect in the summons. The year was not mentioned in it. If the suit is killed, another is likely to follow.

The suit was brought by John Keeley, of LaGrande avenue, against William Callahan for alleged assault and battery. Keeley and Callahan both had calls from regular passengers one night and Callahan reached the opening first and secured his patron. Keeley claims that Callahan would not get out of the way but purposely tried to prevent Keeley from getting his passenger. When Keeley attempted to reach him, it is alleged, Callahan jumped out and assaulted Keeley with the butt of his whip. Keeley claims that he was laid up two weeks as a result of his injuries.

Callahan claims that Keeley deliberately backed into his rig and caught the latter's horse by the foot in his wheel and dragged him for some distance. Callahan says he tried to move Keeley's horse so that he might relieve his own and that Keeley struck him. Callahan says he defended himself.

Keeley brought suit to recover damages for the alleged time he was confined to the house. His lawyers were Swackhamer & Williams. Callahan retained McNabb & Clark to defend him.

The case was to come to trial tomorrow. Several days ago, notice was served on the plaintiff's counsel that the other side would move to have the summons quashed and the suit dropped. Today Lawyers McNabb & Swackhamer are in Elizabeth arguing the motion before Judge Magie.

Judge Magie decided that there was a defect in the summons, but allowed the plaintiff's attorneys to amend it and ordered them to pay the costs.

TOOK POISON BY MISTAKE.

Miss Mullen Drank Bellebore in Place of Her Medicine.

Miss Ellen Mullen, an elderly women, lies in a critical condition at her home in New Brunswick as the result of poison accidentally taken. Miss Mullen, who has been suffering from severe pains in her arms, secured medicine from a druggist. She placed it in a cupboard alongside of other bottles.

Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock Miss Mullen took a cup of water to prepare a dose of medicine. By mistake she placed two teaspoonfuls of hellebore, a poison used to destroy plant lice, into the water. Stirring it up, she drank the mixture. Immediately she said to her niece, Miss Mamie Mullen: "This doesn't taste like my medicine." Her niece noticed that the bottle was labelled poison, and when her aunt learned of her mistake she fainted.

Mrs. Mary Wood, a boarder, immediately gave an emetic to Miss Mullen. City Physician Shannon soon arrived, and said that the woman's condition was critical.

FELL DOWN STAIRS.

Mrs Andrew Hoff Tripped and Was Seriously Hurt.

Tuesday night Mrs. Andrew Hoff, of Chatham street, fell down stairs and severely sprained her wrist and otherwise bruised her body. She came out of one of the rooms upstairs for the purpose of going down stairs, and just as she was about to take the first step her foot caught in the edge of her dress and thew her the entire distance to the first floor. When Mrs. Hoff was discovered at the foot of the stairs she was in a semi-conscious condition She was assisted to her bed where she has been confined since the accident.

She feels the effect of the fall more at present than she did when it happened, and it will be several weeks before she will be able to get around again. That she was not more seriously injured is a miracle, for the distance is quite long and the stairway is very narrow.

His Toot Cost Him $10.

Robert Krohm, of New York, came to Plainfield a few days ago to work for a local baker. He worked one day and then started off on a little toot, with the result of being arrested last night in the borough by Chief Marshal Wilson. He was given the choice of $10 or thirty days. He will probably pay the fine of $10.

BY SURGING SEA WAVES

SEVERAL HUNDRED PLAINFIELDERS AT THE SEASIDE TODAY.

The First Big Excursion of the Season Left This Morning For Asbury Park to Spend a Day of Pleasure There.

Fifteen cars of bright, expectant excursionists started for Asbury Park, this morning, with the prospect of a delightful day before them.

Everybody in Plainfield expects to spend one day during the summer at Asbury Park. The summer would be incomplete without that outing. It is an old custom that has been fostered until the excursious become annual events in the life of the young people, to be looked forward to with much joy as circus day or Fourth of July. The Sunday-schools long ago took up the idea and most of the excursions are under the auspices of some of these organizations. The smaller Sunday-schools unite and several go together. Others charge the members of the Sunday-school a small sum for their tickets to assist in defraying the expenses. Tickets are sold to outsiders and everybody that wants to and has the price can go.

The first of these big Sunday-school excursions went this morning. It was a combination of the First Presbyterian, Congregational, Park Avenue Baptist and Church of the Redeemer Sunday-schools. The day was a perfect one for an outing by the sea. A cool breeze, which on the shore would be a sea breeze, promised a delightful time there. The excursion train was to start at 8 o'clock, following the 7:58 express to Elizabethport. There was the usual hurry and scurry just before the time came. Some excursionists were late and forgot their dignity in their anxiety to reach the train.

Everything was ready and the committee had just announced to the conductor that they were all aboard when there came the startling announcement that a child was lost. Railroad officials, committee and friends ran about the platform, while the mother gazed anxiously from the train. The train began to move, all was excitement, and then the brother of the missing one appeared leading the little girl by the hand. She was bundled on to the cars by ready hands and the excursion was off.

Farewells were waved to the friends on the platform and then came the wait, for the arrival at the shore and Asbury Park, with all its countless attractions, was near at hand.

The train leaves Asbury Park at 6 o'clock for the return journey and will make the trip in a little less than two hours.

BRANDISHED A KNIFE.

John Vintilla Threatened a Woman and Landed in Court.

Mrs. Mary Murphy, of West Fourth street, near Plainfield avenue, made a complaint to Justice Mosher this morning that John Vintilla, an Italian living next door, had threatened her by brandishing a hammer and a knife in her face.

The Justice sent a constable after Vintilla and after hearing both sides of the story administered a lecture on the foolishness of strife among neighbors.

Mrs. Murphy was unwilling to press the charge and Vintilla was released, with an admonition that if similar trouble occurred again he would be placed under bonds to keep the peace.

A PLAINFIELD DIRECTOR.

Sportsmen Propose to Help the State Protect the Game.

The New Jersey State Sportsmen's Association was organized yesterday in Jersey City. It will soon be incorporated for the purpose of protecting game, through legislation, and to secure the enforcement of the game laws. The officers are:—Capt. A. W. Mooney, of Oakland, president; Supreme Court Justice William S. Gummere, first vice-president; directors, T. H. Keller, of Plainfield; Isaac H. Terrill, of Newark; William R. Green, of Kearny; Jacob Pentz, of Bergen Point, and Paul Jeanerrette, of Rutherford.

President Mooney said the association would be auxiliary to the State Fish and Game Commission.

Borough Realty Changes.

The following two borough realty changes have been recorded in the Somerset County Clerk's office:

Henry Bodenheimer, et ux., to John Bodenheimer, North Plainfield, $1; John Bodenheimer, et ux., to Henrietta Bodenheimer, North Plainfield, $1.

They Can Dance.

It was reported that an effort would be made by the police to stop the dancing at the Dunellen end of the trolley, but Chief Grant says that he has nothing to do with the matter.

DENIES WIFE'S CHARGES

ABNER BARTLETT DECLARES MRS. BARTLETT DECLINED HIS OFFER.

Says That He Offered to Pay All the Bills for Her Support and Give her Money Besides—Asks for Dismissal of the Bill.

An answer was filed in the Court of Chancery yesterday by Abner Bartlett to the application for a limited divorce and alimony made by his wife, Elizabeth Bartlett.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett were married on January 13, 1883, and lived in Montclair from 1884 to 1893, when they moved to Plainfield. The wife was formerly Elizabeth Manzele, a comely premier danseuse, who, at the time of the marriage, was playing in "Baba" at Niblo's Theatre.

The wife, in her petition, said that she and her husband lived together happily for only a few months, when he began to absent himself from home frequently, sometimes remaining away for three or four weeks at a time. Her husband, she alleged, treated her unkindly and with great indignity, and in April last left her without any funds. She was then obliged to mortgage a house in Plainfield for $4,000, break up housekeeping and sell the household goods in order to get means for support.

In the answer Bartlett denies a charge made by his wife that he consumed part of her property. He also denies the long-continued absences from his wife. He declares that he recently received $1,380 and gave his wife $700 of it.

He says he has frequently tried to dissuade his wife from seeking a separation and has offered to pay all bills for her proper support and maintenance and to give her an allowance of $4 or $5 a week for spending. Bartlett says his wife has steadily refused to accept any of his offers. He prays for the dismissal of her bill.

CAR FLOOR THEIR BED.

SIX WAYFARERS CAPTURED BY THE POLICE LAST NIGHT.

Two of the Culprits Told Straight Stories and Were Ordered to Leave Town—The Others Sent to County Jail.

Fast asleep in a freight car on one of the sidetracks at the Plainfield freight yard, the police found six men They were all young and had evidently arrived with the circus. They might have followed the circus had not the police happened on them when they did.

There is always a crowd of hangers-on of disreputable character that follow a circus. The police knew that and were consequently on the alert to catch any of them where they did not belong. The employes of the great Wallace shows, although rough, were a well behaved crowd. The only offenders were the six men that were found in the freight car late at night. They were arrested by Sergeant Kiely and Patrolmen Watson and McCarthy.

This morning the offenders were brought before the City Judge. Harry Howard was a well-dressed young man of twenty-one. He was not a tough individual by any means, but he did not know that it was against the law to go to sleep in an empty freight car. He readily agreed to leave town at once and the Judge suspended sentence.

John Haggerty was a coal miner from Tomokwa, Pa., who had been compelled to quit work in the mines when the rest of the miners struck. He secured a job with the circus a few days ago, but received very scanty pay. He left last night and went to sleep in the car before starting out to find another job. He evidently thought that the Plainfield police and judges worked strangers on a paying basis, for he seemed very much surprised when they refused his $1.50—all he had. The Judge told him to go to the station and buy a ticket instead and get out of town at once. He departed.

The other four prisoners, Ben Williams, Mike Paddens, Jake Paddens and Louis Owens were sent down the road to Elizabeth for a ten days visit. They showed very plainly that they were old rounders.

To Prison for a Year.

George Simmons, aged 26, colored who has been steward of the Westfield Athletic Club, was arraigned by Prosecutor Marsh yesterday on the charge of having burglarized the house on Friday evening. The prisoner admitted his guilt, and said, in reply to a question of the Prosecutor, that he had been in the reform school. Judge McCormick sentenced the prisoner to state prison one year, and to pay the costs.

NO ALMS HOUSE FOR HER

DEPENDENT WOMAN WHO REFUSES TO GO TO INDUSTRIAL HOME.

As a Consequence They Cut Off Her Support and Her Landlord Evicted Her—She Created a Great Wailing Scene.

Bridget Cunningham, 452 West Fourth street, is a dependent woman who has aristocratic tastes, and ideas of her own as to how she should live.

She is a widow about fifty years of age. For the past eleven years she has been a city charge, and the authorities have paid the rent of her apartments and have given her a weekly stipend, besides she has claimed to be in feeble health and has done hardly any work for a number of years. The neighbors have looked upon her as a somewhat exclusive person.

No trouble occurred between Mrs. Cunningham and the authorities until the establishment of the Industrial Home, which is intended to receive such persons as are compelled by poverty to appeal to the city for aid.

About a month ago Overseer of the Poor Marx called upon Mrs. Cunningham and notified her that she would have to enter the Home or support herself hereafter.

A stormy scene followed, and the official left the house hastily to escape Mrs. Cunningham's ire. As he left she shouted again to him that she would never sacrifice her self-respect by going to the almshouse.

When all efforts at persuasion failed, the overseer cut off the woman's money allowance, and declined to pay her rent, which began to run in arrears. James Day, the landlord of the premises, knowing the circumstances of the case, brought an action for ejectment and the woman's goods were taken out yesterday afternoon by Constable Rockafellow. Mrs. Cunningham stood by and kept up a wail as the different articles were placed upon the sidewalk.

A crowd soon gathered to learn what the trouble was. A charitably inclined lady stopped to sympathize with Mrs. Cunningham, and tried to comfort her by promising to secure her admission to the almshouse. This provoked a fresh outbreak and the lady hurriedly made her escape.

The furniture was taken away and placed in storage and Mrs. Cunningham is now staying at a neighbor's. She is quiet and well behaved except when the almshouse is mentioned. Then she loses her selfcontrol and creates a scene.

STATE GROCERS TALKED TRADE.

Semi-annual Convention Held at Mountain Park Inn.

The twentieth semi-annual convention of the Retail Merchants' Association of New Jersey was held at the Mountain Park Inn yesterday. The convention was well attended, over a hundred delegates being present A number of the delegates arrived on Tuesday evening and an informal meeting was held that night to discuss plans for the convention.

The regular convention began at 10 o'clock, yesterday morning. There was no important matters to come before the convention and most of the time was spent in the discussion of the routine subjects and the transaction of such business as was necessary. A number of reports were made concerning the interests of the retail merchants, particularly the grocers, in this State.

A dinner was enjoyed at the Inn but there were no speeches and the members returned immediately to their duties in the business session. Most of the delegates returned home, last evening, but a few remained to see something of Plainfield.

The State Association holds two conventions every year, one in January and one in July. The election of officers is held at the January convention.

SINGERS WANT THEIR MONEY.

Crescent Wheelmen Being Sued by the Midmer Glee Club.

Last February the Crescent Wheelmen gave a minstrel show at Music Hall. As far as the show was concerned it was all right, but the local people did not give the club the support that they hoped and it was not a financial success.

One of the enjoyable features of the show was the chorus, composed of the members of the Midmer Glee Club. In return for their efforts the members of the club were to receive a financial remuneration. The Crescent Wheelmen did not pay it. It was demanded but the club asked for time to make good the deficiency caused by the show.

The Midmer Club has become tired of waiting, and suit has been started in Justice Nash's court to recover it. The case will come up for trial this afternoon.

THE STRIKE GROWING

Strikers Working Incessantly to Close All the Mines.

HAVE PREVENTED RESUMPTIONS.

Reports That Men Have Been Imported Are Doubted—The Companies Have In Some Instances Engaged Deputies to Protect Their Men.

Pittsburg, July 15.—The miners' strike will likely be extended eastward within the next 12 hours. The leaders have arranged for a mass meeting at the mines of the Pennsylvania Gas Coal company on the Pennsylvania railroad. A number of speakers from different labor organizations will deliver addresses, and a strong effort will be made to induce the miners to throw down their tools. It is said the employees of this company are ready to join the strike and that a successful agitation of the strike question among them may result in a temporary termination of work among the men of the West Moreland Gas Coal company and other pits in that section.

President Dolan and Secretary Warner of the Mine Workers have received reports from scouts sent out to watch points where attempts would likely be made by the operators to start their plants. A miner from Stickle Hollow, where the mines of the Washington Coal and Coke company are located, reported that the men who have been working steadily throughout the strike would surely lay down their tools and refuse to go in again until the trouble is over. This man said they were "drummed" both Tuesday and Monday when they came out of the mine in the evening. From expressions he heard from many of them he said he was sure the "drumming" would have its effect.

At the office of the company it was stated that all the men were at work, and no interference was expected. The company, however, had taken the precaution to engage a number of deputies and will increase the force if necessary. A representative said they would protect their men, and he believed they would all remain at work.

The strikers have succeeded in preventing resumption at two more mines. They were the Keeling and Castle Shannon pits. The men had agreed to return to work at the 69 cent rate, but were induced to change their minds and promised to remain out until the strikers won. Another miner brought the information that the workers in the Equitable mine, one of the co-operative kind, which has been working right through, have joined the strike. Great pressure was brought to bear upon them, as the pit was the only one in that vicinity which was working.

Reports of Importing Men Doubted.

Nothing could be learned in regard to the report that John A. Beidler's mine was to be started with imported men. The report was doubted at the miners' headquarters. Several operators who were spoken to on the subject said they believed the attempt would be made. Mr. Beidler is a Cleveland operator. He was in the city on Monday, but returned home yesterday.

The miners' officials, it is said, are getting ready for a move of some sort on the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company's men in the near future. The fact that De Armitt's men have so far given no intimation of joining the strike is a thorn in the side of the miners who are out. They look anxiously for news from the Sandy Creek region and seem greatly disappointed when they hear nothing is in sight.

The operators are vexed at the miners for not succeeding in getting the workmen of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company out. Many of the operators are willing to remain closed down if W. P. De Armitt's men can be induced to lay down their picks. Cook & Sons, owners of the Allison mines at McGovern Station, Washington county, have notified Sheriff Clark to furnish deputies to go on duty at the mines. The Cooks have about 150 men at work, the 69 cent rate being paid, but men from Bishop are trying to influence the miners to quit. So far the McGovern men have refused. Developments from the West Virginia field are awaited here with great interest.

The reports of the organizers sent from this city and Ohio will carry a great deal of weight with the miners of the Pittsburg district, for they all recognize that unless the supply of coal from that state can be stopped a serious handicap to their ultimate success will be presented.

Cameron Miller, ex-vice president of the United Mine Workers, has arrived in Pittsburg and tendered his services to the local officials. He will probably go into the West Virginia field as an organizer. Mr. Miller said the conditions were more favorable for success than at any time during the last general suspension. The men, he said, acted with more unanimity this time in responding to the strike order.

Schooner Driven Ashore.

Crescent Beach, Mass., July 15.—The two masted fishing schooner Laurel has been driven ashore at the Point of Pines. She had been anchored between Winthrop and Nahant waiting for the storm to subside, broke her anchorage and was blown upon the shore, striking bow on about 200 feet from the edge of the water. The waves broke over her deck, and she soon began to fill, and the crew, who staid by, had a hard time keeping the hold of the schooner free from water.

Settlement of Marocco Difficulty.

Tangier, Marocco, July 15.—The difficulty arising over the discrimination of the authorities of Marocco against Americans in refusing to permit them to employ native help, a privilege allowed Europeans, has been settled, and the United States warships San Francisco and Raleigh, which recently arrived here to support the protest of United States Consul General Burke against this discrimination, will sail for New York via England.

Fast Trip to China.

Montreal, July 15.—The Empress of Japan, which left Vancouver on June 26, arrived at Hongkong on July 14, making the trip in 11 days to Yokohama and in 18 to Hongkong, including stops. This is the fastest transpacific passage on record, an average speed of over 17 knots per hour having been maintained.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Struck by a Bolt While Seeking Refuge Under a Tree.

Jersey City, July 15.—A young man, believed to be S. A. Bastino, 25 years old, of New York city, was killed by lightning on the Hudson boulevard. He was observed taking refuge under a tree from the rain. There was a blinding flash, a crash of thunder and a rush of wind and rain. When people looked again from their windows, the young man was seen stretched out under the tree. They found him dead.

His body showed but few discolorations by the lightning. The ambulance surgeon said the young man was dead and appeared to have been instantly killed.

The body was taken to the morgue. Letters were found in his pockets addressed to "S. A. Bastino, 407 Canal street," and a recommendation signed by John McKeon of Eighth avenue for the appointment of S. A. Bastino as a street car conductor. He had a book showing membership in Court Waldemere of the Foresters of America of Bridgeport, Conn.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT

Three Boys Drawn Under a Milldam In New Hampshire.

Manchester, N. H., July 15.—Five young men made a foolhardy attempt to cross the Piscataquog river in a rickety scow less than 25 feet above the falls at Baldwin's bobbin shop, and as a result three now rest in a watery grave. The boys, whose ages varied from 17 to 22 years, started out with no oars, but pieces of boards for paddles. The river is extremely high. The swift current carried the boat toward the dam with alarming rapidity. The young men all jumped as the scow hung for a minute on the flashboards, and landed on the rocks below the falls.

Frank Simars, 17 years old, was swept beneath the dam by the undercurrent and was drowned. Joseph Lavoc, 20 years old, and Thomas Terrien, 20 years old, also went down. William Lavoc and George Terrien were swept ashore and escaped. None of the bodies has yet been recovered, as the current is too swift at present to permit of the successful use of grappling irons.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.

1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

—Unless all signs fail there promises to be some more changes in the borough police department before a great while.

You may hunt the world over and you will not find another medicine equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park & North Aves.

RESERVOIRS BURST.

Death and Disaster Caused by a Rush of Water.

SEVEN KILLED AND MANY INJURED.

The Montreal Express Train Has a Narrow Escape From Plunging Into a Washout—Houses Swept Away by the Flood.

Matteawan, N. Y., July 15.—With a roar which was heard for miles, ever above the battle of the elements, a mighty wall of water swept down the narrow valley east of Fishkill yesterday, tearing down trees, lifting bowlders in its flood and bearing to destruction everything in its course.

Seven persons lost their lives in its onset, and 150 were rendered homeless. House after house was swept away in the van of the water, which left in its course a furrow like a river bed.

Millions of gallons of water, set free by the giving way of two reservoirs high on the mountain side, went down in the flood laden with debris of all descriptions.

The reservoir which caused the disaster is known as the Melzingah. It is situated high up on the hills about two miles south of Matteawan and about a mile east of Fishkill. It was built in two parts, an upper and a lower, and was about 500 feet long, 300 feet wide and 35 feet deep. The Fishkill and Matteawan Water company used it as an auxiliary supply to its regular water works system, the main source of which is several miles distant.

The reservoir collected its water mainly from the north side of South Beacon and its overflow ran into the Hudson in a small stream known as Tonawanda creek, running through a narrow ravine for about a quarter of a mile, which opened into a plain between the river and the foot of the hills. The reservoir was 500 feet above tidewater.

Breaking of the Dam.

It was through this ravine that the mighty flood of water swept on its way to the river. The flood was pent up in the narrow confines of the little valley and gathered resistless force before it hurled itself upon the plain below, carrying death and destruction in its path. What houses there were in its way were picked up bodily from their foundations and either dashed to pieces or whirled along in the torrents like chips on an angry sea.

The heavy rains of the last few days had swollen Melzingah reservoir to the brink. Every little rivulet that fed it had become a rushing stream. If the dams had been strong enough, the reservoir would simply have overflowed, and the only result would have been that Melzingah creek would have become an angry little river.

The dam between the upper half of the reservoir and the lower gave away and the full weight and volume of the water that had been confined in the upper part was precipitated against the lower dam.

Of course the lower dam couldn't stand the strain. The down coming mesh of water swept it away as completely as though it had been a wall of cardboard, and with a terrific roar the mighty torrent leaped down the ravine on its way to the river.

Houses Swept Away.

Between the ravine and the river lay the New York Central and Hudson River railroad tracks, on the edge of a little plain. Between them and the hills, in the lowlands, were about a dozen buildings, chiefly dwellings, and the extensive brick works of Van Buren & Timoney. Two of the houses were occupied as boarding houses for the employees of the brickyards and contained a large number of persons. The dwellings were also occupied mainly by workmen.

When the flood poured out of the funnel-like ravine and spread over the flat-lands it had gained an awful impetus in its downward rush. It picked up each house in its path and hurled it onward in a crashing, grinding wreck. It demolished the brick works utterly. Not a vestige of the extensive building was left. It carried away a big bridge across the roadway and flung it in pieces into the river. It tore away a mile in the railroad tracks 100 yards wide. It hurled one of the workmen's big boarding houses bodily into the Hudson.

Some of the people living in the path of the torrent got to the higher ground in safety. Many did not. One family, Perry by name, in its wild flight, left a baby behind. Most of the killed were in the workmen's boarding houses. The names of those whose bodies have been recovered, as officially given out by Coroner H. B. Bevier, are as follows:

Mrs. John Conroy, aged 36, wife of the engineer in Timoney's brickyard.

Mrs. Mary Ferry, aged 38 years, a widow.

William Ferry, aged 9 years, son of Mrs. Ferry.

John Sruka, a Hungarian, 23 years old.

Philamena Deluka, an Italian girl, 6 years old.

The missing are: John Conroy, son of Engineer Conroy, aged 2 years; Julia Conroy, daughter of Engineer Conroy, aged 6 years, and an unknown Hungarian, whose brother declares that he was drowned.

Express Train's Narrow Escape.

The Montreal express from New York had a narrow escape. It was due at the place where the washout occurred just about the time the flood came.

A watchman at the brickyard heard the roar of the torrent and thought of the train. He snatched up a signal lamp and ran wildly up the track. As he heard the whistle of the locomotive it was drowned by the crash of the flood striking the buildings behind him. The express rushed on, and in an instant the glare of the headlight was in the watchman's eyes. He waved his lantern frantically, and the engineer put on the airbrakes and reversed his lever. Before the train could be stopped the forward trucks of the locomotive were in the water. In another second or two the train would have plunged into the washout.

The damage to property is estimated at $100,000.

Fire at Rome, N. Y.

Rome, N. Y., July 15.—The buildings containing the general store and residence of Hon. William B. Graves of Taberg, member of the assembly from the third Oneida district, has been destroyed by fire. Loss, $4,000; partly insured.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS

Senate at a Deadlock on Pacific Railroad Agreement.

THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE HOUSE.

General Deficiency Bill Again Under Consideration—The President Sends In Another Long List of Appointments—New York Places Filled.

Washington, July 15.—The senate was in a deadlock for several hours, with business at a standstill, while calls of the senate, roll calls and other parliamentary expedients were resorted to. It was due to the effort to secure action on the resolution of Mr. Harris of Kansas designed to prevent the disposal of the government lien on the Union Pacific railroad under the terms of an alleged agreement.

There were many roll calls on Mr. Harris' motion to consider the resolution, quorums appearing and disappearing, and from 12 to 5 o'clock no final vote on the motion was secured.

A parliamentary device opened the subject to debate, which continued throughout the day, Messrs. Morgan and Harris speaking for and Thurston and Gear against the resolution. It finally went over.

The following nominations have been confirmed:

Lieutenant colonels to be colonels, G. V. Henry, Third cavalry; L. H. Carpenter, Seventh cavalry; S. B. M. Young, Fourth cavalry; J. M. Bacon, First cavalry.

The general deficiency bill was reported to the house. A joint resolution offered by General Henderson of Iowa was agreed to authorizing the erection of a temporary studio in Washington under the direction of the secretary of the treasury, for the completion of the statue of General Sherman to be erected on public ground in this city.

On motion of Mr. Cannon the house nonconcurred in the late amendment to the general deficiency bill and asked a conference thereon.

Mr. Hepburn of Iowa asked Mr. Cannon if he would not consent to a separate vote on the armor plate item. Mr. Cannon responded that the house would have an opportunity to vote on the question when the conference report was before it.

Mr. Sayers of Texas agreed with Mr. Cannon in assuring Mr. Hepburn that there would be a chance to vote on the question untrammeled by any complication. Messrs. Cannon, Northway and Sayers were named as conferees on the part of the house.

Some Nominations.

Washington, July 15.—The president has sent the following New York nominations to the senate:

Robert A. Sharkey to be naval officer of the port of New York.

Thomas Fitchie to be commissioner of immigration at New York.

Other nominations were:

William L. Merry of California to be minister to Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Salvador.

Horace N. Allen of Ohio to be minister resident and consul general to Korea.

Perry M. De Leon of Georgia to be consul general at Guayaquil, Ecuador.

To be consuls: William Sewell of Ohio at Toronto, Edward H. Ohman of Minnesota at Stuttgart, Henry W. Diederich of District of Columbia at Magdeburg, Germany; C. W. Erdman of Kentucky at Furth, Germany; Samuel E. Magill of Illinois at Tampico, Mexico; George J. Corri of Illinois at Amsterdam, Netherlands; Grenville James of New York at Prescott, Ont.; Radcliff H. Ford of Maine at Yarmouth, N. S.; Frederick W. Hossfeld of Iowa at Trieste, Austria; James C. Covert of Ohio at Lyons, William K. Anderson of Michigan at Hanover, Germany; William W. Henry of Vermont at Quebec, Can.; John F. Cables of Oregon at Valparaiso, Daniel T. Phillips of Illinois at Cardiff, Wales; Mahlon Van Horne of Rhode Island at St. Thomas, West Indies; Adam Lieberknecht of Illinois at Zurich, Switzerland; James M. Shepard of Michigan at Hamilton, Ont.; William Harrison Bradley of Illinois at Tunstall, England; C. A. McCullough of Maine at St. Stephen, N. B.; Paul Lang of New Hampshire at Sherbrooke, Que.; Charles Deal of New York at St. Johns, Que.; Delma J. Vail of Vermont at Charlottetown, P. E. I.; Edmund Z. Browski of Illinois at Breslau, Germany; James G. Stevens of Indiana at Plymouth, England.

Collectors of Customs: Charles B. Roberts at Milwaukee, George A. McGowan at Bridgeton, N. J.; Charles M. Webster, collector of internal revenue, district of Montana.

Report on Hawaiian Treaty.

Washington, July 15.—The senate foreign relations committee has ordered a favorable report made to the senate on the Hawaiian annexation treaty. The committee made no amendment to the convention.

The vote by which it was reported was practically unanimous. Senators Daniel and Turpie refrained from voting. The treaty was favored by Senators Davis, Foraker, Clarke, Cullom and Morgan, and the proxy of Senator Frye was also cast in the affirmative.

Senators Lodge, Mills and Gray were absent.

President Pardons a Convict.

Washington, July 15.—The president has pardoned William W. Waite, sentenced in Virginia in 1895 to five years' imprisonment for assault.

A Murderer Executed.

Deadwood, S. D., July 15.—Charles Brown, who on May 14 last murdered Mrs. Colstone, has been hanged. There is no truth in the report which has been widely circulated that Colstone would pull the trap of his wife's murderer. Brown was hung by the sheriff as all along planned.

Body of a Missing Woman Found.

Huntington, Mass., July 15.—The body of Rosamond M. Humphrey, who wandered away from Blandford two weeks ago, has been found in a creek here. She was suffering from a nervous trouble and was at Blandford for the summer. Her home was in Chicopee.

Increases Its Capital Stock.

Albany, July 15.—The Gilbert Manufacturing company of New York city has certified to the secretary of state of an increase in its capital stock from $25,000 to $400,000.

NOW IS THE TIME.

The Commissioners of Adjustment under the Martin Act are again in session today to hear the grievances of taxpayers who come under the provisions of this rather remarkable law for the collection of delinquent taxes In some people the disposition seems inherent that they do their strongest protesting against certain official actions after the time has passed for them to do so in a formal and effective way. It is well, therefore, for any property owner who feels that he may be proceeded against unjustly in this tax collection matter to appear before the commissioners and have the difficulty adjusted, if possible. The commissioners are all men of fairness.

A JUDICIAL EVIL.

Various plans have been proposed to make up for the Legislature's neglect to eliminate Justices of the Peace from the Constitution. A Paterson lawyer who has been looking into the powers and prerogatives of the Dogberries suggests that the evils which they inflict on the community can be cured by barring them from the fees and perquisities, as these alone form the temptation that attracts unworthy men to what was once an office of honor.—New York Tribune.

IN A NUTSHELL.

It is an easier thing for a man receiving an income of $5,000 to pay a $50 tax than it is for a man receiving $500 in the same period to pay $5 for a like purpose. A careful consideration of this fact, with subsequent official action based on its logic and practibility, will do much to solve the question of how the municipal government is to be conducted. In addition, it must be remembered that the $500 citizens are in the majority.

THE POOR PATROLMAN.

A North Plainfield policeman has resigned because he was being watched. And he was right. What joy or glory is there in being a policeman if it means a ceaseless round of patrol work with no relaxations, pleasures or luxuries while the uniform is on.—Tribune.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

WANTED A DOG ARRESTED

CHIEF MARSHAL WILSON DECLINED TO TAKE A CANINE PRISONER.

John Frass Charged the Dog With Stealing Chickens From the Backyard of Boyce's Hotel—Dog Howled Innocense.

"Marshal, please arrest that dog and lock him up," was the rather startling request made to Chief Marshal Wilson, of the borough, yesterday, as he was standing in front of Humble's grocery, on Somerset street. The man that made the request was John Frass, a hostler at Boyce's Hotel, Somerset street and Lincoln place. He was holding a thoroughly frightened canine up by the ears.

Chief Marshal Wilson thought of the handcuffs and then looked at the front paws of the dog. The crowd roared with laughter and the hostler looked indignant.

"Why don't you lock him up?" he demanded, as one of the spectators began to draw word pictures of the Chief Marshal escorting all the stray dogs to the lock up and handcuffing them. "He's been stealing our chickens and he's got to stop." The offender gave vent to a mournful howl at this stage of the proceedings, at which his captor twitched his ears and brought forth another yelp.

Then the Marshal explained that he was not employed by the borough to arrest all the canine offenders but that it took all of his time to keep the human population in order. Dog catcher Oscar Vaughn looked after the dogs, he explained.

Frass had captured the dog in front of the school house and he was loath to let him go. The crowd wanted him to go to Magistrate Thomas and swear out a warrant for the arrest of the four-footed culprit on the charge of larceny but the hostler had an idea that the crowd was jollying him and marched the dog in the yard in the rear of the hotel, where he locked him up to think of some satisfactory punishment.

HOT SHOT FOR COUNCIL

ITS MEMBERS HELD UP TO VERY PUNGENT COMMENT

A Real Estate Taxpayer Who Infers That Some of the City Fathers Are Lavish Spenders For Modest and Alert People.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—My attention has been recently attracted to the controversy in your daily paper between "Taxpayer" and "Republican." I think it is very clear to your readers that "Republican" confines himself to facts to give vent to his feelings in the matter and to enlighten the general public, many of whom are temporary residents of our beautiful city, here for health, and pay very little attention to politics and the government of our city. Whereas, "Taxpayer" has assumed the aggressive, as if the "shoe pinched," and leads one to suppose that he may be closely identified with the "City Fathers." He signs himself "Taxpayer." This is very probable—yet he may be only a personal taxpayer. We know that many of our "City Fathers" are only personal taxpayers. I question seriously, however, if he be a taxpayer under the Martin Act. I question also if any of the "City Fathers" are taxpayers under the Martin Act.

Probably if this "taxpayer" had no personal interest in our "City Fathers" and owned real estate on which he had taken title after careful searches made by the most competent lawyers in the State and after the City Collector had informed said lawyers that there were no unpaid taxes on said real estate, he might not now be feeling in the frame of mind to condone such acts of extorting taxes from present holders of real estate, which were due and collectable from others twenty years ago, and which have long since been outlawed. Such acts reflect not only upon our city, but upon the lawyers of city and State—for, with the possibility of such outrages being perpetrated upon the innocent holders of real estate, we would have no use for lawyers but would turn all searches over to title guarantee companies.

"Taxpayer" makes a point of our "City Fathers" being prosperous business men. This fact the taxpayers of Plainfield are well aware of. Many of them may make money easily and spend it lavishly; but in that case we want them to have more ideas of economy in their official duties than they have in private life, and we certainly do not want a depleted treasury, replenished through the Martin Act against innocent holders of real estate.

"Taxpayer" wisely states: "the people at large are not fools and will settle the verdict at the polls." They will, with both eyes open, and, from present indications, by voting a straight ticket.

"Republican" referred to sidewalks being called for in outskirts of the city. He, however, did not refer to the fact that some of the more thickly populated parts of the town have no sidewalks. Notices to place such sidewalks were given over two years ago. Do the "City Fathers" intend waiting till the property changes hands to force this tax also on the innocent holders? A Real Estate Taxpayer.

APPEALS FOR THE UNFORTUNATE.

Two Citizens Who Thinks City Industrial Home Rules are Harsh.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I note in your "extract" from the rules of the City Industrial Home the following: "Nobody is allowed to bring ardent spirits or to use tobacco in any form there." Is not this prohibition of the use of tobacco unnecessary, if not actually cruel, under the existing circumstances? Consider for a moment that the inmates are adults, and possibly accustomed to the use of tobacco. Consider the extremely meagre food supply, barely sufficient to sustain life; and the fact, for it is a fact, that tobacco is positively beneficial to adults living on a reduced diet, in that it arrests waste of tissue.

Dr. Richardson says: "The habit (tobacco using) may be conducive to the physical well being of the individual, provided he cannot supply himself with sufficiently nourishing food to supply the daily wear and tear of the muscular and nervous system." And again, "It is innocuous as compared with alcohol; it does infinitely less harm than opium; it is in no sense worse than tea; and by the side of high living altogether contrasts most favorably."

In our prisons and many charitable institutions regular allowances of tobacco are given, and with beneficial results.

The lot of the unfortunates who will occupy the Home is harsh, indeed; and it seems to the writer that our Council has acted harshly in depriving them of this comfort, doubtless to many of them their only use. If expense be urged, I would remind them that I plead not for choice cigars, or the most expensive grades of tobacco; probably one of the many pounds of chewing and smoking tobacco, selling in large packages at 5 cents, would be gratefully received.

Medico.

To the Editor of the Daily Press:—The Honorable Common Council have again "strained at a gnat." I refer to the regulation forbidding the use of tobacco in the new Home (the poorhouse). The poor creatures are doomed to inhale the sewer stench and are not to be allowed a whiff of cheap tobacco smoke to mitigate it.

Will anyone of our Honorable Common Council reflect a minute, while he sits in a club car after a hearty breakfast and smokes his "two for a quarter" cigar, upon the under-dog in the new Home who has made his breakfast on bread and baked beans and who would be glad, perhaps, of a chance to ride outside on the platform of that club car and whiff the the delicate aroma of a la Havana, or may be chew the butt which has been under foot? If the city is too poor to afford a few ounces of tobacco to the inmates of our new Home, there is one citizen, who does not ride in a club car nor smoke aromatic Havvanas, who will gladly send a bit of the weed to the new Home. But first get that rule off the books.

A PRIVATE SOLDIER.

BY JOHN R. MUSICK.

A dreary plain, a vast waste, with only a green oasis like grove of trees, in which had hastily been thrown up a rude breastwork of sand and stone.

A cloud of howling savages surrounding the earthwork, in which was the great overland stage. It was a scene calculated to excite fear and sympathy. There were women in that beleaguered fort as well as men, and their pale faces, parched lips and dry, tearless eyes evinced the stony terror caused by the prospect of certain death.

A dozen troopers under command of Lieutenant Marks had been sent to guard the stagecoach; when they found themselves confronted by such overwhelming odds that they hastened to the grove we have mentioned and hastily threw up the earthworks behind which the soldiers and passengers were defending themselves. The face of Lieutenant Marks was almost as pale as marble, and he had long since ceased to give orders, for it was now a pitched battle in which every man was his own commander.

Prominent among the troopers was a tall young man in the uniform of a private soldier. There was a look of calm determination on his face, and whatever others may have done, he wasted no shots that day. Every time his rifle cracked a redskin fell. Though he exposed himself more to Indian bullets than any of the others, he seemed to bold a charmed life, for not a shot touched him.

This private was about twenty-four years of age, with a handsome face, dark eyes and black moustache. His name was George Stone, and it was whispered that he was a graduate of Princeton. How he came to be a private soldier in the regular army is a story of sufficient interest to tell even in the midst of battle, especially as it has some bearing on the conflict. He and Lieutenant David Marks had been schoolboys together, and both were competitors for the appointment at West Point. Marks, though inferior to Stone in every respect, having the strongest political pull, succeeded, and George went to Princeton.

George graduated about the same time that his successful rival came from West Point with a commission as second lieutenant of cavalry. He happened to be near the town in which the regiment of his rival was quartered. This renewed the jealousy of his companion. Then Miss Mary Sommers came to the city. She was going to her sister in Montana, the coming summer, and as Marks' regiment had been ordered to that part of the country, he hoped he would meet her again, especially as he had fallen desperately in love with her. For the second time his rival was his schoolboy friend, George Stone, who seemed to be more successful than he had before. Marks had no political pull in love matters, and began to look about for some means to conquer again.

The plan he fell upon was the most nefarious that can be conceived. One day he and some officers and friends enticed George into a saloon, and during the afternoon induced him to drink so much champagne that he became utterly unconscious of his acts and surroundings.

While he was in that state, a recruiting officer who was present induced him to enlist in the regular army as a private, and he was assigned to the company to which Lieutenant Marks belonged.

When Stone recovered consciousness and realized what he had done, he resolved never to drink another drop of intoxicating liquors.

Marks, who had been his constant associate, of course cut his acquaintance, and George was compelled to mess and associate with the common soldier. Stone gave strict attention to orders, and studied military tactics as he had never studied any subject in his life. He became the favorite of all save his second lieutenant, who lost no opportunity to humiliate him.

In due time the regiment was ordered to the plains, and he was with the squad sent to guard the stage. It was the first time Lieutenant Marks had ever been under fire; nevertheless it was natural to suppose he would show some courage on this occasion, for Mary Sommers, the girl who had won his heart, was in the stage.

It was galling to poor George Stone to meet the woman whom he loved under such changed circumstances that he dared not speak to her. He bore himself erect with a proud soldierly dignity, but was silent. When the attack came he was first in the fight, and it was then that the lieutenant, who shone as a society man, began to show the white feather. He failed to go to the front with his men, and kept as much out of range of bullets and arrows as possible.

It was George, his stony silence broken only by the exigency of the moment, who suggested the grove as the proper place to make the stand. It was he who proposed that the breastwork be thrown up from the stones and sand.

All the while the cowardly lieutenant, with pale lips and trembling form, was crouched under the stagecoach, not uttering a word or taking any part in the conflict.

"Lieutenant Marks," said a sweet, musical voice at his side during a lull in the conflict, "why do you not go to the front with your men?"

"I am ill, Miss Sommers; indeed, I am very ill. I can hardly stand upon my feet," answered the lieutenant. And to prove that he was correct, he lay at full length on the ground.

"You were not ill two hours ago."

"No, this has been very sudden and very unfortunate indeed. If I were well I could drive off those rascally Indians; but really I am not able to hold up my head." And it seemed as if he would burrow his head in the sand.

"Lieutenant Marks, you are a coward'" cried the brave girl, indignantly. "You are a disgrace to the service."

He began to lament in a pitiable manner, and she turned away and ran to the side of George Stone, who stood boldly erect by the imperfect breastwork, firing at the savages, who were pouring a storm of bullets about him. Laying one little hand on his shoulder, she said:

"Mr. Stone, it is not right that you should endanger your life."

He turned his pale, stern face upon her, and spoke to her for the first time since he had worn the uniform of a soldier.

"Miss Sommers, this is no place for you."

"Nor is it any place for you," she answered.

"I am a soldier, and it is my duty to die."

"And I am one whom you are defending, and it is my duty to remain at your side."

"Miss Sommers—" he began.

"No, no, George! I will never leave this breastwork while you expose your life—more precious than that of any other in the party."

He was touched by her words. They appealed to his heart. A moisture came into the eyes which had been so long dry, while his frame trembled.

"Miss Sommers—"

"George, you used to call me Mary; won't you do so now? Remember, death is a great leveler, and we are facing death."

"Mary—I must defend you," he said. "I would defend you even if I were not a soldier, and I must inspire these others by my example."

"Better let any of them expose their lives than you!" she answered in a voice of melting tenderness.

"It would be fatal to shirk duty now—the act of a coward. Is it not better that we take the only chance we have of defending our lives than to die a coward's death?"

"Then let me stand by your side and fall when you do. I shall not care to live if you are gone."

"No, no! Don't insist on endangering your life, Mary. You unman me. I am a coward when you are exposed to danger—I am brave in the thought that I can defend you."

His reason and entreaty prevailed, and she was induced to seek the most sheltered place in the enclosure when the Indians made their next charge on the rude earthwork.

"They are coming again, boys!" cried the brave private. "Now remember that it is better to die a brave man than a coward. Don't waste a shot. Our only hope lies in making a bold, stubborn resistance."

The soldiers, who looked upon him as their natural leader, silently nodded assent.

"Steady all!" cried George Stone. "Now take careful aim. Don't any of you waste lead on the big chief with red feathers."

Every rifle was aimed.

"Steady! Let them come a little nearer before you fire."

Up they came until they were even within long pistol range, and then George gave the command:

"Fire!"

There was a rattling crash of firearms, and the foremost saddles were emptied. The big chief with red feathers went down with the others. The riderless horses plunged back among the mounted savages, making the panic more general.

"Load!" cried the young soldier.

Before the Indians had recovered from the confusion the volley had thrown them into, a second volley was poured into them. Then some of the passengers having Winchesters began a continual fire.

The savages drew off again, but they had no intention of giving up the fight. Other chiefs came to take the place of those fallen, and they appealed to their comrades for revenge. They had only to point to the sandy plain, reddened with their blood, and with deafening yells they charged the breastwork.

One by one the soldiers went down. As if by a miracle Stone was still unhurt, and gathering the arms of his fallen comrades about him, he continued to fire with such rapidity that the Indians little dreamed there was but one man left.

"George, let me help you," entreated Mary. "I can load the guns."

"God help you!" he murmered.

At this moment there was a sudden and for some time unexplainable stampede on the part of the enemy. Hastily taking up their wounded and part of their dead they flew across the plain as rapidly as their ponies could carry them. The cause of their flight was the arrival of two hundred soldiers under Major Warner. George was the only man unhurt save the cowardly lieutenant, who was still under the stagecoach, and who never recovered from his sudden malady until he and the major assured him the enemy was gone.

Miss Mary Sommers went to the city, where her brother, a wealthy miner, lived. Tom Sommers was not only wealthy but influential, and he was soon ready to offer George Stone either a discharge or a commission. He chose to be discharged, and shortly after married the lady whom he had so gallantly defended. He removed to a Western State, from which he was sent to Congress, and subsequently became an official in the war department.

In another engagement Marks had proved to be a coward, and was tried by a court-martial and dismissed from the service. He went to Washington to be reinstated, and while at the war department met the man whom he had injured.

"Well, I suppose you will do all you can against me," said the lieutenant. "You will keep me out of the army if you can."

"No," George Stone answered, "I may be doing wrong in befriending a man whom I do not believe fitted for the position, but my influence shall be given to have you restored, providing you will resign."

He succeeded in having the officer restored, and then the lieutenant resigned, which removed the stigma of disgrace from him.

It was at the President's reception that Lieutenant Marks met Mr. Stone and his beautiful wife.

"I am proud to meet such a distinguished person as Colonel Stone!" said the lieutenant, derisively.

The fair wife quickly interrupted him with:

"Not a colonel, lieutenant. Private Stone. I am proud to own that I am the wife of a private. A private who is brave in battle is to be preferred to a commissioned officer who becomes deathly sick at a sign of danger."

Lieutenant Marks, very much humiliated, left the White House.

FREEING PULP WOOD OF KNOTS.

The New Machine Accomplishes Better Results Than the Old Method.

A machine has been patented for taking the knots and foreign substance out of wood for sulphite pulp. The freer the wood is from knots and foreign matter the whiter and better quality of pulp it makes. The old method was to bore the knots out by a hand auger, but many of the knots ran crosswise, and could be only be partially removed. Hand picking of the knots was also resorted to after the wood had been chipped, girls and women being mostly employed for that purpose. Very few mills in America could afford the enormous expense of hand picking, but in Europe, where women and girls can be employed for a few cents a day, this laborious process was adopted. In consequence the European manufacturers have been able to furnish American markets with a much cleaner and better grade of pulp than is manufactured in this country. But the new machine will clean the chips better than 100 women and girls can do it in the same time. The method is simple and costs little. The wood is prepared in the usual manner by passing the blocks through the chipper. The chips are then taken up by a blower and discharged against a steel plate, which disintegrates them, after which they are passed through the machine which cleans out the knots. This is a tank or vat filled with water. After entering the water the chips are submerged by machinery and taken to a carrier. The clean wood chips suitable for pulp float and are taken out, while the knots and resinous matter sink and are carried off from the bottom of the tank. The claim of the patent is for an improved method of simultaneously moistening and assorting the clear wood chips for cooking in the digester.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

A REMARKABLE BOOK.

It is on the Finest Vellum and is Traced Instead of Printed.

One of the curious books in the world is neither written nor printed. Its pages are composed of the finest quality of vellum, and the letters were with infinite pains and trouble cut out of the material with a sharp-pointed knife or a pair of delicate scissors. It is interleaved with blue paper, and the letters can, therefore, be read as easily as any print. It formerly belonged to the Prince de Ligne, and is now in the library of a noble French family. The title of the book is "Liber Passionis Domini Nulla Materia Compositis," in English, "The Book of the Passion of Our Lord Jesus Christ, in Characters, Without Materials of Composition." The matter is a homily probably composed by some monastic preacher of the middle ages. A remarkable circumstance connected with this book is the fact that, although it bears the royal arms of England, no mention of it can be found in any English writing. The book is believed to have been made some time in the thirteenth or fourteenth century. In 1640 the Emperor Rudolph offered for it 11,000 ducats, which in the money of our time would equal about $66,000, and the offer was refused.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Bigger Bell than Moscow's.

The biggest bell in the world, not excepting the cracked one of Moscow, is in the pagoda of Mengoon, a little north of Mandalay, in India. It was cast about the beginning of the century by King Bodawpaya as an accompaniment to the huge brick pagoda which he never finished.

It is said to have been cast on an island and rafted across. The weight is about ninety-eight tons, circumference at the bottom 51½ feet and at the top 26 feet. It averages more than a foot in thickness. The bell itself is more than twelve feet high, and the shackle, which was intended for logs of timber, about 12 feet. The pin in the shackle has a diameter of 16 inches.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Evidence of Former Inhabitants.

If the find of a Colorado miner be taken as evidence, there is little doubt that the human race existed on this continent as long ago as the time when silver veins were in process of formation. Four hundred feet below the surface, a number of human bones, as well as an arrowhead of tempered copper, were found, actually imbedded in silver ore. The bones and arrowhead must have been lying there before the ore formed around them, and that means many thousand years ago.—Golden Days.

SCALING WITHOUT A LADDER.

A Pyramid of Soldiers Enables Men to Surmount a 31-Foot Wall.

Corporal Leary, the limberest man at Fort Sheridan, took the chance of breaking his neck and tumbling the tottering pyramids of forty-one soldiers in a bruised heap Saturday as he sprang upward from the shoulders of Private Miller, caught with three fingers of his left hand the top of the high wooden wall behind which lurked the enemy, hung for one perilous instant, and then gallantly pulled himself to the top, seized his rifle, and sprang into the midst of the foe on the other side of the improvised parapet in the Coliseum gallery.

The human pyramid swayed, but held its sturdy place while gallant infantrymen swept up the stalwart shoulders and over the thirty-one foot wall to Corporal Leary's support, while a platoon of twenty-five men kept the enemy away in front of the wall.

It was at this point that the regular army officers, who were watching the fray from the Coliseum gallery, led the applause, for Corporal Leary and his comrades had broken the world's escalading record by three feet.

When Corporal Leary climbed to the apex of the pyramid and stood on the shoulders of the men in the top row, the tips of his fingers lacked five inches of reaching the top of the wall. The highest wall that ever was escaladed before was twenty-eight feet, and the men who climbed over that in the military carnival at New York broke the world's record then. The wall at the Coliseum was thirty-one feet high, and it took just four minutes to scale it.

Eighteen of the heaviest and strongest men in the regiment formed the base of the pyramid, ten mounted on their shoulders and leaned against the wall, six stood on the shoulders of the ten, four on the shoulders of the six, and three on the shoulders of the four. Corporal Leary scrambled up this escalading pyramid of blue, and stood on the shoulders of the top three, braced against the wall.

When he stretched out his arms, and found his fingers would not reach the edge of the wall, he crouched, and then, as the human mountain swayed dizzily beneath his feet, with the mighty and yet delicate effort of the trained athlete he sprang boldly five inches upward at the edge of the barrier. He tried to grasp the top of the parapet with both hands, but only three fingers of his left hand went high enough. The pyramid under him was still swaying. He held to the hazardous edge by the three fingers for an instant, and then, with a heave and a twist, pulling his whole body up, caught the wall with the other hand. An instant after he was on the enemy's side of the barricade.—Chicago Tribune.

He Stopped the Procession.

A clergyman, who was also a wit, once preached rather a long sermon from the text:

"Thou art weighed in the balance and art found wanting."

After his congregation had listened for about an hour, some began to get weary, and went out; others soon followed, greatly to the annoyance of the minister.

Another person started, whereupon the parson stopped in his sermon and said:

"That's right, gentlemen; as fast as you are weighed pass out."

All the others waited until the sermon was ended.—Spare moments.

Havana Cigars that Cost $2 Apiece.

It may interest those who are bewailing the forthcoming scarcity of fine Havana cigars to know that one retail dealer in New York sells and has sold for years cigars of a certain brand at $2 each. He sells on an average about four of that kind every week. An old Spanish friend of mine, who for twenty years was in the cigar business here, assures me that they cost the dealer about $1.45 each when put in his show case, so that $2 is not too much to charge for them. The main points of their cost are the large wages paid to the expert workmen who make them, the very large leaves used for the wrappers and the duty.

VARIETIES.

A railroad superintendent in Pennsylvania has issued an order prohibiting the throwing of rice on railway premises. His act is regarded as a covert attack on matrimony.

"The Gaylord (Kan.) Herald" says that the experiment tried there a year ago of electing women to fill all the city offices has proved a complete success, the city business being conducted by them in a careful, economical and efficient manner.

Most of the men in the islands of southwest Japan lead lives of idleness and are cheerfully supported by the women. The males are fond of music, some of them being excellent musicians on various instruments, but it is considered disgraceful for a woman to play.

John G. Marshall, of Baltimore, has a farm in Talbot County, Md., which he has made a refuge for birds. They seem to know that they will be safe on it, and large numbers of them have made it their home, some of them having become so tame that they feed with the chickens.

Filial regard is not extinct in South London. A young man charged with hitting a woman over the head with a beef bone, explained that she had been fighting from 5 o'clock in the morning till noon with his mother, and that he thought it time to stop it. A policeman testified that in the same street two women once fought all day long, stopping only for meals, till one went home and died. Her husband had looked on, calmly mending shoes, while the fight went on.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings making them unpresentable, NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the material, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

AN ORDINANCE

to regulate the use of bicycles, tricycles and similar vehicles and other road vehicles in the public roads, streets and highways of the Township of Fanwood.

The Inhabitants of the Township of Fanwood by their Township Committee do enact as follows:

Section 1. That all bicycles, tricycles and similar vehicles when in use on the public highways, streets or roads within the Township of Fanwood are hereafter required to have a lamp of such illuminating power as to be plainly seen one hundred yards, attached thereto, and kept lighted between one hour after sunset and sunrise.

Section 2. That all bicycles, tricycles and similar vehicles shall carry a suitable bell attached to the handle bar of the machine which when rung may be heard 100 feet distant. That such bell shall be sounded as an alarm by the rider of such vehicle upon approaching another vehicle from the rear, or upon approaching pedestrians crossing the street, or upon the approach of another vehicle on the same street or on a street intersecting the street, road or highway ridden upon.

Section 3. That no person shall ride upon any bicycle, tricycle or similar machine upon any sidewalk within the limits of the township of Fanwood, providing that the term sidewalk as used in this ordinance shall be construed to mean such sidewalk only concerning which the inhabitants of the township of Fanwood have power to pass ordinances under and by virtue of paragraph V, section 1 of chapter 8 of the Public Laws of 1896, and provided, further that this section shall not apply to the riding of any bicycle, tricycle, or similar machine upon any sidewalk when necessary to ride upon said sidewalk in passing to or from private premises to or from the roadbed of any street, road or highway.

Section 4. That no person shall ride upon any bicycle, tricycle or similiar vehicle or other road vehicle in any public road, street or highway of the township of Fanwood at a greater speed than the rate of twelve miles per hour.

Section 5. That every violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall render the offender subject to a fine not exceeding the sum of five dollars for each offence, and that the justice of the peace or other magistrate who may have jurisdiction over such offences in violation of this ordinance may impose such fine in his discretion as he may think proper not exceeding the sum of five dollars for each offence.

Adopted July 8, 1897.

A GOOD RIDDANCE.

There is a great deal of truth in the tales told about evictions in Ireland and in the North of Scotland during the early and middle part of the Century. It is a hardship for any family to be summarily dumped on a roadside, without friends or wealth, half famished and half clad, but such ejections or evictions are not by any means confined to the British Isles. Scarcely a day passes in free America without similar cases being recorded, and often in place of extending gratitious sympathy across the Atlantic we could find abundant opportunities to lavish it at home. Night watchman A. B. Henry of 43 William street, Newark, N. J., became involved in an eviction a short time ago. Some time the reader may be forced to adopt the same measures. Knowing how Mr. Henry proceeded will save a heap of trouble and many a dollar. He says: "It may or may not have been kidney disease that I had, but I know the pain was located in the left kidney and was very troublesome and annoying, to say nothing of the suffering it at times caused me. I learned about Doane's Kidney pills and procured them from a drug store. I had to be very careful in stooping or lifting in order to avoid the sharp pains which were sure to follow if I made any careless movement and any strain on the back caused a sharp twinge to pass through my loins. I used Doane's Kidney Pills and was completely cured and am now entirely free from it. My back is as strong as ever, and during the long hours I am on my feet it does not bother me or get tired, and painful as it did formerly."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

REPORT AGAINST M'KANE.

Referee Says He and the People's Trust Company Must Pay.

New York, July 15.—Referee Edward S. Fowler has rendered judgment in the suit of the city of Brooklyn against John Y. McKane and The People's Trust company. The report shows that McKane, as supervisor of Gravesend, deposited the town's funds with the Trust company. According to the complaint, he obtained over $50,000 of excise moneys and $127,000 for the sale of town bonds and other sums he never accounted for. He had on deposit with the Trust company, also as supervisor, $21,000. Judgment was asked that the company pay over this money to the city and that McKane make good the balance, for which he had failed to account.

The answer of McKane to the complaint admitted the balance with the Trust company of $21,000. It held that he required access to the records of the town now in possession of the city in order to dispose of the other allegations. McKane also set up a counter claim against the city for $119,370.43, moneys alleged to have been advanced by him to pay the town police from 1884 to 1894.

The referee reports in favor of judgment for the plaintiff and says the Trust company shall pay the city the amount on deposit, with interest, amounting to $27,729.75, and judgment is ordered against McKane for $408,427.37, which he had received as supervisor and had never accounted for. The report declares that McKane received from the sale of town lands $238,014.35 and from bonds $137,000, less the $21,929.70 deposited with the Trust company, and also obtained from the county treasurer for town use at one time $24,000 and at another $29,602.32.

STORM STRIKES A CAMP.

Plays Havoc With the New Jersey Militiamen at Sea Girt.

New York, July 15.—A small cyclone struck the New Jersey state camp at Sea Girt and for over an hour raged with fury, destroying everything in its path. The cyclone came across the range and mowed down a row of sentry boxes on the east end of the ground. The next obstacle in its path was the tent occupied by Lieutenants F. R. Crowell and James F. Brown of company G. The emergency hospital was next attacked. Its only tenant, Assistant Surgeon Wilhelm, evaded the falling beams of the tent as it crashed to the ground.

The wind then wrecked three of the guard tents and almost destroyed the other seven along the line. The dispensary adjoining the post hospital next fell, and the bottles of chemicals and drugs were soon one disordered mass.

Brigade headquarters was next invaded. Colonel Charles F. Boltwood, inspector of the First brigade, rushed to the adjoining tents and aroused Brigadier General P. F. Wanser and his staff, but a moment before he got there the big fore beam of the general's tent had fallen. Division headquarters, the first row in camp, suffered most.

The first tent in that line was used as the office of the post quartermaster. Colonel George P. Olcott. In the next are the quarters of Colonel Olcott, and then those of General R. A. Donnelly, General John D. McGill, Governor Griggs and Colonel Nathan Haines. The governor's tent and those of Generals Donnelly and McGill and Colonels Haines and Potter were unoccupied. Colonel William H. Early, quartermaster for the Second regiment, was aroused from bed just before the crash came, but he had a narrow escape.

THE KENTUCKY CONVENTION.

The Most Prominent Democrats of the State Meet In Louisville.

Convention Hall, Louisville, July 15.—Notable and unique to a degree beyond any held for more than a score of years in Kentucky was the convention which brought to Louisville from all parts of the "bloody ground" the sturdiest sons of Democratic forefathers with the purpose, as they put it, of sustaining true Democracy and bringing back to the folds those who have strayed after a silver idol.

The most prominent of Kentucky's statesmen were in attendance, there was almost a constant flow of oratory, of which nearly 1,000 delegates did not weary, and every face revealed the zeal which was felt in the cause which led to their assembling. It may be said, too, that firmly as they were imbued with the principles which underlie their party of national democracy, little of bitterness toward free silver brothers found expression.

While determined to fight, without compromise or yielding, the advocates of free silver it was almost the unanimous conviction that the true spirit should consist of a tireless effort to "reclaim" those who had parted from them and once again enable Kentucky and every state to present a solid, united Democracy to oppose the Republican party or any political foe.

Complete satisfaction with the work of the convention was to be read in the faces and bearing of all the delegates when final adjournment came, and confidence was freely expressed in the ultimate winning of a victory which would lead to a national success in the next presidential contest.

Check Put on Insurance Agents.

Albany, July 15.—In response to a communication from the insurance department Attorney General Hancock has written an opinion, in which he holds that agents acting for industrial or prudential companies doing business on weekly payment plan could not take applications for the ordinary life insurance without procuring a certificate of authority from the superintendent of insurance.

Alleged Murderer Bailed.

Olean, N. Y., July 15.—Through the error of a justice of the peace in East Leon Robert Milks of that place, arrested on a warrant charging murder in the first degree, was allowed to secure bail. In the commitment to jail the justice changed the charge to manslaughter, a bailable offense. Milks is charged with killing his 6-year-old son with a blacksmith's hammer.
